Do not pull flowers in cemetery without permission!

Memorial Day will be observed June 3rd. A list of names, including all veterans who fought in the war with Mexico, the Civil War and the great World War, are wanted. Mesdames Winn, Couch, Kemp and Arbuckle will appreciate any help that can be given them in securing names and locating graves.

Save all the flowers that you possibly can for the decoration of the graves of our heroic dead. Mesdames Hunt and English will see that flowers are placed where they should be. Let's make this a MEMORABLE day in our town! A full program will be published later.

Every active member is asked to secure one honorary member to our association, thus creating and financing a better Association than has heretofore been possible.

Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met in regular business and social session Monday afternoon May 7th, at the home of Mrs. J. P. Kinard.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president. After the roll call and minutes a very helpful and inspiring devotional was read by Miss Stella Hoxey of Fort Worth, secretary of Young People's Work of Fort Worth Presbytery.

Mrs. Sleeper gave an interesting report of the Presbyterial that recently met in Sweetwater. Several items of business were transacted.

After the business session a most enjoyable social hour was enjoyed during which time Mrs. Jno. Pace gave two lovely piano solos and was forced to respond to an encore.

Mrs. Kinard, assisted by her daughters, Miss Elma and Mrs. Alvy Couch, served a delicious refreshment plate consisting of banana salad, stuffed olives, ribbon sandwiches, crackers and hot tea.

The following ladies enjoyed the afternoon: Mesdames Durbett, Wilson, Blake, Robertson, Pace, English, Sherrill, Tom Davis, Sleeper, Hooker and Miss Carrie Sherrill.

Rochester Civic Club Entertained

(Special Correspondent)

Mrs. Fonce Greenwade entertained the members of the Civic Club Wednesday afternoon with a theater party, and refreshments at the Dunn Drug Store parlor. The room was artistically decorated. The tables were laid with exquisite linen in embroidery and cut work. A two course luncheon was served to about 20 guests. All voted Mrs. Greenwade a splendid hostess.

Mrs. Wiley Reid Hostess

Mrs. Reid was hostess to the members of the Thursday Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Oates. A very pleasant afternoon was spent at bridge and the hostess served refreshments consisting of a salad course to Mesdames Claiborne and J. P. Payne, Courtney Hunt, J. E. Grissom, J. E. Bernard, W. H. Murchison, John Oates, and R. H. English.

Woman's Missionary Society

Monday afternoon was a joint prayer meeting with the delegates report from the Annual Meeting at Snyder.

Mrs. Patterson was our representative and she gave a splendid summary of all the good things to be seen and heard. She brought back so many of the messages from the different speakers. Miss Edwards, a returned missionary from Korea, Miss Tarrant, on furlough from China, and Rev. Crawford the Secretary, were visiting speakers for the occasion—while our president, Mrs. Rollins, is a speaker mentioned by any Conference.

The Snyder Methodist Church is a living example of the Stonehouse Tithing Plan—they do big things out there because they always have plenty of money in the treasury.

Next Monday will be our Mission Study Lesson with Mrs. Fields as director.

We urge the women to come in at the beginning of this study—have only had one lesson as yet. And remember, the time has been changed from three to four o'clock.

Parent-Teachers Association

The members of the Parent-Teachers Association met in a regular business meeting Thursday afternoon May 3, with the president, Mrs. J. M. Gose, presiding. This was the last meeting of the year, and reports were given by the officers and chairmen of various standing committees. The treasurer reported having received from all sources during the year, $814.95, and paid out $271.67. The expense account included the purchase of two Victrolas and records for the school, also an oil stove for the D. E. Department. Mrs. J. A. Couch, chairman of circles for the past year, mentioned a number of worthwhile things accomplished, the latest of these being the planting of trees across the front of the school grounds. By a unanimous vote of the Association, the funds in the treasury are to be appropriated as follows: $200.00 for High School Library; $200.00 for laboratory equipment and $150.00 for dining room suite for D. E. Department. Mr. Brasher has $200.00 as a result of the monthly lyceum numbers and will give one hundred dollars to each of the two libraries, thus making it possible to purchase some splendid books.

Mrs. Hardy Grissom resigned as first vice president and Mrs. H. M. Smith was elected to fill the vacancy. The advisability of having a fair was discussed, though no definite plans were made.

