Better News Service for Times Readers

Beginning with this week's issue The Times has additional news service for subscribers to this newspaper. One of them deals with school activities in which space in the paper is set aside for news of interest to both parent and student. In exchange for this space students have agreed to solicit subscriptions to The Times. Kindly remember this when some student calls and asks you to subscribe to the paper in order that this School News department may be maintained in The Times. The rate is only $1.00 a year and well worth the money, aside from any other consideration.

Another feature is the great variety of Humble Camp news, written by Miss Louise Thornton. With that much news service there should not be a home in the Camp into which The Times does not go as a regular weekly visitor.

Out on the rural routes news service is maintained thru regular correspondents, and we are happy to note that our circulation in the country has been steadily growing.

But don't forget to encourage that school boy or girl with your subscription patronage when he calls, or you may leave your order at The Times office or mail it in with the admonition to give the school credit for it. Such subscriptions will be acknowledged thru our columns.

Hazzard and Spruill are Candidates for School Trustee

Obsessed with a sincere desire to promote the best interest of the Talco school community, we submit to the voters thereof the names of two men who did not of themselves choose to run for school board members, but who were carefully selected by a number of high-minded citizens of the community.

We believe that these men: Name-ly, B. H. Hazzard and M. J. Spruill, represent the best element of the community and that they will, if elected, place duty above petty politics.

We, therefore, ask all fair-minded people to give these men a careful consideration.

Airline Route May Serve This Section

People in this area may secure the benefits of air transportation if the system of airlines proposed by Southwest Feeder Airlines, Inc., is inaugurated.

The airline company has filed formal application with the Civil Aeronautics Board at Washington, D. C., asking for a system of 19 feeder airline routes to serve 301 cities and towns in eight states. Of the 19 routes, nine would carry mail, passengers and express, and ten would provide mail and express service but not passenger service.

Explaining that the system would benefit more than 10,000,000 people, Thomas O. Harden, president of the company, says the fundamental principle is to feed mail, passengers and express from outlying points and trade areas to their nearest air terminal center which receives daily trunk line air transportation.

A map of the proposed feeder route has been made and shows that this area would be served by stations at Paris, Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Vernon and Sulphur Springs.

WINTER MAKES COLD, WET BOW TO THIS AREA

The last week of winter poured more rain into this area and took what is hoped to be a final farewell kick at thermometers, dropping them to freezing points.

Farm work, like the Germans at the English Channel, is at a standstill, though preparations for planting corn and other early feed crops are being made while the sun hides.

A considerable amount of plowing remains to be done in this area, but farmers say they can come clear and be on top again after a few days of sunshine.

A large part of the Irish potato crop has been put in the ground, as have many early garden seeds and plants.

Trees are budding and green grass is beginning to show in pastures. The ground is well seasoned, so far as water is concerned, and farmers expect a rapid growth of seeds and plants when the soil dries sufficiently for planting.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER
— CONGRESSMAN — TEXAS

New Farm Appropriation Bill
In the past, payments to the farmer were contingent upon his strict compliance with the acreage allotment. In this way an honest mistake and overplanting a person was denied all benefits. The new bill, just passed by the House, in order to prevent willful overplanting and still correct this hardship, provides a penalty of not to exceed ten per cent of the parity payment for each one per cent or fraction thereof for overplanting.

Defense Industries
Defense industries are being completed months ahead of schedule. Two outstanding examples are the Naval Training Station at Corpus Christi and the Radford Powder Plant in Virginia. The powder plant, completed months ahead of schedule, is commencing now to produce more powder each day than all the other powder plants in the United States. Our country is already geared to enormous production. England has been holding back on the using of planes and ammunition until she received positive assurance that plenty of help would be forthcoming from America. Then, she let loose the campaign of incessant bombing, which is thought will be the most effective warfare against Germany, since it is believed that England can "take it" but the Germans cannot "take it."

Financing Defense Program
If a state is in need of money, it is proper that the state issue and sell interest-bearing bonds for the purpose of acquiring money that is issued by the Federal government. However, the Federal government is sovereign. It is the highest authority and supreme on the question of issuing money. Our United States Constitution provides that Congress only can coin and print money. The Constitution also says that no state shall coin or print money. Many years ago, Congress farmed out to special interests the sovereignty of our nation to issue money. The people are paying for it now, and paying dearly. Until recent years the Federal government paid such a small amount of interest each year that it was not sufficient to cause concern. Now, with our interest burden approaching more than two billion dollars a year, it is time to give this question serious consideration.

