All I wanted was a bath. Not one of those quick, just-to-get-me-clean baths, but what John Steinback referred to as a "deep dish set-down bath" in Cannery Row.

You know, one of those long, hot soaks that retrieve the soul from where ever it has retreated and makes the trials and tribulations of the day disappear...that's what I was in dire need of.

It was a Wednesday night. Finally, after working until eleven at night the day before, after running up and down the road to get in a parade, after delivering all the papers...bath time!

We possess a six foot long, three foot deep bathtub. I had run the water as hot as I could stand it, dumped in some good-smelling bath salts and was all ready to enjoy myself. Words can't explain how I was looking forward to that peaceful soak.

Of course, just as I was ready to immerse myself the phone rang. Draped in my bathrobe I padded to the shrilling instrument.

After a lengthy phone call I hurried back to the tub. It was to my intense disappointment that I discovered my water had cooled down to lukewarm.

Still, I rolled up the bath towel behind my head and lay back to enjoy a quick chapter in my current book. No sooner had I found my place than the towel slipped loose and sank into the tub!

That was irritating enough, but in the process of wringing out the towel I dropped my book on the floor just out of reach!

The prospect of that soul satisfying, temper-mending bath was rapidly retreating.

I dispensed with the idea of reading and relaxing and decided to get right down to actually getting clean. No soap. Literally there was no soap!

After dripping across the floor and finding a new bar of soap I sank once more into water that had now gone from lukewarm to downright chilly.

Weariness in no way relieved, it seemed that was supposed to be a cherished, peaceful time had turned into a total fiasco.

The worst was yet to come, though.

You see, I keep the cat's emergency litter box in the bathroom by the tub. Usually they ask to go out. Lizzie the calico cat appeared at the door and asked rather urgently to be let out. Muttering and hurrying I finished rinsing my hair.

Apparently Lizzie couldn't wait, though. Before I could jump out of the tub and let her out the back door she had used the litter box. Let's just say it didn't improve the atmosphere!

All I wanted was a bath. Was that just too much to ask?

1991 Sales Tax Rebates To Texas Cities And Counties Reach Record Total

"Sales tax rebates to Texas cities and counties totaled a record $1.4 billion in 1991, a 10% increase over the $1.2 billion collected last year," State Comptroller John Sharp said today.

"In 1968 when 280 Texas cities first started collecting a local sales tax, they received a total of $48 million in rebates for the year," Sharp said.

"Likewise, in 1988 when 81 Texas counties first began collecting the sales tax, they received $70 million in rebates for the year," Sharp said.

Sharp made the comparisons in announcing the December sales tax rebates made by his office to nearly 1,000 Texas cities and counties.

