CITY SCHOOLS OPEN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6th

The city public schools opened Monday. Pupils registered on the first day, and free text-books were issued Tuesday. Entrance examinations were also given during the first two days to those desiring them.

The opening days have witnessed what is probably the heaviest initial enrollment in the history of our schools. Already as many pupils have been registered as were enrolled during the whole of last term. The registration in the high school has proven especially heavy, owing probably to the great number of students in that department who have come here from nearby rural schools.

The actual enrollment up to Wednesday afternoon was as follows:

High School, 124; North Ward Grammar grades, 126; South Ward, 216; East Ward, (four grades) 90; Total, 556. Indications are that not more than seventy-five per cent of the city's scholastics have registered and that the final enrollment will reach 800, possibly 900.

Conditions are already abnormal. Every room is crowded to full capacity, and in some adequate seating is impossible. Every available foot of space is being used at the North and South Wards. It may become necessary to shift whole grades from the northern and southern portions of town to the east ward in order to relieve the situation.

Many parents are petitioning that children under scholastic age be enrolled. Every effort is being made to accommodate such children, but scholastics must be cared for first, and it may be impossible to house and instruct others.

Tuition rates must be increased in the face of the unusually heavy cost of maintaining the schools this season. All children who have not been transferred must pay tuition during the entire term if their parents do not live in the district. This includes all boarding students. Pupils who have been transferred from other districts will be credited with the per capita appropriation of $14.50, after which they will be charged tuition at the regular rates. Tuition is payable in advance for the entire term.

The line-up of teachers is as follows: High School—Principal and Coach, E. Kuhn; Mathematics and Chemistry, F. P. Magers; English, Miss Lillian Fulton; Latin and Spanish, Mrs. F. P. Magers; Domestic Art and Science, Miss Elsie Tyson; History, C. C. Minatra. Mr. Kuhn will teach physics and a portion of mathematics. Some of the history will be taught by Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Magers.

Grades—North Ward: Mrs. Blakeley, Miss Daugherty, Miss Smith. One teacher is to be elected to fill a vacancy in the first primary.

South Ward: Miss Ellis, Miss Hassie Davis, Miss Francis Sherrill, Miss Carrie Sherrill, Miss Minadale Davis. One teacher is to be elected to fill a vacancy made by resignation.

East Ward: Mrs. Rike, Miss Johnson.

In addition to teaching part time at the South Ward, Miss Ellis is supervising principal for the grammar grades at all three buildings and will teach occasionally in all grades. Miss Fitzgerald is art and music supervisor for all grades and buildings.

Teeing Off in the Big Game

STYLE SHOW PROVES A SPLENDID SUCCESS

The Fall Style Show under the auspices of the ladies of the Christian Church, given at Dick's Theatre Tuesday afternoon and night proved a great success. The ladies cleared about $130. The weather being ideal for both performances, the crowds gathered early, and long before the show began the house was crowded to full seating capacity, even standing room being at a premium. The pictures were the best shown at Dick's Theatre for several months. The management stated the crowd was the second largest the theatre ever accommodated.

After the pictures were shown the beautiful living models displayed the latest styles in dresses, coat suits, shoes and millinery. The younger set was well represented in beautiful models, showing the school girls wearing apparel from the J. E. Grissom & Co. and Grissom's Store. These stores are to be congratulated upon their showing of the season's beautiful creations.

The Style Show has become a semi-annual event anticipated by the entire county. They have all proved successful, but the one given Tuesday evening is winner, thus far.

HAIL AND WIND WEDNESDAY DAMAGES GROWING CROPS

A heavy rain, accompanied by wind and hail passed over the eastern part of the county Wednesday afternoon doing considerable damage to growing crops, and blowing down sheds and out houses. We have not heard from all sections of the country, but around Roberts schoolhouse seems to be the worst that has been reported to us. The cotton stalks were stripped of their leaves, squares and small bolls, but the larger bolls were not seriously damaged. The maize and other feed crops were not seriously damaged, but in many places it was blown down. The sheds and outbuildings were blown down around many homes and other minor damages done. No estimate can be placed on the damages as we have not heard sufficiently to make any prediction. J. A. Maps and J. P. Wheatley were exhibiting a few stalks of cotton that was in the hail and they were almost stripped of everything but the brown bolls. A hard rain fell in the city accompanied by considerable wind and some small hail fell but no damage was done.

STUDENTS MEET TO ORGANIZE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The students of the High School assembled in the study hall Wednesday morning and expressions for sincere work were heard. School activities were also discussed and an athletic association was organized, the following officers being elected:

John V. Davis, president; Mary Langford, secretary; Roy Stewart, treasurer, and Olin Van Buskirk and Frankie May Brooks, yell leaders.

The literary societies also met, soliciting new members and planning interesting work for the year. The following officers were elected for the societies:

Bear Cats—Madeline Hunt, president; Eugene English, vice president; and Jean Hays, secretary and treasurer.

Curtain Club—Othello Anderson, president; Lucile Follard, vice president; Myrtle Weinert, secretary and treasurer, and Arthur Fox, sergeant at arms.

Another interesting subject, that of the Annual, was discussed. It is believed that we are to have the best High School we have ever had, thus we should have splendid material for the "Thistle." With this in view, the following staff was elected: Gertrude Freeland, Editor in Chief; Irene Cox, Assistant Editor; John V. Davis, business manager, and Frank Kimbrough, assistant manager.

Each class and organization will elect a representative to the Press Club in the near future and with the co-operation of the student body and people of Haskell there is no reason why our High School should not be represented by the best High School Annual in Texas.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL SESSION OF HASKELL COUNTY BAPTIST

Met with the First Baptist Church of Rule September 1, 2, and 3, 1920. Twenty-one churches were enrolled and messengers seated, Rev. Chas. A. Powell, Pastor of First Baptist church of Rule, was made moderator and McHenry Seal, pastor of the First Baptist church of Haskell was made clerk. M. H. Reeves of Munday, Texas was re-elected treasurer.

