Hello to All: From Marueen: HM and Maureen Duncan helped with the family celebration of Mitzi Jones birthday on Saturday night. Computer fouling up... We went to Novice and attended the Fifth Sunday Singing and supper afterwards I think that Maureen had more to say but that tablet was just being mean to her and wouldn't do as she was asking. I have one like that. Type for ten minutes and it will just disappear.

Judy and I did stop by their house the other evening and enjoyed visiting for a few minutes and they were doing okay.

It was a quiet week out here. Quiet but not without activity. On Saturday Judy got to feeling really bad. Had trouble swallowing and like a knot about half way down the chest.

Went to the emergency room. They gave her some muscle relaxers and some pain killer and finally got some relief. They were short rooms and sent us home until Monday. Said to call the Dr. who does the endoscopy thing first thing Monday morning. Well, we went to stay with my son, Kelly, who lives in Angelo and not try to make that drive. It turned out to be Tuesday before we could get in for that "procedure". Shows that she has an ulcer in the esophagus and a place lower down that was tensed up and it just closed up. The Dr. did a balloon thing on the squeezed up place and got meds for the ulcer part. The Doc said that it looked like a pill got stuck and cause a sore place. Then the next time she ate, some food stuck to it and the next pill stuck and on and on. So, we are back home now and trying to get it all well. The side effects of some of the meds are just about as bad as the original complaint.

We will be going to Arlington to a "stomach clinic" one day a week for the next four weeks.

Hope to find out more to help with the digestion. Judy is diabetic and that just complicates digestion.

Weather Whys

Q: Especially in regard to California fires, you often hear about the "Santa Ana winds." What are they?

A: These are warm, dry winds that blow into areas of California, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. "These winds most often occur in southern California near an area called the Santa Ana Canyon, hence their name. Santa Ana winds are different in that they blow the opposite of most winds-from the east to the west and into the southern California desert communities. The area has some unusual topography and natural features that are ideal for the formation of these winds, which range in speed from 25 to 100 miles per hour. The clockwise circulation around high-pressure areas forces air quickly down the slopes of the mountains in the region and the dry, desert air becomes even warmer as it moves through the valleys.

Brownwood group wants to support WWII veteran's coast-to-coast run

Special to the Ballinger Ledger

Ernie Andrus of California has never been to Brownwood, but he's heard of it. And he plans to be here in mid-to-late April.

Running.

At age 91 Andrus, a World War II Navy veteran, is running cross-country, all the way from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts. Andrus is running to raise awareness and money that would enable a group to return a Navy ship called the LST (Landing Ship Tank) 325 to Normandy, where the ship participated in the D-Day invasion. That group is the LST 325 Ship Memorial Inc. The LST 325 is currently berthed on the Ohio River in Evansville, Ind.

Andrus' route will bring him through Brownwood, and a small, loosely organized group of residents in the Brownwood-Early area who've been following his journey hope to raise funds and publicity for Andrus ahead of his arrival.

Details are being worked out as to what the local group will try to do for Andrus.

The group will meet at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at Riverside Park, and anyone who's interested is invited, group member Tammy Poole of Brownwood said.

Poole said when she and some of her friends learned about Andrus' cross-country run and learned he will run through Brownwood, she and her friends agreed: "We really need to support him. ... Ninety years old, and running?" Poole added.

Residents from other communities have run with him as he has passed through, and the local group is considering ideas such as encouraging residents to donate as actual or virtual runners.

Andrus was a few miles east of Sterling City as of Friday afternoon.

He has been featured in numerous newspaper and magazine articles including Runners World and has been the topic of television news broadcasts,

'I plan to run coast to coast'

A website, www.coast-2coastruns.com, explains what Andrus is attempting:

"My name is Ernie Andrus and I plan to run coast to coast in two to four years. (Super Senior Coast to Coast Run). I turned 90 in August 2013. I started by touching the Pacific Ocean near San Diego, Calif. on Oct. 7, 2013 and will touch the Atlantic Ocean near Brunswick, Ga. two to four years later.

