Owls Win In Spite Of Power Outtage

In spite of the fact that a power outage put the Cotton Center football field in the dark for almost an hour during the game last Friday night, the Silverton Owls emerged victorious for the first time this season.

After their first attempts at six-man football, it looked like it might take most of the season for the Owls to adjust to the new game. But that all changed Friday night as the Owls upset Cotton Center 38-23, for their first victory as a six-man participant.

Jim Forbes, who had been knocked unconscious before the power outage, ended up by being the hero for Silverton, rushing for five Owl touchdowns. He scored on runs of 12, 5, 4, 7 and 39 yards. Silverton's other score came on a fifteen-yard pass from Cal Brannon to Russell Simpson.

Forbes has been a potent offensive threat all year, but had been overlooked because the team had been struggling.

Silverton will have two weeks to savor their first victory as it will have an open date this week. The Jayton JV cancelled both games they had scheduled with the Owls due to manpower shortage.

The Owls will be having homecoming when they host New Life Christian School from Lubbock on October 14, and several special events are planned that day including a supper to be served by the Junior Class.

Then the Owls will be idle on October 20, another date that Jayton JV had been scheduled. They play Midland Christian Schools October 28 and finish the season by playing New Life Christian Schools of Lubbock again on November 4.

Cheerleaders Selling T-Shirts

The Silverton High School cheerleaders are having a T-shirt sale this week.

Three styles are being offered. One is for Kindergarten through fourth grade, one is for fifth through the eighth grades, and one is for high school students. Also, anyone not in school can purchase one.

The school spirit jersey will be red and white with different sayings and emblems. They will sell for $10.00 plus 50c tax, a total of $10.50. If you wish to have the jersey personalized with your name on the back, the fee is $2.50 extra.

They will arrive at the school in about three or four weeks. If you would be interested in purchasing one for yourself or your child, please contact any high school cheerleader or call Jealeta Baird at 823-2476 (school). Samples are available.

The deadline has been extended to Thursday, September 29. This offer is being made so that you can purchase a good quality jersey at a saving. It is hoped that everyone who will be needing a jersey for their personal use or for their student will order one to help better establish school pride and school spirit.

Agricultural Field Day Is October 5

The Briscoe County Agricultural Field Day, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District, will be held October 5, 1983, beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the Briscoe County Show Barn in Silverton.

The morning program will consist of an implement show by area dealers and area chemical representatives. There will be a barbecue lunch and afterward a farm tour.

For further information contact the Briscoe County Extension Office, 823-2343, or the Soil Conservation Service, 823-2320.

Farm Theft Reported Here Sunday Morning

L. B. Garvin, jr. reported a tractor missing from his farm south of Silverton Sunday morning, and after Briscoe County Sheriff Dick Roehr and Deputy Oliver Clark did some preliminary investigation, the tractor was found overturned in a ditch.

It appeared to investigators that someone had stolen the tractor and was attempting to load it onto a truck when, for some reason, it fell off and overturned. Quite a bit of damage was done to the tractor cab and if the motor was running for any length of time while the tractor was on its side, more damage may have resulted than what meets the eye.

Sheriff Roehr is once again warning farmers and ranchers to be on the lookout for suspicious people and vehicles in the rural areas. "You might want to secure your equipment a little better," he said, "and if you should see strange vehicles, it would be of help to us if you will notify us immediately of their location and license numbers if possible."

Bryan Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ramsey, was transported to the Amarillo Emergency Receiving Center by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service about noon Saturday after being injured in a fall while playing with other children. He received numerous injuries, but was able to return home Tuesday from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Mrs. Charles (Mary) Grantham became ill at her home Saturday evening and was transported by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service to Central Plains Hospital in Plainview.

List of Eligible Voters Is Posted For ASC Committee Elections

A list of the names of all known eligible persons to receive ballots in the upcoming annual ASC committee election soon will be available at the county ASCS office. Farmers will begin nominating candidates for the ASC election on October 6.

ASCs, an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is responsible for farm program administration. On the local level, ASCS operates under a farmer-elected committee system. This year's elections will be by mail ballot between November 25 and December 5. Voters may also get ballots at the county ASCS office.

Anyone who meets the following requirements is eligible to vote in these farmer committee elections: any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, or share-cropper who is eligible to participate in any ASCS program.

