HASKELL COUNTY FAIR WILL BE HELD HERE OCTOBER 28 AND 29

At a recent meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, it was decided to have a County Fair in Haskell on the 27th and 28th. The proceeds of the fair are to be used for the benefit of the public schools. At an urgent meeting of the Association, an enthusiastic meeting of the citizens was held in the courthouse on Monday evening. Plans, ways and means of carrying out the fair a success were thoroughly discussed. Supt. M. H. Brasher and various were the needs of the schools at present, and how the resulting from the Fair would benefit the Association in supplying the...

Hardy Grissom, general chairman, explained in detail the plans which so far, have been worked out, asking that the business men respond with other suggestions. Encouraging response came from the merchant present and all signified their willingness to aid the undertaking in every possible way. Mr. J. F. Kennerly very generously offered his garage for the exhibits, and since it is so located on the square, we feel that it would be impossible to secure a better place. Part of the building will be used for booths, where the different exhibitors may display their wares. There will also be provided for an agricultural display, and it is hoped that the farmers will take heed and save their products for this department. A nestlework booth will be arranged for the ladies, where they may display their handwork, and space will be given for baking and canning. Booths will be under the management of competent chairmen, whose names will be given next week. We feel that the initiative step toward a county fair has been very successful, and we trust that every man, woman and child in Haskell will get behind this proposition and make it a good fair will mean much to our county in the way of advertisements, and the proceeds will greatly benefit our public schools.

ROBERTSON LEASES THE HASKELL THEATRE

A deal was made this week whereby E. Robertson, a former Haskell county boy and a son of Mrs. Ed Robertson, county Superintendent of Public Instruction, leased the Haskell Theatre from T. C. Cahill and Post Brothers. Mr. Robertson took charge of the Theatre Tuesday evening. Mr. Robertson has been away from Haskell for the past two years and his many friends are glad to have him with us again. He is planning to give the theatre the very best shows possible and will appreciate your patronage.

F. G. Alexander made a business trip to Seymour Tuesday.

Miss Winnie Langford left last Friday for Dallas where she will teach in the Oak Cliff High School.

FORT WORTH RECORD ANNOUNCES PICTURE PUZZLE

In this week's issue of the Free Press appears an advertisement of the Fort Worth Record's "B Word" Picture Puzzle Game. Fifteen Big Cash prizes are offered for the fifteen best lists of answers to the "B Word" Picture Puzzle; prizes ranging all the way from $2.00 to $1,000.00.

It's the new "fun game" for all, no one is barred. Young and old, married or single, can find "B Words", and it makes no difference where you live. It is not necessary to send in any subscription to take part in the "B Word" Picture Puzzle Game. Make up your list and send it in and if in the opinion of the Judges it is the largest and nearest correct list, you will receive $35.00 in cash and it will only take you a little while to get up your "B Word" list. Of course, if you would like to receive more money you can win up to $1,000.00 in cash by qualifying your "B Word" list with two six months subscriptions to the Fort Worth Record at the reduced rate of $3.50, daily and Sunday, one of which must be a one year subscription for one year at the reduced rate of $7.00, both daily and Sunday.

More than $1,800 is the prize list. That is the sum the Fort Worth Record will pay to the fifteen winners of the "B Word" Picture Puzzle provided their lists are fully qualified. The best prize, of course, is $1,000.00 in cash; the second best list $300, and so on. So you see one can win some really big money by taking a little time and thought and working out a good list of "B Words" and qualifying it with one or two subscriptions. At any rate, you can't lose and it's lots of fun, why not try? You can win the $1,000.00 as well as anyone else.

Miss Mary Langford left last Friday for Dallas where she will enter Southern Methodist University for the coming term.

Mrs. W. L. Cason of Electra is here this week visiting her niece, Mrs. Hardy Grissom.

B. L. JACKSON RESIGNS AS COMMISSIONER

B. L. Jackson, Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, tendered his resignation to the Commissioners' Court last week and J. S. Abarnatha the Democratic nominee in the August primary was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Jackson.

