

ENTHUSIASTIC SCHOOL MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

A good sized crowd gathered at the house Monday night in response to call issued by Scott W. Key, president of the School Board, to discuss school situation. Mr. Key presided over the meeting, explaining that finances of the schools were run low and it would be impossible to continue the school unless the financial situation was met by the citizens. Something like $1500 will be needed to continue the term for a full months session.

W. H. Murchison followed Mr. Key with a rousing speech in the line of continuing the school at any offering to duplicate any sum might be given by anyone else. Talk was to the point, and was delivered in his usual characteristic way.

Superintendent Bert E. McGlamery the next speaker called upon and explained some of the disadvantages hardships that the pupils are having to contend with on account of the shortage of funds and poor equipment. Also explained the difficulty that would be expected in securing teachers another year on account of the shortage of young men being in the military and government positions being filled to the ladies at a much better salary.

H. Davis, tax assessor of the district, made an appeal to the citizens to render their property at full value for this year, which he explained, would increase the income of the district sufficient to meet the demand of the increase in expenses.

Talks were also made by County Superintendent Jno. R. Hutto and Mrs. Mary A. Oates.

A committee was appointed consisting of Mesdames W. H. Murchison, Mary A. Oates, Clyde F. Elkins, J. U. Fields and Courtney Hunt to solicit funds to continue the school for the full nine months term.

About $900.00 has been raised by the committee at the time of going to press and they feel confident that the full amount will be forthcoming.

MRS. J. U. FIELDS OF HASKELL HONORED

Mrs. J. U. Fields of this city, president of the First District of Federated Women's Clubs returned home recently from Fort Worth, Mineral Wells and other points where she had been in the interest of the club work. Mrs. Fields was the guest of honor at many social affairs on the trip, both at Fort Worth and Mineral Wells. The following is a clipping from the Mineral Wells Daily Index.

Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, president of the First District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, left yesterday for Seymour, where she goes to confer with Mrs. Brittain, district chairman of the program. While in this city Mrs. Fields was the recipient of several social affairs where she endeared herself to the club women by her bright spontaneous manner, her dignified bearing and her charming originality. The meeting of the First District in Mineral Wells is looked forward to with redoubled interest since meeting and knowing Mrs. Fields. While in this city Mrs. Fields was the guest of Mrs. J. L. Young, first vice president of the First District.

Sanders and Wilson moved their office from the Pierson building to the Sherrill building this week and have set up business in their new suite of rooms. They have been in the Pierson building for many years and their old friends and patrons will doubtless be surprised to find them located in their new quarters.

DRY ZONES ABOUT NAVAL STATIONS

Washington, March 6—Five miles dry zones around eight permanent naval training camps irrespective of whether there is an incorporated city or town within those limits was ordered today by Secretary Daniels. Other orders may be issued later but for the present no change is made in the regulations governing conditions at other camps.

Those affected now are the Great Lakes naval station, the training station at Norfolk, Hampton Roads, the camp at Mare Island, Cal., at Quantico, Va., and at Port Royal, S. C.

In a statement explaining his reasons for the action Mr. Daniels referred particularly to objectionable conditions at Vallejo, near Mare Island, which a letter from the commandant there referred to as "a short business street with twenty-five saloons" said to be controlled by a German brewer.

Willie Whitaker, now stationed in the navy yards, will sail in a few days for the submarine zone.

Food is the most precious thing in the world. How much can you raise this year?

LAST LYCEUM NUMBER MARCH 12

The fifth number of the Lyceum Course, "The Hungarian Ladies Quartette" will be given at the Methodist Church in Haskell, Tuesday evening, March 12th.

This number comes highly recommended and the ladies of the Magazine Club take pleasure in presenting these young ladies, who are not "Huns" as the name might imply, but a quartette of very fine loyal young American girls.

The program will consist of both vocal and instrumental music, with a number of readings during the evening by one of the company. The admission price will be 50c for adults and 25c for the children.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM WM. MEYERS

Ontario, Cal., Feb. 22, 1918.

To the Free Press and its many Readers:

I am now in southern California, about 30 miles east of Los Angeles at the foot hills of the San Bernardino mountains. This is a fine valley, all in oranges, lemons and grape fruit. It is irrigated from the mountain snow. Everything you buy here is high like it is out there. The climate of southern California is the finest in the United States. But I had rather live in Texas and in Haskell county if we had the climate of southern California.

It has just begun raining here and it has been dry all winter. There are about 50,000 visitors from the north in and around Los Angeles spending the winter.

I may write more from this section after I have been here longer and have seen more of the country. Hope you all will have good rains there by the time this reaches you.

Yours very truly,
Wm. Meyers.

The above letter was received from our old friend Wm. Meyers, who formerly owned the Myers Ranch east of the Myers schoolhouse, 8 miles north of Haskell, and sold it to J. O. Chitwood of this city. This letter shows that "Uncle Billie" (as he was called) is still in love with his old home in Haskell county and we will welcome him home whenever he makes up his mind to return. He has so many friends in the county we are sure that this short letter will be gladly received.

