Board of City Development to Offer Rural Program Soon

According to Manager F. N. Clifford, of the Board of City Development, Chamber of Commerce, plans are in the making under which the interest of the cotton farmer will be attracted towards a better cotton in Haskell County.

Cotton buyers, cotton factors, especially the exporters, are fast turning their attention towards better staple and grade and buyers even today will pay more for staple and grade against the short cotton.

The Board of City Development, Chamber of Commerce, realize full well that Haskell's trade territory must be developed as well as the town must be properly advanced, and cotton being a money crop, conditions fast pointing at this time towards the staple and grade market over shadowing the shorter staple and mixed graded or low grade cotton, the movement proposed is of vital interest, indeed, Mr. Clifford stated.

Conferences have been held with County Agent Trice and just as soon as certain facts and figures can be secured and cotton seed of true worth located the program looking to Haskell County stepping up several notches above the cotton market now enjoyed places here, will be gone into.

The staple and grade market is coming too fast to Haskell County, he stated, and the work will have to be pushed with some degree of speed and the interest of the cotton farmer presented him in a manner that will convince him of the danger he runs when he tries all claims and kinds of cotton seed and accepts the word of every cotton seed salesman.

The campaign to prove more cotton on less acreage was a financial success as well as an agricultural lesson no open minded farmer can side step is going to be followed, as conditions now demand, a campaign for less cotton acreage, and better staple of cotton and grade.

Pulling cotton must pass into history. The value of that kind of cotton, regardless of the name of the seed planted, and the time saved, etc., is going to prove a loss, as it does now, on the market and the pulled cotton, grade and staple, be of value that will convince those sticking to the plan they are fighting a losing game.

With facts and figures the Board of City Development hopes to attract a few cotton farmers at the time. See that the right kind of seed is planted, co-operate so as to extend the improved cotton acreage, until such time as the value of this experiment will be so clear to all cotton farmers over this section there will be no further need of the campaign nor the results being heralded over Haskell County or the adjacent territory that might know the results.

A talk with any cotton buyer will convince the cotton farmer of the value of the remarks offered here, said Mr. Clifford, and I am prepared to furnish facts and figures as well, but prefer to wait until I can consult Haskell cotton farmers, who have tried the plan before publishing them.

On Saturday night before the 1st Sunday in November the members of the Rose Chapel Baptist church will meet and new officers and teachers will be elected for the Sunday school for the ensuing year.

The members of the Center View church met in conference Sunday morning. Bro. J. W. Read acting as moderator, unanimously called Bro. L. T. Jenkins of Weinert to pastor their church.

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy have been elected teachers for Sayles school next term and have moved into the teaching. They will open school Monday November 1st, if possible.

EXHIBITS ATTRACT ATTENTION AT FAIR

The agricultural products of Haskell County rank well with those from any other portion of the State according to the statement of County Agent Trice, who has recently returned from the State Fair at Dallas, where he had charge of the Haskell County exhibit.

The grain sorghums shown in the Haskell County exhibit were outstanding of the 38 counties showing, scoring 155 points out of possible 200.

Several blue ribbons were taken on various products including cabbage, watermelon, bundle higaros, ten heads red maize, threshed white milo and sorghum seed.

Some 30 ribbons were brought back with the Haskell County products, which when considered from the standpoint that they are from the State Fair, speaks well for the showing of this county.

M. H. Wolfe Issues Warning to Cotton Farmers in South

M. H. Wolfe Cotton Factors, Inc., of Dallas, would a warning to Texas cotton farmers and merchants in following statement issued today:

Texas cotton farmers are facing heavy losses on the balance of the present crop if they continue to snap cotton instead of picking it. It is a well known fact that only a few miles can use snap cotton, and with a large quantity of such cotton on the market the price will be reduced to a very low level, perhaps to half the price of picked cotton. Knowing the situation and with the hope of preventing such heavy losses we feel obliged to sound the note of warning and urge farmers, merchants and bankers all over Texas to avoid such a disaster by using every means to have cotton picked in the usual way and thus save the financial loss out of all account.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Many lives are sacrificed each Season because men and boys are careless in handling guns. Evidently many never were given safe instructions by experienced hunters; they have failed to learn by observation and they have not taken a lesson from the tragedies of other years. Each year many lives are lost by hunters pulling their guns through fences they have climbed, or in pushing through heavy weeds or underbrush with cocked guns. If these people had been under the direction of an experienced hunter when they first started out the dangers of using a gun that way would have been explained to them. They would have been instructed in safety in getting their guns over or through fences encountered. But they never learned, and as a result newspapers are forced to chronicle many unnecessary deaths each hunting season.

