Remember the old joke: Railroad crossing, look out for the cars; can you spell that without any Rs?

You can just imagine our consternation week before last when we were trying to get the paper out early so we could take off on vacation, and the J on the keyboard of our Compuwriter quit working. It was Memorial Day, and every office of Compu-graphic and every typesetter we know who operates one was closed.

The thing quit while we were right in the middle of the summer baseball story. Can you guess how it would be to set that news without any J? Just to refresh your memory, the coaches for the teams include James Edwards, James Dunn, Jesse Maciel, Jeanetta Bradford—can you spell that without any Js?

USDA Extends Offer Period For 1982 Cotton

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently extended by two weeks—until June 16—the period during which farmers may offer their upland cotton to the government for use in the payment-in-kind program. The offer period was to have expired on June 3.

The cotton originally had been pledged as collateral for USDA Commodity Credit Corporation price support loans. The portion of the offered quantity retained by the farmers for compensation will be free and clear of the loan principal, interest and all warehouse charges, except compression charges, through the date title passes to the farmer.

According to CCC Vice President Hoke Leggett, normal spring planting activities, combined in some areas with uncertain weather conditions, have reduced farmers' opportunities to study their options under the bid offer. Also, Leggett said, "there appears to be a misunderstanding by many farmers now regarding how bidding works, their possible levels of compensation and other technical aspects of the offer."

"We want to give farmers who have 1982-crop upland cotton under loan every opportunity to offer their cotton to CCC," Leggett said. "We want to avoid requiring farmers to obtain CCC loans on their 1983 crop for PIK purposes, if possible."

No other provisions of the original offer announcement are being amended, Leggett said.

Rains Continue To Fall On Silverton

Rain has fallen on Silverton on seven of the first 13 days in June, according to the official weather records kept by Fred Strange. The smallest of these amounts was .02 of an inch, and the largest was .95 of an inch, bringing the total rainfall for June to 2.06 inches.

This brings the 1983 rainfall to date to 8.86 inches, which seems to be slightly below normal when you consider that the annual normal is 20.50 inches.

"WHITED SEPULCHRES?"

A few years ago a cartoon in a popular periodical showed Noah sternly pointing the way for a donkey to leave the ark. A closer look revealed that it was not a donkey, but a man wearing a donkey costume.

A firm in India purchased about 50,000 Sheaffer white dot pen tops—just the tops. Natives felt "distinctive" when wearing the black pen top with its white dot accented against a white breast pocket.

Pretense and deception ever stand in opposition to honesty and genuineness.

Men can and often do deceive others, but we are "naked and laid open before . . . him with whom we have to do." (Heb. 4:13).

Our word hypocrite is from the Greek New Testament word "hupokrites" which had the original ancient meaning of "play-actor." Such "put-ons" in daily living is abhorred by our Lord. "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees . . . for ye are like unto whited sepulchres . . . ye . . . outwardly appear righteous . . . but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Mt. 23:23-28).

SATISFY DAD WITH HIS FAVORITE STEAK

What will be headlining the Father's Day cookout menu at your house? Chances are, it will be thick, juicy steaks for somehow nothing satisfies dad like beef.

This special occasion calls for a special steak such as a Porterhouse or T-bone. Or bring a smile to dad's face with a tempting rib steak or flavorful sirloin. If boneless steaks are your preference, choose a boneless top loin, rib eye or prestigious tenderloin.

Repair Services Now Available At City Offices In Silverton

By taking advantage of repair services now available at City of Silverton Offices, local service agency at 409 Broadway in Silverton, residential and single-line business telephone customers in Silverton, Turkey and Quitaque can avoid charges that now apply if the customers request the company send employees to the customers' premises to repair company-owned telephones.

Jimmy Bennett, Operations Manager for General Telephone in Memphis, said the Public Utility Commission of Texas, May 19 approved a $22.50 charge for single-line business and $17.00 for residential customers who have service problems associated with the telephone instrument and who prefer the company to send an employee to the customer's premise to make the repair rather than bring the instrument to the local service agency.

