

Lonesome Bill Says Pappy is Nip and Tuck With Hitler

Editor's Note: The following letter from Lonesome Bill indicates he is getting interested in politics again. We had hoped he would say something about 15c cotton, but suppose he will get around to that later:

Dear Editor: I don't know how it is everywhere else, but out here it is nip and tuck between Hitler and Pappy as far as talk is concerned, though both of them are being put in the shade right now by the cockleburs and crab grass.

Looks like Pappy is getting too big for the governor's britches and is now setting himself up for the Senate, figuring maybe it will be easier to fill Mr. Sheppard's place up there in Washington than it is to raise pension money and build factories on every hill down here in Texas, like he promised to do. I guess he found out there was just too many old folks and too many hills down here for him to tend to.

But I wasn't surprised to see Pappy pitch his fiddle in the ring. I figure he has been tuning up for it for a long time and reckon he would have busted a string if he hadn't got in. Pappy may be the man for the job. I don't know. They tell me he says he got a Call to run, and I know there's no way getting around a man when he gets a Call. They didn't say who called him, but I don't know anybody that has authority to call the governor except the Lord, and if the Lord did call him to run, then he will get there, for the Lord won't stand to see him beat by nobody, no matter how often they take a bath or what size hats they wear. It may be that the Lord looked down to see who was trying to jump into Senator Sheppard's shoes, and not seeing nobody but Jerry Mann, Martin Dies, Lyndon Johnson and a few other small fry, that He called out in a loud voice so He could be heard above the mountain music for Pappy to come and run. I don't know. The Lord keeps powerful quiet about such things to me.

But if the Lord didn't call Pappy to run, I don't know that he will be elected this time, seeing how my neighbor didn't pay his poll tax. Which means Pappy ain't got much chance as the way my neighbor carries on; it is him that has elected Pappy every time. However, if Pappy does get elected, I hope he don't forget us up there and that he will make the rafters in old Capitol Hill ring with Beautiful Texas.

But I figure he'll have a tough time trying to make them Washingtonians give up waltzing and take to mountain music. I'd just like to see him try to fiddle his way out of a filibuster. Yours truly,
LONESOME BILL.

Blond Tornado is Divisional Winner Again

JACK (Blond Tornado) GRIFFIN

Scoring his sixth knockout and second decision this year, Jack Griffin, Deport's Blond Tornado, battled his way to middleweight winner of the invitation boxing tournament held last week and this at Leonard.

On Wednesday night of last week Griffin knocked out his opponent, Roy McLeaver of Blue Ridge, in the first 50 seconds of the first round. In the finals Monday night, Griffin won a three-round decision over Archie Norman of Leonard, that capped the divisional title and the reversible jacket award.

Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Griffin of Deport and a member of the graduating class of the Deport High School, has made an enviable

Honolulu Veritable Paradise, Says Marine Simmons in Letter

S. E. Simmons, who is in the Marine Corps at Honolulu, having been transferred there from San Diego, Calif., some time ago, writes his mother, Mrs. Steve Simmons of Bogata, that Honolulu is the most beautiful place he has ever seen.

Simmons recently underwent a major operation and is not able to be on ship so he was made a private in the Marine police force. Later he was promoted to corporal.

He is an expert rifle shot and has been doing a lot of range work.

In his letter he states that he misses his family and friends very much and would be very happy if he could visit Bogata soon. He has plenty of company as there are 125,000 men in service there, but they cannot take the place of old friends.

Architect: "What sort of house would you like?"

Client: "Well, it must match a door knocker my wife bought last summer in New England."

Griffin was in the feature bout of a 15-bout program this month at Gladewater and turned the tables on Davis, who eliminated him in the Golden Gloves tournament, by knocking him out in the first round. Only 18 years old and weighing about 156 pounds, Griffin is rapidly making a name for himself in the boxing arena. The Blond Tornado title was hung on him by sports-writers for his spectacular fighting in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Life of Average Woman as Seen by Newspaper Man

Here's the average woman: Marries at the age of 24. Quarrels at least twice a month with her husband.

Spends four years washing dishes.

Is five feet four inches tall. Spends 2,784 hours (five years) gossiping.

Weighs 128 pounds until she becomes careless about her figure. Spends $312 in beauty parlors and $387 on drug store cosmetics.

Attends 3,027 movie matinees, many of them double features.

Threatens at least eight times to go home to mother—but never does. Spends three years and eight months on the telephone.

Never learns to play a golf game that satisfies her husband. Listens to 18 radio serials each week.

Is positive that her child is better than the brat next door.

Buys 369 and 582 dresses.

Devotes the best seven years of her life to attempting to make her husband over—without success.

Ruins three fenders on the car and tears off one garage door.

Occasionally wishes she'd married someone else.

Lives five years longer than her husband.

Darns 4,817 pairs of socks.

Never learns to drive a nail without hitting her thumb.

And makes a darn good wife in spite of it all.—(Found in Sulphur Springs News-Telegram.)

CONGRATULATIONS

In expressing our personal congratulations to and best wishes for this year's fine class of high school graduates, we are only following the example set by their numerous friends—business, professional and laymen. We would, however, like to add that it has been a pleasure for us to publicize the varied activities of this class during the year, for it has been the kind of news we like most to give our readers—news of clean activities, wholesome entertainment and honest attainment. Our best wish is that this newspaper and other newspapers, located wherever these students may go, may continue to print such news of their activities during the lifetime of each student.

The cotton farmer is not the only one due to benefit by advanced farm commodity prices. Corn will bring a good price this fall, as will other feedstuff. Cattle already are commanding premium prices, and the hog market is quoted as having reached the highest level since September, 1939. Things are "looking up" on the farm and that is good news to everyone.

