Destructive Hail Sunday Evening

A destructive hail fell in the Pinkerton Community last Sunday afternoon which destroyed most everything in its path. It was a mile wide and several miles long, striking the farms of Messrs. Sloan, Neal, Huff, Self, Adkins, Rice, and many other farmers whose names we have not been able to learn. Cotton and fruit crops seemed to suffer more, although, many think the corn has been badly damaged. Some of the ruined crops were covered by hail insurance.

Misses Willie Grace Stephens and Esther Wilfong attended the Catawque at Stamford Thursday evening.

Brings in Man Charged With Horse Theft

Tuesday morning Sheriff Allen brought in and lodge in the county jail, M. E. Collins, alias W. N. Collins, charged with the theft of two horses and a saddle at Rule last Friday night. Collins was caught in Borden county and was shot in the right side by the officers before he could be captured. His wounds are not considered serious.

Last Friday night two horses were stolen at Rule, one from Charley Miller and one from C. C. Smith, and also a saddle stolen from J. M. Hidkey, the theft being reported to Sheriff Allen about noon Saturday, who immediately got busy with the wires, and learned Sunday that his man had been seen in old Rainer between Brandenburg and Asperment about daylight Saturday morning. Leaving here at 5 o'clock Monday morning in his car, the sheriff was joined by the sheriff of Stonewall county, and picked up the two days old trail at old Rainer, followed it through the mountains of Stonewall county south into Scurry, where he was joined by the county officers of that county, then west through Scurry into Borden, where Collins was overtaken on the road in the breaks of Bull Creek near the foot of the Plains. It was here that the shooting occurred before a capture could be made. The wounded prisoner was carried to Snyder for medical attention, but not seriously injured, was brought to Haskell, arriving here Tuesday morning, and is now in the county jail.

When captured, Collins had in his possession one of the horses, and also a mule stolen in Stonewall county. The other horse was located in a jog on Brasos river, six miles north of Rotan. The saddle had been traded for the old buggy which the man was between a dollar saved and a dollar spent is just two dollars. Did it ever occur to you that way?

---the difference

It's worth thinking about.

Another difference is the feeling you have afterward. The dollar saved gives you a feeling of real pleasure—it may call for a little sacrifice for the time being, but afterward you feel better for having denied yourself—and the dollar is still yours.

That is the nice thing about having money in the bank; you have saved it; it is still yours; you can have it when you wish.

We make it a part of our business to urge you to have a bank account—have an account at this bank, for it not only helps our business but yours more so.

Death and Funeral of Miss Duvall

We regret to announce the death of Miss Henrietta Duvall, sister of Mrs. M. A. Clifton, who succumbed after a painful illness at the home of her sister, last Saturday evening, at the age of 46 years. The funeral services were held at the residence Sunday afternoon, Rev. Wm. Groom in charge. The community was largely represented, and expressed its esteem for and sympathy with the bereaved family. Interment took place alongside the grave of the mother of the deceased lady, in the Willow Cemetery.

Miss Duvall was born in Howard county, Maryland, on May 11th, 1870 and came to Texas about thirty years ago. She lived part of the time with her brother, Mr. Duvall at Benjamin in Knox county, and a good deal with her sister Mrs. Clifton here in Haskell. She leaves one sister and four brothers to mourn her loss and revere her memory.

The deceased lady had never had the best of health, and had been almost an invalid the past two years. Always of a quite and retiring nature she did not make friends by the score, but those she made loved her truly. As a young woman she united with the church and sought to live a gracious consistent life.

She will long be remembered for her gentle patience in suffering, and the greatest comfort to her loved ones is the fact that she has gone to that Eternal Home where there is no more pain, nor sorrow, nor death, for God has wiped all tears away.

There's Danger Ahead
For those who neglect the first symptoms of eye strains, aching eyes, dizziness, persistent headache, etc. Defective vision is the most frequent cause of these ailments, not dangerous of themselves, but a warning that should be heeded. Imperfect eyesight can usually be relieved instantly by properly fitted glasses if taken in time. But apparently simple defects, if neglected, may lead to serious results; necessitating the wearing of complicated, expensive lenses or even causing blindness.
A. F. Woods,
Doctor of optics, east side of square.

