

Nichols
Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

It looked like it was going to be "one of those weeks".

I had already plunked down in front of my terminal three times without inspiration.

Than Jimmie Sparks of Deport came in and handed me something he thought might be of interest. It was.

What Jimmie handed me was a tabloid style newspaper published on April 7, 1977. It was called a "Cooper Dam Special".

It chronicled the conception of Cooper lake, and mentioned that the original bill was signed by Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1955. The tabloid said that "the lake seems no closer to being constructed than in the late '50's, yet the need is much greater now. (remember this was nearly 14 years ago).

It ran an editorial written in 1961 and commented that "it could be written today".

It mentioned that in 1957 Lyndon B. Johnson, then a senator, had informed the Cooper Review that the $275,000 for construction and $225,000 needed for planning of the Cooper Dam and Reservoir had been passed in the Senate, and that it would go before a conference committee to adjust difference between Senate and House versions.

Sometime later the House and Senate announced that the money was "Almost Assured".

Twenty years after that, this special tabloid reprint article after article, as support for the Cooper Lake project was boosted, received blows, and continued to be kicked around in Washington like a football.

In 1961 it was announced that "The Cooper Dam is NOT shelved".

Reprinted in the tabloid was an article published in 1968 from Congressman Wright Patman who announced that the contracts necessary for the further development of the Cooper Reservoir project had been cleared. He made available the entire contents of the letter from the Army Corp of Engineers he had received that stated this.

By 1970 it was announced that only $500,000 had been appropriated but the total cost of the project was estimated at 30,033,000!

In 71 an injunction was brought against the project.

In 1976 the water districts were "bargaining" and the cost was set at $63,710,000!

A former Cooper resident tells me that during 1977, when the tabloid came out, drinking water had to be obtained in Cooper from a big tank truck parked downtown. Every day people had to go down and fill up containers with cooking and drinking water because the tap water was only fit for laundry, etc. Another words, there was a real need for this lake in Cooper.

Within the past few days the Cooper Lake project was finished, and special ceremonies were held. Dignitaries from all over attended the official "closing" of the valve to begin the lake filling process. The project took only a little less than 36 years! The cost...$141,000,000!

Are you beginning to get the picture here?

What possible excuse can there be for a project being handled for that length of time?

How can Congress, the Corps of Engineers and the people involved in this project possible justify what it took to make a simple lake a reality?

We all hear about the colossal amount of mis- management on various government projects...such as $600 toilet seats for the air force and high priced hammers just like those at discount stores. But here, within a few miles of us, is an even greater, more classic example.

It really makes you wonder, doesn't it?

Folks...it's time we started voting...and trying to make a change. It's time we began taking a real interest in what our government was doing and began to work towards some type of sanity in government!

Familiar Faces

By Denise Wood

There are people in this world who have to be the strongest in the worst tragedies; who are on call twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year, and who give an unlimited amount of love and support to family and friends.

James Wood and James Grant have served as shining examples of this type of man.

James Grant has been Deport's funeral director since the days when his father turned the business over to him.

James Wood has been a funeral director for the last twenty eight years. The two have built a successful and respected business together.

More than that, they have dedicated their lives to helping and caring families during difficult, grief stricken times.

James Wood joined with Grant twenty years ago.

The secret to their success has been their caring philosophy. Each and every family is treated in the same way, no matter who they are.

This town and the surrounding area has depended upon the two James for advice, financial and emotional support and to take part in almost every activity the community holds.

They are people to be trusted, people to be depended upon and people how lend dignity to a profession that very few can follow.

Patriots JV Back On Track

By Marcus Topliff

The Patriots traveled to Leonard for their fourth game of the season. The game began with a bang as the Leonard Tigers kicked off to Paul Jackson to start the game. Paul took the ball on the Patriot 25-yard line and then, like a rabbit with a back of hounds in full chase, took off for the Tiger endzone. The Tigers managed to stop Jackson five yards shy of the goal line. Two plays later, Chad Stone carried the ball in for the first score. The extra attempt failed and the score stood at 6-0.

Leonard took the Prairiland kick off for their first possession of the game and began to march upfield.

Nine plays later, the Tigers scored and successfully kicked the extra point to bring the score to 7-6.

Early in the second quarter the Patriots, with Jason Whitley and Stephen Swaim taking turns carrying the ball, finally made it to within six inches of the goal. Chad Stone took the handoff from Paul Jackson and ran for the Patriots' second touchdown. The extra point attempt failed again and the score stood at 12-7.

The Tigers fumbled away their next possession and Prairiland started to move again. This time Stephen Swaim ran interference for Jason Whitley, who ran for a touchdown from 15 yards out. Chad Stone ran the two point conversion and Prairiland led 20-7.

