ROOF A TO WEATHER

penature of Houses Constructed of Diocks of Ice.

Changing the thickness of the roof may not seem like a particularly handy way to keep the temperature of the house uniform. Certainly no one would think or doing it in that way in this country. But in the Arctic thing. Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the polar explorer, explains in his book, The Friendly Arctic," just how the Eskimo does it.

If, says Mr. Stefansson, the snow house we were camping in was built at 50 degrees below zero, each block in the wall was then of that temperature and contained what we may unscientifically speak of as a great deal of "latent cold." To neutralize the cold it was necessary to keep the inside of the house for a considerable time at a temperature of perhaps 60 degrees F. Snow is so nearly a nonconductor of heat that, once the cen neutralized the best of our bodies kept the temperature well above the freezing point even when the hole in the roof was or en for ventilation. But if the weather became a little warmer than it was when we made camp, the heat of our hodies or the heat from the fire would raise the temperature too high, and the roof would begin to melt. Then we sent a num out with a knife to shave it anywhere from four to two inches thinner so that the cold from outside ould peretrate the snow blocks and stop the thawing.

If the next day the weather turned cold again, honefrost would form on the roof and drop as snowflakes on the bed. We would know then that the roof was too thin and send a man out to blanket it with soft snow,

IS NO LONGER "GOLDEN ORB"

French Scientist Makes the Assertion That the Real Color of the Sun is Diue.

All the daylight comes from the sun. but it arrives here by different ways. The direct light, that which forms the solid rays ins grown weak by its passing through the atmosphere. slightly for the red light, more so for the blue. The diffused light of the sky, where the blue predominates, is made up of all that the direct radiation lacks. The blue of the sky is taken from the sun itself and the result is that we do not see the royal star under its true color. If by some miracle, which science will perhaps realize, we could rise about a hundred kilometers above the diffusing layers of the atmosphere, the solar disc would appear to us, not white, but bluish, standing out in relief on a black sky, where stars glitter at full noon. In this way it would appear to the "men in the moon" if the moon were inhabited.

And this vision of science perfectly agrees with what we know of the solar temperature. Physicists admit that the radiant surface, the photosphere, is not far from a temperature of 6,000 degrees C. It is, therefore, hotter than the yellowish flame of our gas burners, than the white light of our electric lamps and the electric are itself, whose color is bluish.

Now, it is known that the hotter s radiant body is the richer it is in blue and violet. Therefore, the sun is blue. L. Houllevigne in Le Temps (Paris).

MONTANA WORLD IN ITSELF

State Needs No Outside Aid to Support in Comfort People Within Its Borders.

If Montana were welled in and cut off from the world, she could support herself, declares the National Editors' Argus. Her half million people would lack none of the necessities, and but few of the luxuries of life.

For food, she grows all the grains, fruits and vegetables of the north temperate zone; her cattle, sheep, swine and poultry number millions; her wilds abound with game, her waters teem with fish.

For clothing, there's wool from 2,000,000 sheep, linen from 500,000 acres of flax, leather from 700,000 horse hides and pelts from 20 kinds of fur-hearing animals.

For shelter, there's lumber from 30,-000,000 neres of forests. limestone and slale for cement, clay for brick and tile and granite, sandstone and marble and all necessary ores from copper and zine for brass to iron and manganese for steel.

For fuel, her coal mines, natural gas and oil deposits are of undetermined richness; to industry her streams offer 2,749,000 horsepower for hydro-electric energy.

For inxuries, her resources cange from gold, silver and sapphires, to bees for honey, sugar beets for candy, phosphate for matches or fertilizer and tungsten for incandescent lamps.

TWAIN HATED FALSE PRAISE

Great Humorist Ascerted It Always Made Him Feel Soth Ashamed and Humiliated.

