Schools Begin Sept. 2, Caution Urged a sharp eye out in and around school ing to pass may not see them. fic lane while the bus is stopped.

Area schools begin on September 2, with the last minute rush for school supplies, clothing and registration often obscuring something crucially important...the fact that school buses will run once again.

Last year in the state of Texas, there were 1,228 accidents involving school buses, with seven fatalities and 323 non-fatal injuries.

Area drivers are cautined to keep zones and school buses in an effort to prevent these accidents.

An increasing problem in recent years has been drivers who either ignored or were unaware of the law restricting vehicles from passing a school bus while that bus is loading or unloading children.

Children often cross the street in front of the bus, and a car that's try-

75th YEAR No. 31

Children also frequently do not use good judgment, darting out to catch up with companions, or forgetting to check and see whether their path is clear.

The problem became so bad two years ago that the Texas Legislature considered requiring buses to have mechanical arms at the driver's window that would extend into the traf-

At present, Texas buses have flashing lights at the front and back of the vehicle when stopped, as well as signs noting that vehicles are required to stop for the buses. A problem exists, too, around school. Parents or people driving by must keep an extra-wary eye out for youngsters coming from behind parked cars or structures which might obscure them until it is too late to stop.

The problem doesn't exist only where small children are found, older childrne frequently have their minds anywhere but on crossing a street. Those old enough to drive sometimes fail to control their speed entering or leaving a high school parking lot, and should remember they are responsible, too

Even though most people are in a hurry, the life of a child can be sved by slowing down whenever a school zone is near.

This year, when school begins, let's everyone work to make it a safe and happy time, without accidents.

There are a number of ironies in the world...some very evident, some rather subtle...some not of great importance, but intersting none-the-less. How to account for some of our cultural changes eludes most people, even corrians.

Consider, if you wih, the subject of clothing. More specifically, the subject of clothing and it's relation to temperature.

Most people now are quite accustomed to air conditioning. They don't have to spend their nights trying to keep cool.

But think about this...back when people had to really work to keep cool by building sleeping proches, sprinkling down the sheets with water, putting in bay windows to try and catch the slightest breeze, people also wore layers and layers more clothing than they do now.

It's true. I can recall my grandmother telling about her sister crying all afternon because she was thrown from her sidesaddle and a neighbor man saw her ankles. The ankles, of course, had been encased in high button boots and heavy cotton stockings, but that didn't matter, he saw the SHAPE of her ankles!

Back before fans and water coolers, much less air conditioners, ladies enveloped themselves in long sleeves, long dresses, lots of petticoats, bonnets, stockings, and a cruel invention known as a corset which actually deformed women's rib cages during

Thursday, August 28, 1986

The Cunningham Community was doubly honored Sunday, August 17 when the Life Tabernacle Fellowship Hall was dedicated, and as a tribute to the community he loved, the personal library of the late Mr. F.E. McGahan was placed in the hall by his widow, Mrs. Carolyn McGahan, to be used by the community.

It has been named the "McGahan Memorial Room", the library also contains the personal library of the late Dr. T.W. Buford of Minter, which was willed to the McGahans upon his death

The funding of the memorial room was a gift of Dr. and Mrs. R.L. Tindel of Houston.

Mrs. Carolyn McGahan of Paris, widow of the late Mr. McGahan and daughter, Joyce Wolters of Deer Park, were special guests. Mrs. McGahan shared with the audience "What We are Grateful To the Cunningham Community for Doing For Us

Rev. John M. Bell of San Antonio was speaker for the dedication service. He is a Cunnigham native, a 1940 graduate of Cunningham High School, and a former student of the

Mr. McGahan was superintendent of Cunningham Schools for 15 years. He never allowed a student to accept defeat. His ideas and encouragment to instill in each student the desire to better themselves has left an indelible mark on each one. His motto, which was clearly visible as one entered the door of the memorial room was "Every Child on the Same Level". He lived that motto each day.

During his 56 years in the field of education Mr. McGahan was a teacher, an adminstrator, and a University lecturer. For the last 18 years of his life he directed the Northeast Texas Educational Services as his private business. This busines is still being carried on by Mrs. McGahan and daughter, Dave Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. McGahan coauthored 23 education publications dealing with approaches for helping educate children.

Men were only a shade behind them in layers, with long underwear, heavy slacks, undershirts, shirts, attachable cuffs and collars, long sleeves, vest and coats.

Even those who worked beneath the blazing Texas sun made few concessions to the heat...leaving off ties or petticoats to some extent was all. Now, when working in the summer sun is frequently a matter of choice instead of necessity, when tennis and swimming rank among favorite past times, we think nothing of removing all but the skimpiest layer of clothing. Even in air conditioning we seldom think of wearing long sleeves in the summer, and the undergarments of today would have sent a Victorian woman into a swoon of shock.

The more air conditioning became available, the fewer garments society has chosen to wear!

Can anyone in today's world truly imagine what trying to work in those cumbersome, bundlesome skirts must have been like? Can we recall what the heat without even and electric fan was like?

Gentelmen simply didn't go to church or social functions wihtou ties , and those churches and and co. meetin. alls were pretty stuffy buildings.

Now, even at social functions, summer means a relaxation of dress codes (loose enough by old standards) where slacks and sports shirts are frequently acceptable.

It is hard to understand why the world has changed in the manner it has. It's probably all part of a cycle so vast we aren't even aware of it...certainly dress ethics have shifted from the revealing to the extremely covered over the centuries.

