Lots of Split-Ticket Voting In General Election

Lots of Briscoe County voters, as well as voters across the nation, split the tickets in the General Election Tuesday to disprove the "coat-tails" theory that many Republicans would be swept into office with the landslide-victory of incumbent-President Ronald Reagan.

Already holding a majority of Senate seats, the Republicans saw a small gain by Democrats there and had a much smaller gain in the House of Representatives than had been expected.

Many of the district and state races were very close, and since the Briscoe County News goes to press early it was not possible to designate all the winners in the issues on the statewide ballot. There were only six contested races for Briscoe County voters, and it appeared that the trend established in the county was not necessarily the same as the final outcome.

In the race for the United States Senate, Republican Phil Gramm was projected as the winner early in the evening. This seat had been held by Republican John Tower who is retiring at the end of the present term.

The biggest upset in the district appears to be the defeat of incumbent-Democrat Jack Hightower, who appeared to have lost by a very small margin to Republican-challenger Beau Boulter for the seat in the House of Representatives.

The "coat-tail" effect may have helped in these two races.

Briscoe County's voting strength is close to 1500, and 1055 of them went to the polls and cast their ballots Tuesday, a better-than-average turnout.

The results from each of Briscoe County's election precincts may be found on page six.

MIXED DRINK TAXES RETURNED TO CITIES, COUNTIES

State Comptroller Bob Bullock recently sent checks totaling $11.6 million to 221 counties and 425 cities as their third quarter share of the state's 10 percent mixed drink tax collected through October 1, 1984.

The Texas Legislature raised the rate to 12 percent, effective October 2.

Bullock said the state collected $40.4 million in taxes on the sale of mixed drinks during the quarter, up 8.5 percent over the same period in 1983.

Texas cities and counties each receive a 15 percent rebate of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized the sale of mixed drinks in the state. The state's general revenue fund receives the balance—$28.7 million—of the tax money collected.

Cities and counties will get a 15 percent share of the increased mixed drinks gross receipts tax from fourth quarter collections. Beginning with the first quarter of 1985, cities and counties each will receive a 12.5 percent share of the increased tax and the state will get the entire gain from the tax increase.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and city-county rebates are sent out quarterly by the Comptroller's office.

Bullock said the mixed drink tax has brought in $120.5 million so far during 1984.

In Briscoe County, the total county tax revenue totalled $2,990.40, with the county's 15 percent remittance amounting to $448.56.

Silvertown's total city tax revenue was $1,474.12, with the city's 15 percent remittance being $221.12. Quitaque's tax revenue total was $1,516.28, with the city's 15 percent remittance being $227.44.

Consumer Product SAFETY ALERT

FROM THE U.S. CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20207

October 1984

Under laws administered by CPSC, an estimated 325 million potentially hazardous products have been called back from the marketplace and consumers since 1973 (when CPSC was created). Most of these were voluntarily recalled by manufacturers who established programs to repair or replace the products, or to refund the purchase price.

Night Bike Riders At Risk

To help reduce nighttime bicyclist fatalities, cyclists should always wear a good helmet, use front and rear lights and reflectors, and wear reflective clothing. Children should never ride at night, and cyclists should avoid riding on unlighted, narrow roadways.

Gibson, in "Burning the Wind," will be seen at the Palace Theatre this weekend . . . Owls meet Tulia Hornets Friday . . . Dead Horse Is Buried In Court Yard: "Oh, bury me not on the lone prairie, Where the coyotes howl and the winds blow free"—hummed the old horse just before he plunged into the cesspool of the courthouse yard last week. He had wandered in from the lonesome prairies, seeking a suitable resting place close to habitation, as the end of his days approached. He came upon the sacred premises of the court, near the so-called jail, the prisoner's delight, when the ground slipped from beneath him, and he dropped into a subterranean cavity. "This is Hades," gurgled the equus as he was submerged in the murky filth which was so obnoxious to the grand jury. In the postmortem caucus, it was decided by Judge O. R. Tipps to carry out the dying request of the horse and inter him, "as is," on the courthouse yard. An inglorious death, but appeased somewhat by an exclusive burial ground. "Sweets to sweet . . . And from his fair and unpolluted flesh may violets spring"—was the inappropriate chant of the burial party who held their noses and shoveled in the sod upon the yawning cesspool and deceased burden-bearer . . . "Affair of the Season," accorded Mrs. Tom M. Nichols' "42" luncheon . . . Mrs. Max Crawford is bridge hostess . . .

Because of a sharp increase in the number of bicyclist fatalities resulting from car-bike collisions at night, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has issued a warning to bike riders to take necessary steps to make themselves and their bicycles more visible at night.