The twelve Federal Reserve banks are owned by private commercial banks. They are Federal in name only. They have the right to obtain money issued on the credit of the United States government for 30 cents (cost of printing) per one thousand dollar. They use this money to buy United States government bonds, which provide an interest rate, which enables them to keep the bonds and collect large sums of money from the government each year in interest.

It would be better for the people if a franchise were granted to private corporations to levy and collect taxes from the people than it is for the private interests to have the privilege of using the credit of the nation free of charge.

For many years, I have had pending in Congress a bill providing for the government ownership of the twelve Federal Reserve banks. They should be owned by the government, because they perform governmental functions, and should be just as much a part of our government as the Department of Agriculture or the United States Treasury. In the present Congress that bill is H. R. No. 116. Time for its consideration has not been ripe in the past, but now the time is come when its consideration cannot be evaded. The famous Disraeli, former Prime Minister of England, once said: "Nothing is more powerful than an idea whose time has come."

The passage of this bill will prevent inflation, save the taxpayers two billion dollars a year in interest charges, cause our sixty-five billion dollar debt to be paid in 25 years and will repeal a law which has farmed out the use and abuse of our government's credit free to the private commercial banks.

Jobs
A person who desires employment should immediately register at State Employment Offices. Practically all employers of labor, skilled or unskilled, will use public employment offices for recruitment of workers. Those desiring to be considered for permanent government positions should take civil service examinations and become eligible.

Sunday school attendance on March 16 was the lowest it has been in several weeks. Some of the members were out of town and some were ill.

A nice group attended church services. The choir gave as a special, "Neath the Old Olive Tree," after which Rev. Lindsey brought an inspiring message, using the first verse of the 5th chapter of Romans as his text.

Several visitors were present, among whom was the Smith family who have recently moved to Hawkins. Just before the preaching service began, Rev. Lindsey presented Mr. Smith with a nice Bible as a gift from the Men's Bible Class.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Calvary Baptist church. —Mrs. E. E. Dunagan, Reporter.

STUDENTS TO COOPERATE WITH THE TIMES

Students of Talco school are this week-initiating a new venture in the form of a half page section of school news in the Talco Times. The purpose of this project is to acquaint the public with the news of our school and to give actual experience in the field of journalism to its students. In return for the space granted by The Times, pupils have agreed to cooperate by encouraging increased circulation in the form of new subscriptions. Patrons are hereby requested to give this matter their consideration and help this venture to succeed.

TALCO VOLLEYBALL TEAM HAS PRACTICE GAME WITH BOGATA

In a practice match with the volleyball girls of Bogata, the Talco girls romped off with the victory. This activity will be continued throughout the remainder of the school year. This was the girls' first game and they showed up well. Everyone is expecting the same good results during the remainder of the season.

We have lost the following two students: Betty Fae Gee and Margie Dabbs. We regret the loss of these students, but wish for them the very best in their new school.

SCOUT MEETING

TALCO BAND TO DENTON

The Talco Band is planning to attend the State Band Contest in Denton April 25 and 26, according to Rex Shelton, director. All students wearing uniforms are expected to attend this contest if the band makes the trip.

The band is now working on the contest material and is to start marching as soon as the weather will permit.

DEMOCRATIC ACTION IN GRADE SCHOOL

In line with practices followed in home rooms throughout the year, Talco grade school pupils last week found use for their knowledge of democratic principles in deciding upon someone to represent them on the editorial staff of the new school paper. The necessity for speedy action prevented long deliberation, but actual election was by vote of pupils.

In a meeting of fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades Wednesday, March 12, Mr. Flewharty, high school principal, explained the purpose and importance of a school paper and outlined the conditions that must be met to make one possible. It was requested that a representative from grade school be appointed or elected to work with the high school editorial staff. At the suggestion of Mr. Lemmond, grade school principal, each grade represented elected, then or later, its representative by popular vote, the seventh grade representative to meet each week with the others and carry their findings and wishes to the editorial council. The representatives elected were: Seventh grade—J. W. France; sixth grade—Betty Jane Coker; fifth grade—Billy Gene Jones; fourth grade—Patsy Braden.

