CAUSES DEATH OF BOY

(Special Correspondent)
 Ewell Huntsman of Haskell was taken to a hospital at Haskell on Tuesday morning at 7:30. The boy went out east of Haskell on Friday, and carried a gun with him, and in some way discharged the entire load of the gun. The bullet struck Ewell's leg. The accident occurred near the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, 10 miles north of Haskell. The boy was taken into the hospital at Haskell. Later he received medical attention, but he died before death came. He was 15 years of age. He was a member of the Rochester Concert Band of his class. His class will be honorary pall bearers at his funeral.

MEETINGS OF SINGING CONVENTIONS

Singing Class meets at Haskell on Sunday night at 8 o'clock and a large attendance is expected.

Rev. Hooker will preach at Haskell on Sunday next at 10 o'clock. Rev. Hooker is of his time to the rural Sunday afternoons, which are appreciated by the communities he is serving.

AT CHURCH OF CHRIST SOON

Services will begin at the church in this city Wednesday the third Sunday in July. A. C. Broun of Austin will preach and a good singer will be present. A large attendance is expected.

250-MILE TOUR OF SEVEN TOWNS

Business men of Haskell organized a boosters' picnic and left for a 250-mile trip through Bomarton, Seymour, Vera, Benjamin, and Monday, before returning to Haskell. The train includes a 30-woman and 20 men. All decorated and a parade will be held in each town that the train visits. The train will visit Weibert, Haskell, and Rockport. The picnic celebration in that city July 3rd. Large plans are being made for a large attendance is expected. The 3rd a Ku Klux will be staged.

REPORTS A QUIET TRADES DAY

(Special Correspondent)
 Last Trades Day was usual on account of the day being nevertheless, a day present to enjoy the other amusements provided by the progressive business.

ANSON JURY GIVES TOUSSAINT SENTENCE OF 99 YEARS

A jury in the Jones county district court last Saturday found Henry J. Toussaint guilty of murder for the slaying of his father, O. H. Toussaint, and assessed his punishment at ninety-nine years in the state penitentiary.

The case was transferred to Jones county from Wichita, and occupied the greater part of last week's term of court. About fifty witnesses were included among those summoned in the case.

At the beginning of the case it was intimated that one of the pleas would be insanity.

The verdict was returned at 5:30 after the jury had been out an hour and a half. Toussaint had been found guilty by a jury in one of the Wichita county district courts, which assessed the death penalty. An appeal was taken and a new trial ordered on the ground of misconduct of the jury. After failing to obtain a jury for a second trial in Wichita county, the case was venued to Jones county. The elder Toussaint was killed Feb. 6, 1921, being shot from ambush on a street in Wichita Falls. His son later confessed to the killing.

On the witness stand Thursday, Toussaint for two hours told the story of his life and of alleged abuses his father heaped upon him. He spoke without any interrogatives and told his story calmly. On Friday morning he resumed the stand for cross examination, and answered the direct questions of the district attorney just as calmly.

Attorney C. C. McDonald, chief counsel for the defendant, stated Sunday that it had been agreed between the defendant and his three attorneys that Toussaint would accept the sentence and begin serving his time without further delay.

It was thought quite likely Monday morning that Judge W. R. Chapman would overrule the skeleton motion for a new trial filed Saturday afternoon immediately after the jury had returned its verdict, and would then sentence the defendant to life imprisonment.

This move on the part of the defense came very unexpectedly, as it was generally believed Saturday night that the case would again be taken to the court of criminal appeals.

RACES AT ABILENE PROMISES NEW SPEED RECORDS

New speed records and new thrills for the greatest concourse of holiday spectators ever assembled in West Texas is the prediction for the Third Annual Automobile Race Meet at Abilene on July Fourth. With an entry list comprising twenty of the fastest cars and most daring drivers of the Southwest, gathered from all parts of Texas and Oklahoma; with a track that will be lightning fast; and with a newly enlarged and remodeled seating plant that will provide comfortable accommodation for 10,000, everything points to the staging of an event that will surpass anything of its kind ever before attempted in this state.

The July Fourth program will be ushered in at 10 o'clock in the morning with a big military parade composed of infantry and artillery of the National Guard units and the firing of salutes by a battery of French Seventy-fives. The racing program will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock, and gates will be opened at 12:00 o'clock noon.

The complete official list of entries and the race program is announced as follows:

- Eckenroth, Southwestern Special.
- Graham, Beld Special.
- Miller, Miller Special.
- Sanders, Chevrolet Special.
- Reeves, Reid Special.
- Ward, Essex Special.

PROGRESSIVE SUNDAY SCHOOL AT MIDWAY

Several people were in the city this week from the Midway community and in speaking of the services made the statement that the Sunday School meets at 2:30 in the afternoon and that on each Sunday afternoon there is preaching by some of the Haskell ministers of the various churches. The Sunday School is very progressive and everybody takes an active part in the promotion of the good work. The singing class meets every Sunday night and lively interest is taken in singing. Those living in that section say that Midway is anything but a dead place and if you wish to spend a joyous hour, drive out to Midway in the afternoon or evening.

WINN BROS. WILL OPEN HARNESS SHOP HERE

Winn Bros. are making arrangements to open a harness shop in the building south of R. N. Hathcock's Filling Station. The building has been repaired and the front filled in with dirt to make the entrance to their place of business more accessible. They will probably open for business by the first of the month. Haskell needs a harness shop and it is believed the enterprise will pay.

WORKERS COUNCIL WILL MEET AT WEINERT JULY 23

We are authorized to announce that the Baptist Workers Council will meet with the Weibert Baptist Church in that city Monday after the fourth Sunday in July, which is the 23rd day of the month. A good program will be given and all Baptist are urged to attend. The program will begin before noon and dinner will be served to all.

W. A. Short the land man of Rockester was in the city Wednesday on business.

ROSS MURDER CASE IN HANDS OF JURY

According to dispatches from Lubbock, the jury in the case of Tom Ross, charged with the murder of Dave Allison, cattle inspector, was still out on Wednesday afternoon, June 27, and court officials were unable to say when a verdict would be reached.

The case was given to the jury shortly after noon Tuesday when both the state and defense had completed arguments and two special charges had been made to the jury.

Four hours were consumed by both sides in the final arguments.

Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock opened for the defense with one of the most violent charges during the whole trial, all of which was directed at the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, and, as Bledsoe put it, "the association's paid prosecutors" and "pistol deputies."

Dayton Moses of Fort Worth closed the trial for the state.

Court was again opened in the afternoon and preliminaries were started for the trial of Mit Good, charged with the murder of Dave Allison. More than 200 witnesses were summoned and 100 special veniremen for the picking of the jury.

FARMER INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Tom Clark of the Post community was seriously injured in a runaway one day this week. He was driving four horses to a binder when the team became frightened and ran away, throwing him in front of the sickle. Fortunately, however, the guards caught him in such a way that the sickle passed over him or he might have been cut to pieces by the sickle. Two of the guards stuck deep into his hip and he was cut severely on the ankle. He was getting along nicely on last report.

FOOD AND DRUG INSPECTOR VISITS HOME HERE

Marshall Pierson, State Food and Drug Inspector, spent last week at home with his family in the city. In conversation with a Free Press reporter he gave out the statement that the inspectors had just completed the inspection of the city of Austin and had filed about 75 cases against the dealers of that city for violation of the sanitary laws. Fifty cases had been tried and the others will be tried at an early date. He left Sunday for Dallas where he will be engaged in the inspection of the city of Dallas for the next few weeks. His territory is from Ft. Worth to El Paso, but he is often called to other parts of the state.

