Cheeseburger Festival is July 15th

Friona, the Cheeseburger Capital of Texas, will host its 17th Annual Festival and Cook Off on Saturday, July 15th at Reeve Lake Park. Cooking teams will compete for the title of Cheeseburger Champions with a first place prize of $1000 on the line. The second place team will grab $300 and the People’s Choice Winners will earn bragging rights for the year. Admission is free to shop the vendors and tour the festival.

How it works
The event runs from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at Reeve Lake Park and the Community Center. Cooking teams will be set up in the RV slots on the east side of the lake and will grill up their specialty burgers for the public. Judges will determine the winners. Attendees can purchase wristbands for $10 which are good for one whole cheeseburger or four quarter portions of different burgers. Chips and a frisbee are included. Air-conditioned dining will be available in the Community Center along with some vendors. Food & craft vendors and live music with a DJ will be set up outside along with a large tent for outdoor dining.

What it does
The Cheeseburger Festival helps showcase the vibrancy of the community through cattle, grain, and dairy products. It also helps fund other events throughout the year including The Miss Friona Scholarship Pageant, Maize Days, Christmas in the Park, the Annual Awards Banquet, and the 4th of July Fireworks Show.

Getting involved
There is still time for cooking teams and vendors to sign up for this year’s festival. Contact the Chamber of Commerce at 806-250-3491 for information.

Commissioners award road project

Parmer County Commissioners Court met in regular session on Monday, June 12th, 2023 at 10:00 a.m. in the County Courtroom of the Parmer County Courthouse in Farwell, Texas. The meeting began with prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag and Texas Flag.
Commissioners awarded a contract to Bermea Construction. The $62,900 road project will include chip sealing and rebuilding the shoulder on County Road 19 and chip sealing Country Road G. These two roads are located on the east side of Friona and are referred together as “Cemetery Road” by locals.

Sheriff Geske reported to the Court that the Parmer County Law Enforcement Center is currently housing 35 inmates of which 9 are paying customers from Dawson County and 6 paying customers from Lubbock County.

Line item changes were approved regarding Farwell Fire Department’s request for ARPA funds to purchase equipment. The changes did not affect the dollar amount of the funds approved.
In other business, an annual $500 lease agreement between Parmer County and Efrain Balli was approved. A motion to paint the kitchen in the old jail was approved. Discussion of a covered parking structure on the east side of the courthouse was tabled.
Judge Carrasco said that meetings hosted by TXDOT and NMDOT in Farwell and Texico concerning two alternate proposals for an highway overpass went well. Texas and New Mexico officials are eager to proceed with the project. The proposed Alternative #1 overpass seems to be the favorite with the possibility of new Stripes and Dollar General stores being built at the old Allsup’s location on the west side of Texico.

See June 22nd edition of the Friona Star for overpass alternatives.
There were no comments from the public during the open forum. Minutes from the June 12th meeting were read and approved. Commissioners approved the payment of the accounts payables as presented by County Treasurer Sharon May. The Treasurer’s Payroll Report was also approved. The next regular meeting is Monday, July 10th.
All meetings are open to the public. Information in this article is only a summary.

Dynamite Fireworks is celebrating its 25th Anniversary of “bringing the boom” to Fourth of July celebrations. Owners Randy & Sarah Geris invite you to drop by, say hello, and check out their large assortment of fireworks. There is great stuff for “kids” of all ages. Please see ad on back page.

Graham Cracker Day — In the early 1800s,

Presbyterian minister Sylvester Graham developed a slightly sweetened cracker as part of his "Graham Diet" program. They were made from whole wheat graham flour with added bran and wheat germs. He believed his snack would curb sinful cravings. Today, makers use bleached white flour and variety of flavors including honey, cinnamon, and chocolate.

Governor Announces Second Special Session Agenda

On Tuesday, Governor Greg Abbott announced a Special Session #2 and issued a proclamation identifying agenda items for the special session.

