Things About Town

The old western days have returned to Talco, at least partly. When business men begin riding horses and roping cattle for the fun of it, it's time to take notice.

Saturday we noticed H. V. (Curley) Leftwich, local manager of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., riding a horse and reading gas meters. Not a bad idea, Curley. It saves lots of walking and it could be that you are following in the steps of those in the Eastern states and cutting down on the use of gasoline. Too, we know that you are just naturally a lover of horses and like to ride.

Mr. Leftwich is always willing to cooperate in civic work in Talco. Numbers of times he has used his horses to enter parades, and in the recent horse show and rodeo sponsored by the Talco agriculture class of the Talco school, he was on hand offering every assistance he could.

With our local deer hunters in the west this week we are reminded of this story about our hardware and furniture merchant, R. R. Kelley:

Two years ago Mr. Kelley and yours truly journeyed to the rugged hills of Oklahoma about twenty-five miles east of Antlers and made our camp. This trip was a tiring one from beginning to end, mostly because of the rain that never ceased.

Just the same, we camped on top of the highest mountain, almost in the deers' path and had already oiled our faithful rifles and were set for the early morn. When the eventful day came we were up early and started our trek across the mountains, always on the alert, that any buck would get up any minute.

After we had hunted until we were becoming exhausted, Mr. Kelley was also getting nervous trigger fingers. We were hunting on top of the mountain and our friend was about fifty yards just below us. Suddenly the bang bang broke out below and we just knew that Mr. Kelley had downed a buck. Upon stumbling down the mountain and hurrying to see the kill, we found that he had jumped a large pole cat and had fired on it.

We have always thought since that Mr. Kelley might have been so nervous that he thought this was a deer. But he says that he knew that it was a skunk when he shot. We only hunted one day and the rain forced us to return to Texas empty handed. Mr. Kelley left his skunk in the mountains.

Hopkins County Test Reported Still Idle

Reports that testing had or was about to get under way at W. B. Hinton and Talco Asphalt & Refining No. 1 Long, Acquier survey, three miles west of Birthright in Hopkins county, seemed premature Wednesday as best information carried the well still idle with casing cemented at 4,895 feet, total depth. According to plans, operators will perforate at 4,740-48 feet in Paluxy sand that showed some pay promise on a drillstem test and electrical survey.

Aggies Outline 1941 and '42 Objectives

Below is a list of objectives to be reached in 1941-42 by members of agriculture classes of Talco High School:

Pay FFA dues, exhibit at one show, enter one judging contest, take active part in FFA rodeo, work in concession stand, go on summer tour, attend summer weiner roast, assist in beautification of school grounds, put on assembly and rodeo program, take part in group projects, assist in pest and disease eradication, get agriculture library, attend father and son banquet, strive for 100 per cent attendance at FFA meetings, build an account in thrift bank, attend one or more state, district or area meetings, boxing tournament, agriculture party, skating party, keep complete set of project books and accounts.

DUKE GILBREATH OPENS TALCO SERVICE STATION

Duke Gilbreath announces this week the opening of the Talco Service Station in the former location of Smith's Service Station.

Mr. Gilbreath stresses prompt and courteous service and that he features Texaco products. He has employed Richard Swartz to run the station during his absence. Your attention is called to his advertisement in this issue.

In Talco Four and Five Years Ago

From the Back Files of The Talco Times

Week of Nov. 19, 1937

Charles Singleton had been badly hurt in an automobile accident west of Paris. He was carried to a Paris hospital for treatment.

Jack Caruthers had been elected the new C. of C. president and O. B. Hopwood vice-president.

Mac's Super Service Station had been robbed. The burglars escaped with $27.50, which they took from the cash drawer.

For the first time in years the Paris & Mt. Pleasant railroad had run a special train through Talco that week which was carrying visitors to the new Talco Refinery in Mt. Pleasant.

Rev. P. G. Hightower, the new Methodist pastor, had received a pounding on Monday. About twenty-five guests were present.

Week of Nov. 20, 1936

The Talco Hi Trojans had returned home smiling, but had lost in the thrilling game to Leesburg 35-0.

Chief Elmer Cato and Officer Bar-to Hammond had arrested a man charged with stealing an amount of jewelry in Minnesota.

Ed Syffoll had been instantly killed and W. M. Johnson was seriously injured when the junk line on a drilling rig went wild, striking Syffoll on the head.

The Talco Chamber of Commerce had held one of the very best meetings on Tuesday night, making plans for a new road to Mt. Pleasant and Sulphur Bluff.

