Bogata Main Street U-Turns A "No-No"

The Bogata City Council approved an ordinance Tuesday night prohibiting U-turns at the north end of Main Street by the Methodist Church. The Texas Department of Public Safety had requested such an ordinance by the city in order that the Highway Department could erect a sign and the law could be enforced.

Mayor Clifford Barnard said he was one of the many guilty citizens who made U-turns in that spot, but had stopped doing it since he was elected Mayor because he couldn't stand the ribbing if he got "pinched" for it. The consensus of the council was that the U-turn is dangerous, and safe driving should be the rule.

Councilman George Smith was named the secretary of the council by acclamation and the council voted to meet November 29 at 7:30 p.m. in a special session to canvass the votes of the special election for two city council posts.

Those who have filed for the two positions are David Mullins, Joe Greger, Kenneth Brumley, Kenneth Jeffery and Dr. Jack Trout.

Smith reported to the council on a meeting of the Ark-Tex Council of Governments concerning emergency medical services, and reported that he planned to attend as many meetings as he could.

Councilman Tommy Corbell told the council that something needs to be done soon about the problem of the city dump, and Mayor Barnard said that county commissioner J. N. Lee, and County Judge Gavin Watson should be contacted concerning a contribution toward the maintenance of the dump by the county government, as county residents use the dump.

The council approved a street light to be installed on North Bryson Street. Smith and Corbell said they had checked the area after dark and the area is very dark indeed.

Mayor Barnard reported that the new water line in the Smiley-Varner addition has a few leaks in it, and that the leaks need to be repaired before anyone ties on to the line. Corbell asked about the possibility of Lone Star Gas Company using old water lines in the area to supply some of the houses, and Barnard said he understood that there is some possibility that this might be done.

Councilman Ralph Cawley asked if the city could clean the roadsides near the "Y" at the south end of Main Street, as the corner is blind and dangerous. Mayor Barnard said he would have the city employees check on the area.

Red River Deputy Sheriff Jim Bob Shipp asked the council if they had any instructions, complaints or duties that he might perform for the city, and indicated his willingness to do a good job.

Pet Care Topic At Brownie Meet

"How To Care For Your Pet" was the program topic for Brownie Troop 22 when they met Monday, November 10. Jo Ann Stubblefield and Rebecca Taylor told the group about their own pets and how they care for them. The Brownies enjoyed looking at books on pets.

Refreshments of cookies and Kool-Aid were served to 14 members and two guests.

Rebels Defeated By Commerce 21-6

The Rivercrest Rebels were defeated by the Commerce Tigers at Rebel Stadium Friday night 21 to 6, in a game in which the Rebels passing yardage outdistanced the yards gained on the ground.

The Rebels connected five times for 90 yards, with most of the yardage gained on a pass from quarterback Larry Taylor to Kenny Stanley for 55 yards in the fourth quarter.

The workhorse for the Rebels against Commerce was Sammy Ellis, who carried 16 times for 45 yards, and scored the Rebel touchdown late in the fourth quarter from the eight yard line.

The Tigers had the first possession of the ballgame, and the Rebels forced them to punt from their own 46 yard line. The punt was returned 26 yards by Gary Neill, and it was Neill who gained the Rebel first down with a nine and seven yard run. Neill lost the ball on a fumble to the Tigers two plays later, but the Rebel defense forced another punt from the Tigers. Neill intercepted a Tiger pass on their next possession, but neither team managed to score in the first period.

The first Commerce score came in the middle of the second quarter, when Tiger quarterback Wade Wilson, a junior, made a 12 yard run around the right end, and Tiger back Fred Washington, also a junior, carried the ball in from the 15 yard line.

The Commerce passing game accounted for the next score, with Wilson connecting with John Foster for a 31 yard play followed by a touchdown pass of 15 yards to John Clark.

With the first possession after halftime, the Rebels put together a 37 yard drive, but fell short of a first down attempt by four yards. The Tigers turned their next possession into their final touchdown.

The 55 yard pass from Taylor to Stanley set up the Rebel score on a drive that began on the Rivercrest nine yard line. Gary Neill caught a nine yard pass, Stanley caught an 11 yard pass, and Ellis made eight yards on the ground for the Rebel score.

The Rebels will play Rains there Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Jess Cothran led the Royal Service program on Communication Center: Philippines, Monday when the Baptist women of the First Baptist Church met. She also read the Prayer Calendar and the ten members present assisted with the program.

