

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Charlie and I had been having a "discussion," it was never really heated enough to call it an "argument," about whether certain birds at Lake Mackenzie were Purple Martins or swallows. So I looked it up in one of our encyclopedias, and the article began, "Purple Martins are swallows . . ."

Mrs. Steve Cole, out at the Cactus Cove Marina, told me last summer that she believed the reason there aren't more mosquitoes at Lake Mackenzie is that there are so many Martins eating them. Martins are insect eaters, and if you will notice them, their main activities seem to be picking up mud or dust for their nests or swooping through the air, apparently catching insects.

We are very amateur bird watchers, but some of the birds we have enjoyed watching at Lake Mackenzie include blue quail, doves, mockingbirds, red-headed woodpeckers, road runners, field larks, house finches (linets), kingfishers, cardinals, cow birds. We have bird feeders that give us an opportunity to see many of these up close. We are in the process of installing a hummingbird feeder, and are anxious to know if we can attract these tiny little beauties at Lake Mackenzie.

While on the subject of wildlife, it has been a couple of weeks now since I have seen the aoudads, but many local people the past summers have been treated to the sight of them peacefully grazing along the canyon rim in the Tule crossing south of Lake Mackenzie.

The first time we saw them in that area last summer, they were grazing on top of Saddle Rock. We have spotted them numerous times this year, always on the east side of Highway 207, and along the edge of the canyon. Sometimes they will be on the sheer face of the canyon. This herd numbers about 15 to 20 head, there being a mixture of young and older animals. We've never seen them until just before the sun sets in the evenings, but it would be a good bet that you might be able to see them there in early mornings also.

We have been lucky enough to have field glasses with us when we've seen them, but in the past two weeks we've been carrying a camera with telephoto lens, and we've apparently jinxed ourselves.

Insects Abundant Due To Wet Weather

Thrips "like" young, stressed cotton. And if current cool, wet weather continues long into June, a lot of cotton from the Blacklands to the South Plains will be under stress from one source or another. Excessively wet fields, possible herbicide damage, seedling diseases and cool nights will all take their toll, points out Buddy Logsdon, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Watch for movement of thrips into late-planted cotton, especially from nearby maturing grain and hay fields that have just been cut. The 30-day weather outlook indicates that better growing weather for cotton is coming up, so perhaps the thrips problem will end. Thrips need not be controlled on vigorously growing cotton.

Fleahoppers from the Black-lands to the Rolling Plains will also be a problem until cotton makes good growth, says Logsdon.

June weather, on the average, will be on the dry side for all of Texas, according to the National Weather Service. Temperatures will be on the cool side in South Texas but are expected to be near seasonal levels elsewhere.

Cotton in South Texas, including the Lower Valley, is past the danger stage for thrips and fleahoppers but is heading into mid-season insect problems. Dry weather would help farmers, since cotton that is on the dry side is not as attractive to bollworms and tobacco budworms as lush cotton. Also, survival rates of eggs and young worms are lower in dry weather.

Boll weevils have a tougher time in dry weather, too. Squares that are shed tend to dry out before the boll weevil can complete his life cycle. Since most cotton growing areas have good moisture, the potential is set for mid-season insect problems.

Sorghum will have midge problems as a result of weather delays in planting, explains Logsdon. Some sorghum planting dates in the same area varied by more than one month. Regardless of June weather, past weather has set the stage for extensive midge control.

Greenbugs and cornleaf aphids have not been major problems so far in sorghum. Frequent, heavy rains in most central areas have effectively controlled these aphids. Watch out for population increases if the weather turns dry, though, cautions Logsdon.

Screwworm potential will remain high as long as mild, wet weather persists. Survival rates of pupae and adults are enhanced by moist soils and mild temperatures. Logsdon advises stockmen to take good care of herds, be careful to dress wounds from surgery, check stock frequently, and send suspect larvae samples to the Mission laboratory. Tick populations tend to be up in wet weather, so wounds from ticks will have to be treated.

Grasshoppers shouldn't be as big a problem this year although there has been some scattered buildups of lubbers in the Permian Basin and other West Texas areas. If the weather does turn dry in June, grasshoppers could become more of a problem; otherwise, wet weather should keep them largely in check, believes Logsdon.

