

Texas Crime Rate Up From 1984

The crime rate and number of major crimes reported in Texas during the first half of 1985 increased, according to statistics furnished by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Compared to the first six months of 1984, the crime rate for the first half of 1985 was up eight percent to 3,111.7 crimes per hundred thousand population," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director.

All major crime categories showed increases in the number of offenses reported.

Rape led the four violent crime categories, increasing 13.8 percent. Aggravated assault, murder and robbery were up 9.6 percent, 8.7 percent and 3.1 percent respectively.

"Motor vehicle thefts rose 12.4 percent," Adams pointed out. "Burglary increased 8.3 percent and theft was up 10.6 percent."

Of the total index crimes reported, 21 percent were cleared by arrests in the first half of 1985. The value of property stolen during the commission of the index crimes was estimated at over 585 million dollars, with approximately 230 million dollars in stolen property recovered by police.

"Two Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action in the first six months of this year," Adams said. "Two officers lost their lives in duty-related accidents."

The DPS also said a total of 1,733 assaults on officers were reported.

DWI arrests in the first half of 1985 were up 2.6 percent, totaling 68,717. Drug arrests increased 14.4 percent to 31,913.

The crime statistics were derived from reports submitted by 790 law enforcement agencies in the state

It's cotton stripping time. How it got here so fast remains one of those obscure mysteries.

But, the first trailers are trundling down the roads, and the gins have begun their throaty roar. For some, cotton time doesn't mean much, but it always creates a lot of nostalgia for me.

When I was a youngster (yes, I know I'm showing my age) cotton harvest was a major marker in the year. School would turn out for two or three weeks for youngsters to help pull bolls with their parents.

There were four gins running in Deport alone at that time. Rugby had one, Fulbright had one, Bogata had two, there were gins at Cunningham, and scattered just about everywhere else. Now Deport and Cunningham are the only two, each with a gin apiece.

The fields would open slowly, cotton wasn't killed and stripped mechanically.

From early in the morning until dark, those white fields were spotted with countless backs, clad in bright colored shirts and jeans or overalls, pulling the long white sacks that slowly swelled with the harvest, pulled by hand.

Scales and trailers waited at the end of the rows to weigh and haul the cotton.

In 1957 there was what may have been the biggest cotton crop this neck of the woods ever saw.

Seven hundred Mexican Nationals were brought in from down South. They were housed in the old cotton warehouse, and for the first time ever, we youngsters heard the plaintive sounds of Mexican guitar floating over town at night.

A few of the younger children came to school, objects of much curiosity to the rest of us.

Then, when the fields were bare, the Mexican Nationals disappeared as swiftly as they came, and interlude that brought a change to all our lives. Within two years mechanical strippers were taking over the hand harvesting.

Now, there is no such thing as "pulling bolls". It's a lost occupation in this part of the world. Those that did it remember aching backs and don't mourn it's demise.

But for me, fall and childhood will always be filled with slow rides through the countryside with my grandfather to see the harvest. It's filled with the gentle rumble of cotton gins, going on day and night, and the whine as a gin gears up.

The importance of cotton was ingrained...and it's a hard feeling to lose.

The gin cranked up to action...and it brought back once again those visions from a bygone day.

Nationally, Texas ranked ninth in all hay production during 1984, with a total of 5.42 million tons. Hay county estimates are published in the 1984 Texas Field Crop Statistics. HEAVILY DAMAGED-The home of Mr. and Mrs. Claudie Dudley of Deport was heavily damaged by fire last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dudley was cleaning paint brushes when the thinner spilled and was ignited by a hot water heater. She sustained burns to the backs of her hands, but escaped serious injuries. However, the fire destroyed the back of the house, and smoke and water seriously damaged the front portion. (Staff Photo)

Nichols, McKnight Bring In First Cotton

Cotton season began last week with Charles Nichols of Deport carrying the first bale in to the Gin at Deport, and Pete McKnight claiming the honor at Cunningham.

The cotton harvest promises to be one of the best in recent years, plentiful rainfall during the formative stages and dry weather during the last few weeks is making for high yields and so far, excellent harvesting weather.

Area farmers are, as with most farm products, disappointed in the prices.

"Wish Book" Fun For Today's Kids

It was with pleasure that I discovered today's youngsters still using the "wish books" as much as ever.

