Austin. — Campaigns are shaping up on some of the seven proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on by Texans at the General Election on November 3.

While public interest centers on the liquor-by-the-drink amendment, there are other major alterations in the state's laws to be considered by the voters.

In their order on the ballot, these are:

1. Enlarge the powers of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to censure or remove lower court judges and justices of the peace as well as district and appellate judges.
2. Authorize the legislature to enact a law on the sale of mixed drinks.
3. Provide for legislative establishment of a uniform method of tax assessment on ranch, farm and forest lands based on the capability of the lands to support the raising of livestock or production of farm and forest crops.
4. Make the State Building Commission a three-member appointive agency.
5. Permit counties to issue road bonds up to one-fourth of their assessed real property valuation on a majority vote.
6. Make town or city home-steads of $10,000 and less exempt from forced sale (presently set at $5,000).
7. Allow the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and functions of government and for performance of governmental functions by contract between the political subdivision in any county.

Texas voters have adopted 195 amendments to the 1876 constitution, over the years, and rejected 125.

DESEGREGATION SUITS THREATEN — Federal negotiators report that only a few of the 38 Texas school districts, called on the carpet concerning segregation, had satisfactory plans for complying with U. S. guidelines. They conducted a two-day conference with school officials here and gave most of them another week to try and work out something or face a lawsuit by the U. S. Justice Department.

Negotiators suggested "pairing" of adjoining neighborhood school districts to get better racial balance.

Lurkin, Marshall, Midland and Katy found no ground for agreement with the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Justice Department negotiators. Some complained that federal officials raised a new issue . . . that of integrating Mexican-Americans, as well as blacks. Most want to continue their efforts to find a way to comply with suggested plans.

Palestine reached a tentative agreement on pairing plans involving two grades in each school and requiring limited busing.

LOOPHOLE COSTS — State has lost millions in land revenue due to an old loophole in the law, which was temporarily closed last year. State Land Office has been

They spent one night at Avila Beach in their cousins trailer house, visited Hearst Castle at San Simeon, the Madonna Inn at San Luis Obispo, and the Danish Capital of America in Solvang. This Danish town is extensively populated with Danes and is one of California's leading tourist attractions. It is structurally designed in the authentic Danish manner, having four large windmills, five Danish restaurants serving Danish foods and bakeries whose pastries are the finest. They also visited the city of Lompac, known as the Flower Seed Capital of the World, where they made pictures in the acres and acres of flower fields. Touring the San Fernando Valley they viewed the great orange, almond, walnut and other fruit groves.

Another unusual thing for them was a Basque dinner at the Wool Growers Restaurant in Bakersfield. On Friday afternoon they toured Hollywood and viewed the taping of the "Newly-Wed T. V. Show" which will be shown on August 29, before leaving for their airport at 10 p. m. to return home. They arrived in Dallas at 2:30 a. m. Saturday, ate breakfast and drove to Mrs. Austin's home in Bonham by daylight. Mrs. Smith returned to Talco Sunday, reporting it to be one of the most wonderful weeks of her life.

Registration Still On Kindergarten

Registration is still being held for the kindergarten program of the Talco-Bogata Schools. First preference is being given to children who will be five (5) years of age as of September 1, 1970 but it may be possible to accommodate children somewhat younger than this age.

Supt. Talmadge Morgan stated that the tuition will be approximately $15.00 per month depending on the number of students enrolled. The kindergarten will continue to be operated in the Talco Elementary School with transportation being furnished from the Bogata area to the kindergarten.

Parents of children who are interested in enrolling in the kindergarten should contact Supt. Talmadge Morgan at the Rivercrest High School. He stated that only about 20 students will be enrolled in the program and that students will be taken on a first come basis.

Tentative plans call for the program to begin on August 24. Mr. Morgan said that it would not be necessary for parents who have already registered to register again but that it would be wise for them to confirm if their child will attend.

Haynes-Diles Wedding Vows Saturday

Miss Ramona Mae Haynes became the bride of Jimmy Dale Diles of Memphis, Tenn., in semi-formal double-ring vows Saturday at 7 p. m. in the Church of Christ, Talco. Bill Diles of Searcy, Ark., brother of the bridegroom, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haynes of Talco are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Diles of Williford, Ark.

The wedding scene was adorned with daisies and ivy and lighted by the soft glow of candles on each side of the altar, flanked by baskets of daisies and gladioli.

Before and during the ceremony, recorded music was presented. The wedding party emerged to "More" and the traditional bridal march was presented as the bride entered with her father who gave his permission for the marriage.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length gown with empire waistline, high neckline with roll collar and just below elbow-length sleeves. Of embossed lace paper, the gown which had its own train, was a Chang-In-Time of Dallas creation. The bride's below shoulder length veiling of illusion was held by a cluster of cultured seed pearls and simulated lily-of-the-valley. She carried a bouquet of daisies and valley lilies, centered with two cymbodium orchids.

Miss Kay Craig of Dallas, formerly of Gladewater, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of mint green in a small daisy print.

Miss Berenda Alexander of Talco and Mrs. Sharon Perdue of Abilene were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were identical to the one worn by the honor attendant except in yellow.

All three wore short white gloves, carried a nosegay of daisies and wore fresh daisies in their hair. The dresses were full-length empire creations with short puffed sleeves.

Bob Stiger of New Orleans, La., was best man. Groomsman were Bob Diles of Memphis, brother of the groom, and Mike Haynes of Talco, brother of the bride.

Jim Davis of Bishop seated guests.

The bride is a graduate of Rivercrest High School and Harding College, from which she earned her BA degree in business education. Until her marriage she was employed at Draughan's College, Dallas.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Williford High School in Arkansas, attended Harding College where he majored in biology. Presently he is employed for Wash, Inc., as a dispatcher in Memphis.

TO HONOR the newlyweds, a reception was held following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. James W. Haynes were hosts. The event was held at Talco State Bank.

Miss Alexander presided at the bride's book at the registry. Background music was presented throughout the event.

The bride's table, which was centered with a bouquet of daisies, held her four-tiered cake adorned with fresh daisies. It was served with punch and daisy-shaped mints.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Harriet Zibrough of Garland and Miss Sharon Parker of Kansas City, Mo.

A small daisy bouquet adorned the groom's table which held two heart-shaped chocolate cakes. The bride's name in white icing was on one cake; the groom's on the other. Coffee and nuts were served with the cakes by Mrs. Billie Diles of Searcy, Ark. and Mrs. Mary Diles of Memphis, Tenn., sisters-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Charles Driggers of Mt. Pleasant and the bridesmaids distributed rice bags before the couple left on a wedding trip.

For traveling Mrs. Diles wore a navy blue dress with short sleeve jacket trimmed in white. Her accessories were navy and white and she wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

They will reside at 4452 Buxway, Apt. 2, Memphis, Tenn. ON FRIDAY evening after the church wedding rehearsal, the couple, members of their families and wedding party had dinner at Gauntt's Cafe, Talco.

A large yellow candle centered the T-shaped table which featured center runners of daisies and greenery. The couple presented