The Haskell man who goes hunting with someone inexperienced in carrying a gun takes a great risk and cannot watch his hunting companion too closely. All forms of firearms are made for the purpose of killing something, and they are of no other use. It can be the hunter as well as the game if the gun is in the hands of one unfamiliar with the proper way of handling it, or someone who has never been taught safe methods of carrying it. Today thousands of men and boys rush into the fields and woods without a knowledge of the first principles of handling firearms. If you boy doesn't know how to handle a gun with safety, teach him! And protect your own life by refusing to go hunting with a man who has never been taught.

Best Advertising Medium

Charles E. Blackwell, the most successful merchant in the entire state of Washington has the following to say relative to the best advertising medium: "There are many lines of publicity that the country store can use to advantage, but the one he can use to best advantage is his home town newspaper. I venture to say that if the money spent each year for fancy calendars and other knock-knack give-aways were invested—I say invested, not spent or donated, in carefully planned newspaper advertising, the actual net returns to the advertiser would be ten times as great as say nothing of the advantage the small town newspaper would derive from the additional and much needed revenue, and we know that as a business builder, it is without an equal in any town."

Evolution is not to be taught in the public schools of Texas; this is well. Evolution is not to be condemned, or even mentioned, in the public schools of Texas; this is fine. To teach evolution or condemn evolution in our schools would be to raise a great row that nobody could stop, and work great harm to our schools. Let scientists and theorists spout for or against evolution as much as they wish, but keep the disturbing question out of our schools. And there are those who would make the Bible a text book in our schools. It would be impossible to teach the Bible thoroughly without touching on such questions as baptism, final perseverance, foreordination, free grace and close and open communion. And what a row this would generate. Reverence for God's Word should be taught in the schools, and everywhere but to make the Bible a text book would be a fatal error.

MIX STARS IN NEW ZANE GREY STORY

Tom Mix, according to report, has packed an unusual number of thrills into his latest William Fox starring vehicle, "The Rainbow Trail," which will be shown at the Haskell Theatre Saturday October 31st. "The Rainbow Trail" is even more thrilling than Riders of the Purple Sage, to which it is the sequel. Both stories are by Zane Grey, and therefore both breathe the spirit of the West.

In the beautiful, rugged, snow-capped mountains of the Northwest, Mix and Tony his wonder horse, ride through perilous adventures. While making the picture, Mix performed deeds of new daring. The story is full of swift situations. The winsome Anne Cornwall shows marked dramatic ability in her portrayal of the leading role opposite Mr. Mix.

Several hilariously funny episodes are contributed by Mark Hamilton and Lucien Littlefield, a picturesque pair of western comedians. Bancroft, the principal villain; Diana Miller lesser villain; Steve Clemente, Vivian Oakland, Tom Delmar, Fred De Silvo, Carol Halloway and Doc Roberts.

"The Rainbow Trail" is an engrossing story of a man's hunt for the girl of his dreams. Others who support Mix are George who leads him to Surprise Valley, where his uncle, Jim Lassiter, a woman and the girl have been held prisoner for years. An outlaw band tries to thwart his efforts to rescue them, but, after overcoming apparently insurmountable obstacles and fighting a desperate battle, he succeeds.

156,000,000 PEOPLE HAVE READ HIS STORIES

Because he felt that he could do more good and carry his message, that of making the world a better place in which to live, to greater number, Harold Bell Wright resigned as a preacher over a decade ago and became an author. How he has succeeded in his ambition is best attested by a recent statement officially released by his original publishers, D. Appleton & Co. That statement shows that over 56,000,000 people in the last ten years have read Wright's works. But Harold Bell Wright felt he could even reach a greater following. It is unquestionably his greatest since it was to screenland that he went. One of his most popular books, "The Re-Creation of Brian Kent," has just been translated to the films. It is estimated that 100,000,000 people have seen Wright's stories on the screen. Wright stamps upon it his approval that it is a work of art and a genuine translation. Thus the management of the Haskell Theatre considers itself unusually fortunate to be able to present to its patrons on Friday October 30th, "The Re-Creation of Brian Kent" as a Principal Pictures Master Attraction.

