To the Voters of Haskell County

The selection of men for offices of public trust is a duty and a privilege which rests on the citizenship of our country. The privilege of office seeking is granted to all alike. Office seekers and voters should recognize that the inalienable rights of citizens of a free country are based on fundamental principles of justice which should be observed by both alike. It has been my aim to observe these principles of right in pursuing my candidacy for the superintendency of the public schools of the county. I have done nothing to bring my fellow man under obligation to vote for me. No man owes me anything save good will. I solicit your vote and influence only on the basis of being able to render you efficient service. Under no circumstances have I ever appealed for support on the demerits of my opponent. I have rather urged my friends to be just with him and I have never in any case tried to discredit his administration. Every man whose vote and influence I have solicited can testify to this statement. Shakespeare says: "Common chances, common men may take." To secure a vote illegitimately is as unethical, is as wrong, as it is to secure a dollar in the same manner.

Good intentions and high ideals are not the only qualifications however, which an office seeker should possess. Every man should be well fitted to fill the office he seeks, and the people have a right to know the qualifications of a candidate who seeks an office through their suffrage. I therefore, submit a few facts which relate to my qualifications and ability to serve you in the capacity of county superintendent of public schools.

I hold a State first grade certificate and have done additional work which entitles me to approximately junior standing in any college in Texas. In other words, the courses which I have to my credit in college represents approximately two year's work above the requirements of a permanent certificate. These statements are not made in a boastful spirit for I realize that all advancement should be made on the basis of real merit. Rotation in office is good democracy, but it is poor policy to replace one officer for another whose qualifications are not equal to the demands of the office. I, therefore, solicit your investigations along this line. I have a detailed statement of my college standing signed by the dean of the institution—Simmons College—where I attended school. This statement may be seen at any time simply for the asking. Franklin said that "Honesty is the best policy" and I have sought no other method in soliciting the support of the voters of this county. My confidence of success increases as the campaign advances.

I am yours for success and service.

John R. Hutto.

Haskell Farmer Raises New Crop

Henry Free, a prosperous farmer in the Pleasant Valley community, is trying out a new crop this year, known as "hog millet," which he thinks will be a splendid crop for this section of the country. This new millet is something like the German millet, but the seed is much larger and the head is shaped differently. To Mr. Free's knowledge it is the only millet of its kind in the state. He brought the seed from New Mexico, planting it the past spring and to his surprise it matured very early and will make a nice yield when thrashed.

It is also said that on good land it is possible to raise three crops per year—and it has been known to make 90 bushels per acre.

A Negro Fight At Goree Last Sunday

Sarah Smith and Ada Henson, two negro women from this place engaged in a fight at Goree last Sunday afternoon in which Sarah Smith seriously cut Ada Henson with a pocket knife. The cutting was done in the waiting room of the depot just before the afternoon train arrived and was witnessed by a large crowd.

After the smoke of battle had cleared away, it was found to be necessary by the Knox county officers to fine the party of the first part the sum of $9.70 and to have the physicians take 82 stitches on the body of the party of the second part.

The two negro women were among a party of "Jim Crows" that had gone from here to attend a dance somewhere between Goree and Munday, Saturday night and were on their return home.

The Smith woman returned to Haskell Sunday night, but the Henson woman is still in Goree unable to return on account of her wounds.

Negro Fatally shot Last Tuesday Night

Willie Lockett, a negro about thirty years of age, was shot five times Tuesday night, with a 38 calibre revolver. Two of the shots take effect in his neck and three in his chest.

J. K. Simmons was charged with the shooting and placed under a $1,000 bond, awaiting the result of the negro's wounds. The bond was quickly made.

"Sleeping God" as the negro was better known here, had worked for Simmons last fall, but had left town some time ago owing Simmons a small amount of money. The negro, it is alleged had written Mrs. Simmons an insulting letter before he returned to town Tuesday evening. On arriving here he phoned Simmons to meet him up town; then left the phone, using the back alleys, going in the direction of the Simmons residence, but he was seen and intercepted by Simmons and the shooting occurred.

At first it was not believed that there was any chance for the negro to live, but Thursday morning as we go to press he is still alive, and may recover.

