Worth

By NANALEE NICHOLS

Last week, after making the always rash statement that all was right with the world, things fell apart in record time.

To make a long, long story shorter, "Arnold" our computer, essential to turning out a newspaper, died.

On the phone to Seattle, Washington, I went through a series of computer engineers that proceeded to tell me in no uncertain terms that I could not see what I was seeing in the machine.

They told me this repeatedly, and told me that what I was seeing was a small aluminum block with two black wires plugged into it and a light bulb the size of a pencil eraser attached.

No, I replied, trying to keep a grip on my always uncertain temper, what I was seeing was a black plastic block with two Yellow wires soldered to two small copper connections with a light bulb HALF the size of a pencil eraser.

They proceeded to tell me that that was impossible, I wasn't seeing that. And I just as adamantly told them I WAS seeing that. Then they would turn me over to yet another phone voice.

All this time I was standing on a desk with my head hung over in the font drum compartment, a not very comfortable condition.

Finally, after four young "experts" had told me I couldn't see what I was seeing, someone said "go get old George."

Old George came, and proceeded to inform me the same thing, and I finally let loose. I informed him, with several descriptive adjectives thrown in, that he could hop the next plane down from Washington and LOOK at the thing if he didn't believe me.

Finally he said to hold on, and after a long, long time came back and announced proudly that "you're right, the first of those machines did have that kind of assemble."

I was comforted to know that I wasn't blind, crazy, stupid or simply a silly female who didn't have sense enough to know what she was seeing!

At last the part was ordered, the numbers completed, and we were assured that our light bulb would be in air freight.

Hey folks, guess what, the blankety blank thing STILL hasn't arrived, and we have to take our work elsewhere!

And when it does arrive, I'm sure some repairman is going to tell me "I can't install it that way, that's not the way it goes," it's supposed to be an aluminum block, with two black wires....

Bike-A-Thon Scheduled For Oct. 23

A benefit bike-a-thon for the Fall Breath of Life Campaign will be held in Deport on Saturday, Oct. 23, says Mrs. Sharon Sullivan, chairman of the campaign in Deport for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

A 2 1/2 mile course, starting and ending at the Sullivan home on Crockett Hill, will be established for bike-a-thon participants. The event will begin about 10 a.m.

Participants will be asked to secure sponsors, who will pay the participant a certain amount of money for each mile the participant completes in the bike-a-thon. Money contributed by the sponsors will be contributed to the CF Foundation to help support research and treatment programs.

A weiner roast is planned at the Sullivan home following completion of the bike-a-thon, Mrs. Sullivan says.

In addition to participants, who may now obtain their sponsorship forms from Mrs. Sullivan, volunteers are needed to help with the event and donations are requested to help provide the contestants with refreshments.

Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Sullivan at 652-3483.

Dairy Farmers...

Goodings Are Working Togetherness Family

By NANALEE NICHOLS

The Goodings, Jesse, Vicki, Benji and Camey, run a dairy...quite literally...together.

Their dairy farm, located near the community of Milton, just south of Deport, provides an opportunity for the family to work together at a

Cotton Gins Near 1,000 Bale Total

Local cotton harvesting is moving into the full tempo of activity, with the three area gins nearing the 1,000 bale in total ginning.

As of Tuesday morning, the three gins had turned out a total of 911 bales.

The Cunningham Co-Op gin reported 411 bales while the Beem Gin at Bogata reported 300 bales and the Blackland Prairie Gin at Deport said it had turned out 200 bales.

An Extra Blocker?

As if running interference for Jeff Ballard, who has just snagged a long pass from quarterback Todd Davis, the referee at last Friday's Oklahoma

Red Pride Back At Full Strength....

After OC Downer, Pats Take Aim On Mt. Vernon

The Prairiland Patriots trekked to Oklahoma City to play Oklahoma City Northeast High School, a 4-A school, expecting to have a tough game, but not really prepared for that they did find.

Head Coach Chet James says that "they're not the best team we've played this year...we made them look a lot better than they are through our mistakes." James says that Wolfe City actually has a better ball club, in spite of the 36-0 loss to the Vikings.

He expresses relief that all the team came home uninjured, and says that "it was a learning experience, to say the least. We won't be playing them next year...they won't be coming down here. To have a gentlemen's agreement you first have to have two gentlemen."

That, to those who sat in the stands and listened to endless verbal abuse, and certainly to the team, who did an admirable job of keeping their tempers when taunting, jeering and just plain unsportsmanlike conduct went on whenever the Vikings thought they could get away with it, was obvious.

As James says "We don't teach our boys that kind of ball, and they don't play that way."

The Patriots Red Pride is turning its attention now to Mt. Vernon this Friday night, kickoff at 8:00 p.m., and the third straight homecoming game the Pats have played in.

James says "Mt. Vernon has played real well this year, and they always play us tough. We're going to have to play good football to beat them."

Grid Guessing Game....

Cox, Van Deaver, Wood Win Loot

In a weekend of numerous mild upsets on the college scene and no pro games, it was a rough week for contestants in the News-Times football guessing contest.

A contestant who could correctly guess the outcome on 20 of the 28 contest games was a winner and that was exactly the case for first week champion James VanDeaver of Deport and Andrew N. Cox of Bogata.