Mr. Jackson has served the precinct as Commissioner during the past two years and has made a good one. He was not a candidate for re-election in the recent primary.

Mr. Abarnatha has been a citizen of Haskell County for a number of years and is well acquainted with the needs of the county. He has had considerable experience in road work and has the utmost confidence of the people of the precinct, especially in this true among his friends and neighbors. This was forcibly demonstrated during the recent primary when he carried his home box with the exception of one vote and that is said to have been a mistake on the part of the party voting the ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods and son of Jackboro, are in the city visiting relatives and friends this week.

Curran Hunt of Dallas was in this city Wednesday.

Miss Agnes and Maude Cox have entered Clarendon College at Clarendon.

There are probably others who will attend some higher school of learning and we have failed to secure their names.

STATE CLUB PRAISES WORK OF PIG CLUB

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, was received last week by J. W. Foster from the State Club in charge of Boy's Club Work regarding the work of the Haskell County Pig Club. Mr. Foster formerly had charge of the work in Haskell county, but has moved to Avoca, and the letter is reprinted for the benefit of the members of the Haskell County Pig Club. The letter follows:

"Mr. J. W. Foster, Haskell, Texas. I have just returned to the office today and finished grading the books and stories of your boys with the following results:

"J. W. Foster Jr., Lige Griffin, Hubert Wingo, Tomlin Vick, Jordan Abbott being the best five of the number sent in. These are not named especially in order of excellence.

"Now our encampment will open on Monday morning at 9:00 at Dallas Fair Grounds, that is, the first assembly will be held but the Dormitory will be open the Sunday afternoon before for the boys who come in then.

"I hope you can come with your boys and stay as our guest and help take care of them the three days. In the event you cannot come you might arrange to send your boys with Mr. H. M. Cantrell, Benjamin, Texas, or Mr. J. R. Masterson, Stamford, Texas, both of whom are county agents who will probably come and bring their boys and who will be glad to assist you in any way.

Your boys should arrive Sunday afternoon or early evening and should go from station to fair grounds via street car. Cards will be sent you later which will admit the boys at gate where they may get instructions as to where to go. We usually have a man or two at the station to direct boys how to proceed.

"I am awfully glad to have had you and your boys interested in this work this year and hope you will see fit to continue same next year.

"Thanking you and hoping to have the pleasure of your acquaintance sometime, I am, Yours truly, R. W. Persons."

WEST TEXAS FAIR WILL OPEN MONDAY

With indications pointing to the heaviest attendance ever recorded in its history, the West Texas Fair of 1922, held at Abilene, is ready to swing open its gates next Monday, September 25th. Determined to make this the banner year, the association directors have spared no expense or effort in preparing the big show and those who visit the grounds are assured of something worth while, no matter in what direction their favorite amusement lies.

Races are to be featured big this year. The first four afternoons will be given over to the horses at the track, both running and harness. Already half a hundred thoroughbreds are at the stables preparing for the big events and more than 100 are assured for the meeting. There are six big events on each day's program, with the $300 Hotel Grace Stake opening day and the $1,000 West Texas Derby Wednesday featuring.

Friday will be automobile race day, when the fastest cars of the Southwest will compete for supremacy on the oval. Saturday will be football day, with two games scheduled between Simmons College and Nex Mexico A. & M., and Christian College and Clarendon College.

Every night there will be presented a big hippodrome show at the grandstand, furnished by the Majestic Theatre circuit, and there will be free acts, including something new in balloon parachute drops each afternoon. Exhibits this year in all departments will be large and of unusual quality.

Jim Edwards returned Monday from Electra where he spent the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reddell and daughter Nell, of Rule visited friends here Wednesday.

Louis Williams of Wehnert was in the city Thursday on business.

