Blossom Liquor Issue To Be Decided

Registered voters in the city of Blossom will decide this weekend whether legalized liquor sales will become a part of their town. The issue, which has drawn record numbers of absentee votes and controversy between factors for and against legalized liquor sales, will be decided on Saturday, September 5, at the City Hall in Blossom. Election hours will be from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m., and City Secretary Mildred Justis stated that she expected a heavy voter turnout. She also stated that there had been quite a heavy demand for voter registration forms, which were available at the city office, and were then filed at the Lamar County Clerk's office. Any registered voter in Blossom is eligible to vote in the election, providing they were registered thirty days prior to the election date. Advocates for the liquor sales says that needed tax dollars will result from the passage of legalized liquor sales, and that the proximity of Sun Valley Liquor Sales makes the litter and disturbance issues a problem anyway.

Those opposed state that it will take an incredible amount of liquor sales to make enough tax revenue to be of much city assistance, and that the problems created by such business establishments far outweigh the benefits.

Heavy voter turnout is sure to result as the controversy between factions heats up.

Melody Holland Elected President Of 4-H Club

Melody Holland was elected president of the Prairiland 4-H Club when the group met last week at the Pattonville Community Center. Other officers elected to serve with Miss Holland for the next year are Michael Bright, vice-president; Lynda Sugg, secretary; Dana Blackburn, treasurer; Wendy Milford, reporter; Gina Malone, council delegate; Lanieca Gillie, motto and pledge leader; Cherie Bright, historian; and Julie Clark parliamentarian.

Mrs. Ruth Chipman was elected organizational leader of the club. Members and adult leaders filled out new enrollment cards during the meeting, and members enrolled for the Foods and Nutrition project. Mrs. Doris Malone will teach the senior project group and Mrs. Becky Milford and Mrs. Leah Swaim will teach the junior group. Recognition was given to the 19 Prairiland 4-H'ers who completed record books this year. Miss Holland's and Miss Gillie's record books were first place winners in District 5. Miss Holland presented a gift to Mrs. Cherie Gillie on behalf of the club. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Terry Adams Named PJC Faculty President

Terry Adams, instructor of office occupations for Paris Junior College, was elected president of the PJC Faculty Association at the first meeting of that group of the fall semester Aug. 24.

Mrs. Adams, who has been at PJC since 1976, replaces John Harbison as president of the faculty organization. She served as vice-president of the group during the 1980-81 school year.

Other new officers elected were Robert Thornburrow, vice-president, and Jimmy Hancock, secretary.

Six faculty members selected for the faculty advisory council were Sandra Chadwick, Marilyn Fuller, David McAnally, J.W. Ashmore, Nancy Long and Paul Clayton. The council meets with the college president following each regents' meeting and responds to faculty needs on campus.

Chosen as the tenure advisory committee were John Wright, E.C. Hancock, Anita Whitener, Tony Clark, Don Grisham and Gerald Rambo. If a tenure hearing arises at the college, the PJC administration will select three from this group to serve on the council. Members of the ad hoc tenure committee for hearing tenure grievances are Joan Mathis, John Eastman, Lowry Carrington, Jan Bivins, Ray Karrer, John Denison, Mickey Flippen and Tim Shelton. If needed, the administration will select five from this group for grievance hearings.

New faculty members were introduced at the first meeting, and announcements concerning the week of development were made.

Prairiland Patriots Fell Hornet's Sting

By Tina Moore
The Prairiland Patriots seemed ready and willing for another taste of victory as they hosted the Hooks Hornets last Friday evening. However the fighting Patriots fell to the Hornets by a 3-1 margin.

The Pats began to draw first blood when senior quarterback, Norman Alexander connected a 40 yard pass completion to Ricky Harrell. It was only two plays later that Alexander ran the ball around the right end from 14 yards out for a touchdown to put the Pats ahead with a score of 1-0. However, Hooks running back, Jamie Hubbard, soon tied the score as he broke through the Pat defense to make the first of his 70 yard touchdown runs of the evening.

The Hornets then seemed to be determined to take the game away from the Pats when they took the lead with the second 70-yard drive which was topped by an eight yard touchdown run made by Norman Willis.

