Rev. Lawrence Moves From Haskell
W. M. Lawrence who has been the missionary for the Haskell Association for the past twenty months recently resigned his place as the pastor of the South Baptist Church at South Land and moved to his new location the past week. He took his family last Friday morning and will be in his new home in the city of Haskell by the end of the week. Rev. Lawrence has endeared himself to the people of his territory in such a way that his going brings a sad regret. He and his family will be missed in the city of Haskell by their circle of friends who wish them success and pleasure in their new location. We take pleasure in commending the good family to the people of South Land and we feel that our loss is their gain. The prayers of the good people of Haskell follow Rev. Lawrence and his family where ever they may go.

Trustees of Bunker Hill District Were In Haskell Monday

G. A. Roberts, J. J. Wofford and Alfred Rinn trustees of the Bunker Hill school were in the city Monday in the interest of the school. They are making additional improvements in the school building and equipment for the coming term and while here they made application for state aid. The Bunker Hill school has more than doubled their enrollment during the past few years and is becoming one of the leading rural schools in the county. Mr. McKenzie who has been principal of the school for the past three years will be with them again the coming term.

Some Melon!

We thought Haskell county was entitled to the largest watermelon in the state which was shown at the Haskell County Fair last week grown by H. B. Turner, Jr., of the Foster community. The melon shown by Mr. Turner was perfect in shape and weighed 92 lbs. But down at Troop in Smith county, a fellow by the name of Russell has placed a melon on exhibition at Tyler which tipped the scales at 127 pounds. Some watermelon!

BIG CAST IN "NIGHT LIFE OF NEW YORK"

It has been many a long week since a cast such as in seen in the new Allan Dwan-Paramount production, "Night Life of New York," has been gathered together for any one picture. Rod La Rocque, Dorothy Gish, Ernest Torrence and George Hackathorne are featured in the leading roles.

And that's not all either. Helen Lee Worthing former "Follies" beauty; Arthur Housman and Rily Hatch are prominent in support. "Night Life of New York" is an original screen story by Edgar Selwyn, noted playwright and producer.

Rod La Rocque scored a tremendous hit in "The Ten Commandments," and has since appeared in several Cecil B. DeMille productions. Ernest Torrence of "Covered Wagon" fame, has been winning new laurels in such epics of the West as "North of 36," and in the totally different role of the Scotch shopkeeper in "The Dressmaker from Paris." Dorothy Gish is famed for her work in D. W. Griffith's pictures, and is one of the most popular feminine players in filmdom. George Hackathorne is a well known player of juvenile characters who was seen recently in the leading role of "Capital Punishment" and also in support of Norma Talmadge in "The Lady." Arthur Housman is also favorably known for his playing of juvenile "heavies," and Miss Worthing, who was outstanding in "The Swan," is worth going miles to see as a typical Broadway gold digger. The adaptation of Edgar Selwyn's story was made by Paul Schofield, who adapted Thomas Maighan's "Coming Through and Bebe Daniels' picture, "The Crowded Hour." Allan Dwan has given "Night Life of New York" a production which brings the real life of the white light taxi-doggers before the eyes of picture patrons. "Night Life of New York" was taken entirely in New York!

After transacting business in hand adjournment was taken subject to call of the proper officers.

Directors of the various departments will be secured and they in turn go over their respective divisions and their entries and awards and rules and regulations are revised to keep pace with standards and bigger shows. These divisions of the catalogue will be prepared and published so that exhibitors might begin early to get their crops and stock in order for the fair.

In electing Mr. Conner assistant secretary-treasurer, it was understood that M. H. Post would remain as secretary-treasurer of the corporation and supervise this end and be the Director of Tickets and Admissions while Mr. Conner would do the active work during the fair. The Board will meet at an early date and go over dates and contracts and discuss division heads and secure continued co-operation where al-

Weinert School Shows Much Progress In Work of the Term

(By John F. Odor)
School opened the second week with quite a number of additional pupils over the first week.

Our senior class now has 9 pupils as follows: Olga Bowman, Carrie Mae Rich, Frances Derr, Maynett Holmes, Ruth Crump, Vera Riddling, Bailey Guess, G. C. Newsom and Willie Abbott. The class organized with the following officers, G. C. Newsom Pres., Olga Bowman V. P., Frances Derr Sec., Willie Abbott Treas.

We do not know the attitude of the patrons of the district on tardies, but we do know that pupils who are habitually tardy never do any good in school. If this practice is continued you will hear more about it. Each week there will be found a list of those who are tardy in our school notes.

Our school now has a new plank walk 6 X 30 feet in front of the door upon which to clean their feet in muddy weather. No more mud in the house. Come down and walk on it.

We are badly in need of some additional books in our library. We are wondering if some one has some good books that they have read, that they would like to pass on to our school. Any good book of fiction, poetry, etc. will be appreciated. Who will be first to send in a good book? A list will be published in our school notes each week.

