New Estray Law In Effect

Franklin County Sheriff Bobby Biggerstaff said this week the "Estray Law" recently passed by the Texas Legislature in regard to stray livestock is now in effect and is being enforced in Franklin County.

The first two head of cattle were picked up under the new law on November 6 by the local sheriff's department.

Biggerstaff said the new law provides for legal impoundment and sale of any estray (stray) domestic animal such as cattle, sheep, goats, etc., whether they are on public or private property.

He said when the sheriff's office is notified of an estray animal, he is obligated to investigate and see if the owner of the animal or animals can be found in the vicinity.

If the animal or animals remain in the area for a reasonable period of time, to be determined by the sheriff, the sheriff has the authority to pick the animals up or designate someone to impound the animals.

He is then required to file in the county clerk's office and post on the bulletin board a notice of estray animals. The sheriff is also required to publish the notice of estray in a local newspaper for two consecutive weeks.

If the owner does not file an affidavit of ownership with the sheriff and pay any and all impoundment fees the sheriff may then sell the animals at public auction. All of the costs of impoundment are paid and then any money remaining will go to the county treasurer.

GED Tests To Be Administered

High school equivalency diplomas may be earned by successfully completing the General Educational Development (GED) test battery, to be given at 8:00 a.m. Saturday, December 6, in Room 205, the Counseling Center in the McLemore Student Center at Paris Junior College. Max Mabry, PJC counselor and testing director, will administer the test battery to persons unable to come during regular Wednesday testing sessions or those who prefer taking the test on Saturday.

Successful completion of the GED leads to issuance of a high school equivalency diploma from the State Department of Education. Testing fee is $9 and may be paid on the testing date.

No appointment is necessary for the test, but students 17 or 18 must submit an official letter from their high school principal or superintendent stating their last date of attendance.

Texas Utilities To Fight Pollution Suit

Texas Utilities Services Inc. (TUSI), a subsidiary of Texas Utilities Company, reported that it had been served on November 20 with a Petition in a suit that would force the installation of a scrubber on the Monticello No. 3 lignite-fueled generating unit now under construction near Mt. Pleasant. This equipment would be required to meet Environmental Protection Agency air quality regulations that have been challenged by a number of electric utilities.

TUSI is constructing the Monticello plant for Dallas Power & Light Company, Texas Electric Service Company and Texas Power & Light Company.

Christmas Ideas Sharing Workshop

A Christmas Ideas Sharing Workshop, a Paris Junior College Continuing Education program will be held in the PJC ballroom on Thursday, December 4, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to the free program which will include demonstrations of arts and crafts.

Each person attending is encouraged to bring something he or she has made and share the instructions. Everyone is creative in some way and has something to give.

The Do-It-Yourself Workshop will be in progress all during the day, very informal so that persons may come at any convenient time.

Anyone who will share an idea is asked to call June Jones at the Continuing Education office, 785-7661, ext. 145. Copies of the directions for making the items will be made to distribute during the workshop.

The deadline for having the instructions in the office to be duplicated is Monday, December 1.

The suit was filed last week in the District Court of Titus County by the Attorney General of the State of Texas at the request of the Texas Air Control Board.

In commenting on the suit, T. L. Austin, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Texas Utilities Company, said, "We have not changed our conviction that this equipment is unnecessary and a waste of our customers' money. We intend to oppose this suit in court because we sincerely believe that such action is in the best interest of our customers who are already deeply concerned about the increasing cost of producing electricity."

"We recognize the position of the TACB," Austin said, "in having to enforce existing Federal air quality regulations. However, EPA regulations requiring the use of scrubbers are unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious and are now being challenged in the courts. We believe that clean air can be ensured in our area without the unnecessary expenditure for scrubbers and that we have a responsibility to take a stand when government regulations have gone too far."

Austin had appeared before the TACB on September 26, 1975 to notify the Board that the Company would not install the equipment that would cost some $36 million. At that time Austin said that the Company was still convinced that the scrubber would not significantly improve the quality of the air people breathe, yet it would add 18 percent to the cost of every kilowatt-hour generated by the Monticello No. 3 unit.