In addition, there are separate charges for each telephone outlet repaired if the problem is in the house wiring and the customer prefers to have the telephone company make the repairs rather than purchasing a repair kit to make the repair themselves, or have a third party make the repairs. Wiring charges were started in 1982 but were increased in the recent ruling.

"We have responded to customers' requests to come to their premises for years, and we are more than pleased to respond now," he said. "The only change, brought about by deregulation, is that we must charge a fee to recover those expenses from customers requesting the service."

"However, by bringing their single-line residential or business telephone instrument to the local service agency and having the repair made, the customer can avoid the charge associated with sending an employee to the residence or business," Bennett said. "Wiring and jack kits are available at the local service agency to repair house wiring problems or replace the hardwired outlets with new jacks to avoid charges associated with the company sending an employee to do the work."

He explained the charge for sending an employee to a customer's premise to repair a telephone instrument is not a charge to make the repair, but rather to recover the costs associated with sending an employee to the premise.

"The charges for these services will help keep local basic rates lower than they would be otherwise," he explained. "It offers customers the opportunity to participate in the maintenance of their service to keep local rates as low as possible while providing customers a more convenient repair service by making it possible for them to bring their phone in, at their convenience, rather than waiting on service personnel to arrive at the residence or business location."

"Of course for those customers who prefer a premise visit, we will respond for a charge," Bennett explained.

He said the changes are a result of the Federal Communications Commission deregulation of terminal equipment; other regulatory decisions which encourage competition; and the need to keep monthly local service rates as low as possible.

"Charges for services that do not recover the costs of providing those services are paid by all customers through higher monthly local service rates," he explained. "With the change to deregulated environment, each individual service must become more cost based, otherwise local rates will be much higher."

"Under the new charging structure, only customers receiving the service will pay the charges."

Jimmy Bennett said, "Customers having service problems should call our repair service. A telephone company employee will ask a series of questions about the problem to determine if the problem is in the telephone instrument, the house wiring or the local network. If it appears the problem is in the instrument, the customer will be given the option of taking the phone to the nearest local repair location or paying the appropriate charge for an employee to visit the premise."

"If the problem is in the house wiring, the customer will be given the options of having the company make the repair for the appropriate charges, purchase a repair kit to make the repairs or have a third party do the repairs."

Farmers Can Improve Soil, Water Conservation Systems

Farmers have an unparalleled opportunity this year to improve their soil and water conservation systems, said Peter Myers, chief of the USDA's Soil Conservation Service.

Under the payment-in-kind (PIK) program and other acreage limitation programs, farmers in Texas are taking 9.3 million acres out of production. One-fifth of the nation's cropland is pledged to the program and now farmers can put a great deal of soil and water conservation on the ground.

Some of the erosive and less productive acreage will be taken out of annual crop use and planted to grasses and legumes as cover crops. This has the potential for saving soil and water resources as well as building up natural fertility.

Myers said this is also a good time for planning ways to fit no-till or other conservation tillage methods into the farm operation.

On more erosive acres, permanent conservation practices such as terraces, grassed waterways, windbreaks and other enduring practices can be installed without interrupting cash crop production.

On the most erosive or other marginal land, farmers are encouraged to discontinue use of those acres for crop production. Those acres may be best suited for permanent grasses, trees, or

USDA Exercises PIK Option For 1983 Wheat

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said recently it will be necessary to require wheat producers who do not have sufficient quantities of wheat pledged as price support loan collateral to meet their payment-in-kind requirements to obtain loans on their 1983-crop production.

Producers who have no 1983-crop wheat planted for harvest or who do not have sufficient wheat planted for harvest to meet their PIK requirements will receive payment-in-kind wildlife habitat.

The 1983 programs offer farmers a rare opportunity to balance their short-term cash needs with their longer conservation and productivity goals, said Myers.

from other wheat in Commodity Credit Corporation inventory, he said.