HASKELL SCHOOLS WILL GIVE LYCEUM PROGRAM

The above program is made up of splendid talent, all Haskell talent, our own artists among the grown folks, and our children. It is going to be a fine program. In fact you will say that it is as good if not better than many traveling lyceum companies that you pay 50 and 75 cents to see their programs. We are going to charge only 10 and 15 cents for most of our programs. The purpose of these programs is to develop our own local talent, especially our children, provide wholesome entertainment for our community, to boost our schools, and incidentally to make some money to buy needful equipment for our schools that the School Board has not the money for. In fact the School Board has not a dollar with which to purchase our needful supplies and equipment. The only way we will be able to secure these things for our children will be through the School Lyceum entertainments, which will be given each month, and through the money raised by the Parent-Teachers Association. So we hope you will crowd the High School Auditorium the night of Sept. 29th, and thus back your schools and your children and your teachers and also help us in a financial way. The admission price is so small that every one should come. We will have one of these programs each month.

Mrs. Hill Oates, Misses Lois Earnest and Lucille Taylor motored to Stamford Friday to witness the football game.

Miss Madalin Hunt, who for the past six weeks has been in Dallas under the care of a doctor returned to her home here Tuesday morning.

Pure Mebane Cotton Seed

No better cotton seed was ever brought to Haskell than the cotton that is being raised on the Pure Mebane Cotton Breeding Association farms in Haskell County. These seed are absolutely pure and is being ginned on separate gin stands in order to avoid the possibility of being mixed with off varieties. The wagons from the farms in the Association will all be painted gray as another precaution and for the purpose of distinguishing their cotton and cotton seed from the ordinary variety.

The fields have all been gone over by experts and the off brand stalks pulled out, to insure the purity of these seed. The farmers who are raising this cotton are more than satisfied with the yield as it is standing the drouth better than the ordinary varieties.

If you are interested in a better cotton for Haskell County, see Mr. P. M. Ross of the Mebane Cotton Breeding Association of Haskell and Lockhart, Texas, while he is here.

SCHOOL NOTES

Everything is moving smoothly in school this week. Most of the pupils are doing good work, however, there are some that are not doing enough study at home and as a result they are falling behind with their work. Unless the parents of these students see that they study at least two hours at home they will fall in their work this semester. If a pupil will study all his lessons at home and then review them at his study periods in school he will then know his lessons and will make good grades in them. A pupil that does no home study can not hope to do much in school. The pupils who fall in school goes out into life a failure. The home has a great duty to perform in cooperating with the school along this line.

The daily assembly held each day in the high school is proving to be time well spent in keeping up the school morale, the school spirit and the mass singing. Once each week some leading citizen will be called on to address the students this period.

HASKELL HIGH LOSES PRACTICE GAME TO STAMFORD

Haskell Hi Grid warriors motored to Stamford Friday for the first football game of the season. Although the boys worked hard they were forced to take the short end of a 9-0 count. The school wants all boys that can possibly turn out to be in a uniform the first opportunity they get so as we can have two teams. It is necessary to have at least two teams out if they expect to have any practice at all. We also want as many of the town football boys that can be at the park every evening to help us out as we need some if we expect to win the majority of the games. Let's see at least two teams, if not more, at the ball park every evening from now until the end of the season.

Following is the lineup for the home team:
Clay Smith, I. end; Leon Piersey, I. tackle; Quitman Geary, I. guard; Granville Glenn, center; Earnest Sanders, Ryan Pierson, James Yancey, R. guard; "Fat" Crow, R. tackle; Jno. Rike, R. end; E. English, Quarter; J. Kirkpatrick, L. Half; Wilson, Fullback; Amos Kemp, Cecil Watson, R. Half.
Bailey Post, referee, Joe Andrews, umpire.

This week debating, declamation, glee clubs and the various forms of athletics are being stressed and the pupils urged to join some of these activities.

Miss Collins and several other teachers are helping the two literary societies to organize a school orchestra. This will be a fine thing for the high school.

Miss Ellis and the departmental teachers are getting the departmental grades in fine shape. The children in the grades are very much interested in their work.

