CHANGE MADE IN TRAIN SCHEDULE

The two night trains which were to be put back in operation on the Wichita Valley about the first of this month have been delayed indefinitely, but Agent Southern thinks probably they will be put on some time this month. The new timetable which appears below includes the schedule of the night train, but remember that the trains are not in operation at this time.

Timetable, effective March 1st:
Train No. 2, Northbound, 9:27 a. m.
Train No. 1, Southbound, 7:10 p. m.
Train No. 5, Southbound, 5:15 a. m.
Train No. 8, Northbound, 9:55 p. m.
The Wichita Valley Railway is now connected with the Rock Island at Waurika, Okla., which gives to this line direct shipping and passenger service to the north without the necessary changes that have heretofore been experienced.

Everything was all set Wednesday in Wichita Falls for starting of service to Waurika over the recently completed extension of the Wichita Valley.

A number of Valley and Fort Worth & Denver officials will make the initial trip. No special ceremony will mark the arrival of the first train, the Waurika citizens having planned to celebrate elaborately on March 10, when a number of Wichita Falls folks will make the trip.

The schedule is the same as was announced several days ago, for one train in each direction daily, as follows:

Leave Wichita Falls 9 a. m.; Petrolia 10:20 a. m.; Byers 10:50 a. m.; arrive Waurika 11:55 a. m. Returning, leave Waurika 2:20 p. m.; Byers 3:20; Petrolia 3:45; Wichita Falls 5 p. m.

RULES TO OBSERVE DURING A FIRE

Below are given a few rules and regulations that must be observed during a fire, and if the general public will become familiar with and observe them closely, they will save much time and trouble, and at the same time, be rendering valuable assistance to the Fire Department.

Read the rules over closely and observe them.

When it is desired to turn in an alarm of fire, by telephone, call Central and give the exact location of the fire. Do not attempt to call the fire station, as the telephone operator will call the fire station and give the location. If you are on the square and no telephone is accessible, in case of a fire late at night, a fire alarm switch placed at the entrance of the Haskell National Bank. If the alarm is turned in at this switch, it is absolutely necessary that you remain there until the fire truck arrives, in order to give them the location of the fire. Do not push the button and then run to the fire, but remain there until the fire truck arrives.

When the fire alarm is sounded, all automobiles and other vehicles on the square at the time must pull to the curb at once, and remain there until the fire trucks have passed. If not on the square, ascertain if the trucks are coming on the street which you are on, and if so, pull to the side and STOP. Do not try to race them to the fire or otherwise impede their progress. Remember that it is their duty to get to the scene of the fire as soon as possible and in delaying them you are possibly endangering life and property.

Persons who are not members of the Fire Department are positively forbidden from riding or driving the trucks either to or from a fire. In the past, failure to observe this rule has caused no little trouble, and it will be strictly enforced hereafter. This also applies to the handling of any apparatus or equipment at a fire, unless asked to do so by a fireman.

