

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

Most folks are familiar with selective deafness, I understand. Especially those people with children. Parents invariably can expound at length on those youngsters that hear only what they want to hear and tune out anything they don't care about...such as go take out the trash, mow the lawn, clean your room, brush your teeth, etc., etc.

Parents may not realize that they, also, possess the ability to be deaf when the need arises.

It always amazes me (childless you understand) that a mother can sit calmly carrying on a conversation with a baby on her lap demanding something or other most insistently, or that parents can serenely continue with a normal life, watching television or whatever while two or three youngsters squabble, scream or whine!

Husbands and wives are also capable of selective hearing losses. Like children, they also miss the "we're supposed to be at the Smith's Saturday night, sorry you can't watch ball game" statements in this world.

Animals seem able to pull this off too. Take the two kittens we currently have driving our old cat and ourselves crazy.

They know their names...just say, in a quiet tone, "Leonard, Lyla, time for some dinner," and they can beat anyone into the kitchen.

But screech "Leonard, get off the back of the new chair" and Leonard no longer knows his name...indeed, doesn't seem to know humans even exist!

The Labradors have always had this remarkable tendency. They can hear the lowest voice when someone comes out on the porch, so that they can stand near the steps and beg for scraps or someone to throw the frisbee.

But let them be up near the barn, where they KNOW they aren't supposed to be and all the whistling, yelling and calling in the world doesn't seem to reach through the ear drums and into the brain.

Still, though, I don't think ANYONE can be conveniently more deaf than kids...who else could happily tread across a freshly mopped floor while trailing mud while mom yelled at the top of her voice "Jimmy, STOP RIGHT THERE", then turn and look at her all wide-eyed innocently!!

State Comptroller Bob Bullock on Friday sent checks totaling $105.9 million in local sales tax to 1,039 cities that levy the one-percent city tax. According to Bullock, this year's payments are down by nearly five percent overall compared to payments made by November of last year. The City of Houston received the largest payment, $16.8 million, bringing total payments in 1987 to $125.5 million, down 5.5 percent from last year's totals to date. Blossom received $1,824.74 for a 17.32 percent increase over the same period for the previous year. Deport received $1,957.32 for a 16.16 percent increase over last year's payment of $1,533.17 for the same period. Paris received $240,958.17, for a 0.22 percent increase over last year. Bogata received $3,339.62 for a 14.82 percent decrease over total payments to date, compared to last year. Clarksville received $23,267.60 for a .97 percent decrease while Detroit received $1,141.42 for a 13.02 percent increase over last year. Mt. Pleasant received $110,414.13 for a 6.27 percent decrease while Talco received $2,472.38 for a 78.34 percent increase over last year's totals to date. November checks represent taxes collected on sales made in September and reported to the Comptroller by October 20. This month's checks also include third quarter allocations, which reflect sales reported to the Comptroller on a quarterly basis.

This Ole House, one of the newest businesses in Talco, will hold an Open House on Sunday afternoon, November 22 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. The shop, which has handmade craft items, will feature Christmas decorations on this day. Some of the items will be stuffed fabric candy canes and bells, wreaths and door knob covers. Everyone is welcome to come and see the unusual items in the shop. It Go straight through town about 2/10's of a mile. You'll see the back of a blue house with off white trim on it. There is a road to the left just before the house, take that left and you are there.

Hunters Should Consider Insect Problems

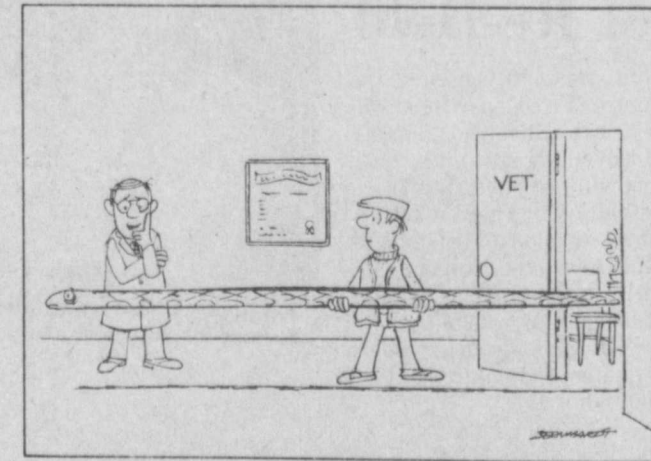

By Herb Brevard

With hunting season getting into full swing, many people will be exposing themselves to the elements and potentially dangerous insect bites.