Circle 8 Gives Away CB Radio

The Circle Eight Communicators CB Club met Friday night at Hagensport for the purpose of drawing names for the CB radio that was raffled off to help the Smith family of Cunningham. The meeting was attended by approximately 125 persons, many of whom offered testimony and suggestions regarding the operational regulations. Both consumer and utility company interests were represented at the hearing.

The rules adopted by the commission established procedures for conducting its responsibilities as a regulatory agency of the state. The rules included procedures for hearings concerning licensing and rate setting, applications for Certificates of Convenience and Necessity, commission bulletins and organization, and methods of reporting quarterly assessments.

The commission hired a Chief Engineer, who will serve as Director of the Engineering and Enforcement Division, and a Director of the Economic Research Division.

Robert Thomas Sweatman of Fort Worth, a Registered Professional Engineer and twelve-year employee of Texas Electric Service Company will be the new Chief Engineer. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering from Texas A&M University. Sweatman, who is 35, has served most recently as executive staff assistant, advising corporate staff, division and local managers in matters of utility finance, fuel management, and construction.

The new Director of Economic Research is Dr. Caroline M. Smith, Associate Professor of Management at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. She has served as a consultant to local governments, the Virginia Municipal League, and the Association of Counties in electric power rate negotiations. She also designed a load forecasting system for the San Antonio City Public Service Board. Smith earned her bachelor degree at the College of William and Mary in 1967, her master's degree from Old Dominion University in 1967, and her doctorate in management from the University of Texas in 1974. She is 31.

Sales Tax Checks Mailed

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock mailed checks totaling $14.5 million to 670 cities and towns Friday, rebating their October city sales tax.

Bullock said his office has rebated a total of $223.7 million to cities collecting the sales tax so far in calendar 1975. During all of calendar 1974, he said, a total of $233.7 million was rebated.

With a normal November and December, Bullock predicted city budgets will enjoy $25 million to $30 million more revenue from the sales tax this year over 1974.

The Comptroller said 154 of the total 824 cities collecting the sales tax will not receive their rebate until the end of the December quarter, because they fell below the $500 cutoff for monthly rebates.

Local cities and towns receiving checks included Avery, $901; Bogata, $1450; Clarksville, $7,032; Deport, $798; Mount Pleasant, $17,952; Mount Vernon, $2,056; Paris, $36,421; Talco, $1,093; and Toco, $1745.

TSA Asks Motorists Not To Share Turkeys' Fate

Austin, November 18, 1975 — Many Thanksgiving holiday travelers may find themselves giving thanks to be home alive and in one piece after a harrowing battle with the perils of holiday highways. So if you are planning a Thanksgiving trip, Texas Safety Association offers the following tips to improve your chances for surviving the Thanksgiving holiday and being alive for Christmas:

AT 55 MILES PER HOUR, DRIVER FATIGUE CAN BE A VERY REAL HAZARD. A four-day holiday is a poor time for a cross-country trip, especially if you have to drive into night to make your destination. Either plan shorter trips or have another licensed driver with you to trade stints in the driver's seat. Wear your seat belts and shoulder harnesses, and don't let the speedometer needle creep over the posted limit. A traffic ticket can cost you the price of a couple of Tom Turkeys — and a high-speed accident can cost more than you can ever recover. Neither one is worth the risk!

TAKE IT EASY ON THE TURKEY. A full stomach leads to drowsiness, and the driver's seat is no place for a nap. Don't eat and run; rest or nap for a short while after eating before doing any extensive driving. IT'S A HOLIDAY FOR YOUR CHILDREN, TOO, so take along appropriate games, toys (ones that can be safely enjoyed in the confines of an auto) and books to help defeat the boredom that can plague your young traveling companions. Nothing distracts a driver like a wrestling match in the back seat!