Miss Emmer Maxwell Dies Friday

Miss Emmer May Maxwell died of appendicitis at her home in the west part of town on last Friday and was buried at the Willow Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The funeral service was conducted by Mrs. Emma Jones, a lady minister, who was conducting a revival service for the Nazarene church. Miss Emmer was sick only five days and professed religion a short while before her death.

She was the daughter of Mrs. J. L. Maxwell, and besides her and a sister Mrs. R. A. Hays, the deceased leaves three brothers, Messrs. C. P., J. M. and J. H. Maxwell to bereave her death.

The Free Press joins the many friends of the family in offering sympathy and condolence.

IN MEMORY OF EMMER MAY MAXWELL

We stood around her dying bed,
And clasped her cold white hands;
She said, "I am going to the City of God,
To the far off spirit land."

She told us she was going home,
Free from all earthly pain,
And was not afraid to die;
For her to die was gain.

Mother, sister, and brother, lead a christian life,
Always keep your God in view;
For death will shortly come.
And bring a summons for you.

Then we shall meet at Jesus' feet,
O'er on the bright shining shore
Yes, I shall meet with those I love,
Who have gone so long before.

We look upon her vacant seat,
And tears unbidden flow,
We know that she can never come to us,
But we can to her go.

Sister, we miss you everywhere,
Wherever our eyes may rest.
But we believe that you have gone
To dwell among the blest.

No more shall tears bedew her cheeks,
Her weary eyes are closed,
And naught but the last triumph trump,
Shall break at last, her sweet repose.

"Blest be the ties that bind
Our hearts in christian love.
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above."
—Lee Norman.

Negro "Coal Oil" Charged With Murder

Tuesday morning, Gus Lowery colored, alias "Coal Oil" was placed in the county jail here by Sheriff Allen, being wanted by the Federal Penitentiary officers at Leavenworth, Kansas. "Coal Oil" has been here for some time but his name never could be learned, until Tuesday morning when Sheriff Allen received his picture and offer of reward. A singular thing was that "Kerosene" as he is sometimes called, was passing the jail when the sheriff was reading his letter, and was invited in, not knowing that his identity was known.
"Coal Oil" was sentenced for murder, Nov. 29th, 1899, paroled out of Leavenworth penitentiary Dec. 17th, 1914. Violated parole at Tulsa, Okla.

Many a Haskell Household Will Find Them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Haskell readers:

Mrs. M. J. Tuten, Haskell, says: "My kidneys never bothered me until I began drinking impure water. I then began to suffer from a dull, dragging ache across my back. I had awful dizzy spells and headaches in fact, felt miserable in every way. I could hardly do anything. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I used some. They eased up my back and strengthened my kidneys. Two boxes put me in good shape.

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Tuten had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Happel Enjoys Visit to Haskell

The Haskell girls of twenty years ago still wears the belt for good entertaining. They are masters of the art of welcoming the wanders home, and let me add their loyalty to one another. This loyalty makes life worth the living. Now let me thank you once more for the extremely pleasant time I have had with you; for I can assure you I have not had such a good time for twenty years.

Mrs. E. H. Happel (Nee) Addie Massey.

Richard S. Nolen IV.

On the morning of May 18th 1916, in the city of Wichita Falls, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Nolen of Haskell Texas a son, who was christened Richard S. Nolen IV. The mother's heart was filled with joy, and the father's heart swelled with pride, that to him was born a son to bear his name. His fondest hopes were realized. But alas, only a few short days, until disease fastened its cruel fangs in the little form's flesh and never let go until the white robed angel of death with his icy fingers chilled the little heart in death.

When this sad news reached our city, everyone was awe stricken; for every one was joining heartily in rejoicing with Mr. and Mrs. Nolen. Only a rose bud peeped out on the world and closed again.

Ah, but the fragrance he left here. It's mother and father had realized what motherhood and fatherhood meant. They realize what it means now to strive to meet dear ones in heaven, where partings will be no more.

The little body was brought to Haskell on Friday May 26th, in a special car, and placed in the family residence that night. Friends gathered not to greet him as we expected to do, but to weep with the heart broken father—the mother could not come. On our way from Wichita Falls Mr. Nolen said, "O, how different from the way we expected to bring him home."