Several general provisions relate to ASCS voter eligibility. The spouse of an eligible voter is also eligible to vote. Any person under legal voting age can vote if he or she runs a farm, and a legal guardian who runs a farm for a child can vote for the child. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, age, color, religion, or national origin.

The spouse of an eligible voter is also eligible to vote.

A person may cast a ballot in any county in which he or she is an eligible ASC voter, but he or she cannot vote in more than one community in the county. If an eligible voter has separate farm interests in more than one community in the same county, special care will be taken to see that only one ballot is issued to that voter.

MRS. MORGAN TO DIRECT COUNTY SPELLING BEE

The director for Briscoe County's 1984 National Spelling Bee program has been named by the regional sponsors, the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University.

Directing the program for Briscoe County will be Mrs. Florence Morgan, a teacher in the Silverton Junior High School. The director will select a place for the contest and name a pronouncer.

Gene Parker, director of placement at WTSU and bee coordinator for the Amarillo newspaper, has announced the continuation of the educational program for students in the public and parochial schools in the 46-county area which covers four states.

"For a number of years the university in Canyon has strongly supported and believed in this educational program and we take a great deal of pride in helping to recognize the academic accomplishments of the young people who come to us in April as county winners," Parker said.

"We are delighted to work with all of the school officials in this area who share with us a desire to teach the best understanding of English—not just a memorizing of spelling, but a knowledge of the structure of words and what they mean," he said.

In order to participate in the bee, students must not have passed beyond the eighth grade at the time of their school finals and must not reach their 16th birthday on or before May 27, 1984 (date of the national finals).

The 36th Regional Bee will be held on April 28 in the Mary Moody Northern Hall on the WTSU campus in Canyon. Previously the event was held in Amarillo.

All county directors are to report the names of their champions to the Amarillo Globe-News by April 7. The 1984 district winner will go to Washington, D. C. in late May for the 57th national competition. In 1983 there were 137 finalists from across the country and already the national sponsors, the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, are predicting about 150 area contenders.

Most schools in the program use the booklet, "Words of the Champions," and copies are available from the Amarillo Globe-News for 40c each. Address your order to Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166. The 1984 booklet contains more than 500 word changes.

A Junior Bee for the younger students, grade six and under, will also be conducted in each county. The county junior champs will be special guests of the sponsors in April.

World War II Bomber Crew Has Reunion

Exchanging war stories and old memories, four members of a World War II bomber squadron gathered near Bybee, Kentucky recently for their first reunion since 1944.

Earl B. Jackson of Bybee invited five members of his squadron and their wives for a weekend of reminiscing. Two of the five invited were unable to attend because of family illness.

The four men flew bombing missions over German territory during 1944 for the Eighth Air Force Second Air Division, 93rd Bomber Group 330th Squadron, which was stationed in Hardwicke, England.

"We flew 35 bombing missions over Germany together as a crew," said Ray Rhoades of Nebraska. "We did a lot of things together—a lot of drinking, a lot of dancing." Rhoades is now employed as a power production manager by the Nebraska Public Power District. He was a navigator during the war.

"We had a few crash landings," said Jackson, "but no one was killed or injured. That's pretty amazing." Only one of the ten-member crew has died since the war, as far as the four men know. The deceased member was Frank Crabbe of Louisville, the engineer.

Other members attending the get-together included Charles Brumett of Macomb, Illinois, now a farmer, who served as gunner, and J. W. Reid, a rancher from Silverton, who was pilot. Three other members of the squadron, Lee Slosner of St. Louis, Bob Treadway of Kansas City, Missouri and Herb Glock of Plainville, Kansas, were unable to attend. The men do not know the whereabouts of the other two veterans of the group.

"We watched a crew we trained with go down over Dortmund, Germany," said Rhoades. "We thought they'd all been killed, but we found out they were alive at a reunion of the Second Air Division in Colorado Springs in 1973. It was really a shock—all this time we thought they were dead and come to find out, they were alive."

Some of the men have gotten together over the years at Air Force reunions. Two of them have taken trips to England with their wives to show them the area where they were stationed.

Reminiscing more about good times than dangerous ones, the veterans told tales about members of the squadron, including the one who was married to two women at the same time.