Wasps, spiders, ticks and mosquitoes may infest camp houses or campsites. When setting up camp, be prepared with the proper insecticides to eliminate the pests. Hornet and wasp spray can be obtained in pressurized cans with accuracy up to 30 or 40 feet. Most mosquito repellents work fairly well and should be used according to directions.

Several cases of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever have been reported in Texas this year. This often fatal disease is carried by ticks, therefore extra precautions should be taken to avoid tick bites. Thorough inspection of the body should be done after each hunt. Tick repellents may be successful in most instances.

Inspect game carcasses for tick infestations and be careful in handling the carcass if ticks are found. Just a few extra precautions can prevent problems from ticks and other insects which might otherwise spoil a hunting season.

"I think the best thing I can do for your boa is to prescribe a relaxant."

Chapman Votes For Reduction

The House narrowly passed a deficit-reduction package last night that will trim more than $109 billion from the budget deficit over the next three years, according to U.S. Rep. Jim Chapman.

Chapman, D-Texas, said that this bill addresses the top priority on the minds of East Texas, reducing the federal deficit. "Although I have many misgivings about some provisions of the bill, the bigger concern is clearly the on-range problem of the deficit."

"I could not see the process to reduce the deficit stopped," he said. "It is important that people understand that this bill has $109 billion in real deficit reduction without affecting income tax rates. Taxpayers in East Texas and middle-income Americans would not be affected significantly by this bill."

The congressman had initially cast a "no" vote on the bill, then returned to the floor and changed his vote to "yea" after concluding that he did not want to be the one who derailed deficit reduction. The final vote was 206-205.

"I came back to the floor because I could not see this process stopped," said Chapman. "For the future of deficit reduction, for the stability of our economy, I put the interests of East Texas and the country ahead of my specific misgivings about this bill."

The bill, which the Texas congressional delegation supported by a 15-12 margin, increases revenues by including an extension of the three percent telephone excise tax, repealing cuts in the top estate and gift tax rate, ending the interest deduction for home mortgages over $1 million and repealing an accounting tax break used by defense contractors.

The package projects a savings of $29 million from the required labeling of frozen pizzas that use artificial cheese. "This will be a big boost to dairy farmers," said Chapman. "The bill also maintains cost accounting for farmers, which is critical to East Texas agricultural producers."

Nearly $1 billion in revenue comes from new user fees and collections, including a fee charged to commercial vessels escorted by U.S. naval forces in the Persian Gulf.