THE THUNDERING HERD TO BE SHOWN HERE

Here is a photoplay that tells a big vital story in a bold, startling way. "The Thundering Herd" is one of the few really great epic pictures of America in the making—a worthy successor to "The Covered Wagon" and North of 36.

Produced on the same spectacular and gigantic scale, it deals with another tremendous important period of American history. It illustrates the courage and sacrifices of those men and women who, in 1876, left their farms in Illinois and Indiana to settle the far west, which today includes the states of Wyoming and Montana. The picture vividly creates the west as it was then—a vast wilderness ranged by great herds of buffalo and inhabited by fierce nomadic Indians.

Much of the story was filmed on its actual locale, on locations personally selected by Zane Grey. Many of the scenes were taken in Yellowstone Park. Many others were photographed in the rugged and majestic mountains of the north—twelve thousand feet above sea level and one hundred miles from the nearest railway.

Against this picturesque and scenically beautiful background is reproduced one of the most stirring and significant chapters in "the winning of the west." Many exciting adventures fall to the lot of those hardy, red-blooded pioneers, and the picture faithfully depicts their hardships, dangers and privations.

Aside from its historical appeal, the picture is noteworthy because of its technical excellence. It has every necessary fan element—action, suspense, heart-interest, romance, drama and thrills. The stampede of the buffalo is a scene never to be forgotten, and the Indian attack is one of the most realistic bits of action ever flashed on the screen. These are but two of the many super-thrills in the film.

The direction of William K. Howard is a notable achievement. Although practically a newcomer to the ranks of producers, he displays in this production a directorial shrewdness that would be a credit to a veteran.

The cast is perfect and includes some of filmdom's most popular favorites—Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Berry and Raymond Hatton. Will be shown Monday and Tuesday November 2nd and 3rd at the Haskell Theatre.

DEATHS

George W. Crow
 George W. Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crow was born at Killen, Texas April 30, 1905 and moved with his parents to Haskell some years later. He was converted and joined the Methodist church when he was twelve years old and lived a consistent christian life ever since, attending regularly upon the Sunday school. Word has come from Lubbock where he entered the Tech. School in September that he was among the first boys to join the church. His immediate family testify that he was always of a cheerful disposition, acknowledging when he was in the wrong and scolding to tell an untruth or laying any of the blame on a companion. He was reared in a strictly disciplined family where honor for father and mother and love for brothers and sisters prevailed. George Crow entered North Ward School when he was seven years old and finished his High School course when he was twenty.

Last September he entered the Tech College at Lubbock and as he had always been very fond of out of door sports and especially football, being a member of the Haskell Foot-ball team all through his high school course, he tried out and made the second team and was a tackle on the team when in a practice game on the 18th of October he received internal injuries that resulted in his death. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crow and three sisters, Mrs. Wade Gibson of Mart Texas; Mrs. Edgar Davis, Wei-

No Worms in a Healthy Child
 All children troubled with worms have an un-healthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROW'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. 75 cents a bottle. 90 per bottle.

Child Welfare Club
 The Child Welfare Club met last Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist Church, with Mrs. Dennis Ratliff directing the program. This club is doing some real constructive work and at the same time not neglecting the little child, for there is a place for them to be taken care of with a lady in charge. The following program was rendered: Important Kindergarten at Home, Mrs. Hill Oates; Mothers and Kindergartens, Mrs. Alfred Pierson; Song by the children, Katherine Ware, Helen Ballard, Labry Ballard, Judith English, Hugh Mack English, and Frances Edwards. The last number was The Memory's Aid, Mrs. A. H. Wair.

School Lyceum
 On last Friday evening at the Haskell High School the faculty of all three schools assisted by Miss Lois Wair and Mrs. H. D. Neff, put on a school play and the nominal charge of 15 and 25 cents was made at the door. This fund will be expended on school supplies and the teachers are to be commended for this extra effort to raise funds, and too it is educational for the pupils as it brings out talent and affords an opportunity for them to display it. It is the intention of the faculty to continue these home talent lyceums through the year.