Insects will continue to thrive on abundant grasses, wildflowers and other native plants as a result of a wet spring through most of Texas. Some may migrate into crops if a dry spell develops; otherwise, only one potential problem comes to mind. Peach growers need to control grasses and weeds in orchards to cut down on population potentials for leaf-footed plant bugs and stink bugs. These have moved into peach trees in the past and damaged fruit when their preferred food plants dried up.

Homeowners will continue to have insect problems until wet weather ends. Cockroaches, ants, termites, fleas and ticks all are favored by mild, wet spring and early summer weather. And, of course, mosquitoes are widespread, adds Logsdon.

What Think Ye?

I was moved by the following, by Thomas C. Darst, and I simply must pass it on to you.

"I am the best friend of mankind. To the man who prizes sanity, peacefulness, pure mindedness, social standing and longevity, I am a necessity.

"I am hung with sweet memories—memories of brides—memories of mothers—memories of boys and girls—memories of the aged groping their way down the shadows.

"I am decked with loving tears—crowned by loving hands and hearts. In the minds of the greatest men on earth I find a constant dwelling place.

"I live in the lives of the young, and in the dreams of the old. I safe guard man through all his paths — from the first hour life's sun slants upon his footprints until the purple gath-

A Texas Game Warden Profile

RONNIE AINSWORTH

When you think of local hunting and fishing regulations or water safety requirements in Texas, the first person to come to mind is the area Texas game warden and Ronnie Ainsworth of Plainview is the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department representative for Hale and Floyd counties.

Ainsworth covers two counties with as much variety of wildlife as any in northwest Texas including deer, quail, dove, pheasant, waterfowl and aoudad sheep.

Ainsworth is also familiar with northwest Texas as his home town is Vernon. He resides with his wife, Barbara, and 11-year-old Joey and 8-year-old Kimberly at 2001 West 18th in Plainview.

He has been with the law enforcement division of the P&WD for nearly six years since graduating from the game warden school in May of 1973.

Although the game warden doesn't receive many calls reporting violations or asking for local information, the officer can be contacted by calling 806 293-5688.

Ainsworth, as well as other Lubbock District wardens, work closely with other local law enforcement departments. Many times, the warden can be contacted by calling the local police or sheriff's department.

Ainsworth knows that his area covers many square miles and without the help of conscientious sportsmen and landowners, his job would be nearly impossible to perform. The officer asks that all game, fish and water safety violations be reported to him as quickly as possible by everyone.

ers in the west and darkness falls.

"I lift up the fallen. I strengthen the weak. I help the distressed. I show mercy, bestow kindness and offer a friendly hand to the man in fine linen and the man in homespun.

"I am the essence of good fellowship, friendliness and love. I give the gifts gold cannot buy, nor kings take away. They are given freely to all who ask and seek.

"I bring the freshness of life, the eagerness, the spirit of youth which feels that it has something to live for ahead. I meet you with outstretched arms and with songs of gladness.

"Some time—some day—some hour—in the near or far future, you will yearn for the touch of my friendly hand. I am your comforter and best friend.

"I am calling you! I AM THE CHURCH."

If the church could have the passion of the communist and the zeal of the early martyrs we would certainly witness a new triumphal entry of Christ into life.

The American farmer builds two things better than anyone else in the world. He builds the next generation, passing along a special kind of wisdom... respect for the soil, honesty, independence, and faith in the future. And he builds his land, leaving it better than he found it. That kind of building usually requires borrowed long-term capital. That's where we have helped for 60 years.

MRS. DAVE PATRICK

Formal Ceremony Unites

Miss Hardin, Dave Patrick

Miss Marilyn Hardin became the bride of Dave Patrick in a formal double-ring service performed by Rev. Bill Curry, Baptist minister from Andrews, at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 16, at the First Baptist Church in Silverton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hardin of Silverton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patrick of Quitaque.

A candelabra arch accented with greenery woven with spring flowers decorated the church altar and provided a background for the marriage ceremony.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style gown of candlelight soft-glow satin designed with round scoop neckline and long, full sleeves trimmed with double-edge lace and seed pearls.

