THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR

BAPTIST REVIVAL NOW IN PROGRESS

The revival meetings are in progress at the Baptist Church with fine interest and attendance. The evangelist, Rev. J. W. Hickerson and wife arrived Tuesday evening and have thrown themselves into the meeting. Three choirs have been organized and the music is very attractive. Evangelist Hickerson is preaching great sermons in which he "opens up the Scriptures" so that all can understand what God says. Mrs. Hickerson is giving most of her time to the young people's choirs. Miss Frazier is doing splendid work at the piano. All in all everything is in readiness for a real revival of old time religion in Haskell. Every one is invited to attend. Come and receive a blessing. There are many in the church who are lost. If that is true of any in your family this is the time to "prepare to meet God." Services each morning at 10 o'clock and at 8 in the evening.

The best wishes of all the people of Haskell county follow her.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT ELECTRIC GIN

The Haskell Electric Gin has been in operation in Haskell for a number of years. Its policies are well established. Its work is well known and its manager, Mr. C. A. Dulaney is an experienced gin man who strives to keep his gin in up-to-the-minute condition. This company has spared no pains or money in supplying this plant with latest and best machinery. The equipment of this gin is first class in every respect. It was thoroughly overhauled and every improvement made to derive the best results for its patrons. The plant is now running at full capacity and is making satisfactory samples and turnouts. This plant was destroyed by fire a few years ago and the present gin was built new throughout and the very latest machinery installed. Mr. Dulaney is confident that his gin is better equipped than ever before and he is putting much effort in the ginning business this year and he is pleased with the results.

The World Fliers

BIG SPEED CARNIVAL OF AUTOMOBILES AND HORSES AT THE HASKELL COUNTY FAIR

One of Texas' greatest Automobile Races will be held in Haskell during the Haskell Fair October 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The track, or auto bowl, has been examined and passed on by some of the best authority in the United States as being one of the best and fastest five-eighths mile tracks in America, the surface being of such material (that of lime, clay and a little sand) to make it a concrete bowl as smooth as a billiard table and at the curves banked so perfectly that it would be almost impossible for a driver to leave the track.

The manager of the Fair has been assured by the owners of some of the finest and best race cars ever built in the United States that they will be with us and there will be perhaps as many or more famous drivers at this meet than any other meet of its kind held in Texas.

With this splendid track Haskell will be recognized as one of the leading auto race towns and we will have little or no dust to contend with as the Association is using every means to get the track in a condition that will assure the greatest speed by the contestants and comfort and satisfaction to the spectators.

Those thousands that will attend will have more thrills than you ever had before and no doubt will have the pleasure of seeing many records shattered for time and distance on this track it's maiden year.

The program for Friday October 3, is most attractive and there will be great substantial prizes offered for the best time for our track, also for the lowering of state or national records. There will be races of five miles (8 laps) ten miles (16 laps) and fifteen miles (24 laps) and with the talent of Speed Kings already entered or those that have said they would be with us from all over the country, there is nothing to keep this from being one afternoon's entertainment that one could well afford to come hundred of miles to witness.

These races will be staged under the sanction of the American Automobile Association, which not only assures the public, but the drivers as well that these are to be real races and every race a contest and not an exhibition.

The racing voices of some thirty racing motors summons you to Haskell. Come and you will be well repaid for your time and money. There will be horse races on the other two days of the Fair, in which not only local and country horses will have a chance at some prize money, some of the real running horses that will be here go from here to the Dallas Fair and will be out there trying to put their nose first under the wire and "carry home the bacon" at one-half, five-eighths, and three-fourths mile.

Each afternoon at 2 p. m. there will be five high class Vaudeville Acts by some of the best out-door entertainers that money will buy. This each day, interwoven with the races, will be then at night at 8 p. m. immediately in front of the grandstand there will be a different attraction of vaudeville

FIRE TUESDAY NIGHT DAMAGES NEW GIN

The Harrison Sparking Gin, which was recently completed in this city, suffered a loss of approximately $1000 from fire which was discovered Tuesday night about 10:30 o'clock.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and the alarm turned in. The fire department made a quick run to the scene and soon had the fire under control. Most of the damage was confined to the gin stands, distributor, cleaner and the roof however, practically all machinery in the building suffered some damage.

Mr. Sparking, local manager of the gin, states that work will be started at once to repair the gin and install the necessary new machinery, and that the gin will resume operation just as soon as these repairs can be made.

BUILDINGS FOR FAIR NEARING COMPLETION

The Haskell County Fair Association under the efficient management of Turner E. Camp is completing the Administration building of brick and tile, at a cost of $5000.00. Also the poultry building and the livestock buildings are nearing completion, which will be large and commodious for the exhibitors. Although the race track is in excellent condition they are continuously at work on it in order to have it in shape for the drivers in the race to make the best possible speed.

