

Rivercrest School Places First In UIL

By Nanalee Nichols
 Nobody in Talco really wants to see Bogata stories on the front page of their paper...and I really don't blame them at all. The Talco paper is meant to be for Talco folks, and we want it to be.

The problem is, that everyone has been so busy lately, there hasn't been enough news turned in to really make a separate front page, much less a back page.

If we could rank in enough local news, we would be more than happy to have an entirely different front and back page for the papers, with the locals and information that applies to all areas on the inside. We would be delighted!

Of course, school news applies to everyone, but we're talking about pictures and stories that are of interest just to Talco people.

But we can't cover an event if we don't know about it, and we can't know things if people don't help. Please turn in the news you know about! Sometimes people think someone else is doing it, and it doesn't get done at all. Sometimes people think we don't want news, or that it isn't really important enough for the paper. Well, we want it, and we'll use it!

Naturally, we flub up now and then. Sometimes things get lost in the shuffle (a story travels through five sets of hands before it is put on a page!) or sometimes we inadvertently leave things out. Now and then we actually don't have room one week for something, but we will run it the next week.

We try to get as much as possible ourselves, but can use all the help we can get.

Mrs. Joyce Alexander is available to drop news off to in Talco or to call at 379-4445 and is the photographer for the paper, and can be contacted for photos or simply to turn stories into. If all else fails, call collect to Nanalee Nichols at the Deport number of 652-4205.

Our response to locals is great...we love to get them. But think about the stories that we could have. Reunions, club organizations, civic activities, projects and fund raisers all need to go in your local newspaper.

And it is YOUR paper...it's yours to do with what you want. Between us all we can put out the finest little weekly newspaper around...for TALCO...come on folks, pitch in and help!

FHA Approves RR Water Loan

Congressman Sam B. Hall, Jr. announced recently that the Farmers Home Administration has approved a loan in the amount of $912,000 to the Red River County Water Supply Corporation for the extension of their water system.

These FmHA funds will be used by the Red River County Water Supply Corporation to upgrade the existing water system, as well as to extend its system to include 94 additional rural customers. Upon completion, the system will provide water service to approximately 1,350 rural customers.

This loan will run for 40 years at five percent.

Softball Having Slow Response

The Bogata Softball Association has had very little response in the registration process to form girls softball teams. There have been only 10 girls ages 8-9 and 9 girls ages 11-13 who have expressed an interest in participating.

This is not enough participation to warrant joining the league in which we need to compete.

Parents, if your daughter wants to play softball it is important that you notify the association president, Perry Cowan at 632-4369 by noon Friday.

If there is no additional interest, the league will not be formed.

May 1 Is Transfer Date For Talco-Bogata

Parents of students living outside the Talco-Bogata School District must make application to transfer their children into the district prior to May 1 in order for them to attend school here during the 1983-84 school year.

In most cases, transfer forms will be mailed to parents of transfer students who are presently attending the Talco-Bogata Schools.

However, it is the responsibility of parents to make the request and complete the application forms which can be obtained at the superintendent's office at Rivercrest.

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice
Cream Gravy and its Saucy Cousins... "Gravy" to many of us in East Texas means cream gravy or maybe white gravy. Made with the drippings of the breakfast slices of ham, it is ham gravy. The gravy takes on a mellow chicken flavor when made with the fat and flecks of crust from just fried chicken.

Butter, margarine, shortening or vegetable oil can be used instead of meat drippings, but the flavor is milder. The milder "white sauce" version can be the basis for all sorts of sauces, soups and other tasty dishes.

Many area cooks, like my husband, Sam, who claims not to be a cook, but who makes marvelous "cream gravy", do so by pouring most of the fat out of the skillet, adding flour—most can't tell you how much flour, but the more experienced ones add just the right amount—, stirring until the mixture is smooth and bubbly over a fairly low burner. Then, they add milk until it looks right and stir, still over the burner, until the gravy is thick. A dash of salt and pepper may be added if the meat drippings were only mildly seasoned.

A similar method of making gravy ensures a smooth gravy of the same thickness every time. I call it the fool proof gravy or white sauce formula.

Terry Adams Nominated For Position

Terry Adams, instructor of office occupations for Paris Junior College, has been nominated by the PJC faculty as a candidate for Piper Professor in Texas. She is competing with professors in Texas colleges and universities for the honor, given by the Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation of San Antonio.

Nominations for the awards are requested annually from all accredited institutions of higher learning to "bring recognition to outstanding achievement in the teaching profession in colleges and universities," explained Bobby Walters, vice-president of academic affairs at PJC. About 10 professors are chosen each spring, and each awards includes a certificate of merit and a honorarium of $2,500.

A graduate of Merced High School in California, Mrs. Adams holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in business from East Texas State University and has completed additional graduate study there. She has served as president, vice-president and secretary of the PJC Faculty Association and is advisor to Phi Beta Lambda, business organization at PJC.

She and her husband, Billy, who live in Deport, have two children, Chip age 7 and Cliff age 3.