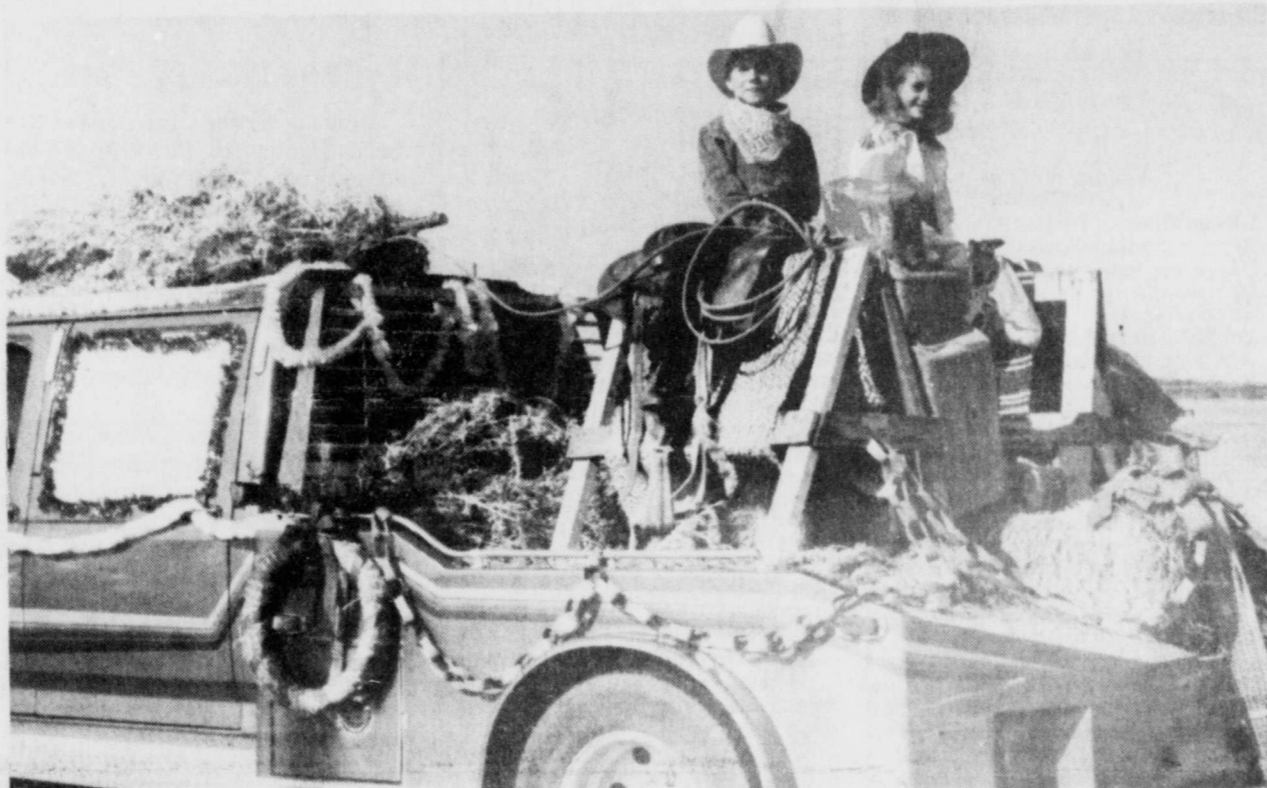

December's payments to 883 Texas cities totaled $80.2 million for year-end total of $1.2 billion, compared to 1990's 12-month total of $1.1 billion, or a 9% increase.

Locally, Blossom received $864.42 for a 14.57% increase over the 1990 payments to date. Deport received $505.58 for a 2.42% decrease and Paris received $152,235.41 for a 5.61% decrease.

Bogata received $907.01 for a 6.35% increase, Clarksville received $12,313.71 for a 1.20% increase and Detroit received no payment for this period.

Mt. Pleasant received $82,048.26 for a 10.20% increase and Talco received $846.38 for a 2.66% increase.

On November 21, just before Thanksgiving, we published a factual report on the impact of AIDS in our community. We prefer to publish good news, but we felt a duty to call attention to the bad news about AIDS in our hometown.

We felt that if this public service article saved a single life, it would have been a worthwhile effort.

The edition sold out rapidly. We are now informed that upwards of 30 of our neighbors sought testing following our publication.

We can all pray that their tests were "HIV Negative". In any case, we are heartened to think we may have helped so many to reexamine their behavior. We hope some have decided to abstain from past conduct, and that many more may have decided to "be careful".

Deport City Council Holds Regular Meeting

The Deport City Council met in regular session Monday night, December 9.

Mayor Charles Foster was unable to attend the meeting, and Mayor Protem Nancy Gresham conducted the meeting.

Minutes and financial reports were approved, along with bills to be paid. The council agreed to put rock on the Milton-Minter road to Gary Parks' house. Parks and Rodger Allen proposed to pay 1/3 of the cost each and the City would pay the remaining 1/3 of the cost.

The council also approved the purchase of a sump pump.

After an Executive Session, the meeting was adjourned.

