WHOLE NUMBER 1910

WATERS VISIT SEVERAL TOWNS

Automobiles, carrying a number of men and women, accompanied by the Haskell Booster Band, left Haskell Tuesday morning on a booster trip for the Haskell Rodeo and Rodeo, which will be held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 27, 28 and 29th. The trip was made on the east side and was a most successful one. Banners and honking horns accompanied the square, turning into the square leading north for Weinert. The trip was reached at 10 o'clock. The band gave a concert, after which R. C. Couch in an eloquent address explained the purpose of the booster trip to the people of Weinert. He introduced Hackberry Slim, who was making the trip with the booster party and he in turn explained the purpose of the Rodeo which he is promoting in connection with the Fair. He gave the boosters a warm welcome.

The next city visited by the boosters was that of Kinnard, where the band in concert with the people from the stores, where E. Kinnard and Henry Alexander made interesting speeches, telling of the booster's visit to the fair and of the many attractions to be seen at the fair.

The people of Monday were invited to attend the special invitation to attend the speakers and they seemed very responsive. They told the boosters they were coming. Monday they had a drive over the best highways in this section of the county, arriving there at 12 o'clock. After the band concert on the main street by Jas. P. Kinnard and Mayor Couch and a short speech by Hackberry Slim the boosters went to the Cameron Lumber store where a table had been prepared for the ladies of the party. Tea and ice water were served to the ladies. Quite a number of city people were welcome guests at the luncheon. Dr. Green and Mr. Green in short speeches expressed appreciation of the visit from the boosters and promised that Knox City was among the visitors to the fair.

The boosters arrived at O'Brien where the usual band concert was given and the invitation extended to O'Brien people to visit the fair. After which Hackberry Slim gave a short outline of the program for the Rodeo. The boosters were warmly received at O'Brien. At 10 o'clock found the boosters at Rochester and the usual band concert was put on. Judge Kinnard, Hackberry Slim and Henry Alexander made speeches invited the people of Rochester to the fair and Rodeo. They promised to give a good account of the fair each day.

The next and last stop. On Monday the band gave a concert and looked for the usual speakers. They surprised the car that they had gotten out of commission and they were a few moments late. They were soon on the ground at the invitation to the people of the fair, and they are in squad formation. The party arrived home about 4:30 o'clock, having spent a very successful day with our friends in the booster cities. We extend to all an invitation to come to the fair and make it a success.

It is authorized to announce that one-third fare will be charged on the round trip to Abilene during the Haskell Fair, which will begin on September 24th. Tickets will be on sale from September 23rd to the 28th inclusive, by all agents in the Wichita Valley. The price from Haskell to Abilene and return is approximately $2.98, with final fare on Sept. 30th.

CONCRETE BRIDGES AND CULVERTS BUILT THIS YEAR

According to City Engineer H. J. Decker, the city of Haskell has during the year 13 concrete culverts and bridges in the city. This is a record for the city. The work was done by the city and shows that our people are using good judgment in permanent bridges and culverts where they are needed. It is a little more to put in concrete than to put in wooden bridges, but there is no expense of upkeep.

Decker returned Tuesday night from Rochester, where he visited his father, Mrs. O. N. Harcor for several days.

HIGH SCHOOL AND ALL STARS PLAY SCORELESS TIE

The Haskell High Grid Warriors opened the season last Friday on the local field with a hard fought game with the local All Stars which ended with a score of "0-0". Both teams fought hard to the final but neither team was able to put the pig skin over the opponents territory.

The All Stars team was composed of men from the city who have had their years in both High School and College football and are the locals who always back the High School teams. The All Stars had the weight on Coach Craig's men, but under the leadership of Jack Kirkpatrick, Craig had confidence in the men and they put up an extra good fight.

Coach Craig deserves much credit for the way in which he whipped his men in shape for this game in a week's time. He took two men who are playing their first year in the game and played them in the backfield—Bagwell and Henshaw two students who have only had four afternoons in football.

If the citizens of Haskell will back this team the local fans say Haskell will have one of the best teams she has ever had, and the first lesson in making a live team is to have the citizens of the town behind the school. The live school makes a live team, and a live team makes a live school, and Haskell is going to have both.

The officials of the game were: C. Sanders, Referee; McCollum, Head Linesman; Blacklock and Killingsworth, Time-keepers.

BOX SUPPER GIVEN AT WEAVER MONDAY NIGHT

A box supper was given at Weaver Monday night. A large crowd of people were present and lively interest was manifested throughout the occasion. More than $50.00 was realized from the sale of boxes, pies and cakes, which goes for the financing of a music class which is being taught by W. L. Mowrey who has recently moved to Haskell. A quartet by V. A. Brown, W. M. Free, W. L. Mowrey and R. E. Williams rendered several numbers to the appreciative audience. A cake was given to the most popular young lady, which proved to be Miss Estelle Field, with Miss Ella Mae Cox of Haskell running a very close second. Only a few votes were between the young ladies when the time was called.