The only real threat made by the Pats in the second half of scrimmage went as far as the Hornet eleven yard line, but was cut down when defender Tracy Forte sacked the Pat quarterback. Although the Pats felt the sting of the Hornets, they say they are more than eager to take on the defending District 16-AA Champion Cooper Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. this Friday. They feel they didn't show all the skill that they are capable of showing in last Friday evening's game, but they do plan to show to the fans and to themselves how great a Patriot year truly can be!

Just tell me that small town newspaper is dull. Tell me that, but smile when you say it, pardner, cause it shore ain't true!

Between fires, wrecks, happy and unhappy customers, a managing editor deals with a wide variety of subjects during the course of the job.

One of the more amusing, (to spectators at least) incidents lately has been the Great Beer Bust, held on Hwy. 37 south of Bogata last Thursday.

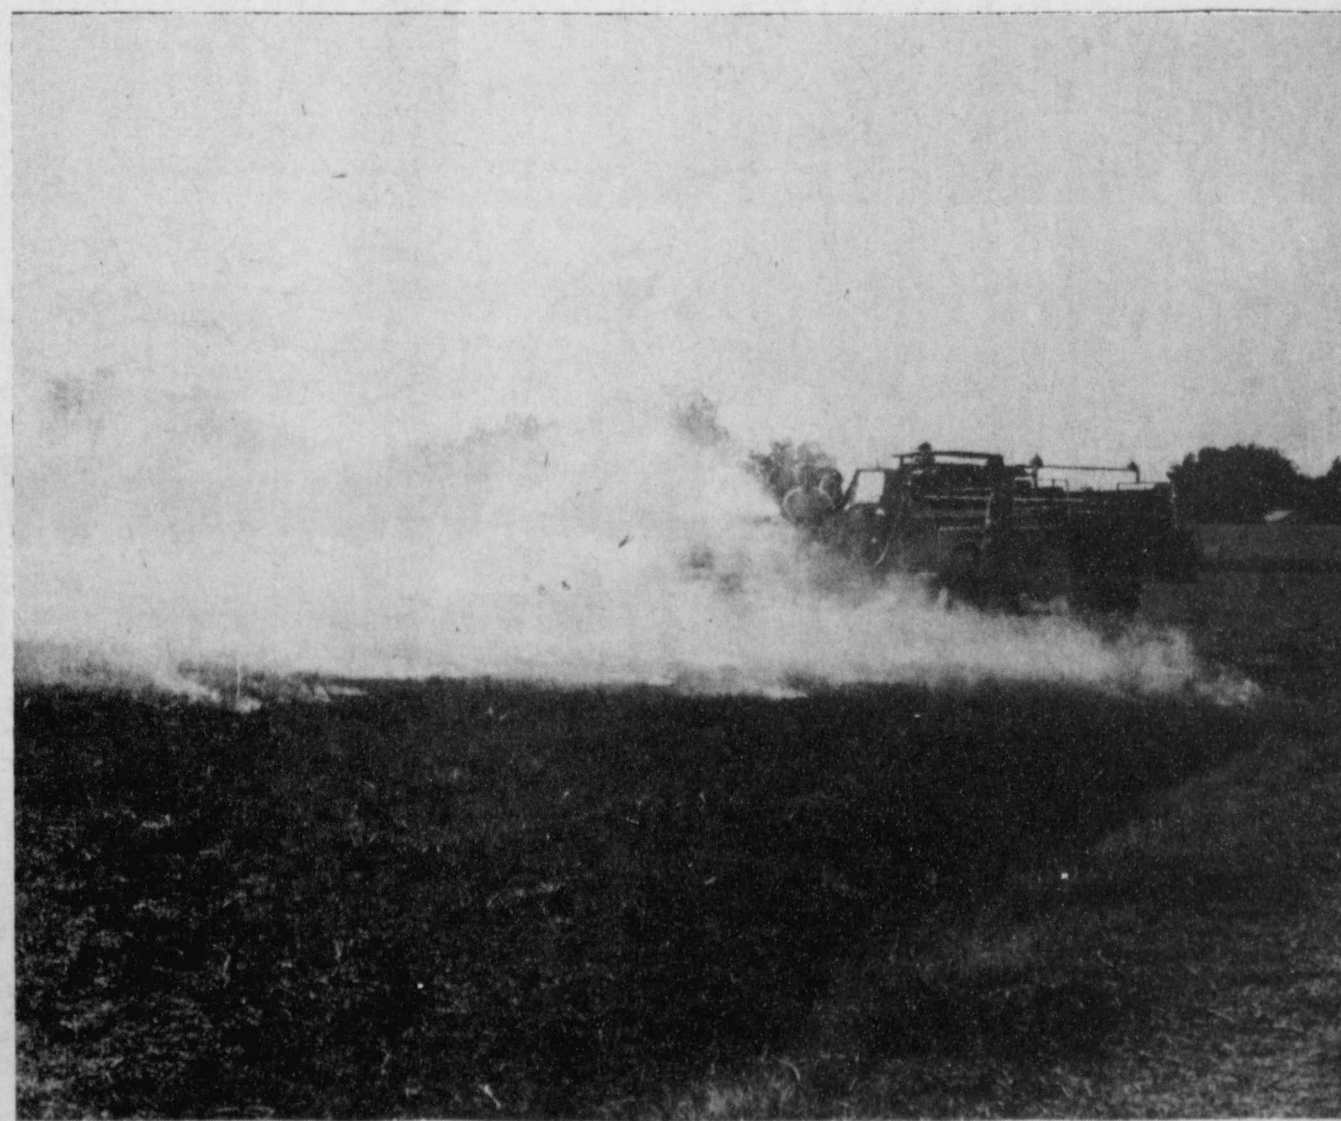

It was a perfect setting for a certain beer company's ad. There the semi lay, stretched out flat on its side, right across the highway, and hundreds of five gallon barrels of beer were scattered everywhere. But-not one was touched, ripped open or emptied!! My theory was that the unmarked truck, not hauling an armadillo's favorite, was ambushed by a twelve ton armadillo which couldn't ascertain whether the truck had it's brand on board until it tipped the vehicle over and checked the contents out for sure. Then, disgusted, it wandered off across the countryside, in search of it's own particular brand. The truck driver says he clipped the soft, muddy shoulder of the road, but then, he probably doesn't want to be driven off, shouting "You've Got To Believe Me!!!"

Rhoades Grocery Buglarized

Frank Rhoades Grocery, located on Hwy. 271 in Deport, was broken into Monday night, and an assortment of things taken.

The burglars made their entrance by kicking in the front door of the store, and once inside found no money available.

They did take a case of jewelry and miscellaneous items, luncheon meat, cheese, and other small items.

No suspects have been named in the case as yet, although the matter is under investigation by Lamar