The association was well attended and reports from the different churches were encouraging. It was remarked by many in attendance that this was one of the best meetings of its kind that they had ever attended. Moderator Powell showed himself at home in the chair and there was not a hitch or a low note sounded from beginning to end.

Rule church is to be commended for the splendid dinners served each day at the church and for the unequalled hospitality and fellowship found in their homes.

We were all together and had all things common. It was truly a religious meeting.

FARMER EXHIBITS EXCELLENT STALKS OF COTTON HERE

E. M. Tate, a progressive farmer east of town was exhibiting some fine stalks of cotton on the streets of the city Tuesday which showed to be exceptionally well formed and were maturing a fine crop of full grown bolls. He says he has many acres of this kind of cotton and up to this time but very few worms have showed up in his cotton. Mr. Tate says he has the best crop up to the present he ever had in his life. Let's hope that the rain will cease in time for the farmers to gather their crops in good condition.

Hymenial

Rev. F. Leroy Litchfield, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Rochester united in the holy bonds of wedlock Mr. Edd Howard and Miss Ellice Turner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Turner of Rochester Monday afternoon, September 6th.

The groom is one of the best young men of Profit, Texas, and has many friends who will extend congratulations on his winning one of Rochester's most beautiful young women whose friends are numbered by her acquaintances. May life's blessing hold for this young couple a double portion of unalloyed happiness. They will leave in a few days for Profit, where they will make their future home.

MAJORITY FOR NEFF IS NEARLY 80,000 VOTES

A final majority of 79,373 votes for Neff over Bailey in the Democratic runoff primary August 28 is indicated by a combination of official returns received by the State Democratic executive committee on 173 counties and the unofficial returns received by the Texas Election Bureau of Dallas on all but four of the remaining seventy-two counties. Four counties held no elections, and neither the State committee nor the bureau has heard from four counties, Crockett, Jeff Davis, McMullen and Starr. These probably held no elections.

Totals of the State committee, compiled by A. S. Moody of Houston, its secretary, show the following results in the three State races: Governor, Neff 292,096; Bailey 142,377; Lieutenant Governor, Davidson 170,727; Johnson 147,880; Supreme Court, Plerson 179,882; Hawkins 132,561. Neff's majority on the official returns so far is 60,319.

Adding in the Texas Election Bureau figures on the Governor's race from sixty-eight of the seventy-two counties lacking in Mr. Moody's reports, totals for Governor are: Neff 294,075; Bailey 184,702; total vote accounted for 448,777.

Bailey carried only forty-six counties, most of them in South and West Texas. The German counties of South Texas, including Comal, went for him by large majorities.

In the first primary Bailey received 192,540 votes and Neff 140,818. The total cast against Bailey in that election was 297,406. In it Bailey carried eighty-one counties.

MODEL TAILOR SHOP MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

The Lancaster Building on Clark street has been completed and the Model Tailor Shop moved to its new quarters this week. This new building is a modern one story brick with plate glass front, especially built for the home of the Model Tailor Shop, which has been a fixture in Haskell for several years, and has built up a substantial trade through the efficiency and courtesy of Mr. Lancaster, who is proprietor. They are glad to see the enterprise business permanently located in the city.

S. S. BUTLER SHOWS BOLLS DAMAGED BY WORMS

S. S. Butler, a farmer of the Foster community, was in the city Tuesday exhibiting some grown cotton bolls punctured by worms and he says they have almost ruined his cotton. He is of the opinion that very little cotton will be made from his crop and where the worms have made such a headway. Various reports come from the same sections in regard to the damage done by the worms. Some farmers claim the crop is absolutely ruined, while another farmer from the same section only reports slight damage. It is impossible to learn to just what extent the worms have damaged the crop from the reports received by the writer. We are sure of one thing, the weather has been very favorable to the worms for the past several weeks and if the like continues we are unable to say what outcome will be.

He is arranging every modern convenience that is within his means to make life comfortable for himself and family. He was in the city Thursday marketing melons and other farm products which he has produced in abundance this year, and we are pleased to state that he was not unkind of us while here, for he sent to us by his neighbor and our friend D. E. McDonald two fine banana cantelopes fresh from the vine. Good? Well, I guess they were. We had a feast at the office from editor to "devil." Thanks to Mr. Solomon and Mr. McDonald.

Power Gains Eighteen Pounds—Rheumatism Disappears After Taking Tanlac

"What Tanlac has done for me is worth more than a fortune," said Geo. Power of 2014 Rottenberg St., a life-long resident of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and well-known employee of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power Co. "I have gained eighteen pounds and feel better than for twenty-eight long years," he continued.

"I don't believe anybody in the world suffered from rheumatism as bad as I did. It was a sharp shooting pain that would go through my legs, down my arms and into my ankles just like somebody was striking a knife the real me. I couldn't work at all in damp weather and suffered so intensely I would turn white as a sheet. When the attacks came on I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink, my joints would swell and my knees would get stiff as boards and I wouldn't be able to walk for two or three days at a time—just lay up in bed flat on my back.

"Tanalac was so highly recommended by people right here in Halifax that I tried it and now I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me. My rheumatism is entirely gone, my appetite has picked up too, and I sleep fine every night, and feel like a different man altogether. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen and I want to let everybody know what this wonderful medicine will do."

Tanalac is sold by the leading druggists everywhere.

MAIZE HEAD MEAL A GOOD COW FEED

(By Jas. P. Kinnard.)

The milk cow requires not only material for maintenance, but must also have fat, protein, and carbohydrates from which to make milk. Milk contains water, fat, protein (Casein, or curd), sugar, and ash, which are made from the constituents of food.

