Owls To Open Season At Patton Springs Friday

Silverton's Owls will be opening their varsity six-man football season at Patton Springs at 7:30 p.m. Friday. This will be one of the closest out-of-town games.

It has been pointed out that the Patton Springs school is located about two miles east of Highway 70, approximately as pinpointed on the map which accompanies this article. All of the locations of the schools that Silverton will be playing this year are located on the map, including those who will be playing here. Most are in the Lubbock area, but Texline is in the very northwest corner of the Texas Panhandle and Higgins is almost in the very northeast corner of the Panhandle. Fortunately for the fans, both of those teams come to Silverton this year.

Three of the games have been scheduled for Saturday afternoons due to the travel distance and new state law concerning schools.

The Owls will be playing for honors in the new conference for the first time this season, having played as an independent team last year.

JUNIOR HIGH OWLS

The Silverton Junior High Owls will not be opening their schedule until they host Higgins at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, September 14. That day the varsity Owls will also play Higgins here beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Mackenzie Tax Rate Drops Three Cents

In its monthly board meeting the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority Board approved a three cent tax rate cut for the new budget... a reduction from 28 to 25 cents per $100 valuation. (If you have a $100,000 home, your lake tax will be $30.00 less.)

Authority manager Neil Taylor told the board 25 cents was not enough money to handle the budget, but due to a build-up of surplus, it would be sufficient for the new budget.

SAFETY CABLE

The board also voted to install a $6,000 cable on both sides of the road across the lake dam, using existing posts with Authority employees doing the work.

WATER CONSUMPTION

Taylor reported that the total water consumption for the four cities amounted to 67,358,410 gallons during the month of July.

The use by each city was broken down as follows:

Floydada, 21,408,700 gallons, 30%

Lockney, 10,740,000 gallons, 15%

Silverton, 6,480,210 gallons, 9%

Tulia, 28,729,500 gallons, 46%

Manager Taylor then reported on the respective 1983 tax evaluations on the appraised properties in the respective cities, which total $156,115,808, broken down as follows:

Floydada, $46,765,258, 29.96%

Lockney, $21,754,895, 13.93%

Silverton, $16,487,820, 10.56%

Tulia, $71,107,835, 45.55%

ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Taylor also reported that work on the paved road project would be complete in two weeks and the board recommended to Taylor that large speed limit signs be erected.

Neighbors Can Help Prevent Rural Theft

With farm and ranch equipment theft on the upswing, neighborhood or community patrols can be a key deterrent to such crime, says a community development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Community patrols organized in cooperation with the county sheriff enable neighbors to watch each other's homes, barns, equipment and livestock.

These patrols extend the eyes and ears of law enforcement agencies. Patrols do not get involved in any action, but just notify the police or sheriff of suspicious activities.

