Arnold was a graduate of Silvertown High School. During World War II he served as a U.S. Naval pilot stationed in England. He held a degree in Textile Engineering from Texas Tech University. At the time of his death, he was plant engineer for Amtex Textiles in Pilot Mountain. Having worked in the Textile Industry in the Southeastern United States, he had held positions with Dan River Mills and Milliken Corporation.

Survivors are his wife, Sarah; two daughters, Lydia and Sally; one sister, Mrs. Carroll (Marie) Garrison of Silvertown; five nieces and one nephew, several great nieces and nephews and one great-great nephew.

Silvertown Owls To Scrimmage At Paducah Saturday Night

The Owls are scheduled to scrimmage at Paducah Saturday beginning at 6:30 p.m. The following Friday night, the varsity team will host the Kress Kangaroos in the season opener.

The Owls didn't do as well as the coaching staff had expected against Lefors last Saturday night, but according to Head Coach Jim Allen, the team is coming along pretty well and is improving every day. The offense was so-so, he said, while the defense did a little better. This is to be expected this early in the season, because the defense usually comes into its own a little sooner than does the offense. The varsity defense didn't give up a touchdown to the Pirates, but also did not score themselves. Both teams fumbled several times.

The junior varsity team scrimmaged almost the same team as did the varsity, because Lefors doesn't have enough players out to field two separate teams. The junior varsity gave up one score on a break-way run, but otherwise held their opponents pretty well.

ADDITIONAL DONORS TO BARBECUE FUND

Additional donors to the Silvertown Barbecue Fund include Ware and Stan Fogerson, Loyd Stephens and Briscoe County News.

Since it is impossible to thank everyone who helped put on the free public barbecue, it has been requested that thanks be extended to the Silvertown Lions, Silvertown Young Farmers, Silvertown Volunteer Firemen and all others who helped in any way with the barbecue.

- * Conference Games

You will have the opportunity to learn more about emergency life saving by attending a special program Monday, August 29, in the Pioneer Room at the First State Bank in Silvertown. The program is being sponsored by the Briscoe County Family Living Committee in cooperation with the Extension Service. Members of the Silvertown Volunteer Ambulance Service will be in charge of presenting the program. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

A film will be shown illustrating the need for training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). The method of giving CPR to a victim will be demonstrated as well as procedures of the Heimlich Maneuver (dislodging food from the throat of someone who is choking). A time for discussion will follow. Everyone—young, old, or anywhere in between—is invited and encouraged to attend this meeting.

Each year, more than 650,000 Americans die suddenly from various causes. The most common cause of sudden death is heart attack. In many cases, the victim might have been saved if someone had performed Basic Life Support—commonly known as CPR.

Basic CPR is a very simple procedure that everyone can learn. If administered in time, it can and has saved lives.

It is estimated that 46,000 will die because of heart attack in Texas this year. That is equal to one-third the population of Amarillo. In 1975, there were 450 such deaths in Amarillo alone, where an average 40 persons per month are dead on arrival at hospitals. It is possible that one-third to one-half of these people could have lived if someone could have helped them within the first four minutes after they were stricken. These are just numbers, but they represent real people, and you could be someone who either will be able to help them or will have to watch them die because you do not know what to do. Attend this meeting and see what this program is all about.

Following this program, those interested in taking the eight-hour course and becoming certified in CPR will have the opportunity to enroll in classes that will be con-

Good Showers Received In Silvertown

Showers which fell on Silvertown Sunday, Monday and Wednesday mornings of this week dropped 1.75 inches here, as measured in the official gauge kept by Fred A. Strange.

Rainfall was more general over Briscoe County than it has been during other showers received this summer. Tulia received its most beneficial rains of the summer over the weekend, and a rise in Lake Mackenzie was reported as a result of this.

Rainfall measured at the George Martin place, about two miles above Lake Mackenzie, from Sunday until Wednesday amounted to 3.40 inches. One inch fell at Martin's Tuesday night.

At noon Wednesday, Assistant Lake Manager Gary Martin calculated the lake depth at 84.9 feet and said that it had risen nine-tenths of a foot during the last 24 hours. Water was still coming into the lake along Tule Creek at that time.

ANNUALS MAY BE PICKED UP

Annuals can be picked up from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. Thursday and Friday at Silvertown High School.

There will be a limited number of extra annuals for sale on a first-come, first-served basis.

Martin Bean was taken to Central Plains Hospital in Plainview on Wednesday afternoon of last week by the Silvertown Volunteer Ambulance Service. Emergency Medical Technicians Jerry Patton, Ted Kingery and Jay Towe were accompanied in the ambulance by Jerry Bean.

Mrs. Howard Dana of Gallup, New Mexico visited here over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mercer and Mrs. Lily Wafford before going on to Amarillo to help care for her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dee Gregg, Ty and Dax, when they brought the new baby home from the hospital.