EKINS APPOINTED CHIEF OF INHERITANCE TAX DIVISION

Clyde F. Elkins, lawyer of Haskell, has been selected to be chief of the state inheritance tax division in charge of enforcing the newly enacted inheritance tax law, State Comptroller Lon A. Smith has announced. Elkins has assumed his duties. Appointment of an assistant attorney general as inheritance tax attorney will be requested, it was stated.

Inheritance taxes are increased more than 50 per cent in some instances under terms of the new act. Construction of the act as to a number of details probably will be asked of the legal department in the near future. Elkins formerly was a member of the legislature, and county attorney.

Comptroller Smith stated that R. C. Lomax, formerly chief of the oil division, will be in charge of preparing monthly financial statements of the state government as provided by an act passed by the last legislature.

HACKBERRY SLIM ATTENDS BAYLOR COUNTY FAIR

Hackberry Slim, promoter of the Rodeo in connection with the Haskell County Fair, made a trip to Seymour Thursday to attend the Baylor County Fair where he says he will make final arrangements with other cowboys and also arrange for specific dates for the Indians to come into the city and be here for the fair dates. He says the Indians he will use will be Comanches and Kiowas.

He has completed all pens and chutes at the ball park and has it ready for the performance. All other things along this line Hackberry reports in first class condition.

The big carnival shows, according to a statement from the promoter, Hackberry Slim, will begin to arrive here early in the week and get ready for the opening day, Thursday September 27th.

He further states that Uncle Mike Ferry, chief broc buster of the old game, has been practicing up and is working out fine, and will be on the job with some real trick riding and exhibition stunts in the old-timer's parade.

Hackberry Slim expects to take part in the Baylor County Fair with the boys and will remain up there until the fair is over. He says he will add to his entertainment from the cowboys and cowgirls who are now attending the Baylor County Fair.

W. G. Ammons, a progressive farmer of Rule was in the city Saturday on business.

The two above described events will be wonderful in every respect.

PREPARE YOUR EXHIBITS NOW FOR THE COUNTY FAIR

You only have a part of one week now in which to prepare your exhibit for the Haskell County Fair—get busy. You'll be disappointed when you see that so many worthy citizens are taking home premiums, when in all probability your agriculture or poultry would have entitled you to one or more of the premiums. Look over your products today and decide to bring in an exhibit or two; it will help the fair; it may help you; it will prove your interest in important county affairs.

G. F. BURLISON MOVES TO LAMESA THIS WEEK

G. F. Burlison of Weaver has sold his farm, cattle and crop to Hardy Grimsom of this city and left with his family Thursday morning for Lamesa where he will make his future home. Mr. Burlison has lived in Haskell county several years and has always been active in all public matters for the good of his community, and he will be missed by his neighbors and friends. He renewed for the Free Press, which will follow him to his new home and tell him the news from Haskell county.

VISITS HASKELL IN REGARD TO STATE HIGHWAYS

Ernest G. Albright, Assistant Secretary of the Texas Highway Association was to have held a conference with the citizens of Haskell Tuesday morning, but owing to the booster's trip he called it off until some other time, when he will return to Haskell. Mr. Albright is campaigning the state on the Constitutional Amendment to the highway laws that was to have been voted upon July 28th. This amendment, Mr. Albright said, will give the state the authority to take over and build the state roads and maintain them under State control. That will give Haskell county one main State highway from Abilene to the north line of the State. Today the state has not the authority to build any road without the county voting bonds. Unless this amendment is passed Mr. Albright pointed out, the state will lose the Federal Aid after November 1926.

F. G. ALEXANDER & SONS MAKE NEW IMPROVEMENTS

F. G. Alexander & Sons have made extensive improvements in their ready-to-wear department. The entire rear part of their large store has been remodeled and made over for an exclusive ready-to-wear and millinery department. The department now has the appearance of a large department store. A department of this size and appearance is seldom seen in towns the size of Haskell and Alexander & Sons are to be complimented for this improvement to their progressive store.

The dresses, coats, and millinery on display in this department shows that Haskell people appreciate a department of this character.

MOTHER OF DR. L. F. TAYLOR DIES IN ALABAMA FRIDAY

Dr. L. F. Taylor of this city received the sad news Saturday that his mother, Mrs. M. J. Taylor, had died Friday night September 14th at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. E. Peck of Summerville, Alabama. She was 77 years of age when the summons came to her, after an illness of only about two hours. The end of her journey came as a surprise and a shock to her large family of children living in different sections of Texas and other states.

Mrs. Taylor became a Christian in early life and lived a consistent member of the Baptist Church for many years. It can be said by those that knew her that a noble woman has passed to her reward—a woman who was lovely and lovable, a woman who was useful and true. Deeply mourned by the hearts of many is the image of this sweet Christian woman.

