EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR TWO BIG DAYS OF FAIR

have been completed for the Haskell County Fair and Rodeo—and include one of the biggest things kind ever attempted in the history of the county—nothing has been done to make it a success. And the reports coming in from all parts of Haskell and adjoining counties, will be one of the biggest crowds in the two days that has ever been put together in this city. The committee that has charge of the different parts of the program, has been surprised themselves at the enthusiasm that has manifested, not only by Haskell people but throughout the trade territory.

There will be something doing every minute of the time and if you miss it you will regret that you did not attend.

The Rodeo program will be in charge of H. A. Johnson, who is familiarly known as "Hackberry Slim" throughout the southwest, and he promises some entertaining features on the program. He guarantees to give you a thrill and something that will enter you during each performance. There will be two programs daily, in the afternoon and night. Three hundred dollars in cash prizes will be given in the different events. "Hackberry" says that he will have a bunch of the best bucking horses, and the finest longhorn steers ever seen in any town, but the cowboys and cowgirls who have signed up to participate in the different events are equal to the task. Several local boys will take part on the program.

The Rodeo will be held at the Ball Park, giving two complete programs daily. "Hackberry" further stated that the boys and girls promise to ride any horse that is brought to town—the better they are, the better—and be offered a cash prize of $10.00 for the best riding horse brought in by anyone.

The many different forms of entertainment will be a surprise to many people who do not know just what is being planned for the crowd that is expected.

There will be shows, concessions, merry-go-rounds and other attractions for the children. Prepare to come both days—Friday and Saturday, October 27 and 28th.

STOCK AND POULTRY SHOW IN OLD GUEST LBR. YARD

The Fat Stock and Poultry Show will be held in the old Guest Lumber Yard one block north of the square, according to arrangements made this week.

All entries must be at the yard by ten o'clock a. m. Saturday.

R. L. Penick of Stamford will be the judge of poultry. The fee for poultry will be 50 cents each pen. Stock will be 50 cents a head.

Below are given the rules for contestants in the Live Stock Show at the Haskell County Fair.

1. All animals must be in the required place by 10 a. m., Saturday Oct. 28th.
2. There will be classes of same kind of breeds if there are enough of each kind of breed.
3. Bring halter and rope for each animal.
4. A small fee of 50 cents will be charged for each entry.
5. There will be no ribbon offered for poultry unless the men who have poultry they wish to enter will get together and select a man to judge the poultry. Nevertheless, we want all those who want to show their poultry to have it on the grounds by 10 a. m. Saturday.

Below is given a list of the different classes:

- 1st. Class of Sweepstake Bulls.
- 2nd. Classes of Sweepstake Dairy Cows. (1) 4 years old and over, (2) 3 years old and under four, (3) 2 years old and under three, (4) Heifers under 2 years old.
- 3rd. Sweepstakes class of Beef Cattle. (Breeding.)
- 4th. Sweepstake class of Draft Horses.
- 5th. Sweepstake class of Fat Hogs.
- 6th. Sweepstake class of Brood Sows.
- 7th. Sweepstake Class of Jacks.

This Stock Show is being put on by the Vocational Agriculture Boys of the Haskell High School. The boys are not doing this to make money but simply to help show what kind of stock is raised in Haskell County. The boys will have several stock judging teams and they want the practice because they expect to go to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show in January.

The Agriculture class wants everybody that can bring in any stock to do so, so there will be enough of each kind to have classes of separate breeds. Any co-operation from any one in the county that knows anything about stock will be appreciated very much by the class.

MRS. THOS. GRIMSLEY DIES OCT. 21, NEAR ROCHESTER

Mrs. Thos. Grimsley, age 58 years, died at the home of the family near Rochester on October 21, after a brief illness. The remains were laid to rest in the Rule Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. C. Jones of this city.