The program will be of interest to everyone. Make plans to attend—what you learn could save a life.

High School Registration Opens Today

Registration for the high school classes has been scheduled for Thursday, August 25, and Friday, August 26, at Silvertown High School.

Seniors will register at 10:00 a.m. Thursday (today). Junior registration will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday (today). Plans are for Sophomores to register at 10:00 a.m. Friday. Freshman will register at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Kindergarten students registered Tuesday, and grades one through eight will register on the first day of school, which will be Monday, August 29.

IMMUNIZATION CLINIC TO BE HELD MONDAY

An immunization clinic, to provide booster shots for kindergarten students, will be held from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon Monday, August 29, in the office of the school nurse.

The immunization will be given without charge, so if you have a child who will be attending kindergarten this year, please make sure they take advantage of this if they haven't already received it from your family doctor.

Silvertown Fire Dept. Receives Check

The Silvertown Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Bennie Reagan, Silvertown, Texas.

The money will be used for their purchase of equipment.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Silvertown Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Gregg of Amarillo are parents of a son, Dax, born at 8:18 a.m. August 17 at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. He weighed six pounds and thirteen ounces and was 10 inches long.

The Greggs also have another son, Ty. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gregg, Plainview; Mrs. Howard Dana, Gallup, New Mexico, and G. W. Lee, Silvertown. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid, Canyon, and Mrs. Ira Lee, Lubbock.

Susan Grabbe left by plane from Lubbock Sunday morning of last week for Pasadena, California where she will attend Ambassador College. Her brother, Dr. Lester Grabbe, met her at the Los Angeles International Airport and took her to the college campus.

New Legislation May Kill Allotment Structure

Since they amount to easily seen "money in the pocket," the higher crop support prices and income guarantees received most of the attention this summer as new farm-program legislation made its way through Congress.

But equally important is the legislation's killing off of a two-decades-old structure of acreage allotments.

The allotments have meant that, when all farmers are hurting enough to trigger the support programs, only some farmers, those with allotments, benefit.

For all but tobacco and peanut farmers, who have a different kind of support program, that will change. All growers of wheat, feed grains, rice and cotton will be equal, according to their efforts, after October 1, assuming Congress takes final action and President Carter signs the measure next month, as expected. Then when benefits are distributed, they will be based on what a farmer plants, not an inherited, leased or otherwise acquired allotment based on 1950's production patterns.

In some cases, the new rules will apply to current crops. For example, the boosts in 1977 wheat target prices will guarantee growers with allotments an income of at least $2.90 a bushel, instead of the current $2.47. That means record payments of $1.2 billion instead of about $418 million.

Under existing law, a wheat grower with an allotment could be planting sorghum instead on those acres, but still would be eligible to share in the $1.2 billion.

The House and Senate conferees drafting the compromise version of the measure decided to change the 1977 rules slightly. Payments still will only be made on allotments, but only to the extent that the allotment was planted to that crop. After this year, only plantings will count, and allotments won't exist.

Chief Agriculture Department economist Howard Hjort told the conferees that surprisingly few farmers have even been thinking about target-price payments, never having gotten any in the four years that system has been in the law. Prices have been higher than targets until this year, except for rice.

Conferees Chairman Thomas S. Foley, D. Wash., said that helped make a political decision easier. One of the toughest arguments urban representatives and their constituents throw at the farm belt is that farmers get taxpayers' funds for not growing the grain, he explained.

Current crops will be affected in another way by the conversion to payments based on planted acreage rather than allotments. The old program of payments for farmers hit by disasters also helped only those with allotments, planted or not.

Representative John W. Jenrette Jr., D. S.C., says that system helped mostly those with marginal losses on large farms and hurt younger farmers who had neither allotment nor crop after a disaster.

The conferees decided to apply the new disaster-payments system to 1977 crops. Only losses will matter when the recalculations are made after October 1 for farmers with or without allotments.

Generally, target-price payments will be figured this way: an "allocation factor" multiplied by planted acreage multiplied by projected yield per acre multiplied by the target.

The allocation factor will be set by USDA between 80 and 100 per cent, according to its calculations of what size crop will meet demand, reserves needs and what the harvest will be. But any farmer complying with a set-aside program and other activities geared to cutting back excess production would have 100 per cent of his crop covered, if payments are triggered.

The "projected yield" for a farm will be calculated by county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committees, but the government has to accept a higher yield if the farmer can prove it.

Two types of disaster payments will still be available—those for a crop a farmer couldn't plant because of a disaster and those for a crop damaged or lost because of a disaster.

If planting of the usual crop or any non-conserving crop is prevented by a disaster, the farmer can receive a payment of one-third the target level on either 75 per cent of what he or she intended to plant or 75 per cent of what was harvested the year before.