WHAT OPERATORS OF 'MIDGET MILLS' SAY:

The following is a letter sent out by the Haskell Free Press to several "Midget Mill" operators and a few of the answers to the same:-

Haskell, Texas, June 16, 1916.

Dear Sir:
Capt. T. M. Freeman, agent for the Anglo-American Mill Co., who is here promoting the location of a Midget Mill has stated that these mills in Texas are netting from 50 to 100 per cent annually on the amount invested. Our community is very much interested in this mill proposition, but want the best evidence to be had regarding the matter, hence are seeking it from the men who have tried it out. We would thank you very much if you advise us whether or not your experience bears out Mr. Freeman's claim and to what per cent.

And also, we would be glad to have your candid opinion as to what a Midget, located in a growing town of 3000 people and the county seat, surrounded by a wheat growing country, ought to net yearly.

Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of your reply at your earliest possible convenience.

Yours truly,
The Haskell Free Press.

Dear Sir:

As per your statement of conditions there we are sure that a Mill there should easily pay 50 per cent, and under anything like favorable conditions would pay as high as 100 per cent.

Respectfully,
Van Alstyne Roller Mills,
Per J. H. McKinney.

P. S.—If you will follow their instructions these mills will do all they claim in their ads.

Haskell Free Press,
Haskell, Texas.

Valley Mills, Texas, June 17, 1916.

Dear Sir:

Answering your letter of the 16th, I am very enthusiastic about the "Midget" mill, am making the best flour sold in Texas, regardless of where made, and am selling my surplus in Waco at 20c per bbl. premium over other Texas made flours—extra high patents. I know from experience that a "Midget" mill, well located, properly installed, and managed in a business like way, is sure to make its owner good money. Of course the per cent of profit depends upon the amount invested. My mill, (50 bbl.), cost $12,000.00, but I have a two story and basement stone building, equipped with the latest and best cleaning, tempering and bleaching machinery, a 10,000 bushel steel storage tank, an acre of ground, with a fine shaded and watered hog lot. Haskell is a fine location for a 25 bbl. "Midget"—the exchange business alone should keep it going profitably.

Yours very truly,
T. M. Sleeper Mill & Grain Co.

It seems from your location and number of your population that you could not find a better location for a Midget mill. The per cent on your investment would depend to some extent on the management of the mill; however, the Anglo American Mill Company is very helpful along this line. A 25 barrel mill located in your town, properly handled, would easily net $4,000 a year.

I am sure that Capt. Freeman has told only straight facts about the "Midget," for we have found our mill to measure up to everything the makers claim for it.

Oglesby Roller Mills,
W. G. Draper, Miller.

N. Fort Worth, Texas, June 21, 1916.

Haskell Free Press, Haskell, Texas.

Dear Sir: With the prevailing prices for wheat, flour and offals, in your locality and your territory consuming your output of a twelve hour day run, I am sure you will find the claim made for profits conservative. In fact, if you cut the output in half, that is, run half time, and still you can make good the claim.

As to the Midget Mill, we find in two years run, it has made good every claim. We are well pleased with the results. While our plan of operation, (20c per bushel cash for grinding or exchanging flour for wheat) does not get the largest profits, still our earnings are very satisfactory, and is much the safest business. We find the Midget Mill makes as good flour, and as much of it to the bushel, as any mill on earth. When you can buy your wheat at the mill door and sell your products in home markets, there isn't any business that will beat it. And no outsider can touch you.

Besides the flour department we grind corn into meal, on a Buhr mill, for 15c per bushel. From our feed mill we produce chops from all kinds of grain. If ground coarse at 10c per cwt.; if fine 12½c. The men forming this company have been in business in this city every day for thirty five years, and we just give you the whole town for reference, especially the banks, and larger business houses.

Worth Milling Company.

S. M. Furman, Pres. J. T. Woolery, V-Pres. and Mgr. R. M. Furman, Sec. & Treas.

Midlothian, Texas, June 22, 1916.

Haskell Free Press,

Gentlemen:
Have been running my Midget about three years and it has given perfect satisfaction. I compete with the largest mills in the state, both in quality and price. Sell my products direct to the farmer. Have no trouble in finding sales, in fact, have ready sales as soon as made. I consider my plant is paying fully 50 per cent profit. In all these 3 years I haven't been out as much as $5 for repairs. This also may be of interest to you. I feel sure you will make no mistake in putting in a Midget, and can't see why your location is not an ideal one for a plant of this kind.