MRS. HENDERSON DIES AT ROCHESTER

Mrs. Martha Henderson, who was living with her son, P. A. Henderson near Rochester, died Saturday morning at 8 o'clock and was laid to rest in the Rochester cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Henderson was an elderly lady and is the mother of Mrs. C. A. McClain of Haskell, who attended the bedside and funeral of her mother. Mrs. Henderson had been a widow for several years and was making her home with her children. The Free Press extends condolence to the bereaved.

BALLARD-PERRIN

A wedding of unusual interest was performed Tuesday evening, when Miss Irene Perrin became the bride of Labry E. Ballard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ed R. Wallace, pastor of the Methodist church at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. Q. Gentry.

Both of the contracting parties are popular young people of this city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Perrin of north of town. She formerly taught in the City Public Schools, and is one of our most charming and accomplished young ladies.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ballard of this city and is well and favorably known here.

The Free Press joins their host of friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard will make their future home on the Ballard ranch east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Reynolds of Allensville, Ky., who have been visiting their children, R. J. Reynolds and Mrs. H. S. Wilson of this city for two months, left for Dallas Thursday of last week, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, to visit their son and brother, Ed Reynolds. Mrs. Wilson returned home Wednesday.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM LEWIS SHERRILL IN FRANCE

February 4th, 1918.

My Dearest Mother:

Since I wrote you last, I have been moved to another place nearby, in the same camp, where I have a hut for negro troops. Of course I have no idea how long I shall be here, but it is the most pleasant station I have had since I have been in the Y. M. C. A. The men are very appreciative of what is done, for they are glad to have a hut for their own use. Of course I miss the intimacy with the white soldiers, but this is made up for by the friendliness of the white officers of the company. The captain invited me to eat at their mess which is just next building to the hut. They come in quite often here, and are very ready to help in every way. It makes it most pleasant in every way.

I am living here in the hut, and I will have a very cozy and pleasant little room when it is finished. I am having some shelves and a table made this afternoon, and then it will be quite convenient.

We carry a small stock of canteen supplies—cookies, fruit, tobacco, etc. Not much is being sold just now as it is too far away from pay day. But they are making inquiry now as to prices, getting informed and ready, you see. There is one man detailed to be on duty here at the hut all the time, cleaning up, etc. He was telling me that one man asked him how much a whole box of cakes cost. He said, "We've got a boy in dis company named Paradise; an' he can eat a whole box of cakes." These are the tin boxes holding about 5 pounds.

Captain Buck, a lieutenant and I went for a walk into the hills above here Sunday afternoon. It was very clear and still and we could distinctly hear the big guns in a heavy bombardment, at least we judged it to be a heavy one!

While we were up there we heard a dog barking on the scent of something. We walked on for quite a bit until we saw the dog evidently on a warm trail. We stood still and watched him circle into a clump of fallen trees, when suddenly out bounded a deer, not a hundred yards away. We could hear an odd triangle of noises: on one side the noise of the big guns, behind us a church bell, and on the other side the barking of a dog at chase.

We walked on a while, then turned back coming into the valley and down by a large rambling farmhouse built of stone; and what should we see but two Frenchmen coming in carrying the deer we had seen! One of them had shot it. We went into the house and asked the people if they would let us have a little of the meat. The man left it entirely to his wife, and she said she would. So they cut off a hind quarter and once she had consented to let us have any at all, she did not want to take anything at all for it. We gave her 20 francs and she would hardly take it. We bought it back—the meat, I mean!—and are to have it tonight.

When we came back, the captain told it, that we were out walking, when the dogs started a deer; the deer in its fright ran straight toward us; that he caught it by the hind leg and would have captured it, but his foot slipped; and he jerked off the hind quarter, but the deer got away.

Probably this will be enough yarns for once! Love to all.

Your affectionate son,
Lewis.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McClain in the west part of the city, a girl, Thursday, February the 28th.

Uncle Sam wants you to plant a garden.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED MONDAY

In response to invitations sent out a small but enthusiastic gathering of farmers, ladies and business men met at the court house at 2:30 p. m. Monday for the purpose of organizing a Poultry Association for Haskell County. The meeting was called to order and E. H. Kemp was appointed chairman.

He made a very impressive talk as to the object of the meeting, then Len B. Hammer read a preliminary outline of what the constitution would contain. R. E. Sherrill was called on and made a very interesting and instructive talk, emphasizing the importance of raising and caring for poultry from a profitable point of view, as well as a food supply. Judge Smith was called upon, and with his customary smile and eloquence held the entire attention of the audience and told in a very impressive manner the results to be derived through a poultry organization and added much "pep" to the meeting. John T. Therwhanger made a talk on the educational line of the Association, after which the permanent organization was perfected and the following officers elected:

John T. Therwhanger of Weinert, president; J. L. Linville, first vice president; Mrs. J. M. Baker second vice president and E. H. Kemp, secretary and treasurer. An executive committee was appointed as follows: John A. Lee, of Rule, Walter B. Lee of Rochester, Dr. J. C. Davis, Sagerton, Roy Weaver, Vontress, R. B. Fowler, Haskell Route 3, W. W. Ashby, Weinert, Jno. R. Mauldin, Judge Poole and Len B. Hammer, all of Haskell. Mr. Hammer was selected chairman of this committee.