County Sheriff's deputies.

Working Mother's Day Designated

Governor William P. Clements has signed a State of Texas Official Memorandum designating September 6, 1981, as Working Mothers' Day, in recognition of the immense contribution made to our society by working mothers. Spearheading the large group of advocates who worked to bring official recognition to working mothers were Allen M. Seigal, Vice-President of Public Affairs of National Child Care Centers, Kathleen McNemar, President of the Texas Association for the Education of Young Children, Jean English of the Texas Department of Human Resources and Jeanette Watson of Austin, newly elected national board member of the National Association for the Education of Young Children, plus many volunteers from these agencies and other child advocate groups. "In four out of five households today, two wage-earners are needed to support a family," said Seigal. "Fifty-four percent of women with children under that age of 18 are employed outside the home. That's sixteen million American women. These women perform the almost superhuman task of serving as productive members of the work force as well as nurturing mothers and homemakers. Accepting this challenge and functioning with strength, humor and grace under pressure reflects the very best quality of the American spirit. It's our privilege to be able to honor them by helping to declare September 6 as Working Mothers' Day." The State of Texas Official Memorandum, signed on August 14, 1981, by the governor and affixed with the state seal of Texas, will be reproduced by National Child Care Centers in a form suitable for framing. As a memento of this special occasion, these documents will be available free to anyone who requests one by writing or dropping into any National Child Care Center and leaving their name and address. The day care firm operates centers in the major metropolitan areas of the state.

quarter of last year. The Comptroller's office also released a computer analysis showing reported sales for each of the state's 25 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas and reported sales for the state's 254 counties. First quarter sales in 1981 for our area were: Lamar County-$93,149,541; Red River County-$19,600,101; and Titus County-$81,140,789.