If the cow be given a food lacking in fat, protein, or carbohydrates, she supplies this deficiency by a while by drawing on her body, and gradually shrinks in the quantity and quality of her milk; so that the stingy, ignorant, or negligent owner of a milk cow robs himself as well as the cow.

A cow may suffer with hunger with a belly full of bulk or a poor quality of hay, and become poor and fall off in milk. Her milk glands are a wonderful piece of machinery, but she cannot make a large quantity of good, rich milk out of a poor quality of feed. She must not only have an abundance of feed when giving milk, but she should have what is called a balanced ration, that is, a ration which contains a sufficient amount of each of the nutrients required for making milk and butter.

Different animals require different standards of feed, according to what such animals are used for. The standard for milk cows differs from that of other animals. It requires a variety of feed, containing the proper constituents to enable her to produce a large quantity of good, rich milk. I say "a variety," for by using a variety, you are more apt to get the proper constituents and a well balanced ration than when only one or two varieties of feed are given.

During the extensive drought, a large quantity of very inferior cow feed was manufactured and shipped to West Texas; and even now this evil has not been entirely remedied. But such an abundance of milk maize and feterita has been raised this year, and they make such a splendid cow feed when properly prepared that I advocate a more extensive use of them by both our farmers and towns people, who keep cows for milk.

Maize or feterita heads ground in a mill specially adapted for the purpose into a meal, not merely chopped up, when properly mixed with other feeds in common use for cow feed, makes a better and cheaper cow feed than can be otherwise obtained.

Grass for milk cows is hard to beat, but grass should be supplemented with maize head meal, wheat bran, and cotton seed meal. Wheat bran, cotton seed meal and hulls, extensively used for cow feed here, is a mixture deficient in carbohydrates. Carbohydrates are used in the mechanism of the cow to produce butter fat. This nutrient is abundantly supplied in milk maize, but maize as usually fed in the head is a very poor cow feed, because she cannot masticate and digest and utilize the whole grains, much of which passes through her body undigested, and causes a great waste.

Maize heads ground into meal and called "maize head meal" makes a splendid feed to be mixed with wheat bran and cotton seed meal in the proper proportion, and fed with good nutritious grass or alfalfa hay gives the cow a well balanced ration and makes her give an abundance of milk and butter.

Our farmers should have their maize heads ground into maize head meal, and as needed mix it with wheat bran and cotton-seed meal in about the following proportions by weight, which makes a comparatively cheap cow feed and gives the best results, namely:

2 pounds of maize or feterita head meal.
1 pound of wheat bran.
1 pound of cotton-seed meal.

The addition of ground oats in the proportion of one pound to the above mixture greatly improves this ration for milk cows.

Do not feed this mixture dry nor sloppy, but it should be dampened to avoid waste. The stalk in the maize heads, when ground up in the meal prevents this mixture from being too concentrated; and in addition to this mixture she should be fed an abundance of good roughage—grass, alfalfa, kafir stalk, sudan, sorghum, or other good hay.

If the town man as well as the farmer will go to a little trouble and procure maize head meal to be mixed with wheat bran and cotton-seed meal, and feed to his milk cows in about the proportions above indicated, it will prove of great benefit and saving in cost of cow feed to himself, increase the quantity and quality of his milk and butter, and at the same time help our farmers find an additional market for their maize.

Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness. GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value. GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I sent for Cardui."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

"I found after one bottle of Cardui I was improving," adds Mrs. Crosswhite. "Six bottles of Cardui and . . . I was cured, yes, I can say they were a God-send to me. I believe I would have died, had it not been for Cardui." Cardui has been found beneficial in many thousands of other cases of womanly troubles. If you feel the need of a good, strengthening tonic, why not try Cardui? It may be just what you need.

DEAR MARY:

It's too bad you couldn't have come in time for the Style Show. The models were splendid, and Grissom's Store displayed the dearest things you can imagine. The suits are just the smartest I have seen, and the hats! They are just gorgeous, and conservative, too—and my dear, the prices are really quite reasonable, but then I have always done my shopping at Grissom's. There's always something new. Now just this week they have the cutest lot of skirts, mostly plaids, some plain and some pleated, and John said he was certainly going to lay in a supply of shirts, for they have some lovely ones for only $10.00. Do please hurry and come, and we'll go shopping at

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE PLAINVIEW SECTION

Health of this community is very good at present. The revival meeting which has been going on the past week has been attended by large crowds and a great deal of interest has manifested. Willie Lane of Sayles spent Saturday night and Sunday with Louie Cornelius. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan of the plains country are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coleman. D. G. Hurst and J. W. Coleman had business in Stamford Saturday. We are still having plenty of rain and about all you can hear is the "boll worms are eating the cotton" and "the flies are killing the stock." Frank Kahout's baby is reported on the sick list. Mrs. Roy Overton of McConnell visited Miss Floy Overby Tuesday. M. V. Bland and family visited J. W. Mercer and family of Stamford Wednesday. John Higgins is now visiting his brother, Dean Higgins, from Abilene. Lottie Hanson spent Sunday with Louise Overby. Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bland and daughter Valentine, spent Friday with S. S. Vaughn and family of Stamford. Lewis and Robert Williams of Haskell were in this community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Corzine returned from Wise and Clay counties Saturday night and spent the night with his daughter, Mrs. Alex Pinkerton and family of the west part of town. Mr. Corzine says that in Wise and Montague counties the boll weevils have completely eaten up the cotton and he further states that without a change in conditions there will be very little cotton made in those sections. But he says that conditions are better in Clay county and continue good to Haskell. He believes pickers will be plentiful where the cotton is good and a good class of people because of the cotton failure in many places east of here.

Ask Me! Ask Me!