She added a waist-length mantilla of Alencon lace and carried a large bouquet of spring flowers.

To carry out bridal tradition, she wore a gold locket belonging to her mother, carried a handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother and added a satin garter.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Linda Hardin of Amarillo. She was attired in a pink princess-style gown with deep ruffle collar and had matching silk flowers caught in her hair. She carried a single long-stemmed yellow rose.

Bridesmaids were Miss Melissa Greenhaw of Silverton and Mrs. Ramona Craddock of Hollis, Oklahoma. They wore green and yellow princess style gowns and had matching silk flowers in their hair. Each carried a long-stemmed yellow rose.

Little Miss Shelley Bethel of Cedar Hill, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Kelly Joe Patrick of Quitaque, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Randy Woods of Turkey. Groomsmen were Larry Curry of Quitaque and Lewis Willey of Littlefield. Guests were seated by Jesse Ferguson of Turkey and Don Douglas of Quitaque.

Mrs. Bena Hester of Silverton, sister of the bridegroom, played several wedding selections and accompanied Miss Ruth White, cousin of the bride, when she sang "If," "You Light Up My Life," and "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face."

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Refreshments were served by Mmes. Pam Monk, Kay Bethel and Mitchie Patrick. Also assisting with the reception were Mmes. Carolyn Lowrey, Sharon White, Lois Walker and LaRue Garvin.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Ann Payne, was in charge of securing the signatures of the wedding guests for the bride's book.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Quitaque.

REHEARSAL PARTY

A rehearsal party was hosted by the bridegroom's parents in the fellowship hall of the church Friday night.

Each year the lab provides an opportunity for outstanding 4-H Club members to receive training in leadership and program development. Participants are expected to assist local adult leaders in planning and conducting activities in local clubs. A team of older teen-age 4-H'ers will assist in conducting the training sessions.

Theme for this year's lab is "We'll Recreate and Play" (WRAP). Emphasis will be on teen leader training for recreational activities. These will include songs, new games, folk dances, disco dances, quiet games, vesper programs and other forms of physical and spiritual recreation.

Officers and delegates for the 1979-80 District 4-H Council will be installed at the lab. Earl Jarrett will be participating in the installation.

DEAR EDITOR:

Just a line to say how much I enjoy the News each week. I appreciate your sending to both Boise City, Oklahoma and Dalhart, Texas for awhile as we didn't get settled as soon as we thought—Shorty being sick and bedfast, in and out of hospitals and all, it took time. Although I've been away from Silverton for some 35 to 40 years, I still remember people there and think of them often. And through the years of visiting with brother Clifton and family, I've met a lot more nice people.

Again thanks,

It is no Secret...

One of the great joys that children have is in telling a secret. This is one way that secrets have of becoming known.

However IT IS NO SECRET what God can do for you. This was never intended to be a secret, for God wants all to know the good news.

Isaiah said: "The Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings ... to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord."

Attend church regularly and hear God's word preached.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

KIKER'S KORNER

Earnest Kiker

Briscoe County Extension Agent

Briscoe County producers and commercial pesticide applicators are reminded that certain pesticide products now on the market are restricted and available for use only by or under the supervision of certified applicators.

The Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) as amended provides for (1) classification of all uses of pesticides as either restricted use or general use and (2) establishes the requirement of certification of applicators (private and commercial) as a requisite to use or supervision of use of restricted-use pesticides.

The Texas Pesticide Control Act requires certification of commercial pesticide applicators but not of private applicators. However, the act authorizes the Commissioner of Agriculture to establish a program to certify private applicators on a voluntary basis who wish to use or supervise the use of restricted-use pesticides in compliance with federal law (FIFRA).

The term "private applicator" means a person who uses or supervises the use of any restricted-use pesticide or state-limited-use pesticide for purposes of producing any agricultural commodity on property owned or rented by him or his employer or, if applied without compensation other than the trading of personal services between producers of agricultural commodities, on the property of another person. The program established by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) enables a private applicator to become eligible for certification by completing an approved training program conducted by a qualified institution or training group or by home study including submitting a completed questionnaire to TDA following review of self-study material.