The President, upon assuming the duties of office stepped to the bat and delivered some well directed blows. Among the things he said was that Haskell county had accomplished two of the greatest steps in her history, one in securing E. H. Kemp, our farm demonstrator, and in the organization of the Haskell County Poultry Association. The organization stands for higher education in the producing of more and better poultry and in marketing same. We have confidence that the Association will meet with hearty approval over the entire county and that much good will be accomplished through the association in the production of poultry that otherwise could not be attained. We are delighted with the way the association has launched out with competent men in charge who are able to perform what they undertake and will keep the association up to what it is expected to perform.

W. H. PARSONS ORDERS 500 BABY CHICKS

W. H. Parsons of this city is no doubt the most enthusiastic poultryman in the county. He owns a splendid farm east of town on which he has built about $1,500 worth of poultry houses and necessary fixtures to take care of his large flock of birds. He has sold recently all the mixed breeds from his pens and ordered from a reliable hatchery 500 Brown Leghorn baby chicks. Mr. Parsons expects to conduct an egg farm in the future. He is one of the best posted men in the county along this line. He reads up-to-date Poultry Journals from which he has learned the best methods of production in the poultry industry.

160,000 HENS SHIPPED FROM TEXAS IN 42 DAYS

Washington, March 5—Between Jan. 1 and Feb. 11 forty carloads, each of about 4,000 hens and pullets, were shipped out of Texas, meaning a loss to the Nation's food supply of about 400,000 dozen eggs, it was announced by the Food Administration today. This means that 160,000 birds that were laying, or about ready to lay, were prevented from reproducing the food they had consumed. Orders of the Food Administration require that the hens be kept until April 30.

Martin Arend and daughter, Miss Martha, of Vontress was in the city Wednesday and made this office a very pleasant call while in town.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB PROGRAM SUCCESS

Despite the rainy weather Saturday night, a large crowd filled the High School Auditorium to see the entertaining program given by the Dramatic Club for the benefit of the High School Library.

The first part of the program was the comic section from the Sunday newspapers. "Mutt and Jeff" caused shouts of laughter from everyone in the house. The "Katzenjamer Kids" were applauded. A rival for "Snookums" of newspaper fame has been found in Miss Lois Earnest, and 'Elmer' who always gets into trouble, was also very good.

The next on program was the play entitled "A Case of Suspicion." I am sure others will agree that there was plenty of suspense, and causes for laughter were not found wanting. Mention must be made of the lovely Scotch and Swedish folk games by eight of the seventh grade girls, and of the music by the High School Quartette, which accompanied both the play and the games.

The admission was ten cents, and seventeen dollars and five cents was given to the High School Library.

STATUTORY BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

The state of Texas took another step nearer statewide prohibition Wednesday when the lower house of the legislature passed finally the statutory prohibition bill prohibiting the sale or manufacture of spirituous or malt liquors containing intoxicants, shipment into the state of liquors except for scientific or sacramental purposes, being prohibited. The bill now goes to the senate, where favorable action is predicted by prohibition leaders.

The bill ran its entire course through the house today after the constitutional rule requiring three separate readings on as many days had been suspended by a vote of four-fifths of the members present. The vote was viva voce and if acted upon favorably by the senate it will become effective in 90 days after adjournment of the present special session. So far as is known Governor Hobby has not indicated whether he will sign the bill if it passes the senate, but prohibition leaders express the belief that he will at least allow it to become a law.

FROM THE FIELD

By W. M. FREE

We are sure of a war garden at our place this season. The good wife has planted the back yard right up to the door in various kinds of vegetables. The first time we forget and she sees our tracks in this garden—war will be declared.

We are mailing out over 1,000 copies of the Haskell Free Press every week to our paid in advance subscribers. This is a true test as to the amount of readers any newspaper may claim. When you have a paid in advance subscriber you have a reader. (He may lay it onto his wife, but that makes no big difference.) You can count on a reader just the same. About five people read every paper we mail out, or we think that a fair average, which will bring our reading capacity up to 8,000 actual readers over the country. If you have a news item or an ad you want peddled, we are hooked up for the business. Our phone number is 207.

Expenses do not buy us anything, yet we offer them in exchange for all kinds of merchandise and good wishes. We thought of a certainty that we would not have to offer any excuse for being late last week. We had planned to get out on time or work all night, and that was not all, we were coming out with a good paper, which had all the boys spurred up to the top notch of enthusiasm, when a folder book caught in the delivery wheel and broke thunder out of the thing. Again we were forced to submit to what we had almost sworn not to do: to be late another time with the Free Press. We have set a resolution to mail out all papers Friday morning so that every subscriber will get them not later than Saturday in all parts of the county. If you do not get your paper in due time this week you may know we had another breakdown or a sleepy carrier on the route.