Peggy Noble Seeks County Tax Office Post

Peggy Noble has announced her intention to run for the office of Lamar County Tax Assessor-Collector in the March, 1992 primary.

Mrs. Noble has worked at the Lamar County Courthouse for the last two years, including the past 13 months in the tax assessor's office. She is also now a part time employee in the Lamar County Treasurer's office.

Mrs. Noble said she feels there are many areas in the tax office that can be improved upon, and feels that with her business experience, combined with her experience in the tax office, she can bring many good qualities to the office.

Mrs. Noble and her husband, Jimmy, are the owners of Noble True Value Hardware in Paris, where they have been in business since 1982.

The Nobles have one son, Jeffrey, a recent graduate of Texas Tech University, and a daughter, Stephanie, a senior at Paris High School.

Mrs. Noble is the daughter of Jack and Pauline Chambliss of Paris and the daughter-in-law of James and Helen Noble of Winnsboro, formerly of Blossom. She and her family are active members of Calvary United Methodist Church.

Although most Americans welcome the approaching holiday season as a time to enjoy family and friends, people who have experienced a death in the past year may dread the coming of what used to be a joyous time. In fact, with over two million deaths a year, the number of people with these feelings can be significant.

Grief counselors, knowing how difficult the holidays can be, offer a number of suggestions for the newly bereaved. These include planning ahead and deciding what traditions to keep and which ones to change before the actual holiday arrives. Changing at least some traditions is a good idea so the absence of a loved one is not as painful.

They also suggest family members schedule some time together to talk about the people who have enriched their lives, including those who have died recently and those in the past.

During the past years, our funeral homes have been called upon by our friends in their hour of need. We, and their other friends were desperately needed at that time. During this holiday season, we are once again needed by our friends. Call a friend today who has had a loss and encourage them to let you be a part of their holiday.

Lady Pats Fall To Cooper, Take Last Round Loss In Tournament

The Lady Patriots couldn't hold their early game lead against the Cooper Bulldoggets on December 3, and were beaten 52-51.

With a big quarter by Jan Scudder, the Pats had the Bulldoggets down 14-0 before their first score. The first quarter ended 17-4.

As play resumed, Mandy Babb responded with 5 crucial points. Surprising everyone, Cooper turned their play around and ended up on top at the midpoint, 28-24.

Cooper held their lead at 5, until the Patriots Scudder and Melissa Miller headed a charge that regained their lead.

In the fourth quarter, Babb and Miller again scored, but the Cooper squad powered back at the buzzer to tie the contest 49 all. This keyed overtime, and the now fired up Bulldoggets were ready to play. Babb showed her true colors as she performed at both ends of the court. This wasn't enough as Cooper took charge and won an exciting game, 51-50.

On December 5, the Lady Patriots advanced to the second game of the McDonald's Shootout, with their win against the Denison Lady Jackets.

The first quarter of play ended 12-7, with the Lady Patriots on top.

Jan Scudder and Laura Hayes showed their defensive intensity to force Denison to turn the ball over to the Lady Pats for 9 consecutive points. This keyed freshman Mandy Babb's three point play that ended the half, 29-15.

As play resumed, Dana Monday and Katie Mowery hit to increase their lead to 19 points.

The last stanza of play, the Pats held their impressive lead and won the game 56-45. Mandy Babb and Jan Scudder led the Pats with double digits.

Advancing to the semi-finals of the Shootout on Friday, the Lady Pats beat the Hugo Lady Buffaloes, 51-48.

When the game began, the Lady Pats jumped out with a large marginal lead. Jan Scudder, Melissa Miller and Dana Monday all contributed, but the Lady Buffaloes fought hard to end the first quarter 18-12, Pats.

In the second, the Pats couldn't seem to score, giving the Lady Buffs the lead 27-26. Then, in the third, Katie Mowery and Scudder fulfilled their desperate attempt to regain the lead. Georjeana Oats hit five consecutive free throws and increased the Lady Pats lead to 39-32.