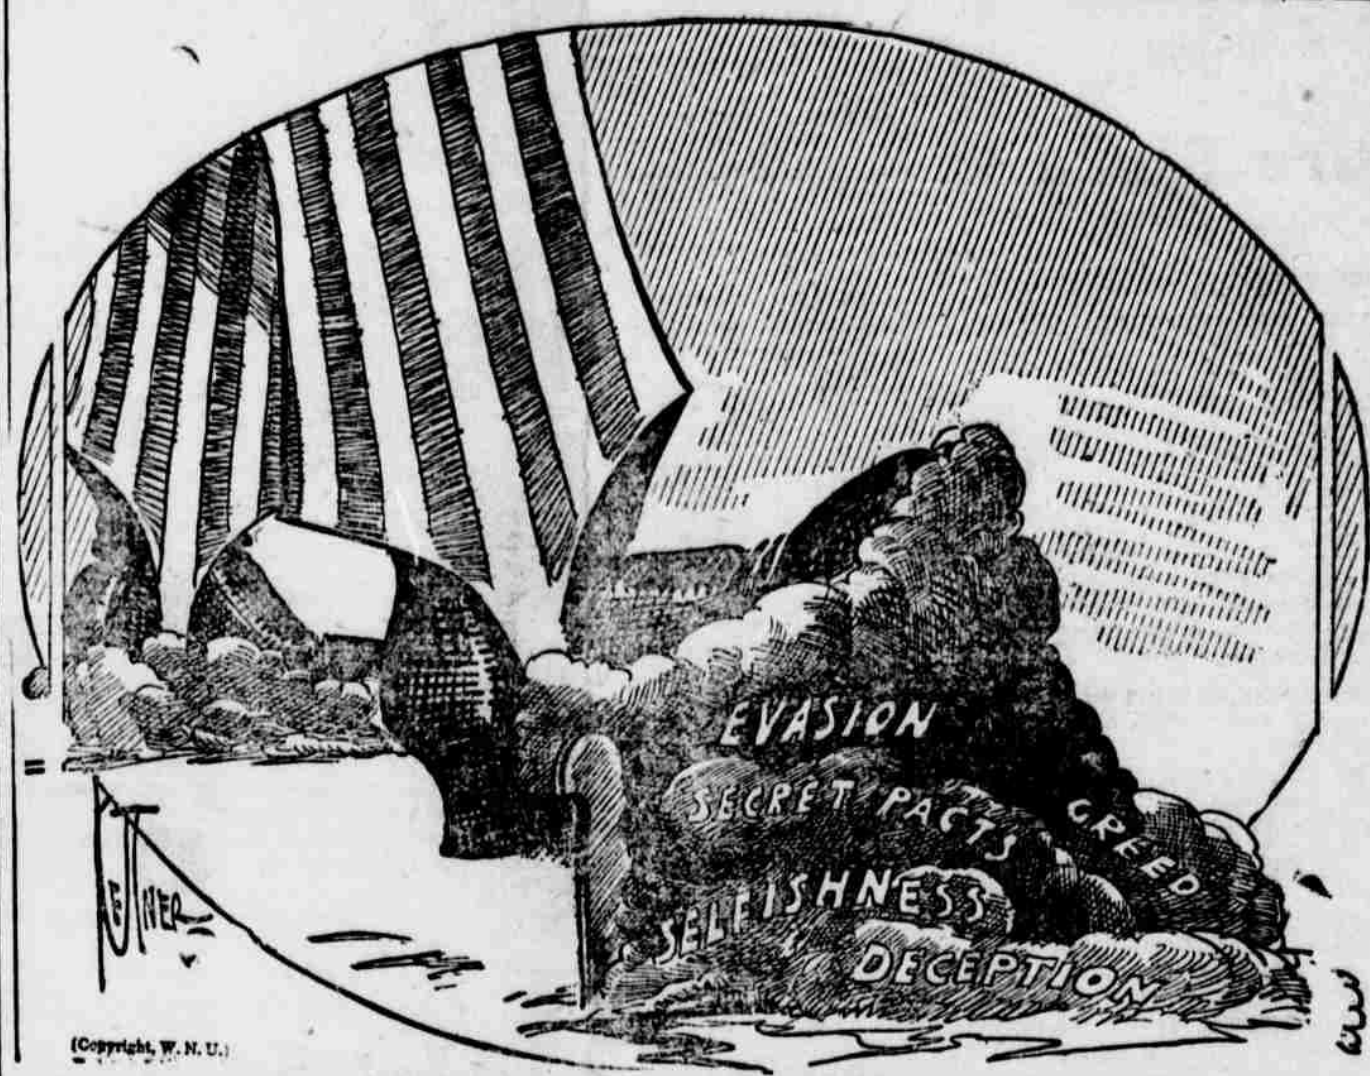

Motorists are also warned against driving over the lines of hose, as this is one of the worst and most destructive practices which has to be contended with. A severe penalty is provided for this offense, and the law will be strictly enforced.

And last, but not the least important—do not run to the middle of the street when the alarm is sounded. Stay on the sidewalk, and do not try to swing on the fire truck when it passes. This is a very dangerous practice, and will likely result in a serious accident. Drivers of the fire trucks are forbidden to stop or slow down for anyone.

If the above rules are observed by the public, the fire department will be able to render more efficient service in the future. The members of the organization are giving their time and effort to this end, for which they receive no compensation, and it is your duty as a citizen to cooperate with them in any way possible.

W. W. Fields & Sons are keeping pace with the procession by putting on a new coat of paint on the front of their store building on the west side of the square. There is nothing that adds to the appearance of a building than a little fresh paint and we wish to see a little more paint used in making things brighter.

Still Muddy Over There

MAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY BROTHER

I. D. McGregor, who formerly lived near Haskell, but who now lives west of Rochester, was seriously shot by his brother, E. E. McGregor, who lives here, last Saturday, Feb. 24th, while the two were duck hunting across the Brazos River on Croton Creek. The shooting was purely accidental. The boys were walking through the brush, and as E. E. McGregor stooped to go under the limb of a tree some twigs caught the hammer of his gun, which caused the discharge of the shotgun he was carrying and the load of number six shot took effect in his brother's left thigh, just below the hip, inflicting a terrible wound, as the whole charge of shot passed through the leg. The boys were only a few steps apart when the accident occurred. Mr. McGregor was taken to the Knox City sanitarium where he was given medical attention, and on last report as we go to press he is doing nicely.

SEVERAL STREETS ARE BEING WORKED AND GRADED

Considerable street work has been done in the city during the past several weeks and they are continuing the grading as we go to press. Several streets have been plowed and graded recently including north main. A concrete bridge has been built on Walton street on the middle Rule road, and the abutments will soon be footed up and the bridge opened to the public. There is an opportunity open to get some graveling done if any of the property holders will accept the proposition made by the city some time ago regarding the work. We need good streets and sidewalks, and the trees trimmed up so we may make the impression with visitors to our city that we deserve. We have one of the prettiest towns in West Texas, and let's make it look it's very best.

HASKELL MILL & GRAIN CO. REPORT GOOD BUSINESS

The Haskell Mill & Grain Company of this city has been doing a very prosperous business since they began here several years ago. Christian Bros., proprietors, are elated over the future prospects of the mill. The wheat crop is reported growing out nicely and there is considerable acreage in some sections of the county and especially west of Haskell. They are running almost full time and are finding a splendid sale for their products. We are very proud of this mill and wish it continued success.

FRONT OF FIELDS GROCERY REPAINTED THIS WEEK

W. W. Fields & Sons are keeping pace with the procession by putting on a new coat of paint on the front of their store building on the west side of the square. There is nothing that adds to the appearance of a building than a little fresh paint and we wish to see a little more paint used in making things brighter.

SINGERS WILL MEET AT CURRY CHAPEL

According to the custom of the Haskell County Singing Convention, when it is rained out on the date for any place, it holds forth at the same place until a suitable day is found for a creditable attendance. On last Sunday the Convention was to have met at Curry Chapel but failed to materialize on account of rain. On the Fourth Sunday afternoon in March, the 25th, the Haskell County Singing Convention will meet at Curry Chapel, eight miles north of Haskell on the Benjamin road. Come and let's have a good time singing.

REVIVALISTS HOLD STREET MEETINGS SATURDAY

Rev. Leon Gambrell and his singer H. Virgil Reynolds, held street services Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock and a large congregation gathered to hear the sermon and the music. Rev. Gambrell preached a short sermon and the Booster Band of boys and girls sang. Mr. Reynolds played some good gospel songs on the Marimbaphone that he is using in the services at the First Baptist Church, where a revival is now in progress. The meeting was very interesting and all seemed to enjoy the preaching and the splendid music.

FOUR COUNTY ODD FELLOWS HOLD SEMI-ANNUAL MEET

The Odd Fellows Association, composed of the lodges of four counties, Fisher, Stonewall, Jones and Haskell, met February 23 at Stamford. A large delegation was present from the different lodges over the district and a splendid program was carried out and the business of the order transacted. Lunch was served at noon to the body in the basement of the Methodist Church and about three hundred members were present. The entire day was spent in work and it was said to be one of the greatest meetings that has been held in the district. Haskell will get the next meeting, which will be in August.

SMALLPOX REPORTED IN THE PLAINVIEW COMMUNITY

The County Health officer, Dr. D. L. Cummins of this city, reported to County Judge Lee eight cases of smallpox in the Plainview community which he put under quarantine. Dr. Cummins was in that section Monday of this week. The school has been closed for a short while until the disease can be put under control. The cases seem to be in a very light form.

Mrs. F. T. Sanders was called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. O. Cole in Rule Friday. Mrs. Cole has a little daughter, born Saturday February 24.

Mrs. Douglas of Fort Stockton was a house guest of Mrs. J. U. Fields this week.

VERDICT IN KENNER CASE IS AFFIRMED

Luther Kenner of Haskell county, who was tried in the Anson District Court and given ten years for the killing of Speck Davis in 1917, accepted his sentence and left for the state prison Friday, by way of Anson. He expected to go unattended.