Our music and expression teacher Mrs. Miller has a fine class now at work. The following pupils are enrolled in her department: Piano; Ralph Rich, Edith Mae Green, Maud Newsom, Beatrice Wheeler, Evelyn Gregory, Hoyt Gilbreth, Winnie Julia Sidney.

Expression: Lindsey Lee Gresso, Vada Mae McClaren, G. C. Newsom, Jessie George Newsom, Carrie Mae Rich, Mary Adeline Barton, Maud Newsom, Roy Jones, W. B. Miller, Jack Rich, Maymie Terry, Cathleen Coggins. This is a fine class and you may look for some real programs from this department in the near future.

"THE NIGHT CLUB" FINE LAUGH FILM

"The Night Club," a new Paramount comedy featuring Raymond Griffith, that funny fellow with the high hat; Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda, comes to the Haskell Theatre for a run of two days on Wednesday next. The picture is a screen version of the William DeMille stage play, "After Five," and was co-directed by Frank Urson and Paul Iribe, who made "Forty Winks."

"The Night Club" opens with Griffith at the altar with a girl a head taller than he is. He is just about to slip the ring on when a man dashes in and shouts "Stop." The girl turns around and recognizes the jeweler as her long lost husband and rushes into his arms. Then and there Ray Griffith decides that he is through with all women for good.

Later on his lawyer announces that he has inherited a million dollars from his uncle but to collect the legacy he must marry a certain girl. Griffith decides that no girl is worth a million dollars and tells the lawyer not to slam the door as he goes out.

So it is that Ray, with his uncle's valet who is bequeathed to him as a separate part of the legacy, go to Europe to find some place where there are few, if any, women. They select a little town in Spain, but Griffith's happiness proves short-lived, for women of every description soon seek him out and tend to make life miserable for our "woman-hater."

What happens after that—how he meets 'the one girl in the world' proves unusual screen entertainment.

"The Night Club" is claimed to be far funnier than either "Changing Husbands" or "Forty Winks," and everyone knows what they were.

According to Jas. E. Lindsey of Rule, Special Agent of the Department of Commerce there were 7950 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Haskell County from the 1925 cotton crop, prior to October 1st, as compared with 8955 bales ginned up to the same date last year.

PREACHING AT PINKERTON SUNDAY OCTOBER 19

DISTRICT RALLY OF BAPTIST AT SEYMOUR

A Baptist District Rally will be held with the First Baptist church, Seymour October 19, 1925, in the interest of our fall round up of the 1925 program.

The Baptists of this district know that a mighty appeal is being sent out through our Denominational papers, through personal addresses and individual calls, to all our people urging us to do our best in this fall round up to raise the remaining $900,000.00 that we lack for the completion of our full year's work. This was the plan laid out by our executive board. This board is doing its best to do the will of Texas Baptists and we are under obligation to co-operate with them in carrying out this program. This work has not been planned to honor men, but to honor Christ and if we fall down on this work we will be disloyal to Him. This district here in the west is composed of a hoist of loyal Baptists who will come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty in any sane effort to promote His Cause.

We have tried in the arrangement of this program to cover all phases of our work. We are to have our honored secretary with us and also an honored speaking speaker for the women, Mrs. E. M. Francis, of Electra. We have made the necessary arrangements to care for you that day and are expecting you to come. We will meet the 10:30 a. m. train, which will come a short while after the program begins, but if you cannot come for all, come for a part of the program and we will take you to the evening train, which leaves at 4:35 p. m. You need to come and help inspire us and be inspired the concentration of effort on the part of our people to arouse us to a full sense of our duty. We will do our part if we only see and know the perilous conditions that we face. I saw a foot ball team lose several games one fall just because they woke up too late. The other teams, the many times inferior won the game in the first few minutes of play. Let us wake up to the fact that there is something for us to do and do it. If we will work and pray and pay this fall, we can go to the convention with a report that will not only bring joy to our hearts, but will bring joy to our Master's heart as he sees us going on to Victory in His name. Pray for this meeting, tell others about it, and bring a good representation from your church.

- The program follows:
- 9:45 Devotional—Rev. R. C. Brinkley, Vera.
 - 10:00 Baptist Heritage—W. C. Harrison.
 - 10:30 A Worthy Financial Program for our Churches—Rev. W. H. Albertson, Pastor First Baptist Church, Haskell.

