Rivercrest Loses To Hawkins 38-0

The Hawkins Hawks piled up 22 points in a big second quarter to down the Rivercrest Rebels 38-0 here Friday night.

The Rebels were able to get only 23 total yards against the stiff Hawkins defense, five by rushing and 18 by passing.

Hawkins, on the other hand, rolled up 190 yards on the ground and 32 through the air.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hawkins lashed out with a 55 yard run by quarterback Mike Morrison with 8:00 left in the second period. Sadler added the two extra points on a run and the Hawks led 8-0.

The Hawks came right back for another score on a 30 yard return of an intercepted pass by Burns. Sadler again added the two extra points and the Hawks led by a 16-0 margin.

Another Hawkins score came with 4:26 left in the second quarter when Sadler scored on an eight yard run. The PAT attempt was no good and Hawkins led 22-0 at the half.

Rivercrest shut out the Hawks until only 26 seconds were left in the third period when halfback Johnny Jackson scored from five yards out. Sadler again added the two point conversion and Hawkins led 30-0.

The final Hawkins score came with five minutes left in the final period, when quarterback Pat Holmes scored on a two yard run. Sadler got his fourth two point conversion to make the score 38-0.

This week, the Rebels will travel to White Oak.

Wright Patman's Weekly Letter

First Congressional Dist. of Texas "Heart of the Gulf Southwest"

IT WOULD SAVE TAXPAYERS $150 MILLION if we abolished advisory commissions, the great majority of which do not serve the public interest. There are at least 1,600 different such advisory and interagency panels floating around the executive branch of the government, including nearly 200 Presidential commissions. This Administration is particularly fond of the commission form of government — less than 40 Presidential groups were named during its first 18 months in office. With rare exceptions, such commissions are used to dodge the issues, to circumvent the democratic processes of government, to give special interests a convenient backdoor entry to the policy-making levels of government, and to usurp the functions of the elected representatives of the people in the House and Senate.

MOST ADVISORY COMMISSIONS COULD BE ELIMINATED, and in a recent House speech. I explained the reasons for my concern over the proliferation of these makeshift substitutes for honest and forthright leadership. THIS REMINDS ME that one of the most distinguished panels ever assembled consisting of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, was appointed in 1776 to devise a Great Seal of the United States, but their combined talents failed to produce an acceptable design. This technical chore was finally completed by experts in the field of heraldry and approved by the Congress in 1782.

IT IS ODD to note that the reverse of the Great Seal, as depicted on page 25 of the "Our Flag" booklet (offered free to constituents in last week's newsletter and still available) was not cut then nor has it ever been cut since, being allowed to go unnoticed officially to this day.

THE GREAT SEAL IN POSTER FORM. A large (24" x 20") brilliantly colored poster depicting the Great Seal of the United States, together with a leaflet explaining the history, symbolism, and uses of the Seal, have been prepared by the Department of State which has custody of this symbol of our Nation's sovereignty. Suitable for classroom, office, or service club display, single copies of both the poster and leaflet will be sent free to constituents upon request to my office.

THE LEAST EXPENSIVE FORM OF MEDICAL CARE HAS GOT TO BE PREVENTION. Billions of dollars in public and private funds have been used to find ways to prevent contagious diseases such as polio, measles, smallpox, tetanus, whooping cough, and diphtheria. All of these can cause permanent physical damage or even death, but each is now preventable. It is inexcusable, therefore, that most of these diseases are actually on the increase — diphtheria is up 150%, polio up 125%, and measles up 100%. To protect rare Americans, the House has overwhelmingly approved (by a vote of 312 to 1) H. R. 11913 to help finance state immunization programs.

VETERANS' PENSIONS. In a recent Weekly Letter, I discussed the fact that veterans who are otherwise eligible do not have to prove disability after age 65 to qualify for a pension — in other words, for pension purposes veterans are presumed to be disabled at age 65. I am pleased to report that several constituents contacted me after reading this item and are now receiving pensions. They were not previously aware of their entitlement and I am deeply grateful that I was able to help increase their incomes by calling this provision of law to their attention.

TO ANY OTHER VETERANS who feel they meet the basic requirements (1) honorable wartime service; (2) 90 days or more service; and (3) limited income and net worth — remember that after age 65 you do not have to be disabled if otherwise qualified. I will be pleased to forward an application for pension to any constituent upon request so that an official determination can be made by the Veterans Administration as to entitlement. To assist you in determining whether you meet the income requirements, see the following paragraph.

FOR EXAMPLE. If you are an otherwise eligible 65-year-old wartime veteran with an income of between $1900 and $2000 annually, you may qualify for a

Austin. — State Republican and Democratic parties have put their appeals to Texas voters in writing — via the platforms drafted at their separate conventions last week.

Democrats, party veterans said repeatedly, "wrote the most progressive planks ever."

Republicans put the emphasis on attacking crime, campus disorders and drug use.

Highlights of the Democratic statement of party goals include:

• A far-reaching vocational-technical education program, repeal of annual voter registration requirements and substitution of "registration by voting" every four years, opposition to a tax on groceries, minimum foundation program for policemen with state standards of qualification and pay, state civil service, expansion of unemployment insurance benefits.