Training opportunities for persons seeking to qualify for certification as private applicators are provided through county Extension offices across the state. Persons may participate in training meetings conducted by the county Extension agent, or they may elect to qualify through home study using self-study materials available at the county Extension office. To date, more than 110,000 persons have participated in private applicator training through meetings or through home study option.

Commercial-noncommercial applicator requirements for certification include written examinations administered by the appropriate certifying agency. The term "commercial applicator" means a person who owns or manages a pesticide applicator business engaged in applying restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides to another's land. The term "non-commercial applicator" means a person or government agency or department which wants to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides or the authority to demonstrate restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides and does not qualify as a private applicator and is not required to have a commercial applicator's license. Commercial-noncommercial applicator training is provided by District Pesticide Applicator Training Committees located at Texas A&M University Research and Extension Centers. Training is provided through workshops and by previous appointment through an autotutorial system available at each location. To date, more than 6,000 persons have participated in commercial-noncommercial applicator training programs.

Persons anticipating the need to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticide products are encouraged to take advantage of these Extension training programs. Information regarding the private applicator program is available through the county Extension office. Persons interested in commercial-noncommercial applicator training may obtain program information by contacting Extension staff members located at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center, Route 3, Box 213AA, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Phone 806 746-6101.

CLEAN UP MOSQUITO BREEDING PLACES

Recent rains have brought a mosquito problem to many Texas communities. Standing water from these showers makes an excellent place for mosquitoes.

Mosquitoes can lay eggs wherever standing water is available for a week or longer. Old tires, tin cans, birdbaths, roadside ditches, rain gutters, temporary water containers and swampy places all can hold enough water to provide breeding sites for mosquitoes.

If mosquitoes are a problem, the first thing to do is eliminate their breeding sites.

Empty out old tires and place them where they cannot collect additional water. Flatten and discard tin cans. Change the water in birdbaths every week. Clean out rain gutters, remove temporary water containers and see that rain barrels and water storage tubs are tightly covered. Drain standing water from ditches and swampy areas.

If there is standing water that serves as a breeding site but cannot be drained or eliminated, treatment with a larvicide will be necessary.

One of the most effective larvicides is No. 2 diesel oil with a biodegradable spreader, applied at a rate of 20 gallons for each surface acre of water, or about six ounces per 100 square feet of surface.

Abate, malathion or Dursban applied to standing water at rates indicated on their labels also are effective larvicides. But labels should be read carefully to determine the hazards these insecticides pose to persons applying them and to fish and animals that may use the water.

Control of adult mosquitoes offers the most immediate relief. Inside the home, aerosol bombs containing pyrethrin is short-lived, frequent application will be necessary to control adult mosquitoes inside the house. The "pest strip" offers effective indoor control for long periods. One pest strip for each average size room is necessary to control mosquitoes.

Persons who are active where mosquitoes are a problem should use repellents which will protect you from biting mosquitoes from one to three hours, depending upon your type of activity.

Adult mosquitoes around the home can best be controlled by space or residual treatments of insecticides such as malathion, Dibrom, methoxychlor, or Dursban. Space treatments, generally fogs, have little residual activity and require repeating at frequent intervals. Space treatment should be done during the cool hours of the night or early morning and when wind velocity is less than five miles an hour.

Residual treatment applied as mists or sprays to resting sites of adult mosquitoes gives longer-lasting control than space treatments. These should be applied to vegetation, eaves of roofs, under porches, and similar shaded areas where adult mosquitoes rest by day.

Hot, dry summer weather should dry out these temporary pools of water and give people some eventual relief from these biting mosquitoes.

4-H ATTRACTS TEXAS YOUTH

Texas 4-H youth invite others to help them tackle more than 70 different projects this year—at home and abroad.

At-home projects have a "today feeling" as more than 137,500 youth in 4-H clubs and special-interest groups "learn by doing."

Projects include foods and nutrition, electricity, photography and shooting sports.

Clothing and textiles enrollment is 11,208 while 11,514 4-H'ers are in horse projects. Well over 36,000 have undertaken foods and nutrition projects.

