Community Calendar Information Needed

Now is the time to get your birthdates, anniversaries and memorials in for the Community Calendar. The calendar was a great success last year and with the response so far this year, we expect to have published a calendar that all who receive will appreciate with the listing of dates special to friends and relatives. These calendars make excellent 'stocking stuffers' for out of town relatives and friends. Hope you will contact a member of the Committee with your listings no later than September 15, 1981. Before that date would be of great assistance in preparing and processing the order for the publisher in order to insure Christmas delivery. Contact, Melba Ladd, Rena Good, Martha Glover, Ina Sparks or Corene Roach.

Deport Bike-A-Thon Chariman, Mrs. Dorothy Neal today asked Deport residents to participate in the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels-For-Life" Bike-A-Thon, Saturday, September 19, 1981.

Volunteer workers and riders are needed for the Bike-A-Thon to raise funds for the world famous research center and its battle against childhood cancer and other catastrophic childhood diseases.

Mrs. Neal said, "this year's ride is being dedicated to Terry, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. By riding for Terry, we will really be helping all stricken children since research is the only way these illnesses can be conquered. We're

In the Bike-A-Thon, rider's enlist sponsors who donate a sum for each mile completed. "Riders who raise $25 will receive a St. Jude T-Shirt, and those raising $74 will receive a jacket. We also have prizes for other riders," says Mrs. Neal. Sponsor forms are available at the city Schools.

Mrs. Neal said, "you can put your muscles to work for a child's life in this Bike-A-Thon, we need every bike and every rider." St. Jude Hospital was founded by entertainer DeWay Thmas and operates primarily from public contributions.

Interested persons can contact Mrs. Dorothy Neal, Deport, Texas. Her phone number is 652-9055.

Donald Crawford, the new city water and sewer superintendent, deserves a big round of applause for the job he is doing.

New water and sewer lines are being installed where needed, and ditches that have long been filled up with grass and sediment are being cleaned out.

Nichols Worth

The job is something of a thankless one at times, and folks who see Donald and his crew working hard for a better community might take the time to drop by and say thank you for his efforts.

JEWEL of the Garden—the Ruby Throated Hummingbird, feeds on nectar from a man-made feeder. The tiny birds guard their territory against all comers, including large birds, wasps, bees, and most of all, other hummers. (Staff Photo)

Ruby-Throated Hummingbirds - Garden Jewels

By Nanalee Nichols The ruby-throated hummingbird is a truly incredible morsel of bird-life.

Only a few inches long, it does not hesitate to attack much larger birds, bumble bees, wasps, and most frequently, other hummingbirds.

With its bright metallic green back and bright red throat the tiny bird is impossible to miss, even though its wings beat at such an incredible rate of speed that they are merely a blur.

The hummingbird is found only in North America, and the ruby-throat is the most common variety in East Texas, where they can be found feeding on salvia, mimosa blooms, almost any blooming flowers or at feeders provided for their special needs.

The feeders are popular among people who enjoy watching the aerial acrobatics of the hummingbird. They are stocked with a mixture of sugar water and have tiny holes for the needle sharp hummer's bill to feed from.

One of the most amusing spectacles is when a hummingbird stakes out its territory and proceeds to defend it. Although the lightning fast attacks are bluff, they are fiercely accompanied by high pitched twitters and executed with great verve.

Often two or more hummers will venture into a territory already claimed. While one is being chased off by the angry "owner" the other sneaks a sip from the feeder!

The tiny birds nest in trees with mud and moss cups for nests. The nests are only about two inches across and the pair usually raise two young from the pure white eggs.

All middle and late summer the infintesimal

Sales Tax Rebates Will Total $95.8

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said August city sales tax rebate checks to 952 Texas cities will total $95.8 million.

This month's payment brings the cities' year-to-date totals to $439.3 million compared to $392.9 million during a comparable period in 1980.