LOOKING BACK

through the July 26, 1918 issue of the Silverton Star

Portions of this part of the Plains have lately been visited by good rains. A strip between here and Tulia had a heavy rain and the roads have been in pretty bad condition in places . . . Will Donnell was in town a few days ago, taking out a load of lumber and other material to be used in the work being done on the Hay Lake school building . . . Mrs. L. A. (Grandma) Reid, one of our lovable pioneer characters was the oldest woman to register in this county, being 86 years old the fourth day of this month. She is a person of great endurance and has bravely overcome some great obstacles. A little over a year ago she fell and broke one of her hips, and her friends were fearful lest she might never recover from it, owing to her age, but she has fooled them all and can now walk without crutches, although she also got one of her arms broken before her hip was entirely well. In May 1910, she very heroically rescued her grandson, Percy Reid, age 18 months, from drowning. The child had fallen into a tank and was almost lifeless when she found him. Instead of getting wild with excitement and calling for help, she jumped into the tank and rescued him. She has lived in Briscoe County since October 1890 . . . Dr. J. J. Breaker has been accepted for service and expects to leave for training camp in the near future . . . Col. Chas. Goodnight was here one day last week in company with Atty. J. L. Lackey, who was making a canvas of the district in his race for Congress. Col. Goodnight is 81 years old and has been in this part of the country 47 years. He has a herd of about 170 head of buffalo, the largest herd in the United States owned by an individual. He says these animals when killed for beef will bring about $300 each at current prices for buffalo meat, hides, heads, etc. He also has the Persian sheep and was wearing a pair of trousers made wholly of buffalo and Persian sheep wool, half and half. The colonel is a very interesting talker and can tell many thrilling tales of adventure on the frontier in the early days. He is quite hale and hearty for a man of his age, and apparently has the promise of many years yet to live . . . Plans have been consummated whereby the Goodnight College at Goodnight, Texas, becomes an annex to Buckner's Orphan's Home . . . Bill Smith, Guy Nix and Elbert Dickerson have volunteered for Cavalry service. They will go to Plainview soon, from where they will be sent to Camp Travis for training . . . A card from Mrs. J. B. Porter at Norton, New Mexico says they are enjoying good health, like their new home fine and have the finest prospects for a garden they ever had. She stated that their stock was getting fat, although it was real dry there at that time. Their son-in-law, C. C. Head has the contract to carry the mail from Tucumcari to Grady, a 100 mile trip. Miss Clara is at the Normal at Las Vegas . . . The court house yard which has been so badly neglected, has been ploughed and put in pretty nice shape again, J. W. Jones doing the plowing . . . The four oldest women in the county to register were Grandma Reid, 86, Grandma Riddle, 83, Grandma Smith (Mrs. Paul's mother), 82, and Grandma Sedgwick, 78. They are all grand characters and loved by our people . . . Jno. B. Rentfro and A. L. Hawkins and their sons were in from the north part Saturday . . . J. P. Hardesty was pastor of the Baptist Church which had preaching on the second and fourth Sundays in each month . . . Zoro B. Pirtle was pastor of the Methodist Church which met on the first and third Sundays . . . Bible lessons were held at 10:00 a.m. at the Church of Christ, with communion service at 11:00 a.m. each Sunday . . . The First National Bank in Silverton, of which Jno. Burson was president, J. A. Bain, vice president, and T. S. Stevenson, cashier, listed capital of $30,000 and surplus and profits of $70,000 . . .

Wilkinson Is National Academic All-American

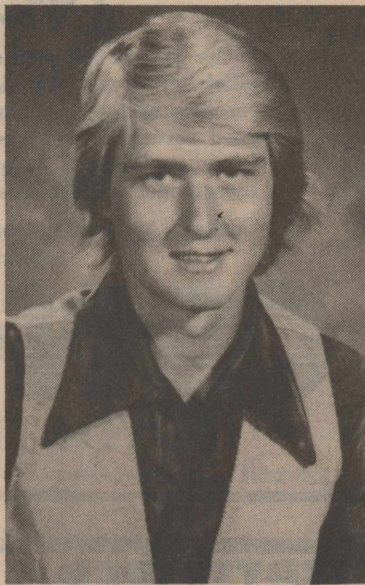

The National Secondary Education Council announced recently that Clifton Wilkinson has been named an Academic All-American.

The NSEC has established the Academic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the Academic disciplines. The Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average. Only Scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Wilkinson, who attends Memphis High School, was nominated for the National Award by Miss Davidson, his math teacher. Wilkinson will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Academic All-American Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the National Secondary Education Council.

The Council selects Academic All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors.

CLIFTON WILKINSON

Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the NSEC for other honors.

Wilkinson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Wilkinson of Hedley. His grandparents are Dorothy (Quesenbury) Harris of Perryton and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkinson of Silverton.

While fertile eggs are generally more expensive to produce, they are no more nutritious than nonfertile ones, points out a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Today most table eggs are not fertile. Clean, sound shelled, graded eggs under refrigeration are the best choice.

AFTER-SCHOOL

HEALTHY SNACK TIME

Along with the school bells ringing and children returning to the classrooms comes the age-old problem of new ideas for healthy after-school snacks.

All too often, children consume snacks that are high in fat, calories, sodium or sugar. Typical after-school snacks usually include candy, soft drinks, ice cream, chips or various other items. These foods are acceptable on occasion, but as daily after-school snacks, they provide high calories with little nutrition. In addition, most of these items are high in saturated fats, sodium and sugar. School-age children need foods rich in nutrients, proteins and carbohydrates for growth, development and to fuel their bodies and brains with energy.