Terry is the granddaughter of Agnes Leggett of Bogata.

Thin consistency:
1 Tbsp. fat (meat drippings)
1 Tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 cup milk

Medium consistency:
2 Tbsp. fat (meat drippings)
2 Tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 cup milk

Medium-thick consistency:
3 Tbsp. fat (meat drippings)
2 Tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 cup milk

Thick consistency:
¼ cup fat (drippings)
¼ cup flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 cup milk

Method: Blend flour and seasonings with melted fat over low heat, stirring or whisking with a small wire whisk constantly until the mixture is smooth and bubbly. Bubble the flour and fat for about one minute to eliminate any raw, starchy taste. Then, remove the mixture from the heat and slowly add the milk, whisking or stirring as you do. Continue to whisk or stir as you bring the mixture to a boil and boil gently one minute.

Experiment some to find which gravy consistency you prefer. Medium to medium thick are the general favorites.

Now, for a few of the saucy cousins....

White Sauce: follow the recipe for same consistency gravy, except substitute butter or margarine for the meat drippings. Recipe can be increased, following the same proportions.

Cheese sauce for broccoli, cauliflower and macaroni dishes. Follow the recipe for medium white sauce, using margarine or butter as the fat. Add ¼ tsp. dry mustard with the salt and pepper. Blend in ½ cup grated American or a nippy cheese.

Mushroom sauce (compares to undiluted condensed mushroom soup and may be used as the soup would be used). Follow the recipe for medium thick white sauce, except saute ¼ cup sliced mushrooms and one tablespoon finely chopped onion in the butter before stirring in the flour.

Egg sauce to serve with salmon loaf and other fish dishes. Follow medium white sauce recipe except stir in two diced hard-cooked eggs. Add one teaspoon minced fresh dill or ½ teaspoon dried if you wish.

Chicken a la King: double the medium thick white sauce recipe, substitution 1½ cups well seasoned chicken broth for two cups of the milk. Bring to a boil and stir in gently one to 1 ½ cups cut up cooked chicken, one cup sauteed sliced mushrooms, ½ cup slivered green pepper and ¼ cup slivered pimiento. Serve over hot split biscuits.

Stephenson who presented a program on Girl Scouting with the help of scouts Darla Jean and D'Ann Stephenson. Mrs. Stephenson, troop leader, explained the aims of scouting, the changes through the years to keep the program relevant and outlined different projects and field trips which the group had participated in this year.

Celebrating Arkla Gasgrills' 1963-20th Anniversary-1983

To Mr. and Mrs. Public:
I am wondering how many of the families in Red River County took time to have their children home Saturday night, 7 to 10 o'clock to watch and hear the program put on, on Channel 12, covering the Ark-La-Tex? Mothers and dads should take heed to what was shown on the drug addiction, not only for the older, but for the younger children as well.

What will the next thirty years be, if something isn't done to stop all this in the schools and work lines? What future does America have?

First each family, mom and dad should look about the home. What do you find there? To many of the homes have a bar. That young child who is so precious to you now will not stay young and innocent. As he or she sits in the walker, later in the chairs at home and soon off to school, will they have already decided a drink to pep them up is OK? Why not when they have watched all these years as mom and dad make a mixed drink for themselves and for friends who drop in?

Listen to this quote, author unknown: A young person was picked up by police, over intoxicated, and taken to jail. The policeman came to the home to tell the dad what his child had done. Dad was entertaining friends and told the policeman "to wait just a minute while he put his glass away and he would go talk some sense into that kid." Who was to blame? Where do you suppose the "kid" became influenced to drink in the first place? Maybe their most memories of his or her dad and mom were when they took drinks from the bar at home. Concerned? Yes, I'm concerned. Why shouldn't any person who can see what it is doing to the children and teenagers be concerned.

Mom and dad, get rid of the bar, take that child to church while you can, for when they are grown up you can't go back then and pick them up. A concerned citizen.

Forty-two employees of the Monticello Steam Electric Station were honored as graduates of Texas Utilities Generating Company's Long Range Training program at a banquet held last night at the Mt. Pleasant Country Club. All 42 employees have completed 360 to 540 classroom hours of training relating to their jobs at Monticello. Each graduate successfully completed 180 classroom hours in such fundamental courses as blueprint & schematic reading, shop math and measurements and 180 to 360 hours of courses specifically related to their jobs in either power operations, mechanical maintenance or electrical maintenance.

The Long Range Training program, a comprehensive curriculum based on a building block sequence, is offered to TUGCO employees at the TUGCO Training Center in Athens. Each course has a prerequisite and progressively becomes more detailed in content. More than 186,000 contact hours were presented to TUGCO employees at the center last year. The Long Range Training Program, which takes two to three years to complete, produced 144 graduates last year from TUGCO lignite plants and mining operations.