"The two wives finally ran into each other and started plotting together against him," said Rhoades. "He was one of the older ones, about 34 I think. He had to get special permission from the CO to fly—he had a finger missing and false teeth."

The men talked lovingly of their plane, named Solid Comfort with a picture of a naked girl painted on it. "When we came back from one mission, she had so many holes in her they had to put 400 patches on it," said Reid. "Once we had the controls shot off and landed on the (air field control) tower," said Rhoades.

"The next day they had everything repaired and ready to go."

The squadron flew bombing missions over Belgium during the Battle of the Bulge on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in 1944 and ferried food to the troops after railroad tracks were blown up during the battle to liberate France.

"We flew food, flour, canned meat and sugar into Orleans and Paris," said Rhoades. "One of the Free French girls tried to stow away on the plane and come back with us. She tried and tried to talk us into taking her to England, but we couldn't because we were overloaded already."

Rhoades brought a number of photographs and other memorabilia from his war days to the gathering and he talked about the escape kits each airman was given in case their plane went down in enemy territory.

"They gave us these escape kits with French passports, French clothes and silk maps (the silk maps were to allow the maps to remain readable in case they got wet). We were supposed to try to make contact with French underground and get back to our unit," said Rhoades.

Rhoades also explained that when they were flying missions near the Russian border, they were given certificates with an American flag on them and an explanation in Russian about who they were and asking that they be taken to the American command in Moscow in case their plane was shot down. "We were afraid the Russians would shoot first and ask questions later," said Rhoades, which, unfortunately, has turned out to be true.

He said that after the squadron completed each mission, they met with intelligence officers to give reports on how many planes they saw shot down and where, whether anyone parachuted out—"just any information we could give them," said Rhoades.

Jackson went to great lengths to welcome his guests to Kentucky, providing monogrammed mugs from Bybee Pottery for each one, and decorating the bar area with a replica of a moonshine still.

All the guests stayed at Jackson's colonial style home on Brassfield Road. Especially for Texan J. W. Reid, Jackson rigged up a doorbell that plays "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

The group trained in Boise, Idaho, and flew a B-24 Liberator across the Atlantic to their base in England. "It was the first time we'd ever flown that far," said Reid, who was married the day they left Boise on the first leg of their journey overseas. All but two of the men were married.

After the war, the Second Air Division started a library in memory of the 6,000 airmen who were killed in World War II. Each survivor contributed $1.00 to start the library and now it's thriving. "Of course we didn't know about it at the time because we shipped out before the war ended," said Brumett.

EXCELLENCE BECKONS

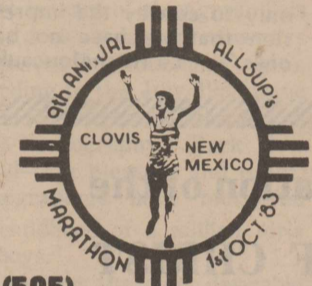

An Indian boy found an eagle's egg and put it in a prairie chicken nest. An eaglet hatched and grew with the chicks, scratching for bugs and seeds, flying low with brief wing thrashing just like the prairie chickens.

Then one day he saw a majestic bird soaring far above. He asked his "ground crew" about the bird and they told him it was an eagle, ruler of the skies. He longed to soar like that eagle, but was chided for his dream. He could never be an eagle, he was told, because he was a prairie chicken. The bird designed to soar spent its life in dirt because it was conditioned to mediocrity. Mediocrity is not excellence.

God calls "us by his own glory and excellence" (2 Pet. 1:3, NAS). He would have us "proclaim the excellencies of Him who has called" us (1 Pet. 2:9). If we would follow Him we will in our "Faith supply moral excellence" (2 Pet. 1:5). Yea, we can "become partakers of the divine nature" (2 Pet. 1:4). Pursuit of excellence!

"... those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles" (Isa. 40:31). "Set your minds on things above (Col. 3:2). Excellence beckons.

Boling-Estes Vows Exchanged In Candlelight Ceremony

MRS. JIM ESTES

Miss Donna May Boling became the bride of James Dewey (Jim) Estes in a formal double-ring ceremony at seven o'clock on the evening of Saturday, September 24. Minister Ted Kingery performed the ceremony in a candlelight setting at the Silverton Church of Christ.