Yours truly,
R. W. Dillard.

We have run one of these mills for three years and during that time we have never been able to find where they fail to do as they are represented to do, in fact, we find them to do more than is claimed for them. We now have the 50 bbl. mill, and it is no trouble for us to get more than its capacity, and make as good "clean up" as can be made on any mill, and a better flour than any long system mill can make.

With reference to the income of this mill, will say that depends on how it is handled. If the town will stand by it, there is no reason why you cannot make the per cent Mr. Freeman stated you could. We are making it here, and there are others doing it too.

Yours truly,
Arendall Bros.

Ochiltree, Texas, June 22, 1916.

Haskell Free Press, Haskell, Texas.

Dear Sir: There is no better paying business on earth than a Midget in a town of your size. This town is only seven hundred, and we are running steady, twelve to sixteen hours a day and we make a profit of two dollars an hour above all expenses.

Yours truly,

Ochiltree Roller Mills, S. H. Cox, Mgr.
Manufacturers of high grade flour, Graham, Corn Meal and Feed.

We believe, with the proper installation and the proper man to operate same, that you will have success. And, if you have no other mill in your city, you should be able to dispose of your entire output with the local people. In case you are in position to do this, you should be able to make the amounts they claim.

Respectfully,
Eastern Grain Co., San Angelo, Texas.

Farmers have a good stand of cotton that was planted since the hail. The sand has covered up and killed out the late cotton in the last week.

Plum hunting seems to be the order of the day. About twenty wagons went over to Croten creek last week after plums.

Joe King and ye scribe went over in Knox county Friday and Saturday after plums, and we got them. Had a good time, also plenty of gipwater and red bugs.

Methodist Church Items of Interest

On Monday, June 11, the Women's Missionary Society held at the church one of the most profitable meetings of the year. 20 members were present with five visitors from the Weinert Auxiliary. The Weinert ladies had been invited for this particular meeting in order that they might hear the report given off the District Convention at Sweetwater.

Our president, Mrs. C. D. Long, attended the meeting together with Mrs. S. R. Rike and Mrs. O. E. Patterson. Mrs. Rike was the reporting delegate and she made an excellent one. Her report had been carefully prepared, and she brought to us so many of the good things of the Convention and told them so entertainingly that the women all felt they had not missed so much by not being able to attend personally.

Mrs. Montgomery was honored by being elected to the office of District Secretary—a fact very gratifying to our Auxiliary.

The business session following Mrs. Rike's talk brought out some good reports from the various officers and committees. The Treasurer reported $70 paid on the church debt the 10th of May, and $24.65 received during May from the Circles.

Our Social Service superintendent, Mrs. P. D. Sanders, has been doing some very commendable work in helping the needy of our town, and asks that all who have clothing to give away to call her and she will come for it. She asks especially for babies garments.

The voice lesson was not given as previously announced, but is held over till the first Monday in July.

HASKELL, TEXAS, July 1, 1916.

Most girls prove their artistic talent as painters by doing it so cleverly that the ordinary male can't detect it.

Some men get by on what they really are, some on what people think they are and some because people are too dense to see what they are.

Press agents should be able to rejuvenate their vocabularies with a choice set of high-sounding words by reading over the nomination speeches.

Well, one nice thing about most of this free advertising material is that it comes marked "News! Rush!" so it saves us the trouble of reading it.

When a young man neglects to straighten his tie and pull down his coat as he rings his best girl's door bell, it is about time for the enterprising florists to send him prices on orange blossoms.

This is about the time of year when we get "an opportunity to possess the world's knowledge in twenty volumes bound in calf, for the insignificant sum of one dollar a month for life."

And then, just as we have quieted our excited feelings, and again reached our normal repose, some salesman comes in and tries to sell us a patent ink which prevents our checks from being raised.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to induce the girls to go buggy riding with him by boasting that his conveyance had rubber tires? His son now tells the girls that his roadster is a twin six.

The young man who boasts about calling on a different girl every evening, generally does so to prevent you from suspecting the truth of the matter which is that he can't go back to the same place twice.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

BUILDING AN EMPIRE

A. K. Short, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company with headquarters at Wichita Falls was in the city last Friday on business. Mr Short is doing good work in co-operating with the farmers and land owners of this section and the Denver and Valley railroads are to be commended for the interest they are taking in developing this country.—Haskell Free Press.

