Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

Do these things happen only Thomas and myself? Or do other folks end up with these bordering-on-the-unbelievable travel stories?

Last year, we took a very short, four day vacation. We saved up money to go to Africa, originally, but circumstances here and there changed, and we decided that we would go to Ireland.

And, On May 26th, we boarded our flight to New York to catch a flight from there to Shannon, Ireland. We had an hour and a half to make our connection between American Airlines and Aer Lingus (an Irish airline). Well, we boarded the plane on time and in happy ignorance. And, once aboard, sat on the concrete of DFW airport for an hour and a half with a maintenance problem! Needless to say I gritted my teeth in frustration for the entire three hour flight. While still in the air at New York we had our hopes raised by the announcement that all flights at JFK airport had been delayed due to storms. We thought we might actually manage to catch our connection...but then, due to those same storms and delays, wound up in a holding pattern circling endlessly.

We skidded off the plane, grabbed a service representative, and discovered that we missed our flight to Ireland by ten minutes! And, of course, there wasn't another one until the next night.

So, they put us up in a motel near the airport, and, the next day we took a tour of New York. While New York is definitely a nice place to visit, I wouldn't want to live there! I'm glad we saw the sights, especially the Statue of Liberty, but was heartily happy to board our Aer Lingus flight that evening. We were to arrive at Shannon at 7:00 a.m., which would give us two hours to clear customs, get a taxi and catch our tour (which had happily been seeing the incredible Cliffs of Moher, Bunratty castle and various other sights while we saw New York) before they left for Killarney, some 90 miles away.

Well, once aboard the plane we were delayed yet again...this time with a fuel leak! We sat on the ground for three hours to occasional announcements, "We are sending for a part...we have located the part...the part is on it's way...the part is on but now the fuel must be warmed". Have you ever had dinner and a movie while sitting on the ground? What should have been a 6 1/2 hour flight turned into a ten hour ordeal. And, of course, we thought we had missed our tour once again. We had resigned ourselves to catching a bus to Killarney.

But, at last we were in Ireland, and made a frantic call to the Limerick Hotel to discover that our extremely kind tour guide had taken the bus tour out for a little sightseeing in the area, and were going to swing back by to pick us up! So, once more we joined a tour a day and a half late, tired out but extremely happy to be there!

Miracle of miracles, we had our baggage too! But, I still want to know, why do these things happen to us? We took a count, and we have, over the past ten years, either missed flights or had lost bags three out of every five times! Oh, well, as long as we get there and have fun!

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

Mama had a black wash pot out in the back yard. She built a fire under it every week on Wednesday to do the washing. She always washed, starched and hung out our clothes on Wednesday. On Wednesday afternoon she would take the clothes off the line, fold some of them, and put them away. Then she would take the ones she had starched, which was most of them, and sprinkle them with water and wrap them up tight so that on Thursday she could spend the day ironing. Mama used that wash pot for other things too. She made lye soap in it. She also made hominy in it. She used lye to make the hominy. It caused the kernels of corn to pop open and the hard part would come off. I could not begin to tell you how to make hominy, but in recent years I have read a recipe which calls for baking soda instead of lye. I have also run across a recipe which allows you to make soap without using lye and hog lard. Your use vegetable shortening instead.

Mama also made sauerkraut in churns and butter in butter molds with pretty designs on them. Each mold held a pound of butter and Mama made it to sell. She sold lots of butter and eggs. I guess she learned that from Granny, because she would tell how Granny sold butter and eggs to the Peddler to buy supplies that they needed between times when they were able to go to town.

Does anyone remember how hog killing day smelled? I can still smell it. They had the barrels of boiling water outside and the lard rendering pots in the house most of the time. Sometimes the lard got rendered outside. I remember the sugar cured bacon that was in the smoke house. It didn't need refrigerating. It was all used before it got old.

No, I'm not getting ready to tell you that I walked 5 miles to school in rain and snow, barefoot. I did ride a school bus for about a year, and after we moved to town, I walked a couple of blocks. The thing that got me to thinking about all the things Mama made was an article I received from Associated Milk Producers, about an ice cream made in coffee cans. Mama made Ice cream in syrup cans. We didn't have an ice cream freezer and Daddy loved Ice cream better than almost anything he ate so Mama would get out on the back porch and use two cans with Rock salt and ice and make ice cream in syrup buckets. It tasted like snow ice cream. Daddy still eats ice cream 3 times a day. Mother and Daddy bought refrigerators, washers, dryers, and most other time saving appliances just as soon as they came on the market, so my memories of most of this is short lived, but I still remember it plainly.

I'm going to give you the recipe that the article has in it but I really don't believe Mama's was quite as rich. She probably put more sugar in it too. I have a couple of recipes I hope you'll like.

Have a good week.