Social Service Meeting
 The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in regular service last Monday afternoon at three o'clock with the president Mrs. I. W. Kirkpatrick in the chair. Mrs. E. Sutherland has charge of the Social Service department but Mrs. Kirkpatrick directed the program. Mrs. P. D. Sanders conducted the devotional and Messrs. A. H. Wair and Ben Hardy gave splendid talks on the subject. A goodly supply of articles for packing a box for a Wesley House, was brought and turned over to Mrs. T. J. Lemmon who will ascertain where they are most needed before shipping. On next Monday there will be an all day meeting in observance of the week of prayer with Mrs. S. R. Rike in charge.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, God, in His great wisdom, has seen fit to remove from our midst, by death from accidental cause, Mr. George Crow, a highly esteemed and honored student of the Texas Technological College and admired member of our college football squad, the Mators, and
 Whereas, in his death we feel sincerely and deeply the loss of a friend to all who knew him, as well as the loss of a valiant, clean, and high-minded gentleman and sportsman, and
 Whereas, it is the wish of the Athletic Council of the college, as well as of the entire student body and faculty, to express our admiration for our deceased friend, and our deep sympathy for his family and his other friends and loved ones.

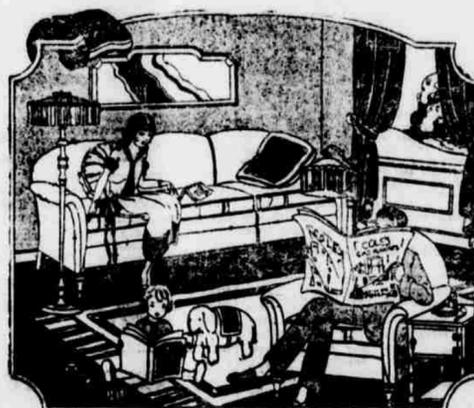

Therefore, be it resolved that we furnish a copy of these resolutions to our college paper, the Toredor; to our daily papers of Lubbock, The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, and the Lubbock Daily Journal; and to his bereaved family at Haskell, Texas.

Signed,
 W. L. Stangel,
 W. A. Jackson,
 J. N. Michie,
 The Athletic Council.

W. H. Wiseman, one of Haskell county's successful farmers who has lived in the Sayles community for a number of years was in the city Friday. He says he is getting along nicely gathering his cotton and his crop is turning out very well, really better than he once thought it would in the summer when the weather was dry. He further stated that he will have plenty of meat and lard for his family next year as he has two hogs that will weigh more than 400 pounds each at this time and will feed them heavily until he butchers them in next month. Mr. Wiseman has been here a number of years and has made good in all of his undertakings. May he still continue to grow and prosper.

Cole's are Better in Every Way
 Red Airvac Tube and Airtight Construction Give Much More Heat at Much Lower Expense

Here is a heater that fills your rooms with comfortable warmth with the least possible amount of fuel. Cole's Heaters spread heat evenly, and keep the floors warm as well as the farthest corners. They hold fire over night easily so that you wake up in a warm house, with warm rooms to dress in. Cole's Heaters are easier to operate. They are cleaner and safer. They stand up under heavy and constant use. Replace your old heater with a Cole and be really comfortable. Pay for your Coles by the saving in your fuel bills. See the wonderful economy guarantee!

Cole's Comfort Only $00

Cole's Hot Blast Draft feeds heated air through the famous Red Tube into the fuel gases as they rise from the burning fuel. A highly inflammable mixture results which is instantly ignited and completely burned. Without the Red Tube, these gases would escape up the flue, and all the heat from them would be lost. The saving amounts to from 40 to 60 per cent, and represents a good many dollars. Cole's economy is guaranteed.