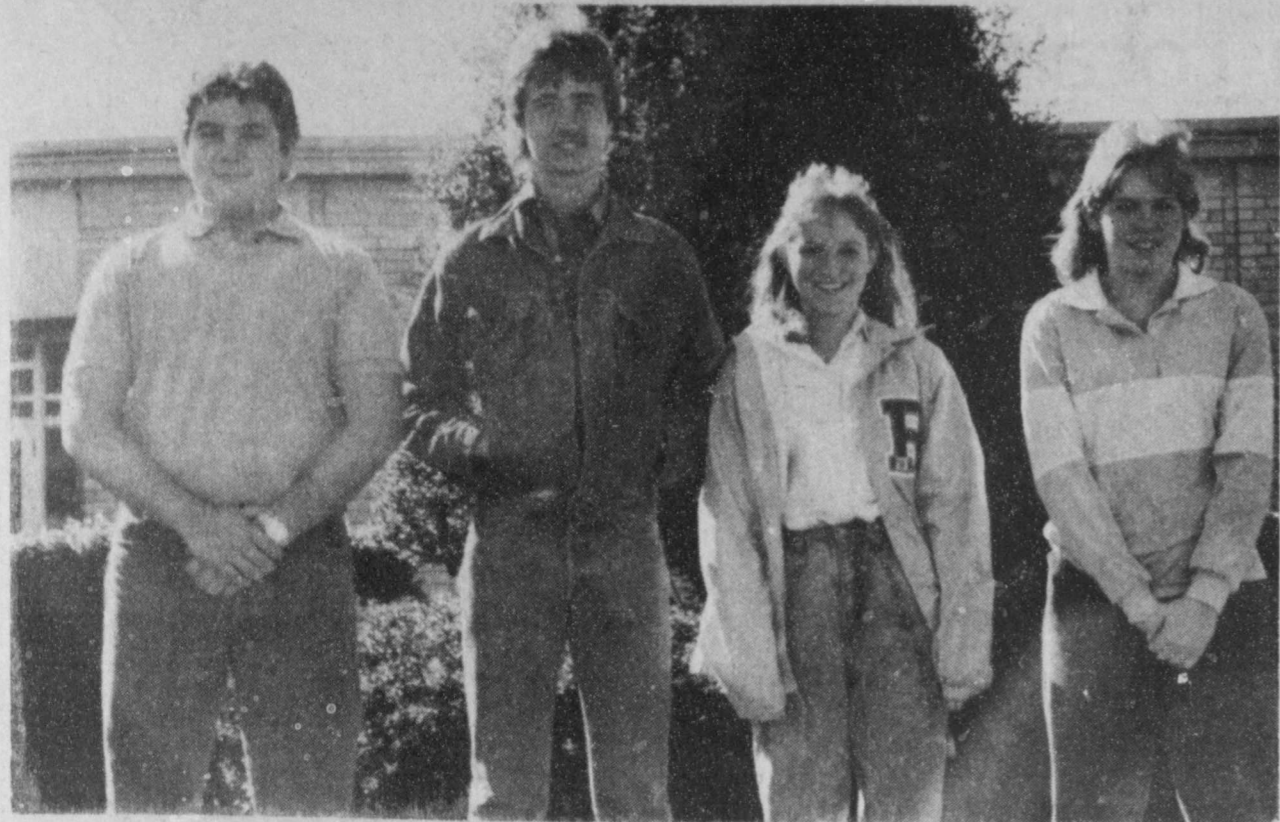

"To support this bill was a difficult decision but I could not allow the deficit reduction process to stop. This is too important to our national economy and in the end to my constituents in East Texas," he concluded.

There's a better way to save.

When you put your hard earned money in a mattress, all it does is sleep. What you want is to put it to work for you, earning interest, and that's where our many savings plans, money market accounts, IRAs and CDs come in. They're all high interest-earners and each offers the added protection of being insured by the government for up to $100,000. (That's something your mattress won't do.) We have savings plans that will fit your needs and budget and we'll be glad to tell you about them. Stop in anytime.

Sunshine Club Luncheon Held

The Sunshine Club of the Calvary Baptist Church in Talco held their monthly luncheon Nov. 17 at the church. Seventeen senior adults attended the covered dish lunch.

The program started with a game about slogans from well known products. The winner of the game was to go through the lunch line first. The game, headed by team captains Elsie Weatherall and Ollie Jones, ended in a tie, but Mrs. Weatherall team let Mrs. Jones' team go first. Since there weren't any senior adult birthdays in November, three year old Rachel Case was honored since her birthday was November 16.

A door prize was given to Mary Kelley. The prize was a set of metal stove top covers.

The main entertainment was a group from the First Baptist Church in Paris called the Unique Ukes. Bro. Al Jordan was accompanied by nine women with ukeleles. There was singing and jokes and a general good time. Bro. Jordan shared an Elephant Stew recipe with the women and the group sang "Alley Cat" to one of the men guests. The group sang "Has Anybody Seen My Gal" and one of the women dressed in flapper attire, strutted. Some of the songs presented by the Unique Ukes were Rag Time Gal, Down In The Valley, I'll Fly Away and How Great Thou Art. The program was entertaining and seemed to be enjoyed by those attending the luncheon.

After the program, a covered dish lunch was served by Tammie Case, Rhonda Collins, Lori Franks, Maxine Patton and Mary Hall. The table decorations were turkeys made out of bois 'd arc apples made by the RA's.

The senior adults that attended were Rosa Ottinger, Josephine Mankins, Mary McKelvey, Eula Mae Hall, Ida Hall, G.E. Pinkston, Mary McConnell, Vernon McConnell, Ollie Jones, Elsie Weatherall, Myra Fletcher, Sam Fletcher, Orva Lou Easterling, Vivian Westbrook, Alice Ruth Tidwell, Mollie Holland and Mary Kelley.

Bro. Ted White would like to stress that these luncheons are for all the senior adults in and around Talco, not just church members. The next luncheon is set for December 15 at 10 a.m. in the fellowship hall. It will be covered dish and each guest is asked to bring a small gift to exchange, not to exceed $5.00.