IF IT TAKES SPIRITS TO MOVE YOU, BETTEK STAY HOME. Getting intoxicated before the trip could send you farther than you're willing to go. If your celebration includes alcohol, make it after — not before — you've completed the day's driving.

Everyone is encouraged to come in pioneer dress and the public is invited.

wants Texans to enjoy Thanksgiving without paying the terrible price of an accident. Drive carefully.

Hagensport Planning Xmas Party

Anyone having children that are planning on attending should call 632-5729 and register them on or before December 6. The center needs the name, age and sex of the child so preparations can be made accordingly.

The center will be decorated the night of December 2 at 7:00 p.m. Anyone wishing to help would be welcome.

All are urged to take part and make it a community party.

East Texas Deer Season One Of Best Ever

TYLER—The opening weekend of deer season is considered one of the best ever for most areas of East Texas, according to officials of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

While reports from individual East Texas counties varied some, most counties reported record numbers of hunters taking record numbers of deer.

The deer are also reported to be in excellent shape, big animals with good racks. A deer taken in Angelina County had antlers with 23 points and a 24-inch spread. Six, eight and ten point deer were common.

Sam Womack, game warden for Smith County, reported hunting good locally, with approximately 35 deer being taken in the county which included one eleven-pointer.

Marion, Harrison and Wood Counties were good deer producers on the opening weekend with lots of big deer being taken.

But things weren't good everywhere. The harvest was low to fair for most of the upper Northeast Texas counties, according to Bill Daniel, regional law enforcement supervisor at Mount Pleasant.

In Cherokee County and the surrounding area, game warden Welby Fountain said results were unreal — the best season he can ever recall. Fountain estimates 150 deer were harvested in Cherokee County on opening day.

Reports from the various counties also indicated there were more people hunting than ever before. Game wardens said the woods were full of people but violations were about normal in most counties. A couple of counties reported high numbers of violations.

In one county, a man was arrested and fined $400 for killing a doe. The following day, he was arrested and fined $200 for killing another doe.

Several hunting accidents, with a couple of fatalities, occurred on the opening weekend of the season. There was one fatality each in Wood and Angelina Counties. Jasper, Limestone and Cherokee Counties also reported hunter injuries. It is believed that all the accidental shootings were the result of improper firearm handling and were self-inflicted.

Hinson Sponsors Conference

Vicki Ann Hinson, Public Information Specialist with the Ark-Tex Council of Governments in Texarkana, was in Polk County last week where she sponsored a communications conference for public information specialists from the deep east, southern and central portions of Texas. Held at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation, the purpose of the meeting was to formulate plans for a statewide communications conference-workshop in early February.

The idea for the conference-workshop came about when Miss Hinson realized the need for training here on the state level for individuals associated with public relations aspects of state, regional and local governments.

Freshman Day A Bicentennial Event

Rivercrest auctioneer, Jerry Sulsar, auctioned off 75 Freshmen Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The Freshman that brought the most money was Carla Miller. She sold for $15.50 to Kerry King. The total amount brought in by the Student Council, sponsors of the event, was $207.15.

Last Friday it was not unusual to meet George Washington, Paul Revere, or two or three Molly Pitchers roaming the halls of Rivercrest. The Freshmen were dressed in their bicentennial attire for Freshman Day.

An assembly was held at 10:15 in the gymnasium. Each Freshman had to give their name and tell what bicentennial character they were portraying. Judges chose the two best dressed boys and the two best dressed girls. Barry Hanna, alias George Washington, and Bobby Smith, alias Paul Revere each received a box of candy for winning the boys' division. Stevie Clark, alias Molly Pitcher, and Sherry Williams, alias Betsy Ross, each received a box of candy for winning the girls' division.

The Freshmen also played a couple of games. First they were divided into eight teams for a scavenger hunt. Members of the winning team received suckers as their prize. The second game was a bubble gum blowing contest. The first one to eat a cracker, then chew bubble gum and blow a bubble was Tracie Jeffery. It was a day the Freshmen will never forget.