"We achieved a great deal during the 88th Legislative Session that I have signed into law, including laws to provide more than $5.1 billion for border security, hold rogue district attorneys accountable, and add $1.4 billion to make schools safer, but the job is not done," said Governor Abbott.

"I am bringing the Texas Legislature back for Special Session #2 to provide lasting property tax cuts for Texans. During the five-month regular session, the Texas House and Texas Senate both agreed on cutting school district property tax rates, while the House wanted to add appraisal caps and the Senate advocated for increased homestead exemptions. The Special Session #1 agenda was limited to the only solution that both chambers agreed on—school property tax rate cuts. After yet another month without the House and Senate sending a bill to my desk to cut property taxes, I am once again putting the agreed upon school district property tax rate cuts on the special session agenda. Unless and until the House and Senate agree on a different proposal to provide property tax cuts, I will continue to call for lasting property tax cuts through rate reductions and working toward eliminating the school property tax in Texas. Special sessions will continue to focus on only property tax cuts until property tax cut legislation reaches my desk."

The Governor's property tax cut plan is backed by 40 homeowner, consumer, and business organizations across the state, along with leading tax policy groups Texas Taxpayers and Research Association, Americans for Tax Reform, and Texas Public Policy Foundation.

Special Session #2 agenda items include:

- ELIMINATING A PROPERTY TAX IN TEXAS: Legislation to put Texas on a pathway to eliminate school district maintenance and operations property taxes.

- LASTING PROPERTY TAX RATE CUTS: Legislation to cut property tax rates solely by reducing the school district maximum compressed tax rate in order to provide lasting property-tax relief for Texas taxpayers.

Gas prices rise in Texas

By GasBuddy

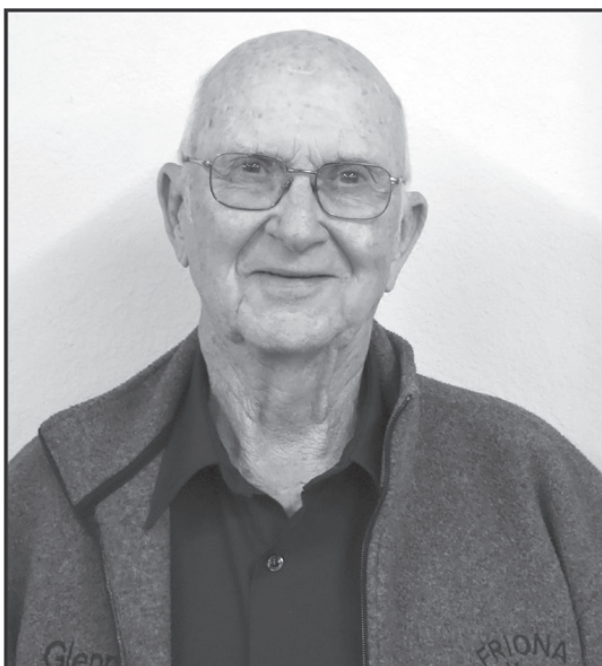

Average gasoline prices in Texas rose 11.6 cents last week, averaging $3.20 per gallon, according to GasBuddy's survey of 13,114 stations in Texas. Prices in Texas are 9.6 cents higher than a month ago and stand 131.4 cents per gallon lower than a year ago. According to GasBuddy price reports, the cheapest station in Texas was priced at $2.59 while the most expensive was $4.17 per gallon.

The national average price of gasoline is unchanged in the last week, averaging $3.54 per gallon. The national average is down 1.5 cents per gallon from a month ago and stands 134.2 cents per gallon lower than a year ago. The national average price of diesel has fallen 0.2 cents in the last week and stands at $3.84 per gallon.

"It's been another generally sideways week for the national average, which has remained stuck in the $3.50-$3.60 per gallon range since late April with fundamentals generally holding pretty stable, even though oil prices have bounced around between $65-$80 in the same timeframe," said Patrick De Haan, head of petroleum analysis at GasBuddy.