The deceased is survived by seven children: Mrs. Frank Haley of Wichita Falls, Mrs. E. B. Lusk of this city, Mrs. John Roberts of the Roberts community, Mrs. Berna Hallmark of Rule and Miss Vera, Ira and Floyd Grimsley, who are still at home. Her husband died about three years ago. All the children were present when the end came except Mrs. Frank Haley of Wichita Falls.

The Free Press joins the many friends of the family in extending condolence to the bereaved.

Deiton Duncan Loses Finger

Deiton, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Duncan, while engaged with his friends in a game of Tug-of-War, at the North Ward school building, happened to the accident of losing his middle finger of his right hand, just above the second joint.

As his playmates started to pull Deiton stuck his finger in a loop in the wire cable which they were pulling on, and as they pulled the loop closed and out one joint of his finger off. He was given immediate medical attention and now is getting along fine.

Several local Knights of Pythias visited the Stamford lodge Tuesday night and witnessed the conferring of the rank of Esquire on four of the leading ministers of Stamford.

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS AFFIRMS INJUNCTION IN COUNTY JUDGE CONTEST

According to a message received here this afternoon (Wednesday) the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth has affirmed the judgment of Judge W. R. Chapman in granting a temporary writ of injunction on application of Judge R. E. Lee, injoining the County Clerk from putting Judge Jas. P. Kinnard's name on the ballot in the General Election to be held on November 7th. The order, we understand, instructs the County Clerk to put Mr. Lee's name on the ballot, instead.

The case was first tried by the Democratic Executive Committee, who decided in Judge Kinnard's favor. Mr. Lee appealed to the District Court and asked for a temporary writ of injunction which was granted by Judge Chapman. In a hearing at Asperment on October 9th, Judge Kinnard appealed from the decision to the Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth, and today the court affirmed Judge Chapman's decision. This, we understand, closes the contest, and requires the County Clerk to put R. E. Lee's name on the ticket and leave Judge Kinnard's off.

The official count in the second primary election for County Judge gave Mr. Lee a majority of 25 votes over Judge Kinnard, who immediately filed a contest with the Democratic executive committee. On a re-census of some of the boxes it was found that the election judges at Cottonwood and Bunker Hill had failed to sign their names on the back of the ballots as required by law. These two boxes were thrown out by the Democratic Executive Committee, giving Judge Kinnard a majority of 8 votes in the county.

This election contest has attracted attention all over the state, as the issue involved were that the law authorizing an Executive Committee to hear and determine a primary election contest were unconstitutional. In Judge Chapman's decision, he held that the law was unconstitutional, and that the County Executive Committee had no right to hear and determine a primary election contest. The Court of Civil Appeals has sustained him in this ruling, according to a wire received here.

NO ABSENTEE VOTING IN GENERAL ELECTION

A number of people have placed the wrong construction on the absentee voter law and are anticipating casting a ballot before leaving the city next month. The county clerk's office has informed several applicants that no vote can be made unless they are present on election day and mark their ballot in their respective precinct boxes.

The law which made it possible to cast a ballot in the recent democratic primaries does not apply to general elections. The law is very specific in the matter and states that it applies to primary elections only.

The ballots will without a doubt not be received until a day or two before election day, according to the opinion of local politicians.

BOOSTERS VISIT NEIGHBORING TOWNS

Tuesday morning about forty cars loaded with boosters for the Haskell County Fair and Rodeo, accompanied by the Haskell Booster Band, left Haskell on one of the biggest boosting excursions ever made from Haskell. They went north to Weimert, Munday, Goree, then across to Knox City, O'Brien, Rochester Rule and then back to Haskell.

At every town they were royally received and entertained while there, especially at Knox City, where the ladies of the town and the Haskell ladies spread a most delicious lunch consisting mostly of fried chicken. The Knox City Band, entertained the visitors with a number of snappy pieces during the dinner.