BY GEORGE—Winners of the Rivercrest Freshman Day best dressed in a bicentennial theme last Friday were Barry Hanna (George Washington), Sherri Williams (Betsy Ross), Stevie Clark (Molly Pitcher), and Bobby Smith (Paul Revere).

Thanksgiving

...THANK GOODNESS WE'VE COME A LONG WAY FROM PLYMOUTH ROCK

Try to imagine how difficult it would be for you to prepare a Thanksgiving dinner the way Pilgrims did. Gin Incinerators Provide Alternative Energy Source MONETTE, Arkansas—Two new cotton gin incinerators that use their own gin trash as an energy source for drying seed cotton were demonstrated to the public here and in nearby Schugtown Thursday, November 6.

Opened for inspection were the incinerators at the Kiech-Shauffer gin here and at the Schugtown Co-op gin.

Managers at both gins praise their recently installed incinerators. Kiech-Shauffer manager Raymond Miller describes his as better than he really expected it to be. Schugtown Co-op Gin Manager Benny Cox says his incinerator is doing a really good job.

The two gins sponsored the demonstrations in cooperation with Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U. S. cotton producers. Dr. William F. Lalor, Cotton Incorporated manager of systems and cost engineering, conducted the sessions.

A gin incinerator solves two major problems confronting many gins today, Lalor says. It eliminates total dependence on natural gas, which is becoming an expensive and unreliable source of energy, and it disposes of gin trash.

A gin incinerator can also mean a reduction in drying costs for gins that use fuels other than natural gas, such as liquid propane.

"Using heat from gin trash for drying seed cotton is economically and technologically feasible for many gins right now," Lalor says. "The success of the incinerators at these two gins shows they can meet the needs of gins of various sizes and circumstances."

Lalor points out that the Kiech-Shauffer gin, which uses natural gas for drying, has an annual output of 10,000 bales. The Schugtown Co-op gin, which uses liquid propane for drying, has an annual output of about 2,000 bales.

"With more and more moduling of cotton, our gin season gets stretched out into the winter months, when normally there wouldn't be enough natural gas to operate. Now we can gin at our own convenience without having to worry about whether we will have natural gas," Miller points out.

The Schugtown Co-op gin first investigated incinerators as a possible solution to the mounting problem of disposing of gin trash, which accumulates at the rate of about 150 to 180 pounds per bale of cotton.

The Schugtown facility had previously burned its trash, but state pollution regulations were threatening to end that practice. Faced with that ultimatum, the gin directors made a decision.

"We were either going to have to install the heat-recovering incinerator or buy cyclones to collect the trash, get two wagons and a tractor, and hire an extra man to haul the trash off," Cox says.

"We couldn't see putting the money into hauling off the trash," he says. "We'd still be faced with the same problem each year. So we decided we could get the incinerator, solve our trash disposal problems and dry our cotton, to boot."

Cox believes the incinerator will cut his liquid propane bill at least in half. "And we hope up to 95 per cent," he adds.

In addition to being uneasy about its dependence on natural gas, the Monette gin also faced a problem of complying with state pollution rules in disposing of gin trash. It, too, had been burning its trash.

The Monette incinerator was installed in late August. Miller has already ginned over 7,000 bales of cotton with it. The Schugtown incinerator has been in operation since the middle of September. Cox has ginned over 900 bales of cotton.

There are some indications that drying seed cotton with the incinerator preserves fiber quality better than drying with natural gas, Lalor reports.

The Monette gin is operating at about four to eight per cent of its normal level of natural gas consumption, Lalor says. He explains that the gin is using the natural gas briefly in the mornings for starting up.

Lalor says the incinerator is a practical investment for gins which have an annual output of 4,000 bales or more and which are now paying a combined cost of over $2.50 a bale for drying and disposal of trash.

"This is calculated on a five-year payoff with 10 per cent interest on the investment," he says. But he adds that the actual life of the equipment is well over five years. "Therefore, after five years, the gin is home free—and profits begin to accrue."