The grades are having interesting morning exercises. These exercises make the pupil anxious to get to school on time.

We hope that the people of Haskell will help the boys and girls in their efforts to sell enough Athletic tickets to finance their athletics. We are not asking for a donation. This is an investment in your boys and girls in their school spirit and civic pride. These activities are absolutely necessary in order to maintain their school spirit. A school without school spirit is a dead school. The pupils and patrons care nothing for it and the pupils accomplish very little. We require school work to come first and the school athletics and other activities next. Most of our best students are greatly interested in these activities. The school fails when they do not provide the boys and girls with healthy recreation. It is a small investment in our boys and girls when we pay $2.50 for an Athletic Ticket which entitles you to attend every athletic game of the season that is played on our own field. Buy a ticket whether you can attend or not and thus show that you are interested in this phase of school life. This is one of the ways we hold them. Our greatest investment is our boys and girls.

Curtains Give First Program of This Year

The Curtain Club gave their first program of the year in the auditorium Wednesday. The program was a great success—everyone bringing up their parts and all the parts were brought up fine. The critic did not have very much to say at the end of the program except that it was fine. One interesting feature was the debate: "Resolved, That the Dishrag is More Useful than the Broom." The judges had a hard time deciding which side of the debate

You can read a newspaper proof three or four times and repeatedly pass the same error without seeing it. All newspaper men will tell you so. But as soon as the press is started and the paper is printed in its complete form, there stands the error in front of you so big that you can't see anything else. It's a strange fact and probably the reason why it is so easy to edit a newspaper after it is printed.

Every good citizen is rightly vested with pride in his church, his school, his family, his neighbors, and in fact everything that goes to make up the life of his town but it is not well to have an over-abundance of self-pride to the extent that you become a brute. The pride that you invest in others is what makes of you the most desirable citizen. Though we ourselves may be selfish we do not like to see the trait exhibited in others.

RADIO

COUPLING CONTROLS THE OSCILLATIONS

How the Vacuum Tube Radio Receiver Can Be Made Regenerative.

If it were not for the bends in the characteristic curve, the three-electrode vacuum tube could not be made to produce oscillations of constant amplitude when self excited. It is easily seen that if the characteristic curve were a straight line, the operation of the tube would be so unstable as to render the tube useless as an oscillation generator. A third condition of relative values of potential variations can exist, that is, when the grid circuit potential variations are less than the potential variations existing in the tuned circuit between the points X and Y. When this condition exists, the oscillations in the tuned circuit cannot be maintained but the decrease in amplitude in the tuned circuit oscillations will reduce the grid excitation, and the tube will finally cease to oscillate.

Thus the coupling that exists between the plate circuit through the tuned circuit inductance L and the grid circuit through the inductance I, control the conditions that will or will not cause the tube to act as a generator of undamped oscillations.

Suppose that the coupling existing between the two coils L and I is such that the tube is generating oscillations. If the coupling is reduced, that is if the coils be moved farther apart it will require greater and greater variations in potential in the coil L to maintain the same variations in the coil I. This weakening of the plate to grid coupling causes stronger oscillations in the either magnetic or electrostatic coupling. In Figure XXXVI the tube was made self exciting by coupling an inductance C connected in the grid circuit to L, an inductance in the tune plate circuit. A development of this circuit is shown in Figure XXXIX.

Here the energy, instead of being directly coupled from the plate to the grid circuit, is first necessary to an intermediate circuit, M-N, and then to the grid circuit. It is necessary of course, that the circuit X-Y and M-N have the same natural period, that is to say, they must be tuned to the same frequency. If the frequency is relatively high, the condenser C can be dispensed with, and the capacity of the plate to filament used as a portion of the oscillation plate circuit.

The circuit as shown in Fig. XXXIX is inherently the circuit used in low power undamped or continuous wave radio telegraph transmitters. By substituting in the oscillating circuit M-N the capacity of an antenna with respect to the ground, we have the continuous transmitter shown in Fig. XL.