A Hooverized meal is a good one if you will only wait a while to serve.

J. R. Johnson, who recently went into the mercantile business at his home near Foster was in the city Monday. He made the statement that he sold goods last week for cost and paid 30c per dozen for eggs and sold them for 25c, which is not very profitable but is a job that will make all his customers like him.

We witnessed the organization of the Haskell County Poultry Association which was a success in every way. The men who are at the head of this move are not the kind that are easily discouraged because they are interested in the well doing of the county and it is bound to reach the high aim and plane for which it was launched. About 30 men and women placed their names to the list and pledged themselves to get in the fight for more and better poultry. The attendance was fair and everyone seemed to be enthusiastic over the organization and realize what it means for Haskell County in the way of meats and the better marketing and handling of poultry and poultry products. This was not organized for the benefit of one man or the men of Haskell; but for every man, woman and child in the county who will come into the organization and get the benefits that the association can and will give them. Will you come and help yourself to know how to raise poultry and sell it for a better price?

We are going to publish in the issue of March 23rd another list of the breeders in classified form, of pure bred poultry. Now we are asking that you send us your name and address and the kind of poultry you are breeding and we will place your name in the list of breeders from over the county. We are going to have a poultry show in Haskell about the first of April and we wish to publish another list because of the fact that there were many breeders who neglected to send in their name in the first list. This will be the last list published this spring, and if you fail to get your name on this list you have lost your free advertising for the season.

A home without children is more or less happy in early life. But when the burdens of life become greater as the years roll on, oftentimes the love that seemed so true will wax cold, when the tie that binds (the children) have not come in for their share of making life happy. The child in the home is a blessing; although he has the name of the "meanest brat" in town.

We visited the Yeomen anniversary at the hall in this city last Thursday night and enjoyed the apples, the cake and good music made by J. O. Poe's "Cotton Patch Band." C. W. Ramey and J. F. Garber made short talks and everyone present enjoyed the occasion. We did not get to witness all the entertainments but the part we played personally of eating apples and cakes was enjoyed.

Magazine Club Notes

Friday, March first was "Texas Day" for the Magazine Club with Mrs. Murchison as leader. While standing the Club sang "The Star Spangled Banner". Each heart beat a little faster as we whispered a silent prayer for our strong, brave boys who are fighting under "Old Glory." Mrs. Reynolds, in a very interesting way reviewed the history of "Texas Under Six Flags" and closed by saying that it was her daily prayer, and knew it was of every loyal Texan, that we live and die under our Stars and Stripes. Mrs. J. U. Fields told of "The Fabulous Wealth Brought to Texas by Its Oil and Mineral Resources." According to the U. S. Geological Survey the mine value of Texas' available coal supply exceeds the Census Bureau valuation of all the farms of the United States. Texas should not only attend to diversification of agricultural crops which she is now doing, but she should also look after diversification in other departments of wealth producing activities. Mrs. Patterson, who is a very talented musician, rendered a piano solo "Soldiers' March" which was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Whitaker, one of the brightest and wit-tiest women of the Club, told "What It Means to Live in Texas", which we print below:

What It Means to Live in Texas

As of one who's always dreaming of the place to call his home, And muses on the merits of the places he has known, So I turn the leaves of fancy, 'till in shadowy design, I see the plains of Texas, that Lone Star State of mine. The atmosphere is pure 'neath the blue and azure skies, The flowers bloom the sweeter, with their lovely hues and dyes, And I dream along in silence, yet my thoughts keep rapid pace, With the restless, seething motions, of the people of the place, 'Tis a veritable workshop, for applying any art, And a place where every person, in up-building, has a part. So I claim to live in Texas is a blessing in disguise For one learns to know more fully that he will win who tries. Her factories, mines, and quarries, will supply both purse and hand, Her granaries groan with richest stores, no hunger in this land. For the streams are everflowing, and the weather always fine. And the birds are always singing, in this dear old State of mine. In fact to speak in earnest, I believe it is the place, Where the people are the freest, with no regard for space. And you find a fellow feeling like a sympathy divine, That makes you drink the deeper, to this dear old State of mine. I can see her glorious future, in the years that are to come, When the dear old land of Texas, will be everybody's home. When a reign of peace and plenty shall be o'er all the state, And men shall be like brothers, from the humble to the great. And ah! The dawn is breaking, fond-est dreams will realize, In the near and prosperous future, that unmaned before us lies, So with eagerness and rapture, I say living is divine, When you really live in Texas, this grand old state of mine!

The Optic Disc, or Blind Spot in The Eye Easily Demonstrated

Hold this paper about a foot from your face, cover the left eye, and look with the right directly at the cross. At the same time you will be conscious of the presence of the black dot at the right of where you are looking. Now slowly move the paper nearer and farther from your face, always keeping your eye upon the cross, and you will find that at one position the black dot will entirely disappear, leaving the paper of an unbroken whiteness.

This is only because the rays from the black dot are now falling upon the Optic Disc and therefore produce no sensation. Draw the paper nearer and the dot will again appear; carry the paper back and it once more disappears; continue to draw the paper away and the dot again becomes visible. Be sure to keep the left eye covered.