Advanced planning by moms and caretakers can aid children in gradually being "weaned" from their typical snack fare to more nutritious, wholesome snacks. Muffins are a good alternative to cupcakes. Preparing the muffins in advance and freezing can save time. Only the desired number of muffins needed could be removed and thawed at room temperature or heated for that "fresh baked" aroma and flavor. This idea also allows the caretaker to have greater control over the number of servings of snacks. Muffins can also be served as the bread accompaniment to the evening meal or served as dessert with fresh or canned fruit.

"Walking Salads" are another healthy snack. Some ideas to give your imagination a nudge include:

Coring an apple or tomato and filling with cottage cheese or fill the apple with a mixture of peanut butter, grated carrots and raisins.

Fill celery sticks with peanut butter and sprinkle with sunflower seeds.

Wrap a cabbage leaf around a slice of cheese.

Make a mini-kabob with fresh vegetables—cucumber, cherry tomatoes, broccoli, and carrot curls.

Roll sliced chicken or turkey in a lettuce leaf.

Snacks for the diabetic, as well as the non-diabetic, child include:

Homemade popsicles which can be made by freezing apple, orange, pineapple, or grape juice in 3-ounce paper cups, using 1/4 cup juice. One serving equals 1/2 fruit exchange for all except grape which equals one fruit exchange. The frozen juice can also be whipped in a blender or food processor for a "sno-cone" like treat.

TEXAS ORANGE DRINK and OATMEAL APPLE RAISIN MUFFINS are two recipe ideas from the Texas Department of Agriculture. Orange juice is in abundant supply in Texas and can be purchased in many forms: frozen concentrate, aseptic boxes or cans. Texas has a small apple industry which is starting to bloom. Currently apples in Texas are grown on the High Plains, in the Hill Country, the Winter Garden area and in the Davis Mountains. Since apples provide a sweetness all their own, this muffin recipe is low in sugar, a good reason these muffins can be considered a healthy snack.

through the December 13, 1918 issue of the Silverton Star

W. G. Sears is teaching school in the Antelope community . . . Bland Burson came in from Canyon yesterday . . . A very sad incident of the week was the death of little "Buddie" Roberts, the five or six year old son of W. T. Roberts of Gasoline . . . Our community was saddened last Monday by the death of Mrs. G. E. Moffitt. She had been afflicted with the influenza only a few days, pneumonia having set in almost at the first . . . A. C. (Uncle Alec) Bomar breathed his last at the home of his son, Jim, in the east part of town yesterday morning about two o'clock. He has been a sufferer from asthma for a number of years, and only a few days was attacked with the flu, but was thought to be getting along very well. Jim had been waiting on him and went into another room and lay down to catch a little nap, and had been asleep only a short time when his sister woke him and asked to see about their father as she had not heard him for a little bit, and when he went in there Uncle Alec's spirit had already taken its flight. The deceased was 64 years of age and had lived in this county since 1891, being one of the oldest settlers in the county . . . Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Porter last Saturday, a boy . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Paul left in their Dodge Wednesday evening for Amarillo to make their future home, going by Mrs. Long's place northwest of town, where they spent the night. They sold their place here to Mr. Joiner conditionally, who has moved his family into the house . . . THANKS, BOLL WEEVIL!

Enterprise, Alabama has a public monument—a boll weevil, exquisitely carved in stone!

Years ago that area was cotton country. Then came the boll weevils. They won. Scientists, including George Washington Carver, looked for another cash crop.

Peanuts! The answer. Cotton gins and boll weevils faded out. Peanut prosperity came.

Enterprise folks gave the weevil his due. He had forced them to find a better way! They erected a statue to honor the critter!

A friend approached artist John Ruskin, upset that a valuable handkerchief had been ruined by an ink blot. Ruskin asked for the handkerchief. He returned it after designing a beautiful pattern on it, beginning with the ugly blot.

"All things" (even problems) work "for good" to those who love God (Rom. 8:28). "It was good for me that I was afflicted" (Psa. 119:71). Paul learned to "take pleasure . . . in weaknesses . . . distresses . . ." (2 Cor. 12) because strengthening resulted.