Speeches were made at every town extending a welcome to the out-of-town visitors to the Fair and Rodeo. Mayor R. C. Couch introduced the following speakers from Haskell: Mrs. J. E. Grissom, Mrs. Ed Robertson, Mrs. Hardy Grissom, Rev. S. L. Culwell and Rev. P. W. Walthall, J. E. Wilfong and Mayor Davis of Munday and Sollock of Rule.

The Haskell Booster Band deserves much credit for their splendid music and assistance on this trip, and they also will be one of the main features of the Fair.

Haskell feels very proud of her young band after the trip, for it was said by old band men that the band played as well as a two or three year old band, it only being about four months old.

After the successful trip Tuesday, it was decided that one day of boosting was not enough, so on Wednesday a large and enthusiastic crowd, accompanied by the "Booster Band", journeyed to Stamford, where they were given a rousing welcome. Speeches were made by several of the boosters in the interest of the Fair and Rodeo, and a large number of visitors from Stamford are expected on both days of the Fair.

FIRST NUMBER OF LYCEUM A SPLENDID SUCCESS

The first number of the White-Meyers Lyceum Course, given at the High School auditorium Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Gale and Miss Miller, was one of the very best and most instructive ever given here. Mr. Gale has made a study of Indian life for 30 years, having visited tribes of Alaska, Canada and the United States. He has the largest collection of Indian Curios of any individual in the United States. One of the most unique was the one-stringed fiddle, the only stringed instrument used by the Indians in the early days. Mr. Gale played the Indian music, also "Annie Laurie" and "Yau-kee Doodle" on this instrument.

The costumes were gorgeous and the Indian folk songs and dances were especially spectacular. Most people think the North American Indian races are dying out, but statistics show that there were 100,000 in this country when it was discovered, and there are now 300,000.

The Haskell people have been disappointed by poor Lyceum numbers so much that the crowd was not as large as it would have been, had they known what a wonderful entertainment was in store for them.

Mr. Brasher thinks the other numbers will be equally as good as this one, and lovers of high class entertainment are urged to purchase season tickets for the remaining five numbers of the course. The adult tickets are $2.00 and $1.00 for all school children, for the five numbers.

Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis Dies in California

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Davis of this city received a telegram Tuesday morning from their son Terry, who lives in Los Angeles, Calif., that his oldest boy, Howard, age ten, was dead.

The first message came Sunday stating that the child was in a very serious condition as a result of concussion of the brain.

HONOR ROLL OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

At the end of each semester there will be published in the Free Press an honor roll, consisting of the names of the five pupils in each class of the Haskell Schools that have made the highest grades for that period. The names of the pupils will be arranged on the roll according to their standing in their classes for that semester.

It will be quite an honor and distinction for a pupils name to appear on this roll. It will indicate that that pupil is making a worth-while record in school and it stimulates the others to work harder and try to get their names on this roll of honor. The standard of the Haskell Schools ranks with that of the best schools in the State and a high grade stands for something worth while.

NAMES OMITTED FROM LIST CONTRIBUTING TO MIDWAY FAIR

In reporting the list of contributors to the Midway Carnival and School Fair last week several names of business firms were omitted, probably from the fact that the party giving us the item did not have the original list at the time. Those who contributed and their names did not appear last week were: Red's Drug Store, Payne Drug Store, Lemm Bros., R. J. Reynolds, Cash Meat Market, Haskell Tailoring Co., West Side Barber Shop and Finley's Barber Shop.

The committee says that there might have been others, as there was not a business firm in town who refused to help when approached on the subject. Those who did not contribute were not seen by the committee.

HOW TO GET PROFITS OUT OF PECAN GROWING

Why is it that pecan growers get 8 to 12 cents a pound for their pecans and the consumer has to pay 35 to 60 cents a pound for the same pecans? This is the question for which H. G. Lucas, president of the Texas Pecan Grower's Association, has found an answer.