Can you explain why the black spot is no inconvenience to us?

Some Indications of Eye Strain

Headaches, eyes tire easily, light hurts them, type gradually or suddenly blurs and becomes less distinct, holding reading matter more than 14 inches from the eyes, holding it nearer than this point, seeing better a little to one side, squinting, sleepy sensation upon reading a while, etc., etc.

Properly fitted glasses will right the matter. It is your duty and it is my business to take care of your eyes.

Haskell, Texas, March 9, 1918

How do you like "Liberty Bread?"

What we are wont to call luck generally goes hand in hand with pluck.

The average Haskell man would rather have a tomboy daughter than a sissy son.

If a man succeeds it is said that he has ability, but if he fails they say he had hard luck.

Some women could never become stenographers because they can't take dictation from any man.

Some people are just bubbling over with patriotism until the war happens to affect their pocketbook or their stomach.

Just because a man loses an argument with his wife is no reason why he should not make a convincing public speaker.

Don't let your dollars become slackers. Put them to work for yourself and Uncle Sam by investing in War Savings stamps.

The great trouble with making a success of anything like the food conservation program, is many people are too willing to "let George do it."

John Barleycorn has been the champion of his class for many years, but time is beginning to tell on him and those who have watched the rapid rise of Prohibition are predicting a new champion ere long.

One bill before Congress that should be speedily passed is the bill providing for the revocation of the charter of the German-American Alliance. The very existence of such an un-American organization is a blot upon the nation's escutcheon.

The Burk Burnett Star is the latest newspaper office in this section of the state to install a new type setting machine. We are glad to see the "Twinkler" prosper and expand as the writer feels a special interest in its progress, as we nursed it, so to speak, through all of its ailments, trials and tribulations of its infancy. May the Star continue to be a shining light for Burk Burnett and surrounding country.

Haskell will miss the biggest thing that has ever been offered if we fail to land the Ozark Trail. Other towns west of us are making a strong pull and showing enthusiasm that is expected of the route that is selected. It should be some one's duty to take the matter in hand here, and see that we come up to the requirements that are expected by the Association. We are supposed to raise a membership in the Ozark Trail Association of something like fifty or sixty members—we should double that number—Seymour and some of the other towns along the Wichita Valley have secured more than one hundred members each. Haskell can and should do the same.

The Progressive Farmer of Dallas handed us the following bouquet which we appreciate very much, taking in consideration the high rank of this journal among the farm papers of the great Southwest. We are pleased to reproduce the article as follows:

"The Haskell Free Press recently devoted an entire page to poultry for the benefit of its readers. This department will be continued, and will, of course, be of special value to the readers of that paper. If every paper would devote just a little more space to subjects of special interest and value to the rural people and a little less space to politics, murder, scandals, divorce scandals etc., the development of the state along all lines would probably be more rapid than it is at present."

A warning to the American people has been sounded by Food Administrator Hoover that there must be the strictest economy in food, especially in wheat, for the next sixty days in order to permit a sufficient exportation of food for the English, French, and Italians Judging from the amount of meat that has been saved for the Allies through the observance of meatless days there should be enough wheat saved during the next two months to supply our allies if wheatless days are strictly observed in every American household. The "less" days on the food administration's calendar are not being observed as generally as they should be to make them most effective. Every American family should comply with these food rulings to the letter.

Russia in her present sorry plight furnishes the United States and her allies an excellent example of what is sure to befall any nation divided against itself in this war against German autocracy. In Russia we have been given a wonderful lesson to guide us in future dealings with the enemy. Germany has unmasked herself in her attitude toward the Muscovites and we can now plainly see that the only road to a permanent peace is through a vigorous prosecution of the war until German militarism is beaten to its knees and is no longer in a position to exact arrogant and humiliating peace terms from the allied nations. By their own actions the Prussian war lords have confessed that they are still bent on conquest and strengthened by their success in Russia, they can now be expected to turn their attention toward the west with the view of securing their conquest in Belgium and Northern France.

To any who attended Monday night's mass meeting it is apparent that the public schools of Haskell are confronted with a very critical situation. The funds for this year are insufficient to maintain a full nine months term and it will be necessary to supplement our income by a subscription of $1,500. A committee of ladies has been appointed to solicit this amount and it is the patriotic duty of every tax payer, business man and business concern to subscribe generously to this fund; he who fails is a slacker of the worst type. We have set a standard in the education of our children, and, if we retrograde instead of progressing, such ignominious attitude toward our most important institution will stamp our community as one that is devoid of civic pride and absolutely unappreciative of the value of education.

It was also made plain at the meeting that the future of our schools is in great jeopardy. On the present income it will be impossible next year to maintain more than a six months' free school. The increase of expenses for next year's school, especially in the salaries of the teaching force, will exhaust our limited funds much quicker than heretofore. The draft of so many young men into the army and the creation of so many governmental positions during the war has opened the field of industrial labor to women. As a consequence, teachers are deserting their professions in large numbers to accept positions that pay from fifty to one hundred dollars per month better than school teaching. In order to be able to employ teachers enough to open our schools next fall we must be able to assure them of a considerable increase in wages over the past and to further assure them of nine months of employment.