Block said all producers who signed a contract to participate in the 1983 PIK program agreed to obtain a loan on their 1983 production for PIK purposes to satisfy program needs if required by CCC. USDA decided to exercise this option after determining there is an insufficient quantity of wheat currently available to CCC to meet PIK needs, he said.

CCC has developed special provisions to permit producers to use their 1983 wheat production for PIK purposes even though they do not have warehouse or on-farm storage available, Block said. The producer must certify to the local county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that the required quantity was harvested from an eligible farm and has not been sold prior to the certification.

The producer can obtain the loan, redeem the loan collateral and sell it to CCC. The producer then will be eligible to immediately receive the payment-in-kind from CCC inventory. However, these producers will not receive the proceeds of the sale of the wheat to CCC until their PIK availability date, Block said.

Producers with eligible 1983 crop wheat stored in an approved structure on the farm or in a warehouse covered by a uniform grain storage agreement may receive a regular price support loan for the wheat and earn storage payments for up to five months beginning on the PIK availability date.

Albert Frazier was pictured as he eased through Tulia recently, heading for Colorado to do a little "prospecting," leading a burro and pulling his estate on a three-wheel cart. He was a year and a half coming from New Orleans, and has spent most of that time in Silverton. He says he's a native of Canada, is really a seaman who has sailed all over the world. Tulia's Skip Watson visits with Frazier as he got ready to hook-up after lunch. The burro's name is "Baby," and he bought her in Silverton.

Pecan Orchard A Success In Silverton

Ware Fogerson realized several years ago that irrigating cropland might not always be feasible due to pumping costs and the declining water supply. With this in mind, he began to look for an alternative farm operation on his place south of Silverton.

Fogerson chose pecan trees and began a small orchard about 25 years ago. Planting a few trees every year, Fogerson has built an orchard that covers almost 20 acres. The 851 trees that are in the orchard include pecan varieties such as Western Sly, Mohawk, Shoshone, Wichita, Posneck and 54B. Also found in the Fogerson orchard are five English walnut trees. All of the trees look healthy and productive.

Fogerson says that the success of his orchard is mainly due to a drip irrigation system he installed several years ago. Designed by Leon New of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the drip irrigation system provides water directly to individual trees. This system has cut his watering expenses considerably, is almost trouble free, and is very easy to operate. "I just punch a button and open a couple of valves," says Fogerson.

The drip irrigation system provides some additional benefits besides more efficient watering. Since water is applied directly to each tree, weed problems are kept to a minimum. Roundup is used at a rate of one ounce per gallon to control any weeds that come up.

To keep his pecan trees healthy, Fogerson sprays them with zinc every two weeks starting with bud break. Five applications of zinc, applied every two weeks and sprayed directly on the leaves, is the recommended treatment. Fogerson mixes zinc NZN at a rate of 1½ quarts per 100 gallons of water or two pounds of zinc sulfate per 100 gallons.

When planting young pecan trees, Fogerson recommends digging a hole about the same size as the root mass, and just deep enough to put the tap root on hard subsoil. Fogerson does not add any sand, fertilizer, or starter in the hole, but he does fill the hole half full of water before covering the tree roots with soil.

The drip irrigation system is then used to apply about 10 gallons of water per day to each young tree. The drip irrigation system delivers the water at the precise location and rate to really make the young trees grow fast, and increases their survival rate. Last year, Fogerson had a 100 percent survival rate of his newly-planted pecan trees, due mainly to the drip system.

For more information on drip irrigation systems, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Silverton, or go by and see the display of drip irrigation equipment in the front window of the SCS office.

Contact SCS For Well Evaluations

The Caprock District Soil and Water Conservation Service is testing irrigation wells for farmers in Briscoe County. These well tests tell you how much water your well is really pumping, and gives you an estimate of what it will cost you to water this summer. The tests are free and are made available to help you conserve water and cut costs.

The pump evaluation also gives you a good idea of the condition your pump is in, to help you decide if repair is needed.