"This is the result of dumping them on the market as soon as gathered and leaving the sales to the numerous middlemen, who each take a toll" Mr. Lucas pointed out. "The growers get together, as the nut growers take what the local buyer feels like giving him and after passing through several hands they finally reach the wholesaler or distributor, then starts the other part of the long journey to the consumer, for they have to pass through many more hands before reaching him."

"There is no reason why this journey should not be shortened so as to give the grower a fair price for his pecans while the consumer pays no more. This can be done through co-operation of the growers in pooling their pecans in an association where they can be cleaned, graded, packed and stored, or skinned and sold direct to the trade; or, in case of an excessively large crop, stored till a demand is found for them; for pecans can be carried over at small expense in cold storage without deterioration."

"A profitable market can be found for all the pecans grown in Texas, but it will be found only when the growers get together as the nut growers of California have done, in a strong association so that they can have some voice in putting a price upon their products."

"Realizing this fact some of the progressive growers organized about three years ago. The Texas Pecan Growers' Association had an exchange in operation last year with fairly good success, although on a temporary basis. There was also a local pool at Bend, which obtained for the growers there above the average price. At the meeting of the association in Brownwood last May a marketing plan was drawn up, patterned after the Almond Growers' Association of California, and a resolution was adopted requesting the Texas Farm Bureau and the A. & M. Extension Department to help organize all the growers of the state."

"A committee was appointed by the association to cooperate with these two institutions in getting a strong statewide marketing association formed. These three agencies have been working on the matter and will push the work along as fast as possible. It was early found that there was not time enough to get a creditable body formed this year, and as the crop was very short anyway, it was thought best to work out a systematic plan and make every effort to reach all the counties which produce pecans so as to have ready for the 1923 crop an efficient marketing agency which could do the work expected of it by its members; which simply means that the pecans of its members need not be dumped in the hands of speculators and middlemen, but that they will be graded, and stored and marketed in an intelligent manner as the demand and price warrant, and, what is just and important, will be financed while being marketed."

OWNERSHIP OF LAND AND AIR

Point Made by Henry George: May Yet Be Made the Center of Legal Controversy.

In the course of a lecture in the hall at Aston-under-Lyne, England, the late Henry George put his audience in roars of laughter when he remarked: "The man who owns the land owns the air as well. There has been only one attempt that I have ever heard of to make air separate property. Near Strasburg, in Germany, about the Twelfth or Thirteenth century, there was a convent of monks who put up a windmill. One of the lords in the neighborhood—they would be called 'robbers' now—finding he could not get any tribute from them, set up a claim to the ownership of the air, and when they put up their windmill, said: 'All the wind in these parts belongs to me.' The monks sent in hot haste to the bishop, and told him of this claim. The bishop 'got up on his hind legs' and cursed in ecclesiastical language. He said the baron was a son of Belial; that he did not own the wind in that province; that all the wind that blew over it belonged to Mother Church; and that if the baron did not take back his demand for rent he would launch with bell, book, and candle the curse of Rome. Mr. Baron backed down. But if he had owned the land he would not have needed to set up a claim to the wind. Men cannot breathe the air unless they have land to stand on."

CHOOSE THEIR OWN LEADERS

Eskimo Tribe Has Made Conspicuous Success in an Effort at Self-Government.

From Point Hope, 300 miles north of the Arctic circle, comes a remarkable story of a self-governing Eskimo community which has been successfully carried on there for the last six years.

Under the tutelage of missionaries equal suffrage has been established among the Tigaras, who annually in town meeting elect from among themselves the omalik, or council of leading men, who in turn enact the local laws and see to their enforcement among the thousand natives who inhabit the region.

Originally the omalik was composed of seven men, it is recounted. But it was found later that five was a better number. From the beginning of the experiment the right of suffrage was given to men and women alike, in the selection of the council. Christmas was fixed as the day of the election because on that day all of the tribesmen come into the settlement for feasting and merry-making. The names are written on a blackboard, and the five securing the greatest number of votes are declared elected, while that one of the five who receives the greatest number of votes becomes the chief councilman.