The two tied for first place honors, each with eight miscues. The fair sex got back in the act with Denise Wood of Bogata all by her lonesome in second place and third money.

In going to the contest tie-breaker game in an effort to dissolve the deadlock between VanDeaver and Cox, that game was won by Big Sandy over Rivercrest, 13-0. Both VanDeaver and Cox had guessed the Rebels would win, so they remained tied on the first step. The second step in breaking ties is margin of victory but since both had the wrong winner, they still remained tied.

The third tie-dissolving step is total game points. VanDeaver had figured a total of 36 points between Rivercrest and Big Sandy, while Cox had calculated 31 points. So, Cox is awarded the $12 first place money and VanDeaver takes down the $7 second money.

Wood, who finished just a game behind with nine misses, lays claim to the $5 third place award.

Goodings Work Together For Goals

Working all together, the Goodings, Benji, left, Camey, Vicki and Jesse run their dairy with efficient teamwork, each having his own chores to do. The Goodings milk 45-50 head of cows, feed heifers out, and raise baby calves, as well as producing hay and winter grazing for them and griding

Home-Heating Aid For Low-Income

Low-income Texans faced a home energy cutoff for heating or cooling may be eligible for payments from the federal Energy Crisis Intervention (ECI) program, according to the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Money made available to Texas counties, is distributed to energy providers on behalf of households.

Payment is allowed for the household between Oct. 1 and March 31. Another payment is allowed between March 1 and Sept. 30. A maximum of $90 per period is paid if the household is found eligible.

Applications at DHR exist that once the fund is established, no further action can be made.

The department has entered into contracts with agencies to handle outreach, applications, eligibility determination, and payments to energy suppliers.

Qualification for ECI payments is limited to households with a total gross monthly income of less than $305.50 for a one-person household; $499.50 for a two-person household; $684.50 for three; $845.50 for four; $998.50 for five; and $1,166.50 for six.

At least one person in the household must be a U.S. citizen or a legally admitted alien. If a household's past due energy bill exceeds $90, and funds from other sources are not available, the household might not qualify for ECI help.

We do not meet Jesus face to face as those who lived with Him in the time of the first century A.D. but we do have the opportunity to know Him in our reading the scriptures and many other acts of worship and in our relationships with others.

GENEALOGY BEGINS WITH U Geography an important principle

By MICHAEL CUNNINGHAM

Today, we can live pretty much where we would like to. Presently some people build houses in dry creek beds. Suburbs of our larger cities have sprung up where farmers used to plant their crops. We do not have to go very many generations back till we find a completely changed set of circumstances. This week we are going to test our knowledge on some principles of geographic location.

GENEALOGICAL ASSUMPTIONS

- In the early days of our country which of the following acted as a hindrance or a help to our Western expansion?
1. Rivers
  2. Mountains
  3. Valley
  4. Climate
  5. Soil Conditions
  6. Hostile Neighbors

7. True or False. Did the early immigrants, who came to this country, normally seek to find a place to settle that most reminded them of their home land?
8. Before the 1900's what was the general migration flow of the Americans who lived above the Mason Dixon line?
  - A. West to East
  - B. North to South
  - C. South to North
  - D. East to West

9. Before the 1900's what was the general migration flow of the Americans who lived South of the Mason Dixon line?
  - A. North to South
  - B. West to East
  - C. South to North
  - D. Northwest to Southeast
  - E. Northeast to Southwest
10. Before the 1800's what was the general migration flow of Americans?

- A. North to South
  - B. East to West
  - C. Southeast to Northwest
  - D. South to North
11. The states of Maine and Delaware were once part of what two different states?
  12. When doing genealogical research and trying to obtain courthouse records for someone who lived in Gilmer, Texas in 1850 where would you look?
  13. If you wanted to find out some information on one of your relatives who founded a town (for example Peter C. Boslow who founded Patterson Hardin Co. Ohio) would you go to
    - A. A Local Library?
    - B. Chamber of Commerce?
    - C. Newspaper?
    - D. U.S. Census Records?
    - E. Historical and Genealogical Society?

Career Tips

By Dr. H. Don Pope, Ed. D., Coordinator Career Planning, Center for Student Development Services, East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas 75428.

Now that all of us are starting to settle into our routines for this academic year, it's time to take a look at a wide variety of different matters related to careers. First, I want to give some advice to high school students—don't let up on your studies.

Fairly often, many students (particularly high school seniors) tend to ease up with their studies as they get closer to graduation because some high schools allow these young people to skip some parts of the school day if they have completed the minimum requirements for graduation.

If this time off is used to get other educational-vocational experiences, the student stands to gain greatly. However, often this time is used to watch television, to hang out with friends and to do nothing. When this happens, everyone loses.

This extra time could and should be used in many worthwhile ways. If possible, students should take college-level courses under a concurrent enrollment plan. Most of these courses will be freshman-level courses which will go on the students' transcripts once they have actually enrolled in college. By doing this, the students will be able to go ahead with more difficult courses after they graduate from high school.

This extra time also could be used in high school by taking additional courses which might not be required for graduation. For example, I think that all high school students should complete four years of English—with the emphasis being on grammar and composition. I believe this primarily because the ability to write correctly is essential to success in college as well as in most careers.

Questions should be sent to the author at the above address.