By placing a key in the "B" or plate battery to turn the plate battery off and on the start and stop, the tube oscillating dots and dashes can be sent out by varying the coupling between the grid and plate coils I and L and the antenna circuit, the transmitter is adjusted for maximum power output. To adjust the wave length the value of the antenna inductance is varied.

SUMMER SLUMP IS BENEFIT

Both Manufacturers and Dealers in Radio Apparatus Are Learning a Needed Lesson.

"The slump in the radio business during the summer months is a boon to the entire industry," declares Joseph D. R. Freed, in an interview published in Radio Merchandising. "Both the radio dealers and the more stable and serious manufacturers are learning a well-needed lesson from this slump," he says. "For example, deal-plate circuit. The limit is reached when the plate current reaches the saturation point. After this point is reached, further weakening of the coupling cannot increase the plate current variations so that the transfer of energy from the plate to grid circuit now decreases, and any further reduction in coupling will cause such a reduction in excitation that finally the tube will cease to function.

There is, then, a certain degree of coupling at which the tube will start to oscillate, a certain degree of coupling which will produce maximum oscillation in the plate circuit and another degree of coupling at which the tube will cease to oscillate.

From the foregoing short discussion it can be seen that a three electrode vacuum tube can be made to function as a self excited generator of an undamped alternating difference of potential at radio frequency, or by exciting the tube externally by, for example, an incoming radio signal, the amplified plate circuit variations in potential can be fed back into the grid and held to further increase the amplitude of the plate circuit variations. In ers are beginning only now to realize the truth of the fact that they cannot afford to carry a large and heterogeneous lot of odds and ends in radio apparatus in the hopes that they will be able to dispose of it. They are learning now, by a stern process, that hysterical overstocking of apparatus in an effort to meet the spasmodic demand of radio 'faddists' is not going to prove profitable in the long run. They are beginning to realize that dependable apparatus, bought to meet the varying radio conditions, is more to be relied upon than unknown apparatus that looks good in the catalogue and is merely an ornament upon the shelves. "Manufacturers, too, are learning their lesson from this slump. They are realizing that the time of 'order taking' is past and that the time of 'order getting' is here. They are learning now, if they didn't know it before, that in order to sell radio apparatus, they must give good value, serviceable merchandise, attractive prices and real service and dealer co-operation."

the former conditions the tube is used in continuous wave telegraphy and radiophone transmitters.

When operating under the latter conditions, the tube is used in "regenerative" circuits of radio receivers to produce enormous amplification. When used in radio receiving circuits, of such kind that energy is transferred from the plate circuit to the grid circuit, we have the famous "Armstrong regenerative" or "feed back" circuit which is so generally used at the present time.

Any vacuum tube radio receiver can be made regenerative by arranging the circuit in such a manner that the plate circuit energy is fed back into the grid circuit. This may be accomplished by

MY EXPERIENCE AS A PAPER VENDOR

By W. M. FREE

In my last letter to the Free Press I promised to give you my experience in the field as a paper peddler from life. I shall begin with my first days work in this capacity, and tell you the story as best I can from memory.

It was in the year of 1910. I was writing insurance for the fraternal order of Brotherhood of American Yeomen, which was a new position, and I had only been in the work a short while, but had achieved fair success for a man of my experience.

My business carried me to the city of Henrietta, the county seat of Clay County, a city of about 3,000 souls. Henrietta is one of the pioneer cities of the middle west, its settlement dating back to the early seventies, according to statements from old-timers.

Sam A. Roberts, the present editor of the Free Press, was running a little evening daily in connection with an excellent weekly paper in this town.

His office and printing plant was on one of the principal streets leading from the city to the two depots, and only one block from the square.

I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Roberts up town, who invited me to his place of business. The invitation was gladly accepted and he and I walked from the courthouse square to the printing plant, and were soon inside where a bunch of men were working hurriedly getting out the evening paper.