J. K. SIMMONS ACCEPTS 4-YEAR PRISON TERM

The case of the State of Texas vs. J. K. Simmons, formerly of Haskell, who was given four years in the State penitentiary by the district court of Anson, was affirmed by the higher courts and he has accepted his sentence and left Thursday by the way of Anson, where he will go to some department of the state prison.

METHODISTS ENGAGED IN CENTENARY CAMPAIGN

The Pastor and membership of the Haskell Methodist Church are engaged in a campaign to raise money to make the final payment on the Centenary pledge made by this church four years ago. These funds have been wisely used in strengthening and enlarging the work of the church in the home fields as well as abroad. They are now attempting to secure $1250 which covers their last payment on the Centenary and also their regular Conference Collections, which includes the support of the worn out preachers, their widows and orphans, for the current year. Each member is being asked to make a liberal contribution for this cause next Sunday morning.

The Methodist Church along with other leading Protestant Denominations is doing a great work in this line. We wish for the local congregation success in this very worthy undertaking. The money we spend for our church is among our best investments.

NAMES OF CORRESPONDENTS WILL BE PUBLISHED

We begin with this week publishing the names of all correspondents under the name of the community from which they are writing instead of using the pen name at the close of the article. We are doing this to make a better paper for our readers and to help our correspondents to send in a better class of news. When the people of a community know their reporter they will liberally contribute to the writer all news of the community and help the writer make a success in the work. A reporter to a newspaper is a very high calling, a position anyone should feel honored to hold and we want that class of correspondents for our news gatherers. Anyone who feels ashamed of the letters they send in will not make a valuable reporter like those who have more confidence and realize that they are doing a great work. Those of you who have sent in your letters this week requesting us to use your name will appreciate the fact that you have started with us on the road to making the Free Press a real county newspaper with new features.

RURAL SCHOOLS PROGRESSING NICELY

All the rural schools of the county are running full time now except the school at Plainview, southwest of town which is now closed on account of an outbreak of Smallpox. But it is thought that it will be able to open its doors again in a very short while, as most of the cases have been quarantined.

F. E. Owens, principal of Cook Springs, was in the city Saturday and reports the school progressing very nicely.

Trustees for the schools, both county and district, are to be elected on the 7th day of April. This is one of the most important elections that is held in the county. When you make a wise selection and get a good county or district trustee you have added much to your school. Vote for the best interest of your school, would be a good slogan to follow.

It is reported that J. N. Weaver has resigned as principal of the Howard School and will embark in other business and the place made vacant by his resignation has been filled by W. M. Davis, who was formerly principal of the school at Bront, Texas.

E. L. Brimberry, principal of the Hutto School, was in the city Saturday and reports a good school and much progress being made by the pupils.

The County School Board met in the office of the County Superintendent last Tuesday and transacted what business they had on hand, appointing several trustees to fill vacancies and discussed the best interests of the schools of the county.

Cook Springs, Howard and others have purchased new pianos and have a music teacher in each school. That is making progress right along. Others will follow by the next school term. Music should be taught in the public schools.

Our public schools will be glad to know that the State apportionment for 1922-23 is $13.00 instead of $10.00.

During the month of March is the time required for the Scholastic census to be taken.

The attendance in the rural schools is reported fine at present.

I. W. KIRKPATRICK UNDERGOES OPERATION AT ABILENE

Nightwatchman I. W. Kirkpatrick of this city was taken to the Abilene Sanitarium Wednesday night and was operated upon soon after arriving there for appendicitis. He was stricken Tuesday night about midnight, while on duty, and continued to grow worse until it was thought best by his physician to have the operation. Mrs. Kirkpatrick accompanied him to Abilene and she telephoned Thursday, just before we go to press, that he stood the operation well and was getting along very nicely.

T. E. BALLARD ERECTING MODERN RESIDENCE HERE

T. E. Ballard, one of our old-timers who has been making his home at Mineral Wells the past few months is now building a new eight-room bungalow residence in the north part of town, and when it is finished he expects to move his family back here. This new home will be modern and up-to-date in every way and will be another substantial improvement to the city's beautiful residence section. We are pleased to have this family return home.

A Shine in Every Drop

John W. Layne, living west of town was in the city Monday on business. He made this office a very pleasant call. He is going to Illinois in April to look after some oil interest the family has there.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Park were here from their farm near Myers school house Saturday. Mr. Park is ex-sheriff of Haskell county who has retired to the farm where he is now living by the sweat of his brow.

A. A. Gauntt who has been living here for the winter but is now staying out on his farm near Rochester was in the city Saturday. Mr. Gauntt says he lives here and at his farm near Rochester while he is getting ready to plant his crop.

J. W. Box of the Fort Smith Garment Co. of Fort Smith, Ark., was here Friday and Saturday visiting the company's traveling salesman, C. W. Chapman, who makes his headquarters here, and also his friend J. E. Gilson of this city.

W. H. Overton, a good farmer of the McConnell community was a business visitor to the city Saturday. Mr. Overton brought a bucket filled with eggs to sell, which is a weekly occurrence that cuts down living expenses and swells the profits of farming.

Miss Minnie Davis, who is teaching in the Wichita Falls schools, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks. Miss Davis taught for many years in Haskell county and is one of the best primary teachers in the state. She makes a specialty of primary work.

J. D. Andruss of Post was in the city Saturday. He is delighted over the conditions for the farmer this spring and says that the ground was plowing fine up to Saturday. There is a fine season in the ground and the last rain has increased the moisture considerably.

J. A. Lee of the Post community was in the city Friday and says that everything down his way looks very promising for the farmers. A good season and plenty of stock water. And the farmers are very busy turning the ground when it is dry enough. Mr. Lee says they have the best conditions for the farmers that has been for several years.

Pat Sullivan who is farming east of town was in the city Friday and called at our office while in town. Pat is a reader of the Free Press and one of our best citizens. There is just one thing lacking so far in his life—he has not found a helpmate to this time. We cannot say whose fault it is but Pat says it is not his, and that leaves us guessing.

E. B. Lusk, a prosperous young farmer of Route 4 handed us his renewal for the Free Press while in the city Saturday which sets the date forward for a whole year. Mr. Lusk says the home paper fills the bill with him and his family. We appreciate Mr. Lusk as a reader of the Free Press and wish him a successful year in growing maize and cotton.

R. P. Chamberlain and brother H. L. were in the city Wednesday from the Ferris ranch and Brushey country in the northwest section of the county. Mr. Chamberlain says that he noticed some wheat on the Ferris ranch that was showing up and looking fine, but there was not very much wheat sown in that section. They have a good season for plowing and the farmers are very busy.