Complete details of this organization have not been thoroughly worked out, but the best efforts of the grade school are being made for its success.

PLAYGROUND BALL

Friday, March 14, Talco's playground ball teams under the leadership of Miss Petty and Mr. Travis, went to Mt. Pleasant with great hopes of bringing home another championship team. Both teams had worked hard and accomplished much. We were disappointed to find that all games had been forfeited to Talco. These forfeited games gave Talco many victories which will mean much in helping us to win the county meet.

Grade school is due praise for their splendid performance. Every man seemed to be at his best, fighting as only a Trojan could, for Talco. Both grade school and high school together made a total of sixty-five points. Thus was added another feather in our cap toward the county championship.

GRADE SCHOOL SHOWS INTEREST IN COUNTY MEET

With boys' and girls' playground ball championship already "in the bag," the Talco grade school is hoping to win the 1941 all-around championship for their division in the Titus County Interscholastic League meet this week end. The county meet, which is to be held in Talco Thursday night, Friday and Saturday, March 20, 21 and 22, respectively, will feature the following contests for grade schools: Arithmetic, choral singing, declamation, track and field, music memory, picture memory, ready writing, spelling for two groups, story telling, tennis singles and doubles for both boys and girls, and volleyball for girls. In addition to the valuable training received by pupils while preparing for these events, a new incentive is added this year in the form of a trophy for all-round championship in the grade school division. The trophy is to be kept one year by the winning school, three consecutive wins necessary for permanent possession by any school.

Playground ball was played off Friday, March 14, at Mt. Pleasant. Both boys' and girls' teams for Talco grade school won first places in this contest, defeating both East Ward and West Ward of Mt. Pleasant in each case. These two wins give the grade school 30 points toward all-round championship. Boys representing Talco grade school were: J. W. France, Billy Ray Dickerson, Gene Easterling, J. R. Cole, Leon Barger, Doyce Fry, C. S. Case, Leland Hill, Clyde Hahn, Kenneth Whatley, Fred Hawthorne and David Teague. This list of participants, with the substitutes and alternates not named, totals about ninety grade school pupils who have won out in Talco grade school for county meet entry. They are the winners from a list of about 200 pupils who have been receiving training practically all the school year for the events in which they represent our school.

THE ONLY WAY

We are in the midst of a great world conflict. It is specifically a conflict of two schools of thought advocating two systems of government and two ways of life. One of these place the state above everything and suppresses the individual. One of these systems teaches the youth that they belong to the state, mentally, morally and physically. In this system the state is supreme in every place of life. The right to study and to follow the truth, wherever it may lead, is denied. Under this system, education is reduced to fit the narrow ideas of those in control of the government.

The other way of life recognizes liberty and freedom as means of following our Constitutional guarantee, "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," to every individual and places the development of the individual as its ultimate aim.

There are those who would change this "other way" and uproot our education standards and ideals, as they have been uprooted in some of the European Nations. Let us not be swayed by these propagandists but let us rally around our educational institutions and make the American Way the Only Way.—G. N. F.

RHYTHM BAND PROGRAM POSTPONED

Because of the rush of work accompanying the county meet, the Rhythm Band program, formerly planned for Friday, March 14 has been postponed for two weeks. The playground ball playoff at Mt. Pleasant last Friday and the other contests here next Friday caused the services of Miss McCown, rhythm band sponsor, to be needed in other work.

This program is the culmination of a long period of work by these little pupils from the first three grades, and they are looking forward to the time when they may appear before the public to display their gay uniforms as well as their high accomplishments. March 28 is the date now set for their appearance, but further notice will be given to the public in the school paper.

TALCO'S TRACK TEAM

The future for Talco's track team looks bright, since Coach Holden's and Coach Stewart's minds have been working as one, in getting the best out of the snappiest little track team Talco has witnesses in years.

Ahead of the running events for this year's team is Coach Stewart. He has done much in the short time he has been at Talco to build for himself a well earned name of being the best track coach in the county. Under his coaching are a number of boys about whom too much can not be said. They have spent a great deal of time in trying to build for our school an athletic name that will stand out far beyond all others. The boys who will be on the track Saturday, March 22, running their hearts out for "dear old Talco" are Prentis Boyles, Lyndon Need, Clyde Holder, Lee Noy Fox, Max Reed, Edwin King, Ray Buchanan, Miller Nichols, Burl Gafford, John C. Farrell, Donald Long, and George Hazelwood.