My seven year old nephew revealed this fact by calling me one night recently and proceeding to read, in lengthy detail, the description and price of every bee-bee gun listed in the catalogue. We went into shipping weight, expense and dimensions.

Searching for Santa Claus gifts used to be a major thing. About this time every year the catalogues would arrive, and the reading lessons began.

Sometimes those gifts never arrived. I cannot recall ever being really disappointed when I didn't receive what I had written for, however.

A hobby horse was on my list for several years. I wanted one, either on the springs, or preferably, the exotic one where you moved your feet on the stirrups and the legs of the horse moved. I think anticipation of rollers grinding across the floor may have kept THAT gift from ever arriving. One office employee wanted a train set. As the only child (a girl) she simply could see no reason not to receive that set, along with some high heeled shoes. She showed her parents every train set, but all to no avail.

Those wish books were calculated to drive a youngster to distraction. Instead of simply saying "I want a doll", the catalogue provided one with at least twenty or thirty different KINDS of dolls to choose from! Oh, that could be an awful decision to make.

Today's kids have the problem even greater. There are dozens upon dozens of different models and designs of toys to choose from.

The variety of figures, games, dolls and products is truly staggering. The advertising campaigns promoting those products are pretty staggering too.

But that doesn't mean much to a child, who simply gets pleasure from poring over the pages of the wish book for hours, trying to make up his mind what to ask for. Most youngsters have a grip on reality, too. They know that Santa isn't going to spring for everything in the book. Nor is he going to bring the most expensive of everything. So they begin about now trying to pare the list down to within reason.

They spend a lot of time pestering moms and dads about which should they ask for. Do they think Santa would bring this and that and that? Well, if not, how about this one and that one? It takes a lot of time to get a Christmas wish list just right.

And, if it isn't time for Christmas, the arrival of those "wish books" starts the ball rolling, and by the time December arrives, those kids, just like yesterday's youngsters, will be ready, willing and able to announce just precisely what they want the jolly man in the red suit to bring.

But, when they are grown, if they are like me, they might find that it's the time spent looking that was special...most of the toys have actually faded from memory!

24 HOUR REMODELING SALE

REEP'S FURNITURE AND INTERIORS

Reep's Furniture is about to undertake a major interior remodeling project. Over 20% of the showroom floor will be closed during this project and we have no place to store the inventory in this area. So we must liquidate a large portion of our inventory immediately. In order to do this, we are going to have the largest sale in the 35 year history of our store over a 24 hour period.

This is your opportunity to save on fine furniture from major manufacturers such as Drexel-Heritage, La-Z-Boy, Sealy, Dixie, Henry Link, Bernhardt, American of Martinsville, Hammary, Highland House of Hickory, Tell City, and many others.

Clardy News

By Mrs. Virgie Ballard
Several from Clardy enjoyed the revival at Pattonville Baptist Church last week.

Mrs. Lena Miller of Reno visited Mrs. Ruby Hudson of Jennings last week. They drove down to Biardstown to see the fields of sun flowers.

Mrs. Virgie Ballard visited Mrs. Margaret Crawford of Blossom last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Turner and son spent last Wednesday in Dallas where they enjoyed the zoo and other places of interest.

We had some men at Bethel Baptist Church Wednesday who have been in Victoria, Mexico where they had helped build a church there. We sent funds from the church here to help build this church. They built the church in four days and had services there on Sunday with 169 present and 50 more on the outside. On last Wednesday night they showed slides of this church and more beautiful scenes in Mexico where they had youth camps and rallies. This little church is beautiful and we at Bethel are glad we had a part in the building of it.

Mrs. Susan Dusenberry of Marvin is in a Paris hospital where she is having tests and pictures made and is to go to Dallas soon to have more tests and treatment. We all hope she will be better soon.

Mrs. Eugene Skidmore and Mrs. Virgie Ballard enjoyed lunch in Paris last Wednesday.

Elaine Ballard and Kenny Hancock had a slight car accident in the area last week. No one was hurt, but damaged their cars some.

Mrs. Alpha Russell took Mrs. Ruby Hudson out for dinner in Paris Friday in honor of her birthday, which occurred Saturday.

Several attended the four school reunion at the center here Saturday evening with a nice supper enjoyed and a business held after supper.

Norris, Amy and Kelli Ballard sold a big truckload of cattle to a Paris market Saturday.

Everyone here was shocked and saddened by her of Lois and Claudie Dudley's house burning Thursday. They are living in a house in the Pattonville area until they can get one built.