Monticello plant operator Cecil Presley, Jr. a native of Talco, was honored at last night's banquet as the Operations Honor Graduate of TUGCO's 1983 Long Range Training graduating class. Employees graduating with the highest grade point average from each of the three disciplines taught at the training center are designated the honor graduates and are awarded a TTC class ring to recognize their accomplishment. Presley's grade average was 95.0 or 4.0.

Presley was born in Mt. Pleasant, graduated from Riverside High School in Bogata and attended Paris Junior College and East Texas State University. He began at Monticello in January of 1976 as a fuel and ash operator, was promoted to equipment operator in June of 1977 and assistant plant operator in October of 1979. He was named plant operator in November 1981. Presley presently lives in Talco.

Other Talco graduates honored at last night's banquet were:

In the Power Operations Department: Ronald W. Fail, Equipment Operator;

Billy G. Miller, Equipment Operator; Cecil B. Presley, Jr. (Honor Graduate) Plant Operator;

Weekly Ag Briefs

The time is rapidly approaching when more and more insect pests are becoming active. Horn flies on cattle can be effectively controlled by using insecticide impregnated ear tags. Dr. James Robinson, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that for the past few years, ear tags have been very successful in controlling horn flies. He suggests that the most effective ear tags are those which contain a synthetic pyrethroid.
Homeowners may become concerned with termites swarming around the home. Robinson says that during warm spring rains, termites begin to swarm. This indicates a possible infestation in the structure. If termites are found at the base of the foundation, or windows or in the home, contact a pest control operator for definite diagnosis and treatment. Left untreated, termites can do extensive damage to structures in a short period of time.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — You could be overly idealistic regarding romance just now, so try to rationally appraise your relationships. Your hypersensitivity could lead to flares of temper and quarrels result. Make every effort you can to "keep your cool."

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) — Your business judgment is very good just now, especially as regards real estate matters. Signing contracts and "making deals" are favored, but be sure you maintain a realistic view. You get some good advice — follow it!

GRASS & LEGUME—The team of Tracy Cox, Bo Brown, Joe Williams and Jimmy Tully won second place in the recent Red River County Soil Conservation District Field Day at Clarksville. Craig Ingram was team advisor.

Farmers Are Urged To Protect Their Land

Farmers in the area who participate in the 1983 Reduced Acreage Program should consider planting their conservation use acreage to soil improving cover crops this spring, a local conservation leader said this week.

Charles VanDeaver, district conservationist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in Clarksville, said crops of forage sorghum, guar, cowpeas and hubam sweetclover reduce erosion while adding badly needed organic matter to the soil. VanDeaver said personnel on his staff use a formula called the Universal Soil Loss Equation to predict water erosion. It considers such factors as erodibility, average annual rainfall, kind of soil length of slope, slope gradient, and the type of cover on the land.

The equation, developed by USDA's Agricultural Research Service shows that erosion on fallow land can be enormous compared to land protected by a close growing drilled crop.

For example, suppose you grow cotton or sorghum on a Burleson clay with 2.5 percent slope. The land is not terraced and you have decided to devote part of the field to conservation use acreage under RAP. Let's assume that you are also trying to choose between following the land all year or planting it to a drilled forage sorghum.

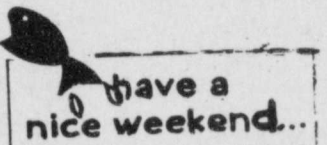

Under average fallow conditions, where the land is plowed regularly to control weeds, your soil loss would be from 12 to 16 tons per acre; if you planted it to a close growing crop and maintained its residue on the surface until planting time, soil loss could be held to about 5 tons per acre. That's saving 7 to 11 tons per acre.

Erosion would, of course, be much greater than the 12 to 16 tons per acre if your land is steeper than a 2.5 percent slope. A loss of 5 tons per acre per year is considered tolerable on Burleson clay. A ton of soil is roughly equivalent to a pickup load.

A tandem disc destroys about 25 percent each trip. Starting with your 4,000 pounds of residue, on ediscing cuts it to 3,000 pounds. The next discing cuts it to 2,250 pounds. Then one. But chiseling destroys only about 15 percent of the surface cover each trip. Starting with the same 4,000 pounds, you can chisel your land five times before you get below the 2,000 pound figure.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

CATARACTS AND HOPE
 For the great majority of people, having a cataract does not mean they will become blind. The record for cataract surgery is one of the best in medicine. Vision is restored in 95 percent of all cases. This is true for elderly patients, too, if their general health is good.
 People who have a cataract in one or both eyes find their vision blurred. This is caused by a cloudiness or opacity of the lens of the eye. There is not enough light for a clear image.
 When the cataract is removed, so is the lens. This means a substitute lens must be used to see again. Sometimes the eye surgeon will implant a substitute lens in the eye itself. But most people compensate for the loss of the eye's lens by wearing glasses or contact lenses.
 Some people prefer contact lenses because they fit directly over the eye. They feel more comfortable wearing contacts rather than thick-lensed glasses. Other people prefer wearing glasses. Both do the job that's needed: they allow you to see clearly again, although contact lenses provide the wearer with more natural vision.