Walter Nanny was in the city from Post Saturday, wearing cotton blooms in his hat as a decoration. He is a very progressive farmer and is a booster of good planting seed. This section of the country where the farmers did not have to plant over is as far advanced as East Texas this year. The cotton has just begun to make blooms in East Texas, according to press reports from our exchanges.

O'BRIEN STAGING 3-DAYS PICNIC

The city of O'Brien have out circulars advertising a three days picnic and educational meeting beginning Thursday June 28th and lasting until Saturday evening June 30th. A barbecue will be given Friday, June 29th, and the people from everywhere are invited to come. Speeches will be made by prominent educational speakers each afternoon and other entertainments will be furnished to make the picnic worth while.

A GENERAL REHEARSAL FOR PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

Monday evening at eight o'clock on the east side of the court house there will be a rehearsal for the patriotic program. The following and any other Civil War Veterans are asked to be present: Messrs. Wood, Short, Long, Lackey, Howard, Hunter, Stovall, Burk, Cass, Tennyson, Haley, Kinnison, Kuncie, Curd and Moore. You are asked to come so you will be assigned your honor seat for the next evening.

All of the American Legion boys who will be asked to take part in this historical pageant. All of the young men and young women are also invited to take part in the pageant. If you are interested in the good of your town and community, you can render a very patriotic duty by taking part in this program. There is not any one else who can do your duty nor take your place. "Every citizen should be ready to do his full part in the service of the community and state in which he lives."

PROF. HUMPHRIES WILL SPEND SUMMER IN DUBLIN

Prof. Lee Humphries, who has taught the Post school for the past two terms was in the office Monday and stated that he had signed up for the Midway school as principal for the fall and winter term. He will spend the vacation days at Dublin where he will direct the band of that city during the summer. Mr. Humphries says that he organized this band about seven years ago and it was the first band he directed since he has been in the work. He will be back in Haskell county for the opening of the school term.

380 MARKS POSTAGE ON LETTER FROM GERMANY

A Tonn of the Tonn Garage of this city, received a letter this week from Dresden, Germany, which was registered to his address here. The stamps on the letter represented the value of 380 marks, which is equal to 17 cents in American money, which was the cost of the postage and registering. Before the World War, 380 marks would have been worth in this country about $90.75. One mark was worth 23 7/8 cents before the war, but now it's a burden to have too many.

Rev. F. A. Thorp of Ponick, who is pastor of the Cottonwood Center View Baptist churches of this county, passed through the city Monday en route to his home.

NEW CITY WATER WELL COMPLETED

The new city well in the north part of town has been completed, as an addition to the present water system. The well is 34 feet deep, 24 feet in diameter and stands when not pumped out nine feet in water. It is equipped with an automatic union electrical pump with a capacity of 200 gallons a minute. A new pump of the same kind but a larger capacity has been ordered for the old well and when the two pumps are installed Haskell will have a capacity of 500 gallons a minutes from the two pumps. It is believed by the city officials that a bountiful supply of water can be furnished the city at all times with the addition of the new well and the modern equipment.

The new well has been connected with the water mains of the city and is now ready for service.

THREE CITIES IN TEXAS TO BUILD TEXTILE MILLS

Delegates from Mexia, Breckenridge and Dallas report funds have been raised for building textile mills, at a conference of the milling industry held at Dallas June 22nd, at which every phase of the textile situation was discussed. Of 80 delegates in attendance, 16 were from El Paso. They said money for a mill there would be raised soon. Representatives from nine other Texas cities reported committees at work with the aim of immediately organizing a mill. If practicable, while 30 other communities were said to be studying the textile industry as adapted to the various localities.

Haskell should fall in line with other cities. There is no reason why we should not have a textile mill in Haskell. Surely the citizens are not going to sit idly by and see other towns build mills while our hands are folded.

BALLEW COMMUNITY HAS BUSY AFTERNOON SERVICES

The Ballew community had a busy afternoon session of religious services last Sunday afternoon, three interesting services being held. The Sunday School began at 2:30 with a splendid session and large attendance, after which Rev. C. Jones of Haskell preached an interesting sermon on "Christian Warfare and the Duties of a Christian Life." After the preaching a "peppy" song service was held and the afternoon was one continuous round of enjoyment. Chas. Wilson, L. Z. Massie, W. F. Burt, R. E. Williams and others from Haskell were in attendance.

REVIVAL WILL BE HELD AT WEINERT

Revival services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Weibert beginning Sunday July 8th, at the 11 o'clock hour. Rev. John Newsom will do the preaching and the song services will be conducted by Blinney Foreman. Both are well known to Haskell county people and Rev. L. T. Jenkins, pastor of the church predicts a great meeting and especially invites all to come and worship with them.

PER CAPITA TAX FOR SCHOOLS WILL BE $13

The Department of Education at Austin estimates that the per capita tax for schools the coming school year will be $13. The total school census is 1,297,000.

In the event the state is held liable for the new text book contracts, it will be necessary to set aside for the purchase of free text books $2,000,000 instead of $500,000, which would reduce the per capital apportionment to $12.

MRS. JOHN LOE UNDERGOES OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Mrs. John Loe of Midway recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Stamford Sanitarium and is reported to be getting along nicely and will soon be able to return home. Mrs. Loe is a sister of Mrs. T. J. Baker of Midway.

Rebekah Lodge Instituted

Mrs. Kelly assisted by members of Rebekah Lodge of Rule instituted Rebekah Lodge in Haskell June 23rd. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Bell Whitman, N. G.; Mrs. Farnell, Vice N. G.; Mrs. M. Parsons, Sec.; and Mrs. Chastain, Treas. The regular meeting will be held each Friday evening at 8:30 in I. O. O. F. Hall.

TRAINLOAD OF STUDEBAKERS SOLD BY ONE DEALER

A solid trainload of Studebaker cars, consisting of 120 Light-Sixes, has just been shipped from the big Studebaker factories at South Bend, Indiana, to the Studebaker Sales Company of Newark, N. J.

This shipment is unusual in two respects. First—the entire 120 cars have been sold at retail and will be delivered to waiting buyers just as soon as unloaded. And second—it is believed it represents the largest shipment to one dealer of a single model of car in the $1,000 class ever made by a manufacturer.

This gives fresh evidence of the insistent demand for the Studebaker Light Six that exists in the metropolitan district of the east just as it does throughout the country.

It is not surprising that these experienced metropolitan motor car buyers should create a tremendous demand for the Studebaker Light-Six," according to Town-Oates Co., local Studebaker dealers.

"To the majority of these purchasers, price is a secondary consideration. They demand a quality motor car—rugged construction, dependability, reliable performance, thorough comfort and handsome appearance.

"Some idea of the high quality that is evident throughout the Studebaker Light-Six may be gained by an inspection of the crankshaft and connecting rods which are machined on all surfaces—an exclusive Studebaker feature on cars at this price and one that is found only in a few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as great as that of the Light Six. This is largely responsible for the practical elimination of vibration in the Light-Six.

"Coupled with its high quality, is the remarkable fact that the Studebaker Light-Six is the lowest-priced six-cylinder car on the market.

"This low price is made possible by Studebaker's unexcelled manufacturing facilities, the size of which is indicated by the $45,000,000 investment in plants and by the experience gained from 71 years' manufacture of high grade vehicles.

"Therefore, it is no wonder that the

The Difference

A teacher was conducting a lesson in history.