There is an empire out here to be developed, and the railroads will take the lead in developing it. Of late years the railroads of Texas have spent millions of dollars in building up the territories they serve. Not the least of these railroads in the matter of development, is the Fort Worth & Denver Wichita Valley. A. K. Short is one of the ablest agricultural experts in the south. He has practical experience of many years and knows his business. With the railroad back of him he can and will render a great service to the sections served by that railroad.—Abilene Reporter.

Most anyone can be patient under ordinary trials, but it takes real self-restraint to refrain from remarks about the operator when the film breaks right in the middle of the rescue scene.

We wish to call the attention of our many new readers to the bargains that are being offered by the Haskell merchants from time to time—Read the ads in every issue of the Free Press, as it is not what we make on our crops altogether that makes the country prosperous—but what we save. There are sales advertised in the Free Press practically every week, quoting staple goods at a big reduction. Take advantage of these low prices and you will save at least 25 per cent on your supplies for the year. Read the ads as well as the news—the news may be more interesting, but the ads are more profitable.

Judge George W. Riddell Not Professional Politician

The people are tired of the "Professional Politician" and "Chronic Office-Seeker."

These Continental Wars have put in jeopardy nearly every industry in the south. Our cotton, corn and wheat are threatened on account of ocean transportation and if our country ever needed in its history, men with sound judgment, business ability and with seasoned knowledge of economic problem of our country, they are needed now and will be for the next few years.

You know the politician possesses none of these elements and makes no pretence of having any knowledge of them.

Judge Riddell has made a reasonable success at everything he ever undertook to do, whether as lawyer, farmer or business man and it is seldom the people have a chance to secure the services of a man of this type. His land banks will furnish homes for the people and his ship bill will furnish transportation for the surplus cotton of our country.

It is to be hoped that the people of our State will elect him to the Senate.—Adv.

To the Voters of Haskell County

As it will be impossible for me to make a house to house canvass and see each voter in person which I would like very much to do, but the duties of the office will not permit me to do so I take this method of soliciting your vote and influence. I promised the voters two years ago if elected, I would give them the best service possible, and I have at all times striven to do so, I feel that my two years experience in the office better qualifies me to perform the duties of the office in the future and promise you the same faithful and courteous treatment in the future as in the past.

Thanking the voters for their support in the past, I most respectfully solicit your vote and influence in the coming primary July 22nd.

I am yours very respectfully,
E. W. LOE.

Prosperity Pointers For Farmers

In the interest of further developing and up building the territory through which their lines are operated, the Fort Worth & Denver City and Wichita Valley Railway Companies have issued an attractive thirty page booklet entitled 'Prosperity Pointers For Farmers' and containing valuable information regarding soil conditions and the money-making crops to which same is best adapted as proven through the production of the numerous bumper crops which have produced generally prosperous conditions and are constantly making it possible for "Renters" to become prosperous "Home Owners". A few of these booklets are still available for those whom it may be possible to interest in the question of locating in Northwest Texas. If, therefore, you have any friends that you desire to interest, and will send us their names and addresses, we will find pleasure in mailing them copies of the issue referred to. If you have friends to whom you would like to send copies yourself, instead of having us do so, we will be glad to send you the booklets desired free of cost.

