FACTS ABOUT VINYL SIDING

Remodeling the old house starts to look more and more attractive when you go shopping for a new one. Because of the current economic situation, more people are staying in older neighborhoods and going about the creative task of remodeling to fit their needs.

One of the fastest ways to show a marked improvement in an older home and raise its value is to start on the outside. Re-siding a wood house with a low-maintenance material will eliminate painting and give it a clean, bright look for years.

Once you decide to reside, what factors should you consider? If low maintenance is what you want, eliminate the idea of new wood siding. It does need sub-stantial upkeep. The other two most popular choices are metal and vinyl siding.

Aluminum siding used to be considerably cheaper than vinyl siding, and many homeowners chose it out of con-cern for their pocketbooks, But with the materials shortages, the prices have come close to being equal. Therefore, the homeowner should consider the qualities of vinyl that make it a superior siding

Vinyl siding is solid color clear through, about 40 times thicker than the coating of color applied to metal siding. It doesn't show scratches or mars because the color can never wear off.

Vinyl is chemically inert - immune to the things which can corrode, werp and ruin metal siding. Vinyl resists the damaging effects of acids, salt water, sunshine, rain and airborne industrial pollutants.

Ease of cleaning is another factor in solid vinyl's favor. Sudsy water will restore its bright finish quickly. Abrasive cleaners can be used to remove stains without damaging vinyl siding, but they would be destructive to the painted finish on metal siding.

A stray baseball can make a dent in metal siding that cannot be fixed without removing the entire penel of siding. Most vinyl siding, however, will absorb the shock and show no damage. Select a vinyl siding that has a shock-absorbing bottom edge.

Test these factors for yourself by experimenting on a sample piece of siding. It will be on your house for many years, and you have the right to test the material yourself before buying.

Safety is also a factor to consider in your siding choice. Metal siding will conduct electricity and in some areas of the country must be grouded by an electricina. It also magnifies the rate-ates sounds of rain and hall. But vinyl siding does not transmit sound or conduct Consider building codes. You will want to buy a siding that has the approval of the important building codes, such as Building Officials Conference of America, Inc., (BOCA), Federal Housing Authority (FHA), international Conference of Building Officials (ICOBO), and the Southern Building Code Congress (SBCC).

What about insulation value? One manufacturer had its vinyl siding tested by the American Society for Testing and Materials. The results showed that vinyl provided 24.8 percent greater insulation against heat and cold than metal siding.

The Rev. John E. Birkelbach heard the couple pledge their double-ring vows before the altar centered with a bouquet of pale pink rosebuds with baby's breath flanked by 15branched candelabras. English ivy entwined the altar railing.

Traditional wedding marches and selected songs were played by Sondra

The fitted bodice, covered in lace, was fashioned with a Queen Ann neckline and full bishop sleeves. The A-line skirt of satin overlaid with chiffon formed a chapel train. She wore baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

Ms. Kathy Keener of Little Rock, Ark., sister of the groom, was honor attendant and bridesmaids were Mrs. Greg Brower of Texarkana and Ms. Elizabeth Langston of Houston.

Ms. Keener wore a gown of white eyelet with a deep ruffled skirt and pink ribbon trim on the bodice. The bridesmaids' gown of printed voile were identically designed.

Richard Seward Houston served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Dr. Stephen Woodle of Houston and Conley Plunkett of Texarkana.

Ushers were Noley Keener of Houston, brother of the groom, and Robert Nick Norwood of Texarkana, brother of the bride.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Members of houseparty were Mrs. David Harbison of Deport and Mrs. Glen Pillow of Texarkana. Miss Elizabeth Patterson of Texarkana presided at the register.

Natural Gas...

It's nature's most perfect fuel, but it can become hazardous if it leaks or flows freely into a confined space.

If you smell gas, and the odor is light and hard to trace:

Check all pilot lights to see if they are burning. Check your range to see that all burners are turned off.

If odor is persistent, or you can detect gas escaping:

Do not strike a match, operate light switches, or use electrical or battery operated equipment.

Ventilate your home by opening doors and windows at top and bottom, if possible.

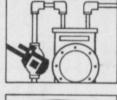

Evacuate all persons

3. from your home.

Turn off gas valve

at the meter.

Use a telephone outside your home and call your Arkla Gas office for assistance.

After gas leak has been located and repaired, allow only Arkla Gas or other qualified personnel to turn your gas back on and relight pilot lights.

> Natural gas has a better safety record than any other form of energy. Please help us keep it that way.

Don't let air conditioning put the heat on your electric bill.

Your air conditioning can contribute up to 70% of you total electric bill. That's why careful attention to your air conditioning system can make a big difference in your monthly bill. Keep the thermostat setting at 78 degrees. Change or clean your air conditioning filter once a month, since clogged filters make the unit work harder. Wrap insulation around ductwork, and make sure you have adequate insulation in your attic. Around the house, close drapes on sunny windows, and keep doors and windows tightly shut.