"Tommy Jones," she said, "what was there about George Washington which distinguished him from all other famous Americans?"

"He didn't lie," was the prompt reply.

Studebaker Light-Six appeals to experienced and discriminating motorists of the East just as it does right here at home.

MIDWAY (Special Correspondent)

It has been some time since Midway news has been reported but nothing of much interest has happened in the community and nothing has changed except crop condition. We have had both favorable and adverse crop weather, but at this writing crops generally are very good and farmers well along with their work.

A few people from this section attended the annual singing and West Side Convention at Jud last Sunday. All report an enjoyable time, good singing and an abundance of good dinner which was served to a large crowd under the tabernacle.

Mrs. J. R. Newsom returned last week from Launspass County where she had been to attend her father, Mr. Charles Taylor, during his illness and death. The entire community extends their sympathies to Mrs. Newsom in her bereavement.

Rev. Hill of Haskell, preached here last Sunday afternoon.

The regular Sunday evening singing at the school house was not as well attended last meeting as it should have been but those who came enjoyed singing together for a while. A good singing class is something everyone in the community should be interested in and Midway has material for a splendid class with a little practice and perseverance.

Mrs. Tobe Griffin has been real sick for the past two weeks but is greatly improved at present.

Mrs. H. S. Gibson visited Mrs. Geo. Taylor of the Cottonwood neighborhood last Sunday.

The party given last Saturday night at the home of Roy Black was enjoyed by a large crowd of young people.

Announcement was made at Sunday School last Sunday that W. M. Free and singing class from Haskell would sing with the Midway singers Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to come.

ROBERTS By Lillian Lewellen

We are very sorry to report the death of Mr. W. F. Weaver, which occurred June 13th at his home at Ventress. The funeral was held at Roberts the following day by Rev. C. Jones at which his remains were laid to rest in the Roberts cemetery.

The grasshoppers, which were very destructive for a while, have about played out, and they are not doing any damage to crops at this time.

Ms. Lulu Massie and daughter Chandle May are staying with J. P. Wheatley's children while Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley are away at Temple where they were called to the bedside of Mrs. Wheatley's father, who is reported ill.

There will be church services at this place Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night, and also baptizing in the afternoon Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Lewellen and children, Mrs. C. L. Tolliver and children and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Calaway spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewellen east of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wheatley of Haskell spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Cobb of this community. Mrs. Cobb is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley.

The party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lewellen Saturday night June 16th, was enjoyed by a large crowd of young people.

The singing given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hallmark Sunday night was well attended and all enjoyed the occasion.

State Bankers After Bank Crooks

The Texas State Bankers have formed an organization for self-protection. So heavy and so frequent have been the state assessments to make good deposits of defaulting banks for several years that a decision has been reached to make the business safer. The purpose of the organization is to keep a better watch on crooks who get into the state banks and steal the funds, leaving the honest banks to hold the bag. It is believed that by a careful, systematic co-operation bankers will be able to prevent many of the failures that have grown so numerous of late years. To be successful the conduct of a state bank must yield a profit to its stockholders but they cannot show an attractive profit with so many assessments coming upon them to make good the theft of dishonest bank looters.

POST By Miss Thelma Livingston

We failed to write last week and will try to write the news for weeks.

Most everyone is finishing plow and some are almost through cotton. The crops are looking pretty around here since the rain.

The health of the community is to be improving.

Miss Selma West, who has been operated on for appendicitis, home again and improving rapidly are glad to say.

Rev. W. H. Hughes filled his regular appointment Saturday, and Mrs. W. H. Hughes and children with him. There were large crowds all the services and some very sermons were preached.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashel Arnold to their daughter and husband Mr. Mrs. Paul Kautzler of Haskell, day.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Young and family of south of Stamford called on brother, Will West and family Sunday. Other callers in this home were daughter, Mrs. Jim Caffey and band, Noah Courtney and Mrs. land Swinty of Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kuester and their mother Mrs. Darnell, attended church at Post day and took dinner with M. I. Brook.

Lee Humphreys and family have returned from a visit to relatives Comanche county.

Clyde Gibson of McConnell attended church at Post Sunday evening.

The ice cream supper given at home of Joe Lee was well attended and enjoyed by all.

Miss Dorothy Guillet of this community and Dale Middleton of Ford were happily married Thursday evening. We wish for them happiness and prosperity.

Roads to Last

Hordes of autos now remind us. We should build our roads to stay. And departing leave behind us. Roads that rain wash away. When our children pay the matter. Father made to haul their loads. They'll not have to ask the question. "Here's the bonds, but where's roads?"

Why He Did It

"I was not born amid vice and or," said the convict. "Indeed I a minister's son, and an honorable useful career was predicted for me. But after I had grown up and in a moment of weakness, I parted a motor car. Then, naturally, I robbed a bank to keep it in repair and running."

DODGE BROTHERS TOURING CAR

If there is one word which will sum up the average owner's impression of Dodge Brothers Touring Car, that word is dependable.

If there is a word to express the quality which Dodge Brothers have striven, above all else, to build into the Touring Car, it is—again—dependable.

Indeed, it is not too much to say that the word dependable has come to be definitely associated, the nation over, with Dodge Brothers Touring Car—and the other vehicles bearing their name.

Nor have Dodge Brothers built this enviable reputation through advertising. They have built motor cars, so dependable in fact that the word has presented itself automatically to the public mind.

The price of the Touring Car is $880

SOCIETY and Club

University Club Picnic

Last Friday night the "Scott Crossing" picnic ground on the Scott ranch resembled a University Campus more than anything else. The students and ex-students of the University of Texas controlled that neck of the woods for about four hours—celebrating and enjoying their annual Club picnic.

The aquatic department frolicked around in the "briny deep" until time for the "big feed." All departments more than frolicked around the banquet board—a feed consisting of fried chicken and all that goes with it was enjoyed by all.

Just before leaving the scene of enjoyment, the coyotes were routed by some snappy 'Varsity songs and yells.

Luncheon Club Entertained

Mrs. Hardy Grissom entertained with a "42" party at her home Tuesday evening honoring the members of the luncheon club, their husbands and a few friends.

The home was bright with flowers, and nine tables were arranged for 42. After several games had been enjoyed, the hostess called on Mayor R. C. Couch for a talk and he spoke on the organization of a society to put "Haskell First." She then asked Mr. B. M. Whitaker, exhibit manager for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and he made a splendid talk on "Haskell's Possibilities." Although Mr. Whitaker travels most of the time and is claimed by the whole of West Texas, he is still an enterprising citizen of Haskell, and she always comes first. Mr. Whitaker won $2,500.00 in prizes for West Texas last year.

A delicious ice course was served and the guests lingered in this congenial atmosphere until a late hour.

Thursday Bridge Club

Mrs. W. H. Murchison entertained the members of the club at her attractive home Thursday afternoon.

A very delightful afternoon was spent at bridge and Mrs. Claiborne Payne won high score and was presented with a hand-painted basket. Miss Verna Oates played low score and received a bridge set. Mesdames Hill Oates, Fred Alexander and Miss Verna Oates drew the table prizes, which were vanities.

The hostess served a salad course and an ice course to Mesdames John and Hill Oates, Claiborne and J. P. Payne, R. R. English, J. E. Bernard, W. M. Reid, Fred Alexander, Misses: Verna Oates, Alberta Smith and Exa Cahill.