The Talco Times had moved into its new building on Broad street, and friends were dropping by to offer their congratulations.

Dorothy Ray Womack Weds Roger R. Box

Miss Dorothy Ray Womack, one of Talco's most popular young ladies, daughter of Mrs. R. A. Womack and the late R. A. Womack, and Roger R. Box, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Box of Troup, were united in marriage Sunday, Nov. 16, at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle, R. P. Perry of Overton.

Rev. Herman T. Morgan of Overton, performed the single-ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged in front of a mantle banked with feverfew and lace fern. A large basket or gladioli was on either side of the couple. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, R. P. Perry.

The bride wore a navy blue two-piece dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage. She carried a white Bible and for something old she carried Mrs. R. S. Welborn's wedding handkerchief.

Miss Genevieve Welborn of Talco was the maid-of-honor. She was dressed in a clay pink ensemble with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bride's other attendant was Mrs. B. R. Villyard of Tyler. She wore a dress of grey with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Floyd Reid of Dallas, was the best man.

Harold O'Neil of London, pianist, played the traditional wedding music and Mrs. B. E. Dunagan sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the nuptials a reception was held. In the receiving line were members of the wedding party, Mrs. R. P. Perry, Misses Vera Henderson, Geneva Teague and Genevieve Welborn. The dining room was decorated with white chrysanthemums. The three-tier white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing under a wedding bell.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a sheer wool black suit with matching accessories. The couple will tour West Texas and New Mexico and upon their return will be at home in Troup.

Mrs. Box was employed by the East Texas Engraving Co. in Tyler. She is a graduate of Talco High School and Federal Institute.

Mr. Box is a graduate of Troup High School and attended Tyler College and Federal Institute. Guests included Mrs. R. A. Womack and son, Max, Mr. and Mrs. Don Perry, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dunagan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reid, Misses Genevieve Welborn, Vera Henderson, Geneva Teague, Juanita Gipson, Ola Bell Cass, Julia Frances, Mrs. B. R. Villyard, Donald Whiteside, Harold O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Foster Jr. and Mrs. Lewis Stovall.

50th Anniversary of Fox-Wolf Hunters to Be Held Nov. 24-27

Largest organization of its kind in the world—the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters Association, Inc.—is getting into the 50th anniversary hunt Nov. 24-27 at Jasper. Dr. A. G. Elder of Deport, is president of the organization and is climaxing plans for possibly the greatest hunt of its kind ever staged in the South.

A bench show at 8 p. m., Nov. 24, will open the hunt and field trials have been set for the following morning. All-age and Derby runs will be made together, but will be scored separately. Suitable trophies and ribbons will be awarded winners in both events. Dave Ware of Bartlesville, Okla., will judge the bench show and field judges include Bob England of Paris.

Start Completion of Hopkins Test

Completion effort was started this week on the Paluxy test of W. B. Hinton and Talco Asphalt and Refining Co., three miles west of Birthright in Hopkins county, it has been reported.

The effort is being made in a move to open a new Paluxy sand pool in Hopkins county along the Mexia-Talco fault trend. The well No. 1 S. M. Long, Acquier survey, was perforated below 4,730 feet, all the way down to 4,800 feet, it was reported. Pipe has been set on bottom at 4,857 feet, total depth of survey.

New Water Bonus Allowable Set for East Texas Field

To encourage a pressure build-up in the East Texas field, the Railroad Commission, starting Jan. 1, will give an extra allowable of one barrel of oil for each fifty barrels of water injected.

The additional allowable, allocated to the leases producing the water, shall be distributed by the commission to the wells on the lease but not more than six barrels a day will go to any one well.

An eight-barrel top allowable is allowed on the water produced from any one well. This allowable then would be spread to other wells on the lease, no one well getting over six barrels daily extra allowable.

Salt water is defined as water from the Woodbine sand having a chloride concentration of more than 35,000 parts per million.

THREE TITUS SELECTEES TO LEAVE FOR FT. SILL, OKLA.

Three Titus county selectees will report to the Local Board in Mt. Pleasant on Nov. 30 to be sent to the reception center at Fort Sill, Okla. They are Thomas Ford Keith, Weldon William Weaver and Curtis Edward Hays.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dunagan and Mrs. Ray Womack spent the week end in Overton at the home of Mrs. Womack's sister, Mrs. Ray Perry, where they attended the wedding of Miss Dorothy Ray Womack.

Boy Loses Ends of Fingers in Tangle with Power Planer

Harrel Marcum is minus the ends of his thumb and middle finger on his right hand following a little mix up with a power planer at the Bogata school defense shop Tuesday.