Spiders and Music.

It has been asserted that spiders possess a sensitiveness to musical sounds. Some species seem to respond to the note of the piano, the harp, the flute, and so on, in a manner suggestive of their ability to recognize these sounds or the harmonic vibrations on which they are based. But a member of the College of France, who is said to have made a special study of the instincts and the supposed "psychism" of spiders, thinks that the apparent sensitiveness of these creatures to music has been misunderstood. It is his opinion that when musical instruments are played near their nests the spiders simply feel the vibrations through their webs, or otherwise, without recognizing the musical notes as sounds. The effect upon them is similar to that of the buzzing of an entrapped fly. He does not ascribe much "intelligence" to spiders.—Washington Star.

First Bible in English.

The first complete version of the English Bible was that of Miles Coverdale. It appeared in 1535 and was based on the Swiss-German version published at Zurich in 1524-1529. In 1382 there had appeared a version attributed to Wycliffe, but the gospel alone can be identified as the work of Wycliffe himself.

The translation of the Old Testament and the Apocrypha is the work of Nicolas de Hereford. The translation of the New Testament by William Tyndale appeared at Worms in 1525; later editions in 1534-35. The King James version, otherwise known as the authorized version, was begun in 1604 and published in 1611.

Social Justice in Earlier Ages.

The disturbing thing is the constant discovery that earlier ages were equal to us in what we may broadly call moral progress. The minimum wage in ancient Babylon, the emphasis on justice in the Egyptian code, the same standard of personal conduct everywhere, the concern of the gods for righteousness, the full democracy of Athens and Rome, the beginning of the enfranchisement of women, the privileges of the Roman workers, the complete scheme of free education, the trade combinations. . . . It certainly looks as if we ought to be much more advanced than we are in 1921.—J. McCabe in "The Evolution of Civilization."

WINTER HATS REAFFIRM THE SPLENDOR OF STYLES

WHEN Tennyson sang of "the splendor dear to women" he revealed his insight into one of their oft-returning moods; they betray a love for splendor every once in a while.

In millinery, and especially in winter millinery, there is a chance for a bit of splendor for everyone. Fabrics are rich, brocades and metal tissues are dazzling, plumage is gorgeous, embroideries and trimmings draw inspiration from Persia and India (and we look to the East for splendor). A little group of four hats, shown herewith, reflects that regal note that appears in all the styles. The velvet-covered shape at the top of the group, in dark brown Lyons velvet, becomes the background for a royal parrot in startling colors, embroidered against the front crown and trailing off to the edge of the wide brim at the right. The texture of the rich velvet measures up to the glory of his plumage. An off-the-face shape, at the right, is made of dark velvet, with a soft crown and brim facing of velvet in a lighter color. Cut-out flower motifs, of the darker velvet, are applied to the brim and outlined with brilliant bugle beads. One can imagine it in black, faced with almond green, or mignonette, brightened by a glitter of iridescent green beads. A more sedate hat at the left is made of panne velvet in rose taupe, with soft crown and up-turned brim. The trimming is a heavy cord, covered with taupe velvet, and large satin-surfaced beads in the same color.

At the bottom of the group a fine felt heralds the return of these lovely hats. It is a tailored model with a very ingenious trimming of folded ribbon about the brim edge and a sunflower rosette, made of the same folded ribbon, posed on the crown.

After the several games of Five Hundred had been enjoyed, the doors of the dining room were thrown open, revealing a beautifully decorated table. Spooks, black cats, witches, and bats were in profusion. A delicious buffet luncheon was served. Each table was decorated and each person given a fortune, which was read aloud to the others. All are feeling hopeful over the good things promised them.

Those enjoying the hospitality of this charming hostess were: Misses Florence and Helen Shook, Exa Cahill, Laura Lee Langford, Alberta Smith, Eunice Huckabee, Carrie Sherrill, Lucille Taylor, Lois Earnest, Anita Scott, Mary Clifton; Mesdames J. P. Payne, Lavender, Hill Oates, Brodus, John Draper, Lynn Pace, Meadors and Marvin Post.