The remains were shipped to Texas and the funeral was held in the First Baptist Church of Brownwood Tuesday September 18th, by Rev. E. A. Seranton, pastor, who was also a former pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. The body was then carried to Mullins and laid to rest in the old family cemetery beside her husband, who had preceded her. Eight of her eleven children were present at the funeral, including Dr. Taylor from this city.

Mrs. Taylor recently made a visit to Dr. Taylor in this city and she seemed to be in excellent health and spirits.

EXHIBIT BUILDING BEING ARRANGED

The committee in charge of exhibits for the Haskell County Fair have been busy this week arranging and remodeling the McNeill & Smith warehouse on depot street, where the exhibits for the fair will be placed. The interior of the large building is being remodeled and put in shape for the placing of the exhibits and booths. This building is much larger than the one used last year, and it will be attractively decorated throughout to the best advantage possible.

Remember the place, McNeill & Smith warehouse on depot street, and do not fail to see the many exhibits and booths while attending the fair.

TO FAIR PROMISES MANY THRILLING SPECTACLES

A colossal, thrilling and enchanting exhibition is the fireworks spectacle—"Scrapping the Navy," which will be seen at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition, October 1 to 7, inclusive.

The spectator sees before him a vast mimic scene of the Statue of Liberty, the sky-line of New York City, the shore batteries of Sandy Hook, and the monster battleships of the world, passing in their final review. He will see the mighty guns of the shore batteries grumble as they open fire on the one-time home of proud sailors and his very feet beneath him will tremble as tremendous explosions break the ships in two as they sink. The ingenuity and skill of the pyrotechnist, electricians and experts will be brought together at this point which is thrillingly "realistic." Here the spectator will find himself gazing only upon a mimic reproduction instead of awful reality.

The smoke will barely be cleared away when the second big event of the show begins—the big display of gorgeous fireworks. The display this year will be more elaborate than any ever seen in the Southwest. New devices and designs will be presented and the heavens will be filled with colored effects.

BRING YOUR BEST POULTRY TO THE COUNTY FAIR

This is your opportunity to get more advertising for your breeds of poultry than ever before in Haskell county. The Haskell County Fair promises to be the biggest fair ever held in the county. We are growing bigger in a financial way every year. There is a greater demand for the poultry we raise, especially of the better class. You are urged to select the best you have on your yard and bring them to the Haskell County Fair Sept. 27th, not later than 10 o'clock in the morning of the first day. Ribbons will be given and cash prizes will be awarded in the sweepstake show.

Be sure and be on time. Read the rules closely and get here early. Do not have your poultry cut out of the show by a few minutes, but let "Be on time" be your slogan with your exhibition birds. Do not let the thing happen to you that has been the case in so many instances when people were heard to say, "I had better birds on my yard than I saw at the show." If you have those good birds bring them along. Exercise the best public spirit that is within you and attend the Fair. Bring those good birds that you like to talk about after the fair is over. We believe they are on your poultry yard. We want you to bring them along.

SOCIETY and Club

Teachers Honored

One of the loveliest parties of the season was the one given by the P. T. A. Tuesday evening at the library, honoring the Haskell teachers.

Mrs. Kaigler had charge of the entertainment and she had all the teachers in line to meet the patrons. The feature of the evening was Judge and Mrs. Simpkins impersonated by F. L. Daugherty and Mrs. T. A. Pinkerton, who were dressed in 1880 costumes and acted the part to perfection. It created quite a bit of amusement when they inspected the new teachers.

Mr. O. E. Patterson, president of the board and Mr. M. H. Brasher, superintendent spoke on their hopes for the year. The young lady teachers were then given books and fished for the young men. Those caught were their partners for the rest of the evening. Then there was a very clever contest prepared by Miss Ruby Fitzgerald, who brought the name of every teacher in the school. This was gotten up in the form of poetry. After the program Mesdames O. E. Patterson, assisted by Mesdames Alvy and R. C. Couch and Misses Louise Kaigler and Marguerite McCollum served delicious home made cake and ice cream with plate favors of roses to Misses Kilgore, Sloan, King, Chambers, Bettie Lee Castles, Minnie Ellis, Verna Oates, Eugenia Graham, Eula and Mina Seelbach, Amelia Payne Riddle, Bolla, Alberta Smith, Carrie Sherrill, Mesdames M. NEWS EDITOR VISITS HOME OF MR. AND MRS. WILL CHASTAIN

The News Editor had the pleasure on Tuesday night Sept. 11th, to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Will Chastain from this city to their comfortable home in the Midway Community. Mr. Chastain is the Secretary of the Haskell County Turkey Growers Association. While a guest of this happy home, we took special notice of a large flock of Mammoth Bronze Turkeys, just about as good as you can find in the county. This demonstrates the fact that Mr. Chastain is practicing what he preaches. I do not think Mr. Chastain can lay claim to this flock altogether. Mrs. Chastain is his partner in business and of course she will come in for her share of the cash when the birds are sold. Of course they will be marketed through the Turkey Growers Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Chastain have a family of two boys and a girl. The harmony in this family is not merely four square feet of ground, but where it stands. We enjoyed the time we spent with them and we had eaten a good meal. Mrs. Chastain we had brought us back to our home safely at the end of our trip. Thanks to these, our friends.

