By Thomas R. Nichols

The ink was hardly dry on last week's paper when a very special person to me popped the question, "Well, have you learned how to cook beans yet?" Not wanting this person to loose any respect for me, I hurriedly responded, "Oh, I know how to cook beans! It's just that the pot wasn't seasoned properly!"

Last, Saturday morning at the Club meeting, I asked the of-Kiwa ficers to pose for a picture, and I thought I heard someone say 'I bet he can't take pictures, he can't even cook beans!'

A couple of hours later that same day, Richard Nance and myself sat with a couple of chicken fried steaks preparing ourselves for the hay meadow at a local business, when this outstanding gentleman in the community walked up, looked me right in the eye and said, "It's a shame to ruin a good pot of beans!" The only reply I could muster was, "Yes, it really is but you know, I think that armadillo did eat some of those beans!"

His reply was, "He probably did. I was up that way last week, and I heard an armadillo go rattling by, I thought he had been eating marbles, but I bet it was those beans!'

I knew by then my reputation was in the balance.

My long-standing friend, Dicky King, said the other night that his five-year old daughter didn't want to go to school anymore after only three days of exposure to that new way of life. I have decided it's not the school she doesn't like, it's because she is ashamed of Daddy Dicky and Uncle

Prairiland Loses To North Lamar In 21-20 Thriller

By Thomas Nichols

When the Prairiland Patriots and the North Lamar Panthers meet each year, it's not just a football game, but a season thriller. Last Friday night was no exception at Pattonville, Texas. The Panthers compiled 21 points and the Patriots 20, in a game packed with excitement.

The Patriots wasted no time invading the Panther's endzone with Steven Johnston receiving the honors after a 35-yard spring for the first touchdown of the night. Craig Ladd couldn't get the ball down in time for the PAT kick and was held short on an attempted run. The score was six to zip for the Patriots with seven minutes and fifty-one seconds still on the clock in the first quarter.

Big Rusty Anderson, Rodney Jones and Joseph Whelchel were unyielding to the Panther running attack. Late in the first quarter, however, with one minute and eighteen seconds left, a face mask penalty on the Patriots sent the Panthers to the Patriot's 16-yard line.

Panther Terry Anderson managed to escape to the Patriot six yard line before big Eric Foster squelched his effort. Unfortunately for the Patriots and their fans, two plays later the Panthers had tied the game with a touchdown of their own. The PAT was good and the Patriots trailed by one point.

The Patriots started off with excellent field position after a 15-yard penalty was assessed against the Panthers for unsportsmanship conduct. They controlled the ball from their own 49-yard line. Two short runs, one incomplete pass and a holding penalty for the Patriots left them in what seemed a most undesirable situation.

Deep in their own territory with a third down and 20-yards for a first down, the Patriot coaching staff called for a quick kick from play formation. That play could have been one of the most important calls of the night.

The Panthers claimed the pig on their own three yard line. The Panthers offense held together however and the Patriot defense seemed to relax somewhat, and five first downs later, the Panthers were parked on the Patriot 8-yard line.

Panther quarterback Chad Fleming raced across the Patriot goal line for the go-ahead touchdown. A short toss from Chad Fleming to Bryan Mabry left the Patriots with just over three minutes on the clock and nine points behind.

The Patriots matched from their own ten yard line to within striking distance on the Panther twenty yard line on the fine running of Mike Ray, Craig Ladd, Jeff Fendley and Steven Johnston; but the old clock wasn't patient and the half ended fifteen to six in favor of the Panthers.

Both teams battled back and forth for some advantage without much s, until late in the third quarte

With the help of a penalty, the Panthers huddled on the Patriot 21-yard line. The next play, quarterback Chad Fleming hit Steve Davis for six more points. The PAT failed, though, and the Panthers led by fifteen points.

It didn't look good for the Patriots at that point, but the defense came alive and the Panthers were finished as far as scoring the rest of the night.

Patriot quarterback Craig Ladd raced all over the field to set up Steven Johnston's touchdown run from deep in Panther territory. Johnston wasn't finished however. The next play, he raced across the goal line for the two point conversion.

Trailing by seven points and three minutes seventeen seconds to play in the game. The Patriots tried an onside kick, but failed.

The Patriot defense forced the Panthers to cough up the ball, and the Patriots had less than one minute to make a touchdown and conversion.

Craig Ladd and Steven Johnston managed to make the trip for the touchdown with 46-seconds to spare. With a score of 21 to 20, the Patriots elected to go for the win with a two point conversion instead of the extra point kick, but Lady Luck wasn't with the Patriots on that play.

With 39 seconds left to play, the Panthers didn't take anymore chances with a fired up Patriot team. Quarterback Toby Deupree simply backed up five yards two times, fell on the ball and let the clock run out.

Next week the Patriots face Cooper at Pattonville at 8 p.m.

Thomas, whom thousands of people have read in the newspaper, how the bumbling fools can't even cook beans! Folks, I plead our case. Those beans were as black as a tractor tire, but not burned. The cast iron pot, our wives sent us to Oklahoma with, had not been used in quite some time. Dicky and myself cleaned the thing

This woman I married, put a little cooking oil in it, put it on the kitchen range for fifteen minutes, and sent us packing off to Oklahoma with two little kids, whom I might add, need to be looked after, to cook a nice pot of beans for supper.

Our first mistake was when we stopped over at Fulbright on our way to Oklahoma, and didn't stay for a while longer. Dicky's mom was cooking beans that very afternoon!

If we had just stayed around there until her beans were cooked off, scooped up enough for our supper, poured them in our pot, we would be heroes today instead of trying to defend our reputation.

The next time, this is what we intend to do. Now, we think we can cook beans, but why take a chance, when with my mom's or Dicky's mom's beans will have a sure thing.