"While some states saw big increases from last week, I expect those states to see a calmer week ahead. Other states saw prices fall, and some like Arizona fell significantly as some of the kinks in supply have improved there over the last few weeks. Ultimately, we could see the national average nudge a bit lower in the week ahead, should oil prices fail to rally. But, with developments including the Wagner group destabilizing and testing Russia, there can always be last minute shifts that impact prices, which we continue to watch for and hope the market remains calm."

GasBuddy data is compiled from more than 11 million weekly price reports covering over 150,000 gas stations across the country.

No Trespassing

By Brett Hoyle, Pastor, First Baptist Church

Have you ever seen a no trespassing sign? Maybe you took a wrong turn near Clovis, NM and a government gate greeted you with the "No Trespassing" warning, maybe you were hunting and saw the sign on another property, or possibly a paranoid neighbor boldly posts this warning on their fence. When you see a "No Trespassing" sign, the message is clear, you can't come in here!

God also says "No Trespassing" sometimes. This is what he said to the rebellious Israelites in the wilderness who balked at entering the promised land. Four decades trudged along as that generation died out in the wilderness until it was time to enter the promised land. Deuteronomy 3:23-29 tells of a short episode at the end of the wilderness wandering when Moses begged God to reverse His "No Trespassing" sign for Moses entering the promised land as well. Moses boldly asked big of God, and God clearly answered his request with "NO" because of Moses' disobedience to the Lord years earlier in the wilderness. Moses' partial obedience was disobedience, and it came with a hefty cost of forfeiting walking into the promised land with the new generation.

Maybe in your life there have been some doors that have closed and God has posted "No Trespassing." If that's the case, you can grieve this lost opportunity that did not come to fruition, but make sure that you don't idolize what you missed out on and miss what God has for you moving ahead. Even though Moses missed out on stepping foot on the promised land, he did get to lead the nation through the wilderness, and prepare Joshua to succeed him and lead the people into the land God promised them.

Panhandle Parables

Old Glory

By Jeff Procter, Minister, 6th Street Church of Christ

It seems fitting to think about the state of our nation as we enter our 247th Independence Day. In 1776 there was a singular cry for freedom. Freedom to speak and assemble. Freedom to bear arms, freedom from abusive taxation without representation. Our young country had a vision to rally behind. Yet today as Old Glory waves in the West Texas sky there has been a blurring of what was once clear. Political correctness has made everyone a victim. Slowly and methodically our nation is divided. Christians rail against other Christians and peace has been scattered into the night by pride and self-righteousness. It is a sad state of affairs, but Old Glory continues to fly.

In the early days of the Church there too was a clear vision and purpose. Jesus said, "Love the Lord your God and Love your neighbor as yourself." For a while that seemed to work. The early church shared in what they had, focused on learning more about the Savior that had brought together what was once divided, God and man. Yes, we read of troubles, but hope reigned in the hearts of believers. Paul said this to the church in Rome, "Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honor. Do not be slothful in zeal, be fervent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in tribulation, be constant in prayer. Contribute to the needs of the saints and seek to show hospitality.

Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly. Never be wise in your own sight. Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all." (Romans 12:9-18 ESV)

My challenge for you as you begin July is for you to read Romans 12 several times. Don't worry about anyone else but you decide how you will live. You are here for a reason, so give Him the glory.

It's Time to Declare Our Independence, Again

By Teena Hughs

I googled July 4, 1776, and the first thing I saw was, "By issuing the Declaration of Independence, adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776, the 13 American colonies severed their political connections to Great Britain." It is time to declare our independence, again!!!

We need to declare independence from China and every other country that influences and has a hold on our country, its businesses, and its politicians. We need to find out who is receiving financial rewards from any foreign country and make them cease receiving whatever "financial aid" they are receiving!

We also need to declare our independence from today's woke culture and the companies that support everything that causes people to sin. If any activity or lifestyle goes against God's Word, we don't need to support it with our dollars. Bottom line, we need to return to God's Word, KNOW what it says, and be obedient to it. We need to fear what will happen to us if we aren't obedient to God and His Word! There will be consequences for what we say and do, and for what we don't say and don't do!

