As we sit glued to our radios and TVs, and read with care our newspapers, most of us are unaware that this virtually instantaneous coverage of the Middle East War generates an amount of tension unprecedented in previous conflicts.

On our emotional roller coaster it's easy to become cranky, irritable and depressed.

So now might be a good time to remind everyone...life goes on...and humor makes life easier to bear.

At a time when our choices are virtually tears or laughter remember...laughter feels better!

Taking things lighter doesn't mean we don't appreciate the seriousness of the situation...it means we are carrying on in spite of it.

Those who have survived previous wars can give good advice about that. They learned to carry on, and so should we all. Humor, good cheer helps, it doesn't hinder!

Some Thoughts On War Watching..And Responsible Reporting

By Nanalee Nichols

Two weeks ago I wrote an article dealing with television newspeople creating news instead of reporting it.

Since then things have changed...they certainly don't have to create news about the Gulf War, there is plenty to report.

But once again we are seeing what to me is a very irresponsible aspect of visual media reporting.

No war in the history of the world has been more reported. War watching is a national pastime since last Wednesday, as we all sit watching as nearly instantaneous videos of missile attacks and air raids unfold before our eyes.

But just how many times now have we also watched as various officials, from the President of the United States on down have been literally harassed by the news media about exact figures, and what plan they intend to use next?

Why does any news person expect to get statements about when the air war will give way to a ground offensive, how many missiles the U.S. still has left or what the next stage of a campaign will be?

Anyone should be able to see that this information cannot be released.

Can't you just see the scene now-a carefully clad reporter standing in front of a world map reporting: "And tomorrow, General Such and Such has said, they will begin a bombardment of the north west sector of Baghdad a 18 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Four hundred planes are expected to be used in this particular mission, and they will be approaching at 3000 feet from a westerly."

That almost seems to be what these news hounds are wanting!

Of course freedom of the press is a basic amendment, and I support it. But I also believe that while the public has a right to know, the military has a right to withhold information which might jeopardize an operation.

Another common practice going on with interviewers is the tactic of "putting words in someone's mouth".

Personally, most of the officials interviewed have been more patient than I would have been with having to repeat "That is NOT what I said" or "I've already told you we cannot reveal this information at this time".

Visual media has a major advantage over the print journalists right now. They can broadcast live every few minutes. They don't have to deal in cold hard facts the way a paper does. Instead they have the luxury of dealing in entertainment.

Can you imagine reading a newspaper account in which the reporter kept saying "There's another flash of light, and then there goes another". As fascinating as this is, it doesn't really tell us too much. Later, when things need to be recapped, it's the written word that we tend to go back to for hard facts.

It's easy to check facts and quotations in print. Voice inflections don't interfere with content. Action photos don't take away from concentration.

I also feel Americans have enough sense to listen to a report or speech and not require an interpretation of what was said immediately afterwards.

So called "experts" have been interviewed and consulted until speculation seems to equal facts.

Obviously I'm prejudiced in favor of print...but whether it's a news reporter with a tv camera or a print reporter with a pad and pencil, both have a very deep responsibility to balance good reporting with responsible reporting.

Getting the news is one thing...misinterpreting it or dealing with speculation is something else again.

Please ladies and gentlemen of the media...a little responsible reporting here!

Locals Receive Word From Those In Gulf War

Everyone cares...everyone is interested. So let us hear from YOU.

We have contacted a few relatives of those who are currently serving in the Middle East during this crisis. Others were unavailable, or we don't know about them yet.

Every week until the war is over we want to run a column about these brave servicemen and women, and want to encourage the family and friends of each and every one to contact us and let us know when they hear from their loved one.

Ted and Kay Byndas, whose son, Staff Sergeant Douglas Byndas is a member of the Air Force 33rd Combat Communication squad, report that their son called last Saturday morning, but they were not home. He left a message on their answering machine telling them that he was fine.

Nelda Harrell, of Jennings, reports that her son, Spc. Rodney C. Harrell, a Prairiland High School graduate, called them about 5:45 on Tuesday, Jan. 15. He is with the 82nd Airborne division. Nelda says that he was confident, and she isn't worrying too much, placing her faith in God.

Sgt. Tony Livingston is with the Engineering Battalion and called his wife Carmen in Germany. He has a 3 year old daughter, Cindy, and a 7 year old stepson, Randy. They all are in Germany. After hearing from him, Carmen called Tony's mother in Bogata and reported that he said he was "okay and not to worry." He is in Saudi Arabia but wasn't allowed to report where.