DEATHS

Haskell's Oldest Citizen Passes Away

All that was mortal of J. E. Wilfong, Haskell County's oldest citizen, was laid to rest Monday morning in beautiful Willow Cemetery, beneath trees transplanted, where in the long ago only the West Texas mesquite grew, and where if the ears were not stilled in death the whirring of the passing automobile could be heard in the place of the barking of the prairie dogs, the howling of the coyotes and the browning of the buffalo, which Mr. Wilfong was familiar with in the days gone by. Mr. J. E. Wilfong was born in Catawba county, North Carolina, June 30, 1856, and he came while a young man to Haskell county in 1883 and in common with practically everyone engaged in work on a ranch. For some time he was superintendent of the L.L.L. Ranch owned by M. O. Lynn and he had experience on a number of large ranches before deciding to try farming in Haskell county and he opened up the first farm north of Haskell, where he lived many years, but later moved to within two miles of Haskell where his children were reared. He decided to study law and did so, reading law with Judge A. C. Foster, for many years one of Haskell's leading attorneys. Mr. Wilfong served as County Attorney through seven terms of office. He cast the second vote in Haskell county after it was organized in 1884, his brother, Frank C. Wilfong, casting the first vote. He bore an active and helpful part in the work of progress over this section and was an ever present witness of the birth and growth of towns, the introduction of the church, and the school house and the evidence of modern civilization. His picture and biography are in the volume "Men of Northwest Texas." Mr. J. E. Wilfong was married to Miss Clara B. Owsley on the 19th of December 1880 and to them were born six children—five of whom are living. Mrs. Wilfong died in the fall of 1913 at the age of 59 years. Mr. Wilfong ranks with the true pioneer and with the substantial residents of this part of the state. He was a Mason and Woodman of America.

He was stricken with paralysis the first time November 17, 1919, but recovered and served a full term as county attorney liking three months, when he was stricken again three years ago and has since been confined to his bed and to his invalid's chair, which was such a familiar object to his friends and acquaintances, whom he would always greet with a smile. The final call came on last Sunday morning, October 11th, at 5:45 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted at the First Christian Church by the pastor, Rev. Forrester, assisted by Rev. Ben Hardy and by Rev. George Morrison who read his life's sketch. Mrs. H. R. Jones sang "Life Is Only A Dream," which was the same song she sang at Mrs. Wilfong's funeral. Life-long friends of this good man and family, gathered the choicest of flowers and there were enough not only to cover the mound but also that of his wife by whom he was buried. All of his children and their families were present—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. White, Iowa Park; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Conner, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Arbuckle, Munday; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shook and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wilfong, Haskell. Other relatives present were, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Owsley and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach, Munday. A great host of loved ones and friends join the immediate family in mourning the loss of their father and brother.

Baby Dies.

The death angel visited the home of W. B. Lindley Saturday night at 9 o'clock taking away with him little Dorothy Lee the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Lindley. Dorothy was only 18 months of age on October 7, but had endeared herself to the family circle by her sweet baby ways and will be sorely missed from this home but we bid the loved ones to look to that home which is higher and better than this one.

Of course we cannot understand why God picked the choicest flower from the garden but some day we will understand all things.

The deceased leaves a father, mother two brothers, three sisters and a grandmother besides a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Funeral services were held at Haskell Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Albertson assisted by Rev. R. G. Brannon.

We join a host of friends in sympathy for the bereaved ones.

C. L. Prince Dies Here

C. L. Prince was born January 10, 1865, and passed away October 9, 1925, being 60 years, eight months and 29 days old. He had been married twice, a former wife having died several years ago. He was married to the present Mrs. Prince on August 16, 1903. He was the father of four children three of whom were with him at the time of his death. A son by the first wife does not reside here.

Mr. Prince was a good citizen. He was always honest and industrious. His word was his bond and he was always ready to work and to do his work in a satisfactory way. He was liked by all of those who knew him, and trusted and respected by all of his neighbors and friends. A number of years ago Mr. Prince confessed faith in Jesus and was baptized into Him. He became a member of the First Christian church and just so far as he knew how, lived a faithful and consistent Christian until his death.

He leaves behind a wife, two sons and one daughter here in Haskell to mourn his death and who will miss him sorely from their home. But in this hour of their loss and sorrow they have the sympathy of all their friends and neighbors who wish for them that highest comfort which God alone can give.

COLE'S FUEL SAVING WEEK

COLE'S Heaters are better heaters in every way! Let us prove to you that this is true. Come to our great Cole Display and learn the truth about these wonderful heaters. You will be satisfied that Cole's Heaters will keep you more comfortable during the winter months. The Red Tube, Cole's famous Hot Blast Draft, is the greatest fuel saver ever put in a Heating Stove. Cole's Heaters hold fire longer. They are cleaner and safer. They are more durable. LOOK FOR THE RED AIRVAC TUBE!

WHY THE RED AIRVAC TUBE GIVES MORE HEAT!

HERE Is the Reason You Will Need Much Less Fuel!

The Heart of Cole's Hot Blast Heaters.

Look for the Red Airvac Tube!

COLE'S Red Tube burns your fuel gases as well as the solid fuel and sends this extra heat out to keep you warmer. Without the Red Tube, these gases, which represent 40 to 60 per cent of your fuel, would go up the flue and be entirely wasted. An enormous saving! The Red Tube, found only in Cole's Hot Blast Heaters, pours a stream of heated air into these fuel gases as they rise, and they are instantly ignited. Notice the fierce flames about the mouth of the Red Tube in the illustration. All this heat is extra heat.