The church altar was decorated with an arched candelabrum flanked by seven-tiered candelabra. All were intertwined with ivy and burgundy silk roses. On side tables were candelabra with five mauve candles.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boling and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Estes, all of Silverton.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white formal-length gown of Chantilly lace trimmed with ruffles and satin ribbon sweeping to form a chapel-length train. Her Schiffli embroidered collar was trimmed with pearls and sequins with drop-shouldered yoke and Victorian ruffled bodice. Her full bishop sleeves had ruffles trimmed with satin ribbon.

A Juliet cap of Raschiel and Venise lace was trimmed with satin ribbon, pearls and sequins and held a white fingertip-length veil with blusher.

She carried a cascade bouquet of mauve roses, burgundy carnations and white pearl pips, stephanotis and lace collar, with miniature English ivy and silk rose leaves.

Carrying out bridal tradition, she had her late Great-Grandmother Gregg's wedding band for something old, the mother's rings borrowed from her mother and grandmother tied in her bouquet. Her dress and an opal and diamond necklace, a gift from the groom, was something new, and she added a blue garter.

Following the ceremony, the couple lighted their memory candle which was made with a copy of the wedding invitation on it.

Miss Brenda Boling of Lubbock served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a long burgundy polyester bridal gown designed with scooped neckline edged with a self ruffle. The skirt was gathered at the waist and the waistline was accented with a pleated cumberbund. The dress had short puffed sleeves. She had burgundy and mauve flowers in her hair and carried a white lace fan with burgundy and mauve silk roses and carnations attached from which fell a shower of burgundy satin streamers.

Misses Lisa Lavy and Angie Lowrey were bridesmaids. Their dresses and flowers were the same as those of the maid of honor.

Tiffany Smith of Dimmitt, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress was designed the same as those of the other bridal attendants, and she carried a basket filled with burgundy and mauve silk flowers and baby's breath.

Mitch Barbour of Sunray, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Candles were lighted by Greg Timmons of Hurst and Ryan Smith of Dimmitt, cousins of the bridegroom.

Serving his friend as best man was Michael Greenhaw of Lamesa. Ross Estes, brother of the bridegroom, and Casey Bean were groomsmen. Guests were seated by Charles Ferguson of Canadian and Noble Timmons of Hurst, cousins of the bridegroom.

Kelly McMurtry, soloist, sang "Wedding Prayer" and "Endless Love." Recordings were played of "Wedding Song" and "A Time For Us."

The bride's mother chose a light orchid street-length dress and a corsage of burgundy and mauve silk roses for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a burgundy street-length dress and also added a corsage of burgundy and mauve silk roses.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church annex immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white net cloth appliqued with white satin lovebirds, bells and bows with mauve underlay. The centerpiece was a bouquet of burgundy and mauve silk roses and baby's breath. Mauve candles were placed in crystal holders. Burgundy punch was served with mauve and burgundy mints and nuts and the wedding cake, which was designed in four tiers with burgundy and mauve crysanthemum and rose accents, and topped with a lace-covered heart and miniature bride and groom.

Refreshments were served at the bride's table by Mmes. Beverly Minyard and Debbie Weeks, sisters of the bride.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth over burgundy underlay. A brass coffee service and three brass candlesticks holding burgundy candles decorated the table. The groom's cake was a horseshoe-shaped German chocolate confection.

Refreshments were served at the groom's table by Misses Judy Segura and Jena McFall.

Others assisting with the reception were Mmes. LaVern Kingery, Kathy Kingery, Sylvia Fogerson and Annette Roehr.

Rose-shaped burgundy rice bags, made by the bride's grandmother, Marie Boling, were distributed by Jeff Weeks, nephew of the bride.

Miss Tammi Edwards was in charge of securing the guests' names for the wedding book.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the couple will be at home in Silverton, where she is a senior in Silverton High School and he is employed at Silverton Oil Company. The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of Silverton High School.

REHEARSAL PARTY

The rehearsal party was held Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Estes. Assisting with the hospitalities at the party were Mrs. Dorothy Timmons and Mrs. Kathy Lust, sisters of Mrs. Estes, and Mrs. Roy Reed.

Child Safety Program To Be Presented Here

Betty Borgia, area coordinator for the National Child Safety Council, will present a program Monday, October 3, at 7:00 p.m. in the Silverton School Auditorium. She will speak and answer questions.