One thing is clear, however...air conditioning or not, I for one am glad I don't have to go around clad from top of my head to the tip of my ying about someone seeing toe ... my an

Highlands And Whales Highlight Cr uise

By Nanalee Nichols

Sherbrooke Village is a page from the past...and one not dressed up with ice cream stands and souvenirs. In Nova Scotia, we wandered through the village streets, with charming houses in which people live, and workshops of boat builders, potters, weavers, small farm holders and general stores. The courthouse features a kerosene lantern chandelier that holds two dozen lanterns, the kitchen in one home has bubbling pots of lye soap and homemade jams.

Perhaps the most interesting thing of all was the sawmill, a waterpowered building with an alarming arrangement of pulleys, belts and gears which saws huge logs into boards, from which window frames and doors are built.

Late in the evening, bidding ducks, horses, and people goodbye on the shores of the village river, we wandered off to Antigonish, to have a seafood stew that would make the heart sing.

Next day, upon the advice of a very nice gentleman, Bernard Allard, we began our way up to Cape Breton Island to follow the Cabot Trail, a famous trail wandering beside the ocean, flanked by mountains on the other side.

All street and road signs were in French and English, and many people spoke French entirely.

The man we met who told us about the beauties of the Cabot Trail was Acadian French, and waxed enthusiastic about the joys of his native Nova Scotia, Communication wasn't difficult, and he explained what lobster pounds and fishing weirs were to us.

The stop signs read "Stop" at the top, and at the bottom "Arrett". Thomas zoomed right through the first one we say, saying "Stop Arrett, what's that mean?'

The breathtaking scenery along the Cabot Trail is made more interesting by the Scots names that abound. Settled by the Scots, probably because of the extremely strong resemblance of their native highlands, the names preceded by "Mc" are the majority.

At the lonely, isolated town of Cheticamp, we boarded a lobster boat along with other tourists to cruise seven or eight miles offshore in the hopes of seeing whales.

The boat's pilot said they had been out fourteen times so far that summer, and seen whales eleven of those times

Before the afternoon was over, they had been out fifteen times and still seen whales only eleven times.

The cruise was delightful, however, with a bald eagle making the day worthwhile. Sea caves and lighthouses decorated the cliffs, and the boat's pilot delighted the youngsters on board by teaching them to run the kids not to touch anything, and strode to the back of the boat for a moment. Unfortunately, the kids didn't listen, and touched something, throwing the bow, laughing and shaking his head. on his youthful crew!

higher into mountains, and the fog became thicker and thicker. Soon, the magnificent vistas were obscured by the thick blanket, but we stopped to photograph another eagle, and began a descent into a valley more beautiful than anything so far.

The sun began to keep out as it set, and the Bras 'd Or Lake glimmered in golden light while yachts in bright colors bobbed on the surface.

Tired out, we found a small motel for the night and settled in for a good night's sleep. Unfortunately, our next door neighbors thought otherwise, and at two in the morning we were awakened by banging, yelling and fussing!

The next morning began another day, however, and we headed on for the ferry landing to take us to Prince Edward Island.

Barber - Lollar Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Laura Barker and Kenny Lolla, both of Paris, were married in a formal double-ring ceremony on August 2, at 2 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church in Paris with Rev. Tom Calk officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nina Barber and Harold Barber, both of Paris, and the granddaughter of Jim Barber of Blossom and Ruth Vaughan of Paris.

The bridgegroom is the son of Ken Lollar of Balch Spring. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lollar of Paris.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a Victorian style gown of white crepe overlaid with chiffon, trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. The full chiffon sleeves gathered softly at the wrist and had wide lace cuffs which were appliqued with lace and pearls. The full skirt, accented at the waist with matching fabric bow, flowed into a chapel-length train with a deep ruffle encircling the hemline of the train and skirt. The bride's finger-tip veiling flowed from a lace bandeau trimmed with seed pearls.

She carried a formal cascade of white silk carnations and light blue silk roses accented with small silk butterflies trimmed with lace and seed pearls and floor-length blue and white ribbons.

The bride is a graduate of Prairiland High School and attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie and Paris Junior College. She is employed at Eckerd Drugs

The bridegroom attended Paris High School and is employed at Earth Grains, Inc.

They plan on making their home in Paris.

Kenny Lollar was host for a dinner Friday, August 1 at Bonanza Steak House following the wedding rehersal. Sixteen guests attended.

Chevrolet

The Chevrolet Dealership Management Academy offered by Chevrolet's Sales Education and Training Department, Warren, Michigan, has graduated its 109th class.

The graduates included Joe W. Sandlin, Jr., of Sandlin Motors, Inc. in Mt. Pleasant, Texas.

The Academy, founded in 1938, trains Dealers' sons, daughters, and selected managers and has graduated more than 5,000 students from across the United States and more than 30 countries.

"The basic curriculum of the four-week course is continually upgraded and includes training in sales and marketing techniques, customer service, labor relations, and the latest in contemporary management systems," according to Robert D. Burger, Chevrolet general manager and General Motors vice president. "Our dealers believe strongly in the Academy because many of Chevrolet's top dealers and sales management personnel are graduates."

Students attend classes at the Chevrolet Merchandising and Management Center, participating in discussions with Chevrolet and GM executives, as well as dealers and management consultants.

Classroom experiences are complemented with field trips to various operations within the adjacent GM technical center and other GM installations. In addition to these experiences, students agree that one of the highlights of the Academy is the opportunity to exchange ideas with their peers.