News about Tammie Richardson and Charles Owens, both from the Blossom area was unavailable at press time.

Sgt. L. Charles D. Weaver, in the Air Force 804 Air Refueling section called his mother, Mary Bove, Sunday. He reported that he was very tired, as they were working long hours, but otherwise is fine.

Donald Wayne Dillion, in the U.S. Marines, is the nephew of C.D. and Jane Glass of Bogata. They heard from him on Thursday night. He was helping load helicopters.

Danny Billy, who is with the U.S. Marine Medical Detachment, reported in phone calls Tuesday morning to his uncle, Joseph Wesley of Deport, and his mother, Molly, that he was okay, but tired. They are on alert, of course.

Danny also told them that Lonnie McMikel, another Deport native, was all right, and that they had had the chance to visit several days ago.

Charles Fast is an Army Sgt. in the First Calvary Division out of Ft. Hood.

Mrs. Jenae Fast talked to Chares after Thanksgiving. He called Christmas, but they missed his call. Jenae reports that she receives letters about every nine days. She is used to Charles being away, since they lived in Germany for three years and only moved back in June.

The last time Jenae knew where Charles was stationed in the war he was "somewhere between Syria and the Iraqi border."

Please, help people keep abreast of those who are so far away...when you hear from any family member of friends in the Middle East, give us a call even if all you have to report is that they are fine. That's the best news of all!

Do You Want A Computer Walk?

Talco School has sent letters to parents to help them decide whether a "computer walk" would be successful, and whether parents and relatives would be willing to help make it work.

The letter read: Your input is needed to help us make an important decision that affects your children and family.

A computer teacher recently commented, "students get so excited about using classroom computers that you have to put a seatbelt on them". One of the goals of our school is to have enough computers to allow for daily use in each classroom. The younger a student can begin hands-on computer training the better we can use computers to address individual learning needs.

We are presently considering an opportunity for a business-education partnership that will allow us to acquire a substantial number of new computers and the latest in educational software.

Students (and parents too, if they like) would participate in a Computer Walk and Fun Day at our school. This is like a walk-a-thon, jump-rope-for heart or other event usually done for charity, with one important difference: 100% of all the money we receive will be used to purchase computers and software.

Each participating student and family would ask relatives and close friends to be either a Gold ($10), Silver ($5) or Bronze ($3) Award Sponsor for them in our school's Computer Walk. There will be lots of blue ribbons, prizes, free t-shirts, contests and awards on Walk Day. All of the sponsor money collected will be used to purchase computer equipment.

This type of program will be successful only if you, the parents, approve of it and are willing to lend your support. That is the reason for this letter. Help us determine if we should use this program at our school to acquire additional computers and the latest in educational software.

The letter is then supplied with a place for a parent's signature and whether or not they are interested in supporting the walk.

Anyone in the community, individual or business, is urged to respond to this article in the same manner.

SHARING MEXICAN dish recipes this week in Country Cooking are Ann and Sheila Sanders of Blossom.

Country Cooking

By Genie Bankhead

From the home of Jesse and Ann Sanders of Blossom, our Country Cooking column comes this week. Jesse and Ann have been married for 23 years and have two children, J.W. age 21 and Sheila, age 17. Being from the desert of Imperial Valley, CA, they have made their home in the Blossom area for the past 13 years. They really enjoy this country where you actually see green trees, blooming flowers and snow.

Ann has chosen to share several Mexican dishes that her family enjoy. Ann loves to cook but does not have a lot of time to devote to it. She usually cooks a lot on the weekends and seems to cook more during the winter than in the summer.

Ann is office manager at the Adult Probation Department in Paris, where she has worked for 10 years. She enjoys being a 4-H leader for the Red Oak 4-H club and has devoted 7 years to the club. Ann also loves home interior decorations. Among her hobbies, Ann enjoys going on occasional hunting and fishing trips with her husband.

Ann is considered the main cook at their home. Jesse does not enjoy this at all, but from time to time, both children will put together a specialty. Sharing with Ann in this column is daughter Sheila. Sheila, a senior at Prairieville, has entered her recipe in many 4-H contests and won several honors with it.

During the summer, Ann and several friends make their own Chunky Hot Sauce, enough for each one to have one gallon. Ann says this lasts her about two weeks. Their recipes are both fast and easy and they hope you enjoy them.

We hope you enjoy the recipes this week. If you have a feature suggestion, please call 652-6032 or write to Rt. 1, Box 67A, Deport.