The public is invited to attend this program, and parents of young children are urged to attend.

National Child Safety Council is a tax-exempt non-profit organization that for 30 years has worked with law enforcement departments and elementary school children. For several years the children in Silverton have been provided with child safety and drug education materials sponsored by the Briscoe County Sheriff's Department.

Top law advisors on the board and council of NCSC say that 150,000 children are disappearing in the United States each year, many from the rural areas where children are not taught as carefully as the city youngsters are to beware of strangers. This figure does not include runaways or parental abductions. Also, according to the July 1983 issue of Readers Digest, "Children For Sale: Pornography's Dark New World—For pleasure and profit, pornographers have murdered the childhood of a million girls and boys."

It appears the most desirable age of children taken is five to nine years. Therefore, the child safety program from kindergarten to fourth grade this year will emphasize "Dangerous Strangers" and each child will receive a booklet entitled "How To Tell The Good Guys From The Bad Guys."

Nationwide NCSC has offered a child fingerprint procedure. This is a strictly voluntary program. Parents must sign consent form and only one set of prints is taken and turned over to the parents.

This procedure has been given to Superintendent O. C. Rampley, who will present it to the school board for consideration.

Should a child be snatched away, the parents with fingerprints would have a positive tool to help law enforcement officers locally and nationwide recover their child.

Mrs. Borgia mentioned while she was in Silverton Monday that a blue-eyed, blonde-haired child four to nine years of age can be sold for $50,000. Many of these "child for sale" racketeers sell the children outside of the United States.

Lockney Care Center Has Special Event

The Lockney Care Center hosted a Grandparents' Day Tea from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 11. During the two-hour reception, more than sixty guests visited at the home, according to Jackie Gerhardt, activities director.

Entertainment was provided by Russell and Shannon Bingham and their grandfather, Dock Wallace, who played the guitar, piano and fiddle.

The church service was conducted by the First Baptist Church of Silverton. The Rev. Jerry Miller gave a short talk on the theme for the day, "Memories Were Made To Be Shared." Jimmy Burson played two gospel numbers on his fiddle.

After church, the residents and guests were served punch and cookies, made by the Truth Seeker's Sunday School Class at the First Baptist Church in Silverton.

Local Ladies Win Ribbons At Fair

Mrs. Allen (Frances) Kellum earned 35 points and fourth place overall in the sweepstakes division at the annual Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair in Lockney recently.

Mrs. Kellum won first place for her tomatoes, summer squash, string beans, lima beans, peas, sweet banana peppers, loaf yeast bread and pecan pie. She picked up second place with a ladies blouse and won third place in the textiles division.

Mrs. Syble Teeple won first place with plain biscuits, pound cake and cinnamon rolls. She won second with her pecan pie and sweet bread, and fourth place with her relish.

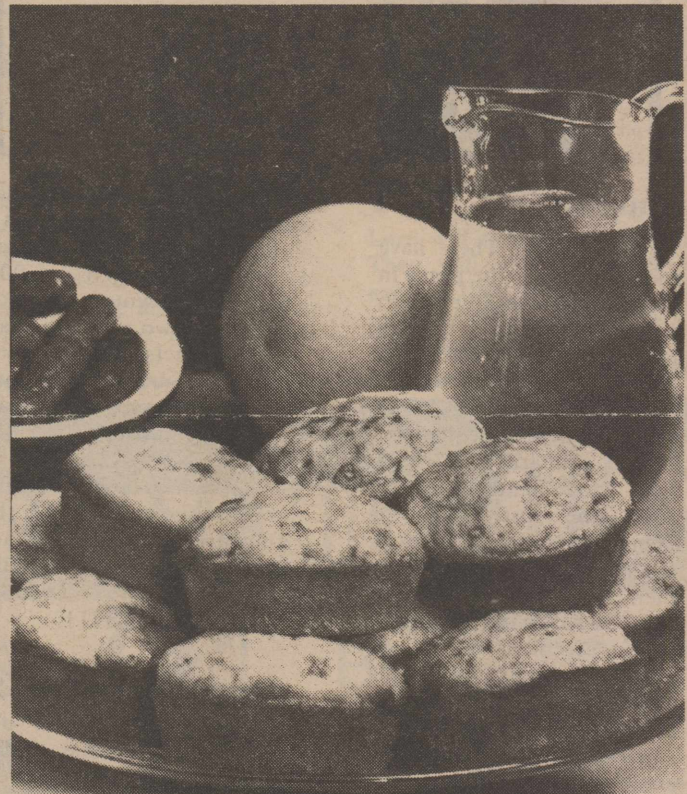

Church of Christ concluded the special program.