The entire evaluation takes about 30 minutes and can be done while you are watering. Contact the SCS office in Silverton, 823-2320, to schedule a well test.

Great Plains Conservation Program Has Funds Available

Briscoe County farmers wanting to do conservation work on their farms can receive cost-share assistance through the Soil Conservation Service.

Up to $35,000 in federal funds is available to each farmer or rancher in a Great Plains contract. This money can be used for terraces, irrigation pipelines, mesquite control, fences, tanks and dams, and many other conservation practices.

Even if you have had a contract in the past, you may qualify for another contract at this time.

The funds are available immediately upon approval of your application.

Contact the Soil Conservation Service in Silverton, 823-2320, or come by the office for more information.

Jobs Bill Provides For New Jobs, More Rural Facilities In Texas

More jobs will be created in Texas, and rural communities will benefit by more water and waste disposal funding under the Emergency Jobs Bill signed recently by President Reagan, J. Lynn Futch, Farmers Home Administration State Director has announced.

Mr. Futch said that nationally, rural water and waste disposal system assistance will be increased by $225 million in loans and $75 million in grant authority. These new funds, combined with regular appropriations for Fiscal Year 1983, will give FmHA a much higher program level of $600 million in loans and $200 million in grants for this same period.

"In Texas, this translates into $26,442,600 in loan funds and $7,710,500 in grant funds for needed assistance to rural communities without adequate water and sanitary facilities," Futch said. "This will mean about 560 new jobs, both on the construction sites and in the pipeline supplying the materials and services supporting constructions."

Farmers Home Administration is the rural credit agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It helps farmers and other rural residents and communities without adequate credit finance farms, homes and essential community facilities such as water and waste disposal systems.

The extra funds provided by the Jobs Bill, "Will provide further impetus to the economic recovery that is beginning to take hold," Futch said. "This boost is especially important in rural areas whose ability to borrow is traditionally more difficult than for urban areas."

Interest rates for water and waste disposal loans vary from 5% to a Market Rate (currently 9.125), depending on the income of the community and any existing health or sanitary problems.

Grant funds may be available to facilities serving the most financially needy communities to reduce their costs to a reasonable level.

About 26,000 loans have been made to rural localities and farmland sections to improve their water and sanitary facilities since the first loans were authorized on a limited basis in 1937.

Attend State 4-H Roundup At Texas A&M

Kristy Fogerson was among 1,600 4-H members from across the state who participated in Texas 4-H Roundup on the Texas A&M University campus last week.

A special feature of this year's contests was to assemble over 2,000 participants, Extension agents, parents and leaders in a giant four-leaf clover on Kyle Field at Texas A&M in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of 4-H work in Texas. A picture was made, and the activity was also taped to be aired on the Good Morning America TV program sometime in the future.

Seventy-two outstanding 4-H members were awarded scholarships totaling more than $400,000 provided through various donors to the Texas 4-H Foundation.

Accompanying Kristy to the event was County Extension Agent Lynda Fogerson.

BUY BEEF IN BULK TO SAVE MONEY

Dad is sure to appreciate a good beef meal this Father's Day, be it a tender and tasty steak or a juicy and flavorful roast. But chances are, he'll enjoy it even more if he knows it was purchased at a savings.

You can save an average of 20 to 50 cents per pound when you buy beef subprimals in vacuum-sealed bags, then cut them up at home into roasts, steaks and cubes. Rib eye, top loin, tenderloin, top sirloin and tip are some of the subprimals that can be divided at a savings.

Instructions on how to cut, wrap, store and cook these and other bulk cuts are available in the handy folder, "Cut Your Own Beef-in-a-Bag." There is also information on how to buy subprimals, why they are a good buy and how to choose and maintain a proper knife for carving.

For your free copy of this valuable folder, send a stamped, self-addressed business envelope to "Beef-in-a-Bag," Beef Industry Council, 444 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

"Proverbs are forever at war with each other."
G.C. Lichtenberg

When choosing a roast, look for one that's boneless, naturally tender, compact and fairly uniform in shape. Beef rib eye, tip, rump and top round roasts are all popular rotisserie choices.

