RECITAL BY EDISON ARTISTS ATTRACTION OF THE SEASON

One of the most unique and pleasing recitals ever given in this city was presented Tuesday evening at Dick's Theatre by Miss Helen Davis, soprano, Miss Sloyd Sanderson Fagan, whistler, and Willard Osborne, violinist—three of the most popular artists of the Edison Company, demonstrated not only their own rare talent, but the wonderful re-creative value of the Edison phonograph.

When Mr. Osborne appeared on the stage and stated that Miss Helen Davis would sing in unison with her re-created voice and that the audience would not be able to tell the difference between re-created and living voice, many persons were skeptical. Standing by the side of an official laboratory model of the Edison owned by Charles McGregor of this city, Miss Davis opened the recital after a short introduction by Mr. Osborne. Miss Davis' voice was really superb and her enunciation was perfect, her manner exquisite and her presentation did not suffer when re-created by the Edison, which is saying a great deal. As an artist of the highest class both in appearance and performance Miss Davis fulfilled the highest expectations of her appreciative audience.

Miss Fagan, who is probably one of the highest paid artists in the Edison company, and the most noted lady whistler in the world, charmed her audience at every appearance with her remarkable talent and ability to imitate bird language with a degree of perfection seldom heard. Miss Fagan was also accompanied by the Edison in a re-creation of her selections, which was such an exact reproduction that one could not distinguish without the aid of their eyes when Miss Fagan was whistling and when the part was being carried by the Edison alone.

Mr. Osborne's presentations were a rare treat, his selections being a reproduction of Albert Spaulding, the most notable of American violinists. Mr. Osborne displayed a talent and ability quite sufficient to place him in the same class with Mr. Spaulding. One of the most interesting features of the program was the re-creation by the Edison of a piano solo, as the piano is the most difficult of all musical instruments to re-create, yet the Edison re-created popular selections with a marvelous degree of exactness.

The recital was a success in every respect and music lovers are not only convinced but are indebted to McNeill & Smith, the local dealers, for the high class and delightful entertainment.

NOTED POET, SONG-WRITER AND CARTOONIST COMING

Thomas Elmore Lucy, ex-poet laureate of Texas and now poet-laureate of Missouri, editor of the "Missouri Mule," author of several volumes of verse, humorous stories, etc., will appear in Haskell, Wednesday evening May 12th. Lucy is quite famous as a cartoonist, too. He sings songs of his own composition, reads many of his own poems, impersonates Poe, Stevenson and others and winds up his entertainment with chalk-work of both humorous and serious varieties.

Lucy is descended from the famous Sir Lucy, on whose estate Shakespeare is supposed to have "poached" at will. Being a poet, too, the present Mr. Lucy will not spend his time in Haskell vilifying Shakespeare for straying sheep stolen from his noble ancestor. On the contrary, he will probably show his forgiveness of and admiration for the world's master poet by reading some of the latter's poems.

Mr. Lucy will give one of the best and most versatile programs rendered in Haskell during the year.

ELKS WILL STAGE BOXING EXHIBITION

KOURI NO. 1 WAITING ON NEW STRING OF CASING

Work on Kouri No. 1 on the Ballard ranch has been shut down for a few days waiting on a new string of six and five-eighths inch casing. All but a few joints of the old casing has been pulled from the well, and it is believed by those who have the work in charge that it will be an easy matter to pick up these, as soon as the new string arrives. The well is said to be showing more oil than it has for some time and those who have visited the well and are in a position to know an oil well when they see one, believe that Kouri No. 1 will be a good producer when the salt water is shut out.

The other rigs in the county have been shut down for some time for different reasons.

HILBERT PARNELL GETS SEVEN YEARS IN PEN

Hilbert Parnell, charged with seduction, was given seven years in the state penitentiary by a jury in the District Court here Tuesday afternoon. The case was called for trial Monday morning and the jury completed early in the afternoon. Taking of the testimony was begun and completed Monday evening. The attorneys in the case finished their arguments Tuesday at noon. The State was represented by District Attorney Joe Randel and W. H. Murchison. The defense represented by Smith & Grissom. A motion is pending for a new trial.