A quilt was put in the frames after the meeting to be quilted Tuesday.

Bankers, Ag Producers To Meet In Big Sandy

A program for both agricultural producers and lending institutions which make agricultural loans is scheduled November 20, 1975, according to Bob Moody, County Extension Agent. Sponsored by Area III of the Build East Texas organization and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the program, "Financing Northeast Texas Agriculture", begins with registration at 9:15 a.m. in the Science Lecture Hall on the campus of Ambassador College near Big Sandy.

County Extension Agents in Upshur, Gregg, Harrison and Marion Counties have complete details on the program. These counties comprise BET Area III and are jointly sponsoring the event.

According to Moody, the meeting is designed to inform producers and financial institutions of relatively new agricultural practices and some of the practices that are no longer profitable. Those attending will be welcomed by Upshur County Judge Everett Dean. Dr. Daniel Pfannstiel, associate director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss "Texas Agriculture in the Future". He will relate some of the forces which are expected to affect both production and marketing of agricultural products.

"World Outlook and Economic Situation as it Affects the Beef Industry" is the topic of Dr. Ernest Davis, Extension livestock marketing specialist, College Station. Davis is becoming well known for his analysis of beef cattle markets and the factors affecting those markets. Cattlemen throughout East Texas have been in a cost-price squeeze for the past two years. The world beef and grain market continues to play a major role in this situation.

Ben Black, vice president, Red River National Bank, Clarksville, Texas, is scheduled to tell the group how "A Banker Looks at his Agricultural Loans". Black will emphasize the record and financial analysis needs for obtaining credit or makin loans. Producers could make better management decisions and bankers could make sounder loans if adequate records were available. He will also discuss sources of technical information for lenders.

"Managing Agricultural Resources Through Estate Planning" is the subject of Bob Walsh, trust officer for the First National Bank of Fort Worth. His discussion of the problems and expenses of transferring agricultural holdings to heirs will include how to make the transfers and full utilize the property at the same time.

"Forage Finished Beef Production and Marketing", a subject widely discussed among beef producers, will be examined by Dr. John

Bazaar Scheduled November 15

First United Methodist Church in Bogata has scheduled a bazaar for November 15, beginning at 9:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Items to be offered for sale will include aprons and Bicentennial bonnets, baked goods, homemade Christmas decorations, pillows, quilts, afghans, ceramics, paintings and sketches, decoupage, crocheted, crewel, needlepoint and embroidery, artificial flower arrangements, plus potted plants and hanging baskets.

An excellent noon meal will be served in the church basement on the bazaar day. All monies raised through this bazaar will be used to reduce the Bogata church building debt.

Carpenter, superintendent, West Louisiana Experiment Station, Rosepine, Louisiana.

A special program is planned for ladies attending. It includes a tour of the campus, home economics department and food service facilities. The ladies program begins at 9:55 a.m.

After a question and answer session, the meeting will end at approximately 3:00 p.m. Lunch will be available at a nominal cost. The meeting is free and open to all interested persons.

Talco Book Club Meets With Mrs. Cleone Sullivan

The Talco Book Club members drove to Bogata Friday to meet in the home of Mrs. Cleone Sullivan for a meeting on "Good Manners." Mrs. A. E. Foster opened the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. H. Weatherall. Mrs. J. L. Cato led the club prayer.

During the business session, Mrs. T. L. Barton gave a report on funds in the club's project, the City Cemetery, and it was voted to draw names for Christmas gifts this year. Seven members answered roll call with a thought for good manners.

After exchanging books, Mrs. Barton presented a most informative program on "Good Manners" of which the most important one is consideration for others. Very clever quiz games were enjoyed with Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Ollie Jones winning prizes.

Assisted by Mrs. Barton, the hostess served a refreshment plate, carrying out the Thanksgiving theme. Those present were Mrs. Ollie Jones, Mrs. J. L. Cato, Mrs. A. E. Foster, Mrs. Tom Barthel, Mrs. Ivy Smith, Mrs. O. B. Hopwood, Mrs. Barton and the hostess, Mrs. Sullivan.

The next meeting will be November 21 in the home of Mrs. Hopwood when Mrs. Barthel will present a program on a woman of the Bible, Queen Esther.