THE ENEMY OF MANKIND NOW DOING SERVICE

A story is carried in an exchange that the mosquito which has been a menace to the peace and happiness of mankind for the past ages has been recently discovered in a work that bids fair to endear him to the human race if the story is really true which is vouched for by two or more citizens who take the responsibility for the statement.
 J. K. Nowlin says that the boll worms have almost disappeared from his cotton field and he believes that the mosquitoes have put them out of business. A neighbor advanced the theory to him a few weeks ago and he placed little credence in it he stated, but watching the operations of the worms and of the mosquitoes and arrived at the conclusion that his neighbor was right. He says that the boll worms were making terrible havoc with his crop. Then the mosquitoes came in swarms and could be found by the millions buzzing around under and among the foliage of the cotton. Pretty soon the worms disappeared and he noticed their head inside the boll and the body suspended on the outside. He thinks that death was brought about by the attacks of the mosquitoes. We have never studied wormology and insectology enough to know whether mosquitoes feed on worms or not, but if they do Mr. Nowlin's theory seems reasonable. Who can enlighten us?—Lynn County News

Several from here attended the singing convention at Midway Sunday. Clarence Ray and wife of Rule visited parents Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ray Saturday night.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTRY

(By W. M. Free)

We came to Haskell county a few years ago with the present management who had purchased the Free Press plant and we were given the place of field man on this paper. The plant was not so well equipped then as now and our means of getting out a paper was not such an easy task, but this did not stand in our way for each one connected with the plant from editor to devil worked earnestly and faithfully to accomplish the work set a part for them with the results that the circulation and the popularity of the Free Press grew by leaps and bounds, and this wonderful circulation has been maintained all these years, and the friends of the Free Press have remained loyal.

For some time we have been doing other work on the paper, but it has pleased the boss to again put us back in the field among our friends to take up the field work once more. This we announce with pleasure and we take up our duties with renewed zeal and we are very glad that we will again be permitted to go from home to home gathering news, taking subscriptions and bringing glad tidings of great joy to our many readers of the wonderful resources of our county through the columns of their county paper. It is indeed a great pleasure to us to be back on the job in which we have had many years experience and know our "okra" in this line of work.

When we first began this work for the Free Press we walked and as it was in the spring of the year and the people were very busy, we could go from one field to another and see the farmers just as well as any other way. At that time the automobile had not made such progress and there were just an occasional car seen along the public roads and the teams of horses and mules were not familiar with them and it was disagreeable for the motorist and the teamster to travel the highways.

Walking became a little slow and the boss fitted us up with a horse and buggy. Many of the old timers remember our little black pony "Jet" who was our only companion through our joys and tribulations for a number of years. This was fine business to us and we enjoyed life to the fullest extent. We were successful in our line both walking and riding and a warm spot is still in our heart for every kind word, act and deed given us by our friends over Haskell county many of whom are still living within the county, and others have moved to other parts, and some have passed over the river to rest in the shade of the trees. But they are all near and dear to us and we shall never forget them and their kindness shown us.

At this time we began our work with a Chevrolet Coupe which the boss rigged up. It has a self starter and a whole lot of tricks inside the cab to turn and twist in order to get the thing to act like it wants to ramble. We got the boss to get in the car before we would tackle it and drive it around over town, that we might learn its habits and be sure beyond a doubt that it was bridle wise and city broke. After our little journey through the city streets, he drove back to the office with the critter headed for the open seas, up north main street, and gave us the key and his best wishes.

At 9:30 a. m. Monday morning October 26, we stepped aboard our gas wagon and gave her the juice and we were off headed for Weinert and it was not long until we were parked among the traffic of the cities busy streets. We came across our old friend J. W. Marchbanks who kicked in with a dollar and a half for renewal to the Free Press and says "keep it coming." J. W. is a successful farmer who will one of these days be a contented land owner of Haskell county. He has a good crop and is picking cotton right along.

J. C. Holt Jr. was in the city talking about hog killing. He says he has three good ones to kill this winter. It is tempting to hear a fellow talking back bone and sausage on a cool morning.

We saw a number of farmers hauling their cotton to the gin and quite a number of farmers with samples of cotton in their arms, but the buyers were waiting on the government report that morning and there was nothing doing in the cotton market until it came in and the market settled down several points.

We drove from Weinert to the home of R. S. Edwards a few miles north east who with his family were very busy cutting feed and picking cotton. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards have a large family of fine boys and girls who are the pride of this happy home. Mrs. Edwards prepared a good dinner for the family and we were invited and took dinner with them. In the city the noon meal is called lunch. But there was no lunch connected with this meal, it was a real dinner. We enjoyed the association of this good family but were forced to hasten on.