Still in the saddle, riding harder than ever before is Coach Holden. He has been slaving with the muscle men of Talco to improve their form, strength and distance. The men with whom he has spent lots of time and improved them much are Lyndon Reed, Prentis Boyles, Jack Swope, Burl Gafford, J. M. Brown, Arlin Ivey, and Billy Hunter. These men are working hard and have accomplished much. They are due to be at their best Saturday.

Spring is here in full bloom and what would spring be without a track meet. To make your spring fever complete, an invitation awaits each of you to see the great event of the count meet on March 22 in Talco.

ANOTHER FIRST FOR TALCO

An Editorial by J. W. FRANCE 7th Grade
 This being the first edition of the new Talco School Paper, there should be no better subject for discussion than the importance of the paper itself. Probably the question uppermost in the minds of most of our readers is, why the topic "Another First for Talco"? The only way to answer this question is to look back at some of the "Firsts" that have made history in Talco.

As a beginning, there was the first oil well for Talco. People of this vicinity did not dream of the potential wealth stored beneath the surface of Titus county until the discovery well made this "First" an established fact. Upon the heels of this discovery came a great increase in Talco's population, and the community faced its first experience with an oil boom. With the increase in population came the problem of furnishing school facilities for the greater number of children. The original brick building was not large enough to house them, more school furniture and equipment were needed for their use, and many more teachers were needed to care for them. To these problems, as to all others, there came an answer. Talco had its first school shacks. Dissatisfaction with such housing, however, was to be expected. There is no doubt of the fact that, despite the rough exterior of these buildings, much valuable education was being given inside, but plans had to be made for Talco's first strictly modern and up-to-date public school plant. Its completion and dedication on March 3, 1939, marks the accomplishment of one of the most important "Firsts" Talco has ever had.

Many other important "Firsts" for Talco might be recalled. Out of the mud of oil field traffic was born the idea of better streets, and Talco had its first paved streets. Its first water system, electric lights, sewerage system, and natural gas were obtained. Its present modern city hall was built after the discovery of oil. Talco had its first football games in 1936, and in the fall of 1939 the local fans were treated to their first night football game in Talco.

Now Talco's first school paper goes to press. The pupils of Talco Grade School are to contribute their part toward making it a success. It is their duty to see that the school is interpreted to the public. Every pupil has the responsibility of seeing that items of interest and importance reach its pages. It is to be hoped that everyone will lend his aid in this venture, with the purpose of making it the most valuable "First" Talco has ever had.

THE WORLD AS IT IS SEEN BY A TROJAN

MURRAY (AJAX) FOSTER
 During the past week the dogs of war have come very close to enveloping the Near East. Bulgaria has signed herself away in an alliance with the Axis powers and Yugoslavia is expected to follow suit. The British have broken off diplomatic relations and have recalled their counsels. As the Nazi boots tramped through Sofia to the threatened field of activity it seemed certain that the Greeks would yield, but with the promise of British and Turkish help and with the passage of the lend-lease bill by the United States Senate, the "fighting Evzones" took new courage and determined to fight to the finish.

General Archibald Wavell, the commander of Britains Middle East armies, who had dropped from view a few weeks ago after his triumph at Bengazi, suddenly turned up at Salonika with ten crack mechanized divisions (about 40,000 men) to meet the Nazi menace on the Greek-Bulgarian border.

Reports that come from Greece tell us that the Nazis have around 40,000 troops poised for action while their oppositions, Greece, Turkey, and Britain have 140,000, 500,000, and 40,000 men respectively. Confirmed reports from Arabia tell us that thousands of men have volunteered to help the Greeks. These men are recruited in Arabia and will soon take part in the struggle as a body.

On the Albanian front, the Greeks, in an all-out drive against the Italians, captured several thousand prisoners and vast military stores.

As the debate went on in the American Senate, the war seemed to have slacked but with its passage, the struggle assumed a new vigor. The English coast was hit severely by the German air force, the center of the raids being at Southampton, the large British naval base. The Royal Air Force raided several distant German cities including Berlin. The distance of these raids gave rise to the thought that some of the American Flying Fortresses had arrived in England and were being used with good effect.