Maids and Matrons Club

Miss Alberta Smith entertained the members of the Maids and Matrons Club at her home Saturday afternoon. A most delightful afternoon was spent at bridge and Miss Mary Lee Pinkerton won high score and received a framed copy of Kipling's "If." Miss Ermine Daugherty received the consolation, a Marlinello nail set.

The hostess served an ice course to the following: Misses Lois Killingsworth, Lois Earnest, Sula Mae Ratliff, Eunice Huckabee, Mary Clifton, Verna Oates, Frances Post, Helen and Florence Shook, Nettie McCollum, Ermine Daugherty and Mary Lee Pinkerton, Mesdames Hill Oates and J. P. Payne and Miss Lola Chambliss of Bomarton.

Rochester Lady Entertains

(By Special Correspondent)
Mrs. J. C. Watson entertained last Friday evening with a Progressive 42 Party in honor of her sister, Miss Dart-bulia Green of Rotan.

The high score prize was won by Miss Lois Mansell and John Bagwell. Watkins Webb and Miss Mansell gave several piano selections. Punch was served to the following: Misses Lois Mansell, Mildred Bragg, Edna Bowman, Idoma Stoker, Mary Reising, Lucille Lewis, Allie Bell Chapman, Johnnie Cowan, Alice Carothers and the honor guest; Messrs. Merrel Mancil, Watkins Webb, C. C. Clements, Charlie Dunn, Ben Charlie Chapman, Leslie Carothers, Loyd Freyatt, J. G. Echols, John Bagwell.

Outing

The following left Tuesday for the river where they will spend a week: Misses Verna Oates, Frances Post, Helen Shook, Nettie McCollum, Mary Lee Pinkerton, Exa Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Hill Oates and Bert Welsh.

Picnic

A number of the young people enjoyed a picnic at the Scott Ranch last Saturday evening. The following enjoyed the delightful outing: Misses Alberta Smith, Verna Oates, Lois Earnest, Helen Shook, Exa Cahill, Lola Chambliss of Bomarton, Mesdames Hill and John Oates, W. M. Reid, Messrs. John and Hill Oates, Curran Hunt of Dallas, Clyde Grissom, Bert Welsh and Bob McFarland of Houston.

Rochester W. M. S. Entertained

(By Special Correspondent)
The O'Brien W. M. S. entertained the Rochester W. M. S. Monday afternoon of last week, in the home of Mrs. West. An ice course was served to about 30 guests. Those enjoying the occasion from Rochester were: Mesdames Alvis Hicks, Speck, C. H., P. A. and J. E. Mansell, Bragg and Paul.

Elks Dance

A large crowd enjoyed the dance at the Elks Hall Friday evening. The Munday orchestra furnished splendid music. The following towns besides Haskell were represented: Abilene, Hamlin, Throckmorton, Munday, Truscott, Old Glory, Rule and Stamford.

Ice Cream Supper and Program

An ice cream supper and program will be given by Dennis Chapel Sunday School on Saturday night July 6, at Dennis Chapel school house. Everybody invited. Admission free.

Miss Eugenia Graham of Abilene visited Miss Exa Cahill last week. Mr. Bob McFarland of Houston was also a guest in the Cahill home.

Miss Lola Chambliss of Bomarton spent last week end with Miss Lois Earnest.

Mrs. Hall Morrison and children of Graham spent last week end in Haskell visiting relatives. The son, Dr. John Morrison, finished at the Gaiveston Medical College and will spend a year studying in New York, and came to bid his grand-mother, Mrs. J. S. Rike and other relatives good-bye.

Rev. S. L. Culwell is attending Theological summer school at S. M. U. Dallas.

Rev. Mr. Clark, son of the pastor at Throckmorton, and a student at Clarendon College, preached at the Methodist Church Sunday.

HUMAN INTEREST STORIES—STRETCHING THE IMAGINATION

Arthur Brisbane, who is without question one of the great original thinkers of this generation, holds that whatever man can imagine can be accomplished. Mr. Brisbane's editorials are read by millions every week. To call him the Advance Agent of Scientific Research would not be inappropriate.

What do you think of his proposition? Man is earthbound, short-lived, small, but his imagination is world-wide. It can soar with instantaneous speed to the faraway rim of the universe and beyond. It is impossible to imagine anything that the imagination cannot imagine. Imaginationers are born just as architects are born and they have ever been the torch-bearers of progress. Since the invention of wireless, photography, and the X-ray machine, this writer has almost concluded that nothing is impossible. But Mr. Brisbane has given us an exceedingly large order!

Imagination is many miles, or years, ahead of accomplishment. Somewhere in literature there is a story of a man who discovered a method of cutting his enemies away from gravitation. If anybody mistreated this man he would make a few passes with his hands, and say "Hocus-Pocus" or something like that and his enemy would begin to leave this earth kicking and pawing the air as he went. The man who was seeking to wreak vengeance on his enemy did not know that there is an atmospheric pressure of 16 pounds to the square inch on us, and that his enemy would explode exactly as the deep-sea fish when removed from its native element.

The incentive behind many great inventions was hate. The airplane reached its highest development during the World War. A method of preserving foodstuffs was developed during the Napoleonic wars. Will man ever learn to cut loose from the law of gravitation? Will he learn to overcome the lack of atmospheric pressure in the vast sea of space? Will man ever visit our neighboring planets.

You remember the story of Gulliver's travels—how Gulliver was awakened in the Kingdom of Lilliput—how the Lilliputians, no larger than his finger had climbed all over him and bound them as best they could with rope the size of fine thread—how Gulliver made peace with him and would eat several of their little cows at a meal. When you read that story you said "That is impossible; there are no little cows; no Lilliputians; no such country as that." Since that story was written, since the invention of photography—comparatively speaking, only yesterday —astronomers have discovered about one thousand little plants which revolve around our sun on regular schedules. Some of these little worlds—Asteroids they are called—are about the size of England, Scotland and Wales, some no larger than the county in which you live. When photography and astronomy was coupled together and long-time exposures made of the heavens, these dim specks made little marks on the plates which proved that they move. Upon further examination they have been weighed and measured. If the inhabitants of these little worlds are in proportion then Swift imagined the truth. His sea was the vast sea of space rather than an ocean on this earth.

After leaving the Kingdom of Lilliput, you remember that Gulliver next visited a country where the wheat-stalks were as large as trees in this world, and where he to the inhabitants was himself a Lilliputian. One of the inhabitants caught little Gulliver and took him to his home. A girl sat him astraddle of her little finger and tickled him under the chin. You remember the baby crawled under the table and caught Gulliver and stuck his head in its mouth. When you read that story you said "There are no giants in the world." But how about the universe. Jupiter is 1200 times larger than this earth. If Jupiter is populated with people in proportion to its size then the average man on that planet is between six and seven thousand feet high. He could pick up the Washington monument and use it for a toothpick, could throw the Woolworth building across the state of New Jersey, could eat 55 cows, three buffaloes, and a side order of gravy and other things for breakfast. A loaf of bread would get lost between his teeth. Scientists do not believe that Jupiter is inhabited, because it is so light; they think it is too hot for life, but Jupiter has four moons which keep it very light.

We sing of "a land that is fairer than day." We sing of a city whose "gates are of jasper and whose streets are of gold." Heaven to many of us is very real, yet we do not know where Heaven is. We do not KNOW whether there is a Heaven or not, but we have an inherent unquenchable belief that there is. Is Heaven on this earth? Does only a narrow veil separate us from our departed friends and loved ones, or are they in another world where there is no sin, no sickness, no sorrow?