While these traditional projects attract large numbers of 4-H youth, many new projects add another dimension to their range of learning opportunities.

On the road, citizenship projects take some 4-H members to Washington, D. C., for the annual National 4-H Citizenship Course and Heritage Tour while other 4-H'ers visit Japan as part of the U. S. —Japanese Labo Exchange Program.

Today's 4-H theme, "Freedom To Be," reflects a constant effort to help youth find new experiences that offer interest and challenge. This, in turn, helps them develop an enriched life-style—for life.

4-H leaders, in both urban and rural settings, number 22,552—of which 6,377 are 4-H aged youth. Leaders are older youth and adults who volunteer their

CORN RELEASE LEVEL REACHED

The USDA announced today the National average market price for corn has reached the release level.

This means producers may redeem corn in the grain reserve program by repaying the loan principal plus interest and refund any unearned advance storage.

This release period will be in effect through July 31, 1979 and USDA will continue to pay storage until then.

Another announcement will be made at the close of July and the average price at that time will determine whether or not the release period will continue.

Producers with reserve corn loans that have questions concerning this matter are urged to go to the local ASCS office for answers.

EMS Club Hears Program On Burns

Silverton EMTs reported transporting to Tulia over the weekend an 18-month-old child who had accidentally fallen into a campfire at Lake Mackenzie.

Among those attending the in-service training meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Whitehead and ambulance personnel from Tulia; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Davidson, Mrs. Phil Barefield, Elgin Conner and David Brunson, Quitaque; Emmett Tomlin, Jerry Patton, Ted Kingery, Stan Fogerson, W. J. Copeland, Anthony Kingery, Lynn Frizzell, Bill Boling, Mrs. Ted Strange, Mrs. Charles Sarchet, Jeff Jones, Mrs. J. L. To Head Cystic Fibrosis Campaign

Mrs. J. W. Lyon, jr. has accepted the chairmanship of the Annual Fall Campaign on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. She will be recruiting volunteers within the community to plan a "Breath of Life Campaign" to take place this Fall in Silverton. The purpose of this Fall Campaign will be to provide the community with information about Cystic Fibrosis and to raise funds to support research, education and care programs for children affected by cystic fibrosis and other lung-damaging diseases like severe asthma, chronic bronchitis and bronchiectasis.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children. Approximately one in every twenty Americans is a symptomless carrier of the recessive CF gene. Cystic Fibrosis is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene. At the present time, no cure for Cystic Fibrosis is known.

H. A. Cagle Is Camp Chairman

H. A. Cagle, owner of Silverton Auto Parts and chairman of the Silverton Salvation Army Unit Committee, has announced that he will assume the duties of the 1979 camp chairman for the Service Unit.

The camp chairman will be in charge of selecting two boys from ages eight to fourteen to attend The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle at Midlothian July 7-July 14.

All Texas communities are invited to send selected youths who would not otherwise get a chance to attend a summer camp. The camp chairman is responsible for selecting the boys. The Service Unit furnishes them with any clothing, toiletries or other items they might need, arranging medical examinations and providing them with $5.00 in cash. It also arranges transportation to and from the camp for them.

The local Service Unit guarantees local expenses in getting the boys ready. The Salvation Army Texas Division pays all costs of the camp itself, which offers swimming, hiking, athletic contests, and many group activities in each of four one-week sessions.

LINES FROM Y N D A

Lynda Fogerson
Assistant Briscoe County Extension Agent

When the heat is on, how do you react to pressure? Can you remain calm and collected, or do you become nervous and rattled? Anger and anxiety - provoking situations are the most challenging tests for a person's character and stamina.

When faced by a disturbing personal problem, men and women respond in different ways. Some will face the problem head-on with the purpose of getting to the root of the problem and realistically solving it. For others, the situation causes excessive eating, smoking, drinking and delaying activities. It takes a longer period of time for the second group to face the real situation, if they ever do.

One of the most common pressures that we face daily is peer pressure. Do you have difficulty expressing yourself adequately in a group? Even when you have a strong opinion, do you usually remain silent when a controversial subject is being discussed? Many of us find it difficult to discipline ourselves to stand up under life's inescapable pressures. Differences of opinions, values or beliefs are expressed by most of us daily. Learning to communicate our feelings and relieve pent-up stress is one of the most mentally healthful functions we can perform in our daily lives.