If it is possible in the limited time between now and the opening date of the fair, another grandstand will be built duplicating the one already erected, which will hold more than 1000 people. This effort will be made to better take care of the enormous crowds which are expected to attend the Fair this fall. It can be said to the credit and the efficiency of the Fair committee and its manager that the buildings mentioned above were begun and completed within the past 15 days. The grounds have already been lighted and water connections are being made to all the buildings. When completed Haskell county will be assured of the best arranged and most complete buildings and fairgrounds of any West Texas town, barring none.

FROM THE FIELD

By W. M. FREE

Last Friday morning we took another auto trip. This time we were alone. It has often been said that you can't learn an old dog new tricks. This seems to be true in regard to auto driving for us. But we are not a speed maniac and that will probably save us from the trip to the happy hunting ground earlier than the time the good Lord intends for us to take our departure. We had a friend of ours to drive the car off the square with the end which contains the engine and lots of other things we know reason for that was we never like to be crowded by the traffic which has nothing but the sense of "pointing it on out." We are in a new class. We did the same thing our friend did to this car and the thing proved out toward Hays—namely, we did not very swiftly. When we had the home of Sid Medford we stopped and spent an hour with the family. Sid and the children were picking cotton and they reached the house first about the time we arrived. After a short rest and a few greetings Mrs. Medford called dinner and when we had the many good things on the table to eat we were surrounded by guests. Mr. Medford says that his crop is good and he believes he will make as much or more cotton than he made last year. He also has a fair feed crop and has it mostly in the barn. Mrs. Medford has the Black Minorca chickens and gets lots of eggs for the market. We drove to the home of Lee Medford, who had not gone to the field when we arrived. He was pretty well armed for a man in the country. He had an axe handle, a black-snake whip and an inner tube for a Ford car in his hands but he seemed in a good humor. After a short stay with Lee, who said he was picking cotton and his crop was good and everything was going nicely for him, we drove away. But we had not gone more than two miles from his place when the old dog was driving began to take something like the heavens and got out of breath and stopped and refused to go farther. No coaxing would do the stubborn brute any good. After looking all over the thing we found out that it would not run without assistance. About that time J. M. Thompson and his son came along and we found a wire and tied on to his Overland car and he pulled us down to the home of M. B. Howard, who owns a Ford and keeps plenty of gas. One of his boys crawled under his car and drew out some gas for us and we were soon on our journey. We reached the home of Sam Armstrong of the Weaver community and the gas gave out again. He gave us a little more gas and then we hiked out for home and drove like smoke to keep the gas from playing out again before we reached town.

Next week we are going again and expect to keep everlastingly at it until we learn how to handle a car, then we are going to make an effort to visit every home in the county and give our friends a chance to read the best county paper in this section of Texas.—The Haskell Free Press.

ELECTRIC COOKERY IS BETTER COOKERY!

The evenly-regulated heat eliminates the guesswork of cooking and substitutes scientific exactness. Cooking failures are rare—success the rule. The same heat which produce a satisfactory result onetime will duplicate it every time.

Heat from the electric speed units is evenly distributed under the entire cooking utensil. There is no fluctuation in intensity, and no cool spots where food does not cook, nor hot places where it burns if not constantly stirred. This uniformity removes the danger of undercooking as well as burning.

The heat-insulated, air-tight oven prevents evaporation with consequent shrinking of roasts and loss of natural juices and flavor which always take place in an oven that must be ventilated in order for the fuel to burn. Nor are there any fumes or soot to contaminate the food.

Meats are richer, juicier; bread is more moist, keeps longer; cakes are more delicate in flavor and of finer texture; biscuits more beautifully browned; everything has a more delicious taste. Good cooks become better; inexperienced cooks quickly learn to cook with assured success.

THE PASSING DAY

The studious observer of a large political gathering is certain to reach the conclusion that most men are easily worked into a high pitch of excitement that subsides almost as rapidly as it is created. When under the influence of excitement they often do and say things of which they would be ashamed in their cooler moments. As a whole people appear to be swayed more by demagogues than by statesmen, and that which is almost tantamount to a mob-spirit can be created by fiery invective. Orators are aware of the power of this appeal to the principal instincts and inflame contests nearly always resort to it. In the most recent campaign in Texas, culminating in the Austin convention, the late appeal has been used by both sides for all that it has been worth.