Magazine Club

The Magazine Club met Friday afternoon. After the business session, Mr. Brasher, Superintendent of schools, came before the body, asking their support for the Lyceum.

Mrs. Reynolds then directed the first lesson of the year on "Italian Artists," which proved very interesting.

Mesdames R. R. English, J. U. Fields, J. E. Grissom, and C. L. Lewis took part on the program. All the talks were instructive, especially Mrs. Fields', who told of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican at Rome and showed copies of all the pictures painted on the ceiling and walls by Michael Angelo.

Mrs. W. H. Murchison Hostess
Mrs. Murchison was hostess to the members of the Thursday Bridge Club Thursday evening.

The Oliver Oil Gas Burner IN USE SINCE 1914

Does away with dirty coal and wood. Makes any stove a gas stove. Easy to install, no damage to stove. Lasts a life-time. "Just turn a valve to cook or heat." New kind of heat. 95 Per Cent Air and 5 Per Cent Oil. Kerosene (coal oil) as used with the Oliver is the safest fuel on earth. Kerosene itself will not burn unless it is put on something that acts as a wick—it cannot explode unless poured on live coals. If you want to see how safe kerosene is, drop a burning match into a dish or bucket of it. The match goes out the same as in water.

Let us demonstrate this burner to you. Third door south of Southwest Corner Square.

"COMMONS" ONLY IN NAME

Delegates to Early English National Assembly Belonged Without Exception to Proprietary Class.

As early as 1254 in England, knights were called from the shires to the national assembly to testify to the taxable capacity of their districts. Two from each shire were chosen by the gentry and landowners.

At first the custom had no purpose except the desire of the taxing body to keep in close financial touch with the towns and districts. But soon Simon de Montfort, in rebellion against Henry III, turned it into a gathering to express and discuss grievances against the king. In this way there grew up a representative assembly called the "Commons," which sat and debated apart from the gathering of great nobles and bishops, called the "House of Lords."

The difference, however, was no more than relative. For in this early house of commons there were no common men in the modern conception of the term. They were all men of property, many as wealthy and influential as the great peers, and, indeed, frequently they were the sons and younger brothers of these peers. The really common man in those days had not even a vote, to say nothing of a seat in parliament.

Why They Got Nowhere.

A story that harks back to the Civil war concerns a troop of Confederate mountain volunteers and their colonel. They had been sent for by a certain Confederate town, but before they could arrive the federal forces were in command of the city. The auxiliaries arrived in the night and found the town deserted. Not curling to mix unnecessarily with the Union troops, they turned around and rode out of the town by the first gate and road they found. Before them stretched a fine smooth highway and they took to it for all they were worth. They rode all night without passing any villages or signs of civilization. The countryside seemed not only deserted, but demolished as well. When the sun peeped over the Blue Ridge mountains the colonel drew up suddenly. "What's the matter, sub?" asked the lieutenant. "Damn it, sub," roared the colonel, "we've been galloping around a race-track all night."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Lunenburg Gloucester of Nova Scotia.

In Lunenburg, the Gloucester of Nova Scotia, the smell of fish is in all and over all. Churches, fish flakes, curing plants, steep hills, bold headlands, shipyards, skilled fishermen and a slightly fleet of fishing vessels, ozen and German-looking faces, figures and names, are the characteristics. The place was settled by Hessians back in George IV's time, and marked traces of the early settlers remain. The housewives are so neat that they even put lace curtains at the cellar and woodshed windows. A prodigious clanging of church bells goes on in Lunenburg every Sunday, for the place has many places of worship.

From Lunenburg come some of the hardest and most skillful mariners and fishermen in the world, while the fishing fleet and the vessels built here, have a wide reputation.

What the Mouth Denotes.