• Increase in workmen's compensation benefits, creation of a public utilities regulatory commission, establishment of an office of consumer protection, elimination of the $80 million a year welfare outlay ceiling, an increase in minimum wage, sweeping insurance reforms and creation of a state management research commission to promote governmental efficiency.

Republican platform highlights are:

• Legislation to end discrimination in state governmental employment and to insure equal pay for equal work, creation of single-member legislative districts, realistic technical and vocational courses commencing at junior high school level and offered in nearly all high schools, condemnation of forced busing of students to achieve racial balance;

• Opposition to a tax on groceries, later voter registration deadlines, inclusion of all insurance company income in calculating auto insurance rates, admission of oral confessions in trials, and life sentence without parole for murdering a policeman.

AFL-CIO "BACKS" DEMOS — Following the conventions, Texas AFL-CIO leaders "urged" support by labor of all statewide candidates of the Democratic party in the general election.

Decision, AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown explained, left union members free to do as they pleased, since there was no formal "endorsement" carrying monetary support or mandatory vote.

Big labor's hang-up was in the U. S. Senate race. Some union spokesmen were reluctant to back Democrat Lloyd Bentsen but were likewise unenthusiastic about Republican candidate George Bush.

Committee of Political Education (COPE) gave "special recognition" to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Agriculture Commissioner John White and Land Commissioner nominee Bob Armstrong.

MIXED DRINK STUDY URGED — Alcoholic Beverage Commission directed its staff to study liquor - by - the - drink laws before the mixed drink constitutional amendment is voted on November 3.

ABC officials expressed concern that the liquor-by-the-drink law, if approved by the voters and Legislature, be tightly enforced.

Meanwhile, "Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws," sponsors of the liquor-by-the-drink amendment, announced a statewide publicity and advertising campaign to put over its amendment. "Texans Who Care" organization will conduct an opposition campaign.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP — Texas Railroad Commission bumped the state oil allowable for October to 87 per cent of potential.

This would be the highest since January, 1949. Increase was granted on the understanding of strict compliance with the order directing record allowable.

Order provides for no violation of the no-flare regulations, no gasoline plant processing casing-head gas to flare gas in October, and a curb on excessive brine production.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROGRAM CHANGED — Texas Employment Commission has called attention to a new federal law which will result in the biggest single increase in worker coverage since the federal-state program began.

An estimated 400,000 Texas workers will be covered, and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Federal law provides for payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. Federal government will pay half the extended benefits — once regular benefits are exhausted.

Bill also makes more jobholders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to insurance tax and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who already are covered by the law. About 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to the coverage in Texas. These organizations employ four or more in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, and have the option of paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid.

TEXTBOOKS REJECTED — State textbook committee rejected four of six proposed literature textbooks written for minority group students in high school. Committee chairman expressed disappointment that only one of five books recommended for 11th and 12th grades was specially written to appeal to minorities.

One committee member complained of language used in one of the controversial texts.

BETTER BUSINESS

BY W. POST

BROTHER, CAN YOU SPARE THE TIME?

Most business's come to hard-times because they stop doing the very things which made them successful in the first place. This old idea should have special new meaning under today's business and employment conditions.
 The beginning of almost any successful company usually shows the top men went after business and worked smarter than the competition.

Reduction of operating costs has been the preoccupation for so long that it's time to consider the final effect. Tighten your belt enough and you'll cut off circulation.
 Business belt-tightening has the added fault of keeping the best men at a desk when they should be out beating the bushes to create new income needed to maintain the payroll.
 To get business going again, we need to paraphrase an old song, "Brother, Can You Spare The Time?"
 The executive shortage in the last decade developed new ideas and tools to amplify the time of our most capable men. Now that the economy is rugged, some of these tools and ideas are beginning to make more sense.
 Since nothing much happens in business until someone sells something, within the past few weeks a number of major firms have formed teams of top management specialists and sent them out to show customers how to use their products to greater advantage.
 These management teams range in size from two or three to 10 men. The boss himself, his finance, marketing, and manufacturing vice presidents are in the field applying the firms best muscle directly on the problems of the firm and its customers. When they identify a new prospect they can tell the product story like it really is.

 Should this become a trend it could hypo current economic conditions and create new ways of doing business for the 70's.
 To get the most effective work out of the management teams, some firms have made new use of the tools at hand as a means to have their cake and eat it too. For example, they lease business jets, or other business planes, at less dollar cost than transporting the team by airlines.
 They have their cake because the team can fly 2000 miles, work a full day and be back in the office the next day. Leasing, an idea of the 60's means the company can have the 560 mph jets and not tie-up cash needed for day-to-day operation expenses. And, next to time, money seems to be the hardest item to come by.
 One type of business jet, the Sabreliner, seats up to 12 men and can operate at airline standards into almost 16 times as many airports as the airlines. So the effect of such a team effort can reach any corner of the nation fast.

There are many such tools and ideas which only need to be put to work by men with the energy and imagination to help to get our economy up to speed again.
 We all have the same question to face: "Brother, can you spare the time?" to create new success in your business when times are tough. It seems a better question to answer than, "Can you spare a dime?"