"Why do movie stars marry?" asks a contemporary. It is a problem, for they don't seem to need alimony nearly so much as ordinary persons do.—Minneapolis Journal.

Safety First

A young married couple were attending a county fair in Mississippi. Finding themselves jostled about in the center of quite a crowd, the husband remarked: "I say dearie, I think you'd better give me the lunch basket. Don't you see, we are apt to lose each other in the crowd."

Not Guilty

Two London cabbies were glaring at each other. "Aw, wot's the matter with you?" demanded one. "Nothing's the matter with me. 'You gave me a nasty look' persisted the first. "Me? Why, you certainly 'ave a nasty look, but I didn't give it to you."

Why the Judge Was Powerless

The jury, after long deliberation, seemed unable to agree in a perfectly clear case. The judge, thoroughly exasperated at the delay, said: "I discharge this jury." One sensitive juror, indignant at what he considered a rebuke, faced the judge. "You can't discharge me!" he said, with a tone of conviction. "And why not?" inquired the judge in surprise. "Because," announced the juror, pointing to a lawyer for the defense, "I was hired by that man there!"

It Was a Shame

A rough cattle herder, having spent all his life on the vastness of a prairie never had experienced any of the tender emotions man is heir to and was totally ignorant of any other rules of conduct than prevailed between his fellow herdsmen and their charges. When finally the well intentioned but untaught person went to town he promptly fell in love with the first woman who spoke to him. She was the buxom waitress of the town boarding house. He wooed and won her and in a few days they were married and started together for the ranch on horseback.

A week later the rancher re-appeared in the city, but his wife did not accompany him. His face wore a weary, haggard expression as of sorrow and he hung his head as he walked. To the natural and immediate inquiries that were made as to the whereabouts of his bride, he replied, with tears starting down his lean, bronzed cheeks: "She broke her leg two days out, and I had to shoot her. And I tell you, boys," he added, "I hated to do it—she was such a good woman!"

Equally Talented

A private soldier, tired of border life, went to the captain with a story about his wife, whom he said, was breaking her heart from anxiety for his presence. The officer replied, "You are not telling me the truth. I have just received a letter from your wife asking me to keep you away from home because you get drunk, break the furniture and treat her disgracefully."

The man saluted and turned to leave the ure stopped. "Sir," he said respectfully, "may I speak to you a minute as man to man?"

"Yes," said the captain, "what is it?" "Well, sir, you and me are two of the most elegant liars in the battalion. I ain't married."

The Bridegroom's Gift

A small town newspaper concluded its account of a local wedding thus: "The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a handsome diamond brooch, besides many other beautiful things in our glass."

High Cost of Living

The druggist handed the old colored man a bottle of medicine, and said: "You must take a dose after each meal."

"Yes, sah," replied the colored man. "An' now, if yo' please, sah, tell me whar I'm gwine to get de meat?"

WIT AND HUMOR

Obsolete

A little girl walked into a confectionery, placed a nickel on the counter and called for an ice cream cone. "Ice cream cones are 7 cents, little girl," the clerk announced. "Well, then gimme a soda-pop." "Six cents." "Got any root beer?" "Yep, six cents, too." The little girl sighed disappointedly and started out, leaving her nickel on the counter. "Here, little girl, you're leaving your nickel," the clerk called to her. "Oh, that's all right," the child shouted back. "It's no good to me—it won't buy anything!"

Got Nowhere

"No, sah, I don't neber ride on dem things," said an old colored lady, looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de odder day I seen Rastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth and git off at de very same place he got on at, and I sez to him, 'Rastus, I sez, 'you spent yo' money, but whar's you been?'"

America Always Ahead

As a Scotchman and an American were discussing the extreme cold weather in the north of Scotland the American said: "Why, man, that is nothing to compare to the cold we have in the States. I remember one winter when a sheep started to jump a ditch and froze while in the air and just stuck there like a mass of ice." "I don't believe that," said the Scot, "for the law of gravity would not permit it." "Law of gravity nothing," replied the American. "The law of gravity was frozen, too."

Cried His Teeth Out

Little Annie had just come in from play, and climbing upon the bed where her new brother lay crying with all his might, she remarked to her mother: "Ma'mma, he's cried all his teeth out!"

What He Wanted

At a soldiers' hospital one of the wounded men sought permission to visit the village. The matron did not think it wise to let him go, so asked him what he wanted. "I want to get something in a shop there," he said.

"Well," she returned, "I am going to the village myself this morning and may as well get it for you." "Very well," agreed the man, "please bring me a shave and a hair cut."

Between Two Fires

The young doctor and his friend, the drug clerk, were sitting at the club window, when a richly dressed woman passed.

"There goes the only woman I ever loved," sighed the young M. D. "So?" queried the other. "Then why don't you marry her?" "Can't afford it; she's my best patient."

Dalmatia's Many Beauty Spots. Dalmatia's beauties have been recounted by many travelers. Among the scores of islands off its coast are many rich in history, such as Braza and Lessina, where Roman and Greek relics are to be found; Bust, with its ten caverns, the most beautiful of which is the Blue Grotto, entered by boat, and Lacroma, off Ragusa, where Richard Coeur de Lion is said to have found a haven during a storm on his return from the crusades, and to have built a church there in compliance with a vow so to honor his place of refuge.—Exchange.

Iron From Everywhere. A recent investigation of smoke and dust in various iron centers showed that iron can be extracted not only from street dirt, but from rugs, carpets, walls and roofs of buildings, and even from the skins of the inhabitants.

Cheap and Pretty Home. One of the most interesting exhibits at the British Dairy association show was a four-room cottage, complete, with large entrance hall, carriage path to the nearest freight station, priced at $875. The house is made of asbestos—a compound of asbestos and cement—and the manufacturers describe it as "weather-proof, ratproof and dampproof." A charming little week-end cottage of two rooms is offered at $375.