Suspicion and secretiveness are denoted by a mouth which slants to either side and has lips tightly drawn, while intolerance, arrogance, and other traits similar in character have, as a result of long study, come to be associated with a mouth where the lower lip protrudes. A mouth may not be an infallible guide to character, but that its shape, form, and expression is influenced by thoughts, emotions, and actions is readily acknowledged by those who have made a study of this most sensitive feature.

Transparent.

Mrs. Borden-Lodge—You're preparing to leave without paying your bill. Don't try to fool me. I can see right through you.

Mr. Hungerford—During the year I've lived here you've kept me so thin anyone can see through me.

Our Motto: "To know Christ and to make Him known to others." Let the Sunday School remember that the hour has been changed to 9:45. Be on time, and we shall have a better school. The Prayer Meeting hour has been changed to 7:30. Also the Christian Endeavor now has 6:00 o'clock for its meeting time. Our service for Sunday worship is held at 11 o'clock. No night service. What is the purpose of your life? Have you a well defined aim? Or are you drifting through life as a derelict on a cold and friendless sea? If you have hope in Christ, life is really worth while. That is what St. Peter means when he says by inspiration in I Peter 1:18, that Christians have been redeemed from their "vain conversation." Now the word "conversation" which we find in this passage is a broader, deeper term than our modern word "conversation." It means "manner of life." And in this passage, St. Peter defines an important phase of redemption in saying that Christians have been redeemed from aimless living: "Ye know that ye were redeemed from your vain manner of life. 'Vainness! Vanity! It is a dreary word: it means like a winter wind through the book of Ecclesiastes, the dirge of hope, the knell of effort—'Vanity of vanities, all is vanity.' He is speaking of an empty life. A dreary word, and life may be just as dreary . . . a life without purpose, a driftwood life floating with the stream, or at best a bewildered life without anything to turn it from a problem into an enterprise. There are multitudes in the modern world, as well as in the ancient world, who need nothing quite so much as the redemption which is defined as being redeemed from emptiness to have aimlessness changed into purpose, and futility changed into accomplishment. When that change is brought about, it is the crossing of the Red Sea—the passage from the bondage of Egypt to the soul's Promised Land."

We never become too wise or too old to need the Bible. You are cordially invited to make yourself at home at all of our services.

Monday the 23rd the society met in an all day meeting at the church to make quilts to be sent to the Wesley houses at Fort Worth and San Antonio. At the noon hour a bountiful lunch was served by the ladies, in the Sunday School rooms, to their husbands, board of stewards, the presiding elder Bro. Hicks of Stamford district, pastor and visitors from Rule, pastor and family from Knox City, pastor from Vera, our own pastor and Bro. Hill, and more than fifty women of the church. After lunch the quilts were finished, and two boxes valued at $95, were packed to be sent. Next Monday we are to have a social service program and the ladies of the different churches are invited and urged to come and discuss with us the Inter-racial Problem.

SCHOOL NOTES

Last Friday evening the Haskell football fans witnessed one of the fastest and best football games played on the local field this year. As was stated in last week's issue the Bear Cats challenged the Curtains to a game of football to determine who were the best along the athletic line. As natural with the Curtains they accepted this chance to show their athletic ability. The game was not supposed to be played until after the football season was over but as the boys did not go to Eastland as the schedule stated they decided to play the game Friday. At four o'clock the whole High School was assembled at the baseball park to see a good football game that was expected to be nothing but a comedy throughout.

The whole game throughout was one of the best games that has been played here, as the score shows. From the way things looked to an onlooker the game was in favor of the Curtains. The Curtains got within four yards of the Bear Cats goal four times but were unable to put the ball over. Only once did the Bear Cats get close to the Curtains' goal. Once they got within fifteen yards of the goal but were immediately pushed back to a safe distance.