Stress is an important and inescapable part of life. Learning to live under everyday stress is a challenge to all. Relaxed, un-worried adults are an asset in family life. So is common sense.

A resource person from the MH/MR Center in Plainview will present a program on coping with stress—"Stretching Without Snapping"—at 7:00 p.m. in the Pioneer Room at the First State Bank, in Silverton on July 26. Mark this date on your calendar and plan your schedule so you won't miss this outstanding program.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burchard of Folsom, New Mexico and Virginia May were in Santa Barbara, California on June 15 to attend the funeral of their brother, Dick May, who died after having a heart attack while loading hay on June 9.

Mrs. Lorene Johnson flew to Oram, Utah June 9 and spent several days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sammie Payne and children. On June 13, Mrs. Johnson brought Josh and Angela Payne to spend the summer with their father, Stan Payne, in Plainview.

WORD POWER!

One of our popular publications, encourages the learning of new words, and in each edition prints a few words that we can add to our vocabulary.

Words have swayed thousands, even changed the course of history. It is through the use of words that men are saved.

"For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe..." "Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men."

Weed control in the home garden depends on garden size, kinds of vegetables being grown and types of weeds.

Weeds (any unwanted plants) compete with vegetables for soil moisture and nutrients. They have extensive root systems and flourish under a variety of conditions.

Effective control of weeds depends on how they spread. Crabgrass and other annual weeds survive by seeds. Perennial weeds such as bermudagrass and johnsongrass survive both by seeds and underground plant parts.

Seeds are transmitted by wind, water or animals. They may also reach the garden in improperly prepared compost, manure or other organic matter added to the soil.

Some weed seeds remain viable in the soil for years. They and underground storage parts contain stored food reserves to support weed seedlings until they emerge and are exposed to sunlight.

Herbicides or chemical weed killers are the least desirable home garden weed control. While they are a necessity in commercial crop production to reduce labor and achieve maximum yield, there are not enough chemicals with a wide enough margin of error to be used safely and successfully in home gardens. Also, most herbicides are effective on specific weeds in specific crops, and most gardens contain a variety of vegetables. Furthermore, herbicides are expensive; a gallon can cost $70 or more.

The best method is probably "hoeicide," using a sharp hoe. Most gardens are small enough to be weeded with a hoe or by hand pulling. This is most effective when done regularly and when weeds are small.

Mulching makes weed control easier. A three-inch mulch layer (after it settles) controls annual weeds from seed and prevents many weed seedlings from reaching light. Also, those that do push through are easier to pull.

Euonymus, a popular shrub in Briscoe County, is often damaged severely or killed by euonymus scale. These scale insects are found on the shrub's leaves, stems and trunk.

There are two or three generations each year. Scale insects spread to new foliage during the crawler stage which first appears during May. As crawlers begin to feed, a wax covering forms over the insect.

Summer oil will control adult euonymus scale. Malathion or diazinon added to a summer oil and water mixture will control crawlers. Two or three insecticidal applications may be required to control scale insects. Thorough coverage of the entire shrub is important.

Inspect euonymus 10 to 14 days following each insecticidal application. The waxy covering will remain on the plant even after scale insects have been killed.

Rub scales on a leaf or stem to determine if they are still alive. If a yellow liquid can be forced from the scales, they are still alive and another insecticidal application will be required. If only brown and white waxy scale coverings are removed when rubbing leaves and stems, the scale insects are dead.

Be sure to follow directions on the insecticide label when spraying for euonymus scale. Too much oil in the mixture can damage the foliage.

Texas horse owners should begin plans to vaccinate their animals against Eastern, Western and Venezuelan Encephalomyelitis. This sleeping sickness is caused by viruses transmitted by mosquitoes.

Early clinical signs of the disease are depression and high fever. Diminished reflexes, a drooping lower lip, reluctance to move and incoordination soon follow.

Horse owners should consult their veterinarians about vaccination against all types of the disease. Following the initial series, annual booster shots are required.