Agricultural Update

Pecan producers throughout East Texas are reaching a critical period in their production, says Dr. James Robinson, area entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Pecan weevils and hickory shuck worms have been reported in several locations. Either of these insects can destroy a pecan crop. Robinson says that to control the pecan weevil, apply 50 percent or 80 percent sevin wettable powder. To control the hickory shuck worm, use sevin or malathion. Always follow the label directions.

Robinson also says that white flies are becoming abundant on ornamentals. A systemic insecticide such as cygon or orthene does a good job controlling this insect.

A small green worm called the tomato pinworm is damaging tomatoes in some home gardens and greenhouses. The worm is about one-fourth inch long and eats the leaves, flower bud and bores into the tomato fruit. Sevin or thiodan is effective against the tomato pinworm.

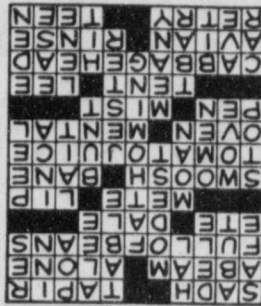

Numerous oak trees, primarily red oaks, have died this year in East Texas. Dr. George Philley, Extension area plant pathologist, said the cause is probably related to the drought last year. Hopefully, the worst is over and those trees that are going to die have done so already.

Beef Cattle Management Symposium Scheduled

In light of the current economic situation within the livestock industry, cattlemen are in a dilemma as to what to do during the next few months. However, a number of management tools which can improve the situation are available. Many of these will be discussed at the upcoming Beef Cattle Management Symposium, September 14 in Mt. Pleasant, according to Dick McCarver, Titus County Extension agent.

The event is sponsored by the Area II Build East Texas Committee, the Titus County Beef Cattle Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. BET Area II includes Hopkins, Franklin, Titus and Camp Counties. It will be held in the new sale facilities at the McKellar Ranch located two miles east of Mt. Pleasant on Highway 67.

The symposium has been planned in three segments so that participants can attend any or all parts of the program. Initial registration will be at 1:30 p.m. A 2 p.m. presentation will focus on reproductive management with an embryo transplant demonstration. Mark McKellar is in charge of this portion of the program.

The second session begins at 4:00 p.m. with demonstration of basic management chores. Included are demonstrations of implanting, castration, dehorning, deworming, grub control, branding, vaccination, and ear tags. Veterinarians Dr. Dan Kincaid, Dr. Ronny Robertson, and Dr. Jerry Skidmore are in charge of these demonstrations.

Following the evening meal at 6 p.m., Dr. Kincaid will discuss "The Economic Benefits of Basic Chores". Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will present a frank "Beef Cattle Outlook" which could be quite valuable in planning what to do with your cattle for the next several months.

Also on the evening program will be Ron Moss, general manager of Valley View Cattle Company. Moss has first hand experience in all phases of the livestock industry, but for the symposium will discuss the "Stocking Calf Potential" for our area this fall. Dr. Randall Grooms, livestock specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will conclude the seminar with his discussion of "Cow Herd Management".

A $5 registration fee includes supper and handout materials. Anyone wishing to pre-register can mail the fee to G.R. (Dick) McCarver, County Extension Agent, 203 East 11th, Mt. Pleasant, Texas 75455. Advance registration is not necessary, however.

All Northeast Texas cattlemen interested in learning how to survive current economic delima are urged to attend this program. Even if you can't make the afternoon portion of the program, plan to come for the supper and the speakers which will be on the program that evening.

No more high electric bills?

With the Average Billing Plan, you pay about the same amount each month.

Say goodbye to unexpectedly high electric bills. The Average Billing Plan eliminates the highs and lows in the billing cycle, by giving you an "average" amount to pay each month. The Plan makes bill paying and budgeting easier, since you'll know about how much of a bill to expect. And by the end of the year, you'll find you've paid the same amount for electricity as if you were on the regular billing plan.

Here's how it works:

FIRST MONTH
MOST RECENT 12 MONTHS + 12 = ACTUAL USE	AVERAGE AMOUNT
EACH MONTH THEREAFTER
MOST RECENT 12 MONTHS + 12 + ACCUMULATED DIFFERENCE*	15% OF AVERAGE BILLING AMOUNT	AVERAGE BILLING AMOUNT

NOTE: If you have less than 12 months history at your present address, the "average" will be based on the number of months available.

GARDEN

Mallow, Goat's Beard Summer/Autumn Bloomers

One of the most beautiful of the summer/late autumn bloomers is the Mallow, or Lavatera trimestris, which is native to the Mediterranean region.