The following new committees were appointed: Welfare—Mesdames C. F. Eldins, Jesse Collier, Leon Gilliam, Ed Robertson and Sleeper. Civics—Mesdames Hardy Grissom, R. W. Tyson and Mary Oates.

The officers of the Association wish to thank Mr. Brasher and all of the teachers for their loyalty and support during the past year. We have not accomplished such a great deal, perhaps, yet what we have done was worth while, and will tend toward greater advancement next year.

The Country School House

Country children sometimes look at their schools with a bit of contempt. They perhaps have visited larger places and seen handsomer buildings than their own. If they are still attending a small school house of the older country type, it may look insignificant.

Teachers and parents might well point to the past of the school house, and speak of the men and women now successful in life, who in former years have studied in that little building. They can show that that school house has sent out a large company of people who have done splendid work, and some of whom have gained fortune or fame for themselves. There is a lot of inspiration in the history of every country school.—Exchange.

BLOUSES, SIMPLY MADE INTRIGUE THE SEAMSTRESS

THE ambitious home dressmaker either has learned, or is learning, that she may undertake to make her own blouses and be rewarded by lovely garments. For anyone who has not tried the experiment, now is a good time to begin, because the rich new fabrics are at their best in blouses of simple design. These fabrics do not call for any but the simplest adornments, and they make the handsomest of costume blouses, to be worn with two-piece suits or with appropriate separate skirts. One black satin skirt will make a background to set off many a stunning blouse, and there are fabrics of all degrees of richness with which to suit occasion.

The story of blouses begins every season with the shirtwaist and blouses of similar character. They include softly tailored waists of white crepe de chine to be worn with street and sport suits, and the crisp and dainty blouses of fine, sheer cottons, for the same purposes. One of the latter is shown here, and even the amateur needlewoman will sum up its requirements without any misgivings. Fine batiste and sheer embroidered edging, bought by the yard, plus a simple pattern (to be had of any standard pattern company) insure the success of the pretty waist. The embroidery has a narrow edge, lined by colored dots, and the wide plain portion is to be tucked with a group of narrow tucks.

To make the collar and jabot this tucked embroidery is joined by fagoting to a straight piece of tucked batiste. There is no shaping of the collar to be taken care of. It is merely a straight length sewed to the neck opening of the waist. It overlaps at the ends the full frills that form the jabot. A short piece of this prepared embroidery is set in turn-back cuffs that finish three-quarter-length sleeves.

Smart costume blouses are as simply designed. One has only to pick out one of the new, brilliant crinkly silks or velvets and cut it by an overblouse pattern, with either longer or shorter sleeves, and use narrow silk braid or ribbon for outlining important edges.

The SANDMAN STORY

MR OWL DRIVEN AWAY

MR. OWL made his home in the hollow of a tree in the orchard. He did this for one reason—because it was near the field where there were plenty of mice, and then he liked the location; there were plenty of small birds around.

His Home in the Tree.

Jay, it would be that you would like to be rid of Mr. Owl because he is a bigger robber than you are."
Willie Blue Jay stood first on one foot and then on the other and winked and blinked, but he did not reply to Jennie's saucy but truthful remark.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. J. D. Hughes of Georgetown, came in a few days ago to look after his ranch interests in the southeast part of this county.
Mrs. C. M. Kaizler left Tuesday for Lufkin, where she will join her husband, after visiting friends in Waco.

spoke up Mr. Kingbird, "I would tell him to leave the orchard quickly, but as you say, he never flies about in the daytime so I cannot tell him."
"Why not sit up one night, Mr. Kingbird and watch for Mr. Owl?" said Mr. Catbird.

Every one listened, for it was known to all the birds that Mr. Catbird was given a wide berth by Mr. Kingbird whenever he met him, and also that, though he did wish to be called their protector, he was really very unkind to the small birds, even while he did attack Mr. Crow and Mr. Hawk in the most fearless manner.

"Well, well, what is going to be done?" chattered Jenny Wren. "I can't waste all the day here, even if the rest of you can, I have work to do and I keep my house in order, too."

Everybody began to chatter at once, for they all were afraid of Jennie's sharp tongue, when suddenly Jennie's quick eyes saw something moving in the tree where Mr. Owl lived. "Look!" she said, "there he is!"