Picturesque Nantucket. Until several years ago Nantucket had its town chief. Old customs are followed as closely as possible. Some of the old streets are paved with cobblestones, and houses are built of wood with old wood shingles for a roof. Many fishing boats are docked along the one-time busy wharves, and while its glory is gone, the town of Nantucket becomes more picturesque every day.

The Biggest Job In America

Some people think it's being President. Certain politicians are of the opinion it's getting the President elected, but says it's plowing the land—500,000,000 acres of it every year. This stupendous task, according to an article coming next week by Philip S. Rose, requires more men and more power than any other industry. And as for plows—well, one factory today is making about 750 models!

This big business is only one of the problems in which THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN goes to the bottom of the furrow with the American farmer. Why, every Thursday there's something of vital interest to every farmer. In next week's issue, for example, there's a County Agent story by William Harper Dean and a mighty helpful article by Stuart O. Blythe on "Where Butter Makers Lead." Even the farm boys come in for their share, with the beginning of "Silver Plume," a thrilling boys' serial about a horse and a circus. This National farm service costs $200,000 a year, yet it's yours for less than two cents a week! You can begin your subscription with next week's issue by sending me today your name and Haskell, Texas, Sept. 11, 1920.

When there are no rent houses to be found in a city it is an unmistakable sign of prosperity. The people who live in the confines of these favored centers should feel justly proud. It has reached this point in Haskell. There is not a decent rent house to be had today.

People coming here from everywhere who intend to make Haskell their home and give their children an education in Haskell's splendid schools are compelled to go away to other parts for they could not find shelter for their families. We have but little chance for further advancement if we do not make some arrangement to build more homes. It is our noblest belief, that the population of Haskell could be wonderfully increased if the homes could be had for the people to live in. The schools, the churches and every enterprise would progress with gratifying results.

The efforts of those who are boosting the city will soon go to seed unless something is done in the way of home building. It is a sad sight to see those who would cast their lots with us, who are satisfied to live here and want to stay and be forced to move away for no other reason than they could not find a place to call home in the city.

Harding has declared himself as being against the League of Nations and for the Hague tribunal "with teeth." But wouldn't these "teeth" cause the same trouble that he professes to see in the League of Nations?

There's an old belief that when a man's ears are red somebody is talking about him. That may be so, but it's a cliché that if he has a red nose everybody is talking about him.

Had Baruch lived to see the snickers fall for the Pongzi bait, he would have said "there's one born every second" instead of every minute.

What a person sees in his fellowmen depends entirely upon what he looks for. You see the good or the bad, whichever you like.

Just because a man wears his hair long is no sign that he's a poet. He may be trying to cheat the barber out of an extra fee.

Sometimes a young man and woman agree to get married and never again agree on anything.

It ought to be easier to get a man's "goat" after he has goat glands grafted in his innards.

FACT and FICTION

Lack of initiative is often mistaken for hard luck.

Only a very few of our troubles ever really happen.

A Picnic

Friday morning a merry bunch met at the Baptist Church for a picnic. There were two trucks in which they were to go in. At nine-thirty the trucks began to hum and the kids began to yell for they were on the way. They reached their destination at eleven o'clock. Soon after they reached the place you could hear up and down the creek yells saying "Gee, but this is fine!" After a swim lunch was served at twelve-fifteen. Punch was made in a large tub, all kinds of good eats were there. After lunch everybody had to lay down for a few minutes. At two o'clock the kids went in for another swim. At three-thirty the merry bunch started for home. When they were in the edge of town they decided to raid a watermelon patch, but found none. They reached town laughing and singing. The boys rustled around and found enough money to buy some watermelon and ice cream, then to the lake went the merry bunch. All had another swim for boys and girls just couldn't stay out of the nice red, muddy water. At six-thirty the merry bunch reached town very tired. After an hours ride up and down the streets of Haskell, the bunch departed very tired, "but not hungry."

The following were the ones who had to depart for the last time in a merry bunch until spring, on account of school: Chaperon, Mrs. G. Glenn, Loreta and Naomi McCarty, Hal McConnell, Grandville, Walter, and Jack Glenn, Agnes Cox, Lavonne Cummings, Clay Smith, Leon Whitley, Mary Alice Nolan, Grace Lee and Eileen Ferguson of Munday, Kenneth Oaks, Olin and John Voss-Burdick, Eugene English, Inna and Audrey Key, Francis Hackleman, Joan Irby, Charlie Cooper, Marshall Moore, Ida Mae Fox and Raymond Stewart.

Labor Day Quietly Celebrated. Labor Day in Haskell was quietly celebrated. The banks and postoffice were closed, which was the only demonstration toward the celebration. About all the attraction for the day was a bucking broncho show and our usual First Monday crowd of horse traders. The merchants enjoyed a very good day and the boll worm and cotton question was discussed by the farmers on the streets.

C. W. Goodwin living in the city says he will have an exhibition one of the biggest Okra stalks ever placed on exhibit, in the county fair in October. He is confident that no one can take the ribbon from him this year.

Results of Pressure on Eyeballs.
Pressure on the eyeball has a surprising effect on the functioning of various parts of the body. Among those who have confirmed this are A. and L. Binet, French investigators, who find that such animals as dogs and rabbits are affected, as well as men. The compression of the eye strikingly modifies the action of the heart, induces respiration, acts upon the blood vessels and even produces disturbance of the muscles. How such reflexes are brought about is not apparent.

One Door Bell, Various Tones.
Three different signal tones from an electric bell of ordinary appearance, calling the household to the front, the rear or the side door with unerring precision, are now made possible by the ingenious device of an Ohio manufacturer. The two electro-magnetic coils of the bell have separate armatures, one of which carries the bell clapper, while the other constitutes a buzzer.