The only way left open for an increase of our school income is to increase our taxes and the only way taxes can be increased is by requiring every property owner in the district to render his property at its full valuation. We will have an election of four school trustees on the first Saturday in April. Our plain duty, fellow citizens, is to elect trustees who are pledged to select a Board of Equalization that will require property owners to render their property at its full market value.

Now, Mr. Business Man and Mr. Banker and Mr. Farmer, if your parental obligation will not cajole you into "loosening up", then perhaps a reason that, shame to say, lies closer to your heart may—it means dollars and cents to you to have a first class school and to maintain the same for a nine months term. Don't you know that the home-seeker and investor always want to know what kind of a school you have? Don't you know that people of means that are worth while to a town are going to move somewhere else unless you keep up a standard school? Don't you know what short terms of school are going to make more vacant houses in Haskell than any other calamity could? There is nothing so substantiates the standing of a town as the kind of a school it possesses. This burden is laid on us as citizens, as parents, if we fail, we will have let pass a golden opportunity to prove what is in us and we will deny to our children a heritage which is theirs.

Food will win the war. This has become America's war slogan. In times of peace the Allies have not been able to produce enough food to supply their own needs and it has been America's privilege to supply the deficit in their food supply. Now that they are at war and their men who used to be engaged in the production of foodstuffs are in the ranks they are falling far behind in production. The responsibility of feeding the Allies rests upon

America and we have ample resources with which to do it, but unless every American lends himself to the conservation of our food we may not measure up to the requirements in this tremendous task. In four months through the medium of meatless days and meatless meals we have saved 140,000,000 pounds of beef, but this saving can be increased by at least 50 per cent if conservation measures were more generally complied with in the United States.

By using less wheat and more substitutes during the next sixty days we can save enough wheat to supply the needs of England, France and Italy. If we are to win the war we must feed our allies. If they starve they will lose, which will also mean our defeat in the war.

22 Million Families in the United States

If EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 858,000,000 pounds, or 4,377,000 barrels in a year. You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins

1/2 cup corn meal
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder

2 tablespoons sugar
No eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons shortening

Sift dry ingredients together into bowl; add milk and melted shortening and beat well. Bake in greased muffin tins in hot oven about 20 minutes. Same batter may be baked as corn bread in greased shallow pan.

Are You Buying this ad. Unwares?

There is more money and time spent to keep from doing what we ought to do than in any one thing else in the world. For instance, the farmer will raise scrub stock for a market price because should he raise pure bred stock it would require a little advertising to get the best results; therefore to save the expense of advertising in a farm journal he sticks to the scrub. Does he pay for his advertisement any ways. He is robbed of the pleasure of knowing that he is the owner of some of the very best stock in his community or county. He is robbed of the rich blood that good breeding has placed in the veins of his stock that is so much more responsive to the food and care given. He is robbed of the respect that the breeder of the pure bred commands and receives at the hands of his friends and neighbors. Last of all, he is robbed of the fancy price that he should receive for his pure bred stock and gets in the competitive market of the speculator and the grafters, who are looking after their interests and not yours. A small ad in a reliable state paper does not cost over $1.00 per week with one million readers. Are you making a save? No. Are you paying for the ad? Yes! And you have not realized it. But you are paying for it just the same.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

Only by becom- savings club mem- tating regularly and in the little Gov- ds will we be per- part our duty as c Americans. ling ourselves as ers of war savings will be helming the men in the fighting ditches of Flanders, making it possible for them to do their job thoroughly, quickly and with greater safety to themselves. Every household should be a thrift center, every citizen a saver and a society member. It's time to quit talking and get down to business. The job of the stay-at-home is to increase the efficiency of the fighting machine and aid the Government in winning the war. It's the least they can do.

"That Texans shall not be classed as slackers it is our personal duty to see that we have joined a war savings club and have gotten someone else to enroll. The idea of March must not find Blue Bonnet State residents classed as non-Americans."

War savings societies may have as few as ten members and as many as desired. There are two officers for each society, a president and a secretary. When it is desired to organize a society the County Chairman of War Savings, or the State Director, Dallas, Texas, should be asked to supply a sufficient number of postcard pledges to enroll the members and a war savings society application. In joining a society the sole requirement is that the applicant shall sign a pledge to be thrifty and save as he can.

The purpose of war savings societies are:

1. To awaken a realization among men, women, and children of America that in their hands lies the key to the successful prosecution of the war; that they can render the most far-reaching patriotic service through refraining from the purchase of unnecessary articles, confining themselves to the use of such things as are necessary for health and efficiency, thus releasing labor and materials for the support of our armies in the field; that there is not enough labor in the United States to produce the great variety of articles needed to support our soldiers and at the same time provide all the comforts and luxuries we enjoyed before the war.

