Nichols Worth

By Nanalee Nichols It can't happen, but it did. Well, I've had spring cleaning fever. I've cleaned clothing out of my closet that I haven't worn in three years, washed light fixtures, cleaned out the storage room at the house. Then my enthusiasm spilled over into the office and I years of stuff from upstairs at the paper. It took two strong young men and myself to get through the upstairs, but we finally did it.

set about cleaning (gasp) eight

It was hard to throw out the last piece of the old press (the counter ith the press run figures from it's ast clanking edition), but it's been up in a corner since 1973, and I just couldn't figure out a real reason to keep it.

I threw out old records, boxes of paper work, broken window panes, ratty Christmas decorations. We literally disposed of two full sized pickup loads of junk.

It looked so good up stairs, and the desire to clean downstairs took hold.

I cleaned up my desk and delved into the drawers of the credenza. I threw out catalogs that were four years old.

Then Mike and Cindy got busy last Thursday and began cleaning their niches

Mike got really enthusiastic and mopped the bare concrete floor in the circulation department. This doesn't happen too often.

Friday morning I stepped into the office for a check on the way to Paris. I sniffed the air, it smelled so good, like pine sol. The place looked so clean. But there was the sound of water running.

I dashed to the back, assuming we had a major roof leak. Sure enough, torrents of water ran from the ceiling, and the place was awash with about two inches of water!

Hundreds of canvas mail sacks stored under the stair way were saturated. Water seeped under our wall and saturated our carpet.

be tax-exempt as of April 1 Starting April 1, Texas consumers Blood fortifiers will no longer pay sales tax on most non-prescription pills, potions and ointments kept in the average home medicine cabinet to treat minor illnesses and injuries.

90th YEAR, No. 38

Over-the-counter medicines to

The tax break is expected to save Texas families about $160 million in state and local sales taxes during its first full year, 2001.

Prescription drugs have been tax exempt since the state sales tax was enacted in 1961. Paying sales tax on non-prescription medicine is a bitter pill to swallow.

To be tax exempt, a product must be a drug or medicine; an article or substance intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease or suffering. The drug or medicine must be intended for human use and must have a National Drug Code number issued pursuant to U.S. Food and Drug Administration regulations.

Approximately 100,000 products manufactured by about 800 companies qualify for the sales tax exemption. The following are examples of product categories that will be exempt from the sales tax. The list does not include all tax-exempt drugs and medicines, but is intended for use as a guideline.

Allergy treatment products Analgesics Antacids

Anti-diarrhea and anti-nausea products Anti-microbial procucts Antipersy-irants Anti-rheumatic products Anti-vomiting products and vomiting inducements

Bronchodilator and anti-asthmatic products

Cold remedies Cough suppressants Dandruff products Dental products Ear care products Eye car and contact lens products Hemorrhoid products Laxatives

Prophylactics Sedatives and sleep aids Stimulants Sunburn prevention and treatment products Vitamins and minerals

Wound care dressings and supplies Any product that has an NDC number meets the definition of a drug or medicine, or prevents disease must be tax exempt.

The sales tax exemption does not apply to medical equipment, appliances and devices such as thermometers, heating pads, toothbrushes and dental floss. However, the legislature voted specifically to apply the new sales tax exemption to blood glucose monitoring strips. Previous law exempts orthopedic braces, such as neck and back braces, crutches, wheelchairs, hearing aids and their batteries, hypodermic needles, and syringes from the sales tax. That will not change.

More information about the sales tax exemption on over-the-counter medicine is available on the Comptroller's web site at www.window.state.tx.us/taxinfo/ taxpubs/tx94_155.html, or by calling 1-800-252-5555.

The bathroom was flooded. I ran outside and got Thomas, who leaped up the stairs to see where the water was coming from. He discovered the most bizarre thing.

Many, many years ago our bathroom was upstairs. It consisted of a tiny closet with a toilet, wall hung cast iron sink, and a water faucet underneath the sink.

The sink had (completely unassisted, I might add) fallen off of the wall.

It hit the water pipe to the faucet, but it didn't break the pipe...it turned the faucet ON!

It took about two days to get the mess cleaned up, the mail bags spread out and fans blowing on the them dry them.

Here's what I want to know is there anyone out there who can calculate the odds on the wooden posts that hold an old sink turning loose after our siness hours....and the edge the sink twisting an old-fashioned faucet to the full open position? They don't call it Law Murphy's for nothing ... anything that can happen certainly will!

