Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

The scene takes place way back in time. Wayyyy back.

Early man (or at least one representative thereof) arises and stumbles to the entrance of his primitive shelter. Knuckling his eyes he wanders over to where he had left off knapping a particularly nice flint point the day before. Suddenly, all thoughts of sleep are gone as he roars the neanderthal equivalent of "Somebody got my flint knapping tools, I left them RIGHT HERE last night. Who's the blankety blank so and so who took em".

Stomping around in a major huff, this primitive human growls and snarls as he prowls around, searching for the culprit.

Then, in sudden understanding, he locates his tools and the point, not where someone has taken them, but over by the shelter of that pretty young gal whom he had spent the evening trying to impress with his skills and boasting of his hunting ability!

Embarrassed, he slinks away, quietly trying to keep anyone from knowing what a fool he had made of himself.

It's ben like that since the dawn of civilization.

Whether it's the clay tablets early Egyptians used, the bronze stylus of later ages, or the favorite pen of today's businessman, our tools and articles, cleaning supplies and jewelry tends to be taken by "someone" or "somebody".

A friends swears that every time they go out of town for a night "someone" comes into their home and drags all the clothes out of the closet, throws them around until they are dirty, then leaves them. Then they fill the sink full of dirty dishes and leave.

At our office any time my Exacto knife or favorite sissors comes up missing, or when Barbar's pica pole is out of place, we always say that "someone came in the dark of night and stole it away".

"Someone" does so many things. Someone afflicts those who work, those who keep house, those who sew, and even children, who find that "someone" has taken their favorite toys.

It's just human nature to immediately reject the idea that it is possible something missing could have been mislaid by ourselves!

So, folks, watch out....always remember "someone" is lurking around, ready to take those things you need the most and hide them. And it is so humiliating to have to admit we did it ourselves!

Library Has More Programs Coming Up

Doylene Young portrayed "Susanna of the Alamo" Tuesday, June 11 at the Talco School Library.

It was a very interesting story. She told about the old west of Texas.

Doylene is a graduate of the University of Arkansas, member of the Trinity Baptist Church of Mt. Pleasant, and is presently working on her fifth play where she will be portraying the character of "Weezie" in Steel Magnolias.

Next week on June 18 the Library will present a lady for the Johntown-Bogata community. Lee Hood will ead a discussion on the life of the "good Old Days". She will touch on quilt making and other areas of interest.

On June 25 Doylene Young will be back.

She will be talking and telling stories about the "Roaring 20's". She will be dressed like a gangster. Come and enjoy the fun.

Country Cooking

By Gerrie Bankhead

Country Cooking is coming to you this week from the kitchen of Donald and Stella Mankins. They will be married 34 years this August and have elived all their lives in the Bogata area. Both Donald and Stella are members of the Methodist Church there.

Donald and Stella are the parents of two sons: Keith of Richardson and his daughter, Ashley, age 6; and another son, Mike, who lives in The Colony.

Stella is a very active and busy lady. Besides working constantly in her lovely home and yard, she enjoys oil painting, sweatshirt painting, crafts, cooking and growing plants.

Among many different types of foods, Stella says she is not a good dessert maker. Since they have to watch the cholesterol she cooks more vegetables and casseroles these days. She rarely fries foods unless the boys come home. Stella says her husband loves to see the boys come because he gets good old fried potatoes and fried chicken.

Donald and Stella raise a big garden and freeze a lot of foods. She plans to try something new this year, canning new potatoes. Stella also loves to collect cookbooks. Most of her books were purchased from local organizations in the area, all of which have special meaning to her. Stella had to learn to cook after she got married because she did very little before. Her husband always says she couldn't boil water before they married. He says he had to eat chili, not homemade chili either, for breakfast, dinner and supper. But says now he has made a pretty good cook out of her. Stella loves to entertain and they have several couples who get together and visit and eat. They don't get to do this as much as they would like to because of job schedules but does enjoy it.