2. To lay the foundation for thrift and economy throughout the United States and to bring home to the people the fact that intelligent and consistent saving is not a dry problem in economics, but is the most vital step toward personal success.

3. To obtain for the Government a large amount of money through the sale of Thrift Stamps and War-Savings Bonds—the safest and best investment in the world, and at the same time provide a method by which the small investor may put his savings at the immediate service of his country.

Methodist Auxiliary Notes
The Methodist Auxiliary met Monday in a business session. Mrs. O. M. Guest, our most capable president, read the Lord's Prayer as the Bible lesson. She told of the campaign for new members and appointed Mesdames Hardy Grissom, and Montgomery as leaders in the contest. The President urged each member of the Auxiliary to approach every woman of the church personally and persuasively and that we give daily, definite prayer for the work. Thirty members were present, but we cannot, and will not be content, until each lady of the church is a member of the Auxiliary. "And many shall say in that day, 'Lord, Lord, open unto me,' and he shall say: 'Depart from me, I know you not.'"
The ninth and tenth chapters of Esther will be studied Monday, March 11.

B. W. M. W.
The Society met in the church last Wednesday evening in one of the most lovable heart to heart services, in honor of Sister Arbuckle. The large number of women present show how they regretted to give up this beloved member, every talk, every prayer, expressed the love she had awakened in the hearts of her co-workers.
After the song service Mrs. Bowman read the 10th chapter of St. John, prayer was offered by Mrs. J. N. McFatter, after which our beloved president, Mrs. Leon Gilliam, gave the most touching reminiscence of loving favors shown her during her girlhood in Haskell, not forgetting the tiniest act of kindness. She urged that we treat other girls who come to us likewise. May each of us heed her admonition. The husband's gave a substantial gold piece to Sister Arbuckle, to show their appreciation of her. Mrs. J. T. Nicholson closed the meeting with a prayer.

Monday was Red Cross Day with the B. W. M. W. and 70 women met in the R. C. room and much good was accomplished. The number of articles finished was 496 surgical dressings, 72 triangular bandages, 10 property bags. This was a splendid evening's work, still we hope for a much larger attendance next first Monday, and not a day but what we should do all we can to help in this great work.
The Society will meet next Monday in the church. Don't fail to be present at 3 o'clock.

During the month of February the following articles were made and turned in to the Chapter.
1145 surgical dressings.
48 triangular bandages.
10 scultetus bandages.
We wish to thank the Baptist people for the use of their new church which makes a large comfortable work room.
Mrs. Henry Lee.

Symphony Club
The Symphony Club held a most interesting meeting on Wednesday afternoon, February 27th.
We were delighted to have with us as guests Mrs. J. U. Fields and Mrs. R. R. English, the president and secretary of the first district of the Federation of Women's Clubs. Each of these ladies made a short talk which the club enjoyed very much.
The club is studying "Faust" and "Act II" was the topic for the afternoon. After a synopsis of Act I, by Miss Neathery, Miss McConnell gave the story of Act II. Two of the songs of this act were rendered: "The Flower Song" by Miss Neathery and "The Jewel Song" by Mrs. Key, both of which were enjoyed by all present.

"I FIRMLY BELIEVE THAT IT SAVED MY LIFE"

Declares Medicine That Will Do What Tanlac Did For Her, Deserves Praise

"By the help of Tanlac I have overcome trouble I had begun to fear would end my life," said Mrs. Aline Ramsey, who resides at 303 South Pearl Street, Dallas, Texas, recently.

"My stomach has been troubling me for eight years," she continued, "and I had gotten to where I couldn't even eat raw eggs or drink sweet milk without suffering afterwards. At times my stomach was so gassy and upset that I couldn't retain a thing. For the past two years I have had rheumatism in my right arm and shoulder so bad I could hardly use my hand. I was so nervous and miserable I could hardly sleep at all and could do no work without feeling completely exhausted. I was badly constipated, had such a glimmer before my eyes I could hardly see and would often get so dizzy I had to lie down."

"I took nearly every medicine I ever heard of and tried in vain so long without getting anything to help me that I had begun to think I couldn't get well. Then my nephew from Georgia told me about Tanlac and while I never got much relief from my first bottle, the second got me to eating hearty and sleeping fine. I finished my third bottle with such a big appetite that I could hardly get enough to eat and my stomach trouble and rheumatism are gone. So now I can eat what I want, sleep like a child and am praising Tanlac for my wonderful recovery. I firmly believe it has saved my life and such a medicine is worth praising."

Mrs. J. J. Read

By request I will write a short obituary of Sister Read. The subject of this notice was born March 7, 1849, in Hickman County, Ky. She joined the church in early womanhood and was baptized by Bro. Murchesson. She and Brother Read were married April 2, 1873. To this union eight children were born—five girls and three boys. All the children were present except one child in Colorado, when death came and relieved her of all of her sufferings. She died December 27, 1917, in Haskell, Texas, where she had lived for quite a while. To know Sister Read was to know a most devoted wife, mother and humble child of God. I hope her children will follow the worthy example mother left for them. May God bless her aged companion, who must soon follow his wife into death.