Among the residents at the Care Center are several from Briscoe County, including Hassie Arnold, Mabel Griffin, Clyde and Manemma Hutsell, Dawn Jasper, Richard Lanham, Hallie and Lewis Roberts, Ruby Vaughan, Chafe Tipton, Nena Loudermilk, Dennis Grabbe, Laura Wyatt and Mary McCracken.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT PRESENTED TO GLENNA L. REYNOLDS

At a recent District 2 Meeting of Farmers Home Administration County Supervisors, County Office Assistants and District Office Staff, held in Plainview, a Certificate of Merit was awarded to Glenna L. Reynolds, County Office Assistant in the Tulia office. The presentation was made by John C. Kennedy, District Director, on behalf of J. Lynn Futch, State Director. The citation was for her dedication of service that exceeds the performance standards serving rural people in Swisher and Briscoe Counties. Along with the certificate, a cash award will be received.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL BREAKFAST--Take a fresh orange or grapefruit for Vitamin C, a side of sausage links and a platter of oven-warm Honey Wheat Muffins, and you'll have a nutritious breakfast that will have the kids asking for more.

HONEY WHEAT MUFFINS

- 1 egg
- 1 C. milk
- 1/4 C. oil
- 1/4 C. honey
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1 C. whole wheat flour
- 1 C. white flour
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 C. chopped pecans

Grease 12-cup muffin tin. Beat egg in medium bowl; add and blend in milk, oil, honey and vanilla. In separate mixing bowl combine flours, baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients to egg mixture. Stir until moist and lumpy. Fold in pecans. Spoon batter into muffin cups until 2/3 full. Bake in 400-degree F. oven 20-25 minutes or until muffins are lightly browned. Cool slightly. Loosen muffins with spatula and remove. Makes 1 dozen muffins.

Mrs. Reynolds has served the Tulia FmHA office for sixteen years, fourteen of which she has served with George H. James, jr., County Supervisor. The caseload of this county office unit has increased 40% in that period of time.

Velma Rhoades of Austin, Agnes Allard of Tulia, Iris Graham of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Northcutt and Bertha Mae Allard enjoyed lunch and a visit in the home of Jettie Harcastle Sunday.

Reports

Amendment No. 1

AUSTIN — There have been justices of the peace in Texas ever since Stephen F. Austin set up his colony in 1824 and every constitution since that time has provided for such an office. The office of constable has existed primarily to deliver legal documents and to assist the justice courts. On November 8, Texas voters will be asked to allow their local commissioners court to determine the number of precincts for justices of the peace and constables. The proposed amendment to the constitution would allow the commissioners court to determine the number of JPs and constables within established state standards.

Proponents say there are many counties that do not need as many as four justices and four constables as is now required by the Constitution. The local court could reduce the number to as few as one justice and one constable.

Those who favor the amendment also say that paying the salaries of several JPs and constables when there is not a real need imposes an unnecessary financial burden on county taxpayers.

Those who oppose altering the Constitution say that if the number of justices and constables is reduced that other judges or some other county officials may have to perform some of the duties and that the county judicial system is already overburdened.

If the number is reduced, opponents say, people in those areas will be burdened with longer and more inconvenient trips to receive the services of the justice of the peace or constable.

Under the amendment, a county with a population of 30,000 or more may not have less than four or more than eight precincts. A county with less than 18,000 population would be designated a single precinct unless the local court finds a greater need. Those counties between 18,000 and 30,000 would have not less than two or more than five precincts. In cities with 18,000 or more population, the amendment would call for two justices in each precinct.

If you have any questions about this or the other 10 amendments please contact me by writing Senator Bill Sarpalius, Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Amendment No. 2

AUSTIN — Since its beginning, Texas has traditionally protected homes from forced sale to satisfy debts owed by the homeowner. The only exemptions to this broad protection were for debts incurred to purchase the home itself, debts incurred in making home improvements, or unpaid taxes on the home. Aside from these three exceptions, a debtor's homestead is exempted from the reach of his creditors.