RAINY DAY BLUES-not only human children and adults get the blues on rainy, dreary days ... so do animals. This trio surely were wishing for sunshine as they gazed out of the window and watched the rain pouring down. The animals, cat Hanah, dog Taco and cat Pudge, belong to Nancy and 'Eddie Brown. Wildflower hotline is ready for calls

The search for the best wildflower state. locations along Texas highways is about to get easier. The Texas Department of Transportation will add wildflower location information to its hot line beginning March 17. The toll free hotline, 800-452-9292, will provide callers with information on the best locations for wildflowers along the state's 79,000 mile highway system. Predictions for this spring's crop of wildflowers are not as optimistic as they have been in recent seasons because of the dry summer and fall season of 1999, but early blossoms have already been spotted around the TxDOT maintenance personnel assist nature by sowing 60,000 pounds of wildflower seeds along Texas highways each year.

Where there is no impact to motorists' safety, TxDOT may also delay mowing right-of-way in many areas around the state to allow for growth and reseeding of wildflowers.

Another place to view Texas' wildflowers is in Texas Highways April issue. A TxDOT publication, the annual wildflower issue features colorful photographs of bluebonnets, poppies, Indian paintburshes and more from around the state.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: Dear Liz,

Thank you for writing such a nice article about Dan. I worked 7 years for Miear's Grocery before Dan opened "The Shed". He would build our fires in the old heater in the store and would stay until about 3 and go home unless a bad cloud came up and if it did, he would go earlier. My son M. H. taught him how to drive a tractor, he just couldn't drive a car. He used the phone at the store when he opened "the Shed" and I would look up his numbers. If anyone called him, there I would go out front and call him. He was a great person and he helped all churches and so did Mr. Miers

Blossom is a great place and you sure know it when you have to leave like I did. Thank you Dan for all the good vertetables and everything else you did for us. Mrs. W.O. (Orene) Bonner Euless, Texas

Country Cooking By Liz Irwin http://tpp.1starnet.com/

Our cook this week is Tina Wages Gentry from Talco. She is married to Donnie Gentry, Sr. and they have 2 sons. D.J. is 10 and Dustin age 8. They also have a 19 year old stepson, Joshua Gentry.

She loves to cook and loves mak ing people happy. Her hobbies are hunting, fishing and cooking and doing kindness for others. She is always sharing whatever she can with people whenever she can and often shares her cooking with others.

She learned to cook first in her "Easy Bake" oven and her Dad "always" ate whatever she cooked and always made her think he liked it. So that is where she got her confidence to cook when she was 5 or 6 years old

Her lifelong dream has been to be a teacher. She would love to be able to go to school full time and get her teaching diploma. But with today's demands on the family and farm, she may have to postpone that for a long time. Life is not always fair and that is why she always tells any person to continue their education on past high school because they may never get the chance to go back to school. She tells everyone not to let anyone steal their dreams. They belong to-them.

Baked Beans---this recipe came from her mom and she taught her how to make them and Tina relates that she is pretty famous for them.

Nanny's Egg Custard-This recipe belonged to Donnie's grandmother Nina Gentry. Tina has tried several others, but this is the best in her book. It is especially good with fresh chicken eggs.

Sausage and Biscuit Tidbits-these can be made into biscuit or small snacks

Calf Frys-everyone knows whate these are and they say they are delicious. . . I never had the nerve to try them!

Farmer's Seafood Boil-this recipe was given to Tina by their Cajun friends that visited them about 2 years ago. They were in the process of building the water tower and Tina and her family had the priviledge of them coming into their home and cooking for them.

Summer Sausage-this recipe was given to her by Nancy Rains of Clarksville and is a must for any one who raised their own beef.

The most common cause of heel pain is plantar fascitis. This condition s caused by an inflammation of the plantar fascia, the strip of strong body issue extending from the bottom of the heel bone to the ball of the foot. Its job is to hold the foot bones and joints in place. When it becomes stressed, the heels hurt during your first few steps in the morning, after any period of rest, or after long intervals of standing. Planter fascitis, often results in heel spurs, which are sharp spikes of bone that grow and protrude on the bottom of the heel oone. Plantar fascitis can be caused by obesity or by a change or increase n activities.

It's hard to ignore the pain of planar fascitis and other foot conditions or injuries, especially when every step places weight and pressure on the af fected area. Don't wait for the pain and the problem to disappear. Most likely they won't and you'll be left with a worse condition than when the probem was still new and relatively minor. Call us instead at 784-5585. The foot care you need can be found at DOCTOR'S FOOT CLINIC. New patients are always welcome