All the work in the mechanical rooms were done by hand, only the big dailies were able to afford type-setting machines. And it was never dreamed at that time that printing plants in the small towns would ever be able to install a machine in their shops.

Mr. Roberts gave me a short interview about the insurance business, and soon a little story was being put into print under my name with the few successes I had made (I never told him of my failures). There is enough vanity in all of us that we can stand quite a lot of good things said about us in the paper. If it bears a degree of exaggeration we like it just the same.

I had not long to wait until the paper began coming from the press, and while it was still wet with ink I read the interesting story about myself. You know I began to like the paper business at that very moment.

After the paper were mailed out and the rush of the busy day was passed we were quickly seated in the office for a chat. But you can not talk long to an editor before the subject will naturally drift to his most interesting topic, his circulation or subscription list. Did you know the editor of the country weekly thinks and worries more about his subscription than anything else pertaining to his business. It is always with a degree of pain that he drops the name of his readers from his list, and a real joy when a name is added. If you only knew what it costs the editor in bitter pangs to take your name from his list you would never let it happen again.

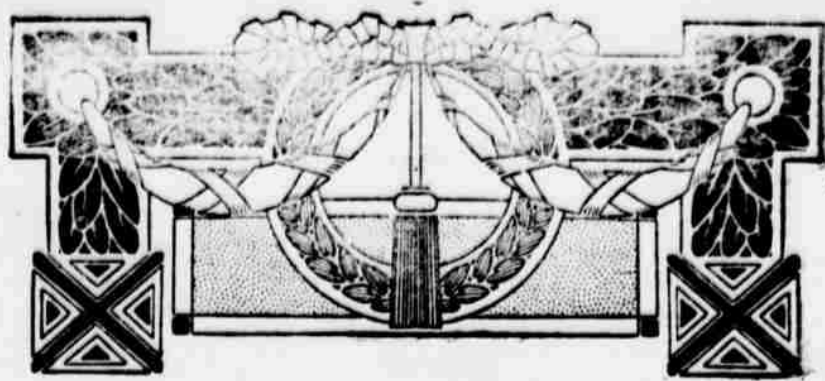

There is nothing under the sun that you get more for your money than in a year's subscription to your county paper. You are just lending your name to the editor to give to you the biggest bargain you ever received. The advertiser pays the bill and does not try to compel you to read his ad. But it would pay you well to read it. For all prices of commerce is set upon the prices made by the advertiser. If you do not buy from him, you get your merchandise at a similar price, because few people try to sell goods for cash above advertised prices.

After we had spent several moments in pleasant conversation, Mr. Roberts, true to the long drawn-out practice of editors turned the subject to subscription and asked me the pointed question, how would I like to go to the country and work for him and his paper taking subscriptions. Going to the country appealed to me, as you all know I am from the country. It is easy to tell a boy from the country. As the saying goes, "You can take the boy out of the country, but you can not take the country out of the boy." But I hesitated to answer, because in my days on the farm the farmers paid their county paper in wood, sorghum and potatoes. He offered me a commission for my work and I was wondering what I could do with my part of the country produce. In fact I had never heard of any fellow getting a job like that in my life. I thought that an editor could get all the wood, sorghum and potatoes he wanted without getting a fellow to go out and bring it in.

Mr. Roberts told me that times had changed, and that people of all classes would pay real money for their county paper. That statement had a mighty good ring; but it is hard for a man to get away from the things he had learned to believe during his early life. And some of us who are gray-headed are doubtful of new things that are told us because we had never heard of it before. We have another reason, just because we had not heard about it. Some of us do not believe things until we have seen them more than once.

Mr. Roberts finally convinced me that it would be a better job than writing insurance. I accepted the place to begin work the next day. Early next morning I found a man who was going to Blue Grove, a little inland town ten miles south of Henrietta in a farm wagon, which was a little slow, but sure, I took passage with him. He gave me a welcome in his vehicle without cost which has very fortunate for me, for I had neither purse nor script. We arrived in the little town about noon to find that one of the inhabitants had advertised a sale for that afternoon for all of his live stock, farming tools, house furniture, in fact all of his belongings.

