Robert Gilmore Busy Making Bits and Spurs

Robert Gilmore never intended to go into the full-time business of making bits and spurs; in fact, he had never been able to afford the beautiful silver-inlaid spurs and bits in which he had admired the craftsmanship of others, because he was working for cowboy wages at the time.

This was what brought him to making his first pair—he wanted to see if he could make some for himself.

Pictured are some of the spurs and bits made by Robert Gilmore, local craftsman. The spurs are inlaid with copper and silver and have the customer's initials engraved on them.

Hightower Reaffirms Belief In Eventual School Prayer Passage

Congressman Jack Hightower today reaffirmed his belief that the school prayer amendment issue was not dead but would be brought up again and ultimately passed in Congress.

"I was hoping the House would take up the amendment this year, but it was defeated in the Senate, so it probably won't come up again until next year when I hope we can pass it in both houses," Hightower said. "Early this year, I signed a discharge petition to force it out of committee and to the House floor for a vote."

Because House committees have all jurisdiction over proposed legislation, only a "discharge petition" signed by 218 Members can force a bill out of committee and up for a vote in the full House. Once either the House or Senate defeats a bill, that bill is not generally brought up in the other body during that session when it would face defeat again.

"We must have a good, solid, well-written constitutional amendment to restore public school prayer," Hightower said. "I don't want anyone to force a student to say a particular prayer, but I think the people of this district and the nation want it clearly reaffirmed that voluntary prayer in school is constitutional," Hightower explained. "If we keep the pressure on, we'll pass it eventually, and that's what I plan to do," he emphasized.

Hightower also noted that he had voted for the so-called "Equal Access" bill that failed to pass the House on May 15 by only eleven votes. The bill was promoted by Hightower and others to assure that student religious groups in public high schools could not be denied the same rights given non-religious groups to meet on school grounds. "That's another important issue that we'll bring up again and ultimately pass," Hightower said.

Volunteers Needed To Assist Local Cancer Society

A project has been suggested for the Briscoe County Unit of the American Cancer Society to be carried out during the arts and crafts fair which is to be held during the Briscoe County Celebration on Thursday, August 9.

At this time, an effort is being made to determine whether enough volunteers would be available to help keep a booth in operation that day.

If you would be willing to work a shift in a booth (handing out literature and selling helium balloons), will you please call Mary Ann Sarchet at 823-2333.

TWO STRAY DOGS HAVE COME TO DAISY BURSON'S

A cow dog and a little toy dog have recently come to Daisy Burson's home.

She does not want to keep the dogs, and asks that if you think that one or both of the dogs may be yours, to come and claim them as soon as possible.

If no one comes to claim them in the next few days, she is going to have them destroyed.

AS A MAN THINKETH

Gerald Beasley
HIDEBOUND?

Certain primitive tribes bind their skulls so their heads grow "on a bias." When wrappings are removed, the first blood flow is agonizing.

In our society we scorn this practice, but our minds may be "bound" and thinking and opinions sadly biased. To remove the "wrappings" and allow new idea flow is painful. Perhaps this is why so few people really think.

Actually, scientists say that skull-binding isn't harmful. But all will agree that mind-binding is.

Jesus charged that Jews had "made void the word of God" by their tradition (Mt. 15:6). In their closed-mindedness, some cried, "Crucify!" They would not allow new truth flow. So Jesus was killed as an imposter. Later some of these murderers realized what they had done and with unbound hearts heeded the gospel message (Acts 2:22-41).

Jesus says, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (Jn. 8:32). A glorious combination is the truth and a "good and honest heart" (Lk. 8:15).

What a beautiful thing to open God's Book in earnest, prayerful (James 1:5) study, the mind not "hidebound!"

Mrs. Darrell Sorter and daughter, Sherri of Windfield, Missouri and Mrs. Richard Blankenship and daughter, Kristen of Saxton Missouri, visited with Mr. and Mrs. James Patton last week. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Patton and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Patton and families.