SOCIETY and Club

Fields Home From Trip in New Mexico.
 Mrs. J. U. Fields returned from her trip to New Mexico with her contemporaries. She enjoyed the splendid location committee seeking the most ideal location for a center where a Southwestern center might be established, by the Federations in the States. Mrs. W. C. Martin, chairman of the ways and means committee, original member of the location committee, the delegation visited many spots recommended by the Board of Commerce in Las Vegas, Santa Fe, who gave a joint invitation to the places and who furnished guides and especially compiled a program for the party. The findings of the committee will be reported to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, composed of Mrs. Lee Joseph, of San Antonio, past president of the Federation, and Mrs. A. P. Averill of El Paso, vice president. This committee will in turn report to the State Board at a meeting of the Board on November 9th in Austin immediately before the State Convention which will open November 10th. The board will act upon the recommendations of the general convention. The news gleaned from the information committee was particularly interesting with the cultural advantages of Santa Fe, where the Palace of the Governors built in 1699 is still being housed the archives and relics in a research museum. The American School of Research, Dr. Edgar L. ... director, has its headquarters there and maintains branches in Los Angeles and Chicago. Dr. Hewett will speak before the convention November 10th at Austin in behalf of the Santa Fe location. All women should rejoice that the time is not far distant when all educational and cultural advantages can be had right here in our great Southwest. The personnel of this trip made in a special car from Fort Worth with A. C. Ater, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe Railroad and Mrs. Ater, official hostess, follow:

Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Redmond, of Corpus Christi, State President of Federation, and Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell; Mrs. E. E. Maloney of Commerce; Mrs. Mamie Folsom Wynne of Dallas and Mrs. Frank Tompkins of Corpus Christi.

Haskell Young Lady Receives High Social Honor.

Miss Mary Ella Pace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pace Sr. of our city and who is a student of Southern Methodist University, is the recipient of the highest social honor that can come to a University student at this season of the year. She has been elected as the Queen of all college coronation and circuses that takes place at the State Fair at Dallas. This selection is made from a standpoint of beauty and this honor acclaims her College Beauty of America. All colleges and Universities, aggregating between thirty and forty send duchesses and on opening night the queen is crowned and this is followed by the queen's ball. Then on the second evening "stunts" from all schools are staged, which constitutes the "circuses." All of Haskell congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Pace on the social conquest of their charming and talented daughter, Miss Mary Ella Pace.

Lyceum Number Friday Night.

Attention, patrons of the Haskell Schools, will you take the time to ask yourself the question: What do I do to provide better entertainment for the Haskell School Boys and Girls? We hear a great deal said about the class of entertainment that is brought to our town from time to time with the one purpose of making money, giving no thought to the moral effect it has upon our boys and girls. Now the Parent Teachers Association has discussed thoroughly the cost of bringing the White-Brown-Lyceum Course to our town and are offering season tickets at the lowest possible rates, with reduced prices for all school children.

Now the association is asking the citizenry of Haskell and adjacent communities to rally to its support of this high class entertainment. These women are working for the good of your children and are putting forth every effort to make teaching easier and more pleasant for our teachers. Will you help?

The Child Culture Club.

The Child Culture Club which is the newest club in Haskell, met last Tuesday afternoon at the First Christian Church in a very fine and helpful program. This club has a two-fold motive—the training of the young mother, and the development of the child—and while the mothers are in council, there is a place for the children and a hostess to care for them. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Chas. Corner was hostess to the children and drilled them in songs and readings that will be used later in a program. Mrs. Sam Roberts was leader of the mother's program which was as follows: Relation of Lungs, Stomach and Brain to the Best in Body and Mind, Mrs. W. E. Kirkpatrick The Minds and Morals, Mrs. Mack Martin, Baby Life, Mrs. Gilley Mulkey Environment a Factor in Mental Development, Mrs. Henry Smith.

All young matrons are not only cordially invited but urged to join this cultural club. Those interested see either Mrs. Bailey Post or Mrs. G. R. Forrester.

Green-Beck Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. Green was the scene of a beautiful wedding last Sunday October 11th at 5:30 o'clock p. m., when their daughter Marguerite became the bride of Mr. Harry Beck of Vera, Texas. Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Scott W. Green, Jr., brother of the bride, sang "At Dawning," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Will Whitman. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, the bride and her maid of honor, Miss Thelma Mae Beck, sister of the groom, entering living room from the left met the groom and his groomsmen entering from the right under a canopy of ferns arranged for the wedding party. Here Rev. W. H. Albertson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haskell, read the ring ceremony while Mrs. Whitman played "The Flower Song." After the ceremony the bridal party and guests were invited into the flower-garlanded dining room where delicious punch and cake were served. Then amid showers of rice and congratulations of friends and relatives the young couple left in their car for a short wedding trip to Dallas and other points after which they will be at home to their friends at Vera, Texas. The bride was gowned in a traveling costume of blue broadcloth with rose trimmings and all accessories black, her corsage was of roses and carnations. Her maid-of-honor wore a rose wood crepe satin gown and her flowers were pink and white carnations. Only relatives and close friends of the bride and groom were present.

Tonn-McGregor Wedding Solemnized.