Rebels-Lady Rebels Even District Record

Last Friday night, basketball action at Rivercrest High School evened the Lady Rebels and the Rebels District record to 2-2. Krista Weatherall led the bombardment of the Lady Wolves, posting 43 points in the contest for one of the all-time high scorers in any one game for Rivercrest High School. Good hustle and minor mistakes put the Lady Rebels out front 37-28 at halftime. By the end of the third quarter, the lead was extended to 67-36, and by the time the final buzzer sounded, the Lady Rebels had overwhelmed the Lady Wolves 92-52. The Rebels claimed the district win 70-61, and never trailed in their contest.

At the end of the first quarter, the score stood at 16-6 in favor of the Rebels. At halftime, the Rebels had moved to a 33-18 lead and by the end of the third quarter, it was 45-38. Cory Gable was high scorer for the Rebels with 23 points. Galen Logan had eight points and Eric Curtiss had ten.

Mother Reports On Son In Saudi Arabia

Chief Warrant Officer Bill Willis, son of Mrs. Margie Garrett of Bogata, is now serving somewhere in Saudi Arabia. Margie's last letter from Bill was several weeks ago and she thought that some of you might like to share the news of how some of the troops are living. "We are in no real trouble except for terrorists who may want to try to knock out this communications site. We are currently in the desert, about 80 miles from the junction of the Iraq and Kuwait border. Looks like we will be here for about two more weeks and then jump forward. No matter where we go, there isn't anything but more desert. South of here is real sand dune-type terrain and all around here is flat sandy, rocky desert. From what I've been told, this area used to be a sea bottom. The wind is blowing again today and you can only see for about a mile. Land navigation is hard during the day and very difficult at night. There are no roads out here. The closest hardtop road is 18 miles away. All of the dirt tracks look the same and without a compass, there is no way you could find your way on a day like today. Land and sky are all the same color right now. There is no twilight. It goes from daylight one minute to dark the next. It seems that way, anyway. It's winter here. When I got off the plane, I thought the heat (60 degrees) was unbearable. After being here for 10 days, 60 degrees is cold. I have been told that by April, the days will get up to 100 or more and the nights will still be cold. If this isn't over by May, it will be too hot to fight during the day. Morale is good for the most part and we have settled into the routine fairly well. Water seems to be the biggest problem so far. We are drinking bottled water from one liter plastic containers and using the water in our five gallon containers for washing, coffee and mess hall operations. Drinking from your canteen causes diarrhea. The neck of the canteen gets contaminated from the germs on your mouth after about two canteens of repeated drinking. The trick is to drink as little as possible from your canteen and then use a very weak bleach solution of water to wipe the top off after you are through. Keeping your hands clean seems to be another big aid for keeping healthy. I don't really need anything. The flies are a pest when the wind doesn't blow, but completely disappear at night, so I don't need any fly dope now. They tell me that the flies will be a lot worse later when the nights are warmer. Mosquitoes don't exist and I haven't experienced sand fleas yet. Mother, try not to worry too much. I will be back! Except for a few hardships, this will be a piece of cake. Hang tough. I am making it OK. I'm very good at what I do and as you know, I have had quite a bit of combat experience. Not bragging, just plain facts. Time will pass and this will eventually be just another experience as we get on with our lives." Mrs. Garrett received a letter from Bill's wife, Ida and she expressed our feelings completely. "It seems strange that one man's obsession can affect so many lives. The Iraqi president obviously needs psychiatric help. Unfortunately, in the interim, so many of our lives are touched by his insanity. This whole thing doesn't seem right to me and I'm sure to many others but we chose the military life and therefore we must deal with our separation and stress. It would just be easier if the media weren't so intent on publishing the demeaning things. They talk to five or six soldiers and say morale is low. They show demonstration after demonstration of those who don't support war. Do any of us really want war? I don't think so. But there are millions of people who want freedom and peace and know that we have to defend the United Nations decisions. WE don't see a lot of that on the media. So, as I send this, I ask for your support of what is happening in the Gulf. War is not right...it never will be, but it is a part of our lives and we can't make it disappear. So, pray for a peaceful solution, but support whatever happens because the men and women who serve the country are doing it for us. We chose the Commander and Chief and therefore must bear the trials of such. We didn't ask for a war but we have to support it. There are hundreds of thousands of families separated because of this crisis and I feel that knowing they have the American people behind them would certainly help; so I ask this if you, my family and friends, support whatever happens and show it. They really need us behind them." Mrs. Willis is teaching at the local Dodds School in Mannheim, Germany and awaiting the return of her husband. Their daughter, Kari Beach, whose husband, Jack, is also in Saudi Arabia, working at the Officers Club System at Ansbach, Germany and their son, Duane Willis, is in college at the University of Maryland in Munich, Germany. Mrs. Garrett also has a granddaughter whose husband is also in the Gulf region. She hopes that some of you will write to any soldier. Her son's address is: Billy D. Willis, 459-74-5090, HHC 93rd SIG BDE, Operation Desert Shield, APO New York 09650. Her grandson's address is SGT. H. Jack Beach, 244-39-4364, Operation Desert Shield, HQS & HQS TRP 1st SQDN, 1st CAV, 1st Armored Div, APO New York 09649.