Persia "Home" of Nightingale.
Persia is the natural habitat for the nightingale and these songsters are very abundant there. For many centuries the Persian perfumes have been considered among the best on the market. These are largely made from the juice of rose petals. The cultivation of roses for commercial purposes is quite general there.

Lemon Juice.
Lemon juice will whiten the skin and remove stains from the hands. Lemon juice will relieve the pain from insect bites. Lemon juice and salt will remove rust, ink and fruit stains from white goods.

News From the Methodist Church
Sunday September 5th was a very enjoyable day for we who attended the streets were so muggy only a few of us could see the services. Only 137 were present at Sunday School, but every officer and teacher were in their places. The offering was $13.88. We are hoping to begin our fall work with renewed energy, after our vacations. Won't you come and help us enjoy these splendid services. Bro. Patterson is still preaching on the meaning of new Testament work. At the morning hour the word used was "Decorate." This was handled in a very able manner and very much appreciated. At night the subject was "Bury" or "Buried With Him by Baptism." This was quite plain and was very interesting. A few visitors were with us. We certainly enjoyed their presence. Come again. We also extend to one and all a cordial welcome at this church.

Push, Don't Pull
"If you live and do business in a city, for heaven's sake be loyal to it. If this city furnishes you with food and shelter, speak well of it, stand by it and stand by the industries it represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a ton of clever knocking. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, pack your trunk and when you are on the outside, knock to your heart's content. But as long as you are a part of the community, be a real man; do not condemn it. If you are losing the tendril that holds you as a part of the community, and the first high wind that comes along will be uprooted and blown away, and probably you will never know why."—Exchange.

Who Is She?

There is a woman in this town who everybody knows, and admires, and respects, and loves.
Seven days in the week she has a calm, sweet, sunny disposition, seeing the good things of life as well as its seamy side.
There is a reason for the atmosphere of serenity which endears her to us. She has a double track mind. She sees both sides of the question and analyzes each as she goes along.
If some person commits an act for which censure is given she goes beyond the act and studies the cause which prompted it.
Sometimes there are extenuating circumstances, and often it is the cropping of heredity, or the result of an environment.
She sees all of these things because her mind is not limited in its vision. It penetrates in all directions.
And because she sees and analyzes the pros and cons and the whys and wherefores she is able to judge less harshly, and more accurately, and with a greater degree of justice than those who speak first and think afterwards.

Jesse D. Hall of Denton, former editor of the Rule Review, was in the city Tuesday morning and dropped around to see us while here. He likes Denton and his surroundings and does not think at this time of returning back to his old home and friends at Rule. But time changes men and it may be in the future that he will return to the land of his first love, where the golden west can once more gladden his heart with her laden harvest of plenty and to spare. He found the gateway to success through the weekly issues of the moral journal, better known as the "Spiller of Truth." Can he forget the things he has said of the glories of the west?

Take a Peek Before Answering.
At the time of tests in the schools the small fry were very busy discussing how "awful hard" the questions were and wrinkling their brows in anxiety as to whether they'd passed. There is a humorous side to the matter, however. One small girl reported that she knew she had her first question answered correctly. "How are you so sure?" inquired mother. "Well, it was to name 25 birds and, as the teacher left the bird chart open at that place, it was easy," was the naive reply.—Springfield Union.

The Western Sea.
The Pacific, a calm, cold ocean no much fretted by traffic, adds its curious note of aloofness. It sends forth fogs, but somehow they carry no hint of salt. And in days of sunshine when it sparkles sapphire blue it seems somehow to exhale no breath. You never "smell the sea" as by the Atlantic's verge, and though you well know that rotting seaweed gives forth that odor, you miss it on this western shore. The oceans you have known seem playful children, by turns gay and irritable, by comparison with this monstrous, lovely, inhuman sea.—Harrison Rhodes in Harper's Magazine.

The First Requisite.
Two-year-old Tom was out for a walk with mother. They met a small boy of about same age. He was very interesting to Tom, because of the man's size but he was wearing Mother said: "Well, shall we buy you a hat like that, Tom?" Small Tom considered a while and then said: "No, I ought to have long pants first."

Lost No Time.
Mary, aged 4, was pulling her baby brother in a wagon when the baby tipped over and began to cry. When she took him to her mother and told her about it her mother asked: "What did you do when the baby cried?" Mary replied: "I got scared to death just as quick as I could."

Best Authority for Phrase.
Would-be purists in language often criticize the South for the expression "you all," but the South has the highest authority on earth for its use. Paul, in his epistle to the Philippians, wrote "you all," and no higher authority than the Bible need be looked for. Paul knew full well the strength and force of "you all."—Manufacturers Record.

Well Known Citizen Passes Away

S. H. Wade, age 78, passed away at his home near Rochester Monday, Aug. 20th. He was one of the best known citizens in the Rochester community, moving to that section in the year of 1916. He was born and reared in the State of Kentucky, coming to Texas when quite a young man, and settled near the town of Moody. Later he moved to Falls county near Mooresville. On June 25th, 1886 he was married to Miss Nannie Hardison and from this union eleven children were born, all of whom are living.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. Leroy Litchfield, pastor of the Presbyterian church, at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Rochester Cemetery. A large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends were present at the funeral. All the children were present except his son Jim of Melrose, N. M., and Charlie, who is in the army. Mr. Wade was a member of the Foster Baptist Church at the time of his death, and has been a consistent member of the Baptist church for 29 years. To the family who so tenderly and lovingly cared for this husband and father the Free Press offers its sincere sympathy.