Writing on the insincerity of people seeking favors, in a chapter of his "Autobiography" in Harper's Magazine, Mark Twain says:

"I am built as other people are built, so far as I can discover, and therefore I do price a good hearty compliment above ruldes; and am grateful for it, and as glad as you are yourself when I can in sincerity return the mate to it. But when a man goes beyond compliment, it does not give me pleasure, It makes me ashangel.

"It makes me ashamed; I am not thinking about him. I am thinking about myself; he may humiliate himself if he likes; it is his privilege, but I do not want to be hamillated, Adulation. Adulation-spoken or hinted. And never earned; never due, to any human being.

"What a king must suffer! For he knows, deep down in his heart, that he is a poor, cheap, wormy thing like the rest of us, a sarcasm, the Creator's prime miscarriage in inventions, the moral inferior of all the animals, the superior of each one of them all in one gift only, and that one not up to his estimation of it-intellect."

Citadel of Quebec. Quebec citadel is a strong fortification covering 40 acres of ground, and in its present form it dates from 1823. The more modern fortifications were constructed in 1820-30, substantially on the lines of the French works of 1620. The citadel has been garrisoned by Canadian soldiers since the withdrawal of British troops in 1871. It incloses a parade and drill ground, 42 acres in extent, surrounded by barracks and magazines under the walls. Heavy cannon are mounted on the ramparts. A large stone building forms the officers' quarters, with the governor general's residence (occasionally occupied by him) at the east end, overlooking the river. A splendid vista can be seen from the king's bastion at the northeast angle of the ramparts. The west ramparts overlook the Plains of Abraham. Quebec citadel has been called the "Gibraltar of Canada."

Great Sea Fighter Indignant.

THE OLD DAYS

T WONDER if the Old Days came As oftentimes we mortals pray they may, We'd live them as we lived before

Or joy, according to the special day?

For me the good that lay in olden days, Lost in the hurry of the onward flight, I still may find, I'm sure, in coming That lie beyond the curtains of

And for their ills, the lessons that they taught Will shield my path from many a lurking sorrow— And if of Old Days my New Days be wrought
I'll find them born again in my Tomorrow. (Copyright.)

It's a question which is the worst condition-to want a thing and not have it, or to have a thing and not want it.

In either case the answer is-read an use the want ads.

FEEDING FOWLS FOR PROFIT

Early Hatched Chick Will Reach Lay ing Maturity Before Commencement of Cold Sesson.

The first rule for getting a goprofit from ponitry is to get the chickhatched early, and the next is to keep them growing so that they will reach laying maturity before the commencement of cold weather. There is no profit in keeping a chicken just alive. whether it is interested for laying stock or for the tantket, the reason why more care should be exercised in feeding fouls is that the chicks know less about when is good for them than do the fowls. The healthy childs is a hungry them; and will out want to given it; the figo-tive argume being weak are 'es a 'e to dispuse of ohjection-the reed than are these of oldor forth.

Young chiefes should be fed a little at a time and often, pouters specialists in United States department of agriculture say. They should be fed cars, Fords or Dodges. Isbell's Gara early in the morning and just before going to bed at night, and not less than three times in the intervening period. For the first two weeks they may be fed three meals of soft feed and two of hard, and after that age two of soft and three of hard, less soft feed being fed as they grow old-No imbre moistened soft feed should be given at one time than they will ent up cleon.

OBJECTS IN CULLING FLOCK

insures Feed for Best Layers and Saves Fowls Best Suited for Breeding Purposes.

Culling of the flock serves two purposes: First, it insures that the feed will be consumed by the better-producing hens, thereby increasing the profit. Second, it makes it possible to save those best suited for breeders, both on account of their better production and on account of their superior strength and vitality-qualities so essential to layers if they are to stand up under the severe strain of heavy laying. Weeding out the poor hens gives those left more room and a better chance.

people of a State the size of Texas is a big job. That job can be per-formed only by means of organization, and organization on a scale in keeping with the size of the job. The Texas Highway Association has been organized to undertake this work and it has tackled it with no illusions as to its size. We know it is a big job, that it will take work and meney to get the information to the people. And we know that it will require the co-operation of everybody who is alive to its im-portance. We need the co-operation of the newspapers, of chambers of commerce and other civic bodies. tion of individual citizens who want to see Texas go forward and not packward. We want every such citizen to join the association.