Mr. Owl sat on a limb near the hollow in the tree looking very stupid. "He can't see in the daytime," cried Jennie. "Come, let us drive him into his nest."

All the others followed Jennie, who was scolding as loudly and fast as she could, and around Mr. Owl they swarmed, chattering and screaming.

Poor Mr. Owl loved silence and this terrible din nearly drove him out of his wits. He turned his head and with a clumsy motion managed to get into his hole while the birds screamed louder than ever before over their victory.

That night when he came out of his nest, before he found anything for his supper, Mr. Owl set off to find a new home, for "he could live in the midst of that chattering bunch and be happy," he said.

"I would show whole that chattering bunch if I could find her, but if I did she would keep right on talking, I expect, and then I would have to listen to her all the time, so on second thought I guess I won't hunt for her."

Orange Program for B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School Encampment

Reverends J. B. Rowan, Stamford; J. R. Balch, Seymour; L. B. Connell, Throckmorton; and O. W. Dean, Asperment, assembled at the home of Rev. Leon M. Gambrell Tuesday night of this week to make out a program for the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School encampment to be held at Leanders this summer. The encampment will begin on Saturday night, July 14, and run through Sunday, July 22nd. Dr. O. L. Powers of Wichita Falls was secured as the principal speaker of the encampment and other strong men and women of the state were placed on the tentative program drawn up. This was a very important meeting and if plans made are carried out the meeting will be one of the best in all the South this year.

More than a hundred people from Haskell are expected to attend this encampment this summer. Begin now to make your plans to be there and stay through.

Conducting Bible Lessons

Miss Stella Hovey of Fort Worth has been conducting some very interesting and helpful lessons on the book of Acts at the Presbyterian Church this week. She is a splendid and forceful speaker.

REV. McHENRY SEAL WRITES FROM SAN SABA

Below we give a letter received from Rev. McHenry Seal, former pastor of the church here, who is now pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Saba which was recently destroyed by fire. Rev. Seal does not tell of his personal losses but of the loss to the church, and mentions the future plans, which we are sure our readers will be glad to learn. The letter is self-explanatory:

Haskell Free Press,
Haskell, Texas.

In the midst of our disaster we are much encouraged. We already have raised more than Ten Thousand Dollars with which to re-build. Our plans are to build a modern, fire-proof, marble church building. The First Christian Church and the Cumberland Presbyterian churches have loaned us their churches in which to worship until we can complete our new plant.

The manager of the marble works here says, "They already have enough marble out to build the walls of our new building," and we plan to go to work at once.

All of the churches of our town offered to let us use parts of their churches in which to worship during our homeless period.

McHenry Seal, Pastor.
P. S.—Thank you very kindly for the nice note in the Free Press last week. M.H.S.

POST

By R. L. Livengood

Well, it has been so long since I have written that I am almost afraid to write again.

I think we had better change our minds and say that it rains in West Texas, because we have had plenty and it looks as if another cloud was coming—yes, it is, it is sprinkling now!

Everybody is busy planting cotton this week and we are very glad to see a week of dry weather.

The baseball game at Post Friday afternoon between the societies, Hercules and Panthers, was very exciting among the school children. The score was 15 to 12 in favor of the Hercules team.

Mrs. Lee Humphreys is real sick at present, but seems to be some better we are glad to say.

The writer has been sick for a long time, still has the asthma, but on pretty days is slowly improving.

Cohl Tysinger of Haskell is visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. W. M. Luper. He has been there all the past week and expects to stay all the next week. He is helping Mr. Luper with his cotton planting.

Several from this community attended the program at the close of the Sayles school last Friday. They report a successful term.

J. W. Adcock purchased a new Ford touring car last week. His son also purchased a new Ford roadster at the same time.

Mrs. W. M. Luper has been sick for a good while, but is better at present.

The B. Y. P. U. has been doing nicely, but it was unable to render the weekly program on account of the rain.

The smallpox patients around here are all reported as improving.

Mrs. Adams of Colorado, Texas, is visiting her son, Clayton Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Brimberry of Ranger spent a week with Mrs. Brimberry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adams.

The Post school will close the 15th of this month after a very successful term.

A bad man will make all kinds of excuses about his faults; but a good man will cut them out.

Some people are so elastic by nature that they can't help stretching the truth.