In the last portion of the game, the Lady Buffs thought the Pats led, but not enough to take the lead, and the game ended 51-48.

The Lady Pats couldn't hold onto the tournament championship game, giving way to Sherman, 40-36 on Saturday night.

The first half went smoothly as Jan Scudder went to the hole vigorously. The Sherman Bearcats managed to stay close to the Pats beginning lead.

The Lady Bearcats hit the floor hard the second half to give themselves the advantage many times. Again Scudder showed impossibly offensive efforts. The Pats gave up more points to the Lady Bearcats and then a pair of free throws which cushioned their lead and helped them defeat the Lady Patriots, 40-36. Jan Scudder led with an awesome 22 points in the game.

Patriots Eliminated From Tourney, JV Whips Cooper Bulldogs

By David Singleton

The Prairiland Patriots found the going tough in their first game of the North Lamar Tournament last weekend. The Pats drew the North Lamar Panthers, who sported the best 4A team they have had in several years.

The Panthers opened with a three-pointer, but Wes Rhoades countered with a bucket inside to make the score 3-2. This was the closest the Pats ever got, as the Panthers opened a 10-2 lead at the 4:00 mark. David Singleton answered with six points from the post position, but North Lamar larger quicker squad, closed the quarter with a 19-8 lead.

The Pats managed only six points in the second quarter as the Panthers used a fast break to score 16. The half closed with North Lamar clearly in control, 35-14.

Jimmy Little's free throw brought the Pats to 35-17 at the 6:30 mark of the third quarter. Both teams traded buckets and Toby Dockray's trey pulled the Patriots to within 19, 45-26. But the Panthers took advantage of Patriot turnovers, and the quarter closed 55-30, North Lamar. The fourth quarter saw more of the same, and the Panthers rained victorious 77-46. The loss sent the Patriots to the consolation bracket to face Commerce on Friday. Wesley Rhoades led all Patriot scorers with 15.

In the second round, the Patriots opened strong against Commerce with buckets by Dockray, Rhoades and Justin Gordon. Swede Ladd and David Singleton also connected giving the Pats a 13-12 first quarter lead.

But the second quarter saw a scoring surge by the Tiger guards and Commerce captured a 32-23 halftime lead.

Wes Rhoades opened the third quarter with a short jumper, but the Tigers answered to make the score 34-25. Gordon connected with a trey pulling the Pats to within six, but that was as close as the Patriots could come. The third quarter ended 50-38 Commerce.

The fourth quarter found the Pats forcing to press to get the ball. Commerce responded with a good showing at the free throw line. And though the Patriots closed to 71-60 with 2:10 left, they could not gain any ground. The final score was 79-62 in favor of the Tigers, and at the same time the Pats were eliminated from tournament competition. Gordon and Rhodes scored 15 each and Ladd added 10. The Patriot JV began what proved to be a busy week with their first win of the young season. It came at the expense of the Cooper Bulldogs Tuesday night. The Pats opened a quick 7-0 before the Bulldogs managed a two point jumper inside. The quarter ended with a David Singleton layup and a Wesley Rhoades' free throw, making the score 10-3.

Swede Ladd lofted a three pointer to put the Pats up 13-3 with 6:30 left in the second quarter. Both teams exchanged buckets until Rhoades laid up two in a row off the glass to post a 21-15 Prairiland lead with 1:30 left. Cooper followed with a trey, but Jimmy Little closed the half with a ten foot jumper, making the score 23-18.

The third quarter was marked with strong post position play as Rhoades and Singleton combined for 11 points inside. The quarter mercifully ended for the Bulldogs with the Pats clearly in control 40-24.

The contest was never again in serious doubt, and the Patriots left victorious 53-40. Wesley Rhoades led the Patriots with 13 points, followed by Singleton with 12.

How to Brighten Your Holidays. . .