On last Monday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock the marriage of Miss Elsa Alberta Tonn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Tonn and Mr. Charles A. McGregor, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McGregor, Sr., took place at the parsonage of the First Christian Church of Haskell, Rev. G. Robert Forrester pronouncing the ceremony. Their only attendant was Miss Lydia Tonn, sister of the bride. The bride was lovely in a gown of blue satin, black crepe with cut velvet trimmings and accessories to match. This marriage unites two of Haskell's well-known families. The happy couple will visit among friends and relatives for a few days and then go to Des Moines, Iowa, where the groom is connected with the Eastman Kodak Company and where an apartment is completely furnished and where they will be at home to their friends at 1120 Polk Blvd.

Luncheon Opens Magazine Club Season.

A luncheon at the library Saturday, marked the opening activities of the Magazine Club for the season.

Mrs. N. T. Smith and Mrs. F. T. Sanders received the guests in the reception suite which was a bloom and fragrant with LaFrance and American Beauty roses artistically arranged in huge floor baskets. Attractive patriotic place cards consisting of a Texas Flag and Star and in keeping with the Club course of study for the year, marked the places for a delicious three-course luncheon which was presided over by the entertainment committee, Mrs. J. B. Post, Mrs. Ben Hardy, Mrs. C. L. Lewis and Mrs. A. C. Pierson.

Mrs. F. T. Sanders, the new president for the year, very charmingly introduced the following officers and ex-officers who each in turn responded:

Mrs. V. W. Meadors—Vice President.
 Mrs. J. E. Bernard—Cor. Secretary.
 Mrs. R. C. Montgomery—Treasurer.
 Mrs. J. U. Fields—Parliamentarian.
 Mrs. R. R. English—Critic.
 Mrs. E. Sutherland—Reporter.
 Mrs. S. R. Rike—Historian.
 Mrs. C. L. Lewis—Ex-Treasurer.
 Mrs. O. E. Patterson—Ex-President.
 Mrs. Henry Alexander—Ex-President.
 Mrs. Marshall Pierson—Ex-President.

A very clever roll call, "What I Will Do for My Club This Year" was enjoyed by all.

The Magazine Club feels quite proud of the fact that one of its members, Mrs. J. U. Fields, is a candidate for presidency of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The election takes place in November, and the Club is expecting every loyal citizen in Haskell to assist and cooperate in our campaign, so that we may all rejoice together in the victory.

Bledsoe Patterson.

Mr. Slover Bledsoe and Miss Maye Patterson, both of near Weinert, were recently married. Maye is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Patterson of Weinert. Slover is a prosperous farmer living near Weinert. Both of these young people have many friends in Haskell county who wish for them a long and happy life.

Missionary Society.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met last Monday at 3 o'clock with sixteen women present. Mrs. T. A. Williams directed a lesson on Dependent Children; two topics were discussed by Mrs. Bruce Bryant and Mrs. Andrew Shriver. Then Mrs. W. J. Sowell told of visiting a large prayer meeting in Los Angeles, Calif., at our Southern Methodist church where Rev. "Bob" Schuler, pastor. A complete and delicious six o'clock dinner is served in the kitchen department of the church on each Wednesday evening, after which Dr. Conner lectures on a Bible lesson, this often being the Sunday School lesson, then all remain for the prayer meeting, the number ranging from three to five hundred. The local Missionary Women serve this weekly dinner and it is their only means of raising funds. Mrs. Sowell also told of visiting our Wesley House there, the Homer-Toberman Mission and of having learned what is always appreciated in a box. It was decided to observe week of Prayer, the first Monday in November. Harvest day program with a District Meet when two returned missionaries, Miss Putman and Mrs. Capperton Pace (Miss Mildred Smith) will be on the first Monday in December. On next Monday afternoon Mrs. P. D. Sanders will direct a program on The Bell Bennett Memorial.

FACTS ABOUT HENS—WHICH TO CULL OR KEEP

These are Culls

1. Hens that are unnaturally light in weight, showing little life, dried-up legs, dull, sunken eyes, head long and snaky, long beak.
2. Hens that show any sign of sickness, or are crippled, deformed or undersized for the breed.
3. Hens that persist in sitting or being broody.
4. Hens with dried-up combs, hard and scurvy in appearance, dull eyes.
5. Hens showing thick, hard or brittle pelvic bones, hollowed, or close together.
6. Hens showing lack of capacity in body formation, this is, too short a distance between the pelvic and keel (or rear end of breast bone). In the large breeds at least three fingers width should show here. In small breeds two fingers at least.
7. Early molters, hens that begin in May and June to shed their feathers.
8. In all breeds that are supposed to have yellow legs, skin and beak, hens retaining these colors strongly are usually poor layers.