Pallbearers were grandsons, Tim Mercer, Dan Mercer, Brent Bean, Kyle Bean, Casey Bean and Denis Casey.

TIPS FOR COOKING

BEEF OUTDOORS

Prepare enough beef to satisfy hearty outdoor appetites. For most groups allow the following amounts per person: 1/4 to 1/2 pound ground beef, 1/2 pound boneless beef, 3/4 to one pound beef with bone.

Keep interest high throughout cookout season with a variety of beef entrees. In addition to the familiar tender steaks and burgers, less tender beef cuts can be braised on the grill when wrapped securely in heavy duty aluminum foil or cooked in a small amount of liquid in a covered pan. Some less tender cuts can be broiled after marinating.

Cook all beef cuts at low to moderate temperatures. Meat cooked with high heat is less tender and juicy.

Keep a careful check on meat during cooking. Total time will vary with cut, weather, fire or heat, position on grill and degree of doneness desired.

Use a meat thermometer to accurately determine doneness of large cuts of beef cooked on the rotisserie.

For flavor variety, beef can be brushed with sauce or marinade during all or part of cooking time if desired. If the sauce is high in sugar or other ingredients that burn easily, it should be brushed on during the latter part of cooking time.

Use tongs rather than a fork to handle beef to prevent loss of flavorful juices.

Have a spray bottle of water or a water pistol handy to put out flare-ups.

Always put safety first. Never use gasoline or kerosene to start a fire.

JULY IS OUTDOOR MEAL TIME

July—midsummer, hot, lazy days that seem to literally melt into each other. The most American of all holidays—The Fourth of July, is one day that stands apart in our potpourri of summer memories. The celebrations and traditions associated with this holiday are purely American—firecrackers dazzling the evening sky, flags waving in the breeze, parades, and of course who could forget the cookout or picnic.

Since the summertime brings forth an abundance and variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, planning a cookout or picnic menu can be colorful and creative. A variety of produce from Texas, along with other Texas food products are abundant at this time. Purchasing fruits and vegetables in season usually assures consumers of high quality and good price. Texas produce which is currently available includes canteloupe, honeydews, watermelon, squash, onions, cabbage, potatoes, cucumbers, peaches and bell peppers. Texas eggs and poultry are also good summertime buys.

In order to make your outdoor picnic or cookout fun and safe follow these tips shared with me by our marketing representative in Tyler:

1. Plan your cookout or picnic carefully.
2. Transport your food in woven picnic baskets, insulated thermal bags, backpacks and coolers. Instead of using one huge cooler, take two smaller ones to separate food and drinks.
3. If you chill an insulated thermal bag overnight in the refrigerator, cold foods placed inside will stay cold for four to six hours rather than one or two hours.
4. To chill coolers, put a bag of ice inside, close the top and allow to stand for 15 minutes. Place perishables directly on the top. To keep the cooler chilled at the picnic, set it in a shaded spot or cover with newspapers.
5. If you bring fruit juices, meats, poultry or foods containing eggs, mayonnaise, or milk products, be sure to keep them cold until they are served. Carry mayonnaise in an airtight container and add to a dish just before serving.
6. Prepare foods in shapes that pack easily. Leave cakes in the pans. Cut and wrap meats in individual portions.

7. For safety, tape the blade of your knife and lay it cutting edge down, along side of your picnic basket or cooler.

8. For neatness sake and to avoid possible contamination, always put leftovers back in the cooler.

9. To avoid a possible explosion, never put cold carbonated beverages in a vacuum bottle.

10. Commonly forgotten picnic items:

Paring knife, Can opener, Cork screw, Premoistened towels, Foil, Garbage bags, Paper napkins, Towels, First-aid kit, Insect repellent, Sweaters, Matches, Small cutting board, Flashlight, Salt and pepper, Table cloth.

A menu idea includes:
*Parmesan Chicken Bits, *Green Bean Potato Salad, Fresh Raw Texas Vegetables, Fresh Texas Peaches, *Peanut Butter Surprise Cookies, Iced Tea.