RAISE IN SCHOOL TAX CARRIED BY GOOD MAJORITY

In the election which was held last Saturday in the Haskell Independent School District for the purpose of increasing the school tax from fifty cents to not exceeding one dollar on the $100.00 valuation the tax carried by a majority of 56 votes, there being 188 votes for the tax and 132 against.

A great deal was involved in the election, more than is necessary to dwell on here. On the whole we might say that the future of the Haskell schools is now assured—with the new high school building completed and with plenty of money in sight, Haskell will be able to maintain her position of the best public schools in this section.

A Flower For Mother

Shall it be white in token
Of a voice that's forever still?
Of a form low-bent and broken
That has vanished beyond the hill?
Shall it be white to remind me
Of a face that is turned away—
Of an hour that is turned behind me
In the grave of a Yesterday?

Or shall it be red as ohem
Of a life and love that abide—
That have vanquished the sable foeman
And walk unseen by my side?
For I seem to hear her call me
When I falter along the path,
To struggle what-ere befall me
Toward the gleam of the Aftermath.

Shall it be white, for sorrow,
For a soul that has gone across?
For a hope of a far-off morrow,
For a badge of a bitter loss?
Or shall it be red, in loyal
Belief that she's just ahead—
That her love, complete and royal
Has never been really dead?

Oh, Mother! For you, white roses
To tell of your life's pure creed,
And the lesson your life discloses
To those who may pause to read;
But, also, a red carnation
I lay on this May-green shrine,
For your soothing touch on my forehead,
Your strengthening hand in mine.
—Charles W. Smith, Grand Chancellor, in "Michigan Pythian."

INFORMATION GIVEN FOR DESTROYING THE RAT

The following information for destroying the rat is given by Dr. Carrick, State Health Officer:

Rats may be killed with certainty in any enclosed structure by the use of sulphur dioxide, carbon bisulphid, hydrocyanic acid gas or carbon monoxide. Sulphur dioxide is particularly useful to destroy rats in cellars, on railway cars, stables, barns, sewers and other places where they abound and which are not injured by the corrosive sulphur fumes. No less than three pounds of sulphur should be burned for each 1000 cubic feet of space, and the exposure should not be less than five hours. In fumigation it is imperative to see that all cracks of the building are closed. Small strips of adhesive paper may be secured from druggists or flour paste and stiff paper may be used in closing the opening. For the layman the sulphur fumigation is recommended. The sulphur should be placed in an iron kettle which in turn is to rest in a pan of water, and precautions should be taken to prevent fire from the spluttering sulphur. A small amount of alcohol or gasoline might be poured on top of the sulphur to facilitate lighting the sulphur. The most effective way to fumigate is with hydrocyanic acid gas. However, this method should be used only by one familiar with handling cyanide on account of the fact that it is a deadly poison.

Connecting the exhaust of an automobile engine to the entrance of rat burrows according to Mr. G. W. Park, rat specialist, is a proven method as the fumes will kill any rats they reach.

Flooding burrows by the use of garden hose is effective in the destruction of rodents, drowning both adult and young, making void their places of nesting and breeding.

Natural enemies of the rat include dogs, cats, weasels, ferrets, badgers, skunks and minks. Of these, the dog and cat are best adapted for use in the city. Trained fox, Irish or Scotch terriers are the best rat catchers. Cats are of service as ratters in warehouses or granaries, but the ordinary domestic cat is too well fed to attack large rats.

The farmer should avail himself of the help of his rat terrier when he begins to move his grain either in the crib or in the fields for undoubtedly many rats will be in migrating the moment their harbor is disturbed. Well trained terriers will soon prove their worth. In a campaign in Williamson County a young lad, less than ten years, with the aid of his two faithful dogs, won the first prize, having to his credit more than five hundred rats in one week's endeavor.

Tearing up of sidewalks, garage floor and barn floors (if there are signs of rat holes on the outside) will undoubtedly reveal a large rat stronghold. Tearing up of one barn floor in Jefferson County revealed 150 rats. In Bell county the campaign by wrecking and with the employment of dogs, clubs and guns brought about the death of more than 128,000 rats.