C. W. Wogman of Route One renews for the Free Press for a year while here Saturday. He says the ground was plowing fine last week and that he and his neighbors are very busy turning the soil. He has a flock of the popular Silver-Laced Wyandottes that are helping him make a success farming this year. He has just set an incubator and we know his hens are laying and supplying their part of the needs of the family.

Rev. E. T. Miller, a Haskell county boy who is now located at Abilene, and has a work out of there to the different towns and localities where he is pastor of Baptist churches, drove through from Abilene to Haskell Friday evening and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Norton, who are parents of Mrs. Miller. TURKEYS FOR TEXAS FARMS PROFITABLE

The state of Texas is not only the leading state in turkey production, but no other state is better adapted for turkey raising. This industry stands out as one of the best paying parts of farm production. The farmer of West Texas who is not taking advantage of this opportunity of increasing the farm income is not getting the most out of his investment. This state is looked to by the buyers every year to put on the market a large per cent of the Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys. They are always going to bring a good price and turkeys at 50 cents a pound ought to pay more than cotton at 10 cents per pound. It is high time to begin thinking of this spring production and care of breeders. No doubt most every one has selected the breeding birds but if not it should be done at once. Breeders should be healthy, strong, vigorous and of medium size. The overly large birds do not make the best breeders. Some of unrelated stock should be used on well matured hens. Young stock is not considered good for breeders as two year old birds. By all means those late hatched hens should not be used as breeders.

Allow the breeding stock free range. Turkeys will not stand confinements for a very long period of time. Some pen them up for a few weeks just during the laying to aid in gathering the eggs. The poult should be allowed free range and those from un-restocked breeders are stronger, easier to raise and more profitable.

Some care should be taken in feeding the breeders if the best results are to be obtained. They should be fed lightly during the winter months and the feed should not be of too fattening a nature. Corn or kafir fed alone is too fattening and it is better to feed along with them some oats, barley, or wheat. The morning feed should be light as this will cause them to range and gather insect life. The night feed should be sufficient for each bird to fill his crop. Keep plenty of water, grit, oyster shell and charcoal where they can get it at will.

Turkeys should not be over-fat at the beginning of the laying season yet they should be in good flesh. About the latter part of February add more corn, milo, or kafir to the ration and discontinue it at the end of the laying season. A good method of feeding the breeders is to feed equal parts of corn, milo, or kafir to be rationed and discontinued at the end of the laying season. A good method of feeding the breeders is to feed equal parts of corn, milo or kafir and barley or wheat during the winter and then add 15 per cent corn during the period just preceding the laying season.

Turkeys are mature and will start laying at about ten months of age. This can be hastened by feeding some beef scrap, or sottonseed meal. They lay in "periods" in the spring and mid-summer, a general rule is to mate one tom with eight or ten females.

Turkeys are of a wild nature as to habit and they should be handled under natural conditions as near as possible. They do not require the housing needed by other poultry but really do better in some sections if allowed to roost in trees. In building a roosting place for them all that is needed is a shed with the sides built out of stock fencing. The roof over this will protect them from the rain and snow. This is better than a tightly closed shed, as an enclosed condition will develop colds which will later develop into that deadly disease, roup. Feeding near the roosting place every night will cause the birds to come home at night and afford them better protection.

It is natural for a turkey hen to hide her nest in some secluded spot such as a brush pile and are very easily disturbed. If the eggs are gathered while the turkeys are around they are apt to change their nests. This of course, necessitates another hunt. Barrels laid down on their sides and covered with brush make good nesting places and these can be so arranged that the birds will lay close to the house. If the hens do not take to the barrels as nests, it is advisable to let them choose their nesting places.

If the first clutch of eggs are set under a common hen the turkey hen will go ahead and lay another clutch before she goes to breeding. Poults hatched in this manner should be given to a turkey hen that has become broody.

Early spring layings should be gathered as soon after laying as possible in order to avoid the eggs becoming chilled. The turkey lays early in the morning, so to avoid the egg becoming chilled early morning gathering is advisable. This also prevents them from falling a prey to the crows.

A good turkey hen should be able to take care of about 25 young turkeys. For the first few days young turkeys can be fed on bread soaked in milk squeezed dry. Follow this with a mixture of equal parts of wheat shorts, corn meal and bran. This should be moistened but not fed sloppy. Another good ration for young birds is rolled oats and clabber milk.

When the poults are older feed grain such as milo, corn, or kafir. Green feed is essential and if they do not get it on the range it should be supplied.

Young poults should not be over-fed at any time. It is advisable to keep them hungry and willing to eat at any time. For their first sixty hours don't feed anything. The first week feed four times a day, the second three, the third three, and the fourth week it can be cut to twice a day, at which time they should be given free range.

If not careful over-feeding will result and great loss of life will follow. A good practice to follow is never to feed all they want at any one feeding. If permitted the turkey will pick up most of his feed on the range and feeding by the attendant should be only enough to insure development.

In brooding one of the best methods is to build an "A" shaped coop large enough for the mother hen to stand up and build it so she can be confined for the first four weeks but the young allowed to range out from the brood coop. This coop should be located on ground where there is no danger of infection from previous turkey raising.

Sanitation is the keynote to success in brooding. Brood coops should be moved to fresh ground as often as possible and the coop fixtures should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected often.

Turkeys are very hardy after they mature, but the young are very delicate and great care should be taken that they do not become wet and chilled. Keep them shut up until the grass is dry and provide shelter in case of rain.

In conclusion, guard against unfavorable conditions, lice and other pests. Give your turkeys attention and the following winter they will give you a bank account.

Be Sure You Are Right

"Come and get me; I'm drunk." Thus a man in Amallo spoke over the phone supposedly to his friend, but the numbers were mixed and he made his request to the sheriff, instead. The sheriff complied with his request.

SCHOOL NEWS

The report cards will be out next week and the parents are urged to examine these report cards very carefully.
These report cards are exact messages from the teachers of your children to you, telling just what kind of work your children are doing in these schools. They are vital living messages. If the report cards indicate that your children are not doing satisfactory work then it is your imperative duty, the duty you owe your children, to immediately see the teachers of your children and find out why the work of your children is not satisfactory and what you can do to cooperate with your teachers with a view of getting better work from your children. Perhaps your children are not doing enough home work; they may be running around on the streets in the afternoon; they may be going to the picture show or some other place on week nights rather than being at home at work on their lessons. If your children are to succeed with their school work,
the teachers must have your complete cooperation and help and sympathy in their efforts to reach your children.