Hens to Keep

1. Hens with bright, soft, red combs and big, round bright eyes, broad skulls, beak medium length, strong slightly curved.
2. Hens showing an average fair weight for their respective breeds.
3. Hens that do not molt before the last of August or first of September. Plumage may be dry, more or less disheveled or broken up, especially the ends of the main tail feathers.
4. Hens showing a soft, (not flabby) abdomen, loose, soft skin.
5. Pelvic bones flexible and wide apart, two and a half to four inches or more.
6. Hens with body capacity, distance from the pelvic bones down to the keel for rear end of the breast bone). The wider the distance the better the egg capacity. Egg capacity means room for the organs that produce the egg and consume the feed required to make them. In large breeds look for no less than three inches; in small breeds such as Leghorns, no less than two inches.
7. Hens showing pale or white color of shank and skin as well as beak. (All yellow leg breeds.)—W. E. Stanfield in The Dakota Farmer.

LEVIT

(By Dorothy Beene)
(Last weeks letter)

The health of this community is very good at this writing.

Everyone is picking cotton after the rain that came last week.

Mr. C. N. Grisham and family of Olney Texas visited W. M. Beene and family last week.

Mr. Walters and family from near Rule spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Navert.

Miss Ellen Burras from Rochester ate dinner with the writer Sunday.

Mr. Fred Spitzers nephew from the south is helping them pick cotton.

Mr. J. E. Beene and family from the Tanner Paint community visited in this community Sunday.

Typographical Errors.

A newspaper brother says that a very small error in a newspaper, or in the printed word, can sometimes cause a lot of trouble. A bill passed by the Texas Legislature was made null and void by a small typographical error made by a copying clerk. And just recently a small error in type led to the halting of a murder trial at San Antonio; and if you are a newspaper reader you recall that just recently the Northern District of Oklahoma was deprived of an attorney because of a typographical error.

And once upon a time a big edition of the "Book of Common Prayer" was made useless because the letter "e" was dropped from a word. The book, because of the error thus created, contained this very startling statement: "We shall be hanged in the twinkling of an eye."

Typographical errors are the newspaper writer's constant nightmare, and more than one innocent editor has met ridicule, and even death, through the persistence of the ever present error. No matter how much a writer agonizes for accuracy errors will creep in.

Oh, very well; everything else is changed. Why not cut down son's old pants to fit dad?

FACT AND FICTION

A ring on the hand is worth two on the phone.

There is no pleasant way of paying for a past war.

"Don't worry" makes a better motto when you add "others."

A wolf in sheep's clothing is not as common as a shark in men's.

A practical joke is one that an editor is willing to pay money for.

Sometimes we get mad and think all we get for our taxes are receipts.

Now it is said that France "intends to pay after all." After all what?

While the old songs used to go to the heart, the new songs go to the feet.

Persons who seem to get along with them very easily say the basic principle is to call the beautiful woman intelligent, and vice versa.

Even the most reliable of jokes eventually dies and nowadays one rarely sees the cartoon depicting the difficulties of taking down a stovepipe.

The anti-kiss bacteriologists may win their fight yet unless the manufacturers of lipsticks manage to get pure food law guarantees for their stuff.

A man entered the office of an eastern university and laid down a gift of $20,000, but refused to give his name. You can't blame him—they'd probably insist on naming a dormitory after him.

So Weak Couldn't Stand

"My wife's health broke down and for years she was just a physical wreck," says Mr. Thomas Glynn, of Gibson, La. "We did everything we knew, yet she seemed to get worse and worse. She was so weak till she couldn't stand, and had to be carried like a baby. It looked like nothing would save her that had been done."

CARDUI For Female Troubles

"I began looking around. I knew that Cardui was for women. I decided to try it for her as all else had failed. She couldn't eat, she couldn't sleep, and I was desperate. After taking a few doses of Cardui, we were so glad to note that she wanted something to eat, and with each bit of nourishment, and each day's doses of Cardui, she grew stronger and got up out of bed. She is now able to cook, and stronger than in a long time."

Cardui has been in successful use for nearly 20 years in the treatment of many women's troubles.

Wants a Permanent Bath
Billy was reluctantly getting ready for his bath when mother stopped to admire her young sister's permanent wave.

"What is a permanent wave?" asked Billy.

His mother explained "And now Aunt Milly won't have to curl her hair for a long time," she continued.

Billy was deeply interested. "Oh, ma, I wish some feller'd invent a permanent bath," he wailed.

Don't Sleep at Church.
A certain lady induced her husband who was not a regular church-goer, to accompany her to evening service.

During the sermon he fell asleep, snoring at first softly, and at length so noisily that the good lady was constrained to give him a sharp nudge, in the hope of rousing him. To her consternation, however, as he slowly awakened he exclaimed in a loud tone:

"Let me alone! Get up and light the fire yourself; it's your turn!"

Break the News Gently
Brown always did possess a soft heart. This is how he wrote: "Dear Mrs. Harrison: Your husband cannot come home today, because his bathing suit was washed away. P. S.—Your husband was inside it."

Cultivated.
In reporting a flower show a newspaper used an "n" for an "r" with the following result:

"As Mr. Smith mounted the stage all eyes were fixed on the large red nose he displayed. Only years of patient cultivation could have produced an object of such brilliance."