We stopped next at the home of J. R. Hancock who had gone to the gin at Weinert. He is working about 90 acres of ground but was in the dry strip during crop making time and his crop is not as good as he expected.

We next stopped at the home of Palmer Watson who is a successful young farmer and had out 11 bales of cotton and will make at least 20 or 25 bales this season. His wife who was Miss Ora Ford before their marriage was one of our correspondents from Pleasant View and a good one.

We drove to the home of R. L. Kane an old Newspaper man who retired from the business and has been farming several years near Weinert. Mr. Kane has for many years raised some of the best mules and horses in the county and he has some fine young mules for sale next spring. He always raises his meat and has two good hogs fattening and a number of pigs on the yard for his meat next fall. He believes in preparedness. He has lots of fine late feed and was expecting the binder to cut it for him the next day. He gave us his check for renewal to the Free Press and said it was the best county paper he had ever read.

We made our next stop with the family of J. T. Holmes. He had gone to the gin with a bale of cotton. They live near Weinert. One of the most noted things about this home was a flock of White Langshank chickens. She began last year with six hens and now she has around forty fine pullets for next year. She regrets not entering her birds in the Haskell fair last year but says she will be there with them next year and expects to take home the blue ribbons. Johnnie the 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes expects to join Mr. Trices' club boys next year and get in the exhibit with some good chickens.

We stopped at the home of L. C. Caddell, he was busy with his crop and was picking his cotton. Mrs. Caddell says that their young feed is the best they have grown since they have been in the county.

We drove to the home of Ed Howard Commissioner of Precinct two. He happened to be at home and we spent a short while in the home. Ed is making a good commissioner and is doing his best to fill the office in the most creditable manner. He is gaining experience in the work of the office and is better qualified by the experience that each day brings forth. He came to Haskell county in 1900 and has lived in and around Weinert most of the time since coming here and he expects to make this country his future home. He has been very busy since the big rain building bridges repairing culverts and fixing roads. That has been some job in his district.

The shadows of evening had begun to lengthen when we came out from this home and that longing feeling that creeps over the wanderer when darkness approaches could be felt so we closed the work for the day and headed homeward and at the usual quitting time at the office the gasoline wagon had landed us safely at the curb.

The boss seemed a little surprised to see us return on time, but he never made any remarks in our hearing.

CHOSEN AS SPORTS EDITOR OF BAYLOR COLLEGE PAPER

When it was decided to reorganize the staff of the Baylor College Bells, weekly newspaper for this session, Marjorie Whiteaker, Haskell, was chosen as sports editor.

Miss Whiteaker, who is a junior in college, has been active in journalistic work ever since entering college. She has been on the Baylor College Bells for two years. She has written and sold several signed feature articles, and was one of the girls to put out an issue of the Temple Daily Telegram last spring. When Theta Sigma Phi, national journalistic fraternity, was organized in Baylor College last week, Miss Whiteaker was one of the five charter members. In selecting girls to go to Dallas to put out a demonstration issue of the Dallas Journal at the State Fair, the head of the department of journalism included Miss Whiteaker with six other girls.

Heretofore the staff has consisted of editor, two associate editors, business manager, two assistant business managers, and reporters. The staff this session has been divided into sections. The girls selected to editorships are: Editor-in-chief, Lois Raaz, San Antonio; News Editor, Madge Harrison, Martin, Tenn.; assistant editor, Mary Stephens, Belton; society editor, Frances Stephens, Belton; feature editor, Esther Bremer, New York; and organizations, Veon Pyle, Higgins.

S. L. Perrin, a progressive farmer living a few miles north of Haskell came into the city Friday "loaded for bear" as the old saying goes. He brought a large bucket which contained 10 dozen fine fresh eggs which brought a fancy price at this time of the year. Hens that lay eggs in the fall and winter are the hens that pay the grocery bill and clothe the children. It is not a matter of choice with the hens as to whether they lay eggs when they are high in price but the way they are looked after and cared for. They like to repay their master with fine fresh eggs for plenty of wholesome food and a balanced ration so that they can produce profit and prosperity to their keeper.