"It is fashionable to blame the Legislature when there is failure of necessary legislation. We don't think the Legislature should be blamed The average member of the Legislature wants to do the will of his con stituents. Put when his constituents have not been informed on a question, when they have false ideas about it, we cannot blame a member of the Legislature for reflecting that condition. We must discuss this matter with the people, and that takes organization. The man who wants to solve our highway problems in a way to promote the general welfare therefore, can help in no better way sociation and thus assist in the wart t has undertaken."

WANT WHAT YOU NEED

PHILOSOPHERS tell us we can have anything we want, provided we want it enough.

With certain qualifications this is true. It explains why many men get things out of life that their friends never expected to get. They wanted them, and they got them.

Getting things in that way for most people involves considerable sacrifice. For example, if a dry goods clerk wants an automobile he may get it, but he will have to skimp pretty heavily on his clothes and diet if he gets it while he still remains a dry goods begin wanting something, it will pay you to want what you need. That will involve thought, for none

It is for this reason that when you of us know what we need until we devote considerable time to reflection

There are men who want new wives. when they have perfectly good wives at home. They don't need them, and therefore ought not to want them. There are other men who want wealth, when they don't need wealth.

Still other men want steam Jachts ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM when row boats would do them more good, and private swimming pools when they would get more fun and health out of public baths in the

They may get these things, but they will be no better off when they do get them.

The wanting habit can grow into a very bad habit, indeed, unless you are careful to want what you . . . It is well to remember in this connection that there are some very imctant needs that you ought to want

One of them is a good reputation. Another is good health. A third is

Want these badly enough to get them, and confine your wants after that to things that are reasonably certain to bring happiness. Then want as hard as you like, and your wanting will not hurt you.

Want what you need and you will be reasonably sure to get it, if you begin young enough. But don't want what you don't need. It will only make you miserable for life, even though you attain the object of your

FOREMOST FASHIONS IN FOOTWEAR FOR AUTUMN

Wild she or wat she not give up [ the low shoe for almost all sorts of wear when winter comes? Judging by the foremost fashions in fall footwear, she emphatically will not. The short skirt advanced the importance of pretty footwear and women have become as exacting about shoes as they are about hats. They will be daintily shod, come what will, and they like the strap slipper and silk stocking. Now comes the beautiful and dignified colonial shoe as a rival for the strap slipper.

During the autumn and until snow and ice compel something more protecting, the colonial shoe and the strap slipper are scheduled for a great success. Variations in the straps are unending. There are straight straps, cross straps, double-cross straps, wishone and slashed straps, just to mention a few of them. The slippers are made in suede, patent and other kids with a generous proportion of satin among them, in black, bronze brown and some other colors. A very handsome combination appears in tan suede uppers with black patent leather vamps, a dressy shoe for afternoon wear, but dressy shoes are worn at all hours of the day. Many of the suede and satin shoes are decorated with bends, which take the place of those very expensive buckles of riveted steel worn on colonial shoes. Sixteenth century wooden buckles are among the novelties, and rosettes of heavy ribbon gathered about buckles make a delightful ornament.

But with all this running after pretty things in footwear women have not forgotten to be sensible. The very high heel is taboo for street wear and nearly all shoes may be had with the box, Cuban and baby French heels, For bad weather every woman will provide herself with a pair of bjack or tan exfords and cloth galters to be worn with them on the street.

Some fascinating Russian boots are shown with wrinkled tops, but they conceal the trimness of the ankle and are not likely to become populat.