These vaccinations are worth the trouble since prevention is cheaper than treatment or losing a valuable animal. Since the course of the disease is short,

Quitaque Is Runner-Up In Community Improvement Contest

The Briscoe County community of Quitaque has been named runner-up in Region I judging in the Texas Community Improvement Program.

The community will receive $100 and a citation.

First-place in the 83-county region went to Follett in Lipscomb County. Other runners-up were Truscott in Knox County and Imperial in Pecos County.

Quitaque already had won $100 as District II champion community, making it one of the four finalists for the regional judging.

The Community Improvement Program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and several investor-owned utility companies in the state, including West Texas Utilities Company. It measures the accomplishment made by communities of 1,000 or less population toward specific goals during the year, Earnest Kiker, Briscoe County Extension Agent, said.

Judges for the regional contest were Mrs. Tommy Joyce Cunningham of Denton, retired Extension District Agent for Home Economics; Mrs. Barbara Elliott of College Station, County Extension Agent-at-Large, and Curly Hays of Abilene, with West Texas Utilities Company.

They toured each of the four district champion communities and rated them on eight categories. Those included community organization, community services and facilities, improving the community appearance and environment, and economic development and business management. Other categories were improving family living, citizen involvement, assisting other communities in organizing for improvement, and long-range planning.

The judges were limited by the contest rules to a two-hour visit in each community. At Quitaque, they began at the Community Center with an overview of the community, its goals and achievements. Making the presentation were members of the Community Improvement Contest steering committee, led by David Brunson and leaders of various improvement projects. The presentation was followed by a guided tour which included visits to the new Caprock Canyons State Park under development north of the city; new apartment project; city tennis courts, parks and lighted baseball field, and remodeled stores along Main Street.

The judges noted the city's effective yard and home beauti-

FERTILIZER BOOSTS PASTURE PRODUCTION

Too often the billfold guides pasture fertility, says Buddy C. Logsdon, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A good fertility program can increase the carrying capacity on any given pasture, believes Logsdon, and with current livestock prices, that can mean added profits.

Most summer or permanent pastures respond readily to a good fertility program. During excess growth periods, hay can be harvested, providing winter forage.

Logsdon says fertility is the one growth factor an individual can control compared to rainfall and temperature. However, not every pasture needs fertilization.

Native grasses such as Little Blue Stem, Big Blue Stem, Side Oats Grama, Indian grass and Switch grass don't respond as well to fertilizer as do improved pastures such as Coastal bermudagrass, Bahia grass, Kleingrass and Dallis grass.

Nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium are the major nutrients needed by pastures. According to research, minor elements aren't a problem in Texas.

About 50 pounds of actual nitrogen are needed to produce cation project, community activities for all ages and ethnic groups, and the vitality of its economy.

"This is a beautiful place to live, you are a beautiful group of people, and you have a beautiful philosophy," Mrs. Cunningham told the citizens. "To enter a contest to improve your way of living and lives of your children is the real prize."

one ton of dry matter. For every ton of hay, about 12-15 pounds of phosphorus are required. Plant growth response to potassium parallels that of nitrogen, so its application must also be similar.

Apply fertilizer during periods of moderate temperatures (70 to 90 degrees F.) and adequate moisture, such as spring, advises Logsdon. Late summer or early fall is the next best growing period because of the unusually dependable rainfall says Logsdon.

Moderate fertilizer applications twice a year spread the pasture's production over a longer time period. Also, nitrogen is made available throughout the year instead of only in spring, says Logsdon.

LEARN TO READ YOUR ELECTRIC METER AND SAVE!!!

It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time... an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured — by kilowatt hours (kwh) used.

Your residential electric meter will have either 4 or 5 dials

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as one (1) (see center dial above) then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero (0). However, read it as zero (0) if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read (from left to right): 9-3-1-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

The later reading is 9-3-1-3-8. Subtracting the first reading, 9315, from the new reading of 9318 — the answer is 3. Thus you would have used 23 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period. Each kwh costs approximately five cents.

When you learn to read your electric meter, you will be able to see where your energy dollars go... then learn to use energy wisely & save!