American Public Service Co. Preferred Stock

From time to time, as financial requirements have demanded, it has been the policy of the West Texas Utilities Company to sell to its customers in West Texas the preferred stock of the American Public Service Company. The West Texas Utilities Company, as West Texas understands generally, is one of the constituent companies of the American Public Service Company, which has other subsidiaries operating in East Texas and in Oklahoma.

Obtaining stockholders in West Texas have already become familiar, through promptly paid quarterly dividends, with the American Public Service Company's dependable financial record, while customers in West Texas are familiar with the West Texas Utilities Company's splendid growth and development.

Expanding impressively—yet solidly and substantially—this development has been made possible through the financial service rendered by the American Public Service Company. Since January 1, 1921, $3,171,033 of new money has been expended in this West Texas development, so that, today, Central West Texas has in the West Texas Utilities Company one of the finest operating companies in the United States, with its physical properties in superlatively fine condition.

Noteworthy in this expansion has been the rebuilding of transmission lines, the remodeling of the Cisco electric generating and ice station, the erection of the modern and model office building at Baird, Tuscola, Albany, Hamlin, Haskell and Munday, the building of a new ice plant at Hamlin and of a new power station at Stamford, the purchase, rehabilitation and electrification of the Roby & Northern Railroad (which, while a short line, is assured of a profitable freight business), the complete rehabilitation of the gas distribution system in Abilene, the erection of a central power station and of a general office building in Abilene, and the extension of transmission lines to approximately a score of new communities.

In East Texas and in Oklahoma, the American Public Service Company's subsidiaries have developed similarly, and these other constituent companies, together with the West Texas Utilities Company, unite to make American Public Service Company preferred stock one of the most attractive and safest of utility securities ever offered for sale to the public.

American Public Service Company preferred stock is now offered for sale by the West Texas Utilities Company, and it will be sold for cash, or, if the investor prefers, it may be purchased for $10.00 a share at the time of subscription, and $5.00 a share per month until fully paid.

Interest at the rate of 7 per cent will be paid on such monthly installments.

Stock may be purchased at any office of the Company, or through any employee of this Company.

SCHOOL NEWS

The first week of school was a very successful one. The pupils got down to good work at once. This year will be a wonderful school year in the Haskell Schools if the parents will at once get down to brass tacks and do their duty toward their children. It is absolutely necessary that this home work be well done five nights out of each week. There is a great drawback to our work in the fact that a great many of our high school pupils and upper grade pupils do not put adequate preparation on their Monday's lessons and as a result, with many of them, the day is practically lost and the work of the entire system is hampered. The parents should see that their lessons are prepared before Monday. Unless this is done the grades of their children will not by any means be what they should be and this neglect will be the cause of a great many failings. So parents if you are really interested in the true welfare of your children you will heed this advice. The parents that really control their children and see that they perform all their tasks efficiently are the true parents and they are the ones that will rear to maturity splendid men and women. They are the ones that say "no" at the proper time and stick to it.

On account of the fact that our first grade teachers have not the time to constantly start classes of beginners a child that has never been to school before will be admitted into the first grade after the first six weeks of school. If we were to admit beginners into the first grade at all times, it would be impossible for the primary teachers to prepare first grade children for promotion to the second grade at the end of the school year. This is a rule that is carried out in all first class school systems and it was carried out in the Haskell Schools last year.

Parents are earnestly requested to visit the schools at any time. In this way they show their interest in the schools. This is an encouragement to the teachers and the children. Show the teachers of your children that you appreciate what they are doing for your children.

We want to earnestly urge all parents of High School pupils to give a little of their money, time and interest to the various school activities of their children, such as football, basket ball, Glee Club, orchestra, the literary societies, the debating club, etc. It is these organizations that give life, interest, spirit and zest to school life. They create the atmosphere and environment that cause our children to enjoy school life. Without these activities school would be a drudgery and our children would have no interest in their work and many of them would drop out of school. These activities also develop well-rounded characters and citizens of our children. So when they ask you for money for these activities feel that it is the best investment you can make. You are investing it into the lives of your children.

Also show your interest in your children by attending the games and other school affairs. Last Friday afternoon at the football game between the High School team and the town team there were only four parents out to the game. With this kind of interest in our boys and girls we can not build up the school spirit and interest that should exist in Haskell in order to make Haskell a great school town, which is the only show Haskell has of growing into a larger and more attractive and prosperous town. If for no other reason, this is the reason that all citizens of Haskell should back their schools to the limit. Injure the schools of Haskell and immediately would you deal a serious blow to property values and business in Haskell. So we are going to expect all citizens of Haskell to back the schools and their activities with a little of their money and their influence as a good business investment as well as a good investment in human souls and good citizens of the future. Buy our Athletic tickets and tickets to our entertainments and thus show your appreciation for what these schools are doing for your town and the children of Haskell.