Speakers and audience alike have not hesitated to give vent to their feelings, in unmistakable terms and often in language anything but polite. The very vehemence of their expression, though, appear to have cleared the atmosphere somewhat, and to have paved a way that may lead to better understandings, just as penitence, when once turned loose, often results in creating friendships between hitherto antagonistic parties. That is certainly the hope of many who are keenly alive to the best interests of Texas, but who have not been violently partisan. There is great need in Texas for the people to work unidirectionally for the advancement of State and community interests, and this cannot be accomplished where ill feeling predominates. Division means death to progress in localities where every ounce of energy is needed.

The pity is that it is so difficult to get capable persons in sufficient numbers to interest themselves in other than political movements. Even the church is made secondary to politics with nearly every one who works to be done. Community builders often find it impossible to get enough capable help in public matters to put any kind of a worth while proposition over. We learned how to do things cooperatively during the war, but humanity places the people appear to have forgotten that war lesson. That is a good work for the American Legion if it would perpetuate its influence.

Some time ago in a public meeting the statement was made that the average farmer trades but little and therefore cannot have any clear conception of current events. That may once have been true, but farmers and farmers' families are now eager readers of local and state papers and magazines of the best type as well. They read even more closely than the city people and know better what is going on in the world. They are not perhaps as well informed as to the latest news affecting the interests of the people they are well read, and are prepared to give their opinions on most news while current topics. The automobile and good roads, together with a cheapening of papers and magazines, have given the farming class opportunities that are not surpassed in the cities. With these opportunities they are demanding and are getting a better type of reading matter than formerly.

That statement starts a thought as to what has become of that cheap class of publications that a quarter of a century ago could be found in almost every farmer's living room, papers that issued largely from Portland, Me., and Chicago and that smelt strongly of cheap ink and papers, printed on the coarsest of pulp paper, and filled with misleading advertisements, could be found almost everywhere, but now they are scarce even in the poorest homes. Their passing is an evidence of an improved reading taste on the part of the people.

Better schools have had much to do with this, and the county community without a modern school building is getting to be a rarity in most parts of Texas. Not long ago Texas school buildings were a disgrace to the State, being hardly fit for stabling farm animals. But gradually Texans have learned that children can be reared best in surroundings in which they can have a public and school and homes alike have improved. Texans are learning, too, that they do not have to be wealthy in order to have at least clean and attractive places in which to live and in which to educate their children. Even the poorest homes are now being made attractive, and the most remote districts are erecting comfortable school houses.

HASKELL COUNTY MAN VISITS OLD HOME IN ALABAMA

Tuesday morning Ex-Commissioner P. C. Patterson of the Saylor community called at our sanctum looking better than he had in many months, with a smile that was not a grin spread all over his face. He returned Saturday from his old home near Anniston, Alabama, where he spent two months in visiting two of his daughters and some of his brothers and sisters, eating watermelons, huckleberries, and peaches fresh from the vines and trees. He says it was one of the best trips in his life. He attended a family reunion at the home of one of his brothers in Etawah county, where a number of his kinspeople came together for a day of rejoicing. He has four brothers and two sisters back near the old home. He reports crops short in that section, but cotton is better than it has been for the past three years. That is a weevil-infested district, but they have not been so numerous this year. He further stated that the cotton crop in Mississippi was reported very short in the sections he passed through en route to Alabama. Mr. Patterson had the Free Press sent to him while away, and he says he never failed to get his copy on each Monday.

S. E. Kinnison Visits Brother

Mr. S. E. Kinnison and wife and his brother P. B. Kinnison and wife of Welch Oklahoma who were visiting him returned Monday from Colorado City where they visited another brother W. A. Kinnison. This was the first time in 25 years that the brothers were all together. Uncle Sam says that he had a real enjoyable time in this reunion. His brother P. B. came back with him and left for home Tuesday morning.

ROBERTS By Lillian Lowellen

All the farmers have their maize headed and in the barn. They have begun picking cotton. There were twelve bales of cotton carried to Haskell from this community Saturday.

Most of the people from this community went to Howard Sunday to the singing. We all heard some good singing. The next singing will be at Weaver the first Sunday in October. Let's all go and hear some real good singing again.

Mrs. Beckham of Oklahoma is visiting her brother and sister A. L. Lancaster and Mrs. Frank Colburn.

Miss Jessie Bright of the Meyers community spent Saturday night and Sunday with Lillian Lowellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stanford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Callaway of Curry Chapel.

The cream supper which was given at T. L. Atchison's Saturday night was enjoyed by all who were present.

Bro. Priddy of Stanford will preach at this place Saturday night at 8 o'clock and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Every body come and hear a real good sermon.

Along the Way

From the number of earth tremors seismographs have been recording it would appear that Mother Earth needs something for her nerves.