It is easy for me to say these things, but it is not so easy to do these things. Look at what is happening to Donald Trump because he is trying to "clean out the Washington DC swamp"!!!

It will take strong laws with severe punishments to stop Americans from doing business with China, and to stop them from buying up our farm and ranchlands. In today's government, so many politicians are being influenced by foreign dollars that all you will get is a watered down bill to stop the corruption and put America first again. Foreign entities expect something for the money they are giving our politicians and companies, and you know that what they desire does not benefit the United States. Sadly, we have people in our country where the almighty dollar is far more important than the welfare of the United States of America. Look at our border situation!

Today, it is difficult to find a company that does not give into the woke culture in some way. I try to limit what I buy to one store. So far this store hasn't gone completely woke, but I don't like some of the things it has done. In fact, I have quit shopping at some of the stores that have done the exact thing this store has done. It is hard to find a store that isn't woke in some way. I have heard that some businesses give in to wokeness to avoid being sued. I would have to take my chances and go ahead and stand up for what is right. Look at what has happened to Bud Light and Target!

As individuals, we can do certain things to show our support for the USA. We can quit watching liberal news networks and shows that promote sinful lifestyles. Even ESPN is currently laying off people. People want to watch sports, not listen to woke, leftist political commentary!

National Dairy Month 2023: Every Texan can – and should – enjoy the abundance of dairy

By Darren Turley
Executive Director, Texas Association of Dairymen

If every Texan raised a glass of milk to toast National Dairy Month, they'd all be able to do so with milk produced by dairy farmers and cows in the Lone Star State – and still have some milk left over. That's mind-boggling to me as both a fourth-generation Texan and a second-generation dairy farmer.

Last year, Texas dairies produced 1.9 million gallons, or 30.4 million glasses, of milk, while the state's population broke the 30 million mark in March. Both amazing statistics are worth celebrating.

And neither the growth of the state's milk production or population show any signs of slowing.

Here's an example of how both intersect: Cacique Foods in May celebrated the opening of an $88 million dairy processing plant in Amarillo and announced it was moving its headquarters from Southern California to Irving, Texas. Cacique is following numerous other companies that have relocated to Texas in recent years, bringing jobs and an economic boost to Amarillo, Irving and the state as a whole, as well as growing the dairy industry's $50.3 billion impact on our state.

Just as important to the Texas dairy industry is that the new 200,000 square foot Cacique processing plant, which soon will fully operational, will give dairy producers in the region another outlet for its milk. The company's CEO says the plant will take up to 40 milk tankers a day to make its cheeses and creams, which will end up in groceries across the nation.

That will be a tremendous help. Texas has doubled its milk production since 2008, largely due to enormous growth in the number and size of dairies in the Panhandle region starting in 2006.

Since then, we've seen Southwest Cheese, Hilmar Cheese, Lone Star Milk Producers and Select Milk Producers open facilities to make cheese, powder milk, butter and other dairy items with Texas milk.

As these new facilities opened, milk production in Texas grew to meet the added processing capacity. Even the addition of Cacique won't end the shortage of processing outlets to take the mounting volume of milk our dairy farmers produce. In fact, some predict that Texas could easily surpass Idaho to become the nation's third largest milk-producing state in the next two years.

What will we do with even more milk, if we're struggling to find outlets for what we produce now?

A number of new processing plants are planned or under construction, such as Leprino Foods Company's 850,000-square-foot dairy foods manufacturing plant being built in Lubbock, will help Texas producers in the coming years.

More Texas milk also could end up overseas. By 2050, the world will have an estimated two billion more mouths to feed, with the largest growth expected in Asian and African countries that already struggle to feed their populations. U.S. dairy exports – which set new volume and value records in 2022 – are strong and are expected to grow.