Junior Class Organizes

The Junior Class of the Haskell High School held their first meeting of the year Wednesday for the purpose of organizing and electing officers. Miss Kilgore, the Class Sponsor, took charge and the following officers were elected: Bailey Taylor, President; Eileen Smith Vice President; Kathryn Smith, Secretary and Treasurer; and the president appointed the following on the Committee for Social Entertainment: I. D. Killingsworth, Clay Smith, Eileen Smith and Kathryn Smith. All the business was discussed and colors selected and a committee appointed to arrange the dues for the year.

An Error

It was stated in the write up of the Bear Cat Literary Society last week that they were on the trail of the Curtains for they won the Debating and Declamation Cups, but there is a mistake on the part of the writer and it is corrected, as the Curtains won the Declamation Cup only and the Bear Cats won the Debating, as the two young ladies who went to Austin in the Interscholastic Contests were Miss Joan Irby, a Bear Cat and Miss Mary Ella Pace, the president of the society, and they won for the Bear Cats not only the local cups but many district and state cups.

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM THE CITY OF RULE

(Special Correspondent)

Construction work on the new Rule High School building has been progressing a little more rapidly this week. The work has been delayed for some time because of the lack of steel and crushed stone for the re-inforced concrete foundations. With no further delays the building should be ready for occupancy by the first of March. The building will be of three story brick construction and will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of fifty thousand dollars.

The Philadelphian Club entertained the teachers, trustees and patrons of the Rule school with an open air reception on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones last Friday evening. The lawn was well lighted by electric lights while on the front porch the Rule Orchestra furnished delightful music.

The teachers were introduced in chautauqua style by Miss Della Foster, teacher in the Rule school for the last several years. The following teachers were introduced: Supt. C. B. Breedlove formerly of Granbury, Prin. T. J. Ratliff, formerly of Sagerton, Miss Jones of Abilene, Miss Simpson of Denton, Miss Maddux of San Angelo, Miss Hogue of Sweetwater, Miss Reeder of Knox City, Miss Burton of Chillicothe, and Miss Heathington of Sagerton.

Punch was served to about one hundred guests. The welcome address to the new teachers was made by Mr. Joe Jones. Mr. Jones stated that this was the first time in the history of Rule that the people had ever turned out in such numbers to welcome the new teachers. He extended a sincere welcome to the teachers to consider themselves at home in Rule and pledged the town to make their stay as pleasant as possible. Supt. Breedlove on behalf of the teachers expressed their appreciation of the welcome given them and promised to aid the town in giving Rule the kind of school which she deserves.

Cotton fields in the Rule community have been damaged considerably by web worms in the past week. Some of the farmers have been poisoning them with a formula furnished by the A. & M. College with success. It has been estimated that the damage will run as high as one-third of the entire crop. Until this plague struck the prospects were said to have been the best since 1900.

The Rule Parent-Teachers Association has been organized with a membership of twenty-three. The officers are Mrs. E. B. Harris, president; Mrs. J. A. Cassie, Secretary-Treasurer. Three vice president to be chairmen of the three standing committees were also elected. More people are urged to become members. The Association will meet on alternate Friday afternoons in the High School Auditorium. The meetings will alternate with those of the Philadelphian Club.

A new Ford coupe belonging to Dr. H. C. Weaver was stolen last Saturday night and driven out of town a short distance and stripped of all removable accessories. The car was found early Sunday morning by Rule officers. The doctor's instrument cases which were in the car were not disturbed.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect the Head
Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness or ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, Inc.

Hi School Eleven to Knox City
The Hi School Eleven is scheduled to play the Knox City High School eleven Friday, and this is expected to be a very interesting game, as the two schools are old rivals.

The High School asks as many of the town fans who are interested in the football team to accompany this team to Knox City.

Grover Bergdoll shot a man who was trying to kidnap him. Now that Grover is no longer afraid to carry a gun why not bring him back over here and put him in the standing army for life?

Sometimes it looks as if about half the men in this country were trying to get the world to go to smash, and the other half were wishing that it would.

After a man gets into a hole it's surprising how many people could have told him what path he might have taken in order to avoid it.

Married people would do well to remember that neighbors always know more about you than they let on like they do.

After an editor has had 25 years experience during him to print it doesn't have much effect on him either one way or the other.

Did you ever hear of a man losing a lawsuit who didn't think he could have conducted the case better than the lawyer?

It always seems that the fellow who is determined to make a nuisance of himself is among the first to get down town in the morning.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment is an unnatural condition, even though statistics tell us that "normally" a large amount of idleness always exists. Putting aside the selfish causes of unemployment, such as a desire to keep "an anxious labor market," the principal cause is our ignorance how to use the surplus man power of the world. It is available but not utilized. That in itself convicts society of bad management. Curiously enough the cure may come by the development of horse power. We use all the horse power we develop, and modern industry discovers that one horse power employs one man and thus supports one family. Mechanical power and human employment seem to go hand in hand—where you develop the one you must have the other. Let this be remembered when the question of employing all our people is considered.—Henry Ford.