In Libya, the British forces are racing madly toward Tripoli which still lies several hundred miles to the west. The quickest way for Britain to subdue the Italians in Africa would be for the Colonial army of France in Tunisia, a force of one-half million men, to march across the Libyan border and strike the Italians from behind. There is no hope of this, since the Germans have the Vichy government eating out of their hand.

The next week is expected to bring more startling events, such as the capitulation of Yugoslavia, the invasion of Greece, the declaration of war by Turkey and a real war ensuing in the Balkans.

Lonesome Bill Almost Likes to Follow Walking Planter

Editor's Note: We have received the following letter from Lonesome Bill who says he has been planting his corn and admits he likes to do certain kinds of farm work at certain times of the year:

Dear Editor: I'm glad you can't see me as I write this, for I've been following a walking corn planter all day and I'm worse tuckered out than Willie was last year after his race with Mr. Roosevelt. Besides, I'm still stove up from plowing my wife's garden and being blessed out because I forgot and walked old Beck right over the west fence and broke up a whole raft of bean poles she had saved over from last year. I don't like to plow a garden because I don't ever concentrate on what I'm doing when plowing. I get so wrapped up in thinking about fishing and of all the worms I plow up going to waste that half the time I don't know what I'm doing until I have done it wrong. I reckon God didn't intend for man to plow a garden, else He would have kept Adam in one when He had him there. Anyway, garden rows are too short for a man who thinks long thoughts. But they are all right for women who think short and fast and can finish one thought and be on another by the time they get a pea row plowed.

Me, I like a row about a half mile long and a steady-pulling mule that ain't in no hurry to change ends with the breeze. If my arms and legs and feet and neck and back didn't get tired, I'd enjoy following a walking planter. My neighbor traded his mules for a tractor and can get across a field faster than Mussolini in back-up. But I wouldn't swap my mules for a tractor, even if it was air-cooled and had a rocking chair on it. I like to plug along behind old Beck, feel the warm south wind jerking at my jumper tail, hear the old planter clucking contentedly and the sassy crows caw-cawing around me and smell the breath of the old earth as it swallows up my seed.

I was born on the farm and never have backslid out of the amen corner. Maybe I could have gone out and been a lawyer or something, but I found I couldn't take the farm with me and that I would be lost without it. My wife, though, she says I take the farm with me everywhere we go and that she can smell the barn and the hogpen when we walk down Main street. Last time I was in town I got a haircut and the barber broke two combs trying to pull my hair out and see what was on its roots. Then when he put them whizz-buzz clippers on my head he made everybody in the shop laugh by cutting them off quick, looking concerned-like and saying loud enough for everybody to hear: "Thank goodness! I thought I struck a sprout, but it must have been only a cocklebur." When he got through he asked me if I wanted any oil on my hair. I looked at his head and noticed that he had a poor stand and that what he did have looked like a stalk-cutter had been run over it. I told him I reckon I'd stick to harness oil.

The farm is all right any time of the year. But I like it better at planting time, when it is too late for frost, too early for ants and chiggers and all the mortgages are brand new and good to stand hitched till October.

My neighbor says Mr. Roosevelt's Saturday night speech was the declaration of the beginning of de-civilization of the western hemisphere. I don't know exactly what he means by that, so I guess he got it from his tractor. Yours truly,
LONESOME BILL.

Rugby Boys' Pigs Winners at Stock Show

Forrest and Wayne Grogan of Rugby, again hit the prize pot for champion pigs at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. They entered a litter of Poland China pigs last week in the open competition and won third place with pen of three barrows, fifth place with single barrow and seventh place with single barrow. The pigs were in the 170-220 weight division.

Last year the boys won a number of top places, including the Grand Champion Barrow award. Those winnings barred them from entrance in the boys' division this year. This year's winners are of the same stock as those of last year.

Boyd Griffin, another Rugby boy, entered two barrows in the 220-270 weight class of the 4-H Club division and one of them won 14th place.

Red River County Agent W. T. Posey, Earl Grogan and Aleck Griffin accompanied the boys to the contests, County Agent Posey remaining with them until the winners were announced.

The boys brought back ribbons for each of the winnings and $33 in prize money, $19 in premium awards and $14 in premium price money. Five of the litter of seven were sold and two brought home.

Griffin Honor Man at Practice Meet

Sonny Fagan, another Deport star man at the meet, won the 200-yd. low hurdles in 25.8 seconds and the 100-yd. dash in 11.1 seconds and was second in broad jump and tied for second in high jump.