On a statewide average, sales tax payments are up this year by nearly 12 percent over 1980, according to Bullock

City sales taxes are collected along with the birds can be seen, flitting around shrubs and flowers like a glimpse of imagination. Then, in the fall, they disappear. Although seldom still, the birds do perch on limbs,

When they vanish from this area it is to undertake a journey that would seem more than even a large bird could handle. The hummingbird spends his winters in Mexico and Central America.

The little birds stop neither for food or rest, but fly straight across the Gulf of Mexico, a journey of five hundred miles or more!

The ruby-throated hummingbird is truly the jewel of the garden, and like a jewel, is not dependent upon size for its appeal.

City sales and use tax allocation thru period ending August 9, 1981, for these town were: Blossom-$2,058.93; Bogata-$5,296.31; Deport-$1,738.15; Talco-$12,547.16.

Fifty-Five Boys On Football Squads

Some fifty-five boys have come out for football, and the Prairiland coaches are extremely optimistic and excited about this year's team.

Coach James has thirty-five boys on varsity, and there will be a freshman team as well.

The first scrimmage game will be August 21st at Prairiland against Queen City

The Prairiland coaches wish to express their appreciation to the doctors who gave free physicals to the boys. Dr. Mallich, Bercher, Woodruff and Walker all contributed their services.

PJC Choir Auditions

Auditions for the PJC Showchoir, a new musical group at the college, will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 25, announced Richard Benefield, director of vocal music at Paris Junior College. The new musical group is open to all PJC students, Benefield said, and auditions will begin at 10 a.m. that day in the Recital Hall of the Mayer Center for the Musical Arts.

This year, the college will have three vocal groups rather than two as in past years, Benefield explained. In addition to the Showchoir, the college will have another new group, the Chamber Singers, as well as the PJC Chorale. The Showchoir will perform only popular, Broadway and country western music, Benefield said; the Chamber Singers will perform vocal chamber music, and the larger Chorale will perform major works.

Students auditioning for the Showchoir should be prepared to sing one popular or Broadway song to an open audition, Benefield explained. Those interested in the group should be prepared to spend the entire day in auditions including sight singing, stage movement, and simple dance steps.

Information on the auditions may be obtained by calling Benefield at the college, 785-7661, extension 120.

Stidham-Basinger Exchange Vows

The double-ring wedding vows of Miss Coralea Basinger and Russell Oneal Stidham were solemnized in a formal ceremony at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at the Lamar Avenue Church of Christ. The minister, John Cannon, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Basinger, Rt. 1, Deport. The bridegroom is the son of Leslie Stidham of Rt. 1, Pattonville.

An a cappella choir consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Welch, Miss Melanie Russell and Mike Bishop, sang

"Faithful and True," "Annie's Song," "If," "Wedding Song," "Lord Bless You and Keep You," "Sweet Sweet Spirit," "God, A Woman and A Man" and "Common Love."

The ceremony was performed before the altar centered with a 15-branched candelabra with seven-branched candelabra on each side. The candelabras held white candles and were entwined with greenery.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. For the wedding she chose a gown of organza and Alencon lace. Designed empire, the fitted bodice and Queen Anne neckline were veiled in Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. Matching pearled lace formed the cuffs of the full, sheer sleeves. The A-line skirt formed a cathedral train. The bride's tiered veiling of illusion was edged in lace matching that of her gown. She carried a nosegay of pale silk blue and ivory daisies and sweetheart roses.

Miss Lori Harris of Blossom was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tommy Malone of Paris and Mrs. Boyd Harmening of Bagwell.

Each attendant wore a floor-length aqua blue gown covered with pale blue lace. Each carried a nosegay of blue and beige silk roses.

Miss Jeanne Stidham was flower girl and Andy Neisler of Maxey was ringbearer.

Jerry Sulsar of Mt Vernon served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were David Basinger, brother of the bride, and Mike Taylor.

Ushers were Tony Malone of Paris and Murray Riddles and Chris Whitaker of Paris.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception at the church following the ceremony.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Charles Martin, Mrs. Sam Downs, Mrs. David Morris, Mrs. Audie Neisler, Miss Connie Champlin, Miss Carolyn Stidham and Miss Carolyn Champlin.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Prairiland High School and a 1981 graduate of Paris Junior College. She plans to attend East Texas State University this fall.