The waves are mightier than armies. In the Pacific the other day the mad waves destroyed seven of Uncle Sam's war boats. This is a larger number of boats than Uncle Sam ever lost in a sea fight. Spain once had a navy she believed could whip England's. The Spanish navy might have triumphed but while it was under sail to meet the English ships the Invincible Armada of Spain was destroyed by a storm. More Japanese were killed by a quake of the earth last week than any army ever lost in a battle. We think of the destructive power of "rocking tube and iron shard," but these are mere pop guns when compared to the destructive power of the elements.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT BODY ORGANIZES FOR ATHLETICS

At the assembly period Thursday the time was given over to the organizing of an Athletic Association, and he following were elected officers: Gilbert Smith, president; Clay Smith, vice president; Couch Craig secretary and treasurer, and Mr. Brasher made the motion that the president do the writing of the games and other events. The president took charge and the roll was made in which the Freshman Class took the lead in enrollment of 100 per cent, and they also have a larger enrollment than any other class in the school, the Seniors following very close with the Juniors next, and then the Sophomores.

Mr. Brasher set an example by buying two of the Citizen's Season Tickets and being second in the race to sign up and pay the dues for the Association, being led by Mr. Lash.

This organization set the dues at Fifty Cents for the year and this entitles the members to one game free, but the honor of being a member is that you are boosting the High School in the Athletics as well as helping to make this the best school in this section of the state.

With the support of the citizens as well of the students Haskell is going to put over all forms of athletics not only the football, but all the other events: Basket Ball, Track, Baseball, and last but not least, Declamation and Declaiming.

No high school is complete without some sort of an organization similar to this Student's Association, for it keeps up the interest and they will show the proper school spirit which they manifested in the meeting Thursday afternoon.

Let every parent see that their children take an interest and also take an interest yourself. You will have a chance to buy your season ticket, and when you do buy one don't be one of the class that will say, "Well, I gave 50c last year," but remember, civilization is now progressing and the money is at the foot of all such events, but buy a ticket and come out to all the games and see the real spirit shown on the part of the student body.

RADIO

GREAT DISCOVERY OF EDWIN H. ARMSTRONG

Arrangement by Which Local Plate Current is Fed Back to Grid Circuit.

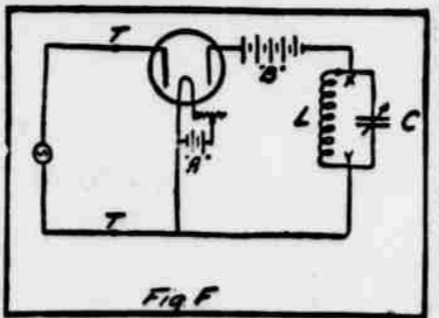

An ordinary three-electrode vacuum tube used as a detector in a circuit where the input is connected to the grid and the output taken from the plate circuit will give amplification of from 5 to 15. Adding to this amplifying action the stability of adjustment of the tube gave the tube preference over the crystal detector.

However, it was not until Edwin H. Armstrong made his great discovery of a circuit arrangement which fed back a portion of the large local plate current into the circuit through which the incoming signals arrived, thereby greatly amplifying the strength of the signal, that the vacuum tube reached its now recognized position of superiority as a detector of radio signals.

The circuit arrangement by which energy from the plate circuit of a three-electrode vacuum tube is fed back to the grid circuit is known by a different name, though, on account of the different names used and the different circuit arrangements used to accomplish the same results, amateurs are very apt to become confused. Some of the names given to the circuits which feed energy from the plate circuit to the grid circuit are "Feed Back," "Regenerative," "Tickler," "Tuned Plate" and "Ultra-Andion."

In Fig. F is shown a three-electrode vacuum tube with an alternator furnishing an alternating difference of potential to the grid circuit at T-T. The plate circuit of the tube is connected to a circuit containing an inductance L and a capacity C which together form a tuned circuit between the points X and Y. By adjusting the value of the variable condenser C, the natural period of the circuit between X and Y can be made to have the same frequency electrically as the alternating current supplied to the grid at T-T by the alternator. When this condition is reached the tuned circuit between the points X and Y becomes an infinite inductance in the external plate circuit. The potential variations between X and Y are now a maximum and are exact amplifying reproductions of the potential variations applied to the grid circuit by the alternator.

Going back to the simple type of standard loose coupler hookup for a vacuum tube, we will have a circuit arrangement as shown in Fig. G. Suppose that the principle of the circuit arrangement of Fig. F be applied to the circuit arrangement of Fig. G. The result will be Fig. H. In Fig. H the inductance M has been placed in the secondary circuit and the inductance N has been placed in the plate circuit.