On the part of many of our pupils in the grades and in the high school the work is good at present. The pupils are interested in their work and school life appeals to them. We have a fine school environment now, which is absolutely necessary in order to interest
children in their school work.

On the whole we are having fine cooperation on the part of the patrons of the schools. This is absolutely necessary in order to build up a strong school system. Any patron that listens to any kind of school gossip and peddles
it around is only injuring the institution that is doing more good for his children than all the other institutions in the community. The schools also build up and add more to the general prosperity and growth of the town than all the other institutions. The thing to do is to boost the schools at all times and not knock. It does not require brains to knock but it does require brains and patriotism to boost
and be a community builder.

On account of the bad weather the School Lyceum for February was postponed until the fourth Friday night in March. We had thought it would not be right to give it while the meeting is going on since we had postponed it from the night that it was planned
more than a month to give it.

The exercises in honor of George Washington by the schools last Thursday were very fine in all the different departments. It was only regretted that more of our patrons did not take enough time off to come to these exercises. Unless we take enough time from our busy life to be patriotic and to teach our children true patriotism,
our great nation will crumble to ruin.
If this happens the fathers and mothers will be to blame for it.

What the "Bear Cat" Literary Society
Is and What It Means to Haskell

In September of the school year of 1919 the "Bear Cat" Literary Society was organized with the motto "Little kittens make great cats." The colors selected were green and pink, and the flower selected was a Pink Carnation.
Our motto well represents us because the society has really turned out some
"Big Cats" along the line of declaimers and debaters. The training which some of our high school graduates have obtained in this literary society has enabled them to do better work in the different colleges of the country in a literary way.

When the society was first organized in 1919 we had only forty-six members enrolled; in the year 1920 we had sixty-four enrolled and in the beginning of the 1921-22 term we had one hundred and four enrolled. These figures show an increase in the number enrolled, but it has also proved another undeniable fact, and that is that we have also and even to a greater extent advanced in a literary way. We can not say how much we have appreciated the efforts of our ex-High School superintendent,
Mr. Minatra, for his work in the society. It was through his influence that the society was first organized, and we are indebted to him for the greater part of the success which we have attained.

The "Bear Cat" Literary Society is
perhaps more than the name
all and properly organized from implies. It is a society of the High the student body of the Has-School. The society stands for a better student body; for a better Haskell,
and as it holds under its influence
those principles of justice and strict obedience to rules and regulations it turns out young people so imbued with the ideals and precepts of true citizenship that they are an inspiration for higher living to all with whom they are associated. Considering all the above facts and the great amount of training which the members get in public speaking and oratory it should not be a question to the public but that such an institution should receive the heartiest support of the community—neither should it be a question for debate among pupils contemplating on going to school here but that they should become a member of such a society which offers such an excellent course in the best of classical literature.

The "Bear Cats" have been an asset to Haskell in a civic way and in financial matters. We have taken a decided interest in Haskell as a civic center—
some of our work along this line has been the setting out of trees and shrubbery on both the Library and North Ward school grounds. In clean-up campaigns proclaimed by our Mayor
we have taken charge of whole sections of the town, ridding them of all weeds

and all rubbish.

We have also aided different societies and clubs in the town in both activities and financial matters. We made a donation toward the erection of the Public Library; we have bought literature for the High School Library and furnished material on all questions for debate in the interscholastic debates. We have also made it possible for the High School to send representatives to attend the "Older Boys Conference" by adding in bearing their expenses; whereas, the schools and the town have reaped the benefit of their observations. The society has been instrumental in bringing to our town the best of talent in the form of Chautauquas, Lyceum Courses, etc. The 1920 and 1921 Annuals which were put out in order to advertise our schools and town were financed to a great extent
by this society—at least all our balance of cash at the end of each school session for the last three years has been given for that purpose. Are we not an asset to our town.

The "Bear Cats" have undertaken another project and we hope that the town will give us their support. By taking up this project we are going to earn some money for the benefit of the schools and the town. We have signed a contract by which we are to work for thirty days selling correspondence courses. This course is an education within itself. The price of the course is $3.75. By paying this fee you become a member of the "Shakespeare Story Telling Club" and receive a certificate of membership which entitles you to ask one hundred questions on any subject you desire, including History, Mythology, Foreign Languages, Compositions, Citizenship, Laws, Biographical Sketches, Community Problems, and on all subjects discussed at Women's Clubs. Not just merely the questions are answered, but you receive instructions which are of greater value
than the answered question.

As an inducement to you we are giving absolutely free a book "Beautiful Stories from Shakespeare" with each course. This book contains twenty of Shakespeare's best plays in story form which are written in simple words that can be understood by any child. These stories are intended for both young and old—especially the children in the grades, because it gives them an insight into some of our best and most complicated literature, which will be of inestimable value to them when they begin the study of classics in high school. The book contains over four hundred pages including twenty-two four-color illustrations which are both inspiring and instructive to the reader.
Remember when you invest in this course you are buying a necessity—not a luxury; an education and not fiction,
and at the same time you are helping the "Bear Cats" to help finance the High School paper, which will not only make your school known but also your

The Servant
That Stays

A miracle servant is ready to go to work for
you. It is a servant that works silently, efficiently, uncomplainingly.

It is a servant that lifts the yoke of drudgery
from women in homes that are otherwise servantless, a servant that accomplishes each of the dreaded daily tasks of the household.

It is a servant everlastingly on the job; a servant that responds instantly and willingly to the sudden wish of the housewife. It will sweep for her, cook for her, sew for her, and perform for her an emancipating number of other duties.

It is, of course, Electricity.

THE ADVERTISEMENTS

If you have not realized that the advertisements in a newspaper furnish perhaps as interesting reading matter as can be found in it, and often the most profitable, you are not getting the full value of your newspaper.

Merchants spend a great deal of time in the preparation of their advertisements, and, as a rule, you can depend on what the advertisers say.

If you are wanting to save money—and most of us do—you should read the advertisements regularly. If you want some particular thing, and don't know just where to find it, the chances are that you will find some mention of it in the advertising columns of the paper.

What will we make of Haskell during 1923? Shall we sit still, and when anything for the betterment of our town is suggested shall we say, "Well, it should be done," or shall we personally act on the suggestion. Action is the one thing that counts. No one man can do it all. They must have the co-operation, help and support of the entire citizenship.

