MICHAEL KERN

CYNTHIA EDWARDS

Wins Trip To Washington, D. C.

December 18, Cynthia Ann Edwards of Silverton and Michael Kern of Nazareth won the all-expense-paid Government-In-Action Youth Tour contest sponsored by Swisher Electric Cooperative. Cynthia and Michael won a 12-day trip to Washington, D. C. in June by winning a speech contest held at the cooperative's offices in Tulia.

The contestants' speech subject centered on the electrification of rural areas and the need for continued development of electrical generating sources. The wealth of information that had to be covered in a relatively short 5-8 minutes made for some tough speech competition, followed by each contestant having to answer some penetrating questions from a panel of three judges.

Cynthia, a junior in Silverton High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Edwards. She is a 1979 Gold Star Award winner from Briscoe County and was runner-up in the state fashion revue that year, winning top place in the cotton division.

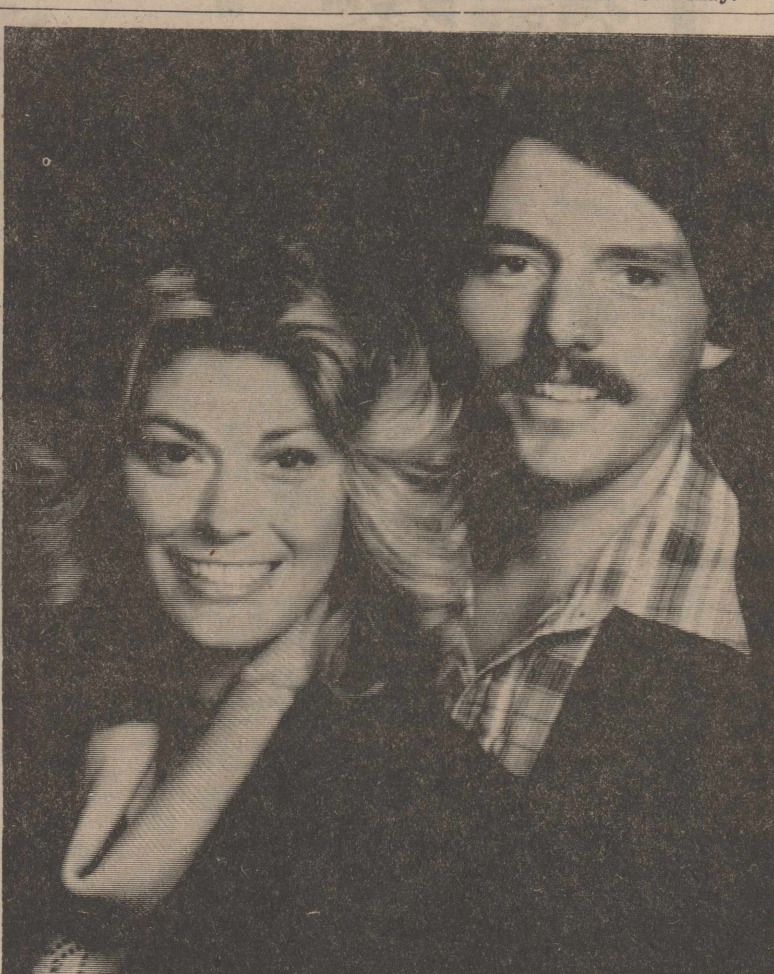

Cynthia is also in National Honor Society, is an officer in the Future Business Leaders of America, Science Club and Future Homemakers of America and is the reigning Miss Mackenzie. She is involved in the ULL one act play and has been named best zone actress. She is also involved in 4-H horse show competition and has been in the State 4-H Horse Show. She represented Texas in the American Junior Quarter Horse Finals in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and has participated in the All-American Quarter Horse Congress in Columbus, Ohio.

Michael, a junior at Nazareth High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kern. He is on the varsity football and tennis teams, has been in band three years, and is also in the Drama Club. He has been a class officer for three years, having served two years as class vice-president, and one year as treasurer.