Safely

The welcoming glow of holiday lights in and around your home helps set the mood this season. To keep that mood from being spoiled by an accident, Texas-New Mexico Power Company offers this safety advice.

- Don't use 120-volt lighting on a metal tree.
- Never place electric lights on a dry, brittle tree.
- When hanging outdoor lights and decorations, use care with ladders or anything else that can come into contact with a power line.

For more information about electrical safety throughout the year, call or visit your local office and ask for the free brochure, "Straight Talk About Electrical Safety."

Patriot Ninth Grade Trounces NL Panthers, Yellowjackets

By Marcus Topliff
Prairiland played an unscheduled game Saturday against the North Lamar Panthers. The Patriots stayed at home, but invited NL to drop by for a friendly game. Someone forgot to tell the ninth grade boys, though, as they trounced the Panthers.

In the first quarter, Gearl Keys felt it necessary to trim the Panthers claws early by making a 3-pointer. Whitley didn't want Keys to have all the fun, so he scored two baskets and a foul shot to score 5 of the first 10 quarter points. The Panthers, though wounded, were scoring point for point. The first quarter ended 10-9.

The second quarter looked like a slug-fest as first the Panthers and then Prairiland fought their way down court and into scoring range, constantly battling for position. Finch did some fine rebounding and scored 6 points while doing it. The Panthers were just as determined as the Patriots. Each time Prairiland scored, the Panthers were right there basket for basket. The fouling under the net was rough and tumble, sometimes looking more like a wrestling match than a basketball game. The half ended at 24.

In the third quarter, Jackson and Gilbert were hitting 50% of their foul shots for a total of 3 points. Whitley scored 2 necessary baskets and Keys and Gilbert each got a basket to hold a slim lead of four points. In the last quarter, the team got on fire and scored big. Michael Webb, who kept a low profile through 3 quarters, came alive and took the Panthers surprise as he scored a 3-pointer, his second for the day, and 3 more baskets. Finch garnered two baskets while Keys, Topia and Whitley scored one. The Panthers were finally beginning to tire as the Patriots put on a solid fourth quarter performance. Prairiland finally caged the Panthers to score 11 unanswered points. The game ended 54-39.

The ninth grade team traveled to Mineola on December 2 for their fourth game of the season.

Both teams started tentatively, as though trying to get a feel of the strength and weakness of their opposition. This was a game between two evenly matched teams, as neither could gain the upper hand. In the first quarter, Dewayne Finch was the high scorer with four points. These coming off rebounds. Jason Whitley scored three, all of which were from free throws after being fouled on. The first quarter ended 11-10, Patriots.

In the second quarter, the Patriots began to misfire as the Yellowjackets began to sting them. The Jackets had things their way by scoring 12 points and holding the Pats to five.

Jeff Gilbert and Jason Whitley scored the only points in the quarter, with one basket each. Whitley scored an additional point from a free throw. The half ended with Prairiland trailing 22-16.

In the third quarter, the Pats finally got their muskets loaded and started serious shooting. They began inching their way up, and at last had the lead. Whitley and Finch took turns with Paul Jackson, Gearl Keys and Manuel Topia to bring the score to 33-30 at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter belonged to the free throw artists as Jeremy Smith, Keys, Topia and Gilbert were perfect from the line, each hitting 2 for 2.

The game finally ended with a score of 49-42.

Keeping Healthy

Risk Factors
Knowing which risk factors associated with fatal diseases can be controlled, and learning how to do so, can help increase your chance of living longer. People with a family history of heart disease and cancer have a higher likelihood of developing those diseases. Although people cannot change their genes, they can alter those habits, such as smoking and inappropriate diet, which have been shown to increase the risk of heart disease and several types of cancer. Risk assessment is especially important to reduce the chance of developing these two diseases, the leading causes of death in the United States. Estimates place the number of deaths from heart and blood-vessel disease at close to 1 million people annually; all types of cancer are responsible for at least half a million deaths each year.