If you don't have any problems, you're in trouble!

SEPTEMBER 9 DESIGNATED AS GRANDPARENTS DAY

Governor Mark White has designated September 9 as "Grandparents Day" in Texas.

In Governor White's official memorandum he said, "It is fitting and proper that we call attention to the contributions of our Grandparents. They built our families, they built America and their persistence and belief in themselves and our nation, has enabled it and us to weather the bad times and rejoice in the good times. Let us rededicate ourselves to preserving their legacy."

O. P. (Bob) Bobbitt, executive director of the Texas Department on Aging, said, "Grandparents are very unique individuals; they can spoil our children with love and ask so little in return. I urge all grandchildren to take a little time on this special day to visit, call or write their grandparents. Grandchildren have been called the gift for growing old; but grandparents are our children's gift as the closest link to their heritage."

"If you do not have a grandparent, September 9 would be a great day to adopt an isolated senior citizen in your neighborhood or at your nearest nursing home if even for a few precious hours."

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Hill are parents of a daughter, Cortney Ann, born at 6:36 p.m. September 2, at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. She weighed six pounds and six ounces and measured 19 inches long.

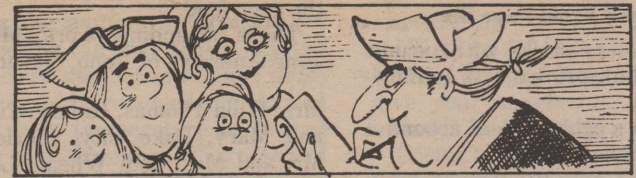

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Martin and Mrs. Carlye Hill, all of Silvertown, and Robert Haley Hill of Amarillo.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bly Shannon of Quitaque, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Carver Monroe, all of Silvertown.

Brownies To Reorganize Monday

The Silvertown Brownies will be reorganizing on Monday, September 10, from 5:00 until 6:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Prospective Brownies need to bring a parent or guardian to fill out some papers and pay $3.00 for the registration. If you have not contacted Vicki Bean about becoming a Brownie and would like to join, please come to this meeting.

Gramm Accused of Acting Irresponsibly On Nuclear Waste Issue

Lloyd Doggett, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, charged recently that Phil Gramm acted irresponsibly when he sided with big Eastern utility companies and against Texas Panhandle residents on the issue of nuclear waste disposal.

The federal government is considering sites near Tulia and Hereford for a dump for high-level radioactive wastes. The proposed dump would be the sole location for waste from the nation's nuclear power plants.

"The fields of the Texas Panhandle should be planted with grain, not with radioactive waste," Doggett said. "Panhandle residents should not be forced to live under a nuclear cloud for the next six years while the utility companies and bureaucrats up in Washington try to figure out what to do with a problem largely of their own making."

Doggett recently sponsored a resolution in the Senate to prevent the burial of high-level radioactive waste in the Panhandle, calling the action "a message to Phil Gramm, the Washington bureaucrats and the big Eastern utilities—if they want to turn the Panhandle into a dump for their nuclear garbage, the answer is no, no, no."

Doggett's resolution, SCR20, instructs the Texas Water Commission to deny a permit to the federal government for exploratory work at the two proposed Panhandle sites. The Senate resolution was designed to veto the construction of a nuclear waste dump in Texas. A state veto could only be overridden by a joint resolution of both houses of Congress, a move Doggett said he will fight in the U. S. Senate "with every weapon available to me—including a filibuster if necessary."

In contrast, Phil Gramm in 1982 worked closely with the utility industry to deny states the independent power to veto a waste dump and to weaken environmental protections in the Nuclear Waste Policy Act.

Gramm voted for an amendment to make it much easier for Congress to overturn a state veto. However, Gramm's effort failed and the bill that finally passed includes a strong state veto right.

"Phil Gramm's vote to weaken our right as Texans to say whether or not we want a nuclear dump was completely irresponsible," Doggett said. "The Panhandle sites are in prime farming territory. Construction of a waste dump in Deaf Smith or Swisher counties would threaten the agricultural productivity of a vast region, one of the main agricultural producing areas of the state."