Summer Is Here

The summer season is here! The Department of Public Safety reminds Texas motorists that the most wonderful part of the year is here and hopes all Texas drivers will be driving next fall.

Texans will be traveling to various parts of the state to enjoy the hospitality and sunshine. According to Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Department of Public Safety, "We want the summer of 1984 to be the safest yet for the Texas motoring public."

Combine flour, salt, baking powder and cinnamon. Add gradually to peanut butter mixture until well blended. Add peanuts, chocolate and butterscotch chips. Spoon and flatten on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in 350° F. oven for 10-12 minutes. Remove and cool slightly. Makes approximately 10 dozen.

He noted that summer brings out the best and worst driving habits of Texans because alcohol consumption will be on the increase during the summer months. Major Cawthon stated, "Traffic increases on summer days and with added tourism, our highways can become more dangerous if alcohol is consumed." He reminds motorists that Texans will be leaving on vacation trips and need to obey the 55 mph speed limit and wear their seat belts for a safe trip.

He emphasized the vehicle needs to be checked, especially the cooling system, tires and belts to prevent unnecessary and unwanted breakdowns during our extremely warm weather ahead.

Major Cawthon reminds drivers that summer temperatures can increase a driver's temperament, so be patient, courteous, and friendly to make Texas summer 1984 a season to remember.

MRS. JOE KIRK SMITH

Lowrey-Smith Vows Exchanged In Formal Ceremony

Miss Angela Beth Lowrey exchanged double-ring wedding vows with Joe Kirk Smith at three o'clock Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Silverton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jerry Miller, pastor, before a brass arch candelabra flanked by brass candelabra holding French orchid candles, accented with greenery and bows. Boston ferns and arrangements of silk orchid roses, azaleas, dogwood, gloxinias and mums also decorated the church altar. Orchid bows marked the pews.

The couple's memory candle was placed on an antique wash stand which had belonged to the bride's great-great-grandparents.

As the bride entered to be married, she presented a rose to her mother, and as she left the altar after the ceremony, she presented a rose to her husband's mother.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lowrey of Silverton and Mrs. Joe Edd Smith of Quitaque.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white organza dress with sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and chapel-length train. The gown and train were trimmed with Alencon re-embroidered lace with pearl beading. Her illusion veiling was attached to a picture hat covered with Chantilly lace and pearl beading.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, daisies, baby's breath and pom-pom mums atop a lace-covered Bible.

To carry out bridal tradition, she placed pennies in her shoes minted in the years of birth of herself and the bridegroom. She carried a Bible carried by her mother in her own wedding as something old, chose her wedding ensemble and a pearl drop necklace as something new, borrowed pearl and diamond earrings from her sister and mother, and added a blue garter made by the groom's maternal grandmother.

Serving her friend as maid of honor was Miss Jeni Denton of San Angelo. Miss Shavonne Lowrey of Silverton, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Their floor-length gowns were of orchid moire taffeta designed with wrap bodices, puffed sleeves and fabric roses. They carried lace fans with French orchid and white peonies and greenery showered with orchid ribbon streamers.

Flower girl was Traci Wynn of Booker, Texas, cousin of the bride. She wore an orchid taffeta floor-length dress fashioned with puffed sleeves and carried a lace basket.

Cody Garrison of Canyon, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles.

Seating the guests were Frank Lowrey of Silverton, brother of the bride; Carter Trew of Canadian, brother-in-law of the groom; Walt Garrison of Canyon, cousin of the bride, and Rodney Carpenter of Quitaque.

Serving as best man was Shane Smith of Wheelock, cousin of the bride. Groomsman was Derrell Johnson of Matador.

Mrs. Anne Davidson was pianist, and accompanied Darrell

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a Quaker lace cloth over orchid, and held the bride's bouquet, orchid punch, mints and mixed nuts, orchid and grey napkins bearing the couple's names and the wedding date, and the wedding cake which was made in three tiers with orchid and purple daisies and roses cascading down the sides. It was topped with the miniature bride and groom that was used on the bride's parents' wedding cake.