SAGERTON

(By Theodore Ratliff)

The Sagerton country has enjoyed more than one-half inch of rain within the past week which taken with the other that had already fallen puts a fair season in the ground to start another crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark of the Flat Top Community entertained with a party-dance last Thursday evening in honor of Washington's Birthday. The old time dances of Washington's time were danced, the Virginia Reel and the stately Minuet. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are newcomers to Haskell county but they are showing their interests that comes up for the good of the community. Misses Grace and Ruth Riddle, teachers of the Flat Top school, were the honor guests.

Sagerton has a new organization, the Lion Tamers Club, organized by some of the young men of the town for the purpose of having clean, wholesome fun. The hall above the bank has been rented and provided with tables for games and more ways of entertainment will be added as the club grows. Ladies night will be held once a month in the future. The rules strictly forbid gambling or drinking and the members intend to keep the club open to investigation at any and all times.

Miss Mary Hankins of Aroca spent the week end visiting home folks at Sagerton. Miss Hankins is another one of Sagerton's girls who is making a splendid success in her work both home and abroad.

Miss Denny Kay of Gauntt spent the week end visiting friends in Sagerton. She reports the school about back to normal after having suffered losses in attendance owing to the flu.

Owing to the rain the basket ball game with Rochester has been postponed again. Haskell will play Sagerton at Sagerton Saturday March 3, the weather permitting. Come and root for your team.

Quite the largest crowd that has been seen in some time was on the street Saturday. The recent rains have put the country in a more optimistic mood and they are buying supplies for another crop.

Mrs. J. V. Everheart and her sister Miss Kate Marie Park shopped in Haskell Monday.

WEAVER

The pie supper at this place Saturday night was a success and the proceeds will go for the benefit of the Sunday School.

MAGAZINE CLUB ART EXHIBIT WAS A SPLENDID SUCCESS

The ladies of the Magazine Club and Mrs. J. U. Fields deserve much credit for bringing to Haskell the wonderful exhibition of paintings by eminent living American artists, which was shown in the basement of the Christian Church from February 20th to 28th. These paintings were assembled by the American Federation of Arts, Washington, D. C.

These pictures are only to be shown in four cities in Texas, viz: Fort Worth, Abilene, Galveston and Haskell. It took more than ordinary influence to land this Art Exhibit in a small town like Haskell. There were 1500 visitors to the exhibit, quite a number of whom were out-of-town people, despite the rainy weather.

Mrs. Douglas, District Art Chairman of the First District, came all the way from Fort Stockton to see the exhibit, and she thought it was splendid, and said she had never seen an exhibit just like it, although she has visited all the famous art galleries of the world, and is a competent judge of pictures. The ladies enjoyed her explanation of the pictures immensely.

CLUB WOMAN PRAISES THE RECENT ART EXHIBIT

In regard to the American Federation of Arts Exhibits so recently held at the Christian Church under the auspices of the Magazine Club of Haskell, I wish to add a word of appreciation for the colossal effort of these women that culminated in the bringing to the men, women and children of your town one of the most magnificent exhibits of present day American artists ever seen outside of the great art galleries of the East. Those responsible for the showing of these originals in so small a city as Haskell (therefore only large cities have had this privilege) could, had they so desired, journeyed to the art centers of America and viewed for themselves these great pictures, but their unselfishness prompts them to bring this wonderful opportunity to their fellow-townsmen as well so that they, too, may learn to understand and know good art; may learn to appreciate the beautiful and thereby enhance the joy of living. No one can doubt the far-reaching influence for good of this generous enterprise, on the mind of youth, in the home, and the civic pride of your community.

BAPTIST REVIVAL WILL CLOSE SUNDAY EVENING

A great revival is now in progress at the First Baptist Church in this city, and 33 additions to the church had been received up to Thursday morning. The greater number of the candidates are for baptism. Many conversions have been reported and the number will be wonderfully increased before the close of the meeting Sunday evening. The weather conditions have been very unfavorable but large congregations have been in attendance at every service. Rev. Leon Gambrell is doing the preaching and Mr. and Mrs. H. Virgil Reynolds, the South's greatest musicians and singers, have charge of the song service. A great victory has been won in the kingdom of the Master and the efforts of the pastor and his helpers have been crowned with success.

Services will be at the usual hours Sunday morning, but the evening service will begin at 6:15, and 45 minutes will be given to the song services. The preaching will begin at the usual hour. The date for baptism is not definitely known, but will be announced later.

The revival will close with the Sunday evening services. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are due in Bay City, on the Gulf Coast, Sunday, but they will arrive a few days later.

The boys took these and there were hatchets buried in the sand with corresponding numbers for the girls, the boy and girl having corresponding numbers were partners. The hostess served red, white and blue brick ice cream and angel food cake, the favors being hatchets. The following enjoyed this splendid hospitality: Messrs. and Mmes. Marvin and Bailey Post, John Draper, J. E. Grissom, and Virgil Meadors, Misses Exa Cahill, Nettie McCollum, Helen Shook, Eunice Huckabee, Cleo King, Chambers, Messrs. Clyde Grissom, J. O. Whaley, Oscar Oates, Fred Mauldin, Frank Draper and Curran Hunt of Dallas. Mesdames Mamie Barron and Lynn Pace. Thursday Bridge Club Mrs. W. H. Murchison entertained the Thursday Bridge Club at her attractive home Thursday afternoon. A most delightful afternoon was spent at bridge. The George Washington idea was carried out in the refreshments, which consisted of deviled crabs, hot rolls, pickles, cherry salad and hot chocolate, the second course was red, white and blue brick cream and angel food cake, salted nuts in cherry cases. The following enjoyed this hospitality: Mesdames John and Hill Oates, Claiborne and John Pierre Payne, Bernard, Marvin Post and Reid. Harmony Club. The Harmony Club met in regular session Wednesday afternoon at the library. At one o'clock the following school-girls met at the schoolhouse: Mary Sherrill, Linda Robertson, Katherine Smith, Marguerite McCollum, Louise Kaigler, Frances and Anita Grissom, Georgia Smith and Erma English. They walked out to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pinkerton's eight miles west of town, and there spread a magnificent lunch. Later in the afternoon they were invited into the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton, where they were royally entertained until Friday morning. The evening was spent in music and conversation, and the girls report that the two teachers, Misses Sherrill and Graham, were not allowed more than 15 hours of sleep. Mr. Pinkerton brought the happy party in Friday morning in time for school. Those who have been fortunate enough to be a guest in this lovely home do not need to be told of the pleasure the young folks had on this occasion. The mothers have heard of nothing else since the eventful day but the lovely time the girls had. Each one of the party wishes they might have Washington's birthday often and that they might spend it in the same way.