The Tigers ended what looked like a rout by scoring two quick touchdowns, but failing to score on either extra point attempt. The first half ended with a score of 20-19.

The only score in the second half came after a 13-down series by the Patriots. Jason Whitley took the ball in from five yards out on a hand-off from Paul Jackson. Chad Stone then ran off the two point conversion. The score was 28-19 which held for the rest of the game.

Patriots Lose 42-12 Against Charged-Up Chargers

The Prairiland Patriots Football team were dealt a 42-12 loss by Dallas Christian as they made the long trek to the big city Friday night ending their unbeaten record for this year.

The Dallas Christian Chargers showed off an impressive passing and running attack, and their quarterback, Kyle Wade was 15 of 21 and 230 yards and four touchdowns.

James Freelen and Jackie Crawford were pretty well shut down. This certainly had something to do with the fact that the Linebacker Coach for the Chargers happens to be Isaiah Robertson, a former all-pro linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams!

James Freelen had 88 yards to his credit with 21 carries. His longest carry of the evening was a 11 yard run for the first Pat touchdown.

Chad Whitley, quarterbacking for the patriots, obtained 95 passing yards on 7 out of 16 completions. Cody Bowen scooped in one of those passes for the second Patriot score of the night.

The Patriots will have a 3-1 season record going into this Friday night's game against Chisum.

Junior High Patriots Tie Panthers, 12-12

The Junior High Patriots kicked off to North Lamar in last Tuesday night's game. The Panthers scored early in the first quarter, despite the efforts of Patriot Cory May.

A pass from Zachary Allen to Todd James gave Prairiland a first down. The Patriots failed to move the ball downfield, so the Panthers took over the ball on the Patriot 34-yard line. After a penalty, the Panthers were forced to punt on a fourth down.

Early in the second quarter, Daniel Cato took it in for a touchdown. The attempt at an extra point failed, leaving the score 6-6.

With 6:00 remaining in the half, the Patriots took over the ball on the 50-yard line and by third down, they had moved it to the 30-yard line. A strong Panther defense made the Pats fight for their next touchdown. The extra point was unsuccessful and the score stood at 12-6, Patriots.

With 1:26 left in the first half, the Patriots kicked off to the Panthers with Zachary Allen tackling a Panther on the 28-yard line. After another pass attempt, the clock ran out.

The third quarter began with the Panthers kicking off to the Patriots. They were forced to punt on a fourth down. Panthers downed it on the 48-yard line. With 2:27 left in the quarter, Adam Walker stopped a Panther drive and with :04 left the Panthers scored tying the game 12-12.

The fourth quarter was a defensive battle with Zachary Allen moving the ball downfield for a gain of 10 yards. A reverse play handoff to Daniel Cto picked up 7 yards and a fourth down pass attempt to Daniel Cato was unsuccessful. The Panthers had the ball with :35 left in the game when Jeremy Day stopped a Panther drive, ending the game in a tie.

Lady Pats Rip Mineola In 2

The Prairiland Lady Patriots picked up their first district win of the 1991 season at home Tuesday night, making short order of the Mineola Lady Jackets in a 15-5, 15-1 contest. Prairiland improved their season record to 12-5.

While the Lady Pats quietly did the defensive job, the offense rolled over the Lady Jackets, whose only lead was erased early in the first game by a Jan Scudder kill off the assist from Katie Mowery. Scudder would notch eight kills on the night to lead the game.

After Scudder's shot put the Lady Pats on top in game one, Mineola countered with a return that fell untouched in the Prairiland defense to tie the game at 5-5.

Scudder and Laura Hays quickly broke the tie, adding another kill and two points for the 8-5 lead.

Dana Monday opened game two with six straight serves, highlighted by two kills from Scudder and an ace from Monday for the 6-0 advantage.

Kristy Cantrell served up two aces for the 10-1 lead. Miscues from Mineola gave the Lady Pats the 13-1 lead before Georjeana Oats added a service ace and Hays got a kill off the Cantrell assist for the 15-1 win.

In sub-varsity action, the Lady Pats freshmen pulled out a 15-1, 12-15, 15-9 win while the Lady Jackets edged the JV 15-11, 15-13.

Growing Out Lightweight Calves Can Add Profit To Cow-Calf Business

By Herb Brevard

Selling the calf crop for a profit is the ultimate goal of every cow-calf producer, but weaning the calves and taking them to market does not guarantee a profit, says Dr. Randall Grooms, livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Even with the good prices being received for calves today, many calves will not pay the cost of maintaining the mother cow," said Dr. Grooms. To make the cow herd more efficient, the wise producer will cull the poor milking, late calving mothers of lightweight calves.