POULTRY

LITTLE LAMP WARMS WATER

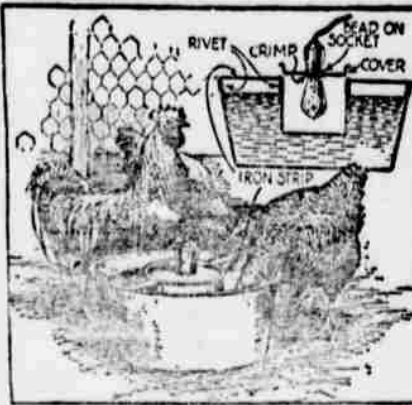

Operating 24 Hours Daily With Current at Ten Cents a Kilowatt Hour is Cheap.

Not only should drinking water intended for poultry be kept from freezing so that the hens can drink at all times, but, according to scientific poultry raisers, it should also not be cold enough to chill the birds. Both requisites may be provided for by the use of this inexpensive electric water warmer.

An ordinary pail or pan may be used with the addition of a large tin can or small pail for the heating unit. If made of galvanized iron, the parts will last longer. Arms riveted to the can extend over the edge of the water pail. Care must be taken to solder around the rivet holes on the outside, for the lamp container must be water-tight.

An ordinary metal lamp socket is soldered or crimped into a tin disk large enough to cover the container. This cover must be either a tight-fitting lid or be made to fasten with a spring or catch.

In all but the coldest weather a 15-watt lamp will warm a ten-quart pail sufficiently. Operating 24 hours a day with current at 10 cents a kilowatt hour, the warmer will cost 3.5 cents, which is worth while if it adds only two eggs a day to an otherwise doubtful cold weather production. In severe winter weather, it may even prevent the loss of some of the hens.—J. H. V. in Popular Science Monthly.

GREEN FEEDS FOR CHICKENS

Where Fowls Have Unlimited Range in Summer There is No Difficulty—Different in Winter.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If the best results are to be obtained with poultry, they must be furnished with a plentiful supply of green feed. Where fowls have unlimited range on a farm they will secure green feed during the spring and summer, but during the winter it must be supplied for them.

The question of how to supply the best feed at the least cost is one that each poultry keeper must decide largely for himself. It will probably make but little difference what kind of green feed is supplied provided it is relished by the fowls. Cabbages, turnips, beets, potatoes, etc., are suitable for this purpose. The larger roots and the cabbages may be suspended by means of a wire or string or they may be placed on the floor, in which case it would be well to split the turnips or beets lengthwise with a large knife. Potatoes and turnips should be fed cooked. The mangel is an excellent root for feeding raw.

Cut clover, soaked in boiling water, fed alone or with the mash, is good, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Clover meal and ground alfalfa make very good feeds for this purpose. Where the fowls are yarded and not enough green feed is furnished by the yards, a small patch of clover, alfalfa, or rape may be sown. Any one of these, if frequently mowed, will furnish a great quantity of green feed in a form relished by the fowls. Canada field peas may also be sown for this purpose, and when fed in a tender, crisp condition are eaten readily. Rye is a good crop for late fall and early spring, for it will germinate and grow in cold weather. As a general thing, fowls should have once a day about all the green feed they will eat.

POWDER CONTROLS HEN LICE

Mixture of Gasoline, Stock Dip and Dry Cement Will Prove Quite Effective.

Common hen lice that live on the hairs, feathers and skin of the fowls can be controlled by treating with a home-made powder composed of mixing three parts of gasoline and one part of stock dip and adding enough dry cement to make a powder. Hold the bird with its head down and apply the mixture by working in the feathers.

Retain Pullets in Fall.

Farmers are urged to stop the practice of selling their pullets in the fall. These are worth more as winter layers than as meat for the table. Winter eggs must come from the pullets, so these should be kept and not sold.

"What's in a Name?"

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

BELLE

BELLE is one of the many feminine names which began existence as a contraction and gained sturdy independence until it became a recognized appellative and is bestowed without reference to its prefix.

Since Belle signifies "oath of Bani," it is easily discernible that it is an offspring of Isabelle. In the days when Elizabeth of Hainault married Philippe Auguste and suffered her name to be changed to Isabelle by the French, it is hardly likely that Belle was used, either as an endearment or a diminutive. But Isabelle became very popular in royal circles and the betrothed of Hugues de Lusignan, who later married King John, brought Isabelle to England.