Valuable as are all methods of rat slaughter for repressing the rat, it must be remembered that at best they are only partial and temporary in their effect. It is rarely possible to destroy all the rats on the premises by such means. Even when this is accomplished, they are soon replaced by other rats from neighboring places as long as the premises furnish an ideal feeding and nesting place for them.

As stated above, the only way to get rid of rats permanently is to "build them out of existence." This is best done by the use of concrete or cement in all construction work. Every town should pass a garbage ordinance, providing for the collection of garbage twice a week, and for the burning of this refuse in an incinerator. Garbage dumps are feeding and breeding places. It is also recommended that a rat-proofing ordinance be passed, requiring that buildings to be constructed and buildings undergoing repairs to the extent of fifty per cent of the original cost, be made rat-proof. Old cellars may be made rat-proof at comparatively small cost by the judicious use of cement. Rat holes may be permanently closed with a mixture of cement, sand and broken glass or sharp bits of crockery or stone. The principle is to allow no opening or crevice of any kind within which rats may nest or find protection from their natural enemies.

Plank sidewalks in the back yards, the throwing of old boxes in the basement, or the piling of old lumber or refuse around will supply shelter for rats and furnish a safe retreat for breeding purposes, so that the rat nuisance will continue even though buildings are amply protected.

The idea, then, is not only to rat-proof, but to clean up your premises. Absence of rats, boxes and refuse of an inviting sort will mean the absence of rats, for they must have suitable breeding places, and if such places are not to be found in your locality, the propagation of the pest will suffer a material hindrance.

The concreting of basements and the removal of plank sidewalks and the replacement thereof with cement have the additional advantages of excluding dampness from the house and contributing to the general cleanliness and sanitary conditions of the premises.

In dwellings infested with rats, wire screen compartments should be used for storing food. Flour, seeds, meats and the like should be kept in wire cages. Ice boxes and cold storage rooms should be made proof against rats by an outer covering of heavy wire netting of not more than one-quarter inch mesh. Basement windows and other openings should be screened or raised above the ground.

Where concreting is impracticable, the elevation of the floors above the ground to a height sufficient to permit free access to the natural enemies of the rat is an effective aid in the work of extermination.

Since much of the rat's food consists of garbage and other waste material, it is not enough to bar the rat from the cellar, pantry and private food stores. Garbage and offal of all kinds must be disposed of, so that rats cannot make use of them for food. Such things should be collected in covered metallic receptacles, which should be frequently emptied and kept tightly closed and clean at all times. Small amounts of food scattered upon the floors or on the ground over the premises will attract and feed rats even if the main supply of food be kept from them ever so carefully.

Stables, back sheds, and chicken coops should receive the same careful attention as dwelling houses, and likewise should be made rat-proof, if the community is to be permanently rid of this dangerous and destructive pest.

To make sure of permanent deratization, we must make it impossible for rats to find sustenance by depriving them of all food, and must not only destroy all existing rat nests, but also eliminate the possibility of their digging or finding new ones.

"Rat-proofing of buildings is a cheap form of insurance against fire and pestilence. He who dwelleth rat free hath no plague."

CHURCH LADIES HOLD JOINT MEETING MONDAY

In response to an invitation from the Methodist Missionary Society, the ladies of the different societies of the town met Monday afternoon at the Methodist church.

Each guest was met at the door and presented with a spray of honey-suckle by Mesdames Hugh Smith and Kimbrough, and a sense of well being seemed to follow us as we entered the church which was so attractive in its decorations of spring flowers, vines and pot plants.

A very hearty welcome to all was extended by Mrs. Montgomery. Mrs. Fields responded by saying how very much she appreciated this courtesy on the part of the society to her guests. Mesdames Tandy of Amarillo, Douglas, of Hamlin and Potter of Bowie, Mrs. Reynolds as representative from the Baptist church had cooperation as her subject. We know that much good could be accomplished by following her suggestions.

Mrs. Morrison of the Christian church spoke on the spirit of the Master, stressing the point, that we so often lose sight of the fact that His was a life of service to rich and poor alike.

Mrs. Potter's subject of Construction or building for the future, was one that should receive careful consideration from each individual. We are living strictly for self and in the present or do we realize the wonderful opportunities for service that are ours today and do we grasp each one as it comes? For never shall we pass this selfsame way again.