Conservation Message by the President

Many causes have contributed to create the necessity for a more intensive effort on the part of our people to save food in order that we may supply our associates in the war with the sustenance vitally necessary to them in these days of privation and stress. The reduced productivity of Europe because of the large diversion of man power to the war, the partial failure of harvests, and the elimination of the more distant market for foodstuffs through the destruction of shipping, places the burden of their subsistence very largely on our shoulders.

The Food Administration has formulated suggestions which if followed, will enable us to meet this great responsibility without any real inconvenience on our part.

In order that we may reduce our consumption of wheat and wheat products by 20 per cent—a reduction imperatively necessary to provide the supply for overseas—wholesalers, jobbers and retailers should purchase and resell to their customers only 70 per cent of the amounts used in 1917. All manufacturers of alimentary pastes, biscuits, crackers pastry and breakfast cereals should reduce their purchases and consumption of wheat and wheat flour to 70 per cent of their 1917 requirements and all bakers of bread and rolls to 80 per cent of their current requirements. Consumers should reduce their purchases of wheat products for home preparation to at most 70 per cent of those of last year, or when buying bread, should purchase mixed cereal breads from the bakers.

To provide sufficient cereal foods, homes, public eating places, dealers and manufacturers should substitute potatoes vegetables, corn, barley, oats, and rice products, and mixed cereal bread and other products of the bakers which contain an admixture of other cereals.

In order that consumption may be restricted to this extent Mondays and Wednesdays should be observed as wheatless days each week and one meal each day should be observed as a wheatless meal. In both homes and public eating places in order to reduce the consumption of beef, pork and sheep products, Tuesday should be observed as a meatless day in each week, and one meatless meal should be observed in each day; while in addition, Saturday in each week should further be observed as a day upon which there should be no consumption of pork products.

A continued economy in the use of sugar will be necessary until later in the year.

It is imperative that all waste and unnecessary consumption of all sorts of foodstuffs should be rigidly eliminated.

The maintenance of the health and strength of our own people is vitally necessary at this time, and there should be no dangerous restriction of the food supply; but the elimination of every sort of waste and substitution of other commodities of which we have more abundant supplies for those which we need to save will in no way impair the strength of our people and will enable us to meet one of our most pressing obligations of the war.

Therefore, in the national interest, take the liberty of calling upon every loyal American to take fully to heart the suggestions which are being circulated by the Food Administration and of begging that they be followed. I am confident that the great body of our women who have labored so loyally in cooperation with the Food Administration will strengthen their efforts and will take it as a part of their burden in this period of national service to see that the above suggestions are observed throughout the land.
Woodrow Wilson.

Raise Rabbits for Food
Looking into the future it is inevitable that we are facing a great shortage of food products, especially meat.

It seems from statistics available as to the animals in our country and the conditions in Europe that we Americans have opportunities that have never known before to increase our livestock. The price of meat is sure to go higher even than it is now.

It is very necessary that we put forth every effort available to raise our own meat and have a surplus to sell.

I am convinced that there is no other way, that is within the reach of all of us, that will pay us better than a nice little bunch of rabbits or hares.

With a small sum you can secure a few standard does, and you will be surprised how soon you will have a splendid bunch of quick meat producers.

Rabbits increase very rapidly, there being five or six litters a year and we usually six or seven in a litter, often more.

Rabbits are strictly vegetable feeders, they will eat anything a sheep will, potato peelings or most any trimmings from your vegetables that would otherwise be wasted. They are also fond of bread scraps and they will eat lots of different kinds of weeds that should be destroyed. As they eat no animal matter, not even insects, they are among the nicest and cleanest of animals. Their flesh is both beautiful and nutritious.

There is a ready sale for them, so you can convert them into money cow food.

Again the pelts, if properly stretched, bring a good price. If you desire to know delicious ways to prepare them for the table, the Department of Agriculture will furnish you information free.

Raising rabbits doesn't necessarily require a man's time for it is so easy that women and children find it a pleasant and interesting pastime to care for them. It takes far less feed to raise them than it does for chickens, as they grow so fast that they are ready for the table in half the length of time that a chicken is. This is one industry that the city man has as good a showing at as do those who live in the country. Rabbits require but little space, as they are kept in their hutches they are not bothering your neighbors garden.

I think it worthy of any one to give the rabbit industry a thorough investigation.

A TRIBUTE TO AMERICA'S SLAIN

There were noble words spoken over the graves of the three American soldiers who were the first to fall in France, among them, the tributes offered by a young French officer being one that America will hold in heart for many years to come:

"We will, therefore, ask that the mortal remains of these young men be left here, left with us forever. We will inscribe on their tombs: 'Here lie the first soldiers of the Republic of the United States to fall on the soil of France in the cause of Liberty and Justice.' The passerby will stop and uncover his head; travelers and men of heart will go out of their way to come here, and pay their heart-deep tributes. Private Enright—Private Gresham—Private Hay—in the name of France I thank you. God receive your souls. Farewell."—Southern Woman's Magazine.