From the Field

Early Monday morning we rode with Fred Monk to the home of H. W. Dyer, who was running binders, harvesting his wheat crop, which is fairly good for this year. We next came to the home of H. Cunningham, a prosperous farmer and met the family. Mr. Cunningham was cutting wheat on the Kimbrough farm, and Miss Label was entertaining some young girl friends from Cottonwood. We called at the J. C. Holt farm and met Mrs. Holt, who informed that a team had ran away with binder and Mr. Holt had gone to Haskell for repairs. Mrs. Holt has a fine flock of chickens and turkeys. She sold nearly $400.00 worth of turkeys last year. T. W. Riggins, a Lamar County farmer, is a tenant on the Holt farm and we called at his place. He was in the field hoeing. We stopped for dinner with J. Robinson and had a good dinner, which we enjoyed very much, and so did J. H. Cunningham. He gave us his excuse that he had been working and from all indications he had been working very hard. After dinner we went across the field to the home of G. W. Sego, who was plowing cotton and we had a very pleasant gentleman who is an up-to-date cotton farmer. R. M. Mathison was plowing when we called on him and he gave us a cordial welcome, wishing us much success in our work. We visited next the home of W. A. Brown, an enthusiastic reader of the Free Press. He was in the field with most of his family chopping cotton, but we met his son Frank, who was mowing his wheat crop, and the girls who were at the house. Mrs. Brown has some nice Rhode Island Red chickens. W. E. McWilliams was chopping cotton in rows nearly a mile long. We are not going to tell you how many rows he could hoe in a day. Newsom Brothers were cutting wheat on the Newsom Ranch and they thought it would make 12 or 15 bushels to the acre and they were doing a good job saving it. J. A. Bales had something like a felon on his finger and was at the house as we came along and we rested a while and saw some splendid cotton, and all his crops were looking well. We left a Free Press with Grandma Sanders, who was the only one at the home of H. C. Sanders as we passed there. We found E. P. Sanders and his family chopping cotton in the field near Mr. McWilliams. We saw he had some good cotton and was putting it in fine shape. We met H. S. Abshire at the forks of the road and rode with him to the Grindstaff farm, which is undergoing some splendid improvements, a new barn and a hog pasture fence being the most noticeable.

T. M. Poteet from Wise county has purchased a good farm near Mr. Grindstaff's and this is his first year in our county. He has a nice crop and Mrs. Poteet is having good luck with her chickens and turkeys.

We came to the Myers schoolhouse, which is soon to be replaced by a new modern school building with the best modern equipment. Bonds have been issued for $12,000 and work will begin in the near future.

We came to the home of Fred Monk and spent the night. Fred is an up-to-date farmer and stockman and grows a variety of crops, thinking it best not to depend too much on one crop. He has 100 head of fine red cattle and 50 head of Poland China Hogs, 300 acres of cotton, and some of the best wheat we have seen this year and other feed crops, with plenty of young chickens and turkeys growing fat from the feed that would otherwise go to waste. We enjoyed the association with that good family and bid them adieu, taking up our work with new ambition.

We crossed the road to the Harrison home. Early as it was, Mr. Harrison had gone to the field and we went out to where he was plowing cotton. He thought us to be a candidate or a Jew peddler when we stopped at the end of the rows, but we convinced him differently and thanks to Mr. Harrison for his compliments to the Free Press and to our part of the work.

We came to the William Myers ranch and found Mr. Myers painting the house of Mr. Trice, who lives on his ranch. Mr. Myers is a first-class painter and does good honest work. Anyone wishing this kind of work will do well to see him. The Free Press recommends him to the public as an efficient man in his favorite profession.

W. F. Draper who lives in Haskell and runs a farm out in the Myers community was in the field taking the lead with the hoe. J. C. Draper and T. H. Williams are living on the farm and were plowing when we passed.

J. B. Barnes was in Weinert when we passed his home. We met the family, they have five fine greyhounds, and jack rabbits and wolves have gone to other parts for self protection. Mr. Barnes was up with his farm work and has a good crop and a nice home.

E. Carnibic was chopping weeds from his maize and we bid him God's speed in his noble profession for he is an artist in his line.

Joe Raynes, a good farmer from the black lands of Hunt county who has been in Haskell county three years, was plowing cotton and his children were chopping and they were moving over it rapidly and doing first class work.

We crossed the pasture to the farm of O. S. Weed, who had a large hoe force and two cultivators at work in his cotton. Mr. Weed's little ten year old son was running a cultivator and doing good work. Mr. Weed said the way to learn boys to do things was to put them at it.

E. S. Weed was plowing cotton in the same field, but in his own crop and we walked through with him. He was getting the best of the other weeds with four sharp sweeps on a riding cultivator.

G. C. Kreger had just came in from the field and was kind enough to give us a drink of water and tell us the way across the field to the next house.

B. F. Kreger had just came in from work as we passed his home. He is a good farmer, with Rhode Island Red chickens on the side.

At the home of E. L. Ridling, we were given a drink of cool water by his bright little girls and we hurried on, passing the Pleasant Valley school house, which is a good one, modern in every way and shows the progressiveness in that community.