Roll The Can Ice Cream

Ingredients

1 cup whipping cream
1 cup half and half
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Freezer
3 pound can with lid
1 pound can with lid
Rock or table salt
kitchen spatula
Ice

Wash out the cans. In the smaller can, mix the whipping cream, half and half, sugar and vanilla. Cover with lid and place in center of larger can.

Pack a layer of crushed ice around smaller can. Sprinkle ice liberally with salt and alternately add layers of ice and salt to fill larger can. Cover with lid.

Choose a hard, level surface like a table, driveway, patio or cement walk and roll the can back and forth for 10 minutes.

Use a spatula to scrape ice cream from can sides to the center. Discard melted ice. Put smaller can back in larger can and add more ice and salt. Roll for 5 more minutes; taste. Add fruit if desired.

Pineapple Pie

1 flat can crushed pineapple

1 cup sugar
1/3 cup flour
2 eggs
2 Tablespoons margarine
1 tsp vanilla
1/2 tsp salt

In a saucepan mix pineapple and juice with 3/4 cup sugar, flour, beaten egg yolks, vanilla butter and salt. Cook on a slow burner until thickened. Pour into baked pie shell.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Add 1/4 cup sugar and vanilla. Continue to beat until stiff peaks form. Put meringue on top of filling and bake in 325 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Snickerdoodles

2 3/4 cup sifted flour
3 tsp baking powder
1/2 tsp salt
1 cup soft butter
1 3/4 cup sugar
2 eggs
4 tsp cinnamon

Mix flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream butter; add 1 1/2 cups sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy. Blend in eggs. Add dry ingredients gradually; mixing well. Chill in refrigerator. Shape dough into small balls, using 1 tablespoon dough for each ball. Combine remaining 1.4 cup sugar and cinnamon; roll balls in sugar mixture. Place about 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in 400 degree oven about 10 minutes. Store in covered container. Yield 5 dozen

From the new Activity Director: Hi, my name is Karry King and I am very excited and happy to be working here at the Deport Nursing Home. I've only been here four days but I can tell you there is a difference here. There is no other nursing home I've been in that shows the love and care for the residents this one does. Everyone here is friendly and the residents are great. I know I'm going to love working here. I've been married to Brad for 11 1/2 years and we have three children, Jennifer, Ashley and Jon.

 To go beyond is as wrong as to fall short. —Confucius

From The Pastor's Heart

Jesus tells us in John 10:10...I come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. The abundant life starts in our relationship with Jesus Christ. It increases through our relationship with Jesus Christ. It increases through our relationship with our families, friends and neighbors. This truth has become so evident to my family and to me since we moved back to this area in 1969. So many of you have been a very instrumental part of the abundant life that we have known. If I tried to print the name of every person to whom we are indebted it would fill the pages of this newspaper. There was an incident that occurred the first year that I taught and coached at Deport in 1969 that has always reminded me of how important people are in one's life. A young man by the name of Woodrow Wilson gave me one of life's greatest lessons.

Woodrow was one of the strongest young men that I had ever met and he was an excellent basketball player. Everyone thought, if we thought at all, that Woodrow had need of nothing. One day I walked into the gym for workout and I immediately knew something was wrong. All the players were standing silently in the gym and I could hear someone crying and sobbing in the dressing room. In the floor, with his head on his knees, sat Woodrow. Woodrow was living by himself in a house that a person in Deport provided. He was working third shift at Campbell Soup, going to school and playing basketball. Twice, after failing to calm him, I left him and went back into the gym. On the third attempt I sat down beside him and said, "Woodrow, I guess working, going to school and playing basketball is too much for you, isn't it." To this, he only shook his head no. As I started to go back into the gym, he finally stopped his crying long enough to say "Mr. Stout", I turned and looking down, I heard him say, I ain't got Nobody". I have never forgotten the sight nor the words of that young man.

The lesson learned that day has never left me. It is so important to have family, friends and neighbors. As we plan an area wide revival, I do pray that all come to realize and know the most important Somebody for our lives is Jesus Christ. And, then find a place in one of the Churches in our area. You are that "Somebody" in another person's life. If you need "Somebody" here we are. The abundant life can be yours through Jesus Christ.
 L.C. Stout

Georjeana Oats Receives Award

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Georjeana Oats has been named a Collegiate Scholastic All-American.

The USAA has established the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Scholastic All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.30 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Georjeana, who attends Paris Junior College, was nominated for this National Award by the Paris Junior College Academic Dean. Georjeana will appear in the Scholastic All-

American Collegiate Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

Georjeana is the daughter of Billy Ray and Neva Oats. The grandparents are Billy Joe and Georgia Oats of Cunningham, and Geneva Norwood of Cunningham.

Georjeana has been accepted in the TWU Occupational Therapy School for this fall, and she has been named on the Presidents List for her freshman year at PJC.