If it sounds like I'm presenting "too much milk" as a problem – well, it's a "problem" I'm happy to celebrate. I encourage all Texans to do their part during National Dairy Month, as well as the rest of the year, to draw down the state's excess of milk by enjoying plenty of milk, ice cream, cheese or their other favorite dairy product.

Save the Date — Southwest Dairy Day will be held on October 18th in and around Bovina. See story below. (Texas A&M AgriLife photo by Kay Ledbetter)

Southwest Dairy Day set for October 18 in Parmer County Sponsorship opportunities available

By Susan Himes

The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service's 2023 Southwest Dairy Day will take place on October 18 in and around the Bovina area.

The field day will highlight cutting-edge technologies, including an anaerobic digester and rotary parlor with automation, as well as pre- and post-dipping.

The free event will be from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at a venue located at the intersection of County Road 11 and Texas State Highway 86 near Bovina. There will be bus tours to the Del Rio Dairy starting at 8:30 a.m. and continuing through noon.

The tours will include three stops at the anaerobic digester, Saudi barns and rotary milking parlor.

"The use of rotary milking parlors is common to see in large dairy farms, and adding automatic pre- and post-dipping technologies to these parlors could save labor," said Jennifer Spence, Ph.D., AgriLife Extension dairy specialist, Stephenville.

Dairy innovations, information

"The use of anaerobic digesters is a hot topic nowadays because it may help in reducing the carbon footprint and could be used as a renewable fuel to help dairy farmers diversify their income," said Juan Piñeiro, DVM, Ph.D., AgriLife Extension dairy specialist, Amarillo.

"I expect there will be many dairy farmers interested in attending this event to learn more about the opportunities and challenges with this technology," he said.

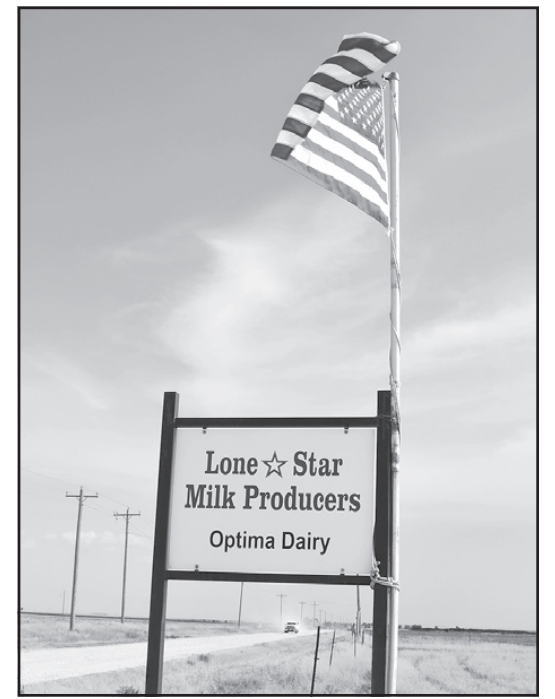

Partner, sponsorship opportunities

The event relies on allied industry support, and Piñeiro said they are grateful for the continuous support in the past. Sponsor registration is now open at <https://agrifiregister.tamu.edu/756816>.

For more information, contact Piñeiro at juan.pineiro@ag.tamu.edu or Spencer at jennifer.spencer@ag.tamu.edu.

It's Time to Declare Our Independence, Again

You may think your phone calls to Austin and Washington DC don't matter, but I assure you they do. I can't trust my US representative to vote right every time, so I call him. Right before one vote, Feller called and asked how he was going to vote; the office aide said the rep wasn't sure. Feller told him how to vote. Guess what, enough people called and he did vote the right way! Sometimes they don't have a clue, and they need to hear from us, the ones paying their salary!