Rev. Price Delivers Baby Boy In Car

(taken from a story in the Tulia Herald)

"Although the baby was ten days late, it was about thirty minutes early this morning," Karen Price said Monday, June 6, from her bed in Swisher Memorial Hospital.

She and her husband, Rev. George Price, started the 60-mile trip to Tulia about 6:00 a.m. Monday when she decided it was near the time of the birth of her third baby.

Although the Claude Methodist pastor drove as fast as the little two-door Pontiac would go, he had to stop just west of Vigo Park and deliver the baby in the back seat of the car.

Mrs. Price said it was a great coincidence that the evening before she and her husband had watched a TV program in which a similar incident happened... "we knew to lay the baby on my stomach, wrap it up good and let the doctor and nurses do the rest."

Rev. Price is the son of the Levelland funeral home owner and in his high school days aided a lot of emergency ambulance runs... so he had some previous experience.

"I feel that I'm qualified for a promotion from Rev. to Dr. now... and should be addressed as Dr. Price," he said jokingly.

Dr. L. S. Foreman told Rev. Price, "you could have probably got here sooner, if you hadn't stopped to baptize the new baby!"

Why go 60 miles for delivery? Mrs. Price said, "when we lived at Quitaque, Dr. Foreman delivered our second son... we liked him and the Tulia hospital... we like the nurses... it's just a good place to go for maternities."

The new son weighed nine pounds, 1 1/2 ounces, and was named Caleb Luke. The newcomer has two older brothers, Jeremy, six, and Zachary, two. A next-door neighbor took care of the brothers when the couple made their hasty exit out of Claude Monday morning.

Mrs. Price's father is Virgil Kelly, superintendent of schools at Denver City. She and her husband are graduates of McMurry College, and Rev. Price also has a BD degree from Asbury Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky.

PRAYER AND SHARE SISTERS MEET

Donna Francis was hostess for the Prayer and Share Sisters when they met to study "A Matter of Life and Death."

The ladies learned that "Death and Life" are in the Power of the Tongue. So for our own good, we must learn to watch our words.

The hostess led the group in prayer, and everyone participated in the study and sharing session.

Maebelle Francis gave a reading, and the ladies sang the chorus, "A tongue can accuse and carry bad news, The seeds of destruction sow, So unless you've made no mistakes in your life, Be careful of stones that you throw."

Michelle Francis did a book review from "Disciplines of The Beautiful Woman," by Anne Ortlund. God's description of his ideal woman, Proverbs 31, ends with these words: "These good deeds of hers shall bring her honor and recognition from even the leaders of nations." In I Peter, Peter says, "What will adorn you with an illusion of beauty is a meek and quiet spirit, which is precious in the sight of God."

Kathy May and Debbie Montague joined the group for study. Patti Montague is the Big Sister for June.

July 21 at 10:30 the P.A.S.S. will meet at Lake Mackenzie for study and a salad luncheon. Lois Nance will be hostess for this meeting as they study "For Daily Application and Unspotted From The World."

Anyone is welcome to study with the Prayer and Share Sisters. The regular meetings are held each second Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

The July meeting will be on the third Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

ALLEEN KELSAY
MRS. KELSAY NAMED
WOMAN OF YEAR
AT ANTHONY, N. M.

Alleen Kelsay has been named Woman of the Year of Beta Sigma Phi chapters of Anthony and the Mesilla Valley, according to an article run May 8, 1983 in the El Paso Times. This article was sent to the Gerald Smiths and they are sharing it with readers who knew the Kelsays. A. L. Kelsay was Superintendent of Silverton Schools for a number of years.

Mrs. Kelsay was honored at a brunch held from 10:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. Saturday, in the home of Mrs. Willie Mae Sloan of Lamesa, New Mexico. All of her friends were invited to attend.

Mrs. Kelsay is a retired teacher of the Gadsden School District and was named to the Hall of Fame for Teachers of the Southwest District of New Mexico in 1972.