The number of bicyclists killed at night has increased from 304 to 372 per year. In 1975, the number of nighttime deaths accounted for 30% of the total number of bicyclists killed. By 1982 (the latest year for which complete data are available), nighttime deaths accounted for 42% of the total number of bicyclists killed. One factor contributing to fatal nighttime bicyclist accidents is that the bicycles and riders are not readily visible to motorists. Motorists involved in car/bicycle collisions report that they hit bicyclists because the bicycles and riders were not visible. Cyclists' failure to wear protective helmets may have also contributed to the severity of head injuries suffered in car-bike collisions.

Therefore, CPSC recommends the following actions to cyclists:

1. Be sure your bike has reflectors required on all new bicycles by the CPSC bicycle regulation. Each bike should have front and rear reflectors, pedal reflectors, and side rim or wheel reflectors. Use front and rear lights (as required in many States) to help make your bicycle more noticeable to cars at night. Small battery-operated lamps strapped to your legs also help.

2. Wear reflective clothing to make yourself more visible to automobile drivers. Wear a reflective vest, reflective bands on arms and legs, and reflectorized tape on helmet.
3. Always wear a good helmet with a rigid (but crushable) interior material which may help absorb the force of an impact. (This is important for daytime riding, too.)
4. Never allow children to ride at night.
5. Avoid riding on dark, narrow roadways where the posted speed limit is more than 35 mph.

For more information on bicycle safety, consumers should call the CPSC Toll-Free Hotline on 800-638-CPSC. A teletypewriter for hearing-impaired consumers is 800-638-8270 (Maryland residents only, 800-492-8104).

Texas Farm Economy Worst In 50 Years

Texas' farm economy has gone downhill steadily in the past few years, and farmers have found themselves in the worst economic squeeze since the Great Depression.

That assessment comes from Dr. Carl Anderson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The adjusted farm income for inflation nationwide in 1983 was the lowest since the bleak years of 1932-33," Anderson points out.

Net farm income in Texas this year will be only about half of what it was in 1979, says Anderson. This means that the purchasing power of the farm dollar is only about 25 to 30 percent of what it was five years ago.

The current farm financial stress stems largely from depressed crop and livestock prices, steady increases in costs, adverse weather conditions and high real interest rates that increase costs and strengthen the dollar against foreign currencies, the economist points out. "A strong dollar has discouraged exports and encouraged imports and foreign production," Anderson says, "further squeezing markets for American farm commodities."

Extreme drought conditions have persisted over much of Texas this year, lowering forage and crop production and increasing production costs. Prices paid by farmers for inputs have increased almost a third in the last five years while average prices received for crops and livestock have fallen slightly.

But Anderson says the present "crunch" on agriculture results mainly from action outside its confines. National economic policies, trade subsidies of other countries, tariffs, trade restrictions and other forces have influenced interest rates, inflation and other economic conditions at home and abroad.

"Extremely high interest rates which support the strong value of the dollar have been the number one problem to farmers," he emphasizes. "When the dollar rises in value, exports decrease and imports increase. All this gives farmers overseas incentive to produce more to satisfy their own needs as well as to export when possible."

Mechanization and chemicals for pest control encouraged farmers to expand and take on lower profit margins in the 1970s. "When interest rates skyrocketed, export markets began to disappear and stockpiles of surplus grain, cotton and dairy products appeared in the early 1980s," notes Anderson.

These low returns to investments are beginning to show now, especially in the less populated areas where agriculture is the dominant use of land and land values have declined.

Outstanding agricultural debt now exceeds $13 billion in Texas, a rise in farm debt of nearly 50 percent since 1979. And though ample loanable funds are available to agriculture, the problem is that many agricultural borrowers are unable to generate a cash flow that can support commercial lending practices, the economist explains.

"Some farmers will either be forced out of agriculture," says Anderson, "or they will have to come under the Farmers Home Administration's emergency loan procedures."

Despite depressed income, Texas agriculture is still financially sound, believes Anderson. Debt, as a percent of assets, is averaging less than 20 percent, and agricultural loan losses have increased only slightly since 1980.

This year's farm income may improve slightly from the depressed levels of the last two years. The improvement is a mixture of stronger prices early in the year and livestock liquidation by ranchers due to drought conditions, explains the economist.

"The greater cash flow is from ranchers being forced to sell livestock," Anderson says. "The liquidation of breeding herds has increased the cash flow this year but will decrease it in the coming years."

However, more Texas farmers and ranchers will likely be in serious financial trouble by year-end due to heavy debt and adverse weather conditions, adds Anderson.

DON'T KISS $8,938 GOODBYE

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

Looking for a big discount when you buy a tractor? Don't get stuck with an even bigger discount when you want to sell it.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 73 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $8,938!

Is this only true of one model? No. Every 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractor has an average resale price that's higher than its new price five years ago.