The funeral services were conducted by the writer, assisted by the four pastors of the city, Bro. Groom, Bro. Lloyd, Bro. Wallace, and Bro. Lyle.

The cross prepared according to Sister Nolen's instructions, the anchor by Bro. Nolen were two of the sweetest tributes hands could prepare. The cross meant to the mother, she had nothing to lean upon for comfort, but the cross of Jesus. The anchor, to the father, "I have anchored my soul in Jesus" Sweeter prayers were never offered than these two offered just before we left for Haskell. Grand more sublime, submission no man ever saw, than the submission of these two noble souls to the will of God.

Saturday morning May 27th, at 10 o'clock the little body was gently laid to rest in the Willow cemetery covered with a bank of white flowers, fit token's of love, sympathy and purity.

Who knows but this little short life has started a wave in motion that will reach the farthest shores and sweep the sands of love to the uttermost parts of the earth, Bro. and Sister Nolen will have comfort all through life, in knowing they have a son in heaven. And now to Him who is able to strengthen in the sorest trials, and heal the heart that is broken we commend them. May He keep them; may He comfort them, and heal them is my prayer.

Why You Should Own a Maxwell

Comfort

First, because it is a comfortable riding car. Plenty of room for five people; deep, soft cushions; springs made of the best spring steel, scientifically heat-treated, accurately suspended and balanced. You will always be comfortable in a Maxwell.

Appearance

Second, because the Maxwell is a trim, smart, good-looking car.

Many makers of heavy, high priced cars, as you know, have copied the general lines, the shape of the body and hood of the Maxwell. This is more of a compliment than an infringement.

Service

Third, because the Maxwell, being a product of thirteen years evolution, is so designed and manufactured that it gives unflinching, consistent and satisfying service to thousands of owners.

Maxwell cars are made of the best materials that money and brains can buy—and they are made right. You can get out of any car only what is put into it.

Low First-Cost

Fourth, because you get everything in a Maxwell that you can get in any car and you get it for less money.

The answer to this is that the Maxwell is a light car and it is built in enormous quantities. The Maxwell Co. is one of the three largest producers of high grade motor cars in the world.

Low After-Cost

Fifth, because the Maxwell will give you more miles per dollar than any car built.

We say this without hesitation or doubt. It is our honest belief and we are willing to prove it by Maxwell owners, by comparison with any other car or by any other way you suggest or prefer.

The Maxwell will please you. We know it will. Let us arrange for a demonstration and we'll take the responsibility of satisfying you completely.

Stores Closed Friday For Ball Game

Practically every business house in the city including drug stores, barber shops and restaurants closed their doors last Friday evening at 4 o'clock, and about seven hundred fans witnessed the ball game of Haskell vs. Munday in which the local boys won by a score of 1 to 0.

The game was the first one of the season by the team of the Haskell Baseball Association, and was played at the new ball park recently erected just south of the square. A home run by Prine, which was the only score made, was the feature of this game, it occurring in the first inning, and was from the second ball pitched by the Munday pitcher. The balance of the game was mostly a hard fought pitchers battle, featuring several good plays on both sides, in fact no runner for either team ever reached farther than second base. Joe Clemmons, pitcher for Haskell struck out 11. Craig, pitcher for Munday striking out 9.

The following is the line-up for at this game:

Worth Smith, c
Joe Clemmons, p
Sid White, 1b
J. M. White, 2b
Perry Brazelton, 3b
Tommy Prine, ss
Giles Kemp, lf

SATURDAY'S GAME

The doubleheader scheduled for Saturday between Haskell and Knox City and Haskell and Rhineland were stopped by the rain, or hail which began falling about 4 o'clock. Parts of both games were played however, but with high wind and wet grounds, and small attendance, the numerous "bone-head" plays can easily be overlooked. The game resulted in, Knox City 2, Haskell 1; Rhineland 0, Haskell 1.

MONDAY'S GAME

In the game Monday, the Munday team succeeded in winning over the Haskell lads by a score of 5 to 4. The batteries for Munday being Humphries and Humphries. Batteries for Haskell Clemmons and Smith.

TUESDAY'S GAME

The game Tuesday was by far the largest attended of any of the games held, and enthusiasm was plentiful also. In this game the Haskell boys went down in defeat again by the Munday team. A score of 3 to 4. Batteries for Haskell were Prine and Roseman; for Munday Craig and Humphries.

