ANNIVERSARY OF THE HICKEY MURDER CASE

Looking over the old files of the case, we note in the issue of June 7, 1923, the account of the Hickey murder which will be remembered by some citizens of the city. This much interest at the time, we print the following account: On Friday June 7, the case in which Hickey is charged with the murder of J. L. Dixon went to trial before Judge J. E. Woodard. Following jury: R. W. Wiley, A. Chaney, A. G. P. Candler, W. W. Kittler, J. H. Gauntt, G. B. Langhlin, J. V. Frezell.

Attorney C. C. Higgins, Attorney J. E. Wilfong, Judge Connell of this place and J. W. Benjamin, were the prosecutors. Judge McConnell and Judge J. O. Woodward and Judge L. F. Frank of Stearns and Judge O. E. Oates and J. L. Dixon were the defense. Judge Woodward had attracted a great deal of attention, and was closely guarded by able lawyers on both sides.

There were no eye-witnesses to the murder from Hickey's confession. The prosecution relied on circumstantial evidence, such as the location of the body, location of wounds and various other circumstances too lengthy to repeat all of which satisfied the jury of Hickey's self-defense and that he had premeditated the murder of Dixon unawares and killed him.

The jury returned a verdict at 2 o'clock, finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree and sentencing him to life in the penitentiary for life.

As we have heard the verdict by the public it has been in approval of the action of the court that several have been saying that they would have said the death penalty.

Hickey is about 36 years of age, is from the county and has a wife and two children from whom he has been separated some time.

Note: Citizens of Haskell here at the time state that Hickey remained in jail seven years and was finally acquitted.

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM WEHNERT AND VICINITY

(By Special Correspondent)

Fire of undetermined origin broke out in H. R. Rich's Meat Market Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, and in a short while the market, hardware store, barber shop, two grocery stores, drug store, postoffice and L. O. O. F. hall were burned to the ground. The loss has not yet been estimated. It is partly covered by insurance. All parties have opened up in temporary quarters.

When it was seen that the flames were in danger of spreading, an alarm was sent in to Haskell, and one of their fire trucks made a hurried trip, but owing to the bad condition of the roads, arrived too late to be of any benefit. However, Wehnert people appreciate this spirit of co-operation on the part of the Haskell Fire Department.

The brick building of the Wehnert State Bank is going up rapidly—also two gin are being built by Munday and Anson parties.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bennett of Cleveland, Okla., and their son Bill, and daughter Miss Bernice Lee, who have been visiting here, have returned home. They were accompanied as far as Rendham, Texas, by Mrs. H. Wehnert, who will visit her daughter, Mrs. Claud Farr of that place.

Dr. E. E. Cockerell of Abilene was here Sunday. His son, Edward, who came with him, will remain for a visit to relatives and friends.

Billy Nolan of Abilene is visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robertson and N. T. Thierwanger spent Saturday and Sunday in Waco.

Mrs. Jno. E. Robertson of Mineral Wells was a guest of Mrs. G. C. Newsom of this place Friday and Saturday.

Herman Wehnert, Jr., a freshman of State University has returned home.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Methodist Church. Rev. Hawkins of Fort Worth is doing the preaching, and Miss Warren of Rule is directing the music.

Mrs. Carl J. Jones of Waco, who has been visiting relatives here returned home Saturday. Miss Beatrice Wehnert accompanied her.

The Miracles of Time

The son of General Fred Funston and the son of Aguinaldo are going to be classmates at West Point!

It will be remembered that it was the elder Funston who captured the elder Aguinaldo back in the days when "expansion and imperialism" was an issue.

In those days Aguinaldo was regarded as the "arch enemy of the United States" by some of us, and as a supreme patriot by others.

Aguinaldo has since become a very good friend of the United States in the Philippines and he himself would tell you that he was wrong in those days.

But then he no doubt regarded General Funston as his worst enemy.

Now it is predicted that young Funston and young Aguinaldo will become warm friends at West Point.

So does time bring changes—so does it heal all wounds.

OLD CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS PASSING AWAY RAPIDLY

The last few months many ex-Confederate soldiers have answered the final bugle call and passed over the river to clasp hands with those who followed Lee and Jackson through the great internecine strife which bathed our land in blood. A few years ago a call for ex-Confederates was answered by large numbers, but today there are perhaps not more than a half-dozen in Honey Grove who enlisted under the Stars and Bars, and very few in the country. A few more years and all of the heroic defenders of the Southland will have passed to the other shore.—Honey Grove Signal.

Will Harrell and F. A. West of Foster were in town Monday. They report crops damaged by the sand storm last Thursday.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

More Royal Clinchers for 1923 United States Tires are Good Tires

THE U. S. Tire people took plenty of time in developing the Royal Clincher Cord.

When it was finally placed on sale there were no takers in it.

Last year we couldn't make Royal Clinchers fast enough.

Production for 1923 has been more than doubled.

But whenever and wherever you can get a Royal Clincher—take it.