Lee Brown, brother of Virgil A. Brown, a real estate man of this city arrived Friday for a visit with his brother and he will probably remain here until after Christmas.

C. C. Maples and wife of Plainview spent the week end with the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. R. D. C. Stephens.

John Anderson of the Post city was called to the bedside of his mother who is very ill at her home in Stamford, last Sunday afternoon. Her last report she was not any better.

Burwell Cox attended the Republican meeting in Dallas last week and accompanied by Mrs. Cox. The latter took in the fair.

in every particular and will be ready for the ensuing term by the time the cotton is picked and the pupils will be ready to attend. Unfortunately the school building at Mitchell was burned about two weeks before the close of school last year and nothing was saved from the building. The new building will be equipped with new fixtures out and out.

Bunkerhill has voted bonds and expected to ad another room to their school building but there was some little extra work to do in order to get the bonds on sale which delayed their plans for the addition to the school, so they are now building a two room teacherage and will use it for class rooms until they can sell the bonds and make the addition to the school building contemplated. W. C. McKenzie who has been in Florida since his vacation began will return and teach Bunkerhill School again. This will be his third or fourth term at this place. He will be assisted by one of his sisters and there has been another teacher added to the school and Miss Orine Burrow of Sagerton will take the new place. The school year closed the first of September and Mr. Owen Shied of Fort Worth State school auditor is auditing the books for the superintendent's office this week and will also make reports of the depository of the Haskell National Bank to the State Department at Austin. Mr. Heathington reports a very pleasant years work and is planning for a greater service the new year.

Howard school district is coming forward this year with a number of improvements. The teacher's home has been thoroughly gone over and many improvements made in the comfort and convenience and a new cistern is now being put down and other improvements made. Howard is a very progressive community.

Bob B. Covey, Mrs. Bob B. Covey and Miss Thelma Lee Livenood will teach the Howard School the ensuing term which will begin at an early date. Tanner Paint district is doing a lot of work on their building and grounds and equipment getting them ready for the term of school which will be taught by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. King. State aid applications have been forwarded to the State Department by Superintendent A. A. Heathington. Twenty-four schools of the county have applied for state aid and the total amount asked for by the schools is around $13,000.00. Mr. Heathington is optimistic over the prospect of the present school year. The teachers for the term have been carefully selected and all but two or three are teaching under first grade certificates and most of them are experienced teachers.

Our school now has a fine water system, a fifty barrel tank and 12 drinking faucets that close automatically. Come down and drink with us. Here's our sincere thanks to our school board for same.

We are organizing an orchestra in high school. So far we have the following members: Carroll Tatum, 1st cornet; Morgan Bowman, Violin; J. F. Odor, 2nd cornet; Mrs. Marguerite Miller, Pianist. We hope soon to add 2 saxophones, 2 clarionets, slide trombone and drums. Our girls have a new basket ball and have organized 2 teams and will soon be ready for a game. Miss Erma Harp will be their coach.

So far we have received no books as gifts for our library but we are still hoping that some one will start by sending by the children or by mail a good book of fiction for our library, who will be first.

Our boys have put up new goals for basket ball and will organize soon and get down to practice. Buster (W. B.) Miller and Morgan Bowman are due

We want every girl and lady married or single to bring a box, and the men to attend and buy a box. It is very necessary that children have play apparatus. HASKELL TOT HAS MANY LIVING GRAND PARENTS

Little Ruby Earnestine the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Howard of this city has four grand parents and five great grand parents living, which is doubtless the greatest number of living grand parents that has in Haskell county or even in the great state of Texas. Her grand parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ridling live near each other east of Weinert and her great grand parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howard live in the city of Weinert and are hale and hearty and have passed the three score and ten mark which is the allotted age for man. Mr. Howard is 83 and Mrs. Howard is 75 years of age. Her other great grand parents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stockton live a short distance west of Weinert and are both in excellent health. Mr. Stockton is 83 and Mrs. Stockton is 75 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Howard are only a few months older than Mr. and Mrs. Stockton as their ages are given above. She also has another great grand father living in another part of the state making a total of nine living grand parents. Eight of her grand parents live in less than one mile of each other in and near Weinert.