SEVERAL NEW PLAYERS

The imported players which will play for the rest of the season with the Haskell team are:

S. J. White, Morgan
Tommy Prine, Waco
Wirt Smith, Anson
Smokey Joe Clemmons, Abilene

The players have a series of games arranged with Rule for the latter part of the week, and during these games they hope to overcome the "jinx" that seemed to hover over them Monday and Tuesday.

A Restoration

By BARBARA PHIPPS

When I was a girl of twelve I one day looked in a mirror and was struck with the difference between my appearance and that of my brothers and sisters. While they resembled one another, I looked like none of them. Their hair and eyes were black; mine was auburn. They were stocky of figure; I was taller than any of them and lithe. Besides these differences, their faces were unlined; mine, I was pleased to notice, was rather pretty. I was also better dressed than they.

It did not exactly occur to me that I had been born of other parents, but from that time I began to suspect that there was something in me different from what was in them. When I was fourteen my mother, who was as different from me as the others, told me that I must earn my own living. At the same time she confessed that she was not my mother. She said that when I was a baby I had been given to her to be taken care of, and up to that time a certain sum of money had been paid her regularly for my keep and a specific amount to be spent on my clothes. These payments had been stopped, and this was why I must shift for myself.

Since the day I looked in the glass and discovered the difference between me and the others of the family I gradually lost whatever of affection I had felt for them. When therefore she whom I had supposed to be my mother informed me that I must earn my own living I was content to leave them. I found a position as nursemaid for a little boy two years old and lived in the house where I was employed.

The mother of my charge was kind to me, and one day I told her my story. She was very sympathetic and told me that my experience, together with my appearance and a native refinement there was in me, led her to believe that I was the child of persons of the upper class. This is all she said to me. I wondered if she would not offer to help me find my parents, but she did not. When I spoke of trying to find them she said that it would be like hunting for a needle in a haystack, especially since they did not wish to be found. Were this not so they would seek me. The fact that my allowance had been cut off was especially discouraging.

Had it not been for this last mentioned fact I believe I should have made an effort to find those of my own flesh and blood, though I don't know how I could have made a beginning. As it was, I was obliged to be content with my lot. The only objection to it was that I had a feeling in me that I had been born in a higher sphere than that of nursemaid.

One day when I was seventeen years old my supposed mother came to see me and told me that a great change had taken place with regard to me. She was commissioned to take me to my parents.

"But," she said, "they don't know where you are, and it depends upon me whether you reach them or not. If you go to them you will be rich and can afford to pay me for what I do for you. Here is a note for $10,000, due when you come of age, a year from now. If you will sign it I will not only return you to your parents, but will furnish the evidence that you are their child."

I referred the matter to the father of my charge, and he said that it seemed best that I should sign it. I being a minor, it would not be legal anyway. I signed the note, and the same day the woman drove with me to a handsome house, and on entering I was received by a lady who took me in her arms and wept over me. I had become used to noticing my appearance in contrast with those of my own supposed station, and no sooner did I see this lady than I knew by my resemblance to her that she was my mother. Her hair and mine were the same shade of auburn.

Later a gentleman came and took me on his lap and caressed me. He was my father.

It was many years before I got all the reasons for my having been put in charge of the family with whom I grew up. My father made a clandestine marriage with one to whom his parents were opposed. Soon after I was born my father consented to abjure his wife, and I, when born, was hustled off without its being known to my grandparents that my mother had been married or I born to her. My parents agreed to all this, expecting that it would be temporary. But my grandparents were relentless, and my parents, becoming poorer and poorer, at last were unable to remit my allowance. My grandfather was finally taken ill and on his deathbed relented. He had left his money to charity, but at the last moment changed his will, leaving the property to his son.

Immediately after his death my parents sought me. It turned out that my supposed mother had received $10,000 for my return. The fact that I had also been forced to pay the same amount was not pleasing to my father, and he threatened to prosecute the woman for fraudulent conduct unless she surrendered the note I had signed. This she did.

For a long while after the great change in my life I could do nothing but think about my newborn happiness, and it seemed that my father and mother were bent on making up the many years they had been deprived of their child by the affection they lavished on me.

All this occurred many years ago. I am now happily married.