Cemetery Association Directors Meet

The Board of Directors of the Bogata Cemetery Association, Inc., met for their annual meeting January 17 at the home of Frances R. Rozell. Officers were elected for the year were: president, Frances R. Rozell; vice-president, Tommie Corbell; and secretary-treasurer, Alice Ann White. The financial report for 1990 was reviewed. Due to the increase in the cost of maintenance and supplies the expenditures exceeded the revenue almost $5,000.00. It was noted that the Cemetery Association depends on memorial donations and donations to maintain the cemetery. New members Neil Rozell and Gaston Puckett were welcomed to the board. Other members of the board are Frances R. Rozell, Tommie Corbell, Alice Ann White, J.N. Lee, Eleanor McCluer, Bill White, Mabel Trout, Sam McConnell, John Howi9on, Alfred Puckett. Sue Hudson, a charter member of the board, is an inactive member.

TAX TIPS
 from Mark Bower CPA
Filing Your 1990 Tax Return
 Yes, it's time again to file your tax return. Don't procrastinate; file early so that you can get a head start on your 1991 tax and financial planning. Gather all your 1990 tax information as soon as possible. Typical documents that you'll need include forms such as W-2's, 1099's, and K-1's (from partnerships, S corporations, etc.) You'll also need to check your records for alimony paid or received, unemployment or social security benefits received, rental income and expenses, retirement plan contributions, job-related expenses, estimated taxes paid, and child or dependent care expenses. If you're in doubt about the relevance of any piece of information in your files, take it with you to your tax appointment and ask your accountant about it. Remember, you also need to have social security numbers for any dependents you'll be claiming who are two years or older. Get details on items you think might apply to you (such as the earned income credit if you are a low-income working parent). Also, while you're gathering your own tax information, check the filing requirements for your children. If any of them is required to file a return, pull together that information at the same time. If you cannot gather all your tax information in time for the April 15 filing deadline, you can get an automatic four month extension to file by filing Form 4868 by April 15. This is only an extension of time to file your return, not an extension of time to pay your tax bill. You are required to estimate any tax you still owe and send it in with Form 4868. Final Note: April 15, 1991, is also the deadline for filing an amended 1987 tax return. So if you were planning to amend your 1987 return for some reason, get it taken care of soon. Call our office for more information or for assistance with these and other required tax filings.

Talco Junior High Sports Report

The Talco Junior High teams traveled to Saltillo Monday, January 21 and the girls began play with Saltillo in control of the first jump, only to have Jennifer Bond of Talco steal the ball and begin an up the court, down the court, game.

The first quarter saw Saltillo score one free shot with only seconds left. 1-0 Saltillo. Halftime ended with an 11-6 Saltillo lead.

The Talco team had an awful night, as the only pass they could make was a bad pass. The third quarter action saw the girls bring the game around, ending in a 15-15 tie. Talco's Julie Nolen did a good job on the rebound and Tawala Padgett's worst night on the court made a turn for the better. High scorer for the night was Jennifer Bond followed by Shaunda Jones. Final score was 25-21. This was one of Talco's worst, but most exciting, games of the year.

The Talco boys were simply outclassed in their game. Mistakes were numerous.

Seventh grader Jody Ottinger came in to relieve post player, Clint Franks, who was in early foul trouble and did an outstanding job for the team. Joe Grissom did a good job on the court, until foul trouble also took him to the bench.

The halftime score was 31-8, Saltillo.

During the last minutes of the game, Nicholas Castle, Talco's youngest player, had his thumb dislocated badly, when the ball hit exactly the wrong way. He was taken to Titus County Memorial Hospital.

High scorer was Jack Brown followed by Jody Ottinger. Final score was 49-25.