Mrs. Tandy told of her church work in Amarillo. She is also supervisor of music in the schools at that place and emphasized the possibilities of the victrola in creating a taste for good music. Really good music to be appreciated, must be heard often and has a refining influence while too much of the other kind is demoralizing.

Mrs. Douglas of Hamlin will be pleasantly remembered as the woman who brought the art exhibit to us a short time ago. This time by request, Mrs. Douglas spoke about the Passion Play as she witnessed it about eleven years ago in the Bavarian Highlands. One scene she described as being very effective, was Christ's entry into Jerusalem, in which every village about six hundred in number takes part.

Another visitor adding very materially to the pleasure of the occasion was Mrs. Hall Morrison of Graham. Mrs. Morrison's reminiscence of the early days of Haskell was thoroughly enjoyed by the later additions as well as the old timers.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed while the members of the young ladies society served delicious punches and sandwiches.

Mother's Day May 8th

At the first Methodist Church of Haskell next Sunday morning, May 8th, Mother's Day will be observed at the eleven o'clock hour.

There will be special music and a reading, after which Rev. W. B. Dodson will preach. ### WIT AND HUMOR

An Easy Diplomat.
The sailor had been showing the lady visitor over the ship. In thanking him she said:
"I see that by the rules of the ship tips are forbidden."
"Lor' bless yer 'cart, ma'am," replied Jack, "so were the apples in the Garden of Eden."—Tit-Bits.

A Laugh on the Governor
The Governor's wife was telling Bridget about her husband.
"My husband, Bridget," she said proudly, "is the head of the state militia."
"O! 'ought as much, ma'am," said Bridget cheerfully; "ain't he got th' foine malicious look!"—Ladies Home Journal.

The Brotherhood of Man
The commuter had a row with the conductor. At the end of the row the commuter turned to a friend and said:
"Well, the P. D. Q. will never see another cent of my money after this."
The conductor, who was departing, looked back and snarled: "What'll you do? Walk?"
"Oh, no," said the commuter; "I'll stop buying tickets and pay my fare to you."—Old.

A Pomological Expert
Nurse—"Why, Bobbie, you selfish little boy? Why didn't you give your sister a piece of your apple?"
Bobbie—"I gave her the seeds. She can plant them and have a whole orchard."—Judge.

We, Too, Were Boys
A little boy had been given a white suit, and before going to the picnic was cautioned strictly to keep his new apparel clean. He obeyed with scrupulous care until late in the afternoon when with a tired look and yearning appeal he asked:
"Mamma, may I sit on my pants?"—Everybody.

The Old Reprobate!
The Scotch minister rose and cleared his throat, but, remained silent, while the congregation awaited the sermon in puzzled expectancy. At last he spoke: "There's a laddie awa' there in the gallery a-kissin' a lassie," he said. "When he's done ah'll begin."—Ladies Home Journal.

A Coffin Cough
An English writer, in describing a tiger hunt in India, says: "The tiger came toward me, bellowing and grunting, and when we got opposite the screen he gave one of those fearful coughs which only a man who has been close to such a beast can appreciate. It was eleven feet long."—Heard It.

Perverse Critter
A Dutchman, returning from a hunting expedition, was met by a friend, who noting the flatness of his game-bag, said tauntingly:
"Well, I see you've been hunting."
The luckless hunter nodded.
"Shoot anything?"
"I shot mein dog."
"Was, he mad?"
"Well, he wasn't so tam pleased!"—Rath Moidy.

His Money's Worth
They had just become engaged.
"What joy it will be," she exclaimed, "for me to share all your griefs and sorrows!"
"But, darling," he protested, "I have none."
"No," she answered, "but when we are married you will have."—Moldy, but Rich.

A Money Grubbing Nemesis
A suburban doctor whose practice was not very great sat in his study reading away a lazy afternoon in early summer. His man servant appeared at the door.
"Doctor, them boys are stealin' your green peaches again. Shall I chase them away?"
The doctor looked thoughtful for a moment, then leveled his eyes at the servant.
"No," he said.—Lippincott.