Under the Texas Constitution, a homestead is classified as either rural or urban. The rural homestead exemption cannot consist of more than two hundred acres of land, without regard to the value of improvements thereon. The urban homestead, however, is limited to land valued not in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), not including the value of improvements thereon. Thus, while the rural homestead is based upon size, the urban homestead is based upon value.

On November 8, Texas voters will be asked to adopt a constitutional amendment to replace the current value limitation of an urban homestead with a limitation based upon size. This proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution would provide that a homestead in a city, town or village may consist of not more than one acre of land without regard to the value of improvements thereon.

Proponents of the amendment contend that the current urban homestead exemption is inadequate. Many lots situated in urban areas are valued in excess of the current ten thousand dollar ($10,000) limitation, which makes them subject to forced sale by a creditor. They add that should this amendment not be adopted, continued increases in inflation and the price of land will require periodic updating of the current value limitation. Finally, as rural homesteads are defined in terms of size, and not value, this proposed amendment would create a similar standard for its urban counterpart and thereby provide consistency and fairness.

Opponents of the amendment argue that such an expansion of the urban homestead exemption is unnecessary, as the current value limitations were never related to a homeowner's needs, and that the limitless value of improvements upon the homestead are the critical factors for protection. Others claim that the intent of the homestead exemption is to ensure security for a family's home, not to provide a person with an opportunity to escape payment of a legitimate debt. In short, opponents of this proposed amendment are confident that the current urban homestead exemption of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), plus unlimited improvements thereon is adequate to provide a family with a secure home.

One To Be Elected To Conservation Board

An election for a director to serve in Zone 5 on the Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for Thursday, October 6, at the First National Bank in Quitaque, according to an announcement by Jack Sutton, chairman of the board. The election will be held at 9:30 a.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the sub-division where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 5 of the district includes an area in the southeast corner of Briscoe County, from the Caprock east to the Hall County line and south of the Little Red River.

Current members of the board of directors of the Caprock SWCD are Don Burson, Jimmy Myers, Jay Flowers, Jack Sutton and Murry Wayne Morrison.

The purpose of the Caprock SWCD, with headquarters in Briscoe County, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet and her mother, Mrs. J. M. Hill of Tulia, spent Saturday in Lubbock visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sarchet, Brandon and Jordan.

PRODUCTION PENALTY

When farmers produce more, they make less.

"It is a bitter fact of economic life that American farmers are being hurt by their own productivity," says Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "Current government policies have forced commodity prices down, so farmers have no choice but to produce even more to make up for the lower prices. But the extra production forces prices even lower. As a result, net farm income has fallen every time total production has risen, punishing our farmers for their productivity. That's why it is essential to build effective production controls into American farm policy."

We'll deliver the performance
you need this fall...

There will never be a better time to buy International® equipment. Prices are at all-time lows with waiver of finance charges available on many selected models for qualified buyers. And we're ready to deal on quality International equipment that can improve your harvesting and fall tillage efficiency.

Also, a purchase of International equipment this fall could greatly reduce your tax liability and improve your bottom line for 1983, and the years thereafter. We've done some tax calculations to provide an example, assuming:

- 1) A $50,000 purchase in 1983, with 30% down or equivalent trade-in.
- 2) Financing through IHCC with finance waiver until May 1, 1984.
- 3) An interest charge of 14.75% * on the financed portion; five equal annual payments.

$100,000 Purchase Example

	50% bracket	25% bracket
Added cash for 1983 (Reduced tax liability):	$17,125.00	$13,562.50
Maintain a positive cash balance for investments until:	Fall 1987	Fall 1985
Total tax savings	$69,949.36	$39,974.68

The chart shows a purchase in 1983 could have a very positive effect on your cash position. In the 50% tax bracket example, 1983 tax liability is reduced by $17,125.00, freeing up that money for other investments. The reduced tax liability would offset the note expense until 1987, providing a positive cash balance for investment until then. Tax savings would total $69,949.36.

See your tax advisor. He can show you exactly how an equipment purchase this fall could give you a tax break next spring.

Then see us for the quality International equipment you can put in the field this fall. Ask your dealer for a copy of the "Take The Tax Break" brochure.