Notice of a sale in those days always got the crowd and they had already begun to gather when we arrived. We had not long to wait until I was wondering where they came from, as I watched the throngs of people mixing and mingling on the grounds.

I had a bundle of papers of the last week's issue of the weekly paper on my arm which I had carried all the way from Henrietta. I was walking to and fro, not really knowing what to say or do, when a fellow walked up to me and said: "My God, man! What are you doing with all those papers of the same kind?" I saw at once that he had never heard of the job I had. You know ignorance likes company. I told him I would give him one if he wanted it and would sell him a subscription for a whole year for a dollar. To my surprise he handed me the dollar and gave me his name and address.

When the sale was over and I walked away and on checking up I had ten shining silver dollars in my pocket, which was such a surprise and thrill that I have never gotten entirely over it. I am now working along the same line and I like my work.

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

"Mudder, I always win the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I can come quick, mudder!"

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's; great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these joyous oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the delicious kind of Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes.

Discounting the "Discount" in Advance

You don't have to be a shrewd bargainer to get the bottom price on the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord. Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can. You can see from the figures below that its advertised price is lower than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown value. We believe the average man would rather buy tires on this frank and open basis, and assure himself a product of recognized worth. The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord is made of high-grade long-staple cotton, and it embodies the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction. In design, materials and manufacture it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation. It has a different tread from the famous All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and it sells for substantially less.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30 x 3 1/4 Clincher.....	$12.50	32 x 4 Straight Side..	$24.50	33 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	$32.15
30 x 3 1/4 Straight Side..	13.50	33 x 4 Straight Side..	25.25	34 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	32.50
32 x 3 1/4 Straight Side..	19.25	34 x 4 Straight Side..	25.90	33 x 5 Straight Side..	39.10
31 x 4 Straight Side..	22.20	32 x 4 1/4 Straight Side..	31.45	35 x 5 Straight Side..	41.00

tain Club is leading so far in the race and are eagerly looking forward to the picnic or banquet that is going to be given by the losing side. We all know that most students hate to dig down in their pockets and pull out $2.50 for a season ticket, but just stop and think about it—it only happens once a year and think about all the enjoyment and excitement you will get out of watching our home boys strive to take away all honors on the football field.

Everyone be present at the game this Friday when the Haskell Grid Warriors go against the Anson Aggregation and if you have not bought your season ticket there will be lots of Curtains there with pink tickets.

"Watch the Curtains rise." Reporter.

The parents are earnestly urged to see that their children are at school on time in the morning and at the noon hour. There is seldom a legitimate excuse for a pupil being tardy. Children should be taught the great importance of being prompt and on time. They must learn the valuable and fundamental habits while attending school if they are to ever learn them. We must have the help of the home along this line.

Joint Meetings of Literary Societies Tuesday

The Curtain and Bear Cat Literary Societies both held a joint meeting Tuesday evening for the purpose of boosting the sale of the tickets. The tickets are not selling as the Athletic Association would like for them to sell. The association wishes that every loyal business man and every red-blooded school pupil would buy one of them to help with the financing of the football team. Anson comes here Friday, Sept. 22 for the first scheduled game of the season and we have not taken in enough money to bring the Anson aggregation here, so let's everyone buy a ticket and boost the home team by turning out a thousand strong. Buy your ticket before the Anson game so you can get the whole benefit of the ticket. The ticket entitles you to every scheduled game played at home in football, basketball, and baseball. These tickets do not entitle you to champion games should there chance to be any played here. All High School pupils have these tickets for sale or if you cannot find a high school boy or girl telephone to the high school building and one will be delivered to you.