The groom's table was covered with a grey cloth, and held a red velvet cake made in the shape of a Case tractor, iced tea, which was served from a hand-painted enamel bucket, nuts and mints.

shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all they soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.

Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose ... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

TURKEY IS A GOOD SUMMERTIME BUY

Traditionally turkey is a form of poultry that is served only at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. However, the hot, sunny summer days are a perfect time to serve Texas turkey. Generally prices for turkey are lower in the summer. Turkey is also a "best buy" because it will serve a large number of people and can be prepared in a variety of ways. An average 12-16 pound turkey will feed between 20-32 people. Turkey parts and pieces are available in supermarkets, for smaller households.

Since most people prefer to eat lighter during the warmer months, turkey is ideal for light meals and for dieters. Turkey is high in protein, low in fat and cholesterol and contains B vitamins, phosphorus and potassium. One cup of chopped or diced light and dark meat mixed contains 265 calories. Today's consumer is health and nutrition conscious, therefore processed turkey items such as turkey ham, turkey bologna and turkey salami have met with success in supermarket sales. These products are generally lower in fat than the original products, because they are processed from turkey.

Texas ranks seventh among the states in turkey production at seven million head per year. The Texas turkey industry contributes around 56 million dollars to the state annually. Gonzales County is the largest turkey producing county in Texas.

Enjoy these low calorie, delicious "Summertime Turkey" recipes from the Texas Department of Agriculture. Remember to keep all poultry and poultry products refrigerated.

MARINATED TURKEY

KABOBS

- 1 cup white cooking wine
- 1/2 cup soy sauce

- 1 1/2 T. Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 sm. finely chopped onion
 - 1/2 tsp. ground ginger
 - 1/2 cup vegetable oil
 - 2 cups cooked, cubed white meat turkey
 - 1 med. can chunk pineapple
 - 12 cherry tomatoes
 - 2 med. green bell peppers, cut in squares
 - 12 mushrooms
- Combine cooking wine, soy sauce, Worcestershire sauce, onion, garlic powder, ground ginger and vegetable oil. Pour over turkey cubes and marinate for at least two hours and up to 24 in the refrigerator. Before cooking, alternate marinated turkey cubes on skewers with pineapple chunks, cherry tomatoes, green peppers and mushrooms. Cook over charcoal until done, about 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

TURKEY SALAD

WITH CANTALOUPE

- 3 cups cooked turkey, skinned and diced
- 2 T. lemon juice
- 1 cup celery, chopped
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 (2 oz.) jar pimiento, drained
- 1/4 cup salad dressing
- 1 1/2 small cantaloupes, cut into eighths

Combine all ingredients except cantaloupe and mix well. Cover and chill. To serve, make circle of two slices of cantaloupe and spoon turkey salad into center. Yields six servings.

TURKEY BUFFET

CASSEROLE

- 4 oz. med.-wide noodles
 - 1 pkg. frozen broccoli spears
 - 3 T. butter or margarine
 - 3 T. flour
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/4 tsp. prepared mustard
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1 cup (1/4 lb.) processed American cheese, grated
 - 2 cups cooked turkey, diced
 - 1/3 cup pecans
- Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Cook broccoli as label directs until just tender; drain. Dice broccoli stems, but leave flowerets whole. In saucepan over low heat, melt butter; stir in flour, salt, mustard, pepper and milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Remove from heat and stir in cheese until melted. In greased shallow casserole or 8-inch square baking dish, arrange noodles, broccoli stems, and turkey; pour cheese sauce over all. Arrange broccoli flowerets on top, pressing them lightly into sauce. Sprinkle with pecans. Bake, uncovered, at 350° F. for 15 minutes, or until bubbling hot. Yield: 4-6 servings.

CONSIDER AMMONIATING POOR QUALITY HAY

With the prospect of poor quality hay this year due to dry conditions, hay ammoniation might be a worthwhile practice, says a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Crude protein in hay can be increased three to eight percent by ammoniation while digestibility can be increased from three to twenty-two percent.