Jeff and Kristi Smith entered the Junior Division, and earned a plaque from the American Bantam Association and a trophy for their Grand Champion White Wyandotte. They also received a trophy for Best White Wyandotte and Best Opposite Variety.

They won a first place ribbon for White Wyandotte, second place ribbon for Black Old English and fourth place ribbon for Black Old English.

Brad and Brian West received a plaque from the American Bantam Association and a trophy for their Junior Division Reserve Champion Black Rosecomb. They also received a trophy for Best Black Rosecomb.

Their ribbons included first place for Black Rosecomb, Black Breasted Rose Old English and Best Opposite Variety, four second place ribbons and two fourth place ribbons.

Rhett Montague had the Best Opposite Variety Black Old English and received one first place ribbon.

Lynn Smith entered the Senior Division, and had Best of Variety and Best of Breed with Black Old English. He received two trophies and a plaque. Out of 65 Old English, he received one first place ribbon, one second place ribbon and one third place ribbon.

There were 450 bantams and the juniors competed against the seniors in the overall competition and then were rejudged for Grand and Reserve Junior Champion.

Mrs. George Seaneay spoke to members of the McIntyre family, who were at the Oklahoma City hospital with her nephew, Melvin G. McIntyre, early this week. She was told that he was having surgery that day, and that he was still in critical condition. He has not regained consciousness since the automobile accident in which two of his sons were killed.

NEW PRESIDENT CONDUCTS YOUNG FARMER MEETING

As new club president, Dale McWaters presided over the Silverton Young Farmer meeting held on Thursday, September 22.

Jerry Baird reported on saddles. The club voted to buy a saddle to be given away during the next rodeo. Oliver Saddle Shop will make it.

Tobe Riddell reported on the outcome of the fund-raising dance. There will be another to raise money for the show barn sponsored by the Silverton Fire Department and Silverton Young Farmers on October 8.

Committees and chairmen were appointed by McWaters for the coming year.

Those attending were McWaters, Riddell, Fred Brannon, Calvin Shelton, G. W. Chappell, Hand Baird, Jerry Baird, Clinton Dickerson, Rick Hester and Wayne Stephens.

SCHOTT BROTHERS LAMBS DO WELL AT LOCKNEY

David and Clay Schott showed lambs at the annual Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair in Lockney recently, and brought home some coveted prizes.

David showed a first place and grand champion Suffolk lamb; Clay had first and fourth place Hampshire lambs, and David had a fourth-place Finewool Cross lamb.

David exhibited the reserve champion of the show.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK BEING CELEBRATED WEEK OF OCTOBER 2-8

Briscoe County 4-H Club members will join 187,000 4-H members in Texas and more than five million 4-H members across the nation in celebrating National 4-H Week October 2-8. This week has been observed since 1942.

Since 1908 when a Boys Corn Club was organized in Jack County followed by a Girls Tomato Club, this youth organization based on agriculture has grown in the United States and in many foreign countries.

The theme of National 4-H Week is "4-H: Building on Experience" and centers on the "learning by doing" process which enables 4-H youngsters to develop skills that will benefit them in life. They also learn to build learning on their experiences as well as on those of leaders, parents, County Extension Agents and others who work with this program.

County 4-H members have the opportunity to participate in a variety of projects—livestock, foods and nutrition, shooting sports, clothing and textiles, public speaking, wildlife, photography and many others—which are taught by volunteer leaders in the county. These leaders, almost 15,000 in Texas, give of their time, experience and knowledge to help youth from 9 to 19 years of age learn about projects they are interested in.

Community businesses and individuals also support the 4-H program through donations of time and money. 4-H members would like to say thank-you to all those who help with this program.

This Is Your Business- Use It!

We appreciate your expressions of sympathy in the loss of our nephews. Your prayers, cards and visits are appreciated very much. We ask your prayers for the families of those boys and for the one that still remains in critical condition in the hospital in Oklahoma City. Mr. and Mrs. George Seaney

I would like to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, telephone calls, food and every act of kindness shown Jim and me while I was in the hospital and since I have been at home. A special thanks to Bro. Jerry Miller who visited with me while I was in the hospital. A great big thanks to my friends and loved ones who came to Amarillo and stayed with the family while I was in surgery.

I know Silvertown has the greatest people on earth living here. I love every one of you. May God bless each and every one of you.

Agnes and Jim