Pep Meetings

The pep meetings that are being held each day in the auditorium are proving a great success. The students are learning the few yells that we have and Friday we expect to give the team rousing support. The team will not feel like doing its best if it does not have the proper support.

Everyone who is interested enough in the football team to hand in the few yells they know, it will be appreciated very much by the yell leaders.

First Scheduled Football Game Friday

The first scheduled game for the Haskell Grid Warriors will be staged at the ball park Friday, Sept. 22 at four p. m. The local bunch plays the heavy Anson Aggregation for the first time in several years.

From what we can hear of the Anson gang they have a heavy and fast team and the local boys are expecting to have a good fight on their hands. The Haskell gang has had about four weeks of intensive training and although they were beaten by Stamford in a practice game at Stamford a few days ago they are expecting to take the long end of the score here Friday.

Everyone that is interested in the King of Sports will be very well pleased with the game and we are expecting to have a large crowd out for the first game of the season.

The game will start at 4 p. m. and the admission will be 25 and 50 cents. Season tickets are on sale by all high school students that will entitle you to all the games played on the local field.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Theford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. So natural! Try Black-Draught. Sold everywhere.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS FOR ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION

Federal Prohibition Director David H. Morris, Austin, Texas, states that Commissioner Haynes has instituted a series of conferences of directors and other enforcement officials in various sections of the country to discuss numerous problems and map out plans for solution, and a conference will soon be held in this state. Several such conferences have already been held and matters of vital concern to the public have been considered.

Among the problems on which action will be taken is that of rubbing compounds which through bootleg channels have caused many deaths. Analysis of several hundred gallons of seized product revealed quantities of concentrated lye, an excessive amount of which remained in the compound even after redistillation. Conspiracy sections of the Volstead Act will be evoked against cereal beverage manufacturers who inject such rubbing compounds into so-called “near beer.” Jamaica ginger be limited to one fluid ounce, and exposure of an alleged Gorman fake preparation reputed to produce wine, champagne and brandy; also the successful suppression of a fraud to hoodwink the public with so-called “Canadian Rye.”

Directors have been instructed to educate agents along the lines of manufacture and transportation of industrial or denatured alcohol. The men will be taught the difference in varieties of alcohol and it is believed that violations of this nature will be greatly lessened.

A signal victory for enforcement was the recent announcement by a leading vaudeville circuit that performers would not be allowed to make humorous reference to the 18th Amendment. Commissioner Haynes is elated that within so short a space of time such splendid compliance with a request made by him upon assuming his duties a little over a year ago has been secured, and that editorial and news writers, cartoonists, reporters, scenario writers, playwrights, and performers are lending every aid to law enforcement, thus sounding the prohibition joke to death knell.

Over 12,000 convictions for violation of the 18th Amendment have been obtained in federal courts throughout the country during the past year, showing that courts and juries are displaying an improved attitude.

In the opinion of Commissioner Haynes the most effective weapon in the hands of enforcement officials is the “padlock” provision, which provides throughout the country, some of the most notorious resorts being affected that a place may be closed as a nuisance. This provision is being enforced by its operation.

Conference will discuss the proposal made by certain directors that Bertillon records be kept of every captured bootlegger and moonshiner in order that prompt and accurate identification made be made of persons who violate the prohibition laws, as well as other criminals. The records would be sent to police departments all over the country and, it is believed, would aid materially in suppressing bootleggers activities.

Unspeakable conditions surround the manufacture of bootleg whiskey, according to daily reports being received by Commissioner Haynes concerning the unsanitary locations of stills, and vermin, maggots and dead animals of all kinds which have been found in vats of mash. In many instances concentrated lye is used to hasten fermentation, as many as 200 cans being found in one place gives one an idea of the amount of stuff used and the extremely poisonous mixture which results.

Perhaps the most revolting employed by violators which come to the notice of enforcement officials is that by which color-containing bodies used by students for dissection work are drained of alcohol for bootlegging. Although the stuff is redistilled, being distributed, wood alcohol remains, according to some of the seized product.
