Dear Friends, It is cold! I tried to walk my pigs outside. It was too cold. We had to walk inside the barn. I am excited and a little nervous about the stock show. I have never shown a pig before. Sometimes they do just what I want them to and sometimes they are a little wild. Edward loves his bath, but Jacob still (Continued Page 3) Meriwether and Hayden Holwick work with their pigs in preparation for the Wheeler County Junior Livestock Show January 25-27, 2018. The district basketball games will be broadcast by Legends, 98.8. Legends also has the corrected schedule in this week's paper.

Barbara and I were at the game Thursday evening to watch the granddaughter play. She didn't get to play as it was a really close game.

- cwe -

Both the seventh grade and eighth girls played good games. The seventh grade girls won and the eighth grade Rincon, Bryce Rowley, Will girls lost in a really close Stiles, Eloy Uribe game.

- cwe -You did a good job, girls. - cwe -

I was however disappointed in the number of people who apparently can't read, don't know any better or just don't care.

- cwe -

NO FOOD OR DRINK IN THE GYMNASIUMS! And, it was not just the kids. It is very plainly posted. That's what the windows are for so you can watch the game while you eat and drink.

- cwe -

I also noticed the Clarendon coach did not set a very good example for her team and fans. She cut diagonally across the gym floor in her street shoes.

Mique was born in Paris, Texas while her father was overseas during the Korean War. She moved with her family to Canadian, Texas where her father started a veterinary practice. At Canadian High School, Mique was an excellent student, played the flute in the band and made many lifelong friends. She and her friends celebrated their favorite band with a "Hermitage" homage to Herman's Hermits.

history began with working at the Canadian Vet Clinic and culminated with her favorite job, principal of Van Alstyne High School. On the road to her true calling as a principal/ educator, Mique earned a degree in political science and elementary education from East Texas State University, became a patrol officer with Amarillo Police Department and worked as a corrections officer for Potter County. Her journey in education began as a teacher of multiple grade levels at Lela ISD; she went on to work in Odessa as a special education teacher, curriculum director and elementary principal. Certainly, community members and visitors place their faith, and possible funding, in these entities and their representatives to successfully accomplish their intended > purpose. A critical factor that helps demonstrate leaders' dedication to the position they hold and the community they serve is transparency. The information each one makes available about the proceedings specific to their position provides proof of their efforts, that they have nothing to hide and do not allow self-interest to come before their public duty. In addition, transparency combats any implications that leaders sanction an undeclared policy of silence and secrecy that can lead to speculation of corruption.

Furthermore, transparency among all leadership also encourages and empowers civic engagement and keeps the public well-informed about community plans and prog-

A community's website and social media outlets can be important tools in demonstrating a dedication to transparency and all the benefits it provides. Not only are these resources cost- effective, they make important community information accessible to all.

Most people understand the significance of this framework and recognize it is the foundation of a healthy and functional civic society. Community leaders who support a high level of transparency provide their community with keys to success and the means to answer the original question. The next question is: Who will answer the first question in this column?

Xcel Is sending Crews to Puerto Rico

Xcel Energy is sending approximately 65 line workers and support staff to Puerto Rico to help with the ongoing power restoration efforts on the island. Hundreds of thousands of customers remain without power nearly four months after Hurricane Maria made landfall.

Xcel Energy trucks left for back on safely- it's what we Puerto Rico earlier this month, would do for our own customwere loaded onto a barge at ers and we want to deliver that the port of Lake Charles, Loui- same quality of service to our siana and are now on their way fellow citizens in Puerto Rico. to the island. The company is sending about 50 line workers from the Upper Midwest, Colorado, Texas and New Mexico, along with additional safety and support staff after receiving the call to help last month.

hates it. That boy doesn't want anything but a belly rub. Yes, I know, I spoiled him.

We are learning the Gettysburg Address in Mrs. Moore's class. I love that speech, but it is hard to memorize it. When I lived in Maryland we went to the Gettysburg Battlefield. It was a beautiful place on a hill. There was a statue of Abraham Lincoln and a huge copy of his speech. It is sad that so many died there in the Civil War. I do not like war!

We play basketball in Memphis on Thursday. I hope we win! GO COLTS! That's it!