There is something in the heart of man that leaps with joy at the thought of a rainbow. Whether this is on account of its transcendent beauty or whether there is a deeper hidden cause, we know not. But a rainbow for many centuries has been considered a sign of promise.

magnificent object in the universe. The planet Saturn with its glorious rainbow entirely surrounding it, is all and more to the human eye when viewed through a telescope than Heaven to the imagination. The great colored rings glisten in the sunlight like precious stones. The inner ring is ten thousand miles above the planet and the outer ring is 270 thousand miles high, and the planet itself 600 times larger than the earth. In addition to the marvelous rainbow the planet has ten moons, one recently discovered. There is no darkness there, no night. The rainbow and the moons, reflecting the sunlight, keep it at all times as bright as day.

If you will read St. John's description of Heaven in the Book of Revelations and study the planet Saturn, you are apt to conclude that what he saw in his imagination actually exists in all of its splendor up there.

$500.00 REWARD

On June 18, a fatal accident occurred near Abilene, Texas, when a piece of copper wire was thrown across the Abilene-Tuscola high voltage line of the West Texas Utilities Company. The line burned down, and in consequence one man was killed and two men suffered burns.

Vandalism of such a dangerous nature must be immediately stopped. The destruction of expensive property is secondary to the public risk incurred.

The high voltage lines of this Company are of powerful construction, and will not break from ordinary causes. But extraordinary causes of too frequent occurrence, such as wires thrown across lines or the shooting of insulators from cross-arms, burn down lines, destroy service and greatly endanger human lives.

Every safety device known for the protection of life in such emergencies is employed by this Company, but the complete elimination of death-hazards is paramouly dependent on the public's co-operation. We earnestly appeal to the public's sense of fair play in helping us prevent other fatal accidents.

A reward of $500.00 will be paid to any one furnishing conclusive evidence convicting individuals of throwing wires across high voltage lines of this Company, or of shooting insulators from the cross-arms on the Company's poles.

Building the Great Life

The principle in building the great life is to learn to use all the talents powers we possess, be those talents conscious, sub-conscious, or super-conscious, physical, mental, or spiritual should learn to use them to the best degree possible—and use them in harmony with the infinite—in attitude of prayer without ceasing, the spirit of faith that is always in light. Use all your powers, and with God. This is the perfect way to the great life.—Selected.

Haskell, Texas, Friday June 29, 1923

The West Texas Utilities Company is now offering a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of persons who wilfully throw any kind of metal obstructions across their high tension wires. It is criminal to destroy property of any kind. It is just as much a crime to throw obstructions across the 33,000 voltage lines and break insulators as it is to imperil a train on a railroad. The big wires are dangerous when broken, and besides, the public is dependent upon the high power transmission lines for many necessary things of usage. The worst feature of tampering with the lines is that human life may pay the price of your act. It makes no difference who throws the obstruction, whether for fun or malice, the results are the same. Little boys oftentimes throw missiles at the insulators in an effort to see how accurate they can throw, just for fun, but which might result in the line being burned out with other fatalities like the one which occurred on the Abilene and Tuscola line when someone threw a copper wire across the line, which caused it to burn out, dropping on a wire fence which was charged with voltage of the high power line, and one man was killed and two others seriously burned by coming in contact with the fence on which the line had fallen. The innocent boys need instructions from their parents or guardian that they might be protected from harm to themselves and others. The criminal needs to be arrested and convicted when he destroys property and endangers the life of his fellow man. The high power lines are a great convenience and should be protected.

Many a man can remember the days when instead of saying it with flowers he tied the reins around the buggy whip and didn't even have the expense of gasoline to annoy him.

Many people go to far in trying to find the cause of their troubles. They blame the Government or the conditions when the fault really rests with themselves. Lame judgment, unwise investment, luxurious habits of spending cannot be justly charged to one's town, neighborhood or society in general. The Government cannot order people's brains recharged and re-distributed. When we do foolish things for which we have to suffer, we should not employ a spyglass to locate the cause, but take ourselves out into the backyard and talk over shortcomings privately and fix the responsibility where it belongs. At the same time we ought to resolve to try and remember that when affairs don't go to suit us the chances are that we can better them a lot quicker by working to change them than getting down and moping about them.

TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Next Wednesday being the Fourth of July, the Free Press office will be closed on that day, with the other business houses of the city. We ask that our correspondents from the rural districts send in their letters Monday and we will get them in type Tuesday. This will greatly help us if you can grant us this favor. We appreciate the good service given us in the past by our correspondents, and trust that every community will be represented next week.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DEPENDS UPON ALL OF US

The wonderful influence of buying at home is first visible in a community appearance. Well kept streets, good walks, lined with tall, stately shade trees; velvety green lawns; clean, well painted buildings and homes, broad, grassy parks and play grounds; large modern school buildings. These are the unmistakable signs of trading at home.

All these modern features of community environment find their birth in the revenue derived by buying at home. Money circulated at home sent out each day to the home merchants for the necessities and luxuries daily consumed in each community home, brings forth a fund of taxes and donations from the merchants, which in a greater part is a financial stimulus to civic improvement. The home merchant is a dyed-in-the-wool home booster. He wants to see his community grow. He wants it to flourish and prosper and keep pace with the civic progress of the most advanced character.

Walk into a community grocery pharmacy, jewelry shop, dry goods store, or any of our community stores and look around. You will find stock here and there tickets for school entertainments, women's clubs, programs and church socials; membership cards for good roads, Chamber of Commerce, and every conceivable kind or character of home activity. These tickets and cards represent hundreds of dollars yearly that the home merchant donates to home advancement and community progress.

Now, are the home merchants the sole beneficiaries of the many splendid things making up community progress? Not at all. In fact, it is all the citizens, men, women and children who derive the pleasures.

Are you supporting the home merchant in his loyal efforts to bring the best things of clean civic life to your community? Are you figuring that the goods bought at home are the cheapest in the long run, than those brought out of town, even though the price in money may be slightly greater. Are you counting the good things of life brought about by buying at home as worth a few cents to your children? Or, do you never lose the sight of the penny itself and think not at all of the mutual welfare of your community?

Find Old Newspaper

Arthur Edwards, local jeweler, found an old newspaper in the tower of the courthouse, while he was regulating the clock recently. The newspaper was published in New York August 2, 1888. It is a copy of the Wool Growers Record, which was published at that time in the interest of the sheep-raisers and textile mills. The address of the party to whom the paper was sent was destroyed, but some of our ranchmen of this section were subscribers to the paper at that time. Old timers report considerable sheep industry in this section at that time.

Beauty Sleep

The first dim light filtered in thru the filmy curtains and struck her upon her chin strap. It crept upward until it covered the cleansing cream generously smoothed upon her face. Still farther stole this first revealing beam; it touched the skin tonic, the special astringent, the muscle oil, the circulation ointment, and finally reached the eyelash darkener. At this point she stirred and thrust out a bare arm pluck to the elbow with liquidine bleaching lotion. She turned uneasily and with a drowsy motion adjusted her wrinkle radiator, and fell into another doze. —Life.

A Lesson to the Bootlegger

A bootlegger in a neighboring state who had been in the habit of going to a little town every Saturday where he dispensed with his essence of corn juice to a few of the initiated in spite of the eagle eye of the sleuths of the town and county.

On one occasion the weekly trip was made and shortly after dusk the car pulled up in front of the little post-office. As the bootlegger got out of the car he was met by a man of the town displaying the biggest star in existence. The bootlegger was informed that the car would have to be searched. A word of warning was all that was needed—the bootlegger took to his heels and made his get-away through an alley, while the man with the big star, and several of his friends, took eleven pints of corn liquor and alcohol.