Traffic Safety Office Provided

COMMERCE—Thanks to a special new program provided by East Texas State University, driving in this part of the state may become a little safer. Since the beginning of September, Glenn Wagner has logged several thousand miles visiting elected officials in 15 North Texas counties and consulting with them about saving lives on their streets and highways.

Wagner, 33, a veteran police officer and also an educator, is director of ETSU's Traffic Safety Office (TSO). He explained that his primary purpose is to assist small municipalities and county governments in the 15-county region around Commerce obtain state and federal grants for improving traffic safety. "The office is funded by the State of Texas," Wagner said, "to provide these smaller, non-metro communities with a service they couldn't otherwise afford and to help them solve some of the problems which growth brings."

Specific examples of this aid include: Traffic engineering surveys; training police recruits; defensive driving schools; and obtaining money for painting highway stripes, railroad crossing warnings and other road improvements.

"The TSO philosophy is to simply help in any area of traffic safety that we can," Wagner noted. "I even spend a lot of time keeping my eyes open for problem areas which I relay to officials in that locality."

A recent accomplishment of the office took place near Lake Lavon in Collin County, where a tremendous housing expansion was responsible for overloading roads. Government officials in the county couldn't afford to do much about the situation until Wagner helped them get a $40,000 federal grant to hire some police officers for the area.

"Larger cities can afford to hire people knowledgeable about governmental grant processes," he said. "But officials in the smaller places many times are not even aware of the help available to them, much less how to go about getting the money."

Wagner, a native of Emblem, holds both bachelor and masters degrees from ETSU and is also a law enforcement instructor here. He has worked with the Texas Highway Department and is a former Sulphur Springs police officer.

The office here is sponsored by ETSU's Division of Continuing Education.

Counties served are Hunt, Rockwall, Grayson, Fannin, Delta, Lamar, Hopkins, Franklin, Titus, Morris, Camp, Red River, Bowie, Collin and Rains.

Girl Scout Dinner Meeting Set

The Red River Valley Girl Scout Council will hold its Annual Dinner Meeting on November 18, 1975, at 7:00 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Paris, Texas. The program will include a slide presentation by the senior girls who visited "Our Cabana", a Girl Scout International Center in Mexico this summer, a report on the recent Girl Scout National Council Meeting in Washington D. C. by Mrs. Dwight Woolston, and a presentation of awards. Dr. Don Smith, Council President, announced that this is the 20th Anniversary of the founding of the Red River Valley Girl Scout Council, a United Fund Agency.

The Veterans Administration will process 62 million compensation and pension checks this year.

Twenty-Six Attend Circle 8 Communicators Meeting

The Circle Eight Communicators CB Club was called to order by the president, Sparky, with approximately 26 members and visitors present. The Club voted to have two meetings a month on the first and third Monday nights of each month, and to have these meetings at the Hagansport Center each time.

It was reported that the ticket sells for the CB Radio are going well and the drawing will be at Hagansport Friday, November 21 at 7:30 p.m. All are invited to be there for the drawing. You do not have to be present to win this radio.

The door prize went to Buckshot, an external speaker for a radio was the prize.

Everyone was in favor of having a Christmas party on December 15 at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend this party. Everyone is to bring either a mans, ladies or child gift to be exchanged, price not to exceed $2.25. Committees were appointed for refreshment, decorating and entertainment. Those on the committees are Buckshot, Camelot, Nanny, Honey Bee, Tankers Lady, Falcon, and Sparky. Sparky thanked those who helped with the fish fry and made it a success.

After the meeting closed there was a transmitting treasure hunt. Those doing the hiding were Red Barron, Hot Rod and Rifleman. Those finding the treasure were Buckshot, Buckwheat and Little Diamond. There were two new members that joined making a total of 99 members now.

The next meeting will be at Hagansport Center on Monday, December 1, at 7:30 p.m.

CONSUMER GUIDELINES

If you're buying a bicycle for a child, and want to avoid injury, choose one to fit his size as he is today—not one he will grow into later. A bicycle should suit the rider's ability and kind of riding. Be sure to attach a headlight and a taillight.

