Club Tours New State Park

Ten members of the Century of Progress Study Club enjoyed a travel study of the newly-created Caprock Canyons State Park in Briscoe County with special attention being given to the Folsom Kill Site. Mr. Marcus Robertson, Park Superintendent, and Park Ranger Garbutt conducted the tour on September 28. Mr. Harrison, curator of Panhandle Plains Museum, explained the archaeological findings.

Members met at the Silverton School at 3:00 p.m. and traveled in a group to the park site.

This was the Conservation Program and roll call was answered with "A Weather Sign." The Conservation Chairman, Mrs. O. C. Rampley, discussed "What Price Energy?" The devotional was "The Earth is the Lord's."

A question and answer period was held following the tour of the park. This was a very enjoyable and informative club program.

"Charisma of God's Creation" was the theme for the program and the quotation given was "To cultivate a garden is to work with God."

Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Bomar, Mrs. L. D. Griffin and Mrs. F. E. Hutsell. Others present were Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. John Gill, Mrs. Troy Jones, Mrs. Bess McWilliams, Mrs. Marvin Montague, Mrs. Joe Montague and Mrs. Carl Bomar and Mrs. F. E. Hut-O. C. Rampley.

The next meeting for the Century of Progress Study Club will be a Federation Day program with the other local study clubs as guests. This meeting will be October 12, with Mrs. James Davis, a charter member of the Century of Progress Study Club and third vice president of Caprock District, as the guest speaker.