After being away for six weeks and two days, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery returned Sunday morning from the Pacific Slope, where they spent their summer vacation. Mr. Montgomery says that his trip was not without interest from the day he left until the morning of his return. We are indebted to Mr. Montgomery for several interesting letters written for the Free Press of his trip and the things he saw, which we all enjoyed reading. He is of the opinion of all the things crowded into his mind that he saw, the trip through the Yellowstone Park was the most interesting, with its geysers, springs and mountains. It might have not been as thrilling in some instances as a trip 100 feet under the ground in a copper mine, but the sights were much more enjoyable.

Mrs. Wallace Alexander and children of Seymour visited relatives here several days this week.

J. B. Patton of Goree was here Thursday. He is one of the pioneers of this section of the state. He said the first time he was at Haskell was about 40 years ago. A tribe of Tonkawa Indians were camped around the Rice Springs, which are now in the south part of town. He said they had killed so many antelope and dressed them around the spring that the water was so unsanitary that he and his party had to clean out the spring and wait until the fresh water ran in so they could fill their vessels to replenish their water supply in order to continue their journey into the cattle country. Rice Springs was a noted watering place for the Indians and cattle men in the pioneer days.

V. A. Kinnison returned to his home at Tulsa, Okla., Thursday morning after a several days visit with his father, S. E. Kinnison and family.

H. M. Barnard of Guntersville, Ala., passed through the city Thursday morning en route to his home from O'Brien where he has been visiting relatives and friends. W. D. Johnson accompanied him to the train. Mr. Barnard says he had a report from Alabama that the boll weevils were destroying the cotton crop completely. He reports the corn and feed crops good around Guntersville and in all sections of Alabama.

Mrs. J. G. Corawell of Waxahachie and Mrs. P. L. Goodwin of Denton passed through Haskell Thursday en route to their homes after a visit with their parents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Turner of Rule.

Mrs. J. W. Fields returned Thursday from Sulphur Springs. Her grandmother Mrs. L. C. Stephens, accompanied her and will make her home with Mrs. Fields.

Prof. J. L. Barnard and son J. Leslie and E. H. Phillips of Munday Tuesday were in the city on business Tuesday. Prof. Barnard is one of the best teachers in this section of the state and says that he is not going to teach this term as he is busily engaged in farming and he is getting tired of the profession.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lee of Pinkerton were in the city Tuesday. Mr. Lee says that they are having more rain in his section than he ever saw in Texas, but that all crops are exceptionally good. He thinks the last week of rain has damaged the cotton more than the worms in the Pinkerton community where he lives. They have a fine feed crop, but need some sunshine in which to save it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haley of Whitt Chapel were city visitors Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Haley's sister, Mrs. John Mitchell of Happy, Texas, who is visiting them for a few weeks. Mr. Haley reports some worms and weevils in his cotton and says they are doing considerable damage to the crop.

W. J. Jeter, one of Haskell county's progressive farmers, was in the city Tuesday asking information concerning the County Fair. He says he will have some exhibits in the way of farm products and vegetables which he is sure will make a good showing. Bring your exhibits on the first day of the fair so that all who visit the fair will not go away disappointed in not seeing a full exhibit. Remember it will be impossible for all to come on the last day. Let's make the first day interesting.

W. J. Andrews of Fort Worth is here this week visiting his children and he reports Haskell county looking good to him compared to the crops in Tarrant county where the boll weevil has cleaned the cotton of all bolls, blooms and squares.

D. J. Barton one of Haskell County's tillers of the soil was a business visitor to the city Tuesday. He says that crops were never better out his way. He lives east of town and the rains have not been so heavy out there as on the west side of the county or even in Haskell. He says up to the present he has seen no worms at work in his cotton and that his feed crop is a dandy. Mrs. Barton has also raised a good crop of Partridge Plymouth Rocks and from the way Mr. Barton talks he is going along fine. He is a very quiet fellow and never talks but little.

MACK SENNETT'S
Big New Five-Reel Comedy Sensation
DOWN ON THE FARM

The simple life—with all its complications—and an All-Star Sennett Comedy Cast to make you like it. A bumper crop of thrills and laughs.

STAR CAST IN NEWEST SENNETT SPECTACLE

Louise Fazenda, "corn-fed beauty of rustic charms," and heroine of "Down on the Farm"; Marie Prevost, one of the prettiest of Mack Sennett beauties and cleverest of screen comedienne; Ben Turpin, cross-eyed favorite of film; James Finlayson, gifted actor of stage and screen; Bert Roach, a featured player with the Sennett Forces; Billy Armstrong, character-comedian celebrated in England as well as in the United States, and tiny John Henry, Jr., the diminutive star of two-and-a-half years who was "discovered" by Mack Sennett, are the principals in the action of the Sennett five-reel comedy sensation, "Down on the Farm," released by United Artists, that will be shown at Dick's Theatre Saturday, September 18th.

Teddy, the Sennett canine "hero," and "Pepper," the long distance descendant of a Bengal tiger, ought not to be forgotten in the enumeration of the cast, for they play no small part in the comedy and thrills with which this five part production has been provided by the genius of Mack Sennett.

The plot discovers Louise Fazenda as the rustic daughter of a stern father who would marry her to the village shylock who threatens to foreclose a mortgage on the farm. But Louise has other matrimonial ideas and they embrace a certain rustic Romeo (Harry Gribbon) "who aspires to a daughter's hand but fears a father's foot." The shylock has sportive ideas and reveals them in his horse-ship and his Turkish tendencies. These latter leads him to the door of Marie Prevost, the over-worked but charming wife of a humble villager. What then happens is best related optically in the pictures, but this much may be said—a surprise awaits on the climax of the episode that will shock the most blasé into hours of laughter.