CENTER POINT

(By Ethel Bland)

We have been having some real cool weather in this part of the county late.

Cotton picking and pulling is still in full swing here. Several have gotten over their crops and started over again. The cotton crops in this community have certainly fooled the farmers, most every one will double their estimation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Bristow are the proud parents of a fine boy, also Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kirby have a boy.

COYOTE HOWL NOT WELCOMED BY NEGRO COTTON PICKER

A story is told in one of our exchanges that man living in Quarah took some negro cotton pickers out to his farm in the breaks of the Pease river to gather his cotton crop. They seemed well pleased with their quarters. When night came on it was very dark and when the coyotes began howling with their lonesome yelpings the negroes who were from East Texas were not accustomed to this kind of a welcome and when the king of day opened the gates of morning and it was light enough to see they had all hiked out and when the man went out to the farm to put them to work every one of them had gone.

"SAFETY FIRST" TO BE GIVEN NOVEMBER 5

The play "Safety First" will be given by members of the Haskell school faculty and student body Thursday evening November 5 at the High school auditorium.

"Safety First" is a sprightly comedy abounding in mirth provoking situations which keep the audience laughing from beginning to the last curtain. The leading character is a young married man who gets himself and his friend into a serious scrape with the police by trying to persuade a Turkish maiden to give up the idea of marrying his cousin. The lies he tells trying to fix things with the wife would shock the biggest prevaricator in town. Sir Author's Knights of the Round Table stories cannot compare with Jack and Jerry's story of the imaginary trip to Florida with the Shriners.

The cast is composed of members of the Faculty which adds to the interest. Mr. England will show you what married life can be. Miss Alberta Smith as his poor mistreated wife is forced to elope with her husband after two years of married life. Mr. Plowhart, as Jerry Arnold is the best little fixer in the world but he fails to convince his fiancée, Miss Inez Woodard as Virginia Bridger, and her mother, Miss Jackson as Mrs. Barrington Bridger, that he had no part in the disappearance of the Turkish Zuleka played by Miss Fanny Jack Baldwin. Miss Lois Earnest as the Irish Maid keeps every body busy and her friend Mr. McNutt, Mr. Lebo, provides equally as much fun for the audience. Two school boys are assisting, Ray Eastland as Abou Ben Mocab, the terrible Turk, and J. L. Odell as Elmer Plannel, an awfully shrinking young man.

Entertain.

Mrs. Joe Davis living near the Center View church will entertain the young people with a party Friday evening. Every one is invited to attend.

LAST CALL!

Our Ford Coupe Contest Closes Tuesday November 3rd, at 4 p. m.

ONLY 4 MORE DAYS—

Only 4 more days remain in which to buy your fall and winter merchandise and at the same time help your favorite candidate win this valuable prize. Anticipating the needs of our customers and realizing that many would probably wait until the last few days to make their purchase we have endeavored to take care of them by buying merchandise to meet their demand, but in case we should not have what you want in our particular line at this time or cannot get it before the contest closes we will accept the money for the amount and get the merchandise for you later—but no refunds will be made.

THE TIME IS SHORT—

Only a few more days remain and each candidate is expecting their loyal friends to assist them over the top in winning this valuable prize. The Coupe—a 1926 model, is now on display in the show rooms of English Motor Company—if you would like to take a look at it, drive by today—it is one of the most valuable prizes ever offered in Haskell by any merchant in a trade extension campaign—and we believe that you will say so too when you see it.

TO THE CONTESTANTS—

The time is so short, we advise each contestant to spend as much time as possible between now and Tuesday in seeing their friends—encourage them to make their fall purchases or pay their account—if they should owe one—while they have the opportunity to assist you in winning this valuable prize—a little effort may place you in the lead—who knows. The prize is well worth any effort you may put forth in this race. Now is the time to do your hardest work—don't delay.

ALL BALLOTS WILL BE RECOUNTED—

In order to eliminate any possibility of a misunderstanding or any question as to the fairness of the way the contest has been conducted—we have engaged the services of F. L. Daugherty—who has no connection with the store—to re-check and recount all ballots from the time the contest begun until it closes. He will be assisted on the closing day by three judges who will check the votes also and verify the final award.