Texans "may wonder why Phil Gramm would vote against them and side with the big utility companies," Doggett added. "But the answer is simple: Phil Gramm has received more money from the nuclear power industry than any other member of Congress."

"It's just another example of how Phil Gramm has been callous and insensitive to the needs of ordinary Texans, while serving at the beck and call of selfish interests which can give him big campaign bucks."

Octoberfest—Camping For Older Texans

Texans 55 and older have an opportunity to enjoy camping at the Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood this fall. Called Octoberfest '84, the camping program offers senior citizens a chance to spend a week learning and doing in a comfortable and supportive atmosphere, notes a 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Five different sessions are being offered this year: Oct. 2-5, Oct. 9-12, Oct. 16-19, Oct. 23-26 and Oct. 30-Nov. 2.

Each session allows participants to engage in a variety of "hands on" experience as well as to enjoy a wide range of recreational activities.

Research Center To Host Field Day

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, located 7 1/2 miles north of Lubbock on Highway 87, will be having open house from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, September 11.

Cooperating agencies include USDA-ARS, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, High Plains Research Foundation and Texas Forest Service.

There will be tours, conferences and displays. You are welcome to attend without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin or physical or mental handicap.

Research in cotton breeding focuses on the development of germplasm with special emphasis on fiber quality, drought tolerance, hybrids, disease resistance and herbicide resistance in both glanded and glandless cottons. Numerous varieties and strains are being tested under irrigated and dryland conditions.

During 1984, many weed problems have occurred in crop production. Results of research directed at control of perennial and annual weeds such as lakeweed, whiteweed, nutsedge and laceleaf sage will be discussed. An update will be presented on new herbicides labeled for use in cotton, soybeans, sorghum and corn. Research with new herbicide application techniques such as low volume nozzels and cotton oil carriers will be presented.

Evaluation of water-use-efficient cotton, grain sorghum and turfgrass germplasm is conducted under rainout shelters to protect field plots from untimely rain. Prior research efforts have identified several sources of cotton and sorghum germplasm that utilize available water efficiently. Experimental lines have been developed from this germplasm and are being tested in commercial weeding programs. The influence of fertilizers on yield when water is limited is also being investigated.

Visitors will be able to view historical plantings of cotton, grain sorghum and other crops.

Objectives of grape research include studies on variety adaptability for winter hardiness, yield and juice quality of different varieties, rootstock effects on yield and juice quality, water requirements and weed control. Information will be presented on these topics as well as economics of grapes as a diversification crop for the Texas South Plains.

The public is welcome to view presentations of the History of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, as well as past major accomplishments and current major research program thrusts.

Facilities will be open to the public, and persons wishing to tour the greenhouse and other facilities are welcome. Literature on windbreak species selection and windbreak design are available as well as related literature and tree seedling applications.

A barbecue lunch will be served at noon.

WEDNESDAY:

Worship Service 7:00 p.m.

shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all they soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.

Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose ... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

CARDS OF THANKS

How could we begin to express in words our love and appreciation for the many, many things that have been done for us during the time Glen was in the hospital and after his death. The love and concern that have been given to us have been beyond our imagination. To list all of the things that have been done would be impossible, to name each person who has helped us to bear our great loss is impossible;
but to know how much you have helped us is not impossible and we know in our hearts who each of you are. We know and you know. We ask for your prayers.
With the help of our God and our friends and family, we will be able to go forward.

Mrs. Glen Lindsey
Don, Betty, Tracy and Donna
Smith
Mrs. Leavie Cherry
Sue Blocker and family

I would like to thank the

To all you wonderful people, I would like to say thank-you for your prayers, flowers and words of comfort during my loss. I love you and may God bless you.
The Bill Griffin family

I want to say thanks for all the cards, pot plants, telephone calls and all the prayers that were offered while I was in the hospital and since I have been home. A special thanks to those who were with my family while I was in surgery. May God bless you all as we have been blessed.

In Christian love,
Ashel McDaniel

We want to express our appreciation to our loved ones and friends who attended the funeral of Carl Lee Henley, brother of Anita Seaney, also for the telephone calls, flowers, cards and memorials.

May God bless each of you.