This annual will grow well in most soils, but flowers badly if the soil is too rich. An annual, the Mallow grows to four feet as an erect, bushy plant with branching stems. Pale green leaves are smooth and coarsely toothed. Flowers may be up to 4 inches across, from white to pink and red.

In cool, temperate climates, the Mallow will do well in sunny locations. It is popular for cut flowers but is also used in borders, or for isolated planting.

Goat's Beard, or Spiraea aruncus, was once known as spiraea before this name was designated to apply only to shrubs.

Goat's Beard is a moisture-requiring herbaceous perennial which grows to four feet in height. Creamy white, fragrant flowers are crowded in compound panicles.

The plant will do well in sun or light shade, but requires rich, moist soil that will not dry out in summer.

Propagation is by seed or division and the plant flowers in summer.

A & M Administrators View Cotton Demonstration

By Paul D. Payne

The three Cotton Integrated Pest Management demonstrations located in Lamar, Red River and Delta Counties were toured this past week by a number of Texas A&M University Administrators. The purpose of the tour was for the Administrators to get a first look at the Cotton demonstrations, gain a better idea of the problems and potential of cotton production in area and visit with demonstrators.

Present for the tour were Dr. Uel Stockard, State Leader for County Extension Programs; Dr. Fowden G. Maxwell, Head of Entomology Department; Dr. John G. Thomas, State Extension Entomologist; Dr. Mike McWhorter, Extension Pest Management Leader; Dr. Robert Metzger, Extension Cotton Specialist; Dr. Sim Reeves, Area Extension Agronomist, and Dr. James Robinson, Area Extension Entomologist.

Arrangements in the county were handled by Billy Cocks, County Demonstration Aide; Tony Douglas, Delta County Agent; Bob Moody and Chris Bull, Red River County Agents and myself.

Pete McKnight of Cunningham, Jim Landers of Cooper and Lawrence Wood of Deport are the demonstrators and have their cotton fields in good shape. Each of the demonstration sites are marked so that interested individuals can follow the progress of each variety. Visitors are welcome to inspect the fields at any time.

On July 10, CAMD-E variety had the most fruit set in all three of the demonstrations. In fact, three bale yields are a possibility with receipt of a good rain at the present time and the absence of boll weevil damage.

Some boll weevil increase was noted this past week by County Demonstration Aide, Billy Cocks. When checking, the insect traps last week, Cocks found a slight increase in weevils present which means that the second and possibly some third generation adult weevils are beginning to emerge and take flight.

SORGHUM WEBWORMS
Sorghum Webworms are appearing in damaging numbers in some fields of milo in the county. An average of five worms per head is considered to be the number needed before it

World Wonders

Besides the earthquakes, fires, and wars that demolished most of their ancient counterparts, today's world wonders also are threatened by everything from old age to acid rain, including population explosions, industrialization, superhighways, smog, and tourism. Some have suffered more damage in the last 50 years than they have in the previous centuries.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE
VERY GOOD!
September 6, 1981

Background Scripture:
Genesis 1: 1 through 2: 3.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 33: 4-9.

I hope God has a good sense of humor—how could he survive our follies without one?—for his children are at it again (or still): fighting bitterly among themselves over the creation accounts in the Book of Genesis. It's that old literal "7-days-vs-Darwinian evolution" fuss that's gotten so many people steamed-up over the past century. Whatever else God intended when he inspired the writing of the Bible, I am convinced he never intended this book as something for his children to fight over. There's nothing that says they can't or shouldn't disagree about its meaning, but that they need not get so hostile, arrogant, and unloving over it.

In the Beginning, God . . .
What God needs, I'm sure, is not people to fight over the Book of Genesis, but people who will open their hearts so that it can instruct and inspire them. There's very little inspiration taking place within us when the headline is rising silently above our collar. Many people spend so much time and effort fighting over whether the Genesis accounts are literal reports that they miss some of the really vital things that God is trying to say to both literalists and nonliteralists alike.