At an amateur show one budding star imitated a well-known actor who had consented to appear at the performance. Afterward the amateur confronted the professional.

"Would you mind telling me what you think of my abilities as shown by my impersonation of you?" he asked.

"Well," said the other cheerfully, "one of us is awful."

KNOW YOUR MONEY And Avoid Loss Due to Counterfeits

TO THE AMERICAN PUBLIC:

The United States Secret Service and your police wish you to KNOW YOUR MONEY, and through this nation-wide educational program aim to suppress the major crime of counterfeiting.

CHIEF WILSON

Observance of these few simple rules will safeguard the pocketbooks of the Nation. Therefore, I urge every person to carefully study the rules and to follow them.

The United States Secret Service is grateful for the whole-hearted cooperation which it has always enjoyed from your police officers, and we now solicit the assistance of every American citizen in this effort to prevent crime through this modern method of education, instead of the age-old method of prosecutions and imprisonment.

John J. Wilson
Chief, U. S. Secret Service.

HOW TO DETECT COUNTERFEIT BILLS

1. KNOW YOUR MONEY!
2. COMPARE the suspected bill with a genuine of the same type and denomination. Observe carefully the following features:

(a) PORTRAIT: Genuine is lifelike, stands out from oval background which is a fine screen of regular lines; notice particularly the eyes. The counterfeit is dull, smudgy, or unnaturally white; scratchy; background is dark with irregular and broken lines.

(b) SEAL: On genuine, sawtooth points around rim are identical and sharp. On counterfeit, sawtooth points are usually different; uneven; broken off.

(c) SERIAL NUMBERS: Genuine have distinctive style; firmly and evenly printed; same color as seal. Counterfeit, style different; poorly printed; badly spaced; uneven in appearance.

(d) PAPER: Genuine bills are printed on distinctive paper containing very small red and blue silk threads.

3. RUBBING a bill will NOT prove whether it is genuine or counterfeit; ink will rub off of either.
4. REMEMBER—NOT ALL STRANGERS ARE COUNTERFEITERS, BUT ALL COUNTERFEITERS ARE LIKELY TO BE STRANGERS.

TYPES OF CURRENCY

The only three types of currency printed by the United States Government for circulation are:

1. FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES, which bear GREEN serial numbers and seal.
2. UNITED STATES NOTES, which bear RED numbers and seal.
3. SILVER CERTIFICATES, which bear BLUE numbers and seal.

PORTRAITS

Denominations of bills may be identified by portraits, as follows:

WASHINGTON	on all	$1.00 bills
JEFFERSON	on all	$2.00 bills
LINCOLN	on all	$5.00 bills
HAMILTON	on all	$10.00 bills
JACKSON	on all	$20.00 bills

In Talco Four and Five Years Ago

From the Back Files of The Talco Times

Week of March 19, 1937

One hundred and twenty-five visitors from Paris had motored to Talco as a gesture of good will, to be with Talco citizens at a banquet honoring the first anniversary of the discovery of oil.

Workmen had laid 2,000 feet of six-inch water line and 4,800 feet of sewer line on the main streets in Talco during the past week.

Building permits had been issued to Jess Sikes, B. T. Ash and W. M. Stokes for residences.

Mrs. F. F. Jones and children, Mrs. Charles Nichols and Mrs. Elmer Cato Jr. were attending the Fat Stock Show in Ft. Worth.

The Humble Camp weekly bridge club had met at the home of Mrs. J. V. Blacklock. Mrs. Dan Mendel won high score.

Week of March 20, 1936

After a week's swabbing of mud pumped into the Carr No. 1 discovery well, drillers announced that oil was flowing in the earthen tanks.

A great crowd had visited the Talco field on Sunday to view the second well, the May Groves No. 1, which came in that day.

W. E. Lewalling of Long Beach, Calif., had sent in $1.50 for a subscription to The Talco Times. Mr. Lewalling gave Talco its name, chosen from a candy box with huge letters, T-A-L-C-O.

Fred Blackard had accompanied the FFA boys to Ft. Worth on Saturday to attend the Fat Stock Show. Progress was reported being made on the water well for Talco, located on the J. E. Osborn property.