"Cow-calf producers still have a chance to make a profit from these lightweight calves if they will keep these calves and add another 300 pounds to their weight," Groom said. "Even if a producer can sell a calf for $300 to $400, there is a real profit in taking that calf to a feedlot weight of 650 or 750 pounds.

Many producers have designed feeding programs or small grain winter pastures that can put the gain on these lightweight calves for 40 to 45 cents per pound, Grooms said.

To make the plan work, Grooms has several tips for maintaining these lightweight calves:

Have calves on a good plane of nutrition at weaning.

Give recommended inoculations for disease prevention prior to weaning.

Use a growth promoting implant. Provide adequate nutrition to gain 1 1/4 to 2 pounds per day per head.

"The cow-calf producer deserves a larger profit and has earned the opportunity for such a profit if he only takes advantage of the current situation," Grooms said.

DISTRICT CHOIR TRYOUTS were held Saturday, September 21 at PJC. Michele Bramlett and Eric St. John, students at Prairiland High School, auditioned at the try-outs. Michelle received fifth chair in Alto I section while Eric received third chair in Bass II section. Both students will advance to regional choir competition in October in Kilgore. (Staff Photo)

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Read Over-the-Counter Labels

Americans have come to rely on the local drug store for the temporary relief of everything from hayfever to ingrown toenails. It is convenient and more economical than running to the doctor for every little thing. There's so many over-the-counter drugs available that the temptation to "doctor ourselves" sometimes overcomes common sense.

Over-the-counter remedies always have specific warnings printed on their labels, and they should be read. If they're not, more serious problems could result. For example, the label on a bottle of common cold relief tablets contain the following warning:

Do not take if you have high blood pressure, thyroid disease, diabetes, asthma, glaucoma, emphysema, chronic pulmonary disease, shortness of breath, difficulty in breathing, or difficulty in urination due to enlargement of the prostate gland, unless directed by a physician.

That covers quite a range of existing problems that are often associated with older people. If you have any of those problems, why add to them? Just because a drug is sold without a prescription doesn't mean that it's safe for everyone.

Always take the time to read the labels on over-the-counter drugs. And if you can't (because the lettering is usually so small as to be unreadable), ask the pharmacist to read it for you. Better still, check with your doctor before you even consider buying them.

Plan Now to Enjoy Fall in Your Garden

The leaves are changing colors, the air is getting cold and crisp and the excitement of a new season is in the air. Fall is the perfect time to enjoy your lawn or garden, says the American Association of Nurserymen (AAN).

There are a variety of reasons to plant in the fall. Many gardeners like to take advantage of the cooler weather and more comfortable temperatures to exercise that last bit of creativity before the chill of winter sets in.

You can prepare for fall planting by laying the groundwork in late summer, recommends AAN. Remove plants which are no longer producing or fruiting. If they are left in the garden, they continue to take up water and nutrients that could be utilized by your upcoming fall crops.

Remember to put all of your pullings through a shredder to remove organic matter or simply break them into smaller pieces yourself. This can be the start of a healthy compost or mulch. Mulching is one of the best ways to protect your fall plants for the winter that lies ahead.

Fall can be a great time for planting shrubs, trees, bulbs and fall-flowering plants, thanks in part to the soil's enhanced ability to retain moisture.

If you're not sure what types of plants you should use for fall, you might consider a fall vegetable garden or another "fast crop." Talk to the professionals at your local garden center about a fall garden well-suited to your temperature and climatic conditions during the autumn season.

Good choices for many areas include bush bean, beet, broccoli, spinach and turnips. Think in terms of planting hardy plants that don't need a lot of care. Other winners for a fall garden, suggests AAN, include hollies, conifers, deciduous plants, azaleas, rhododendron and several species of juniper.

Even though fall brings cooler temperatures, you should continue to water your plants through the season in the absence of rain. In fact, you may need to water year-round, as long as the ground is not frozen.

Part of fall gardening includes looking ahead to winter and thinking of ways to protect your garden from frigid temperatures and drying winds. One tried-and-true way of protecting your sensitive plants is to use garden windbreaks.

To protect your plants, place three or four stakes around the plants and wrap burlap, old sheets, old blankets or dark-colored plastic around them. This special covering provides protection from early frost and freeze damage, and it also helps ward off that extreme winter cold and wind.

If your outdoor activities in fall usually consist of barbecues and touch football games, why not add something new to the agenda? As many gardeners can attest, fall planting is a rich and rewarding way to enjoy one final burst of colorful growth before the chill of winter sets in.

Treasure Your Time!
Have A Good Weekend