"A gin with a heat-recovering incinerator won't be stopped if the flow of natural gas is shut off. Uninterrupted ginning means uninterrupted harvesting—and higher profits for ginner and producer," he says.

Betty Crocker Search Testing Beginning Tuesday

The 22nd Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $110,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, gets underway Tuesday, December 2. High school seniors here and throughout the country will join in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarship awards of $500 to $5,000.

Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by the Science Research Associates, Chicago, who are also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a certificate from General Mills and will, together with other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners — one from every state and the District of Columbia — will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

On April 25-28 of next year, the 51 state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will gather in Washington, D. C., for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city. Personal observation and interviews of the state winners during the tour will be added factors in the selection of the 1976 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships awarded to the four national winners will be for $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

More than ten million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2.3 million.

your week ahead

BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: November 30 to December 5

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19

There's a bit of sarcasm coming your way; control the urge to strike back. Diplomacy will impress your associates and persons in authority.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20

Prepare to meet several unusual demands. As a matter of fact, you might be asked for a commitment that's far beyond your ability to fulfill.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20

Devote more time to old friends and business associates. Forget about forming new alliances. Most members under your sign, must consolidate their allies.

MOONCHILD
June 21-July 22

Cosmic influences, now, build your confidence and instill you with a quality of courage that you rarely feel. You're heading toward solid gains.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22

Don't join the ranks of your own enemies by being hard to get along with. Bluntly, success, during this cosmic cycle, might go to your head.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22

A gift or so, here! And a dollar or so, there! will go a long, long way. It's a fact of life, you face a period of mercenary appeasement.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Many members of your sign are now highly susceptible to the whims of the opposite sex. Remember, patience makes the difference between the spider and the fly.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Curb your ambition; you've become a little too eager. It seems as though you're about to step on someone's toes... who incidentally, happens to be in authority.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22-Dec. 21

According to stellar patterns, most members of your sign should receive an interesting phone call or informative mail. Anyway, there's an unusual message due.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22-Jan. 19

You face an important decision, pertaining to a member of the opposite sex. Some Capricorns, with extreme reluctance, will be forced to cut bait!

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Punctuality, according to your chart, won't be one of your stronger points. You're entering a period when lethargy and indifference might dominate.

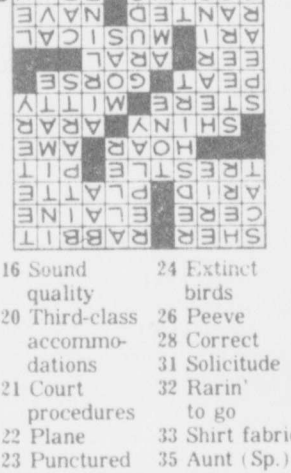

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20

You, more than any other sign, at this time, needs understanding! A member of the opposite sex's reserve attitude, might disturb you.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Poll on Aging
Findings of a national poll on aging reveal some interesting facts. Lou Harris & Associates, national pollsters, surveyed more than 4,200 persons in all parts of the country last spring to determine the public's attitude toward aging, and their perception of what it's like to be old. Older Americans' views and attitudes about themselves were documented, too.

Major findings include:

- 81 per cent of the public believes the Federal government should use general tax revenues to help support older people.
- 86 per cent are opposed to mandatory retirement at a fixed age if the worker wants and is able to continue working.
- 15 per cent of the over 65 people, representing about 3 million Americans, say their problem is not having enough money to live on.
- 37 per cent of the retired people polled, representing 44 million persons in this country, said that they did not retire by their own choice, and 31 per cent said they would like to still be working.
- 62 per cent of the public believe older people spend much time "sitting and thinking;" only 31 per cent of the elders report that's what they do.
- 5 per cent of the public believe 65+ people are sexually active; 16 per cent of older men and 7 per cent of older women say they are.
- There are 4.5 million older persons doing volunteer work and another 10 per cent said they would like to volunteer work.
- Four out of five older persons look back on their past with satisfaction, three in four feel their present life is interesting, and more than half are still making plans for the future.