It was there that Belle came into existence and into consequent vogue. Of all the contractions of Isabelle—of which Nib, Ibbot and Ib are a few examples—Belle proved the most popular and lasting.

Belle is a popular form in this country and is bestowed without reference to Isabelle. France recognizes no such contraction, but Spain has an equivalent Bella.

The opal is the gem assigned to Belle. It will prove a talisman against evil, danger, and disease when worn by her. The evil designs of the pixie, which superstition claims is imprisoned in the stone, will be powerless against her. To dream of an opal means success. Friday is Belle's lucky day and 4 her lucky number. The chrysanthemum is her lucky flower.

Housewives will find this an interesting study

In the picture to the left you will notice that all that is necessary to do to clean the trap in the Automatic is to remove the ice rack. Both provision chambers are kept closed!

In the other picture, to the right, which shows location of trap in practically all other makes, you will see how it is necessary to remove and set out on the floor crocks of butter, milk, meat and other foods, reach way back in and take out the slimy substance which accumulates in the trap.

The "old" trap is unsanitary, very inconvenient and wasteful, because it necessitates leaving the food chambers open, letting all the cold air out of the refrigerator. This causes foods to spoil.

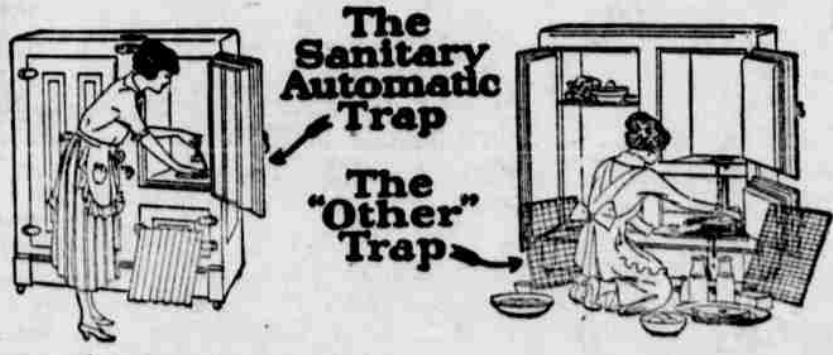

When cleaning the Automatic Trap no foods need to be removed. Both food chambers are kept tightly closed. No overrunning of contents of drain pipe.

This is only one of the many good features of this splendid Refrigerator. Welcome to the demonstration. We will be glad to show you all the good things about the Automatic.

FUNERAL OF W. A. JOHNSON HELD AT MEMPHIS SUNDAY

The funeral of Ex-Lieutenant Governor W. A. Johnson, who died suddenly Saturday afternoon, May 5th, was held at Memphis, Tenn., Sunday. It is said to have been one of the most beautiful ceremonies ever performed on like occasion. The casket was almost smothered in flowers sent from all parts of the state. The large Presbyterian Church where the services were held could only give standing room to the great congregation. Many eloquent addresses were made by ministers of various denominations. Music furnished by a male quartet was reported to be very good. A cross of red roses was laid upon the bier by eight Klansmen who filed quietly into the church while the ceremony was in progress and as quietly withdrew.

Mr. Johnson was 60 years old and leaves a wife and two children. He had been apparently in good health, and only complained lately about the back of his neck, which he had attributed to an abscess that formed there which had affected his brain, and caused his sudden death.

HASKELL BOY HONORED AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Gaines Post, who has for the past two years been a student in the Texas University at Austin, was recently chosen as Duke to the Duchess from the University to the National Flower Week ending April 23rd, 1923. He is a letter to home folks how sure this was one of the best days of his life. He is finishing in all his studies and will finish in one more year at the University.

He expects to go to Harvard, where he will finish a law course there in three years.

SPARKER SAYS SMALL GRAIN IS BEST HE EVER SAW

T. L. Atchison of the Roberts community was in the city exhibiting some wheat heads he had gathered from his 1923 wheat crop which is just beginning to head. He says they are the best he ever saw in Haskell county for the time of year. He has been raising here a long time and has grown and harvested many crops of grain. He has 180 acres in small grain this year consisting of wheat, oats and barley on this farm where he lives and says with a few more rains the crop will be assured. He has never been a very heavy grower of cotton since he has known him, but the hogs, cattle, horses and chickens with poultry in the yards can be found on his farm at all times, not in excessive numbers but in reasonable proportion and he always grows a grain crop with plenty of row crop feed and we have never heard Mr. Atchison complaining of hard times. This gets to be a habit with some of us, but not with Mr. Atchison.