The chicks can generally be taught to roost by putting the perches near the floor and placing with them one or two old hens or older chicks that are in the habit of roosting. If this plan is inconvenient or does not prove effective, the chicks may be placed on the perches after dark for a few nights, until they have learned to go there of their own accord, say poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

TEST OUT BROODING SYSTEM

Greatest Loss is Due to Chilling Received While Being Transferred From Incubator.

Chickens are usually left in the incubator from 24 to 36 hours after hatching, without feeding, before they are removed to the brooder, which should have been in operation for a day or two at the proper temperature for receiving the chickens, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture. A beginner should try his brooding system carefully before he uses it. After placing the chicken in the brooder they can be given feed and water. Subsequent loss in chickens is frequently due to chilling received while taking them from the incubator to the brooder. They should be moved in a covered basket or receptacle in cool or cold weather.

CULL OUT ALL LOAFER HENS

Reason Why So Many Flocks Are Unprofitable is Because of Presence of Nonlayers,

Lack of proper celling thus far has proved to be, in the majority of cases, the principal reason why a poulof the hens in the average farm today are comprederive and should be sold or enten. CONVEY MEANING IN DANCS gether, and to endeavor to persuade Artists of India Reveal by Gestures a Fundamental Concept of Life Itself.

There is an essential difference between the dance of the East and of the West, Both spring from rhythmic creative impulse, of course, the desire to express an emotion, but western dancing has come to signify little more than an elaboration of movement, a multiplicity of complex steps, while eastern dancing still strives to symbolize by graceful gestures identified with a succession of beautiful postures some fundamental concept of life itself. The dance of the East carries with it something not of time. For it is half sculpture. The sacred origin of dancing in India-typified by the god Siva who conveys through rhythmic play a sense of all movement, of all creation, within the cosmos, together with the release of the souls of men from ensuaring illusion, may be traced in the half-ruined reliefs of Indian inspiration found as far east as the island of Bali, beyond Java, and north throughout Burma and Slam into Cambodia. And still today lithe figures repeat the familiar patterns. The lifted foot with bent knee, symbolizing release from the material, the upraised hand with thumb and forefinger holding an imaginary flower tribute, these and a hundred other gestures give out their identical message of spirit made manifest, in the ancient East. The East is content with its old, beautiful formulas. It does not ask for variety of self-expression. Beauty once found is beauty worshiped throughout the ages .- From the Pattern of the Eastern Dance, by, and other plants which require a lot Gertrude Emerson in Asia Magazine.

POINTED OUT DANGER IN CUP John Wesley Set His Face Sternly

Against the Drinking of Tea-Himself a Victim.

John Wesley was against tea drinking. During a visit to Oxford he noneed, among what he described as "paralytick symptoms," the shaking of his hand, and he was puzzled to explain it, until, as he wrote to a friend, "I observed it was always worst after breakfast, and that if I intermitted drinking tea for two or three days it did not shake at all." At first he was content to add more water, sugar and milk, but finding, on Inquiry, that there were others who were similarly affected, or thought themselves to be, he came to the conclusion that he ought to abstrict with-thers to follow his example. Sir Walter Besant tells of the writer of a pampblet in 1758 who was alarmed at the spreading of the custom of drinking tea, especially by "persons of an inferior rank and mean abilities." When taken in company with gossips. said the author, a drain too often for lowed, and then came standal, with falsehoods, per eraions and back-alt-

Ficating Islands.

Natural floating Islands sometimes are seen in the Mississippi and other rivers, and in lakes, occasionally being of sufficient size to serve as pastures. They are formed of earth which is held together in a compact form by roots interlacing, and they float because they are not heavy enough nor sufficiently waterlogged te sink. They have their origin in river banks which have been torn away and carried down steam by a powerful current, and sometimes trees remain growing on these islands. Artificial floating Islands are made by taking rafts of wickerwork, covering them with reeds, and then placing lake mud on top. They are used by some of the natives of India, Persia and Thibet to grow cucumbers, melone of water. Artificial islands of this nature at one time were used in the waters about Mexico.