Because of the poor crowds that have been turning out for the games on the home field the Haskell boys went in debt. The purpose of this game was to get the Haskell boys out of debt. It has not yet been decided when this will be played off but when it does there should be no one that is interested in football that should miss it.

In last week's paper we stated that Mr. Lebo and Mr. Anthony would be on the line-up but before the game it was decided that only the members of the two societies should play so that it would be an even break; and it was, as the score showed: Curtains 0, Bear Cats 0.

Curtains to Entertain Bearcats

In the last meeting which was held Wednesday the Curtains Literary Society decided to entertain the Bear Cats. As was stated in this paper some time ago there was a race going on in the sale of Athletic Tickets, the loser to entertain with a party or social of some kind.

It was planned to entertain them next Saturday but on account of the fair it was decided to put it off until the following Saturday. Through the kindness of the Elks Lodge we have secured the Elks Hall for this occasion and we expect to make it the biggest of its kind for the year. Plans and preparations are now being made to make this even better than the Junior-Senior Prom given at the first of the year.

The School Lyeum

On last Friday night a splendid school Lyeum program was rendered to a full house.

Every number on the program was fine and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience. The drills were beautiful and were gracefully rendered by the children. Miss Castles' Fairy and Gypsy dill were pictures of beauty and grace.

The High School Orchestra made its first appearance and their music was greatly enjoyed. This orchestra did fine for its first appearance. It is going to develop into a splendid orchestra and will be quite a factor in high school activities.

The readings and pantomimes were excellently rendered. The music also was greatly enjoyed.

The people of Haskell are showing their fine appreciation of these school programs by giving them their complete support. By these large crowds the people of Haskell show that they are right in behind the schools and are backing them, the school teachers and the school board.

These school Lyeums have wonderful possibilities for developing our children for advertising our schools, for creating a fine school spirit and community interest and for providing healthy inspiring and entertaining amusement and entertainment for young and old.

Football Team to Go to Anson Friday

The local football team will journey to Anson for a practice game Friday of this week. Both of these teams have no dates for that day so it has been arranged that the teams will play the second game at Anson. Although this is not a schedule game we expect it to be a good one and hope to see a lot of Haskell boosters at Anson to see this game. In the schedule game the first of the year the Haskell aggregation defeated the Anson team 19-0, but we think this will be a harder fought and better game as there are several first string men that cannot go on account of the Fair or because they have to work but the Haskell boys will make this trip feeling confident that they will win with as big, if not bigger score than the first game.

Next Friday the locals go to Sweetwater for their last game of the season. Immediately after the football season the basketball season will start and we expect to have the best basketball team in West Texas. We have the pick of first team men from all surrounding towns: Three from Rochester, one from Leuders, one from Stamford, all first team men of last year. All of the above mentioned towns had fast basketball teams last year so we expect to have a real basket ball team this year.

Girls Basket Ball Started

The girls basket ball team has been organized and is now practicing to make one of the best teams in this county and the surrounding counties. Under the efficient coaching of Miss King and Miss Langford they will make rapid progress towards one of the best girls basket ball teams ever put out in the Haskell High Schools.

THE BABY HEALTH AND BEAUTY CONTEST

Every mother is again urged to enter her baby in the Baby Health and Beauty Contest, which is to be held on Saturday from 11 to 3 o'clock in the courthouse. A blue ribbon is to be offered to the healthiest and most perfect boy and one of the healthiest and most perfect girl. Also a blue ribbon will be offered to the prettiest girl and the handsomest boy.

As all babies must be together for the Beauty Contest, we are asking every mother to be there at 2:30 again in order to enter the baby in the Beauty Contest. One fee of 25c will enter the baby in both contests.

Also we are asking the mothers to volunteer to lend us Kiddie Koops, baby beds, cots, etc., for the babying for the babies—if you phone either 131 or 107, we for them Saturday morning.

Mothers, if possible, bring in some time earlier than examined for the Health Contest there will be such a rush at time of the Beauty Contest. Doctors in town have volunteered.