No Need for Alarm.
Maid—M'm, I just accidentally let baby's blanket drop out of the window.
Mother—Awfully clumsy of you; now baby will catch cold.
Maid—Oh, no, m'm, he won't. He was inside of it.

Salvaged the Wreck.
"Once while motoring in Arizona we traveled four days without food. On the fifth day we made soup out of the car."
"Yes, yes, go on!"
"We hit a mudhole and the car turned turtle."

Cautious Sam.
A negro was trying to saddle a fractious mule.
"Does that mule ever kick you, Sam?"
"No, suh," said Sam, "but he sometimes kicks whar I jes' been."

Don't encourage the child to brag about his ancestors; but so live that if he does he needn't exaggerate.

BUILD... HASKELL

The Home Paper.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the time has come to take steps to protect the home merchants and look to our commercial interests in general. I have called this meeting to organize in some manner a local board of trade or some such organization. I want to urge home patronage. Trade at home campaigns, trade trips and trade boosting programs to build our town." And so on explodes the home town merchant and business man when the assembly awaits the reason for the call of the citizenship at the Town Hall.

"We must stand together. We must have publicity. Jim there has a newspaper. Let Jim get after the rural folks and also keep the plan fresh in the town folk minds that trade at home will build our town—etc., etc."

That's fine. Let Jim do the boosting through his paper. Let Jim foot the bill with his space. Let Jim do it, as George is often allowed to do it.

The hometown paper is not an organ for town building when such a program means practically town advertising. The space contained in the pages of the hometown paper other than news happenings and editorials and such sections as the publisher feels due his readers and he can afford to give free for their subscription, is his bread and meat. His income from which he earns his daily bread, pays his expenses and keeps the wolf from the door generally.

Why should a newspaper owner give his space away? Why should he throw away his space and then have to buy groceries? How long would a merchant stay in business in any town if he gave away his stock? Can you suggest?

There is a duty to perform and the newspaper owner realizes that full well. He also realizes that there are expenses to be paid, fully realizing this also. There is a family to be cared for and several families depending upon his success for their income since their provider is on the newspaper pay roll.

The local press gives, perhaps, more free space, more value to the investment, for the town and the people than any other business that can be selected from the commercial family. The lawyer, like the doctor, in many instances, gives free advice and treatment, in their respective channels but after all as this is given there is a seed planted that might be properly charged to advertising by them, although either profession objects to such an application, of course.

How cheering it must be to a hometown newspaper publisher to hear these speeches and attend these meetings and hear his space selected as the channel through which the town will build if he gives it free and then when the first of the month comes, the very merchant that made these talks and called for home town trading, and his free space costing him much, makes out the newspaper man's bill on statement blanks printed miles away, and he is denied the privilege justly his, even though his space so freely given at a cost to him, to not consider an act deserving of this patronage.

The hometown paper reflects the town. If the merchants support it by advertising, the paper speaks for the town. The news matter compiled from the best reports speaks for the town as a whole. There are times when the hometown paper might speak out and talk plainly, tell facts as they are, carry items that would be damaging to the hometown, but—being proud of the hometown, proud to be a citizen of it, the hometown paper prints items worthy of its editorial education and spreads sunshine and banishes gloom and invites others to come to his hometown and be happy.

Yes, let the hometown paper stress this and that so the people will come to our town and trade. That's his assignment. Tell them free through his paper, at an expense to him, when the proper manner in which to handle this movement would be for the merchant to reach the rural trade through the hometown paper and extend the invitation that would bring him revenue and at the same time permit the hometown paper owner to enjoy a share of the profits as well.

Sears Roebuck & Co. begs for the space in the home town paper but space is refused them by your hometown paper, as little as you might realize this. Not only the firm mentioned but the Montgomery Ward Co. and many other mail order houses, are all refused space in the hometown paper. Had you ever thought of that? Of course not, you did not know this. However it is a fact, nevertheless.

While you as a merchant buying printing away from home at a small saving while you follow the mail order direct advertising system, while you look to your laurels and business lines and perhaps almost totally ignore the Home town paper, that institution is safe guarding your trade territory by refusing to accept the advertisement of mail-order-houses that will damage your prospects. It is not fair then that these being facts that you could well afford to allow the local print shop, connected with the hometown paper, to make a slight profit over what an outside shop would charge you just as his protection keeps away the big mail order firm whose prices would over shadow you?

The hometown paper is an investment, a business, just as yours is to you. If he gives away his space he loses money, just as you would if you gave away your merchandise.

Is there any good reason why a hometown paper should give away space to build the hometown than you ought to hand out your stock in trade?

Build a hometown paper by advertising in it. Build the plant by patronizing it with your job work. The larger the paper in pages, the larger number of advertisements shown, the better the plant, the larger the plant pay roll and the larger the pay checks to those employed, means a common parlance, the larger the hometown.

When you build your hometown paper, YOU BUILD HASKELL.

People appreciate a smart-driving, easily-handled, but full-sized, man-sized car. The Better Buick, for instance.