Feeding trials have shown an increase in animal intake of 20 to 27 percent. Feeding studies also have shown that steers fed ammoniated hay gained one-half pound more a day than those on the same type of hay but untreated.

Cost varies from $8 to $14 a ton, with the hay's feeding value increased by $22 to $25 per ton. Ammoniation will pay on any hay that has a crude protein of less than eight percent.

FOOD POISONINGS AND PICNICS

July begins the peak picnic—and food poisoning—season. But with a few simple precautions, this unpleasant and sometimes serious illness can be avoided, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

Since bacteria are especially fond of protein, she recommends care when taking high protein foods such as meat, poultry, salads containing egg, custards and some baked foods on picnics.

The most likely sources of food poisoning are those dishes that you don't normally heat or reheat before serving on a picnic.

"Since refrigeration prevents the bacteria from making its poison, the most effective way to avoid food poisoning is to eat it right away or else keep it cold until it is served," she cautions.

Although the U.S. consumes about one-third of the world's coffee crop, the Swedish people outrank us as per capita drinkers of coffee.

The Deereslayer.

A lot of farmers like John Deere™ tractors, and it's hard to argue. Deere makes a good product. But when you compare a Deere four-wheel-drive with a Steiger, some really important differences stand out.

More drawbar horsepower.

For example, look at the Steiger Panther CPI360 versus the Deere 8850. Although the Deere is rated with 10 more engine horsepower, @ 2100 rpm the Steiger puts 19 more horsepower to work at the drawbar. And at lower rpm the Steiger gives you up to 27 more drawbar horsepower.

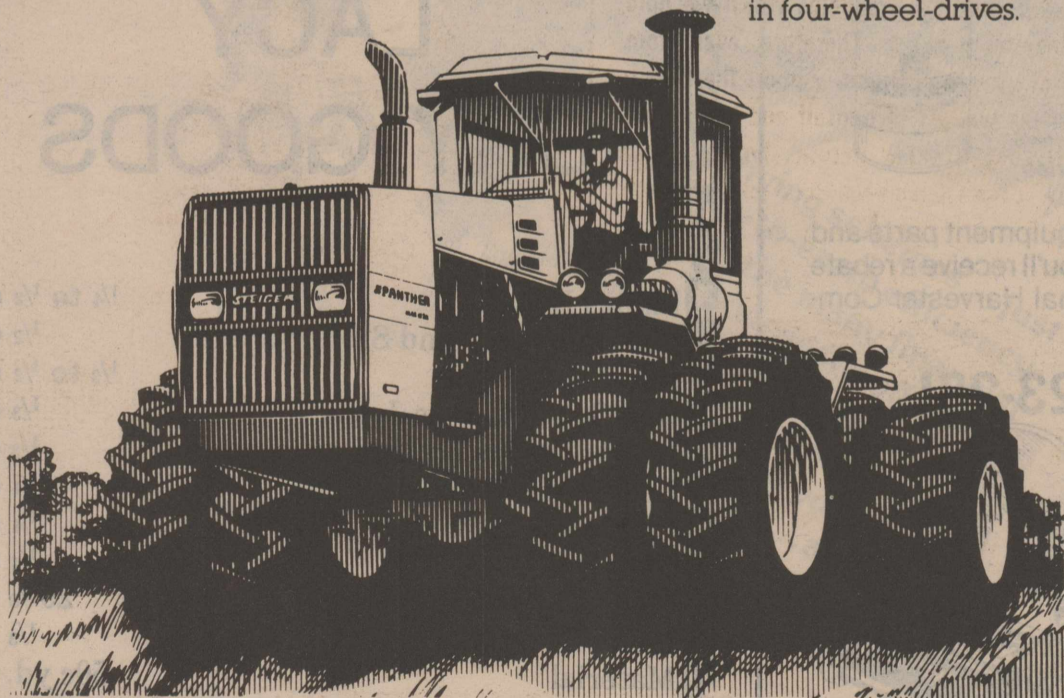

With the Steiger 12-speed full power-shift, you clutch only to start up. With a Deere Quad-Range,™ you have to clutch 8 times to cover all the gears.