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: November 16 to November 23

- ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19 Don't repeat what you hear, this week. However, you will be able to draw valid conclusions from the gossip and rumors coming your way—through a third party.
- TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20 There might be something questionable about a member of the opposite sex's actions. Anyway, don't jump to conclusions—the old "cat and mouse" game shows in your chart.
- GEMINI May 21-June 20 Mentally, most members of your sign should be sharply honed. No question about it, competitively, you'll hold an edge on the pack.
- MOONCHILD June 21-July 22 During this week's cosmic cycle, you might prove to be your own worst enemy. Your, so-called, intuition or ESP—might mislead you.
- LEO July 23-Aug. 22 Look for added responsibilities. It seems as though your job, task or project will move along at an accelerated rate.
- VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22 It, most certainly, is not the time to become involved in long term debts or obligations. Bluntly, opportunity will not arrive in the form of an investment.
- LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 22 A series of favorable events will improve your job, task or project. Also, there's good advice coming your way from a member of the opposite sex.
- SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21 There's a bit of flattery, admiration and nourishment for your ego, in the general scheme of things. Favorable trends among your associates is indicated.
- SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21 You're entering a period when you'll appreciate the simple things in life. Actually, reversals, during this period, will not effect you...not in the least!
- CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19 Old methods and procedures will have to go. Most members of your sign should take advantage of a new opportunity, in the offering.
- AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 18 Take care! A breakdown in communication is indicated. Faulty information, a delayed phone call or an unread letter could trigger unfavorable events.
- PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20 New faces or, perhaps, new surroundings, in one form or another, will cause most members of your sign to forget past problems and reversals.

CANCER Answerline
American Cancer Society

A young secretary writes: "I was a very enthusiastic bike rider but I've put away my bike for good. I fell off my bike recently, and as I did, I hit my breast on the handlebars. I am worried that I may have given myself breast cancer. I'm sorry I ever learned to ride that thing."

ANSWERline: Breast cancer is absolutely NOT caused by a blow or injury -- no matter how many people think so. This is a myth and you are giving up an enjoyable form of exercise for no reason at all. You might ask your local American Cancer Society unit for a leaflet about breast cancer and the important practice of breast self-examination. Monthly breast self-examination helps protect you against breast cancer. By all means, go ahead and enjoy bike riding.

A businessman asks: "Are more men than ever dying of cancer?"

ANSWERline: Unfortunately, the cancer death rate for American men has been going up. But, this is mostly due to the enormous increase in the amount of male lung cancer deaths (which have gone up 20 times in the last 45 years.) These deaths could be largely eliminated if there was no cigarette smoking. If you subtracted lung cancer statistics, the cancer death rate for American men would be going down. In other words, men are being saved from many forms of cancer but lung cancer pushes the mortality statistics way up.

An East Coast resident asks: "Is it true that the Mormons of Utah have less cancer than the rest of us?"

ANSWERline: A recent study of the Mormons done by a scientist at the University of California at Los Angeles of Public Health indicated that members of this religious group have a cancer mortality rate that is 50 to 60 percent that of the U.S. population in general. Many Mormons live according to a doctrine which insists on a moderate diet and forbids the use of things like tobacco, alcohol and addictive drugs.

A busy mother explains:

"My schedule is far too hectic for me to go to a library and read up on the danger of cigarettes, but I do want to give the facts to my children. Can you help?"

ANSWERline: If you check with your local American Cancer Society Unit, you'll save a library trip and time. The ACS has special colorful leaflets for your youngsters with plenty of cartoon pictures that get the facts across in a zippy way. There is material for older children, and everything is yours for the asking.

Question: "What's the most common form of cancer?"

ANSWERline: Superficial skin cancer is the most common form of cancer with some 300,000 to 600,000 new cases expected in 1975. Fortunately, this form of cancer is highly curable as well as common. It is easy to diagnose and there are simple ways of treating it. The main cause is excessive exposure to the sun.

Bass Fishing Book Released

Take a bass fisherman who has always spent his time dunking plug after plug deep into brush-filled waters and we'll show you a bass fisherman who has a lot to learn about catching bass.

The Fisherman Books division of Cordovan Corporation has just released "Topwater Fishing" by Max Eggleston, a book packed with the kind of bass action plug-dunkers can't hope to experience.

"Topwater Fishing" is available by mail from Cordovan Corporation, 5314 Bingle Road, Houston, Texas, 77018 and sells for $7.25 in hardcover, $4.25 in softcover.

Author Max Eggleston is of the old school of bass fishermen and he'll teach you to fish the way some men hunt big game — by stalking them, coaxing them and waiting them out.