Her husband, a graduate of Paris High School, is co-owner of Leslie and Russell Stidham Contractors.

Following a wedding trip to points of interest in Texas the couple will be at home at Paris.

Leslie Stidham was host for a dinner Friday evening at the Sirlain Stockade following the wedding rehearsal.

Nursing Programs To Be Presented At PJC

Three programs on gerontological nursing will be presented at Paris Junior College this fall, announced Nancy Jackson, the college's facilitator for allied health programs in continuing education. Workshops on "Rediscovering the Elderly," "Special Problems of the Elderly," and "Geriatric Pharmacology" are scheduled on Sept. 10, Oct. 8 and Nov. 12 in the Alford Center at PJC. Each program will be from 9 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Facilitator for the three programs will be Delores M. Alford, an independent gerontological nursing consultant in Dallas. She holds bachelor's and master's degrees in nursing and is a partner in Nursing Associates of Dallas and an instructor at Texas Woman's University in Dallas. A fellow of the American Academy of Nursing, she is credited with developing and implementing the first geriatric nurse practitioner program in the United States.

"The nationally acclaimed workshop is relevant for anyone interested in promoting quality care for the elderly client," Mrs. Jackson said. "It will have special interest for social workers and nursing home administrators as well as nurses in practice and education," she added. Fee for the workshop is $100 for all three programs or $40 for individual programs. Checks payable to PJC may be mailed to Mrs. Jackson at Paris Junior College, Box 217, Paris, Texas, 75460, or interested persons may go by the Downtown Center on Grand Avenue to register or obtain information.

The first program, "Rediscovering the Elderly," on Sept. 10 will include information on the aging process, attitudes toward aging, gerontological nursing standards, sharpening skills in assessment of the elderly, and a problems clinic to help nurses with clinical nursing problems.

In the second workshop, Oct. 8, special problems such as sensory problems and various techniques for the resocialization of the elderly will be discussed. The final workshop, "Geriatric Pharmacology," on Nov. 12 will focus on principles of drug therapy, drug actions and interactions, nurses' responsibilities in giving drugs to the elderly, and nursing advocacy for the older person on drugs.

YOU CAN DO IT!
August 23, 1981

Background Scripture: Deuteronomy 30: 11-20.
Devotional Reading: Nehemiah 9: 26-31.

"It's too late for me to change my life!"
"Things are too messed up to straighten out!"
"I've always been this way and I always will be!"
"There's no way I can start over!"

These are just a few of the things that people tell me when I challenge them to put their lives in order. So many people conclude that there is a point at which a life is no longer worthy or possible of redemption.

I can understand those feelings, for there are times when the challenge to "clean up our act" seems totally beyond our meager capacities. We feel doomed to stay exactly where we are: at the bottom of the pit!

The Choice Is Ours

But one of the enduring themes of the Bible is that it is never too late, never too difficult, never impossible, unless we chose to make it so. As Moses sums up his third discourse to the people of Israel, he makes it clear that their destiny depends upon their own choices: "See, I have set before you this day life and good, death and evil" (Deuteronomy 30: 15). As someone has put it, there are no hopeless situations; just people who have grown hopeless about them. If we choose to regard life without hope, it will be without hope. It has not been decided for us by someone else. It is our choice: "therefore choose life, that you and your descendants may live" (30:19).

Congressman Hall Calls For Screening Of Libyan Students

First District Congressman Sam B. Hall, Jr. is concerned over the presence of Libyan students in the United States because of their access to nuclear-related courses and facilities in American colleges and universities.

In a letter to Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig, Jr., Congressman Hall, a member of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees and International Law, joined with other Subcommittee members in asking for assurances that Libyan students are prevented from studying nuclear subjects.

According to the letter, there are an estimated 200 to 300 Libyan nationals who have entered this country with the stated intention of taking nuclear courses in the university system.