It can't be said, however, that the episode, disastrous as it is to the cross between shylock and Don Juan, cures "Jimmy" Finlayson of his flirtatious "hobby," for he continues after the farmer's daughter's hand waving his mortgage in the face of the pretty thing's harassed father. How these romantic issues are brought to a conclusion in happiness for everybody except Finlayson, is the plot's happy burden to tell; and it tells it in moods ranging from wildest hilarity to thrillingest melodrama. So quickly does the story move that it isn't always possible to tell whether Mr. Sennett is "kidding" or is in deadly earnest. That's one reason why the production "repeats." It contains so much of exquisite detail that twice witnessing it does not exhaust its power to charm, thrill, and surprise.

Famous Gargoyles.
Gargoyle is a name given to a projecting spout, so placed that it drains the roof gutter. The modern metal pipes have superseded the use of gargoyles to a great extent. In gothic architecture these long and grotesquely-carved spots have heads of men, beasts or birds in preposterous combination with bottles, paws and wings of monsters. The gargoyles of the cathedral of Notre Dame are particularly famous.

Combines Ease of Operation with Good Work

It's genuine satisfaction to drive the John Deere Corn Binder round after round and see the standing corn transformed into well-shaped, easily-handled bundles because the hard work is all taken out.

The power carrier does away entirely with the hard work—you don't have to dump the bundle carrier and return to position hundreds of times during the day.

On the John Deere you press the foot trip lever and the power carrier does the rest—it delivers the bundles free of the path of the horses, and practically parallel to the standing corn. The horses don't have to tramp over and on the bundles. Because the carrier is always in receiving position, no bundles are scattered between the windrows.

You will also appreciate the John Deere Corn Binder because it is easy on the horses. The Quick-Turn Tongue Truck takes off all neck weight, and makes it just as easy to turn at the ends as if the horses were hitched to a wagon.

Besides, the truck takes off side draft and prevents sluing because the axle of the truck is flexibly mounted—the wheels hold to uneven ground constantly.

The John Deere works successfully in all kinds of corn fields. The wide throat, with flexible throat springs, holds the corn into the conveyor chains. The bottom conveyor chains operate close to the butts, carrying the corn back in a vertical position all of the way.

The three packers, one working above the needle and two below insure well-formed bundles. The three discharge arms discharge the bundles onto the power carrier. No chance of the discharging bundle mixing with the bundle being made.

We want you to see this binder. There are a lot of other good things about it we want to show you

No Worms in a Healthy Child All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 6c per bottle.

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50
30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.50

Ostrich Shows Affection. The first case on record of any demonstration of affection on the part of an ostrich is recorded on the Cawson farm near South Pasadena, Cal. An ostrich hen was raised from the incubation period by Mrs. R. S. Smith of Riverside and became very much attached to the lady. Subsequently it was necessary to remove the bird to the Cawson place where it moped to the point that it almost died. Mrs. Smith happened to visit the place and the bird immediately recognized her and refused to leave.

Sumatra Protects Tigers. Tigers are protected in Sumatra, the reason being that one of the important industries of that country is the cultivation of an African palm. This palm was introduced several years ago, and the wild hogs so enjoyed its easily-obtained fruits and so thrived on them that they increased and multiplied rapidly until they became a perfect pest. Now, wild hogs are the favorite diet of Sumatran tigers, therefore the protection. But it looks like a dangerous experiment.

Examine Opportunity Well. Every opportunity needs to be looked at through the glass of principle. It may mean, apart from conscience, a chance of making money or gaining social position, of grasping power; but if it does not pass muster morally, it also means loss.

SCHOOL DRESSES

The school dress has always been more or less a problem for the mother, just what to make it of and how to make it. We have anticipated this trouble and have bought a stock of very pretty ready-made dresses for school girls. Every dress in the line is of unquestionably fine quality. Materials are carefully selected, styles are strictly seasonable. It is no wonder that mothers upon inspecting these real splendid garments give up the thought of making garments for school girls. As usual, prices are reasonable.

MIDDY BLOUSES

Among other seasonable items we call especial attention to the splendid showing of Middy Blouses. Nothing anywhere near the sale price in wearing apparel is so indispensable as the Middy. It answers many uses and looks pleasing in all of them. Our new Middies are a change from former styles. They come with wide square sailor collars, of woolen material and cuffs and emblems of the same. They are very pretty and are reasonable in price.

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL HOSIERY

No problem for many years has perplexed the mother more than that of hosiery for the children. They must have hose and the question then arises: Which is most economical, cheap hose or high priced hose? We can answer this for you. Neither cheap nor high priced hosiery is economical unless they are reliable hosiery. You may pay a dollar for a pair of children's hose and get no service. You may pay fifty cents for another pair and get just as good service. Neither one has been worth anything to you. We offer you a first class children's hose at a reasonable price. A stocking with a reputation, one you will buy and re-buy; one that we keep at all times—you can get another pair just like the last ones whenever you want them. If you will buy EVERWEAR hose you will be relieved of hosiery troubles. Remember the name—EVERWEAR—it is a household word with people who demand good children's hose. Prices from 50c upwards.

Come to our store for your requirements. We are making a study of our customer's needs. We aim to serve you best.

SINGING CONVENTION WILL MEET WITH PLEASANT VIEW

The Haskell County Singing Convention will meet with the Pleasant View Class six miles east of Weibert the Fourth Sunday in September, which is its regular meeting day in each month. On our last date, which was the 4th Sunday in August we were to meet with this class, but were rained out. It was to have been an all day convention at that time, but as we missed that date and it is getting so far toward the fall season and the people will be very busy, we will only have an afternoon convention beginning at 2 p. m. Everybody invited to come, and especially the singers.

We are bringing here for you daily, not merely new hats, but hats that are typical of Paris originality and style, for many a Paris modiste might well consider these models copies and adapted in New York, smart and clever to an unusual degree.

We are showing just now complete collections of the modes, in which breadth is emphasized at the sides and shorter from front to back—a popular Paris idea.

We introduce new rolled effects, and hats with irregular slashes and turned up styles.