When the coils M and N are widely separated Fig. H is essentially the same as Fig. G. An incoming radio signal impresses a small difference of potential on the grid of the tube in Fig. H which in turn liberates a large amount of energy in the plate circuit. As the coil N is brought nearer the coil M some of this plate circuit energy is transferred to the grid circuit. This reinforcement, electrically, of the incoming signal by energy transferred from the plate circuit to the grid circuit by the coupling between the two coils M and N, causes an increase in the energy liberated in the plate circuit. Coupling the two coils M and N closer and closer will cause greater and greater amplification of the incoming signal until a point is reached where the energy fed back from the plate circuit is just equal to the losses in the secondary circuit.

An increase in the coupling between the two coils M and N will cause the tube to oscillate. By changing the tuning of the secondary circuit, the frequency of the tube oscillations will be slightly different from the frequency of the incoming oscillations due to the received signals, and the beat note will be heard in the phones. The pitch of the beat note will be the arithmetic difference between the frequency of the incoming oscillations and the oscillations furnished by the oscillating detector tube.

The human ear is most sensitive to a note corresponding to 1,000 vibrations per second or electrically to a note produced by 500 cycles. Suppose the received signal was on a 200-meter wave length of 1,500,000 cycles. By adjusting the circuits so that the tube would oscillate at a frequency of 1-500,000 or 1,499,999, the best note would be 500 cycle pitch or a 1,000 vibration note.

This beat method of reception is used to receive modulated or continuous wave signals and is called the "heterodyne" method. When the same tube is used to perform the functions of a detector and an oscillator, the method is termed the "antodyne" method.

PERFORMANCE TEST METHODS

Rules Are Drawn Up by Bureau of Standards for Investigation of New Apparatus.

Owing to the very large demand which has arisen for simple radio receiving sets, many retail dealers in other lines of work have taken up the handling of such equipment. It is very difficult for such dealers to decide whether sets offered by the manufacturers are of good or poor quality says Radio Merchandising. The whole art is so new and some of the questions involved are so technical that the problem presents considerable difficulties.

As a consequence, the Department of Commerce, and particularly the bureau of standards, has received a great many requests for tests of such apparatus. As it is impossible for the bureau to conduct all the work of this nature which it would be called upon to perform, it has drawn up rules covering performance test methods which are to be carried out by the Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York in co-operation with the National Retail Dry Goods association, the latter representing the retailers of radio receiving sets. As the work develops, suggestions regarding improvements of methods of testing will be subject to the approval of the bureau of standards.

The tests outlined include: Investigation as to the material and workmanship, the mechanical and electrical design, simplicity of adjustment, ruggedness, sensitivity, sharpness of tuning, wave length range and faithfulness of reproduction in radio-telephone reception.

TIPS TO THE RADIOIST

Dr. Marconi cites as one of the future benefits of radio the ability of a man to talk with his wife without others being able to listen in. Some of us who live in apartments and have to listen to the nightly dialogues of the Jarr family will hope that they will arrange to use radio at no late date.

No better example of the versatility of radio can be cited than its use for transmitting Chinese music.

The city fathers of Newark, N. J., are framing a law to tax all possessors of radio sets $1 a year.

It is reported from Washington that President Harding has a powerful radio set installed in the White House.

The barbers have evidently talked themselves out and are now resorting to radio so that their customers may feel at home. The wave with the shave.

What a royal plant it is! The world waits in attendance on its growth; the dewdrops that fall whispering on its leaves are heard around the earth. The sun that shines upon it is tempered with the prayers of all the people. The breeze that chills it and the dew that descends from the stars are noted, and the compass of a little worm upon its green leaf means more to England and the English homes than the advance of the Russian army upon the Asian frontier. It is gold from the time it puts forth its faintest shoot. Its foliage decks the sunny earth in emerald and green. Its blossoms reflect the brilliant hues of sunset skies in southern clime and puts to shame the loveliest rose, and when descending its snowy fleeces as the sun it sheds a banner that glorifies the field and the humble farmer, that man is marveled under a flag that will compel admiration of the world and ring tribute from every nation of the earth. Its fibers are current in every bank of all the world. Its oils add luxury to lordly banquets in noble halls and bring comforts to lowly homes in every clime. The fiber gives to man a food richer in health-producing value than any the earth has ever known. Its curative power, long sought and found in nothing else. Its wool is feed for every beast that brows to do man's labor from Norway to brown peaks to Africa's parched plains. It is a heritage that God gave to those people when he crested the skies, entwined our mountains, girded us about with oceans, tempered the sunshine and measured the rain. Ours and our children's forever and forever—and no princelier talent ever came from His omnipotent hand to mortal stewardship.—Henry W. Grady.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE BOOTLEGGER

Nearly everybody has it in for the bootlegger. He is regarded as a criminal too far beneath contempt to slander. Yet, in spite of what can be said of him, he has his patrons and his customers. They sustain him, maintain him, succor him, protect him, defend him and become particeps criminis with him by refusing to betray him. They stand by him even to perjury. He gets them into trouble by the stuff he sells them. They get sick for him, they pay fines for him, they die for him. No king ever had subjects with the aggregate of loyalty displayed by those who come under the spell of the bootlegger, the blind pigger. Except for them he could not exist a week. Except for them he would have to work for a living. Except for them their government would save a million a year it now spends trying to catch him. Who, then, is the worst sinner against law, the government and society, the bootlegger, or he who buys from him?—Exchange.