Harrel, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mit Marcum, Rosalie, and a sophomore in high school, lost his thumb up to the first joint and his middle finger up to the second joint when his hand was caught while he was trying to run a small board through the planer. Archie Fortner was in charge of the shop at the time of the accident.

The Marcums formerly resided at Milton.

Former Titus Man Dies in Ft. Worth

W. P. McLean Jr., prominent Ft. Worth lawyer, died Tuesday at his home there. He formerly resided in Mt. Pleasant, was the son of W. P. McLean Sr., Texas' first Railroad Commissioner. Survivors include his widow, two sons, and a niece, Mrs. Earl M. Lide of Mt. Pleasant.

Red Cross Drive Gets Started in Talco This Week

The American Red Cross drive got underway in Talco Wednesday with a lively committee appointed by Chairman George Massad.

Those appointed to solicit in the drive are W. W. Kendrick of the Masonic Lodge, C. H. Erskin and G. Logan of the Talco Pipeline Co., Roy Moore, Tidewater Co., B. E. Dunagan, Talco school, Mrs. Geo. Grout and Mrs. Renford Sikes, Fine Arts Club, Roy Taylor, Magnolia Co. and Bob Woodward, Byrd-Frost Co. Names of those already contributed will be given at a later date.

Mr. Massad says that 50 per cent of the money collected in Talco will be kept to help the needy in our own community.

O'POSSUM AND SKUNK SEASON OPENS DEC. 1 IN RED RIVER CO.

Season will open Dec. 1 and remain open two months for taking o'possum and skunk. A one-dollar license is required to sell the pelts, according to Hugh Ashford, State Game Warden.

The raccoon and mink season is closed in Red River county and possession or sale of undried pelts is forbidden in the county.

Trojans Take Small End of 27-7 Game from Paris Eleven

A powerful Paris reserve eleven tried to imitate their big brothers last Friday afternoon at Wise Field in Paris by powerhousing their way to a 26-7 victory over an unwilling Talco Trojan team. The game was played on a sultry afternoon and the Trojans with the exception of two players, Frank Lindsey and Leroy Fox, just could not see anything to get excited about.

Captain Lindsey played his usual hard-smacking game on both offense and defense and was a constant threat throughout the contest. Leroy Fox stood out for the Trojans in the line.

The Trojans drew first blood early in the first quarter when Lindsey found his favorite pass receiver, Clyde Holder, well behind the Paris secondary. He rifled a 40-yard pass which Holder gathered in on the Paris 10-yard stripe and trotted on for the score. Lindsey's try from placement was good and that was the last Trojan tally, although the Trojans marched 80 yards through the line and by way of the air lanes to the Paris six-inch line where the attack bogged down.

Paris scored first in the second quarter after a sustained drive down the field and the last half was all in favor of Paris, who seemed to score at will through the air and especially through the center of the Trojan line.

Government . . . can curb abuses in the field of labor as it curbs abuses in other fields—by penalizing those abuses and making them illegal . . . It can punish union leaders, as it punishes ordinary mortals, for conspiring to restrain trade. It can, by proper legislation, enormously reduce labor racketeering. All that is required is the courage to act.—The New York Times.

Here and all over the country the annual roll call for Red Cross membership is underway. We cannot think of another organization that surpasses the Red Cross in really getting down to the level of people who are down and helping them, nor can we think of an organization that is more deserving of our united membership. The local drive, as it is elsewhere, is being made by unselfish, unpaid persons. Let's help to put it over the top.

Texas Pecan Crop Short This Year

The Texas pecan crop this year will be about 30 per cent of average because the trees are resting after last season's bumper yield, says J. L. Rainey, nurseryman of San Angelo, (Tom Green county), and San Saba, (San Saba county). Along the rivers of West Texas the crop will run about 20 per cent of average, he added. Rainey said it's an old pecan tree custom to rest a year or two after turning out a good crop.

OUR WEEKLY LETTER FROM Lonesome Bill

Dear Editor: Well, sir, I took advantage of the frosty weather last week to kill my old sow and salt her away for the winter. But I doubt that the salt will ever get into the meat on account of it is so tough. What I need is something to put on it to soften it so that it will take salt.

I don't usually have much sympathy for hogs at killing time, but I felt a twang of pity for that old sow of mine when I leveled down on her. I got to thinking that the poor old thing had never tasted corn in all her life and would have to die before she learned who won the war.