Each Buick model seats its capacity of full-grown people—in relaxed ease—without cramped legs or necks. Tall people, especially, enjoy its extra head-room and leg-room.

American men and women are above the average stature. And a smaller car than Buick is apt to be tight-fitting, low-ceilinged, crowded!

Drop in and try the ample, arm-chair comfort of a car that is right in size. Bring some of your six-footer friends. You will find another big reason why Buick is so widely considered a better motor car—another reason why there are a million and more enthusiastic Buick owners.

Or telephone, and we will send a Better Buick to your home or office for you to try.

STOCKHOLDERS OF HASKELL COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

ready enjoyed and fill vacancies where they exist, looking forward to time and interest of each to build a unit on every hand that would spell satisfaction. If plans in the making can be carried out as now under discussion additional building will be done on the grounds. Among these plans will be a Ladies Rest Room in connection with a building for the Women's Division. The Exposition Halls then available will be laid out to take care of rural exhibits and commercial exhibits.

The rural exhibits will remain as before, free from entry fees and if the space is in demand, entire buildings will be given over to these rural exhibits, school and sectional, as in the past.

Entertainment in keeping with what the board feels will be pleasing to patrons will be contracted for in due time and the announcements made as this is done.

Suggestions are always welcome and it is not necessary to be a stockholder in order to get the ear, eye or hand of a director or officer.

It was generally conceded that the Haskell County Fair is the property, in a manner, of the people of the county, and the business end as represented by the officers and directors court suggestions, from time to time.

It was pleasing to the officers and board then in harness to see the representative number of stockholders present. During the meeting several asked if more stock could be secured. There are a number of shares of stock not fully paid up and these will be consulted as to their wishes in the matter and if there is no desire to pay out the stock the remaining portion unpaid will be offered others and the stock disposed of so as to secure needed revenue.

Awards and ribbons, not already delivered, will be mailed to all at an early date. Exhibitors are asked to be patient and appreciate the fact that the closing details of a fair are quite heavy and with as little further delay as might be needed checks and awards will be rushed out.

The Board expressed appreciation in connection with the many division heads and workers in other sections and asks that all who helped make the fair a success accept their thanks accordingly.

Those who have headed Divisions in the past will be invited to continue at the head of the same division and where they do not feel inclined to do so others will be assigned at an early date so that the work necessary will not be crowded into a short period and prove unsatisfactory to all concerned and court mistakes as well.

A number of stockholders were kind enough to express themselves as satisfied with the way the fair has been managed and expected their investment to be more of a cooperative step than paying proposition, and as stated herein, requests were made for additional stock, if the board found it necessary to carry out their plans.

After all, according to one stockholder's views, the officers and board labor without hope of reward, financially, and the stockholders in majority have practically nothing to do but call and see the show and the absence of a vote of thanks for the work carried out was, in his estimation, deserved and should have been extended.

Flowers for the living are beautiful indeed and each officer and director, according to President Grissom, appreciates such expressions and while many do not express themselves openly as a few have, it is felt a majority are satisfied and have so expressed by their ballots at this meeting, he said. "We are only human and can make mistakes, just like any one else, but we are trying not to do so and intend to keep on trying as long as we serve the stockholders and the public," he said.

It was the general opinion that with the proper co-operation from all sides, town and rural, the 1926, or Third Annual Haskell County Fair will be pleasing to all and add additional laurels to its credit and continue to make history for Haskell and Haskell county.

The W. M. S. of the Baptist church will pack a box for Buckners Orphans Home November 2.

INVENTOR OF SEWING MACHINES A FORMER TEXAN

It is a fact probably known to few people that the financing of the sewing machine invention was done by an early day resident of Texas. The story is told in the musty file of a Texas newspaper which reposes in the archives of the library of the University of Texas. The article was written by G. D. Kingsbury in 1867. It says:

"John V. Singer, a muscular old sea captain who had 'followed the sea' for twenty-five years, landed at Brazos Santiago about 1847 and settled on Padre Island. He got title to a strip of land, made butter, raised stock and picked up wrecks on the coast. Always he visited at Brazos Santiago and Brownsville, being known everywhere as the brother to Singer the sewing machine man. During one of these visits to Brownsville he told me about his brother's invention.

"John V. Singer left home when very young to go to sea. Several years later he met in New York City his younger brother whom he hadn't seen since that time when he left home. The younger brother told him of his invention of the sewing machine and expressed his belief that it would be one of the greatest mechanical improvements of the age. Young Singer, however, did not have the money to get a patent and finance the deal. John V. Singer said: 'I shared in his faith, and he shared my purse.' He lent his brother $500 to finance the deal.

"John V. Singer then went to Texas, and it was many years later that he heard first of his brother's success in a letter from him in which he said: 'Should you desire to adventure in some enterprise draw on me for $150,000 and do what you desire.' Evidently John V. Singer accepted the offer, for he made definite plans to build a steamship to run between Brazos and New Orleans in opposition to Harris and Morgan's ships, a plan that was frustrated by the civil war."