"In my judgment the Government of Libya has not acted responsibly in a number of areas critical to peace and harmony among nations of the world, especially in promoting terrorism," Congressman Hall said.

"We must not allow the United States to become a training ground for foreign students who will take their knowledge back home to be applied to terrorist activities against other countries, and I want to know what our State Department is doing to discourage such activity," he added.

A portion of the letter is as follows:

"The dangers of international terrorism and nuclear proliferation are the subjects of much public concern today. As members of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and International Law, we want our immigration laws to be administered in a manner consistent with efforts to reduce these dangers...."

"We would appreciate information describing the steps the Department of State and the Administration have taken, or have under consideration, to prevent the entrance of Libyan national students known or suspected of being terrorists."

"Further, we would appreciate information describing steps that the Department has undertaken to discourage or prevent Libyan students, already studying in the United States, from engaging in academic studies which may have military applications."

"International terrorism is one of the scourges of the world today. We do not wish our nation's educational institutions to become, unwittingly, schools for terrorists."

Product Codes Call for Shopper Savvy
Today the Universal Product Code and its scanners are everywhere.

As a consumer checks out, a scanner reads the Universal Product Code, translates the stripes and numbers into items and prices, rings up the sale, totals the bill and prints out an itemized tape with all this information on it.

If a store uses scanners, it usually uses shelf-pricing; which means the price of the item is found on the shelf and not on the package. Therefore comparative shoppers will need to check the shelf area for information about item, name, weight and price. Unfortunately, shelf prices are not always found directly under a product.

When reaching the check-out counter, a shopper will need to observe each item as the computer makes the tape.

Management Course To Be Offered

The final management course offered by Paris Junior College in cooperation with the American Management Association's Extension Institute will begin on Friday, Aug. 21, according to Vicki Oglesby, director of business relation at PJC. Title of the short course will be "Getting Results Through Management by Objectives," and classes will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for three Fridays, Aug. 21, Aug. 28 and Sept. 4, in the Alford Center at PJC.

The non-theoretical course treats MBO in a nuts-and-bolts way, Mrs. Oglesby explained. It stresses the procedures, guidelines and do's and don'ts needed to make managing by objectives work. Participants will learn to increase profits through teamwork, to set realistic goals, to increase abilities to respond to changing business conditions, to use MBO for motivating managers and to ensure that individual goals mesh with corporate goals.

The course is designed for all management levels, Mrs. Oglesby noted. More information may be obtained by calling her at the college, 785-7661, extension 169.

Chinch Bugs Causing Problems

Homeowners are reporting chinch bug infestations in home lawns, according to Dr. James Robinson, area entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These pests can be controlled with approved insecticides. County Extension agents throughout East Texas have information on the identification and control of chinch bugs.

The price being received for stocker calves is not paying the cost of keeping the cows, says Dr. Randall Grooms, Extension area livestock specialist. The sale receipts are not enough to pay the bank note in many instances. Producers need to consider all alternatives on marketing their calves. One choice is to keep the calves and put them on winter pasture, hoping that prices will be better next spring or that enough economical gain can be produced to make a profit. Grooms says that some producers may want to hedge the calves next spring to lock-in a profit.

If cash flow, space or number of calves are limiting factors, the producer may need to sell the calves now or later this fall.

Another alternative, according to Grooms, is to keep the calves and use high quality hay plus limited supplement to carry the calves to spring grass. With adequate ryegrass and clover or the spring perennials, additional weight can be put on the calves and hopefully a better price will be received.

Excellent control of grass and weeds in soybeans have been obtained in the demonstration plots located in the Direct bottom of Lamar County. The chemicals were applied on July 14 in soybean fields of Lloyd Thompson, Sid Townsend and Ronnie and Lannie Hicks.

Cocklebur and Morning Glory weeds have been controlled beautifully through the use of Blazer, Basagran and a mixture of the two. There did not appear to be a noticeable difference in the weed control obtained from either of these chemicals. Where Blazer was used, some bronzing of soybean plants was noticed in four days, but the plants had outgrown this condition in eight days.