"FLEDGLING OF THE SKYWAYS"

Soaring low over a scene of constant activity, this low wing monoplane is one of more than 300 of its type in daily use at Randolph Field, Texas, the "West Point of the Air." On March 14, the upper class of Flying Cadets, 410 strong, of which Elbert Veteto Jr. of Deport was a member, completed the basic phase of their training and were transferred to advanced flying schools for a final ten weeks of instruction.

Every five weeks a new class of Flying Cadets—4,500 per year—enters Randolph Field. They already have had 20 weeks of primary school training on the $25,000 course, the most comprehensive that skill of veteran flying officers can conceive. In 30 weeks time Uncle Sam takes young men between 20 and 27 years of age—many of whom never have ridden in an airplane—and transforms them into full-fledged pilots.

While in training, each student receives $75 a month' spending money," plus food, clothing and quarters. Upon graduation from the advanced flying school, he becomes a 2nd Lieutenant with monthly pay of $205.

Also during those 30 weeks of training, each pilot-to-be spends 205 hours aloft. He receives 70 hours, including much time at night flying and under the instrument hood, at Randolph Field where more than 350 planes spend 28,000 hours aloft each month.

For those students not specifically qualified for piloting planes, an innovation in the general Air Corps training program is available. Each calendar year, 3,600 aerial navigators and bombardiers are being turned out. During their training they will receive the same pay as Flying Cadets.

College men with a technical education also have a chance to take a nine months course in engineering and maintenance of airplanes and engines. Physical requirements are high for this phase of the course, but not as high as for those applying for pilot training.

A son, who was named Chas. Ray, was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holbert of Cunningham.

Engine for the oil test well on the J. M. Barr farm south of Biardstown, was delivered last week.

Nolan Neugent dropped by The Times office Monday and handed in us a dollar for a year's subscription to The Talco Times, saying that keeping The Talco Times in their home was important.

Luther Mankins, who has been a patient at the Grant hospital in Deport, was able to return to his home Friday at Cuthand.

UNDECLARED WAR

This nation is now in an undeclared war against the Axis powers. It came with the passage of the lend-lease bill by congress last week, and President Roosevelt's statement to the American people and to the world on Saturday night, that the nation must sacrifice to help England defeat Hitler.

It would appear from this distance to be an undeclared economic war. The president warned the nation that business must be satisfied with smaller profits and higher taxes; that strikes by labor, tying up war materials for Britain will not be tolerated, and that labor must work longer hours. He emphasized that it was a job for every man and woman in the nation—not a part time job with business as usual, but for the greatest production in mine, machine shop, farm and factory this country has ever experienced.

Frankly, so far as production is concerned this nation is now upon a war time footing, and it may not be long until there will come a declared war against the Axis powers. That may come with the moving of American goods to England. It may come in another direction if Hitler induces Japan to become aggressive in the Pacific, thus limiting our aid to Britain for our own war against Japan.

It would appear that the time has come when we must fight to defend our form of government as a free people against Hitlerism, and may expect, following the President's declarations on Saturday, evidence of the existence of Fifth Column agents and their sabotage activities.

Now that this nation has chosen its course of action in the present conflict, it will present a united front for its ideals and its "way of life," and Hitler will realize, as did the former Kaiser of Germany twenty-four years ago, that his boasted superior race of people under a dictator, is no match for Democratic America nor for England which has been taking all he could offer for fifteen months.

Spring is nearly here—at least the plum trees are trying to bloom, and web worms have woven their webs and deposited their young in the crotches of their branches. Destroy them now and save yourself much work in May and June.

By NUMBER SEVEN

Asked by a Talco lady why America is called the melting pot of the world, this column returned the question to her and learned her interpretation of the phrase was that America is big enough in every way to absorb individuals of every race and adherents of every creed and to give individual initiative a chance to take root, to grow up and to produce fruit of its kind. The seed of genius has little chance to germinate in the cold shadow of dictatorship or to put forth living green leaves under the trampling feet of Communism. There is no lid on the great melting pot of America; inside is an inexhaustible seasoning of liberty and freedom and under the pot is the warm fire of democracy.

For, lo! the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.—Bible.

This column submits the above sentence as its choice of all literary efforts to eulogize the opening of spring. Never having heard the voice of a turtle, even when a coal of fire was placed on its back to rouse it from lethargy, it is assumed that the turtle referred to by Solomon is what is commonly known as the turtle dove. Will someone substantiate this assumption?