When you finish this book you won't need fancy trolling motors or depth finders or fish sonars or even jumpsuits with patches from all the bait companies to show you're a fisherman. You'll know it and your full stringers will prove it. Eggleston, a resident of Denison, Texas, has been a professional guide on Lake Texoma since World War II. He writes a monthly feature for All Outdoors Magazine, a weekly column for The Sherman Democrat and is a frequent contributor to The Texas Fisherman.

He bases his new book on over 50 years of topwater thrills from Katmai, Alaska, to the Florida Keys beginning back in the early 1920s when a ten-foot fly rod was standard tackle for topwater and most plugs were hand-carved.

Eggleston reports on the improvements in fishing tackle made during the years to follow including level wind spinning reels, dropseat reel handles, artificial lures and monofilament fishing lines.

He provides details on fishing techniques learned through painful trial and error to support theories sometimes contrary to other fishermen's experiences. He finds high noon and hot weather two of the most productive fishing times. And he doesn't let muddy water dissuade him from tossing a few casts.

"Topwater Fishing" is a history book, it is a valuable reference work and it is a necessity for the bass angler who thins he's tried it all.

Redfish For East Texas Lake Striker First

TYLER — Saltwater redfish for inland lakes is a reality and Lake Striker recently became the first public water in East Texas to be stocked with the fast-growing fish.

Lake Striker received some 19,000 redfish last week with the initiation of a Parks and Wildlife Department fisheries transplanting project which holds stunning possibilities for Texas fishermen. A longtime dream of fisheries biologists, delayed for years because of a lack of sufficient quantities of small redfish, has become a reality with a breakthrough in the artificial rearing of the fish.

Federal and state biologists at the National Marine Fisheries Service laboratory in Port Aransas have successfully induced redfish to spawn under artificial light and temperature conditions with staggering results. In a few weeks, six adult redfish produced more than 70 million eggs.

The redfish fry hatched from the eggs are transferred to the P&WD Palacios Marine Fisheries Station where they are kept in saltwater rearing ponds for approximately 30 days.

In that 30-day period, the fry grow to 1 1/4-inch fingerling size and are ready to be stocked in inland waters.

Redfish grow rapidly in freshwater and P&WD fishery biologists predict some of these fish will attain weights of 20-pounds or more within three years.

In order to determine the most suitable habitat for redfish in inland waters, a virtual circle of medium-size impoundments around the state will be stocked.

Other impoundments in East Texas to be stocked with redfish in the coming weeks are Cypress Springs, Athens and Jacksonville. Lakes being considered in other areas of the state include Wichita, White River, Brady, White Rock, Casa Blanca and Corpus Christi.

For freshwater stocking, the fingerling redfish are transported from the Palacios facility by P&WD hatchery tank trucks to the inland reservoirs.

Since the fish are transported in saltwater, they must be tempered by the gradual addition of lakewater to the truck tanks, a process normally requiring two to four hours. When the tiny fish are acclimated to the fresh water, they are released into the lake.

Flourescent lights are more energy-efficient than incandescent lights. One 40-watt flourescent tube gives out more light than three 60-watt incandescent bulbs—you can save about $10 a year in electricity.

A double dividend...on this year's calf crop and the next...is what a good cowman expects from brood cows fed.

PURINA ACCURATION LTD.

The do-it-all "Nutritional Cowhand" so different it's patented. U.S. Patent No 3669676

The surprise is that it's all so easy.

When the nutritive content and feeding characteristics of Purina Accuration LTD are compared with the alternatives—hand-fed supplements, salt meal mixes, or liquids—it is easy to see why extra income at calf sale time should be expected. It's also easy to see why cows should recycle sooner and have earlier calves next year. This "double dividend"—better performance from both this year's calf crop and the next—is what makes the feeding of Accuration such a logical investment. Its patented consumption regulator permits Accuration to be offered free choice. With dependability. And with safety.

It also works like an "extra hand." Feeders can be placed anywhere in the pasture—to conserve labor, grass, supplement, and even the land itself. Cows normally consume Accuration only to the extent necessary to balance available roughage, be it pasture, range, cornstalks or stubble.

Why compromise with lesser performance from your brood cows when "SUPERFORMANCE" is now possible with Accuration. Aim for heavier, thrifter calves this season—and next—by switching to this new kind of "calf crop insurance." Ask for the new Accuration booklet ZC 2141A.