Cynthia and Michael will congregate in Lewisville on June 12 with approximately 30 other winners of similar contests sponsored by other Texas rural electric cooperatives. The statewide association headquarters for all Texas RECs, Texas Electric Cooperatives in Austin, chaperones the entire trip, schedules all the sightseeing and arranges for each youth to visit his congressional representative. The Texas group is in Washington the same week approximately 900 other youth sponsored by RECs all over the country are there. It's an experience none of the youth ever forget as many new friends are made during the course of 12 days.

Judges for the contest were H. M. Baggarly, regular columnist of the Tulia Herald; Stan McClendon, Lighthouse Electric Cooperative in Floydada, and Debra Canterbury, speech and theatre instructor at Plainview High School. Dr. Sue Park, head of the English Department at West Texas State University, graded the essays each contestant had to write as part of their total score.

We pause this day to give a prayerful thanks to each of the children and especially to Duane Reynolds, teacher, and Russell Bingham, class president, who presented the gift.

COAL FIRED PLANT—
 The office building has been occupied by the plant manager Ben Green and the senior engineer Earl Zwickey. There are presently about 650 people, both construction and SPS personnel, at the plant location.

 Tolk, like all of Southwestern's plants constructed since 1952, is designed and engineered by Southwestern personnel. No two units have been built exactly alike but the first and second unit at Tolk will be very similar. However, if new technology is introduced which would make the second unit more efficient or easier to operate, then changes would be made.

Southwestern is one of very few electric utility companies in the United States that design and engineer their own plants. This procedure has proven to be very efficient and economical—so economical in fact, that Southwestern's plants are built for about one-half of the national average per kilowatt. And when you consider that the first unit at Tolk will cost well over $200-million, the savings to Southwestern's customers becomes apparent.

For the last few years, Southwestern has put a new unit on the line about every two years but each unit takes longer than two years to construct. When the third unit at Harrington Station near Amarillo went on the line last summer, Tolk Station had been under construction for over two years.

Tolk, like Harrington, will be a coal-fired plant and will use a baghouse filter system for emission control which operates on much the same principal as a vacuum cleaner.

Tolk will be equipped with a Direct Digital Control (DDC) system. Harrington III has a DDC

The coal-handling facility at Tolk will feature rotary-dump cars. The railroad cars, moving through a dumping building located over the coal stackout hopper, will be turned upside down while still attached to cars in front and back. The rotary-dump cars are five to seven tons lighter than the bottom-dump cars used at Harrington Station and will carry more coal while remaining within the maximum gross weight per car. The conveyors are now being assembled on the coal-handling facility.

The largest single piece of equipment, the generator - stator, is scheduled to be shipped from East Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, the last of this month. This Westinghouse generator, weighing 385 tons, will be shipped by rail on a special rail car owned by Westinghouse.

When Tolk goes on the line, it will have a capability of 543,000 kilowatts and will be Southwestern's largest single unit. This one unit will generate more electricity than any of Southwestern's gas-fired plants and considerably more than a single unit at Harrington. Tolk will generate enough electricity to supply a city of 225,000 people.

One unit at Tolk will burn 296 tons of Wyoming coal per hour, 6,104 tons per day, 2,592,960 tons per year. Four trains per week, each composed of 110 cars, will be required to supply coal to Tolk.

Just where will you be when you get to where you're going? Many are like pinballs which respond only to the next thump.

Imagine a being from another planet coming here to see how "Christians" live. Would he conclude quickly that actually we "seek first" whom we'll marry, recreation and vacation plans, what we'll eat, wear, live in, ride in, and work at?

I've read that Mr. Heinz of "57 varieties" posted an office wall motto: "God first, people second, pickles third."

Let God's truths help you organize 1981!

A stitch in time OR Elias Howe was a SEW-SEW inventor.

When Howe invented the sewing machine in 1846, he really got needed. Some tailors said a machine could never replace hand work, or so it seemed. But a few followed the thread of Howe's thinking. An automatic stitcher worked faster and more consistently, and the results were highly profitable.

Which happens to be the same reason folks today sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan. It's tailored to let you buy U.S. Savings Bonds automatically. And that makes saving faster and more consistent. With results that are highly profitable.

So, save regularly with U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll have your future all sewn up.

Series B Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/4% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