You may think that not buying certain products doesn't make a difference; that not shopping at woke stores doesn't make a difference, but it does. Look at the billions, yes billions, Bud Light and Target have lost. Even if you have to shop at a woke store, you CAN make a difference by not buying products produced by woke companies. God gave us the greatest country on the face of the earth. We had strong men who battled, both verbally and on the battlefield, to make sure God was a part of the foundation of this wonderful country. What other Constitution has lasted as long as ours? But, if we don't stand up; if we don't make our voices heard; if we don't do our part, we are in jeopardy of losing it all. So, declare your independence from just sitting and complaining. Get active; declare your independence from the wrongs being committed in our great country; know God, know His Word, and stand up for what is right. The more you stand up, the easier it gets! Trust me, I know! Take care, and happy Independence Day! Celebrate our great nation and our God who gave it to us!!!

Dora Bermea Constancio Pence

Dora Bermea Constancio Pence, 60, of Amarillo passed away on Tuesday, June 20, 2023. Dora was born to Federico Jr. and Rebecca Constancio on October 30, 1962 in Lubbock, Texas. After spending her early years in Lubbock the family moved to Friena, Texas.

never knew a stranger—she always said they were just, “friends we hadn’t met,” yet.

Dora is survived by her sons, Michael Seth Brogdon and Shawn Ray Brogdon, mother Rebecca Bermea Constancio of Friena, Texas; brothers Ezequiel Constancio and wife Angie of Hereford, Texas, Joel Constancio and wife Chila of Hereford, Texas; sisters Linda Chavez and husband Raymon of Hereford, Texas, Nina Bozell and husband Michael of Austin, Texas.

Dora was preceded in death by her husbands Robin Carl Pence and Charles “Chuck” Brogdon, father Federico Constancio Jr., brothers Cosme Constancio, Lucas Constancio, and Federico Constancio III.

A recitation of the rosary was held at Rector Funeral Home at 6 p.m. on Monday, June 26, 2023. Catholic Mass was held on Tuesday, June 27 at 2 p.m. at St. Mary’s Catholic Church, 1200 S Washington St, Amarillo, TX 79102. Interment directly followed at Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Texas, 26500 S. US 87 Canyon, TX 79015.

Dora attended the Friena school system graduating from Friena High School in 1981. After graduation Dora moved to Amarillo and worked a variety of jobs, one of her favorites being The Big Texan Gift Shop where she made new friends daily with her friendly personality.

During this time she met Charles Ray “Chuck” Brogdon and the two fell hopelessly in love. From their love they were blessed with a step-son Shawn Ray Brogdon and son Michael Seth Brogdon who was born on February 11, 1995. Unfortunately their love story was cut short when tragedy struck and Chuck was taken to Heaven on September 29, 1995.

Dora was never one to give up hope and always continued to see the good in people and have faith in the future of what could be. As luck would have it, thanks to a plumbing issue, she was soon to meet someone who would become a very special person in her life.

Dora married Robin Carl Pence on June 9, 2001 at St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Amarillo, Texas.

Dora worked for Potter-Randall Appraisal District for 36 years as an Appraisal Assistant before retiring in July 2022 to focus on spending more time with family. Dora loved spending time with her family, cooking, baking, was especially known and received many requests for her famous ‘armadillo eggs.’ She also enjoyed gardening, going to church, and taking care of others because she loved people and

The Gift of Knowledge

By John Grimaldi and David Bruce Smith

On June 27, 1829, James Smithson, an English scientist and well-to-do member of the National Academy of Sciences, died at the age of sixty-four. He left his entire fortune of $500,000 ($16,487,120 in 2023) “to the United States of America, to found at Washington, under the name of Smithsonian Institution an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge.”

Some people say the bequest was motivated, “in part-by revenge-against the rigidities of British society, which had denied Smithson, who was illegitimate, the right to use his father’s name.”

After Congress learned of the lucky largesse, it was decided to use the funds to build museums, conduct research, produce publications; invest in the sciences, the arts, and history.

Now, it is comprised of a worldwide network of 21 buildings, nine research facilities, a Zoo, and 2016’s National Museum of African American History and Culture.

The Grateful American Book Prize recommends Gore Vidal’s novel, The Smithsonian Institution.