This feat is being undertaken to raise money for the LST 325 SHIP MEMORIAL, INC. I was one of the crew that brought the LST 325 back from the Isle of Crete, Greece to the U.S. in 2000, 2001 as aired on the History

Channel as The Return of LST 325. (There were) 1,051 LSTs built during World War II. The 325 is the only one left that has been restored and is still operational. Plans were being made to return the ship to Normandy for the D-Day Memorial Service (D-Day plus 70, 2014) and beach it at the same location where it was on Omaha Beach 70 years before. The cost of taking this ship across the Atlantic and back is tremendous. Shortage of finances caused the 2014 trip to be canceled. Perhaps we can raise enough money for D-Day plus 75 in 2019.

"I plan on running three days a week averaging between a 1/2 marathon and a marathon a week.

"I welcome any runners who would like to join me on any leg of my journey.

'Anyone interested in being a part of this venture, I can be reached at (928) 308-5478, email, or (928) 445-6613. Draw a line from San Diego, Calif. to Brunswick, Ga. and this will give you a general idea of the course I will be taking."

Andrus doesn't run far each day, and he doesn't run every day. He travels in an RV and parks it, then runs three days a week, averaging about six miles a day — a little more than 18 miles a week. After he finishes a run, he gets a ride back to his RV.

Andrus was reached by cell phone Friday, a nonrunning day. He confirmed that he'll be running through Brownwood. "That is correct," Andrus said.

Several operations The LST 325 is 327 feet long, according to www. lstmemorial.org:

"These ships were designed in 1942 to land battle ready tanks, vehicles, soldiers, and supplies directly onto enemy beaches. Over 1,000 of these ships were built for World War II. Many more were built for the Korean and Vietnam Wars for their ability to navigate inland waterways.

"USS LST 325 participated in several operations, most notable was D-Day at

Judge approves RadioShack sale

DOVER, Del. (AP) - Abankruptcy judge has approved the sale of more than 1,740 RadioShack stores to hedge fund Standard General, preserving some 7,500 jobs.

RadioShack's bankruptcy lan calls for Sprint, the No. 3 U.S. wireless carrier, to operate dedicated "store within a store" shops in most of the locations acquired by acquired by General Wireless, a newly formed affiliate of Standard General LP.

The ruling by Judge Brendan Shannon in Wilmington, Delaware, comes court hearing stretched over four days following a disputed auction process that lasted almost as long last week. Shannon said Standard General's bid, valued at about $160 million, was clearly "economically superior" to an alternative liquidation proposal by another bidding group, even preservation of jobs and 'a century-old American retailing icon.' The chain has already shrunk substantially. Roughly 2,000 RadioShack stores have closed or are closing.

In granting the sale, Shannon overruled an objection by Salus Capital Partners, a pre-bankruptcy lender whose $150 million claim made its one of the electronics retailer's largest creditors. Salus had called Standard General's offer a "sham" and offered to pay about $271 million for RadioShack's assets, combining the liquidation proposal with $129 million that was contingent on winning future litigation in the case. Salus also had challenged Standard General's right to bid using $112 million of credit on debt it is owed, and only a small amount of cash.

In last-minute revisions to its initial offer, Standard General agreed among other things that intellectual property and customer data would not be part of the sale. The planned inclusion of personally identifiable information on 117 million consumers had prompted objections from government authorities in several states.

The Winters Blizarrds experienced an up and down week on the diamond as they split games against Cross Plains and Miles.

The Blizzards took care of Cross Plains in stunning fashion by 10-run-ruling their opposition by a score of 23-1.

Winters jumped out to a quick lead in the first inning scoring 8 runs and then capped the game off by adding another 10 runs in the top of the fifth inning.

However, the success for Winters didn't carry over to their game Friday when they played host and lost to Miles by a score of 8-7.

BLIZZARDS BASEBALL SPLIT GAMES

The Blizzards hosted the Bulldogs and gave up four quick runs in the first inning. Winters responded though in the fifth inning when they scored three to make the score 5-3. However, even after outhitting Miles, nine hits to six, Winters fell short in the seventh inning, needing only one last run to force extras.