But I felt the other way before I finally got her put up. She was so tough that when I finally did chop her backbone loose from her midlings and my wife said cut up some of it for pork chops for supper that we had to put that backbone across a log and saw it up with a crosscut. Then when we started to render the lard and got the fat in the pot we had to add some grease to it to keep it from burning. I always doted on chitlins at hog killing time, but after taking a look at the inside machinery of that old sow I told my wife that I had rather go on chewing the dishrag than tackle them. They didn't look healthy to me. Looking at them, I couldn't help but wonder what kind of wheels Wheeler has inside him.

But it was the sausage that teetotally turned up my toes. When we put the meat in the sausage mill and started turning the stuff come out in solid strings that was so stout that I took down the barb wire clothes line and put one of them in its place and me and my wife hung out a big washing on it Monday.

But I reckon that my hog was above the average in this community. My neighbor says he killed his'n and that all he got out of it was the squeel. When he told me about it I advised him to go back home and kill the squeel on account of there is too much squeeling in this country as it is. He said that was what he aimed to do but before he could get to it his old hound dog dived in and gobbled it up.

Yours truly,
LONESOME BILL.

Letter from German Girl Tells Why She Likes United States

From the letter of a German girl newly arrived in America:

"I have found an extraordinary thing here in this country, that I never found before. Here everybody is your fellow human being, your fellow friend. If it is the mailman or the hairdresser or the garbage-car driver or a clerk or a director or a rich lady, they all feel and act toward each other as equals. I have not yet found a person who treated anybody else with the feeling, 'I'm better.' They take each other for granted as good, decent, honest and nice. How extraordinary when you come from Europe where education and money and race have made such deep gaps that never

NOT NEEDED

A man had met with an accident and was carried into his home and a doctor called. When the doctor arrived and started to take care of the patient the agitated wife asked: "What's that stuff you're giving my husband?"

"An anesthetic," replied the doctor. "After he has taken it, he won't know anything."

"Then don't give it to him," the wife exclaimed. "He doesn't need it." can be mended again. Where you feel inferior at every second corner because you are of a different religion or you have less money or you are only this or that. "Only" is the key of relations between human beings in Europe, whereas it is here equality and being worth the same regardless of what you are."

Garden Seed May be Scarce Next Year

Garden seed may be scarce next year, so J. F. Rosborough, Extension Service horticulturist, advises Texas farm families to pick out some of their best fruits and vegetables and save the seed. He particularly recommends saving the seed of beans, okra, cucumbers, tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, pumpkins, cushaws and sweet corn.

Here is the specialist's advice: After the seed have been extracted from the pod or rind, wash thoroughly and spread out to dry. Store in cotton cloth sacks or in containers that allow air to penetrate. Keep the seed in a cool, dark place.

Hundreds of lives have been sacrificed in the Axis countries because of free speech. The firing squad does the job. In this country the only sacrifice made is reputations.

EVERYBODY DOES NOT AT SOME TIME HAVE T. B.

The popular belief that "everybody sooner or later has a little tuberculosis" has been disproved by results of approximately 72,000 tuberculin skin tests given over a period of years by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

I never did anything by accident, nor did any of my inventions come indirectly through accident, except the phonograph. No, when I have fully decided that a result is worth getting, I go ahead on it and make trial after trial until it comes.—Thomas A. Edison.

A LESSON IN CONTRASTS

Is the heating equipment in your home as modern as your automobile?

YOU wouldn't think of driving a 30-year-old car, and yet many families still depend on obsolete equipment to heat their homes. Improvements in heating appliances have been as remarkable as in cars and yet, today, for very little money you can buy modern gas heating equipment that will give you healthful warmth, look better and operate efficiently.

A MODERN floor furnace is the answer to most heating problems. No basement is required, no room space is taken up, and sweating walls are eliminated. You get uniformly-heated air in all parts of the room. Get all the facts today.

Shower Friday for Mrs. I. S. Gilbreath

Mrs. Paul Hardin and Mrs. Monnie Hargrove complimented Mrs. I. S. Gilbreath with a pink and blue layette shower Friday afternoon at the home of the latter in East Talco.

The reception room was decorated with an arrangement of pink rosebuds, placed among which were dolls dressed in pastel colors, flanked by pink and blue baby shoes.

The dining table, covered with a pink and white lace table spread, was decorated with a crystal epergne filled with white chrysanthemums from which refreshments were served. The plates consisted of pink and white sandwiches, cookies and hot chocolate. Favors were white cups tied with pink and blue ribbons and filled with white and pink mints.