Erecting Small Frame Building

Mrs. E. E. Wright is having a small building erected which she expects to use for a storage room for the present for some of her furniture. This building is located on the back of her lot east of the residence she sold to the Christian Church for a parsonage. We are predicting that in the near future Mrs. Wright expects to build a new residence on the front of this lot and remove back home again. She is now at Seaton and has charge of the Spar Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Therwanger of the main west of Wehmart were in the city Monday.

School Review

The next three weeks are very important weeks for the school children. This time will be taken up with review and the final examinations. It is very necessary that our children spend every afternoon and night of the five school days of each week in reviewing diligently their work for the entire half year in each subject. It is also very necessary that they get plenty of rest and sleep each night of the review and examinations if they are to do their best. They can not go to picture shows, social functions or be out to anything on school nights of these three weeks and accomplish by any means what they should accomplish. So for the sake of their children and for their success and happiness in life we earnestly urge the cooperation of every parent in this school district along this line the next three weeks. In this way we will bring these schools to a successful culmination.

Yours for better schools,
M. H. Brasher, Supt.

GAUNTT

The Center Point singing class visited Gauntt Sunday afternoon and sang for us. We appreciated the visit from this class and we want them to come back again.

The party that was to have been given in honor of Miss Tate's Sunday School Class was postponed until Friday night May 12th, on account of several school programs in the adjoining communities. Everybody come Friday night.

Hudson Pittman will leave Wednesday morning for his ranch in New Mexico, where he will finish living out his claim. His father and Mr. Clue will go with him.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Oman and son Frank were in the city from the Myers community Saturday. Mr. Oman is one of our foremost farmers and says that prospects for the farmers look bright this year on the production line.

BUNKER HILL

Well, we had another rain Sunday night. The clouds looked just a little like a storm might be brewing when they came up.

This morning (Monday) the sun is shining and most of the scared ones came out of their cellars again.

The Bunker Hill school closed last Friday with a good program on Friday night and an all day picnic on Flat Top Mountain Saturday. The school was a complete success, thanks to Prof. W. C. McKenzie and Miss Eona DeBard, the teachers. Miss Mary Chatwell and Norbert Boelcker graduated and were given diplomas which were presented to them by W. A. Arnold in a most impressive way.

Friday afternoon Prof. T. J. Ratliff and his boys from the Sageron school came over for a baseball game, and the score was a tie, 17 to 17. It was a nice game.

Miss Danie McKenzie spent the week end with her brother, W. C. McKenzie at the E. J. Boelcker home, and they left Sunday for O'Brien.

E. J. Boelcker and family spent Sunday afternoon with E. W. Helweg and family near Gauntt.

Lots of cotton and maize will have to be planted over on account of the heavy rains and sand storms.

Sunday School and preaching was well attended here Sunday.

There will be a box supper at the school house Saturday night, May 12th. Everybody come and bring a box.

I. H. Dismore of Howard was in the city Tuesday and says that farming conditions are booming down his way. He says that corn is looking fine and that he has the best prospects for maize he has ever had since he has been farming in Haskell county. He states that he will get through planting his corn this week and his first planting is coming up. There is very little wheat and oats in his section, J. R. states but what little there is sure looks fine.

Miss Fannie Kay, who is teaching the Gauntt school was in the city Saturday, accompanied by her mother. Miss Kay says that she has a few more weeks of school and at the close of her school she and her mother will move to Haskell, where they have purchased a home in the north part of town. We are glad to have these good people come to our city. Miss Fannie is one of the county's best teachers and her teaching has proved successful in all her school that she has taught in the county.

LIME SUPPLY FOR CHICKENS

Experiments Have Demonstrated That Other Minerals Will Not Take Its Place.

Feeding experiments with poultry conducted over a number of years in which an effort was made to substitute other mineral elements for lime in the ration are said to have demonstrated that other minerals will not take the place of lime and that if this element is lacking in the food the demands of the body will be met by drawing on the lime stored up in the bones and muscles of the fowl. It was also found that both lime and phosphorus are more easily taken from the bones of the living animal than from dead bone ash fed to the animal.