One of the most important of these—and of far more importance than how many days it took—is the declaration: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth" (Genesis

1: 1). The world did not blunder into being without a plan or purpose, but represents the Creator's creative will behind everything that happened. God was in the whole process of creation, so that Genesis begins with the affirmation that in the very beginning, it was God who conceived and began to create his world, just as the writer of Revelation closes the Bible with the declaration that God is at the end of all things, too, and the whole Bible in between Genesis and Revelation is a testimony that God is ever-present from the beginning and the ending. God didn't start the whole thing going and then go on vacation or retirement: he created us, he moves us toward our destiny with him, and, in between, he is constantly with his creation.

And Behold!
Some of the ancient people believed that the world had been created by accident as some of the gods brought it into being without forethought and purpose. But the Genesis stories of creation indicate that there is a plan, an orderly progression towards the purpose God wants to fulfill.

Most unique, however, is the concept that the world that God created is inherently good. God intended to create the world, he followed—and follows—a plan and, best of all, he was pleased with his work: "And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (1: 31). Note: "very good"! Not "fair-to-middling," not "pretty good," but "very good"! God was pleased with his creation and so, too, should we be. Often, religious people have regarded the world as "evil," "corrupt," something from which to escape. Our sins may cloud this world's skies, but the world God created—and continues to create—is VERY GOOD!

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE Cuthand Creek RC&D Measure

AGENCY: Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture
ACTION: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact
FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: George C. Marks, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, P.O. Box 648, Temple, Texas 76503, telephone 817-774-1214.

NOTICE: Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Cuthand Creek RC&D Measure, Red River County, Texas.

The environmental assessment of this federally assisted action indicates that the project will not cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. As a result of these findings, George C. Marks, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement are not needed for this project.

The measure concerns a plan for critical area treatment. Conservation practices include the shaping and vegetation of gullied areas, construction and vegetation of grade stabilization structures and fencing.

The Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact (FNSI) has been forwarded to the Environmental Protection Agency. The basic data developed during the environmental assessment are on file and may be reviewed by contacting George C. Marks. The FNSI has been sent to various Federal, State, and local agencies and interested parties. A limited number of copies of the FNSI are available to fill single copy requests at the above address.

Implementation of the proposal will not be initiated until 30 days after the date of this publication in the Federal Register.

AFTER THE ARMADILLO discovered it wasn't Lone Star, he left the entire load of beer intact—This might seem to be the situation when this trailer truckload of Miller Lite Beer overturned about five miles south of Bogata on Hwy 37 last Thursday. The driver was not seriously injured when his trailer hit the soft shoulder of the road and flipped across the highway, but a lot of armadillo jokes were told at the scene. (Staff Photo)

Gasahol Passes Texas Legislature

"Texas farmers and consumers enjoyed a major victory Tuesday when the Texas Legislature passed the gasahol bill by overwhelming majorities" Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller declared. "After six years of effort the bill which will provide a temporary five cent exemption for gasahol from the state motor fuels tax was sent to the governor on the final day of the 30 day special session."

The gasahol bill was passed with a broad base of support from both rural and urban legislators. The Texas Farmers Union was joined in their efforts in passing the bill with representatives of the Texas Agriculture Movement, the Texas Farmers and Ranchers Coalition, the Texas Grain Products Cooperative, and Diamond Shamrock. The measure was sponsored by Representative Dan Kubiak and State Senator Bill Sarpalius.

"The gasahol bill was not only a priority bill for the TFU, the measure will help create a new industry in Texas, which in the long run will provide an alternate source of energy and a new tax base," Moeller predicted. "As a leading agriculture and energy producing state, Texas should now come to the forefront in alcohol fuel production from renewable sources of energy."

The exemption from the five cent motor fuels tax begins January 1, 1982 and lasts until 1987. At that point, the tax is phased in at the rate of one cent per year. "With the exemption established in 1982, it will immediately help out the small producers already operating in Texas and help establish the market when the other large cooperatives begin producing alcohol in the next two years," Moeller said. "Every gallon of imported OPEC oil we avoid buying through the production of American made alcohol will bring us that much closer to energy independence" Moeller declared.

In addition to the small plants already on line or in the planning stages, three cooperatives have been formed in Hutto, Muleshoe, and Farwell to produce alcohol on a large scale basis.

A Comeback
Bison, often called the American buffalo, have made a successful comeback from near extinction in the late 1800s when their numbers dwindled from millions to fewer than 50 in the United States. Through stricter laws and enforcement, there are now some 55,000 bison here and another 10,000 in Canada, National Geographic World magazine reports.