Under current law, cotton farmers could collect a prevented-planting payment and turn around and grow soybeans. That would disqualify them next year.

If a disaster cuts a farm's production below 60 per cent of projected yield, USDA will cover the difference between actual harvest and 60 per cent of the projection with a payment at half the target price—provided the crop was planted.

Target-price or disaster payment come on top of whatever the farmer can get for his crop in the marketplace. Any disaster payments are subtracted from any target-price payment that might be due.

Disaster payments are not limited, however, by the target-price payment ceilings of $20,000 per person this year and $40,000 per person next year in the wheat, feed grain and cotton programs.

Disparities between late-1950's allotments and actual plantings now is most pronounced in state-by-state breakdowns—with, for example, few if any wheat allotments in Minnesota, where some 118 million bushels were grown this year.

The roughly 192 million wheat allotments are shared by more than 2 million persons, but cover only 61.6 million acres of the estimated 70.8 million harvested last year.

Other disparities indicated by the national 1976 totals include 76,000 peanut allotments covering 1.6 million acres with 1.51 million harvested, 89 million allotted feed grain acres, with 106.8 million harvested for grain, and 11 million allotted cotton acres, with 10.85 million harvested.

Field Enumerators Provide Detailed Study Of Cotton

Mrs. Carolyn Montague of Silverton travels to cotton fields in her area to check on the progress of the crop.

She's not a cotton buyer; she is one of 54 field enumerators in Texas employed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to provide a detailed study of a "section" of a cotton field, 10 feet x 2 rows.

This work is part of the overall process of estimating cotton yields and harvesting losses in providing statistics on the state's cotton production.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown commended the work of the enumerators. "We have found that these enumerators are trained well by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and do a thorough job."

During cotton growing season, special plant counts and measurements are made to indicate yield as a guide to production. There are 710 such sample units across the state.

The enumerator returns to the same units each month to count the number of squares, blooms, and bolls. This information and the acreage data, and a continuing response to mail questionnaires sent to cotton farmers are important ingredients in accurate monthly production forecasts, issued beginning August 1 through December. Near harvest time, the enumerator, who started the season with an intensive training course, picks the cotton in the sample units and sends it to the laboratory in Austin for moisture checks and other examinations to refine the estimate.

After the farmer harvests the field, the enumerator makes one final visit to glean the cotton missed by the stripper or picker as an indication of harvesting loss.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is a cooperative effort of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Such field surveys are conducted for wheat and corn also.

WEATHER MODIFICATION ISSUE FAILS IN MOST PRECINCTS

Weather modification opponents walked away from the polls in three South Plains counties Tuesday with smiles on their faces and a victory recorded in the counties' election record books.

Voters in Floyd, Castro and Bailey counties Tuesday soundly rejected propositions on hail suppression flights over those areas in the last of a series of local option elections designed to determine voters' preferences on the controversial issue.

Last Saturday, voters in Swisher, Randall and Hockley counties defeated the issue. In Lamb county, some precincts approved and others disapproved of changing the weather in Saturday's balloting. Earlier in August the people of Briscoe County had turned thumbs down on the issue.

Even though Tuesday's elections ended a series of weather modification elections across the South Plains, exact results will not be known until the Texas Water Development Board convenes in Austin sometime in September or October to certify election results and amend the companies' permits to operate, according to board general counsel Bruce Bigelow.

Only in clear-cut operational areas will election results be final and valid, and then only as soon as Bigelow receives a certified copy of the results from county commissioners.

Immediately thereafter, companies will be notified to cease flights over operational areas which voted against the propositions.

In target area precincts, though, election results will not become final or binding until the board meets to determine what the entire area's consensus is. Target area results will be considered as a whole, rather than individually as in operational areas.

Weather modification companies made their biggest gains Saturday in the Lamb County election. Voters in eight target area precincts there approved modification activities, while the proposition failed in only one target area precinct. Voters in seven other operational precincts also defeated the proposal.

YOUNG FARMER COUPLE ATTENDS NATIONAL COOPERATIVE INSTITUTE

Eddie and Peggy Holland, Silverton were participants in the National Institute on Cooperative Education (NICE), at Texas A&M University, August 15-18—the largest annual gathering of agricultural and cooperative leaders in the United States, with nearly 2,500 attending.

About 250 young farmer couples from across the country were attending special and general sessions where nationally known speakers were discussing forceful, specific solutions for farmer cooperatives in the areas of financing, education, and marketing—both overall and by specific commodities.

In addition to cooperative managers, directors and employees, the NICE participants included special groups of young farmer couples, youth scholars, women, and employees of cooperatives and collegiate students. They were focusing on the 1977 NICE theme, "Cooperation—Making It Work," from their own particular viewpoints.

Selected because of outstanding leadership exhibited in the community and the cooperative, Mr. and Mrs. Holland were sponsored by Producers' Grain Corporation, Amarillo, Texas to participate in the four-day NICE educational experience.