Why You Should Cook With Electricity

- FIRST: Because there is no danger of explosions or fire.
- SECOND: Because there is no soot or smoke to damage your wall paper.
- THIRD: Because it lightens the work of cooking by half.
- FOURTH: Because it is cheaper than any other fuel.

We give below the names and the amounts of the February bills of each customer in our district for cooking and ironing with electricity, Ask the person who uses one if they do not recommend the electric range.

SECOND ATTEMPT MADE TO BREAK JAIL AT ANSON

Dan White, one of the seven who escaped from the Jones County jail recently and one of the two who were immediately re-arrested in a cane shock near Truby, came near making his freedom from the county bastille again last Saturday night. He had the bars in his cell snowed out, and the bars in the window outside, also, and would have made his escape on Saturday night except for the fact that some of the Sheriff's force made a close inspection of the premises on that afternoon. The bars all showed to be intact, being pasted in place. They gave way easily to the touch of the hand. Mr. White was taking his evening nap, getting ready for the night's hike.

A. L. White, charged with rape, was arrested by the Chief of Police at Cisco on Monday afternoon, February 12, Mr. Birdwell bringing him back to Anson on the following day.

Carl Pondergrass, under one year penitentiary sentence for selling whiskey, is still at liberty. Carter, who was serving a jail sentence for a misdemeanor, is still free.

Dick Davis was located by Hamlin officers 15 miles northwest of Hamlin, and Sheriff Birdwell had Sheriff Lambert of Fisher County arrest him on February 8th, and brought him back to Jones County.

C. A. Johnson, one of the escaped charged with rape, was re-apprehended late Saturday afternoon of the 19th by Sheriff Birdwell and Deputy Frank Stone, at his home near Union, about eleven miles southwest of Anson.—Western Enterprise.

White and Johnson both lived in Haskell last year and are known here.

FARMER BECOMES ALMOST WEALTHY OVERNIGHT

A farmer living in East Texas near the town of Honey Grove in Fannin County, almost became rich overnight. Below we give the story of the sudden flow of riches realized when he walked through his barn-yard the following morning:

The first to greet him was the family Jersey cow. The faithful animal, happy in the joys of motherhood, mood an introduction to two fine heifer calves. While he was admiring the new bovines the family mare whinnied and called attention to a fine new colt of the feminine persuasion. While he was rejoicing over the increase of his equine family he heard a noise in the swinery and lo, ten fine new pigs were charging the fount of lacteal sustenance. About this time Old Biddle, one of the best family hens, attracted his attention, and, going to the nest, he found that Biddle had hatched out a chicken with three legs. Truly it was a case of riches in a night and joy in the morning.

JAIL PENALTY IS TO BE INVOKED IN BOOZE CASES

FEDERAL LAND BANK LOANS ARE THE BEST
Study the Following Figures

A $1000 Federal Land Bank Loan at 5 1/2 per cent interest running a period of 34 1/2 years will cost the borrower $65 per year for 34 1/2 years, totaling $2242.50. He has received $3 in cash each year for 6 per cent dividend on the $50 stock he owns in the Federal Land Bank of Houston, totaling $103.50, deduct this from the $2242.50 and borrower is out $2139, and is out of debt.
A $1000 loan at the usual 8 per cent will cost the borrower $80 per year or $2700 as interest only, for the same period of 34 1/2 years and he owes the principal of $1000. After paying the principal, the borrower is out just $3700. The difference is $3700 less $2139 leaves $1621 in favor of the Federal Land Loan.

BIG REMOVAL SALE

AT ROCHESTER, TEXAS

For more than two months we have been trying to reach a decision as to what to do with the Rochester Store, and another business proposition which was presented to us. While our Dry Goods business at Rochester has been very satisfactory in every way, and the outlook for a big business this year could be no better, yet we must decide between the two propositions, as we can not handle both deals.

We have decided to discontinue the Rochester Store and accept the other proposition. Mr. Hood will continue with us and become the manager of the other venture.

The Rochester Stock will be moved to another town and consolidated with another store of similar goods, unless we can sell it out to the people before we get ready to move it.

IN ORDER THAT WE MAY SAVE TIME AND MONEY WE PROPOSE TO PUT ON A

BIG REMOVAL SALE

and give the people a chance that comes to few, and then only once in a lifetime, to buy strictly first quality goods at the extraordinary low prices we shall make during the Big REMOVAL SALE.

IT IS EASIER TO MOVE MONEY THAN GOODS

To save the heavy expense of boxing and paying freight on this stock to its destination we will make the closing out prices so low that no one can afford to miss this great opportunity to buy a year's supply of these choice goods.

We never advertise a cost sale for the good reason that few people believe that a merchant will sell his goods at sure enough cost, which under ordinary circumstances, is true. But there often comes a time when, in fact it would be a paying proposition to sell certain lines at cost or, as in our case, swap dollars.

The expense in getting these goods to their new home will make them pretty high and it will be difficult to sell them and make a profit so we prefer to give our friends this expense money, and not the railroads, in big reductions on the selling price and close them out at Rochester.

The Removal Sale Mar. 3 and Will Continue Mar. 10
Will Begin Saturday, Mar. 3 and Will Continue Mar. 10
Until Saturday

Don't forget the date, but be on hand to get what you want at the best bargain prices you ever saw. Don't fool yourself with "Oh, well, I can buy these goods when I have to have them at or nearly the same prices," for this will be a mistake. We, nor any other man or firm, will be able to touch these prices with a ten-foot pole later on in the year.

People we are going to close out this stock, and do it in just seven days. Get on your buying clothes and come to this sale and reap the benefits of a Closing Out Sale.

You will find quite a lot of New Spring Goods now in this stock. These goods were bought before we decided to move the store. You can have them just like all the rest of the stock. The entire stock is made up of choice Dry Goods of the better kind, as most of you know. Everything will be on sale at tremendously Reduced Prices and the store fixtures will be for sale after the 10th of March.

Make out a list of the things you are liable to need this year, so you will not overlook some needed article, for you will have just one chance to buy the most wonderful bargains it has been your good fortune to secure in your whole life.

We regret very much to say "Good bye" to our many friends in Rochester, for they have been very loyal and have shown us many courtesies, all of which is highly appreciated. No better people live in the world than a large majority of the Rochester people. But the best of friends must part and this case is no exception to the rule. We take this opportunity to thank one and all for the many favors shown us while in your community.