HELPFUL HINTS

Caramel Custard—Take one tablespoon of water, one and one-third cups milk, two eggs, two tablespoons brown sugar and a few grains of salt. Melt the first amount of sugar with the water over a slow fire until a clear syrup is formed. Warm custard cups and put an equal amount of caramel into each cup, turning cup so that the sides are coated with syrup. Beat the eggs slightly, add milk, sugar and salt and pour into cups. Set cups in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven till custard is set. Water should not boil. Turn onto small plates and sprinkle with chopped hickory nuts.

Eggs in Nests—Spread rounds of bread with contents of one small can deviled ham or meat. Beat up egg whites to a stiff froth, season lightly with salt and pepper, pile on top of ham, make well in center on top of egg yolks. Bake in a moderate oven until eggs are set. Garnish with parsley and serve hot.

Cream Dressing for Cold Slaw—Whip one cup cream stiff, add one teaspoon sugar and two tablespoons vinegar and mix. Season cabbage with salt and paprika and mix with dressing.

Baked Salmon in Pepper Cases—1-lb. can pink or chum salmon, 8 green peppers, crackers, butter. Remove skin and bones from one can of salmon, season with salt and pepper and onion juice. Mix with an equal quantity of cracker crumbs moistened with butter, or left-over stuffing can be used instead. The mixture should be quite moist; if not, add a little milk. Cut lengthwise 8 sweet green peppers, remove seeds, parboil five minutes and fill with fish. Put in baking pan, surround with hot water, and cook until cases are soft but not broken.

Broiled Steak—Trim and wipe steak, which should be at least 1 inch thick. Rub broiler with fat, arrange steak with thickest part in center of broiler. Have fire clear and very hot, but without blaze. Hold steak close to fire. Turn every 1-2 minute, that it may sear quickly. When one-half done season with salt and pepper. Steak 1 inch thick will broil in four minutes.

Stuffed Eggs With Salmon—Make a regular picky salmon salad with the chopped celery, yolks of eggs and mayonnaise. Take as many eggs as desired, put them into boiling water and let stand for 35 minutes. Remove shells, cut a slice off the top and bottom (the latter to make it stand), then take out the yolks and fill the whites with salad. Serve in lettuce leaves and over all pour mayonnaise.

Lightning Cake—1 cup butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 3 eggs, 2 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, grated rind of one lemon. Mix flour and baking powder. Cream butter and sugar, add lemon and beaten eggs, add flour, and beat well. Spread one inch thick on flat buttered pans, sprinkle with a mixture of granulated sugar, powdered cinnamon, and few chopped almonds. Bake pale brown in hot oven, and when cold cut in squares.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS CITY TEAM 13 TO 7

After winning from the Stamford locals Monday, the High School boys took their second game from the city team Tuesday. There was a fair crowd out to see the game, but it is a shame to state that the ladies had to stand as there was no park or grandstand.

Lemons, doing mound duty for the town boys, held the High School scoreless for three innings, but then the fireworks began. The High School ran in three scores and the city led it in the fourth. The score was again tied 5 to 5 in the fifth inning. But after this the High School hitting began to tell and the game ended in their favor.

Lee and Stewart rivaled the game for the High School, Lee taking five innings and Stewart four. Both did well, as they were against the strongest hitters in Haskell.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS: RETURN 22 INDICTMENTS

Below we give the report of the Grand Jury which adjourned Wednesday, returning 22 bills of indictments: Haskell, Texas, May 4th, 1921. To the Hon. W. R. Chapman, Judge of the District Court of Haskell County, Texas:

We, your Grand Jury, organized as such at the April Term of the District Court of Haskell County, Texas, having finished our work for this term of the court herewith submit our final report and beg to be discharged from further service at this time.

We have examined about 130 witnesses, have been in session nine days, and have turned into court 22 bills of indictments.

Most of the violations of the law seem to be swindling by giving what is called bank checks, that is small checks on banks where the parties have no funds. And we would recommend to the local officers to look more carefully after these violations of the law, and we would recommend that the citizens and business men cooperate with the officers and in such cases of misdeemors, that they turn the checks over to the proper authorities and have complaints filed and said cases prosecuted without the aid of the Grand Jury, when this can be done.