Greater fuel efficiency.

There are other differences. The Steiger is 25% quieter in the cab, has 8.4% greater fuel efficiency, and a rugged state-of-the-art, in-line six-cylinder engine that gives you more torque rise than the Deere.

We invite you to compare.

Because all arguments aside, when you look at performance and specs, it's evident why Steiger is the best value in four-wheel-drives.

Comparison figures from official tests and manufacturer's published data

Senator Bill Sarpalius

Reports

OUR TIMING WAS BAD

AUSTIN — Timing is everything in politics and the same is true for politicians passing legislation. Had the present school reform activities of the Special Session been brought up in the Regular Legislative Session, those representing the rural areas of the State would have had more voice. We could have insisted that many of the elements that were included and are to be a burden on smaller school districts would not have happened. In a special session, it takes only a simple majority to pass legislation. In a regular session, it takes a vote of two-thirds of the Senate.

The bare fact is, there is not enough representation from the rural areas to hold our own with the metropolitan areas of Texas.

And as a result, the school districts with a smaller number of children, with large areas to cover and with a number of disadvantaged students will have to tighten their belts even tighter because of the actions of the Legislature.

We can look for property taxes to increase as our school districts assemble a financial package to pay for the new programs mandated by the Legislature. The only place the school districts have to go for funding is to their taxing base. To meet State standards they are going to have to implement and increase a number of programs. There will be a need for more facilities,

CARE AND STORING OF FRESH BEEF

Fresh beef which is not to be frozen should be stored in the coldest part (temperature as low as possible without actually freezing the meat) of the refrigerator or in the compartment designed for meat storage.

Fresh beef prepackaged for self-service should be stored, unopened, in the refrigerator in the original wrapping not to exceed two days, or it may be frozen without rewrapping and stored in the freezer one to two weeks. For longer freezer storage the original package should be overwrapped with special freezer material.

Fresh beef, not prepackaged, should be removed from the market wrapping paper, wrapped loosely in waxed paper or aluminum foil and refrigerated, as prepackaged meat, not to exceed two days.

Ground beef for best eating quality should be cooked within 24 hours or frozen.

Cured beef should be stored in its original wrapper in the refrigerator. For best eating quality, storage time should not exceed one week.

Cooked beef should be wrapped, or covered, and stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator within one to two hours after cooking. Cooked beef will keep better if left in larger pieces and not cut until ready to use. Covering prevents drying of the meat which has lost some moisture during cooking.

During World War I, parrots were kept on the Eiffel Tower to warn of approaching aircraft long before the planes were heard or seen by human spotters.

PERIWINKLES TOUGH, BUT VERY PRETTY

If you need a flowering plant that withstands the summer heat and has few insect problems, try the periwinkle.

Periwinkles boast a variety of colored flowers—white, pink, rose or lavender, and their narrow, dark-green, glossy leaves make their foliage quite attractive, notes a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Periwinkles love full sun and are excellent for borders, mass plantings or hanging baskets. They will survive and thrive in locations where other plants would languish during the hot Texas summers.

MEAT GOOD FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

A child is never too young to start learning good eating habits, but that doesn't mean parents should start feeding meat to their youngsters before the child is eight months old.

"By eight to ten months of age, the baby is used to eating solid foods and has a digestive system ready to absorb the protein in meats," says Marilyn Haggard, Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

Although meat is a good source of protein, most babies get plenty of protein from milk. The most important contribution meat can make to a baby's diet is iron because iron deficiency continues to be a health problem for many youngsters, says Ms. Haggard. Beef also provides B-complex vitamins, she adds.

Who Gets Cancer?

Cancer strikes at any age. It kills more children between the ages of 3 and 14 than any other disease. Cancer also occurs more frequently with advancing age, according to the American Cancer Society.