C. C. Goodman, who has been confined to his bed for the past six weeks with a severe case of pneumonia, was out in town Wednesday for the first time since his illness. His many friends and acquaintances were very glad to see him able to come to town and trust that he will soon be able to resume work.

Marvin H. Hancock changed his residence from the north to the east part of town Wednesday, moving into the new home he has recently repaired and made ready for his place of abode. Marvin thinks he will like the east side because of its many conveniences and being reasonably close in and handy to his work.

Jno. R. Mauldin returned from Los Angeles, California, last week, where he has been for quite a while for his health. He seems to be much improved and in the best of spirits. He says that California was not immune from the "flu." One school he knew to be closed because of the "flu," and other cases were known to him in different sections.

J. H. Laughlin, carrier of Rural Mail Route of Sagerton was in the city Monday accompanied by Aubrey Milley and M. L. Stegemoeller. Mr. Laughlin has carried this route for many years. He began with the horse and buggy when it took him most of the day to make the trip. But now he goes in a car and then the roads are good the trip around the route is soon accomplished.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roberts of Byers, Texas, have been visiting Mr. Roberts' mother, Mrs. A. Roberts, and his brother, Sam A. Roberts. While here their baby was taken ill and it was thought it might have pneumonia but it is now improving. Mr. Roberts returned home Wednesday morning, but Mrs. Roberts will remain here for a few days until the baby is better before returning home.

J. D. Hughes of the Hughes Ranch brought his premium Herefords to Haskell Wednesday to ship to Fort Worth to the Fat Stock Show. Mr. Hughes won first prize on some of his cattle last year and he has the confidence that he can make a better winning this time. The Hughes Ranch is one of the best stocked ranches in Haskell County and it is growing greater every year in breeding better cattle.

Frank Lewellen, living on Route 4 east of town was here Saturday. He says the reason he has not been to town more often is that he has not had time. Frank is one of those old boys that is not afraid of the stuff called work and he is making a success farming. He does take time to read the Free Press and keep posted. He has flat broke all his ground this winter and is now ready to plant his crop when the sunshine gets warm.

C. H. Moneyham, who has been sojourning for the past six years in different sections of the state of Colorado arrived with his family Monday to again make this country his home. Mr. Moneyham owns a farm out east of town which he kept to have alone in Haskell county when he was through experimenting with the Golden West. But all is not gold that glitters. We are glad to welcome Mr. Moneyham and family back to the fold. They all come back.

Don Means of southwest of town was in the city Friday on business. Don says it is now too late to break your ground which means that he is through plowing. Don has been for many years a grocery man in the city and we do not know whether he is really going after farming because he likes it or has an attack of spring fever. He says he has lots of hens and is getting lots of eggs. He starting on the right track, the fellow with a big flock of hens will not owe a big grocery bill in the fall.

J. O. Jackson and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Pinkerton community were in the city Saturday. Mr. Jackson, in addition to his excellent farming brings lots of produce to town, butter eggs and chickens. He usually sells around twenty pounds of butter and is getting something like a case of eggs each week. Of course he is not marketing all his eggs now as he is setting incubators and hens in order to have early pullets for fall laying and some fraters for the spring market. He is breeding White Leghorns and believes them the best for egg farming where your chickens have a good range.

F. A. West of Foster was in the city Saturday all smiles over the splendid season followed by rain that he thought to be about three-fourths of an inch which took its own good time and fell so slowly Thursday and Friday nights that it all went into the ground. He said the ground never was in better condition to plow than last week and that the farmers of his section were very busily engaged in turning the soil. He does not think the acreage of cotton will be increased at all this year unless it should be new lands put into cultivation which is generally planted to cotton the first year.

W. F. Draper, one of our old-timers who lives in the northwest part of town was on the streets Monday in a very optimistic mood over the conditions that exist with the farmers at this time. Mr. Draper has a large farm north of town which keeps him in close touch with the farmers and farming interests of the country. He says the best conditions exist he ever saw in Haskell County. The people are not oppressed, the good feed and cotton crop of last year put almost everybody on their feet financially. And the farmers are going to their duties with confidence in old mother earth, knowing that within her lies wonderful wealth and prosperity when they have a key to unlock the doors of production.

Methodist Missionary Society

The Society met at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. Gose, superintendent of local work, was director of the program on local work, and gave one of her inspirational and helpful programs. Mrs. F. G. Alexander gave such a sweet talk on "Kindness" that we should show everyone.

Mrs. C. L. Lewis, chairman of social activities gave a talk that was exactly to the point, about church members leaving off the things that would cause others to criticize their lives. Mrs. Sowell made a strong plea for daily Bible reading. One of the best features of the program was that every one of the women read a short scripture lesson. Miss Judith Taylor, in her own delightful way sang, "The Lord Is My Strength."

It was decided to have a hen drive right away to help pay for work that is to be done on the parsonage.

The following were present: Mesdames Pippin, Walden, F. G. Alexander, Irby, F. L. Caldwell, Ed Robertson, Jr., H. M. Smith, Hill Oates, E. Sutherland, L. W. Kirkpatrick, J. M. Gose, C. L. Lewis, F. The First Presbyterian Church

Our Motto: "To know Christ, and to make Him known."

What do Presbyterians believe concerning the church? Here it is, briefly stated: "We acknowledge one universal church, the same in all ages, of which Christ is the head. The church invisible consists of all the redeemed. Faith in Christ, not visible church membership, saves a person. The church visible is composed of all those throughout the world who profess faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, together with their children, and it is the duty of all believers openly to profess their faith, and to unite with the visible church of their own choice. The church exists to bring to Christ those whom the Father has given Him, and to establish the Redeemer's Kingdom. The mission of the church is spiritual, and its work is to witness to the truth of God to the ends of the earth, and to preach the Gospel to all men in every generation. We believe in the separation of church and state. The Scriptural form of church government is by elders or Presbyters, chosen by the members of the church; but we do not regard the form of government of a church as essential to its existence. Our form of government is the representative type. So far as the voting on the reception of members by the session is concerned, it is for the purpose of making sure of sincerity and of a proper saving knowledge of the faith on the part of the applicant. A careful examination of applicants for church membership helps keep the church pure. . . . We recognize the validity of the ministry and sacraments of all evangelical churches, and seek the unity of the spirit in the bonds of peace. The sole condition for church membership with us is a sincere confession of Christ as Savior, with due repentance for all sin."

Preaching every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. You need Christ—Christ needs you. You need the church—The church needs you.