The government plans to standardize all paper money up to $100, it is said. The real need, however, is to standardize a way of getting the money.

The government might overcome the popular objection to the two-dollar bill by printing a new series with the picture of a bathing beauty on them.

Life, for the most part, seems to be a process of getting enough money to move to the city to get enough money to move back to the farm and enjoy oneself.

Strange how our traveling senators and congressmen can come back from abroad and prescribe for all European ills when they can't diagnose the economic ailments at home.

"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully," wrote the grateful woman. "A month ago I could not spank the baby and now I am able to thrash my husband. Heaven bless you."

The Sugar Cure
"One of our little pigs was sick so I gave him some sugar."
"Sugar? What for?"
"For medicine of course; haven't you heard of sugar-cured hams?"

Fine at School
"How are you getting on at school, Jimmie?"
"Fine. We're learning words of 4-cylinders now."

Misunderstood
The street car conductor's change was running short. A young mother with her baby in her lap handed him a half-dollar.
Conductor—Is that the smallest you've got?
Young Mother—Well, I have only been married a year!

POST

(By R. L. Livingood)

Cotton picking seems to be the order of the day now. It is not very good in this community.

The health of the community seems to be better now.

We were sorry to report the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Owens at the Stanford Sanitarium on last Thursday night. Mrs. Owens will be home next week.

Millan Middlebrook is able to be home after being in the Sanitarium for several weeks.

The Methodist people gave an ice cream supper last Saturday night and other refreshments and realized quite a nice sum of money to pay on a piano for the church. There were present a very large crowd from all over the county. Among them were Prof. Stamps, Kitts, Elliott and Denton composing the quartette from Jacksonville Tex. They sang a few selections which were very good.

There were at Howard Sunday afternoon a very large crowd at the East Side Singing Convention. It seems to have been one of the best yet.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Kotron and daughter Lula have returned to Sherman after a visit with relatives in the Post Valley.

The recent rains have not helped the cotton much.

Frank Simmons has moved to Haskell for the benefit of the schools.

The Stamps Quartette gave a concert Monday night to a large audience at Post school house, which was clean and inspiring with a number of comic selections that were enjoyed and applauded by all.

"I had dieted and starved and taken medicines without a particle of benefit. My stomach turned as sour as a ball, I had awful pains through my back and was so nervous I could not get any restful sleep. But two bottles of Karnak has me feeling like a new person. I am now up and able to get about, my stomach is returning every day and I feel fine. Karnak is wonderful."

CEDRIC SANDERS VISITS AUTO PLANTS IN DETROIT

The following is an extract from a letter written by Cedric Sanders to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Sanders of this city, regarding a visit to several of the large automobile plants in Detroit, Mich.:

"Monday I went out to see the Ford River Rouge plant. It surely is a big thing employing about 45,000 men, not all working at once because some departments work in three shifts a day and some in two. There are, also, several blast furnaces for melting iron ore, a locomotive repair shop, a glass factory, a cement factory, an automobile tire (Continental) plant, a furniture, the assembly plant for the Fordson tractor, a big machine shop and a big power plant and there. There is a plant for the ships to build in the town also.

"Tuesday I went out to the Ford Highland Park plant where the cars are assembled. That is a big plant itself and is the home plant. There are about 4000 men employed there. They work as close together as possible in that kind of work, almost all here or about it some of the workers.

"Wednesday I went through the Chrysler plant. Thursday I went out to one of the Detroit Edison Co's plants. It surely is a great thing, has a capacity of generating twelve power. They use coal for fuel.

"Friday I went through the Dodge and Cadillac plants. Had the pleasure of sitting in one of the most beautiful cars I ever saw. It is a new sedan that is just being brought out. The upholstery is simply gorgeous. The woodwork is all in beautiful polished walnut. I think it will sell for about $4,500.00.

SINGING CONVENTION HELD AT HOWARD SUNDAY

The East Side Singing Convention which met at Howard last Sunday afternoon was a success from start to finish. The singing began at two o'clock and we believe it was the best East Side Singing Convention which has ever met so far.

The Stamps Quartet, consisting of Zeki Kitts, Raymond Elliot, Otis Denton and Frank H. Stamps were present and rendered several special songs, which were enjoyed by the largest crowd that ever gathered at Howard. We were very glad indeed to have these singers in our community and we invite them back again. The Throckmorton county class was also present and rendered a good program. They are wonderful singers, and have a hearty invitation to come to Howard again.

Several other good singers from different parts of the county were there, and we welcome one and all back to our community.

The next East Side Singing Convention will meet at Weaver the first Sunday in next month.