CURE FEATHER EATING HABIT

Indication That Fowls Are After Certain Classes of Foods They Are Not Getting.

The reason that fowls eat feathers is due to the fact that they are after certain classes of foods which they need but are not getting. This class of food is represented by any form of milk, tannage, meat scraps, cottonseed meal, peanut meal, or alfalfa pasturage. If one or more of the above feeds are furnished them in sufficient quantities they will get over this habit.

DOULTRY NOTES

Good warm wheat makes a nice breakfast for the biddies.

A good layer has a large abdomen covered with soft pliable skin.

Use a little more clean litter on the floors. Keep the fowls hard at work. It is a form of health insurance.

The fancy poultry business pays well but good judgment must be exercised.

The flock that gets bonemeal and oyster shell will show few cases of leg weakness.

A good layer may be described as a hen having a soft, rich, red comb and wattles, a prominent head, good capacity, plenty of fat, a soft, pliable skin, and is well faded out.

Fowls that have been running out may have needed no grit and may even have got along without oyster shell, but now that they are confined all or much of the time, a supply of these important ingredients of the ration should not be neglected.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET HELD AT AUSTIN

Mary Ella Pace and Joan Irby, the members of the girls' debating team of the Haskell High School, with Mr. Brasher went to Austin last week to take part in the Girls' State Debating Contest of the Interscholastic League. There were thirty-two girls' debating teams, representing the thirty-two districts of the Interscholastic League of the State. In fact these teams represented every section of Texas. These girls of these thirty-two teams were among the brightest girls of all the high schools of Texas. It is a great honor to be a member even of one of these teams and have the privilege to go to the State Capital and the State University and contest with these bright girls, even though the girls should not win a thing. But our girls did well for they won out in the first preliminaries. In the first debate they debated the team from Huntsville, having the affirmative side of the question. Our girls won in the first debate with the unanimous decision of the judges. The first preliminaries cut the teams down to sixteen teams. In the second preliminaries our girls drew the team from Jacksonville, to which team our girls lost. So we see our girls won some honors in the state contest, being one of the sixteen best teams from over the state. It is quite an honor for the Haskell High School, since high schools much larger than Haskell High School had many more participants in literary and track events and did not win a thing.

This is a wonderful party event for there were at Austin this year 3000 high school pupils from almost every high school in this great state. The University treated these boys and girls royally as well as did the citizens of Austin, who opened wide their homes to these fine boys and girls and showered them with their proverbial hospitality. These boys and girls receive an inspiration and a vision that they carry back home with them to their fellows that encourage them and inspire them to go onto college and prepare themselves for the bigger things in life.

We hope that the Haskell High School boys and girls will begin from the very first of school this coming year to prepare themselves to enter debate, declamation, spelling, essay, track and field events so that they will be able to go to Abilene and win and then go on to Austin to win State honors. Parents, let us encourage our children to enter these things rather than permit them to think about having a good time all the time. This old world is in great need of boys and girls of high ideals, lofty ambitions, and the desire and willingness to achieve the greater and nobler things of life. This State Meet, as well as the local county and district meets, is the place to receive this training that every boy and girl stands in such sore need. There is entirely too much of the sordid and un elevating influencing our children these days. We do not impress upon them the absolute necessity to be honorable, clean in thought and in deed, truthful, loyal and true. This is where the home is falling down sadly and our children, State and Nation are going to suffer grievously in the future because of this glaring neglect of our children and their ideals.—Contributed.

W. I. Fox, who has made his home west of O'Brien for the past twenty years passed through Haskell Tuesday en route to Abilene where he is moving his family to make their future abode. He has built a new residence in Abilene which they expect to occupy when they arrive. Mr. Fox is moving to Abilene in order to give his children the opportunity to attend the schools and colleges of that city. He has not sold his farm lands but has rented them out to good tenants.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heathington of Decatur stopped over this week for a few days visit with Judge L. D. Ratliff and family on their way home from a trip to the plains.

D. B. Earnest, Henry Wilson, Oswald Cole attended court here this week.

J. A. Walsworth of O'Brien were pleasant callers at the Free Press office while in the city on business Tuesday. They spoke in hopeful terms of the crop prospects of their sections and said that business was good in O'Brien.