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series

John Deere tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and high reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850.

NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1984 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association. Percentages calculated from best currently available information on 1979 list prices.

Enjoy your coffee without worrying

HOUSTON, TX. — Can drinking too much coffee increase your risk of developing cancer?

"It appears doubtful," says Dr. Guy R. Newell, director of cancer prevention programs at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

For every study suggesting coffee is a villain in promoting cancers of the bladder and pancreas in particular, other research has failed to show any connection between coffee and malignant diseases.

"No biologic explanation can be given for why coffee could be implicated, either. Some investigators assumed caffeine would be the culprit, but this is a natural component in both coffee and tea and there is absolutely no link to tea intake and any kind of cancer," Dr. Newell notes.

Considering the large amount of coffee consumed in the United States and many other countries, he says relatively few human studies have been done about the possible role of this popular drink and cancer.

"I'd like to see some very careful research to check out the alleged associations. Meanwhile, I see no reason for people not to have another cup of java and enjoy it," Dr. Newell says.

Amanda Blake To Chair Smokeout

The American Cancer Society announced today that television actress Amanda Blake, renowned for her role as Miss Kitty in "Gunsmoke," will serve as honorary chairman of the 1984 Great American Smokeout in Texas.

Claiming she'd rather see a gun smoke any day before seeing a friend or loved one do the same thing, the celebrated Austin resident will be asking Texas smokers to give up their cigarettes for just one day—November 15.

A former smoker, Miss Blake quit smoking eight years ago. "I smoked two packs a day for twenty years and quit cold turkey," she said. "But of course, mouth cancer is a strong incentive to give up cigarettes."

Amanda Blake was diagnosed as having cancer of the mouth in 1976. After undergoing surgery, she is completely free of the disease today.

The annual Smokeout, now in its eighth year, is sponsored by the ACS nation-wide to good-naturedly encourage smokers to give up their cigarettes for just one day—if only to prove to themselves they can.

A survey conducted by the Gallup organization last year indicated that almost 36 percent of the 52 million American smokers tried to quit for the day. Eight percent made it the full 24 hours and about four percent were still not smoking one to 11 days later.

According to Texas ACS volunteers planning the Smokeout, Miss Blake's involvement is particularly timely.

"The ACS recently announced that lung cancer has exceeded breast cancer as the leading cause of cancer deaths among Texas women," said Russell Autry of El Paso, who is the volunteer spearheading the campaign in Texas. "We feel that with Miss Blake as our honorary chairman, we'll increase our chances of reaching this target group."

Last March, Miss Blake received the American Cancer Society's Courage Award from President Ronald Reagan in ceremonies at the White House.

The award salutes her personal courage in her battle against cancer and cites the hope and inspiration she gives all Americans in the fight for life and health.

As Texas' honorary Smokeout chairman, she will be making appearances at rallies, parades and other Smokeout celebrations in several Texas cities.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

For many years, I have had the privilege of discussing various issues through this column. Since Congress has recessed for the year and I am retiring soon, this will be my last "Capitol Update." I hope the readers of this column have gotten as much from reading it as I have from writing it.

Representing Texas in the Senate has been the highest honor and the most rewarding experience of my life. I owe an enormous debt of gratitude to the people of Texas who four times have elected me their Senator. To those who have given me their encouragement, support, dedication and friendship, I will never be able to adequately express my profound appreciation.

I also am indebted to my colleagues in the Senate who have entrusted me with positions of leadership. I have attempted to meet those responsibilities to the best of my ability. The confidence and trust they have placed in me have been a source of strength and satisfaction that few who enter public service come to know.

Representing the interest of Texas always has been a challenging task because of its diverse populace and industrial base. I always tried to keep in touch with my constituency through correspondence and trips to Texas. I have endeavored to serve the interests and to reflect the basic values of my fellow Texans.

As chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I have been able to participate and aid in the rebuilding and modernizing of America's national defense capability. I believe we are stronger than we ever have been, and are able to respond to a variety of situations around the world. We are now in a better position to negotiate a more secure peace to last generations to come.

I also am proud of my legislative initiatives which have made housing more affordable to more people, particularly young couples and those in lower income levels. Adequate housing is a right for every citizen, and I have worked diligently toward helping people reach that goal. I also have taken consistently strong stands when dealing with energy, manufacturing and agricultural interests which are so important to the people of Texas.

My future plans include teaching political science at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. I was a college professor before entering the Senate in 1961, and look forward to returning to the classroom. Although I do not plan to seek elective office again, I will continue to remain in tune to what is happening in state and national politics.

In closing, I would like to thank my fellow Texans once again for their continued support in the past 23 years. I look forward to returning home to the best place in the world -- Texas.