Later the bootlegger found out that he had been "hornswoggled" out of his stock in trade. He sent a friend down to drive the car outside the city limits, where he took "lizzie" and wended his way homeward a sadder and wiser bootlegger.

U. S. CONTINUES TESTS OF PLANES FOR DUSTING COTTON

The work of the Department of Agriculture at Tallulah, Louisiana, in developing methods and apparatus for dusting cotton to kill the boll weevil, is being continued this summer and heavier planes are being used. In the spring three De Havilland 4B planes were detailed by the War Department for use in these tests, and competent engineers and pilots were also provided.

Previously considerable work on this problem had been done with light machines, and the use of the larger ones has made it necessary to modify the distributing mechanism. Several types of dust hoppers have been made for meeting the new conditions, but it will probably require some time to develop a design which will be satisfactory. Mr. Coffey, who has charge of the boll weevil laboratory for the Department of Agriculture, expects to have a fairly satisfactory permanent hopper installed in one of the planes for use in actual control work during the summer.

Several plantations near the landing field have been mapped and all arrangements have been made for dusting the cotton with the planes. The results of the new tests will be awaited with interest by all those connected with the cotton industry.

Robinson Crusoe, Advertiser

Marooned on a desolate island, Robinson Crusoe flew his shirt from a pole atop the highest hill to advertise his plight.

He didn't know whether his ad would ever be seen—but he kept at it, and changed his copy—as one garment after another was worn out. And in the end his ad brought him the ship that he wanted.

If Crusoe had not persistently kept his shirt flying, how would his story have ended?

Are you keeping your sign up before your customers and prospectives?

CAUSE OF TURKEY FAILURES

When on Free Range There is No Overfeeding and Necessary Exercise is Obtained.

Improper feeding combined with close confinement, has been the cause of many failures in turkey raising. When on free range the turkeys are busy most of the day searching for feed. Here there is no overfeeding and lack of exercise, such as turkeys are often subjected to by those ignorant of their wants. If the range is plentifully supplied with green feed, grasshoppers, and other insects, and if the weather is favorable, the best plan is to allow the turkeys to feed themselves. It is usually advisable, however, to have them come home at night, and if driven up and fed at a certain place every night they will soon learn to come up themselves.

When, on account of rainy weather or unfavorable range conditions, it is desirable to raise the turkeys by the coop method, more care must be given to their feeding.

Successful turkey raisers use many different kinds of feed. Some suggested by the United States department of agriculture poultry specialists follow:

Hard-boiled egg chopped fine and corn-bread crumbs for the first week, and then whole wheat and hulled oats; stale bread, soaked in milk and squeezed dry, for the first few days, and then common chick feed; clubbed milk seasoned with a little salt and pepper, corn-bread crumbs; equal parts "pinhead" oats, whole wheat and cracked corn; cracked wheat; corn meal and wheat bran mixed in the proportion of three to one and baked into bread; and bran or middlings one-half, cracked Egyptian corn one-quarter, wheat and hulled oats one-quarter.

In addition to the above, skim milk and buttermilk are quite often fed, with excellent results. A good plan is to keep the milk in front of the turkeys during the morning and water

CAVE USED AS SANITARIUM

Physician at One Time Placed Sufferers From Tuberculosis in Famous Underground Cavern.

The Mammoth cave of Kentucky is no doubt one of the most wonderful places in the United States. It has been known and visited for years in a superficial manner, but, strange to say, the cave has never yet been fully explored. This fact may give a little idea of the vast proportions.

When Daniel Webster visited it he was inspired to oratory; when Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, visited there, she climbed up into a natural rostrum in a rock-walled auditorium and instinctively burst into song.

Relics of the aboriginal inhabitants are still to be seen in the caves, and there are crudely hollowed logs still lying around from the settler's springs to vats, where the mineral deposit was collected and used in the manufacture of gunpowder required in the war of that year.

Further back in the depths of the cave are stone huts which were inhabited for a considerable time by tubercular patients. These sufferers were placed there by eminent physicians who were desirous of testing the value of the uniform temperature of the cave upon the dread white plague. Some of these patients lived six months without seeing the light of day.

These caves are a little off the beaten track of tourist travel and, while exceedingly interesting, are not so well known as many inferior examples of the stupendous handiwork of the Creator.

YOUR HAND

How to Read Your Characteristics and Tendencies—the Capitalities or Weaknesses That Make for Success or Failure as Shown in Your Palm

THE FINGER NAILS

OCCASIONALLY we find finger nails that are long, thin and curved or ribbon. This is something of the physical constitution of the owner. He or she is likely to have tendencies toward diseases of the head, throat or bronchial tubes. Nails that are seen upon observation to be unusually thick, bent and long are held to indicate a nature inclined to cruelty and unkindness in love.

If the nails are square and very short, we may read therein a tendency toward disease of the heart. This must be confirmed, naturally, by close inspection of the line of the heart.

Nails that are brittle and inclined to break easily are a sign of ill health and nervous weakness.

There are some nails which narrow very much at the base, coming sometimes to a point, or nearly to one. If they also bend over the ends of the fingers, we may read in them a sign of spinal trouble, past, present or future.

Hold On To Life
Safety First is never a cripple. Safety First never goes to the hospital. Safety First never lies and dump in an undertaker's establishment awaiting identification. Safety First is given only one life on earth, and that is snuffed out before he gets one body, and when he loses part of it that part is gone for good. Safety First, and the loss of life and limb is evidence in favor of it then Safety First has won its case completely and court is adjourned. If on the site of every tragedy due to carelessness a monument was erected this monument would look like a grave-yard. Safety First is something more than a prayer—it is a prayer for protection, a fully and carelessness. It is an insurance for men, women and children to preserve what they possess which can never be regained if lost. It is a petition to the heedless to see that carelessness destroys no one's life, no one's limb, no one's happiness. Man should build a new machine when one is stopped. But man can't replace a man's body, and can't replace a man's life. Why not hold on to it?

BAPTIST S. S. JUNIORS CELEBRATE WITH PICNIC
The Junior Department of the Baptist Sunday School spent the day Wednesday at Scott's Crossing on Paint Rock. While they enjoyed a picnic dinner and spent more than three hours of the afternoon swimming and wading. They were accompanied by the Junior members and some of the parents of the children, and Prof. R. M. Chambers, who took an active part in teaching the little folks how to swim. A full account of the picnic party will be given next week.

Just for Tomorrow
'Twas the night before payday, and all the men were hunting in vain for the ways and means; Not a quarter was stirring, not even a bit; The kale was off duty, the greenbacks had quit; Forward, turn forward, O, Time in thy flight; And make it tomorrow just for tonight.

A Dallas paper tells us that a new "infant" industry has sprung up in Dallas—a real "infant" industry. The Dallas publication says people are actually peddling babies in Dallas. The "charge" of peddling future women and men is held at the door of some of the maternity homes of Dallas. We don't know what the price is, but if it is exorbitant, we shall soon hear, no doubt, a new song, the Dallasites over the high price of babies. In the good old days of yore people used to raise nearly everything at home, but now many of them don't even raise their babies, but go out into the markets and buy them from Grove Signal.

Not Altogether

Pat Hagerly had just purchased a mule, but he did not obtain from the animal all that he required of it. So he wended his way back to the horse dealer.

"You said this mule was quite tame," he said to the dealer.

"He is tame, isn't he?" replied the dealer, in an aggrieved tone.