Amy Martin of Paris spent the weekend with Amy and Kelli Ballard. Mrs. Elaine took them to Paris Saturday evening for a swimming party.

Mrs. Josephine Bybee of Houston spent the weekend with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson and attended church at Bethel Sunday.

Andy Clement of Tyler visited his parents, Louise and Lewis Clement during the weekend.

Rodney Eatherly left Tuesday for South Carolina where he will be stationed in army service. We all wish Rodney the best of everything.

Road hands have regreaved and oiled parts of the 905 farm to market road above here. It is so much appreciated.

Mrs. Doris Ballard had word Sunday morning of the death of Lewis Way of Midland. He married the former Betty Jean Eudy, who is a niece of Mrs. Ballard.

Carl and Jenny Hatcher of Marvin were in Tyler Saturday to attend the funeral of a close friend.

Susie Rader and son Brannon and Kevin of Blue Springs and David Jackman of Balch Springs and Mr.

and Mrs. George Felks of Garland visited Era Rader the weekend.

Madge Skidmore is the proud owner of a new car.

Mrs. Nita Johnson of Paris and her son Casey spent Saturday visiting her parents, Madge and Clayton Skidmore.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gentry of Victoria are here visiting his brother and sisters and his mother, Mrs. Floyd Gentry of Paris. Madge Skidmore of Clardy is his sister.

Peggy Evans of Paris visited her brother, Lewis and Louise Clement Saturday.

Madge Skidmore and Judy Pomroy of Bethel Baptist Church and Rufus Merritt of Pattonville Baptist Church brought special music at their revival Thursday.

There will be a three day revival meeting at Shady Grove Methodist Church beginning the 12th through 14th of next week and on Sunday, the 15th, will be homecoming with a picnic dinner and singing in the afternoon. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Tim Davis of Dallas was home for the weekend with his folks, the Dave McCalmans and Mrs. Sam Skidmore.

Mrs. Glenda Hatcher of Marvin took Mrs. Susan Dusenberry to Paris Sunday evening for a therapy treatment. Mrs. Susan has been ill but is better now.

Karen and Jerry Smith and son Justin of Vidor spent the long weekend with her parents, Fred and Robbie Skidmore.

Mrs. Lois Stansell of Mt. Pleasant sent some beautiful flowers to the church ehre in honor of her husband, Ralph, who died recently. They both used to live here and everyone loves them and appreciates the flowers very much.

Nelda and Bobby Harrell of Jennings took the young people to Ramseur Baptist Church in Paris last Monday night for a youth rally and all had a marvelous time.

Sam Skidmore of Deport spent Saturday night and Sunday at his home here in Clardy.

A large crowd of Bethel Church at Clardy went to Paris after services to Sunday night and enjoyed coke floats, ice cream and drinks. Everyone young and old had a wonderful time.

Keeping Healthy

Preventing Heart Attacks

Conclusive evidence that reducing elevated blood cholesterol with a cholesterol-lowering drug and diet can prevent heart attacks and death from heart disease was presented recently by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI).
The study was the largest, longest and most closely monitored to date of cholesterol and its relationship to heart attacks. Directed and funded by the NHLBI at 12 U.S. medical centers, the Lipid Research Clinics Trial demonstrated that combining the cholesterol-lowering drug, cholestyramine (Questran), with a moderately low-fat diet, reduced heart attacks by almost 20%.
The NHLBI scientists estimate that if Americans would reduce their blood cholesterol levels by 25%, this would eventually lead to a 50% reduction in the incidence of coronary heart disease.
The study participants were 3,806 men between the ages of 35 and 59, but the NHLBI believes that the results are also applicable to both men and women of all ages.

Down to the Sea

Dieters looking for foods low in cholesterol and fats but rich in vitamins should look to seafoods, according to a Texas A&M Sea Grant report. The low fat content of fish and shellfish make them ideal for weight loss diets and those seeking to control blood cholesterol levels. Atherosclerosis, obesity and hypertension—all diet-related ailments—increase the risk of heart disease.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL

Now that schools everywhere are opening their doors to our children to teach them what they will need to know to carry them into adulthood, please, drive carefully and watch out for our children — they may not be watching out for you. Children don't always obey traffic rules, but please see that you do — especially in and around school zones. Give our kids the opportunity to grow and learn proper safety. Give our kids a brake — the future depends on it!