AS A MAN THINKETH

THE PRIMROSE PATH

The dictionary defines "primrose path" as "a way of life devoted to irresponsible hedonism, often of a sensual nature: 'treading the primrose path while she still had her youth.' A course of action that is easy or tempting but hazardous: 'the primrose path to insolvency.'"

Hedonism says that pleasure is the highest good. Some Roman emperors were notorious for indulging their hedonic thrills.

Mere casual observance reveals that the primrose path has become a major, many-laned thoroughfare.

There is a reasoning that "we only go around once," therefore one must clutch to his breast all the hedonic "gusto" available.

Prior to conversion, the Corinthian Christians had been "fornicators . . . adulterers . . . effeminate . . . abusers of themselves with men . . . covetous . . . drunkards ('such were some of you," said Paul), but they had been justified through obedience to Jesus (1 Cor. 6:9-11). They had been primrose path wanderers who saw that Jesus is "the way."

Of some primrose path travelers, steeped in ugly sensualism, Paul said (three times), "God gave them up" (Rom. 1:18-32).

It is possible to lose "all sensitivity" and to give oneself "over to sensuality so as to indulge in every kind of impurity, with a continual lust for more" (Eph. 4, N.I.V.).

Ever increasingly on the TV entertainment path is the primrose path.

Brandon Nease was taken to the hospital by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service Friday afternoon after he was involved in an accident.

Jennifer Grimland received a badly-broken elbow and broken wrist in an accident at school last Friday. She was taken to the hospital by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sarchet and eight-month-old daughter, Molly, and their next-door neighbor, Mrs. Larry Jackson, were involved in a rear-end collision in Lubbock shortly after noon Tuesday. Mrs. Jackson was taken by ambulance to Lubbock General Hospital and was later released.

The car, a 1984 Chevrolet Cavalier station wagon driven by Sarchet, was attempting to turn into the parking lot at the school five-year-old Brandon Sarchet attends when it was hit from the rear. Two-year-old Jordan Sarchet was attending Mother's Day Out.

The baby was riding in her child safety seat and the adults had their seat belts fastened. The car was heavily damaged, and only the driver's door was not jammed shut in the accident. The other driver was determined to be at fault and did have insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Self, Colby and Kaylee have moved to Plano, and his resignation as teacher, coach and athletic director was received by Silverton School Superintendent O. C. Rampley Tuesday.

John D. Baird returned home from Swisher Memorial Hospital on Thursday of last week. He is recuperating well after almost having a heart attack.

Mrs. Gladys Welch was taken to Central Plains Hospital in Plainview early Sunday morning by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all they soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.

Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose ... and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

Throw away those cigarettes!

HOUSTON, TX. — Cigarette smoking is the unarguable chief enemy in this country's war against cancer.

"Smoking causes more than 30 percent of all cancer deaths and is blamed for costing nearly $30 billion in medical care in the United States alone," says Dr. Guy R. Newell, director of cancer prevention programs at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

For years, lung cancer has been the Number One malignancy among American men. Recently, it has surpassed breast as the biggest cancer killer among women in Texas and several other states.

"This latter trend is truly alarming and, unfortunately, reflects that women are attaining the wrong kind of equal rights," Dr. Newell laments. He says smokers also have a higher incidence of cancers in the oral cavity, larynx, esophagus, pancreas and bladder as well as many more heart attacks, strokes and chronic lung diseases.

Many people do not realize that when they quit smoking their risk of heart attack decreases almost immediately. Within five years after quitting, the chances of having lung cancer are about the same for a former smoker as for someone who never used tobacco products.

Actually, the number of adult smokers has steadily declined, but Dr. Newell says more teenagers have taken up the terrible habit, plus many people are living longer to have tobacco-related cancers diagnosed.

For self-help material and more information on how to quit smoking, call the Texas Cancer Information Service toll-free at 1-800-4-CANCER.

Leaving a few rows of stubble will help provide cover and food for pheasants this winter. This will help keep a larger pheasant population in the area.

Save Some Stubble To Conserve Wildlife

Briscoe County farmers are in the middle of harvesting milo and may still have some corn stalks left. What they need to consider is saving a few rows of stubble for cover and protection for wildlife, especially pheasants. Pheasants need cover for protection from the cold winter and a place to find some fallen grain for food. Fields near playas and tailwater pits which also provide adequate water for the birds especially need a few rows of stubble left. An ideal situation would be to leave a travel lane pattern over the whole farm with all the travel lanes going back to a central water supply. Pheasant hunting is recreation or sport that only farmers in the Panhandle, as far as Texas is concerned, have available to them. It is something which other parts of the state only wish was available to them. For further information on pheasant habitat and other wildlife habitat, please contact the Soil Conservation Service by calling 823-2320 for an appointment.