Assurance of about 15 cents per pound for cotton this fall is causing farmers to go back a few years to pick up the smiles they used to wear when cotton, seed and all, brought $100 a bale. As one farmer puts it, "If I can just manage to keep cutting corners and make a fair crop, I'll sure be setting Jake this fall." Business men, too, are catching the spirit of rising farm prices and are putting their best merchandising foot forward to keep in step with the farmers.

For the second time in two months Humble Oil & Refining Co. has hiked the price of Talco crude, each time lifting the price 7c on the barrel. The hike last week brings the price to a flat 79c per barrel, 14c above the price level of 65c that was being received the last of March. The increased price means more money in Talco, but whether it means more business in Talco depends on methods used by Talco business men in going after the business. This newspaper is a welcome visitor in most Talco homes, as well as in hundreds of homes over the county, and they have learned that often the most important news to them is in the advertisements. The price of Talco crude has advanced 14c per barrel in the past two months, the national emergency and defense program has increased prices on farm and

One of the mysterious things of life is listening to a man in a thousand-dollar sedan rave over the horse and buggy days.

Wonder what Hitler's thoughts are when he reflects that no dictator has ever survived a roused and resentful public conscience.

With at least three senatorial candidates putting on hillbilly shows, banjo players and black-face comedians ought to find business picking up.

Dynamite was reported found on President Roosevelt's private estate recently. Not surprising. Hasn't the president's speeches been full of dynamite lately?

Evidently, the only thing that will decide the senatorial contest is personality. Let us hope that it will at least be something better than hillbilly music.

A craving for newspaper headlines and free publicity is so intense with some folks that the only way they can satisfy the craving is to take a fling at state politics.

Another reason why we enjoy reading a flower seed catalog is that it always pictures the bright side of gardening, and never says anything about the weeds and bugs.

From the Back Files of The Talco Times

Week of May 21, 1937
 Ira F. Lane, Talco oil field worker, had been killed when a derrick fell, letting 122 feet of drill stem fall on him.

Mrs. W. H. Crawford had gone to Rotan, where she planned to visit relatives.

A potential test was being run on the city water well. Test showed that the well would make 550 gallons per minute.

A 6,000-foot test was planned to be drilled east of Talco, near Sulphur river on Rock Crossing.

Plans for a $25,000 city hall had been submitted to the city officials.

Week of May 22, 1936
 A number of candidate were out for Mayor of the City of Talco: A. V. McElroy, Felix Jones, Dr. A. A. Smith and J. R. Lee.

With the completion of the A. M. Crawford well, east of Talco, a large amount of work was brought about laying water lines and preparing for further drilling.

After careful deliberation, the school board had selected B. E. Dunagan of Gladewater as the Talco school superintendent.

A huge crowd had met in town in a tent building to discuss the incorporation of Talco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes had entertained on Sunday, a number of relatives and friends from out of town.

Week of May 28, 1937

If electricity were sold "Cash and Carry"

... it would cost you considerably less than it does today. But electricity is not a commodity that you can carry home like sugar or potatoes. It is useful only when it is delivered into your home, ready to serve you at the flick of a switch.

To handle this delivery job—to be prepared to serve thousands of customers simultaneously and without delay at any hour of the day or night—is not a simple matter like delivering groceries or meat. It requires a huge outlay for transmission and distribution lines... carloads of poles... miles of wire... costly substations... large numbers of transformers, meters and other delicate and expensive items of equipment. It takes a trained personnel and the expenditure of thousands of dollars annually for maintenance.

All this makes the delivery of electricity one of the most expensive distribution jobs in the world, but it is only one item in the cost of rendering electric service. To it must be added the cost of generating the electricity and the cost of meter reading, billing, collecting, servicing, accounting and management, to say nothing of taxes, depreciation and interest on invested capital. Yet despite the complex and highly technical nature of the business and all the items of expense that enter into it, electric service rendered by this company costs the average family only 11 cents per day.

Dunagan-Stewart Wedding Saturday

At a candlelight ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church in Mt. Pleasant on Saturday evening, Miss Margaret Stewart and Mr. Hugh Dunagan were united in marriage, the Rev. George C. Moore officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Stewart of Mt. Pleasant and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dunagan of Talco.

The church was decorated with beautiful magnolias and tapers were placed at every other row of seats. The chancel was decorated with beautiful vines, gladiolas, banks of ferns and tapers.

Organ music was played by Mrs. J. D. Bryant of Gladewater. The first selection was "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," followed by "Love's Old Sweet Song," as Mrs. Coy Stewart of Talco and Miss Emma Old of Mt. Pleasant, lit the candles. Followed by a solo by Mrs. J. D. Bryant, "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Nell McCowan.

As the wedding march started, the ushers, Billie Dunagan, junior usher and Coy Stewart and J. D. Bryant, senior ushers, came forward, followed by the brides' maids, Miss Ann Kampeter of Mt. Pleasant, who was dressed in pink organdy, Mrs. J. E. Croley of Talco, dressed in orchid, and the maid of honor, Miss Marcell Allen of Dallas, dressed in blue. The attendants carried colonial bouquets. They were followed by the bride and her father, who gave her in marriage. She was dressed in white organdy and lace, carrying a bouquet of white carnations. The groom and best man, James Tenny of Dallas, met the bride at the altar.

For her wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico, the bride wore a brown and white sheer ensemble with accessories to match.

The bride is a graduate of ETSTC at Commerce and last year taught near Pittsburg. The groom is a graduate of the University of Texas and taught near Pine Ridge in Upshur county.

Friends from Shreveport, La., White Oak, Gladewater, Gilmer, Talco and Dallas attended the wedding.