Stella's house and yard are full of plants, some hanging, some sitting, some big and some little. Plants everywhere.

The green bean casserole is one of Donald's favorites and Stella shares this recipe with lots of people.

The chicken and dumplings recipe came from her mother, Stella used this recipe for almost 34 years. The peach cobbler recipe came from a late friend, Norma Jean White, who entered it in the very first Methodist cookbook that sold in 1975.

The zucchini recipe came from a friend in Dallas, Janie Farrah and her Mexican squash casserole came from Lois Huddleston in Bogata. I made this recipe last Sunday for dinner and many really enjoyed it.

If you've enjoyed the article, request a recipe or have a recipe to share or suggest a feature, please call 652-6032 or write Rt. 1, Box 67A, Deport, TX 75435.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS
OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
AUGUST 10, 1991

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 42 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the newly created county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation a percentage of the market value of the residence homestead of a married or unmarried adult. The percentage exempted could not exceed 20% of such market value, and the amount exempted could not be less than $5,000. The amendment would also authorize county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation not less than $3,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of a disabled person or a person sixty-five years of age or older. Finally, the amendment would authorize elections in county education districts for the taxation of certain tangible personal property exempted from ad valorem taxation by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the voters of a county education district to adopt certain exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws authorizing Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor to issue and sell up to $300 million of general obligation bonds to finance educational loans to students. The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide educational loans to students."

BRO. BILLY DANIELS, a minister in and out of church is featured in this week's Familiar Faces column. (Staff Photo by Denise Wood)

Familiar Faces .By Denise Wood

Every once in a while there's someone who not only does his job well, but goes beyond his call of duty for himself, his family as well as the community. This person is Bro. Billy Daniels. It's amazing what he has done and what he is presently doing. He's a remarkable person and it's an honor to spotlight him this week for Father's Day.

It wasn't until 1961 that Bro. Daniels decided to go into preaching. For five years he worked at Texas Instruments as an Engineer Technician until he felt it was his calling to become a preacher. It took a lot of courage for him to walk away from his career and luckily for him, his wife, Mary Lou, and their families stood behind him.

Bro. Daniels attended four years at Texas Baptist Institute Seminary in Henderson, receiving his Masters in English Bible. He served as a Missionary in Sulphur Springs. Five years prior to coming to Joliet, he was the Missions Secretary for the Missionary Baptist Association of Texas, where he was responsible for paying the state missionaries and collecting money for them. May, 1986, Bro. Daniels received his doctorate after two hard years with his thesis in New Testament missions. He's come a long way from an Engineer Technician.

Bro. Daniels has been the pastor for Joliet Missionary Baptist Church since September, 1977. He's much more than just a preacher, he's very active in the Missionary Baptist Association and various other community organizations. He holds several different positions in the Missionary Baptist Association, clerk for Red River-Bowie Association; Clerk-treasurer for the Northeast Texas Missionary Baptist Council; chairman of History and Archives Committee; moderator for the MBA; and is a member of the Missionary Committee for the American Baptist Association.

The community organizations he's involved in are Joliet Baseball Committee; secretary-treasurer for the Lions Club; chaplain at McCuiston Hospital; member of the Board of Directors for Chaplains; member of Red River County Child Protective Services Board; and the Region 7 Child Protective Services Executive Committee.

Even with all his extra curricular activities, you can bet he will be there when you need him.

One of the things that has kept Bro. Daniels from leaving Bogata is the people in the area. He enjoys working with the citizens of Bogata and only hopes that he has helped put some happiness in someone's life that needed it.

He plans to stay in the area as long as he feels needed, and he feels the Lord is leading him to stay.

With all Bro. Daniels has done, the one thing he is most proud of is being a father to his three children, Ricky, Susan and Tim, who have given him seven grandchildren. The magic that Bro. Daniels possesses is that he is a human before he tries to be anything else.