ARE YOU AS MUCH AS FIFTY PER CENT HONEST?

It is impossible to say whether dishonesty is increasing or decreasing in the world. In America it seems to be increasing. That may indicate either that the moral tone is lower in all of us, or that American morality is being diluted by an influx of lower morality from outside. The increasing amount of dishonesty may not mean that the man we know is abandoning his principles; it may mean that the community is receiving a larger proportion of dishonest individuals than it ever had before.

This latter view is the more comfortable, and yet it would be difficult to maintain. No doubt the community record for honesty is greatly lowered by the influx of aliens of lower standards, but there is also a laxity apparent in our own generation. Where so many dishonest practices are apparent it is easier for men to create a gray neutral ground to take the place of the strict line between black and white.

The instances here given are taken from the eastern part of the country, a fact which should be borne in mind when drawing conclusions. In a famous eastern educational institution, the professor of psychology wished to make an experiment. He caused the 500-odd students patronizing the college cafeteria to be "short changed" five cents each at luncheon on a certain day. Of the 500-odd men only three failed to return and to demand their money.

On another day, several months later, he caused the 500-odd students to be "overcharged" five cents each. Out of the entire number only fifteen called attention to the error.

An eastern transportation company hires 8,000 men a year to keep 3,000 honest employees. Of the number hired, 5,000 are detected stealing money. The men would probably resent that way of stating their fault. They don't think of themselves as thieves. The gray neutral smudges their strict sense of black and white in morals.

Roger Babson says that when the nation is even fifty per cent honest, it gets along wonderfully well. It is something of a question—Are we fifty per cent honest? And what changes would the strictest honest require?—The Dearborn Independent.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-natured" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity,—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headache and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. But what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.) 28-13c

The Personal Side

Influenza Rag-Time
 "Where are you going, my pretty maid? I'm going to sneeze, sir," she said.
 "At who? At who? At who?" said he.
 "A-choo! A-choo! A-choo!" said she.

He's Not the Only One
 The speaker waxed eloquent and after his peroration on women's rights, he said:
 "When they take our girls, as they threaten, away from the co-educational colleges, what will follow? What will follow, I repeat."
 And a loud masculine voice in the audience replied:
 "I will."

Virtue a Necessity
 Doctor—Hereafter you must avoid cabaret life and eat simpler foods.
 Patient—Yes, doc. I realized that the moment I saw your bill!

Not for a Nickel
 It was in a country store in Arkansas a one-gallon customer drifted in. "Gimme a nickel's worth of asafetida." The clerk poured some asafetida in a paper bag and pushed it across the counter.
 "Cha'ge it," drawled the customer.
 "What's your name?" asked the clerk.
 "Honeyfunkel."
 "Take it," said the clerk. "I wouldn't write asafetida and Honeyfunkel for five cents."

In Black and White
 The superintendent was addressing the Sunday School and explaining the significance of white.
 "Why," he asked, "does a bride desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?"
 As no one answered, he went on: "Because white stands for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous event in a woman's life."
 "Please, sir, why do the monks wear black?"

The Child Was Eight
 The teacher was giving the kindergarten class a lesson in natural history. Turning to one small one, she inquired:
 "What do elephants have that no other animals have?"
 "Little elephants," was the surprising reply.

Biting High
 William J.—How did you get that on your head?
 Souze—Musta-bite-myself.
 William J.—How could you bite yourself up there?
 Souze—I gesh I musta stand on a chair.

The Danger
 "Why don't you advertise?"
 Town Storekeeper: "No, siver. I did it once and it pretty near ruined me."
 "How was that?"
 "Why, people came in and bought darn near all the stuff I had."

A Wish
 "I have taken Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak, too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of
CARDUI
 The Woman's Tonic
 and her condition was much better."
 "We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us."
 "I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work."

HELP HASKELL

Building a city is the work of every business man and citizen in that city. If new capital comes here or if industries now here expand and grow this company and every other business in the city will benefit.

To keep up with and ahead of the business growth of Haskell this industry must grow. As this industry grows bigger every citizen will benefit through our increased expenditures for supplies, labor and taxes.

No town can make progress without efficient public utilities. It can not attract outside capital or new people. Such a town is not a good place to live in. It is not a good place to do business in.

So—the interests of this company and the interests of Haskell are just the same. Whatever helps one helps the other.