We spent the night with Henry Free, a prosperous farmer and a man that believes in making his living at home. He plants a variety of crops and vegetables and has some good stock. Mrs. Free raised lots of chickens and sells eggs and butter. Just before we started on our work J. W. Derr another good farmer living near by came over to build a hen house for Mr. Free that will cost $75.00 when completed, and will be Vermin proof as near as possible.

We came to the Couch ranch of several sections of fine land and is very well kept. E. L. Couch is foreman and good conditions prevail in every line.

J. P. Wheatley was plowing near the house and Mrs. Wheatley was working in the garden. They are enthusiastic readers of the Free Press and send it to two of their children at Glenrose.

We called at the home of J. O. Wheatley, who was cutting wheat for a neighbor.

J. A. Mapes was rushing his harvesting and other farm work.

W. S. Nollner was plowing near by and we called on him, and he was doing good work. He had to plant his cotton over, but has a good stand and it is growing nicely.

B. W. Odell was plowing sod cotton and it is looking fine. He also had to plant over but he has a splendid stand and he is putting it in good shape.

We met T. H. Woolsey at the home of R. E. McNeill, returning from Haskell. He had a buggy load of groceries he had bought in Haskell. We started to the field and met R. E. McNeill and some other hands coming in from work to see about what the neighbors had brought in for dinner. He invited us back with him but we went on to the home of J. W. Atchison, a prosperous farmer who had gone with his family to avail themselves of the bargains offered by the Haskell merchants.

We had a good dinner with I. A. Leonard and took a good rest which we enjoyed along with the friendly hospitality of that good family.

We called at the home of R. W. Rushing. He was busy with his oat crop and was having considerable binder trouble. He came to town for repairs and we rode with him to the road going to Rose Chapel and we hit the pike for that community.

We came to the home of H. J. Cloer, an energetic farmer and met the family. Mr. Cloer was cutting grain for Wyatt Reeves and we met him latter in the day re-

W. H. Russell was planting maize for the third time, having failed to get a stand at previous plantings. He reports an excellent stand of cotton and was about done chopping.

We reached the home of G. W. Henshaw and spent the night in comfort and fully enjoyed the hospitality of those good people. Mr. Henshaw came from Bell county ten years ago and bought the ranch of 1500 acres, where he now lives in the Rose Chapel community. He has prospered from his investment and has much of life's comforts laid up for the rainy day. The girls are milking 18 fine cows and marketing the cream in Haskell, the home of the best prices for anything you have to sell. Mrs. Henshaw has a fine lot of chickens, old and young and some of the famous Pekin and Runner ducks and many other things to be cherished and enjoyed.

We bid them adieu and called at the home of J. W. Henshaw, a young farmer with seven sunny faced boys, who are the pride of his happy home. Mr. Henshaw had just gone to the harvest field and we failed to see him, but met Mrs. Henshaw and the children.

J. A. Rose was away as we passed, and we never met him, but called at his home.

We Believe the Maxwell is Greatest Motor Car Value on the Market

BUT our opinion would not be of any particular importance to you if it did not coincide with the facts. We only want you to look the market over carefully. Then we absolutely know that you will agree with us.

In the first place there is the remarkable Maxwell engine. No four cylinder motor of its size has more "pep" or go to it regardless of the price of the car it drives. It will climb hills on high gear in a manner that will astonish you. It is quiet and works day in and day out with a sound, business-like hum that is good to hear.

Any engineer will compliment the design of the chassis. And those who are not engineers cannot fail to note its simplicity and staunch construction. As for what it is made of, we can truthfully say that better material cannot be bought.

The operation of the car is simplicity itself—the brakes are powerful—the springs are long and flexible—the axles are strong and the steering apparatus, like the rest of the chassis, is built to stand the most severe service the car may ever have to face, wherever or however it is used.

Then if you consider looks important, and most people do, you will not find a more attractive car than the Maxwell at anywhere near the price.

And it comes to you fully equipped with all the attachments you will ever want or need; electric starter and lights, demountable rims, one man top, self-ventilating, rain-vision windshield, etc. All for $655 (five passenger touring car) or $635 (two passenger roadster).

We know you can't beat it.

Touring Car $655

Roadster $635