The hostess was assisted in greeting the guests by Mrs. Vance Plum of Mt. Pleasant and Mrs. John D. Wright.

Those who signed the guest book were: Mmes. Ernest Brown, Arthur Cloar, Sidney Frugia, Minnie Davis, W. T. Sullivan, Farris Brown, Bee Southard, Shasta Dam, Calif., J. S. Simmons, W. C. Douglas, W. H. Mathis, A. L. Moffet, Vance Plum, R. L. Rosson, L. D. Jackson, Gabe Crawford, J. R. White, John D. Wright, Paul Hardin, the hostess and honoree. Those sending gifts were: Mmes. M. F. Downing, Harold Bonham, Howard Sullivan, C. E. Jones, O. E. Jones, Bob Woodward, Myron Gage, Nell Warner, Will Blackburn, Louis Cato and Lucy Blackburn.

Members of the senior class of the First Baptist Church of Talco were entertained with a weiner roast by their teacher and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsons, Thursday night at the Tide Water picnic grounds on the Wilson lease. Those who attended were: Lenetta Thompson, Lavonne Davis, Runette Fuller, Martha Lee Fuller, Lucille Sikes, Voncille Boyd, Marilyn Laird, Vonnie Fay Lindsey, Joyce Neil Moore, Ted Baxter, Alvin Hill, Arlen Ivey, Miller Nichols, Clifford Jones, Edwin King, Theo Duke, Robert Harper, Gerald Lynn Sikes, Lowell and Ralph Parsons. Mrs. R. T. Fuller and Mrs. Milton Wood assisted the hostess. A delightful time was reported.

Hunting Accidents
Deaths Total 179

Austin.—A timely and urgent warning against the careless handling of firearms during the hunting season has been issued by Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "During the year 1940 a total of 179 deaths occurred in Texas as a result of firearm accidents, by far the majority of them due to hunting activities," said Doctor Cox. "A hunter's loaded gun when not carried on safety is a menace to himself and to everyone within firing range."

Man Tells How He Came to Know Wife

At the time of the divorce suit of the marquis de Castellane, the proverbial poverty-stricken nobleman, who had married Anna Gould, the richest heiress in the world in the gay nineties, a reporter asked him for a statement about his wife. "How I knew her and how I came to know her," he said, "is a little story that can be told in less than 20 words. Our eyes met, our hands met, our lips met, our lawyers met."

Mrs. C. R. Sikes Hostess to Fine Arts Club

Talco Fine Arts Club met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. C. R. Sikes as hostess. The meeting was held at the city hall.

The president, Mrs. R. J. Williams, opened the meeting by asking the club to repeat the club prayer. Mrs. George P. Grout gave a report on Red Cross plans. Mrs. B. H. Hazzard gave a report on the drive to gather clothing for the needy in Talco. Many pieces of clothing have been collected and given to people in Talco who needed clothing.

Mrs. O. T. Stephenson had charge of the program, the subject being "The Advance of Medical Science During the Centuries." Mmes. A. W. Hull, M. E. Jones, Guy Dunn, B. H. Hazzard and Miss Eddie Houston gave parts on the program. Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. R. J. Williams, J. H. Weatherall, G. N. Anderson, B. H. Hazzard, W. E. Chapman, O. T. Stephenson, M. E. Jones, C. C. Holden, Dick Rodgers, E. E. Neugent, A. W. Hull, D. C. Gunter, George P. Grout, Guy Dunn, C. T. Stewart, C. E. Whitmore, B. A. Fentress; and two guests, Mrs. Fentress' mother and Miss Eddie Houston and the hostess, Mrs. C. R. Sikes.

EYE-EASY LIGHT

THIS WHITE GLASS DIFFUSING BOWL is a distinguishing feature of I.E.S. Better Sight Lamps. It conceals the bulb, filters out harmful glare, provides abundant direct light for reading or sewing and soft indirect light for general room illumination. Other I.E.S. features are the wide shade, with light lining, which intensifies the downward light and spreads it over a wide area; a three-light bulb, which offers a choice of lighting levels to fit the seeing task at hand; and the I.E.S. Certificate of Compliance, which guarantees that each lamp has met 54 specifications of the Illuminating Engineering Society for better light and better value. When you buy an I.E.S. Lamp you are buying a lamp that has been scientifically designed for safe seeing and carefully manufactured to assure continuous, trouble-free service.

Try an I.E.S. Lamp free in your own home for three nights. See for yourself how its generous, soft light gives a lift to tired eyes. No obligation. If you like it, buy on easy terms: 95c down, $1.00 per month.