Also, for the first time, nominations were taken of young farmers or couples who have attended NICE to serve as associate trustees on the full AIC board of trustees, to help plan educational activities for the following year. However, only those actively farming in the Farm Credit District in which next year's NICE will be held are eligible to be selected for a one year term. In 1978, NICE will be held at Montana State University, Bozeman, in the 12th Farm Credit District comprising Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Al-

Certification To Be Required Of Pesticide Applicators

Pesticide applicators who use or supervise the use of restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides will be required to become certified, effective October 21, 1977, barring further changes in federal or state laws.

This certification of applicators is required by the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) as amended in 1972 and 1975.

Persons who own or manage a pesticide application business engaged in the application of restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides to the land of another (Commercial applicators) are required to be certified and hold a license. Additionally, a person or government agency or department which wants to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides (Noncommercial applicator), and do not qualify as a private applicator must do likewise. The requirements are part of the Texas Pesticide Control Law.

Persons will be licensed by the appropriate state agency as either certified commercial or noncommercial applicators. Certification is based on a written examination administered by the designated state agency. Four state agencies have been identified to certify applicators concerned with four maj-

Special luncheons, a barbecue and rodeo, entertainment, and a tour of farms in neighboring counties around College Station were also held.

NICE is sponsored by the American Institute of Cooperation, a national educational organization for farmer cooperatives, headquartered in Washington, D. C.; and Texas A&M University with the support of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives; the Houston Farm Credit Banks; and Texas Cooperatives.

or control areas—agricultural pests, animal pests, aquatic and health related pests.

A number of categories of commercial and noncommercial applicators have been established by regulations set forth by the Texas Pesticide Control Law.

If you qualify as a commercial or noncommercial applicator and anticipate that you will use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides, you want to contact the appropriate state agency to obtain additional information regarding the requirements and your obligations under the new laws.

Applicators working with agricultural pest control should contact David Ivie, Director, Agricultural and Environment Sciences Division, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. The telephone is (512) 475-4457.

For applicators working with animal pest control, the agency contact is Carl R. Watson, DVM, Texas Animal Health Commission, 1020 Sam Houston Building, Austin, Texas 78701. The telephone is (512) 475-4111.

Applicators working with aquatic pest control should contact David Barker, Texas Water Quality Board, P. O. Box 13246, Austin, Texas 78711. The telephone is (512) 475-5695.

Health related pest control applicators should contact Bobby L. Davis, Health Program Specialist, General Sanitation Division, Texas Department of Health Resources, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78711. (This agency will become the Texas Department of Health on September 1.)

Although training is not a requirement for certification, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service—as the educational arm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture—is conducting workshops for persons who may seek a training opportunity as they prepare for the written examination. These Extension workshops are being conducted over the state and are publicized through mass media by district Extension committees located at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Centers and by local county Extension offices.

Applicators who have questions concerning the Extension Service training workshops—such as dates, location, and categories in which training is to be offered—may wish to contact the local county Extension agent. The Extension Service office is generally located in the county courthouse or county agricultural building, and is a part of the Texas A&M University System.

Supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller, Avonma, Crystal and Rusty Tuesday of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee McKenney, Terry, and David of Carlsbad, New Mexico and Mrs. Lois McKenney of Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McKenney and boys of Carlsbad, New Mexico, spent the first of last week visiting his mother, Mrs. Lois McKenney, and other relatives.

Who is at the Helm?

Who guides our lives? Are we a ship without a helmsman? Are we adrift, going no place?

Thanks be to God, who loves us so, He is willing to guide us, to show us the way over all manner of seas. How glorious to know there is such a One! All of us follow someone, some standard, but the true standard is God and His Word.

Let Him take over the wheel. He doesn't promise smooth sailing all the time, but He promises to guide us through the storm, and show us the way over calm and sweet but sometimes marker-less seas.

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters fail not."

Isaiah 58:11

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

On windy dusty days . . . your filter can get dirty, clogged, waste energy . . .

Clean or replace dirty Air Filters on your furnace or air conditioning!

The purpose of a filter on your air conditioning or heating air blower is to keep the air inside your home clean. The filter catches dust and dirt before it can enter your home. In time, the filter will accumulate dust and dirt . . . if it gets clogged, it can't do the cleaning job it's supposed to. Then it begins to shut off the air flow and has the effect of making your air conditioning or heating unit work harder. When the unit works harder, it uses more electricity . . . and if it works too hard because of a dirty filter, it can be damaged.

To avoid damage to your unit, to keep your home cleaner, and to save energy and money, be sure filters are clean. Permanent types can be cleaned according to the manufacturer's instruction. Non-permanent types are replaced, since they are inexpensive. It is wise to check filters every 30 days. Save energy . . . save money . . . use clean filters.