In 1970, the City of Anthony honored her with a plaque for outstanding service to her community. She is a Past Matron of Tenick Chapter 37 of the Order of the Eastern Star and an honorary member of the Alpha Alpha chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary society for outstanding women educators.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sarchet, Brandon and Jordan of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet vacationed the first week in June at the Nueces County Park on Padre Island. They caught three sharks, sheephead, whiting, hardhead catfish and angel fish off the T-pier, and Brandon caught a rod and reel that some unlucky fisherman had lost. They picked up seashells and played in the surf.

Enroute to Corpus Christi, they stopped at Aquarena in San Marcos and enjoyed all the attractions there. They stayed at the KOA in Fredericksburg both going and coming, and also saw the ranch home of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson while in that area.

LOOK TO BEEF FOR MANY ESSENTIAL NUTRIENTS

It's reassuring to know that when you serve dad one of his favorite beef meals for Father's Day, you are not only satisfying his appetite, you are also satisfying many of his nutritional needs.

Beef is an outstanding source of high-quality protein needed daily by the body to build, maintain and repair tissues and help resist infection and disease. Essential B-vitamins found in beef include niacin, riboflavin, thiamin, B-6 and B-12. Beef is an especially important source of iron for it contains heme iron, the type easily utilized by the body.

FOR COOKOUT SUCCESS, START WITH GOOD FIRE

Whether it's beef burgers or beef steak you are cooking on the charcoal grill, a good fire is a key to success. To start the fire, pile briquets in a pyramid and ignite with the aid of an electric starter, liquid starter or kindling. The number of briquets needed will depend on the size of your grill and the amount of food to be cooked.

The fire is ready when the coals are covered with a gray ash and glowing in the center. At this point, spread the coals in a layer so that they are just touching or up to an inch apart.

It's important when grilling beef to maintain a low to moderate temperature throughout the cooking period. Temperature can be controlled by adjusting the grid, rearranging, adding or removing coals, adjusting dampers or draft doors and using windbreaks.

Theodore Roosevelt was the first U.S. President to visit a foreign country while in office. He traveled to Panama.

LIFE'S OBSTACLES

We can easily see physical obstacles such as logs, boulders, and many other things that may be too difficult for our children to handle, but things that are not physical are not always so obvious. A young child needs help from his parents in spiritual matters too. The church can be an influence on children's lives, but when you, a parent, are taking part in church worship, you can be an even greater influence. Give your children, the leaders of the future, a hand now when they need it most. Take them to church regularly . . . and you too, will have a fuller and better life.

ATTEND CHURCH

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

“ . . . in thy presence is fulness of joy . . . ”

CARDS OF THANKS

Thanks to the Paramedics for the fantastic job of taking care of my mother when she had to be transported to the hospital in the ambulance. We appreciate you a lot!

Jackie McVay

I wish I could find the words to tell you how very touched I was for everything you did for me and my family while I was in the hospital and since I came home. Each phone call, card, gift, visit, the prayers that lifted me up and the food brought to the house—for these I say thank-you and God bless you.

Love,
Jackie Tate,
Freeman and girls

We want to thank the March of Time Study Club and the Century of Progress Study Club for their faithfulness in taking contributions at the cemetery on Memorial Day. They've been working at this many years and do a very good job. Also we want to express appreciation to Rev. Jerry Miller of the First Baptist Church and the choir from the Rock Creek Church of Christ for their part on the Memorial Day program. We received many nice comments about it.

DADS DESERVE HOLIDAY

TO CALL THEIR OWN

Considering how much fathers do for their families throughout the year, it's only fitting that they be honored with their own national holiday. This year Father's Day will be celebrated Sunday, June 19.

Bud dads haven't always had a special day. While attempts had been made to gain recognition for fathers, it wasn't until 1924 that Father's Day was made a national holiday by Calvin Coolidge. Its position among national holidays was confirmed by the signing of a Father's Day bill by Richard M. Nixon in 1972.