"Not altogether—only partly so," the disconsolate Hagerly replied. "He seems to be tame in front, but he is desperately wild behind."

Going to the Bow-Wows

A lecturer gave a learned and interesting address before a woman's club on "The Decadence of Pure English."

At the close of the talk an over-greased woman approached him and said: "I did enjoy your talk ever and ever so much, and I agree with you that the English language is decaying something awful. Hardly no one talks proper nowadays, and goodness only knows what the next generation will talk like if nothing ain't done about it."

What He Thought

A man walking along the street of a village stepped into a hole in the sidewalk and broke his leg. He engaged a famous lawyer, brought suit against the village for one thousand dollars and won the case. The city appealed to the Supreme Court but again the great lawyer won.

After the claim was settled, the lawyer sent for his client and handed him one dollar.

"What's this for?" asked the man.

"That's your damages after taking out my fee, cost of appeal and other expenses," replied the counsel.

The man looked at the dollar, turned it over carefully and scanned the other side. Then he looked up at the lawyer and said:

"What's the matter with this dollar? Is it counterfeit?"

Surely This Must Be Mr. Pip!

"I'm selling adding machines," announced the traveling salesman to the country store keeper. "I have the best adding machine on earth. It will add any number of figures accurately."

"Reckon I don't need one," replied the store keeper, shifting his seat on the cracker barrel.

"But man, how else can you keep up with things?"

"Wal, I got plenty good enough system. I cut a notch on the counter every time I make a sale."

A Grave Mistake

She was a telephone operator, and ought to have known better than put the subscriber on the wrong number, says an exchange. He thought he was connected with the local theater, and, being in a hurry, promptly asked for a box for two that night.

"But we don't have boxes for two," said a voice at the other end of the line.

"Isn't this the Lasca Theater?" he asked.

"Why, no," was the answer, "This is Graves, the undertaker."

George Washington a Hasty Wooer

"Love at first sight" is by no means a distinctively modern pastime—when it comes to wooing in haste, George Washington was no sluggard. Indeed, he was as much a hustler as any twentieth century son of a millionaire bewitched by a front row Follies charmer.

Washington was in his twenty-sixth year when, taking dinner at a friend's home, he met young, pretty and widowed Martha Curtis. Washington skipped half his meal and gulped the other half. He could fix none of his attention on eating because he had concentrated it all on the alluring widow, whose invitation to tea for that evening he fervently accepted.

He left her home late that night only to reappear early the next morning. Before noon they were engaged, and in a few days the "knot was tied."

George had met a widow, and "she was her'n."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 16

Proposing an amendment to Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which relates to taxation and revenues, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, directing the Legislature to provide for the construction, operation and maintenance, under State control, of a State system of public highways; providing for an election for the ratification or rejection of amendment herein proposed, and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

As Resolved By the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That there be submitted to the people of Texas, for ratification or rejection at a special election provided for herein an amendment to Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending said Article 8, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

SECTION 9a. The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State to be under the control of the State; and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition to those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such an ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this Section.

When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section A hereof, the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the Counties in the State.

Provided, also that save for the State Highway system, in all other respects, counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes, and bridges within their respective boundaries and the Constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

The Legislature, at any Regular or Special Session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these Articles.

SEC. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1923, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for ratification or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and Laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for such election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"OFFICIAL BALLOT": "For the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

"Against the amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the Amendment to Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words, "For the amendment to Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for a State system of highways." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

SEC. 3. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

HELPFUL HINTS

No outsider can tell another how to manage her home, for each is its own problem and if each housekeeper puts thought into the managing she will find new ways daily of lessening work and giving her more time for reading, recreation and rest.

There are today so many good tools with which to work, saving time and strength that may be within reach of many families who do not afford them but who worry along with poor ones until the mother is broken down. The power washing machine, the mangle, vacuum cleaner, light cooking utensils, dust mops and dishwashers that really work, are some of the needed things in the home where there are children and several grown-ups for which to provide.

Thin cream, when needed for whipping, may be thickened by using one-third of a teaspoonful of viscogen to each cupful of cream. Viscogen is a mixture of lime, sugar and water. To prepare it, dissolve five ounces of sugar in ten ounces of water. Pour six ounces of cold water over two ounces of quicklime, stir and strain. Combine the two liquids and shake occasionally during the next two hours. Allow the liquid to settle, then pour off the clear liquid and store in dark bottles, using glass stoppers. If exposed to the light and air it darkens and loses its strength.

To prevent the graining of chocolate in sauces, add the chocolate to a little hot water and then add, gradually, the sugar and the remainder of the liquid. Keep a piece of fine sandpaper in the kitchen; it is useful to secure the meat grinder from slipping, if fastened to a zinc or aluminum covered table. It removes the scorched food from utensils and will be found generally useful.

If soot is spilled on the rug or carpet, cover with coarse salt and it may be removed without leaving a trace.

The "Movies"

The people who can easily recall when moving pictures first appeared, and who remember saying that they were "only a passing fad," will be interested to learn that Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor, says they are just in their infancy, and that in 20 years children will be taught by moving pictures instead of out of books. He says there is nothing so powerful as moving pictures to influence people. "They are the most powerful means of influencing people at the present time," he asserts, "and will increase in power from year to year. Whoever controls the motion picture industry controls the most powerful medium of influence over the people." We believe what Mr. Edison says is largely true. And for that same reason we believe that no community is making a mistake when it insists that the pictures shown to its young people are as clean in their moral teaching as are the books they study in school.

Who Pays the Bill?
The fellow who pays the advertising bill is the fellow who doesn't advertise. He pays just as surely and certainly as if he went to the cash drawer and took the money out. The only difference is that his customers' dollars, instead of getting into his cash drawer, pass right by him and enter the cash drawer of the advertiser. He is paying for the other fellows advertising but is not being benefitted by it. Many non-advertisers have often wondered who pays the large advertising bills of their competitors, not realizing that they themselves are paying most dearly for it.

Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., writes: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago... I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic
I sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me seem to strengthen and did me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, ... when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."
If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui is just what you need. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

Loss By Insect Pests
The annual loss to agriculture in the United States caused by insect pests amounts to at least $1,000,000,000. In fact, the Department of Agriculture at Washington estimates that the loss equals, if it does not exceed, 10 per cent of the entire production. Every farmer feels it, from the small truck gardener to the owner of the big wheat fields of the West. The damage done by the Colorado potato beetle, the chinch bug, the Hessian fly, the boll-weevil, and the hundreds of minor pests can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents. Mr. Davey, the celebrated tree surgeon, says: "A $100,000,000 loss to trees is caused in the United States yearly by reason of the decrease in the number of native song birds. If we could get plenty of native song birds, no tree would be troubled by insects."
Two of a Kind
The counsel of a woman plaintiff in a divorce case pleaded incompatibility of temper and represented the husband's character as "brutal, violent and passionate." The husband's counsel described the lady as "spiteful, angry, waspish." At this point the judge interrupted. "I beg your pardon, gentlemen, but really I do not quite see where the incompatibility of temper comes in."

About "Grass Widows"
In the eleventh century in England it was a law of the church that a widow must "remain under God's protection and grace"—not marry—for a year after the death of her husband. Such women were called "Grass widows," which often went into the parish register as "grass widows." This was the first use of the term.
Of more recent origin, however, is its rather inelegant adaptation to indicate a divorce.
In the days of the Forty-Niners in California it was not uncommon for men to "board out" their wives while they went off to dig for gold. Seeing humor in the situation, one of them unhelpfully referred to the separation as "putting his widow out to grass"—with reference, of course, to the pasturing of cattle.
The term evidently struck what has been called "the American affliction of the funny bone." For applied to the rapidly increasing number of divorces, "grass widow" soon entrenched itself in our slang lexicon.

HIGH CLASS MEMORIALS IN MARBLE AND GRANITE
Do not be misled. I am not with the Elsholtz Marble Works, but with the largest monument concern in Texas. They own their own quarries, do their own finishing, operating on a large scale, selling at a price unequalled by any one. See me, or write for prices before you buy and you will never regret it.

Rev. Swindle Visits in Seymour

The following appeared in the Wichita Daily Times of June 27, from Seymour, which is self-explanatory and pays a nice tribute to Rev. Swindle, who is pastor of the First Christian Church of this city:
 "Rev. L. Swindle, pastor of the First Christian Church in Haskell, was with his old church friends here Saturday and attended the revival services at the Christian church. Rev. Swindle was pastor of the church for several years and holds a warm place in the heart of this church."

Mrs. P. J. Josselet and Mrs. Luther Tolliver of northeast of town were in the city Wednesday shopping.

R. L. Medford and little daughter of Howard were in the city Wednesday. How says he is still poisoning grasshoppers, but said that they were not doing much damage at this time.

20th ANNIVERSARY OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY

The Ford Motor Company was twenty years old last week. And this birthday anniversary finds it enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history and engaged in carrying out an expansion program of enormous magnitude, necessary to bring manufacture up to meet the ever increasing demand for Ford products.
 In the score of years which have passed since its incorporation on June 16, 1903, the growth of the company has been amazingly rapid and now its activities extend to nearly every country on the globe and the Ford car is in use in practically every land on earth.
 The capital originally subscribed in the company was $100,000 of which only $28,000 in cash was actually paid into the treasury. Among the twelve stockholders with the company in its infancy Henry Ford held 25 per cent of the stock.
 Ford "sold" his car to the public at the very start by practical demonstration for he piloted the first Ford racer himself and won race after race in all parts of the country. Driving old "999" on an ice track at Baltimore Bay, Me., he was the first to break the millennium record.
 In 1907 Mr. Ford acquired additional stock sufficient to bring his holdings in the company up to 58 1/2 per cent.
 Development of the company since 1908 when the Model "T" Ford car was first placed on the market has been marked by unusual success until now it occupies the foremost position in the industry.
 In 1913 Mr. Ford set a new standard for the industrial world when he announced his now famous $5 a day minimum wage and the $10,000,000 profit-sharing plan, a move that gained him international fame.
 Many will remember, too, a year or so later when announcement was made that if sales went to a certain figure every Ford purchaser would receive a rebate. The sales passed the figure and checks went out by the hundreds of thousands.
 When in 1919 Edsel B. Ford assumed the presidency, his father turned over to him all the responsibility of that office and he has taken an important part in all developments of the company since that time. Upon becoming president, Edsel Ford purchased the remaining 41 1/2 per cent held by outside stockholders and on July 9, 1919, the company was reorganized under the laws of Delaware for an authorized capitalization of $100,000,000.
 In his ambition to do the greatest amount of good for the largest number of people, Henry Ford has always kept the Ford car within the reach of the person of average means.
 Last October the price of Ford Cars was again reduced, bringing the various types to the lowest level in the history of the company. And only recently the inauguration of the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan has opened the way to automobile ownership for additional millions of people who can now buy Fords on weekly payments as low as $5.00.
 The first car manufactured by the Ford Motor Company was on the road in June and sold the early part of July, 1903. In the initial year, 1903-04 the company produced 1,708 cars and each year has seen a steady expansion until in 1922 production totaled 1,571,333 and this year will pass the 1,500,000 mark, a figure which it is estimated will equal if not exceed the combined output of all other automobile companies in the United States.
 Since its start the company has produced more than 7,750,000 Fords and sent them to all parts of the world and more than 6,000,000 are now in use in the United States alone.
 Manufacturing methods of the Ford Motor Company have been and remain the marvel of engineering experts of the world. All are based on the most scientific principles, distinctly individual in their advanced steps and they bring quantity production with high quality coming automatically in the process.
 Under its present expansion program the company is carrying out on a larger scale than ever before its policy of effecting every manufacturing economy possible. Thus with costs cut to the minimum all along the line, from primary raw materials to finished cars, trucks and tractors, it is able to give the purchaser a high quality product at a very low price.
 It has its own coal mines in West Virginia and Kentucky, and iron ore mines in northern Michigan.
 The Ford railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, connects with practically every trans-continental line, which affords unusual shipping facilities.
 At River Rouge, with a plant area of 1,200 acres, the company besides having the largest foundry in the world operates its own blast furnaces, machine shops, body plant, saw mill, coke ovens, cement plant, paper mill, power plant, locomotive repair shops and the Fordson Tractor plant.
 The parent plant of the company in Highland Park occupies nearly 300 acres of which 123 are under roof. Here are the general offices the Detroit sales branch, the boys' industrial school and the world's largest individual automobile plant.
 The company has a glass plant at Glassboro, Pa., another at Highland Park and a third is under construction at River Rouge.
 There also are manufacturing units at Hamilton, Ohio, Northville, Michigan, Troy, N. Y., Iron Mountain, Michigan, and several points in and near Detroit.
 A $1,200,000 building under construction at Dearborn, Michigan, will provide a new home for the Ford Engineering Laboratory. It will also house the plant of the Dearborn Publishing Company, publishers of the Dearborn Independent, the Ford International Weekly.
 There are thirty-four branches of the Ford Motor Company in the United States of which twenty-eight are assembling plants. These have all been improved and enlarged within the last year and today are producing cars and trucks at the rate of 6,700 every eight hour working day.
 There are more than 9,000 Ford Dealers in the country and over 15,000 authorized Ford service stations, making a total of more than 24,000 points of contact with the motoring public.
 Foreign branches and associated companies are located at Buenos Aires, Sao Paulo and Montevideo, South America; Havana, Cuba; Copenhagen, Denmark; Antwerp, Belgium; Manchester, England; Barcelona, Spain; Bordeaux, France, and Trieste, Italy. There also is a manufacturing plant at Cork, Ireland. The Ford Motor Co., of Canada, Ltd., located at Ford, Ont., just across the river from Detroit, has an annual output of 75,000 Ford Cars and trucks and does business not only in Canada but in the British possessions.
 The Fordson Tractor was brought out in 1917, during which year 254 were produced. It was developed after years of work and experiment by Henry Ford and his engineers and presents a most sturdy and dependable power plant, easy and economical in operation. Like other Ford products, it met with almost instant success and at present the Fordson plant at River Rouge is producing tractors at the rate of 500 a day to keep pace with the growing demand.
 The Lincoln Motor Company, organized in 1917 to produce motor cars of exceptionally high quality, was acquired by the Ford Motor Company at a receiver's sale February 4, 1922, for $8,000,000 and only recently Henry Ford paid to the creditors of the company an additional $4,000,000 to make up their losses, though under no obligation to do so. The Lincoln Motor Company was re-organized under the laws of Michigan on March 29, 1922, for an authorized capitalization of $15,000,000. It is now known as a division of the Ford Motor Company and has an annual capacity of 10,500 motor cars.
 Not only is the Ford Motor Company the greatest automobile manufacturing institution in the world today, but it stands alone, a stupendous industrial marvel, into every activity of which there permeates the personality and genius of its founder and guiding spirit, Henry Ford.
